HOSTESS A WINNER.

Also the Little Peter, Usona, Dauntless and Favorite.

The annual open regatta of the Wollaston Yacht club was held Friday afternoon off the club house at Wollaston beach. The wind was just right to make good racing, and as a whole a better day could not have been had. Twelve boats entered and gave a fine exhibition of racing.

The wind was from north-east, a good wholesail breeze. The course was eight miles from the stake boat to Nut Island, thence to barrel buoy of Moon Island and home, twice around.

Little Peter was the only boat in Class D, but put up an interesting race with the Hostess, the latter started five minutes later than the Little Peter but finshed ten minutes ahead.

In Class S there was an interesting race. The Harriet had the race well in hand and was a sure winner, but in crossing the line at the finish crossed the line wrong passing between the judges' boat and flag boat instead of outside the latter. The skipper was made aware of his blunder but refused to put about and cross again.

In Class L the Tacoma crossed first followed by the Cleopatra and Hostess. The Hostess however, did not remain long in the rear for she soon began to draw away from the other boats. Skipper Faxon had things his own way and did not have to push his flyer to win.

In Class S the Coquette crossed first with the Harriet a good second. Harriet got the windward position and led the fleet. This class crossed the line the first time round in the following order: Harriet, Coquette, Zaza, Usona, Dasia.

During the second the wind changed a litlte and the Usona took second place whch she held. At the finish the blunder of the Harriet skipper gave Usona the race.

In Class T Dauntless crossed first followed by the Perhaps and Lobster, the latter succeeded in securing second position and held it throughout the race.

In Class X the Vitesse lost her rudder just before the start and the Favorite withdrew shortly after the start.

The prizes were $16 and $5 in Class D and $8 and $4 in the other classes.

The judges were Commodore J. A. Fenno, Dr. W. G. Curtis, Vice Commodore E. A. Merrill, C. W. Page and C. F. Marr.

EIGHTH DAY.

STRONG HEARTS AND WILLING HANDS.

It would be difficult to say who were the more surprised, Chester's friends or his enemies, when he was missed on that Monday morning. Dallon was clearly uneasy. He was very "ugly" and berated and abused every one unmercifully. Every foot of the cave was searched, and scouting parties were sent out along Bone gulch as far as the railroad spur without any trace of the fugitive being discovered. The gang dared not show themselves outside the gulch, for by this time Dallon knew that search parties would be patrolling the railroad track in quest of the lost cars.

Draper and his party knew not what to think. The consternation of the bandits was so evidently genuine that no suspicion of foul play was possible. They were forced to the same conclusion—that Chester had escaped, but how? None of them dreamed of the water course as a possible means of exit. So after a deal of bad language on the part of Dallon and his minions all hands, captors and captured, settled down to wait for Monday's sunset, before which hour it was futile to expect Filley's return with the money.

Slowly the long hours slipped away in the semidarkness of the cavern. The ladies bore up well under the circumstances, but the ordeal was a trying one, and Mrs. Hurst declared she should die if she had to spend another night there. Uncle John, as may be imagined, had his hands full.

Madge was perhaps the hardest to manage. She pestered him with questions, she imagined all sorts of horrors, she begged Dallon to "tell her the truth and not to keep her in suspense," to which appeal that worthy replied that he "hoped the blank-blank-blank idiot had broken his neck," whereupon Madge retorted with flashing eyes that the aforesaid Dallon was "a callous brute" and then burst into tears.

The last rays of daylight faded from the patch of sky visible from the mouth of the cave, and still no tidings of the messengers. Nine, 10, 11, 12 o'clock, and yet no news!

Dallon was getting furious. For the tenth time he put John Draper through a rude cross examination as to the possible causes of delay.

"I told you it was risky," the president quietly replied. "If there has been any slip up, I am not to blame, and I don't believe Filley has bungled." He tried to keep a "stiff upper lip" before both Dallon and the ladies, but his heart quaked within him, not at his own danger, but at the perils menacing those more dear to him than life itself. There was no telling to what lengths the villains would proceed if once they became convinced that their plans had miscarried, and what was one man against so many!

So in order to stave off the evil moment Draper professed to believe that the delay was not unreasonable and expressed it as his firm conviction that Filley and the money would turn up before morning. Yet in his own mind he feared that something had gone wrong. But he threw out a mental anchor to windward in nourishing the secret hope that young Ives had been successful in getting clear and that he would bring help of some sort. So it will be seen that on Chester Ives he really pinned his faith and not unjustly, as the sequel proved.

Reuben Filley and his guards rode all Sunday night, and daybreak on Monday found them on the outskirts of Denver. Here they put up at a roadside saloon, where a team was hired to take Filley to the city and to which place he was to return with the money. He went straight to the bank and presented the draft as soon as the doors were opened, secured the cash and carefully disposed the wad of bills in his inside pocket. Then he drove around to a livery stable, where he put up the horse and buggy, saying he would call for them again in the afternoon. Next he turned his steps to the Union depot, bought a ticket for San Francisco and boarded the first west bound train.

These treacherous moves were the result of some serious cogitations during his midnight ride. It was clear that he stood no chance to win Miss Granniss. It was also more than probable that his forgeries could not now be concealed, thanks to this crazy western trip. If John Draper got wind of these, then he, Reuben K. Filley, was a ruined rogue, and he could never show his face in New York again. With $50,000 in cold cash he could start afresh in another country—Australia, for instance. He would disappear, and people could put any construction thereon that they liked. Most probably the two robbers would be blamed for it.

Weighing these pros and cons, the scoundrel felt no compunctions over the black treachery to the ladies and to Draper. His sole concern was to secure his own skin and feather his own nest at one and the same time. But not until his fingers closed on the money in front of the bank window was his mind fully made up.

The two members of the gang lay in seclusion all that Monday. By noontime at furthest they calculated that Filley should have returned. But he came not. Still they lingered, alternately drinking and sleeping the afternoon hours away. Night came and with it the certainty that something had miscarried or that they were duped.

With black rage in their hearts they ordered their horses and as soon as darkness fell took the trail on the return to Bone gulch from their bootless errand. All that night they rode. Dawn was just breaking when they approached the vicinity of the robbers' retreat. All unconscious of danger, they were riding carelessly, their horses perforce proceeding at a walk, when out of the gloom ahead came the sharp challenge:

"Halt! Who goes there?" accompanied by the rattle of carbines.

"Who the blank are you?" was the defiant response, and this betrayed them, to which came the quick retort:

"Throw up your hands or you're dead men!" emphasized by a series of ominous clicks—sounds too well known by the marauders to need any repetition. Letting fall the reins on their horses' heads, they elevated their hands on a level with their ears and in this posture made out a squad of dismounted cavalrymen drawn up across the trail.

"Dismount!" came the command from Lieutenant Crosby, and, covered by the weapons of the troop, the crestfallen villains slid out of their saddles as best they could, whereupon they were speedily searched, their pistols confiscated and their arms securely pinioned.

"Game's up, boys!" was the ironical salutation of the lieutenant.

"Well, you needn't be so blamed chipper about it," growled Leather Jack. "'Tain't our fault. Jim just bit off more'n he cud chew, that's all!"

"I suppose you know what you've got to expect?" he inquired dryly. "This means 20 years at least. We've got Jim Dallon and the whole lot of you just where we want you, and by this time tomorrow you'll all be in Arapahoe county jail."

"Will we?" sneeringly remarked Leather Jack, truculent to the last.

"Yes, and you are going to help," was the lieutenant's confident response.

"As how?" inquired Leather Jack in the same skeptical tone.

"By showing us the nearest way to that cave of yours and thereby earning a commutation of sentence for yourselves."

This cast a new light on the subject, and the two rascals looked inquiringly at each other. They realized that the game was up, as Lieutenant Crosby had said. Better make the best terms they could while the chance offered. A few minutes' reflection determined their choice.

"All right, lieutenant. We're with you," said Jack nonchalantly. Then: "Better leave them horses here. They're no good on this trail."

So the troop horses and Mr. William Root were left behind with two of the cavalrymen as guards, and at the order to march the men formed in single file, Leather Jack in front, followed by Lieutenant Crosby, pistol in hand, ready to shoot at the first sign of treachery. Then came Ben Gallup and Chester Ives, followed by the rest of the troop. In single file they proceeded noiselessly down a rocky and tortuous ravine. It was not yet bright daylight even on the heights above. Here in the hollows a slight mist added to the obscurity caused by the faint light. A more favorable moment for surprise and attack could not have been found.

In the cave at this hour all was silent. Worn out by the long vigil of the night before, during which the return of Filley and his escort was momentarily looked and listened for, both prisoners and jailers were asleep. True, there was some pretense of keeping guard, but even those on watch were dozing. Dallon himself was sunk in slumber.

Suddenly the bright mouth of the cave, which faced the east, was darkened by a number of stalwart forms. The troopers had crept silently down the hidden approach and ranged themselves in line across the entrance. Once again rang out the frontier challenge to surrender:

"Throw up your hands!"

It was a complete surprise. Dallon himself was scarcely awake when he was pounced on by a couple of soldiers and dragged kicking, struggling and cursing into the daylight. Not a shot had been fired and hardly a blow struck, yet there was the notorious Dallon gang in the toils of Uncle Sam!

Chester Ives was among the first to rush into the interior, and in a few strides he was among his friends, with Miss Madge in his arms, her head on his shoulder and shaking hands with all the others. A great deal may be taken for granted at such a time.

"I knew you'd do it," she sobbed incoherently.

"However did you manage it, Mr. Ives?" inquired Mrs. Hurst, who tremulously beamed on the young man.

"You'd never guess, my dear Mrs. Hurst," he replied, "but 'twas easy enough, though rather wet. But let me introduce Lieutenant Crosby," he continued as the gallant officer approached, the erstwhile captors having in turn become the captives and being all secured, some of them already on their way to jail under a strong guard. "You must thank Lieutenant Crosby and his men for the rescue."

"Throw up your hands!"

John Draper made due acknowledgments, and then more introductions followed, not forgetting Ben Gallup.

"What can have become of Reuben Filley?" queried Uncle John. "I hope no harm has befallen him."

"We've got his escorts," said Crosby, and they swear they haven't seen him since yesterday morning when he left them in Denver to proceed to the bank."

"Strange—very strange," remarked Draper. "But it may be that there was some difficulty over the money, though I did not anticipate any."

"Well, let us hope that you have saved your money and that he has saved his skin," laughed the lieutenant. Then he inquired:

"Now, Mr. Draper, what can I and my men do to help you further?"

"Why, the first thing is to get to Denver, I suppose," replied the railroad president, looking inquiringly at the ladies of the party as he spoke.

"By all means," replied Mrs. Hurst. "But we cannot go in this plight," she said, spreading out her hands and motioning toward the soiled and disordered dresses of herself and the two younger ladies.

"Cannot we get back to the Miranda?" inquired Miss Granniss.

"Oh, yes; do, Uncle John," begged Madge. "Then we can fix up and get something to eat and go into town in style after all."

"Why, my dear, I don't even know if the cars are where we left them. These villains may have wrecked them, or the railroad people may have discovered them and hauled them away," was the reply.

"Well, can't we go and see?" queried the irrepressible Madge. "We've only got to take the back track the way we came."

"Assuredly the best thing you can do, Mr. Draper," said Crosby, looking at the high spirited Madge with evident admiration. "Even if the cars are not there, that will be the easiest way for the ladies out of the gulch, and you'll then be within easy reach of the telegraph at Castle Rock."

So it was decided. The entire party set out, guided by Ben Gallup. Lieutenant Crosby had to make his adieus, his duty being with his command and the captives, promising to see them in Denver and assuring them that they were perfectly safe from further molestation. Ben knew the way blindfold and led them as straight as the uneven trail would permit to where the railroad spur terminated against the rocky wall of the canyon.

There, sure enough, rested the Miranda and the Pullman, dusty and travel stained, but otherwise, to all appearances, sound and unhurt.

"But how are we to get out of here?" queried Ives.

"That's an easy one," said Ben. "Some one must go up to Castle Rock and telegraph for an engine to pull you back to the main track."

Scarcely were the words out of his mouth than round the upward bend of the track there appeared a hand car bearing half a dozen railroad laborers. At the sight of the two coaches they set up a shout and came pumping down the incline at a good speed. As it turned out, they were part of the wrecking patrol sent out to look for the Miranda, whose total disappearance had kept the whole division on the jump since Sunday morning.

Crew after crew had passed the disused switch, but none had thought of searching there until that morning.

"We'll soon have you out of this," said the foreman. "All aboard, boys!" And off they went, six pairs of hands at the crank handles, and the way they made that hand car fly up the track was a sight to behold. In less than an hour a light engine backed slowly down, for the disused track was bad, and extreme caution was necessary, coupled on to the Pullman, and with a triumphant toot that woke all the echoes of Bone gulch the Miranda and her human freight went gliding off toward civilization once more.

In less than three hours they were at a hotel in Denver, and that night the papers contained two or three column articles, with big "scare heads," telling the story of the theft of the cars, the kidnaping of the railroad magnate and his party and the clever capture of the notorious Dallon gang.

SHIPS TO BE QUARANTINED.

Appearance of Bubonic Plague at Glasgow Leads to Precautionary Measures.

Boston, Sept. 1.—Surgeon General Wyman of the United States marine hospital wired the Boston board of helth yesterday that the bubonic plague had broken out in Glasgow. There are 11 cases there now, and one suspicious case. They don't know in Glasgow how the plague got there. A ship reached Boston from Glasgow yesterday, but the local board of health discovered no plague microbes aboard, and is not afraid it will get a hold in Boston.

Washington, Sept. 1.—At the direction of the president, Dr. Thomas was yesterday detailed to service in the office of the United States consul at Glasgow, to assist in the enforcement of the regulations of this government so far as they affect outgoing passenger and traffic coming to our ports.

New York, Sept. 1.—Dr. A. H. Doty, health officer of the port of New York, says that hereafter all vessels bound from Glasgow to this port will be detained at quarantine for a period of 12 days from their embarkation. 'This length of time," said Dr. Doty, "is the maximum period of incubation. The disinfection will depend largely upon the character of the passengers."

London, Sept. 1.—The port authorities of Southampton, Liverpool and elsewhere have already started a special inspection of vessels from the Clyde, and the prices of iron have hardened, in expectation that Spain will immediately enforce a quarantine against Glasgow, which would seriously interfere with the Scotch steel makers, by delaying the receipts of iron ore.

Copenhagen, Sept. 1.—Denmark has declared a quarantine against all vessels arriving at Danish ports from Glasgow.

The Pugilistic Arena.

Syracuse, Sept. 1.—Andy Daly of Boston and Billy Ryan of this city were scheduled to go 12 rounds here last night. Daly quit at the end of the first and the referee gave the decision to Ryan.

New York, Sept. 1.—At the Broadway Athletic club last night the last series of bouts under the Horton law were brought to a conclusion by Joe Gans of Baltimore knocking out Dal Hawkins of California in the third round of a contest that was scheduled to go 25 rounds at 133 pounds. They met under the same conditions about three months ago, and on that occasion Gans proved the winner in less than two rounds.

Richmond, Sept. 1.—James J. Jeffries, in an interview here, said: "I will fight Corbett if he is anxious to have a match, but it will have to be a case of the winner getting everything and the loser only the beating. Fitzsimmons can get a fight from me whenever he wants it when he goes about it properly and gives time to the man he wants to fight. I would have fought him in New York if he had not waited for the last few days.'

Operatic Airs to Be Eliminated.

Washington, Sept. 1.—The official confirmation of the appointment of Cardinal Steinhuber as prefect in Rome of the Congregation of the Index has been received here. The news is expected to cause lively comment in clerical circles. With his appointment as head of this congregation he will have direct control of the organizations looking to the betterment of church music in the United States. The operatic airs which are now generally sung by the choirs in America are obnoxious, it is said, to the spirit of the Catholic church, which has recognized no other form of ecclesiastical music than the Gregorian chant. Now the authorities at Rome are determined to support societies whose purpose is to eliminate what is considered baneful in church music.

Vermont Educational Figures.

Chester, Vt., Sept. 1.—State Superintendent of Education Stone, in his statistics on the schools of Vermont, gives the total expenditures for 1900 as $1,074,221.88; cost per pupil of total expenditure, $16.28; cost per child of school age, $11.85; current expenses, $873,307.63; number of children between 5 and 21 years of age in attendence, 65,964; number of male teachers, 570; number of female teachers, 3232; number of Vermont normal school graduates, 632; number of college graduates, 201.

Not Afraid of a Strike.

Shamokin, Pa., Sept. 1.—The coal operators of the Shamokin district, where 20,000 men are employed, say the mines have been polled relative to going on strike, and that 75 percent of the workmen said they would remain at work should a strike be ordered. The operators will not treat with the United Mine Workers as a body.

A Harvest For Pickpockets.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Sept. 1.—Pickpockets yesterday relieved a wealthy East Indian indigo merchant, Anand A. Advani, of a letter of credit for £5000 and $185 in cash. Advani is reputed to be one of the wealthiest Indian merchants who has ever visited this country.

No Evidence of Assault.

Lowell, Mass., Sept. 1. — Narcisse Drouin, who accused a fellow boarder of assaulting him, died of his injuries Friday. All the evidence available points to the fact that Drouin sustained his injuries by falling down stairs while intoxicated.

IN GRASP OF RUSSIA.

The Fall of Mukden Will Place All Manchuria In Her Possession.

Russo-American Proposals Are Worrying Europe.

Germany's Intention to Have Master Hand In Settlement Is Knocked Out.

London, Sept. 1.—General Rennenkampf, according to the official St. Petersburg advices, captured Tsitikar Aug. 29. As he advanced the Chinese surrendered by hundreds. The dispatch says that Governor General Grodekoff will soon remove the seat of the Amur government to Tsitikar and will later transfer it to Charbin.

The occupation of Tsitikar leaves only Mukden to be captured in order to place the whole of Manchuria in Russian possession. Apparently there is no intention to relax that hold.

General Kouropatkin, the Russian minister of war, has just ordered two batteries of Krupp guns to protect the Manchurian railway. Eight new batteries of quick-fire guns will be distributed among the four new Siberian army corps.

Telegrams from the capital of Amur province confirm the previous reports from General Grodekoff, announcing that the Chinese sent messengers with a flag of truce to General Rennenkampf. This occurred Aug. 22 and Aug. 24. The Chinese declared they would cease hostilities and in no case would make a further attack. General Rennenkampf replied that he had no authority to negotiate and would push on to Tsitikar. He called on the Chinese to retire without offering any resistance.

In the absence of further news from China the papers are filled with discussions of the Russo-American proposals, which, so far as may be gathered from the representations of opinions in the various European capitals, are calculated to subject the unity of the allies to an exceedingly severe and dangerous test.

In Germany especially those proposals are so diametrically opposed to Emperor William's policy that they have produced something like consternation. As The Daily News editorially remarks: "Count Von Waldersee was assuredly not sent to assist in restoring the empress dowager."

It is recognized on all sides that Germany's decision is the pivot of the matter. Emperor William intended by dispatching Count Von Waldersee to have the master hand in the Chinese settlement. Russia has taken the wind out of that officer's sails, and is now posing as the friend and protector of China.

The morning papers express the greatest suspicion of the intentions of Russia. The Times' editorial, which fairly represents the opinion of all, says: "The advantages of Russia's policy are not manifest, and it is very doubtful whether it will recommend itself to powers like England and Germany that have large commercial interests in the establishment of a stable and progressive government to replace the reactionary clique which has impeded all progress and development in China in recent years.

"Negotiations with Li Hung Chang would be a condonation of government crimes and the throwing away of all the advantages gained by the occupation of Pekin.

"Much mischief may already have been done by the hesitation to enter the forbidden city. To withdraw from Pekin would be interpreted as proving not only that the allies are cowards, but that they are hopelessly divided. It may be that some of the powers will withdraw, but that does not imply that others are bound to leave Pekin and to acquiesce in the restoration of a government guilty of a gross international crime."

General Miles Scents War.

Chicago, Sept. 1.—The acute stage of the Chinese situation has not been reached, in the opinion of General Nelson A. Miles. He regards it as quite possible that a general conflict of the powers may result from the conflicting interests in China, and he believes that an attempt on the part of some of the powers to partition the Celestial empire among themselves would be sufficient ground for the United States to resort to force.

Faith in Our Soldiers' Honesty.

Washington, Sept. 1.—Officials of the war department are positive that the soldiers of General Chaffee's army took no part in the looting which followed the fall of the Chinese city of Tientsin. Peremptory orders were issued to military officers to exert every effort to prevent looting and to severely punish disobedience to such orders.

Poet's Daughters Adopted by Indians.

Sault Ste Marie, Mich., Sept. 1.—At Garden river, on the Canadian side, Friday, Miss Alice M. Longfellow and Mrs. J. G. Thorue of Cambridge, Mass., daughters of the author of Hiawatha, were adopted into the Ojibway nation with impressive ceremonies. Miss Longfellow presented her hosts with a handsome portrait of her father framed in birch bark.

ST. PAUL IS A FLYER.

Has a Great Race With the Campania and Incidently Lowers Records.

New York, Sept. 1.—The American line steamer St. Paul arrived last night after a quick passage of 6 days, 7 hours and 6 minutes. This time beats the best time of each of the big fleet of ocean greyhounds plying between Cherbourg and this port, with the one exception of the present record holder, the Kaiser Wilhelm Der Grosse.

After the St. Paul reached her dock, which was at 11 o'clock last night, the passengers told of the great race the liner made with the Cunarder Campania. They said the interest in the race was so great that nearly all the passengers remained awake Thursday night and until dawn Friday morning.

On Thursday evening, before nightfall, the Campania was sighted about 500 miles out and was then ahead of the St. Paul by about four miles. A race was inevitable, and the crew nerved themselves to get all the speed out of the vessel that she was capable of. The St. Paul made a burst of speed and steadily forged ahead. The nerves of every passenger and of the crew were keyed to the straining point. The passengers amused themselves by making pools on the result. The interest in the race continued while the vessels were in sight of one another, but before dawn the St. Paul was so far ahead that the Campania could not be seen. The St. Paul was at her dock when the Campania anchored at quarantine for the night.

New Brunswick's New Cabinet.

Fredericton, N. B., Sept. 1.—Henry R. Emmerson, premier of New Brunswick, tendered his resignation Friday, and Lieutenant Governor McClelan called upon L. J. Tweedie, provincial secretary, to form a new government. Mr. Tweedie announced as his advisors: L. J. Tweedie, premier and provincial secretary; William Pugsley, attorney general; C. H. Labillois, commissioner of public works; L. P. Faris, commissioner for agriculture; A. T. Dunn, surveyor general; H. A. McKeown and G. F. Hill without portfolios. The new members are Mr. Pugsley, who takes premier Emmerson's portfolio, and Mr. Hill.

Four Race Horses Burned to Death.

Providence, Sept. 1.—Fire broke out in one of the stables at Narragansett park Friday, and destroyed three stables and a number of cattle-sheds. The Ace, with a record of 2:05 1-4, and valued at $4000; Maud K, a green mare, without a record, and valued at $1000; Ackman Jim, with a record of 2:16 1-4, and valued at $1600, and the brown mare Wilrissa, valued at $1500, were burned to death. The total loss will amount to about $14,000.

Surplus Enough to Resume Business.

New York, Sept. 1.—The Dime Saving Institution of Newark, N. J., which was forced to suspend business recently pending an examination of its books, owing to Secretary Westervelt having embezzled a large amount of its money, will resume business on Sept. 11. The officers of the bank claim there is a surplus of $31,000 over and above all accounts.

Alleged Murderer Arrested.

Providence, Sept. 1.—Palo Paolimo, an Italian, who stabbed Loretto Di Massia at Boylston, Mass., was arrested here Friday by Officer Coscia of Boylston. Officer Coscia arrested Francesco Malzone, who was implicated in the murder on Aug. 13 at Marlboro, Mass. Both men stabbed Di Maszia, but his death was caused primarily by a wound in the neck, inflicted by Paolimo.

Denial From Crenshaw's Father.

Washington, Sept. 1.—T. C. Crenshaw of Cartersville, Ga., has written to Adjutant General Corbin denying the published reports to the effect that his son, Captain Frank F. Crenshaw, deceased, had made complaint of cruel treatment on board the transport from Manila, where Captain Crenshaw was wounded.

Six Hundred Miners Quit Work.

Leavenworth, Ky., Sept. 1.—Six hundred coal miners in three shafts struck yesterday for 90 cents a ton. They received 76 cents under last year's contract, which expired yesterday. The operators say they cannot accede. Conferences are being held.

Chicago, Sept. 1.—Chicago has a gas war. The Municipal Gas company has thrown down the gauntlet to the Ogden company, and the Ogden company responded by saying it would fight to the last ditch.

PLAN OF CURTAILMENT

Powers of Selling Committee a Factor In the Matter.

Labor Leaders Disinclined to Talk at Present Stage of the Discussion.

Fall River, Mass., Sept. 1.—Dispatches from the mill cities of Lowell, Concord, New Bedford, Holyoke, Lewiston, Fitchburg and Biddeford state that inquiry among the manufacturers in the various cities shows that no cut in wages is even under consideration in any of them. Nearly all say that they see no need for any cut in wages.

An erroneous dispatch sent out from this city stating that the Cotton Manufacturers' association had held a meeting on Thursday and voted to reduce the wages of the operatives 10 percent, beginning with Sept. 17, has stirred up the textile centres of New England. It can be officially stated that no such meeting was held. There is, however, a movement on foot looking toward such a step, but it is the movement of a few and has not gained the desired headway as yet, and it begins to look as if such a step would be staved off for the time being at least.

It is true that a paper is being passed calling for signatures of maufacturers in favor of a reduction and it is said to have received a number of signatures already. Some of the manufacturers, however, are of the opinion that a reduction at this time or within the next two or three weeks would be an unwise step.

The paper that is being passed is a sort of test of the feeling of the manufacturers. It emanated from the selling committee, which has charge of the disposition of the product of a syndicate of the mills here. This committee has no power except to recommend, but it is believed that the recommendations to reduce wages will be enforced in case it is found that a majority of the manufacturers seem to favor it.

The members of the committee see but one way out of the matter, and that is to bring the wages down to the basis in force at the time that M. C. D. Borden made his raise a year or so ago. They state that they are being undersold by the mills in New Bedford and Rhode Island, and the only cause of it is that the mills here cannot produce as cheaply as those on the outside referred to. But the committee does not want to urge this if it is not entered into unanimously by the manufacturers.

It is not unlikely that the present move on the part of the selling committee may bring about a rupture in the present selling arrangements. It is no secret that some of the mills regret that they turned over their business to a selling committee whose powers deprive them of the right of making long contracts at favorable terms. These mills seem to think that their stockholders would reap greater returns by standing out independently.

Outside of a limited circle, opinion strongly favors an extension of curtailment. If the matter has not gone too far and can be prolonged until the middle of next week, it is quite probable that the period of extended curtailment will win the day.

Manufacturers and brokers have received requests from New York, Boston, Philadelphia and Chicago business men that if possible further unsettlement of prices be delayed until it is determined what the presidential election may bring. These requests are not prompted for political reasons, it is said. One regular correspondent states that a reduction at this time could not bring about the desired result, while if curtailment is tried instead the desired result may be accomplished.

As far as the labor leaders are concerned, they do not care to say anything at all at the present stage of the discussion. There is, however, a strong feeling among them and their followers in favor of strike in case a reduction should be decided upon. On the other hand, the manufacturers seem to be of the opinion that the attitude of the labor unions will cut very little figure. That is the expression of those who are most active in the work of the reduction agitation. Some of them say that a strike would help the situation.

Apples Too Plentiful In Vermont.

Chester, Vt., Sept. 1.—Report comes from all over the state that the apple crop will be enormous this year. In many places the ground under the trees is covered with early fruit, rotting fast. The farmers say that it does not pay to pick them up for market, and they cannot even give them away.

Three-Mile Record Lowered.

Brockton, Mass., Sept. 1.—John R. Dubois, the local professional rider, rode three miles Friday to break the existing records and succeeded, making the three miles in 6.25. The best previous mark is 6.32 4-5.

City Officials Won't Review Parade.

Boston, Sept. 1.—The Building Trades Council met last night to consider the action of the Central Labor Union in voting not to extend an invitation to the mayor and governor to review their Labor day parade, and decided by a vote of 212 to 25 to uphold the action of the union. Thus the friction between the union and the Trades Council and the executive of the city terminates in the flat refusal to invite the latter to review the big parade on Labor day, and the mayor in return withdraws the city's $800 which it is customary to contribute each year.

DISTRIBUTION IS INCREASING.

New York, Sept. 1.—Bradstreet's says: Distributive trade, that from jobbers particularly, increases as the vacation season wanes. Reports from leading western centers are more favorable, and a large aggregate of business in dry goods, clothing, shoes, hats and hardware are features noted this week. The iron and steel trade, too, notes a decided gain in tone and volume of sales, though prices, except in a few instances, harden but slowly. Clearings, reflecting past business and dormant speculation, are very small, but railroad earnings, reflecting the really heavy actual movement into consumption, maintain their old gains.

Relatively the most quiet and least satisfactory conditions rule in the primary textile markets of the east, reflecting the backward state of next spring's business.

Corn crop advices are viewed as rather better, because of the ending of the late dry, hot spell in the west. Cotton crop conditions are still, however, only particularly defined, and leading state authorities are quoted as predicting a short crop. Money still retains its ease, and a significant statement is that western country bank reserves are so large that no extraordinary demand on the larger centres for crop moving purposes is expected. The steadiness of staple prices is a feature of trade.

Another week will see distributive trade in full swing at nearly all points.

From Two Standpoints.

Atlanta, Sept. 1.—The G. A. R. encampment at Chicago adopted resolutions condemning school books used in the southern schools as calculated to perpetuate prejudice against the federal government over the events of the Civil war. General Gordon, commander-in-chief of the United States Confederate Veterans, says he does not believe that any respectable southern teacher is knowingly using any book that is intended to perpetuate sectional prejudice in the minds of the southern children.

Exchange of Congratulations.

Washington, Sept. 1.—The engines of the battleship Alabama were designed by the steam engineering bureau of the navy department, under the direction of Engineer-in-Chief Admiral Melville. E. S. Cramp yesterday telegraphed Admiral Melville as follows: "Congratulate you on performance of engines on Alabama. We could have gone to Europe if we had had coal enough. Nothing to do to engines, boilers. Best yet." Admiral Melville made the following response: "Well done, Alabama. The honors are all yours."

Cuban Teachers Started a Row.

Havana, Sept. 1.—During an entertainment given at the Tacon theater to the visiting school teachers many of them were unable to obtain seats. Finally several of the teachers called upon residents of Havana to withdraw from the theater. For a while confusion reigned supreme. The police arrested a number of teachers, though afterwards releasing them. After some delay the difficulty was adjusted by providing seats for the teachers in the boxes.

Addison Gallup Fine Work.

Southampton, L. I., Sept. 1.—After playing most brilliantly for three days on what was practically her own course, Miss Beatrix Hoyt, the woman golf champion for '96, '97 and '98, was put out of this year's event by a Boston girl, Miss Margaret Curtis. The defeat of Miss Hoyt fairly astounded the Southampton contingent, who had the utmost confidence in their favorite's ability to vanquish all comers. Miss Hoyt lost through nervousness and inability to put.

Prominent Maine Man Dead.

Machias, Me., Sept. 1.—John C. Talbot died Friday at an advanced age as the result of a fall sustained early in the summer. Mr. Talbot was a lawyer by profession. He was a Democrat in politics, and had served many terms in the Maine legislature. He was speaker of the house of representatives of this state at one time, and in another year was the Democratic candidate for governor.

Peasant Engaged In Conflict.

Vienna, Sept. 1.—As a result of the tension between the Roumanian and Bulgarian governments, due to the demand of the former for the suppression of the Macedonian revolutionary committee, a frontier conflict took place yesterday between Roumanian and Bulgarian peasants at Verolorova, on the Roumanian side of the Danube river. Two Bulgarians were killed, and many of both parties were wounded.

Big Coal Mining Deal.

Halifax, Sept. 1.—The Cape Breton coal properties of the General Mining association of London were formally transferred to the Nova Scotia Steel company Friday for $1,500,000. The purchasers are floating a gigantic coal and steel combination in London, with smelters at North Sydney and shipbuilding branch at Halifax.

Negroes Should Avoid Strife.

Indianapolis, Sept. 1.—The Afro-American council concluded its sessions Friday, the last feature being an address by Booker T. Washington. He confined his remarks to suggestions for the betterment and uplifting of the race. He declared strife must be avoided, and that friction with the whites is unnecessary.

Nomination Declined by Gomez.

Havana, Sept. 1.—General Maximo Gomez has declined to accept the nomination offered him by the National party to the constitutional convention. He says he has always kept out of politics and does not wish to enter now.

Rehearing Resulted In Release.

New York, Sept. 1.—Michael Guido, the Italian who was detained by the immigration commissioners on suspicion of being an anarchist three weeks ago, was yesterday released from custody, a rehearing having been granted the man.

Drift of Opinion.

☞Next Monday is Labor day, and ever since its establishment, it has come to be looked upon as the formal closing of summer gaiety. All of which means that the coal bill will soon supercede the ice bill, and humidity will still have something to growl about.—Brockton Enterprise.

☞These fits of lawlessness are becoming so alarmingly frequent that they suggest the inquiry whether the character of the people is changing, or is the administration of the law lax and inefficient? Respect for, and obedience to, the law are the very basis of civilized government, and any paltering with, or mercy show to riotous mobs, which nullify the law, is dangerous weakness and criminal folly. —Philadelphia Public Ledger.

FIERCE TIEN-TSIN FIGHT.

American Soldier Writes of Incidents of the All Day Battle.

Leo Gross, son of Charles Gross of Alleghany, Pa., is a member of Company D, Ninth infantry. He has written his father an account of the battle of Tien-tsin, in which he took part, says the Pittsburg Dispatch. Incidentally he gives his opinion of the conduct of some of the allied troops. The letter is dated Tien-tsin, July 14, and is in part as follows:

"I guess by the time you receive this note you will have heard about our first battle, and it was fierce. I don't know, but I think I am pretty lucky, as I did not receive a wound, although I was hit in the leg by pieces of shells bursting. I lost no blood, but our boys got it proper, and the English and Japs suffered awfully. Well, here goes to tell about my first time under fire. We landed in China July 7 and lay in the harbor three days. Then we moved up the river to the new city of Tien-tsin and lay up in a building captured by the Germans. It is about five miles from the old town. The night of the 12th three companies of us were ordered out on the right of the firing line with the United States marines and English, French and Russians to hold the railroad station, which is about a mile from the Chinese, who had an 8 inch gun trained on us.

"About 8 o'clock on the morning of the 13th, when we were eating breakfast, a shell landed among us, and, sorry to say, it killed two of our boys, wounded seven, and the marines and English had three killed and eight wounded. We were ordered over to the left of the line to help hold the gate, and I don't see how we ever got away alive, for we were surrounded. Colonel Liscum ordered a charge. We started with the Japs, and the English followed. We had gone about 100 yards when our colors went down. The colonel grabbed them and started to the front, and then it was that he got killed. About the same time Major Reagan and Captain Showfield got hit. We kept going and ran out of ammunition, and they called for volunteers. The whole six companies responded. We got all we wanted, then started forward, with Lieutenant Lawton leading. He was very cool and brave. He was shot three times before he gave up, and then he was cheering his men. We got within 100 yards of the wall and were ordered to halt, for the Japs had got into the city. The fight lasted 24 hours, and in that time the loss to Americans was 96 killed and wounded and to all the allied forces was about 2,000 killed and wounded. The Chinese loss was about 50,000.

"You can talk about your German army for bravery, but they did not dare to make a charge across the field. They are all right in a trench, but they never charged under the fierce fire of the Chinese. The Russians and French are about the same, but the French refused to advance. The Japs are the best fighters on earth. I know they could give us a good, hard fight. The English could not get within 200 yards of us, but they are brave and will follow us no matter where we go, and they are very kind and good to us, and their officers treat us fine. When we were carrying our wounded from the field, the French refused us water, so you know what our boys think of them.

"The English have the native troops of China and also some from India. Well, they had to lash the Indians to the front. I am feeling fine and am in good health."

BIG COPPER DISCOVERY.

Whole Mountain of Five Per Cent Ore Reported at Howe Sound.

A mountain of copper has been discovered at Howe sound within 30 miles of Vancouver, B. C., by prospectors engaged by H. W. Treat of New York and Sir Charles Tupper of Vancouver. Assays from all over the mountain have been taken, and the ore runs 5 per cent, says the New York Sun. On the Daisy claim, the chief showing in the group, nature has done, according to Mr. Treat, what a gang of 200 miners could not do in five years. A stream of water has worn away the soft schist and exposed a cliff of copper ore 428 feet high. Surface openings have also been made with powder, which exposes the big quarry of copper for 1,500 feet.

The tremendous outcropping is less than half a mile from the famous Britannia group of prospects which sold in London recently for $1,500,000. It is said by Mr. Treat and Sir Charles that their properties have a bigger showing than the Britannia group, and the Britannia mines, according to the report of two New York engineers, had 9,000,000 tons of low grade ore in sight before $300,000 had been spent on the property.

Canadian Fruit For England.

The Ontario government, according to a Montreal dispatch to the New York Sun, is conducting an elaborate experiment in shipping Canadian fruit of fine quality to England. The apples have all been carefully selected of the finest Astrakhan and Duchess varieties, wrapped individually in oil paper and put in ventilated paper compartments. There are 100 apples in each case, and it is expected that they will sell in England for a penny apiece. This will mean a handsome profit for the grower if the fruit arrives in prime condition. The Hon. John Dryden, minister of agriculture, believes that Ontario orchards can supply choice fruits in England before the European continental supplies become plentiful.

Beyond Their Province.

Men may learn to wear shirt waists as commonly as women, but they will never enjoy, says the New York World, discussing shirt waist fashions with equal zest.

INDIAN FAMINE SCENES.

VICTIMS DIE WITHIN SIGHT OF FOOD

The Hindoo Does Not Lift His Hand to Save Human Life, Says Gilson Willets—Fields Dotted With Skeletons—A Banquet In the Midst of Death.

Gilson Willets, the author and journalist recently returned from a journey through the famine stricken region of India, when seen the other day at New York by a representative of the Boston Herald, said:

"The breadless area of India covers 250,000 square miles, which is one-third of all India, or as big as all Canada. In this area are 50,000,000 people. Ten millions are entirely destitute, and of these the government is taking care of 6,500,000 on relief works and in poorhouses.

"As for what I saw personally," said Mr. Willets, "the streets of Bombay were full of starving people. Up spring from the gutter in front of the Great Western hotel, where I stopped, a dozen brown, lean bodies. They clamored for bread in the Hindustanee tongue. They were starving, and no one would throw them even a crumb. To give them money would mean to be surrounded instantly by a mad mob. Thus famine greeted me on my arrival.

"One day, in a big village, I was watching the grain dealers doling out rice to those who could buy when two little starving boys, the older one leading his little brother, fell down in front of the shop from sheer exhaustion. The grain dealer never noticed them, though he might have helped them very practically. The younger boy's chest heaved up and down rapidly, his mouth flew wide open, he rolled on his side, and his limbs stiffened in death. His brother looked on for a few moments stupidly, then suddenly sprang to his feet and ran away.

"Other famine sufferers, grown up Hindoos as well as young Hindoos, crouched or loitered or slept or awaited death near other grain cribs. But never did it occur to a fat bunniah to throw a handful of grain to the starving ones. Your Hindoo will not kill so much as a fly, takes care not to step on an aunt—killing things is forbidden by his religion—but he will not lift his hand to save a human life.

"I took a train northward from Bombay. At a small station I perceived a horrible, hideous group representing starvation. The group included a young mother and her babe and a long young man, who lay on the ground. The woman stood by him, the child resting a-straddle on her thigh bones. They typified family life in a foodless year. They had become skeletons while yet alive. Brown skin covered their bones like leather stretched over a frame. The young woman's shoulder blade had burst through the skin. I could have filled the basinlike stomach of the long man on the ground and in it wash my hands.

"He arose and slapped his hollow stomach with one hand and with the other hand smote his brow. The woman pointed to the brown, naked mite on her thigh bone. They implored in weak, faraway voices: 'Salam, sahib; you are our father and our mother. Give us food, and God will bless you with many children.' And from that time I saw similar groups and scenes, heard similar pitiful cries, saw equal distress on every side. Human skulls and bones dotted the sun baked fields, telling terrible tales.

"About every 10 or 15 miles there was a relief camp or a poorhouse. The starving people have to walk from 10 to 50 miles to get to them. They do not allow people who live in a certain village, for instance, to enter the camp adjoining that village. If they are willing to walk a number of miles to get to relief, they are pretty certain to be genuine sufferers.

"I stopped overnight at Godhra, where cholera was mowing people down as in battle. The collector, the only white man in the district, met me at the station. To his bungalow, two miles from the station, we rode in his smart tonga, drawn by crack ponies. A sepoy, his bare feet in the stirrups, acted as outrider, and two coolies trotted beside the tonga. His bungalow stood in the desert outside the village amid vast silence. Out there starving people were suffering in ominous silence. We ourselves sat down to a dinner for epicures, served with all the adjuncts of a London sideboard.

"The collector's wife was there, with pinched face—a lily parched, shriveling in the furnace air. In their compound was a big tree, the only tree for miles around that boasted of leaves. It was the one green thing in the world for the brave little woman, and it helped to keep her eye bright. But the leaves were coveted by the neighboring cowherds. Here were leaves enough to keep life in several head of cattle till the government would buy them. Under this tree nightly, therefore, the collector posted his sepoy. That night I slept in a tent, a guest chamber luxuriously furnished and cooler than any room in the bungalow. The tent was under the coveted tree.

"At midnight there was a cry of alarm, and whack! whack! the cowherds were attacking the tree with clubs. Lanterns were brought, and the young collector came out in his pyjamas and talked to the enemy in their native Gujarati, gave them written orders on the local bunniah for grain, and then we all went to sleep again.

"I have to go through that little comedy every seven days,' said my host next morning. 'Anything to keep that tree for her.'"

ROYAL

The absolutely pure

BAKING POWDER

ROYAL—the most celebrated of all the baking powders in the world—celebrated for its great leavening strength and purity. It makes your cakes, biscuit, bread, etc., healthful, it assures you against alum and all forms of adulteration that go with the cheap brands.

Alum baking powders are low priced, as alum costs but two cents a pound; but alum is a corrosive poison and it renders the baking powder dangerous to use in food.

WILL FIGHT CENSOR.

An American Woman Who Will Make War on British Law.

Mrs. May French-Sheldon, the noted African explorer, has run foul of the lord chamberlain of England, who refuses to allow her play of "Pilate and Ovid's Daughter" to be produced upon the stage. The lord chamberlain happens to be censor of stage morals, and in his opinion Mrs. French-Sheldon's play is irreverent. He asserts that certain Scriptural allusions smack of something stronger than levity. The author says that if the lord chamberlain is acting according to law she will make a fight upon the law in parliament and do what she can to have it changed or repealed. The play is to be produced in America this winter. Mrs. French-Sheldon won a worldwide reputation about eight years ago by making a voyage of exploration in Africa. She started from Zanzibar and traveled inland 900 miles. She and her maid were the only white women in the company. On her return the fair explorer lectured before half the geographical societies of Europe and was an object of interest to Christendom as the only woman who had followed Stanley's trail in the dark continent. Her home is in Allegheny City.—Chicago Times-Herald.

Exchange of Daughters.

A novel method has been suggested by which society mothers may rid themselves of those awkward "landmarks," grown up daughters. Nowadays when it is considered positively vulgar for a woman to look old and the matron of five and forty, with a daughter of 20 or possibly 22, outrivals that young lady in dress and "make up" generally, to say nothing of admirers, mademoiselle is the solid proof that things are not always what they seem. However young madam may look, she must obviously be this, that and so and so when she has a daughter in her third or fourth season or even in her first. It is darkly hinted therefore that society beauties should effect exchanges, A undertaking to chaperon C's girl, while ditto takes B's, and B takes A's under their respective wings. This effectually destroys the index. People do not think about daughters in relation to their mothers' ages when they are not in continual evidence, and taking some one else's girl, however old she may be, does not obviously affect the chaperon's age. It is an ingenious way out of a difficulty.

"Doorstep Habit" In London.

The entente cordiale between Great Britain and the United States extends even to the English copying our customs. That the "doorstep habit" is obtaining a hold is proved by a London paper that says:

"The unusual spectacle of the doorstep of one of the houses in a fashionable square converted into a 'sitting out' room has been filling the local policemen with mild astonishment. The steps were filled with cushions, and cold drinks and cigarettes in the background made a most inviting picture, while a colored troupe performing in the square saw their opportunity and came and discoursed the latest music hall ditties. England is evidently growing more unconventional and is at last doing things people have done abroad for years, but which nobody dared to do in England."

Nurses For Schools.

At the second annual meeting of the London School Nurses' society the Countess of Aberdeen occupied the chair. This society was founded a little more than two years ago with the object of supplying visiting nurses to elementary schools in poor districts. It is found that when a nurse visits a school regularly ills among the children practically cease to exist. It is a known fact that the fever hospitals of London are for the most part filled with children whose parents allow them to run about until they are actually stricken down. So it is obviously a work of economy for the nurse to detect and exclude cases of illness from schools, where infection always spreads so rapidly.

Queen Christina's Wealth.

Queen Christina of Spain is in the habit of sending a confidential messenger all the way from Madrid to London for the purpose of depositing her wealth, which she keeps in the Bank of England. Although Queen Christina is entitled to draw from the Spanish treasury $200,000 a year, she has not owing to the straitened circumstances of Spain drawn a cent of this money.

The "Constancy" Bracelet.

The "constancy" bracelet, which is locked on the arm of one while the other keeps the key, has never gone wholly out of fashion since its introduction and is having a renewed vogue since a certain great personage allowed a popular danseuse to fasten one upon his arm. Indeed the bracelet in general has returned to favor. Some designs are graceful and artistic.

It is pointed out that the two cou

Various meanings may be placed the situation with a free hand.

It may be noted, in connection

As bearing further on the prospe

It is scarcely expected that even

NO ULTERIOR MOTIVES.

Russo-Chinese Friendship Has Existed over Two and a Half Centuries.

Li's Credentials Open Up the Question of Authority of Empress Dowager.

Washington, Sept. 1.—The disposition to look for ulterior motives in Russia's plans in the Chinese crisis is met by the statement, in authoritative quarters, that such suspicions show a lack of familiarity with Russia's traditional friendship with China.

It is pointed out that the two countries have lived as neighbors since 1644, and that their relations have not been as traders, each pushing commercial enterprises into the territory of the other, but as border friends. It is said this thought about the agreement over the trans-Siberian railway, which, while beneficial to Russia, also helps China to develop the resources of Manchuria.

In seeking concessions, also, it is said that Russia never has permitted her citizens to acquire rich railroad and mineral concessions, and then to sell them in speculative markets. This unselfish and neighborly sentiment, it is maintained, is the chief motive for Russia's present course.

The Russian note relative to the withdrawal of Russia from China and the United States response thereto were made public Friday by the state department. The correspondence may be said to illustrate a clever move by which the United States government again has assumed the lead in prescribing the policy of the powers respecting the Chinese troubles. This was accomplished by the state department availing itself of the Russian note to address to the powers an inquiry as to their policies, an answer to which can scarcely be avoided.

Various meanings may be placed upon the statements of the two principals to this correspondence. Thus, on the one hand, it may be noted that while Russia announces a purpose to withdraw her troops from China, still, as to the occupying force at Niu Chwang, a condition is attached that almost negatives the proposition as to that point. Respecting our own attitude, it appears that, while believing the best course to pursue is to remain in Pekin, our government is still willing to withdraw. Perhaps this means that if there is to be separate action by the powers in China, the United States proposes to deal with the situation with a free hand.

It may be noted, in connection with the withdrawal statement that, whereas Russia proposed to withdraw from China, our offer is to withdraw only from Pekin. A significant fact in this connection is that General Chaffee, who is well advised of the situation, having several days ago been directed to prepare for just such an emergency as that precipitated by the Russian action, continues his preparations for wintering the American troops in China. Indeed, unless the men are afloat and out of the Pei Ho within the next six weeks, they are likely to remain in China perforce, being ice bound. General Chaffee was further advised yesterday of the developments in the situation, a comprehensive statement of the points in the Russo-American correspondence being carried to him for his guidance.

As bearing further on the prospects of the future, it may be noted that the war department officials state that the government has not decided the question of the evacuation of China.

It is already expected that even with the allies a complete accord [illegible] upon this last proposition. Up to the close of the two communications [illegible] consequence of our [illegible] from the British [illegible] promising consideration for the note. The German response was equally inconclusive, indicating a wish on the part of the German government for time to consider the propositions. The officials here say that they are satisfied that Japan at least is fully [illegible] with our objects [illegible] rather expect [illegible] from the government [illegible] France has not been [illegible] this point.

It has developed in the course of the careful consideration which officials here have given to Li Hung Chang's credentials, that they were issued by the empress dowager, and not by the emperor. This may have an important bearing on the subject, as it opens up the question of the authority of the empress dowager over the decapitated Sept. 9, 1898, when she took the reins of power from the hands of the emperor. It involves also the relations between the empress dowager, the anti-foreign, and the emperor, the pro-foreign. Still a further consideration is the Russian sympathies with the empress dowager, as against the sympathies held by the emperor. Thus far, however, there has been no questioning of the credentials on personal grounds mentioned, but they are forcible in shaping the policies of the several powers.

Although the exact whereabouts of Li Hung Chang continue to be in doubt, through understanding of diplomatic channels that he is now in continuous communication with the imperial household, and thus is enabled to convey to the court the prospect of a return to the capital. The expected return of Li Hung Chang to Pekin is said to be a result of this communication between Li Hung Chang and the imperial family, and to be the initial move of responsible authorities toward the capital.

NOT WORK, BUT WORRY.

It is not work, but the worry,
That wrinkles the smooth, fair face,
That blends gray hairs with the dusky
And robs the form of its grace,
That dims the luster and sparkle
Of eyes that were once so bright,
But now are heavy and troubled
With a weary, despondent light.

It is not the work, but the worry,
That drives all sleep away,
As we toss and turn and wonder
About the cares of the day.
Do we think of the hands' hard labor
Or the steps of the tired feet?
Ah, no! But we plan and ponder
How to make both ends meet.

It is not the work, but the worry,
That makes us sober and sad,
That makes us narrow and sordid
When we should be cheery and glad.
There's a shadow before the sunlight
And ever a cloud in the blue;
The scent of the roses is tainted,
The notes of the song are untrue.

It is not the work, but the worry,
That makes the world grow old,
That numbers the years of its children
Ere half their story is told,
That weakens their faith in heaven
And the wisdom of God's great plan.
Ah, 'tis not the work, but the worry,
That breaks the heart of man!

A NEW ENGLAND HEROINE.

She Would Not Lie, but Prevaricated to Save a Life.

When the British and Tories attacked New Haven, Conn., and set a price on the head of Governor Griswold the latter fled to the town of Lyme, where his cousin, Mrs. Marvin, hid him for some days in a farmhouse. But at length the foe discovered his retreat, and one sunny afternoon in May he was routed from his hiding place by the tidings that a band of horsemen was approaching to capture him.

His only chance of escape was to reach the mouth of a little creek which emptied itself into the Connecticut river just above the entrance of the latter into Long Island sound. There he had a boat stationed, with two faithful attendants, hidden beneath the high banks of the creek.

The distance from the farmhouse to the boat was two miles of the usually traveled road. But a little path across the farmer's orchard would bring him to the road only a mile from the boat and save a quarter's length of his fearful run for life.

Just where the narrow path from the orchard opened into the road Hetty Marvin sat bleaching her household linen. The long web of 40 yards or more, which was diligently spun and woven during the long winter months, was whitened in May and thus made ready for use.

The business of bleaching was well economized, being usually done by the younger daughters of the family, who were not old enough to spin or strong enough for the heavier work of the kitchen or the dairy.

The roll of linen was taken by the farmer or his stout "help" to a grassy plot beside a spring or meadow brook. There it was thoroughly wetted and spread upon the green turf, to take the best heat of the sun by day and the dew by night. The little maiden who tended it would sit near it.

Thus sat Hetty Marvin, the young daughter of Governor Griswold's cousin, when her hunted friend sprang past her into the road to escape his pursuers. Hetty was a timid child of about 12 years, yet thoughtful and wise beyond any of her elders. She was frightened by the headlong haste with which the governor rushed across the meadow. But she quickly comprehended the scene and instantly quieted her faithful Towser, who, though a friend of the family guest, thought it becoming to bark loudly at his hurried footsteps.

Her wise forethought arrested the governor's notice and suggested a scheme to elude her pursuers.

"Hetty," he said, "I am flying for my life, and unless I can reach my boat before I am overtaken I am a lost man. You see the road forks here. But you must tell those who are chasing me that I have gone up the road to catch the mail wagon, which will soon be along, you know. Then they will turn off the other way."

"Oh, cousin," said the little girl in an agony of distress, "I cannot tell a lie—indeed I cannot. Why did you tell which way you were going?"

"Hetty, child, surely you would not betray me to my death? Hark! they are coming! I hear the click of their horses' feet. Oh, Hetty, tell them I have gone up the road instead of down, and heaven will bless you."

"Heaven never blesses those who speak falsely. But I will not tell them which way you go, even if they kill me. So run as quickly as possible."

"It's of no use. Unless I can deceive them I am a dead man."

"Cousin, cousin, hide under my web of cloth. They'd never think of looking here for you. Come, get down as quickly as you can, and I'll cover you and stand sprinkling my linen."

Angry that their expected prey had escaped from the house where they hoped to secure him, the six mounted Tories, headed by a British officer, dashed along the road in swift pursuit. At sight of the girl in the meadow the leader of the party paused.

"Child," he said sternly, "have you seen a man running hereabouts?"

"Yes, sir," replied Hetty, trembling and flushing.

"Which way did he go?"

"I promised not to tell, sir."

"But you must or take the consequences."

"I said I wouldn't tell, if you killed me," sobbed the frightened girl.

"I'll have it out of her!" exclaimed the furious officer, with an oath.

"Let me speak to her," said his Tory guide. "I know the child, I believe. Isn't your name Hetty Marvin?" he asked pleasantly.

"Yes, sir."

"And this man that ran by you a few minutes ago is your mother's cousin, isn't he?"

"Yes, sir; he is."

"Well, we are friends of his. What did he say to you when he came along?"

"He—told me—that he was fleeing for his life."

"Just so, Hetty; that was very true. I hope he won't have to fly far. Where was he going to hide? You see I could help him if I knew his plans."

Now, Hetty was not a whit deceived by this smooth speech. But she was willing to tell as much of the truth as would consist with his safety, and she judged that her frankness would serve her kinsman better than her silence, so she answered her questioner candidly:

"My cousin said he was going down to the river where he had a boat and wanted me to tell the men that were chasing him that he had gone the other way to catch the mail wagon."

"Why didn't you do as he told you, then, when I asked you where he had gone?" thundered the officer fiercely.

"I could not tell a lie, sir," was the tearful answer.

"Hetty," again began the smooth tongued Tory, "you are a nice child. Everybody knows you are a girl of truth. What did your cousin say when you told him you could not tell a falsehood?"

"He said he shouldn't think I'd betray him to his death."

"And you promised him that you wouldn't tell which way he went if you were killed for it?"

"Yes, sir."

"That was brave; and I suppose he thanked you for it and ran down the road as quickly as possible?"

"I promised not to tell where he went, sir."

"Oh, yes, I forgot. Well, tell us his last words, and we won't trouble you any more."

"His last words were, 'It's my only chance, child, and I'll get down as you say.'"

And, overcome with fright and the sense of her kinsman's danger should they rightly interpret the language which she had reported, she sobbed aloud and hid her face from sight.

Her tormentors did not stay longer to soothe or question her. They all immediately pushed rapidly on down to the river.

Now, the governor had arranged a signal with his boatmen that a white cloth by day or a light by night displayed from the attic window of his hiding place, which was just visible at the mouth of the river, should inform them if he were in trouble and put them on the alert to help him.

As soon, therefore, as he started from his cousin's, it floated from the window to warn them. And when they saw the pursuing party dash madly down the road to the river and recognized the British uniform of the leaders they pulled swiftly out to sea. The horsemen reached the shore only in season to see the boat with two men in it nearly out of sight, and, supposing their destined prey had escaped, relinquished the pursuit.

Meanwhile the victim lay safe and quiet where the shrewdness of the little cousin had hidden him until the time came for her return for supper. Then he bade her go as usual to her home, telling her to ask her mother to place the signal lamp as soon as it grew dark in the window for the boatmen and send him some supper, with his valise, which, in the hurry of his departure, he had left behind.

The signal recalled the boat, which after twilight had ventured in sight of the shore and the farmhouse, and the governor quietly made his way to the river in safety. When he rejoined his father in a secure home, he named his infant daughter, which had been born in his absence, Hetty Marvin, that he might be daily reminded of the little cousin whose truth and shrewdness saved his life.—Exchange.

The Poor Englishman's Oxford.

The poor man's varsity is the polytechnic, a word meaning "many arts," and the things which are not taught there are hardly worth knowing. In London alone there are 11 of these splendid schools, where men and women can learn, at small cost, useful trades, music, painting, and the art of thinking. There are clubs for cycling, football, and all the games; there are cheap excursions to all parts of Europe, so that people can learn by travel; there are concerts and entertainments, and a little religion on Sundays. For the best students there are prizes and certificates, which help people to get on in the world.

The idea is spreading all over the country, because a graduate from a polytechnic is apt to get better wages than a graduate of Oxford. Cambridge has 7,000 students, Oxford 3,000, but the polytechnics of London have already 45,000 students, and both in the metropolis and in the provinces the system is growing rapidly.—London Answers.

Not a Savage Indian.

As an illustration of that sort of salutary reproof which is sometimes administered by an "inferior," Our Dumb Animals prints an incident communicated by a South Dakota minister.

The clergyman had been asked to receive an Indian boy into his family for a few weeks, and had consented to keep the lad if he did not prove to be "too much of a savage." He turned out to be a pretty good boy, so much so that one day, as a great treat, the minister gave him a gun and told him to take a holiday and go hunting.

The Indian shook his head. "No," he said quietly. "Me belong to Band of Mercy. Me not shoot birds or animals, only rattlesnakes."

The minister had been very fond of using that gun, but he says he does not care much for it now.

LOOTING OF TIEN-TSIN.

Scenes Following the Fall of the Native City.

HORRIBLE SIGHTS WITNESSED.

Chinese Killed by Chinese For Refusing to Fight Against Foreigners—Their Heads Hung on the Walls—Rich Booty Secured by American Soldiers and Others.

The ancient stone walls of the Chinese city of Tien-tsin, surrounded on the days of its occupation by the allied troops, was a square mile of such filth, ruin and death, such turmoil and pillage, as history could hardly duplicate. Under normal conditions the place was no better than a huge cesspool, festering with the accumulated rubbish from a population of nearly 1,000,000 packed into a labyrinth of hovels around the palaces of viceroys and petty taotais who absorbed their wealth and gave them not even sewers in return. Now it is the incarnation of all the suffering, horrors and waste of war.

The European soldiers when they fought their way up to the walls saw floating in the canals and ditches outside dozens of Chinese slain by their own people because they refused to fight. The bodies were headless and their hands were tied behind their backs. The heads were discovered afterward. Rows of them decorated the outer walls, hung by their pigtails.

Five flags were flying from the high pagodas on the city walls when the newspaper correspondent entered—the French, Japanese, American, Russian and British. "It was hard enough to get those flags up there," remarked a foreign officer, "but the real trouble will be to get them down." The suburbs of the city presented a foretaste of what was inside. Shells had torn the huts and plowed the ground, while the dead men scattered among dead horses, pigs and dogs testified how thoroughly the bullets had swept the region the day before.

The sights inside compelled respect for the fighting qualities of the Chinese. Their dead were everywhere. Dressed in the coarse blue cooly blouse and trousers decorated with characters guaranteed to render them invulnerable to foreign bullets, they were strewn all along the top of the wall wherever they had fallen. Walking a quarter of a mile along the embankment, the bodies averaged one in ten feet, and the wall was nearly ten miles long.

Throughout the city the demolished houses and hundreds of killed gave evidence of how vastly more effective had been the foreign shell fire within the walls of the city than the Chinese bombardment of the foreign settlement which, lasting for a month, had killed only a dozen people. The viceroy had constructed in the palace yard two comfortable and impenetrable bomb-proofs—excavations guarded by sand bags—but the common people were less fortunate. Many women and children were lying dead in the streets, torn terribly by shrapnel. The living populace were utterly indifferent to their dead. They would not take the trouble to drag them out of the streets or even cover them with matting, as a foreign soldier did afterward, but trampled them underfoot without bothering to turn aside. Before the shooting in the streets was finished thousands of Chinese had emerged from their burrows carrying white flags or the flags of foreign nations, principally the Japanese.

Most remarkable of all the sights was the looting of the city. The middle of the place was like an ant hill kicked open. Chinese swarmed everywhere, thousands and thousands of them, diving into the flames of the burning shops, getting under falling walls and into choking clouds of smoke. Most of them were half naked, grimy with smoke and sometimes dripping with blood. They preyed upon one another. A Chinese appearing with a prize must fight his way. Other Chinese sprang upon him and clutched his plunder. They rolled among the corpses, pulling and tearing, while children being trampled down cried for help, and the mob poured right along over them.

The palaces, the mint, the pawnshops, the stores of silks, furs and jewelry were the first objects of attack. Near the middle of the city was the most prosperous pawnshop, an institution that had probably existed for centuries. Wealthy Chinese were accustomed to store their winter clothing there for safe keeping. When the doors were battered down, the mob flowed in like a tidal wave. There were British officers, naval and military; soldiers and sailors, with a good sprinkling of sikhs, but principally Chinese. In a twinkling all was pandemonium. The Chinese knew where the best treasure was to be found, and the soldiers followed them. Two forces collided in the gateway, a line of Chinese struggling to enter and another fighting to get out with great armfuls of loot, while an occasional soldier went through the crowd. Tien-tsin experienced a sweeping redistribution of wealth, but on the old scheme of prizes to the strongest.

The looting continued for three days. On the first day it was entirely unrestrained. Many white people accumulated stacks of goods by simply standing at the city gates and holding up the best laden Chinese from the endless procession that flowed out. Pack horses, carts, rickshaws, coolies loaded with trunks and sacks and piled with loose silks, furs and bronzes crowded all the roads leading down to the settlement. English officers rode with their horses concealed under dry goods and soldiers slung bundles on their bayonets.

On the second day a conference of commanding officers decided to adopt repressive measures. The commanders, excepting the French, empowered the British, who were doing provost duty, to seize all loot. This order the British attempted to execute by holding up the looters. They took all bundles and reported the names of claimants for future inquiry. Naturally this step provoked grumbling, particularly among the soldiers of other nationalities. Captain Bailey, the provost marshal, a big bodied, big voiced Englishman, explained that the prohibition was designed to restrain civilians from getting the spoils which should go to the men who did the fighting. The official statement is that all seized loot will be sold, the proceeds to be divided among the soldiers as prize money. But soldiers, wise through former campaigns, comment skeptically.

The Japanese, so far as casual observation showed, did the least looting because of the admirable discipline under which their soldiers are held. The Americans had all to themselves one large arsenal, which they occupied on entering the city. It contained not only cannon, but a fine store of small arms, swords of curious and rich pattern, rifles of various makes, with stands of the long two man guns, which are simply giant rifles, throwing a ball which, from the report and the whistle, the soldiers in the fight judged to be 1 pounders. Munitions of war were not the only contents of the arsenal. High officers had lived there and in flight had left stacks of clothing and other articles of great value. All this stuff is to be sold or shipped to Washington as spoils of war.

On the third day of the occupation a more effective method was followed by compelling looters to give up their loads at the city gate. Even this measure did not prevent the loss of much gold and silver. Civilians from the concession made a general raid on the salt commissioner's treasure, and many succeeded in smuggling loads of silver bars through to the settlement. The Americans seized nearly 1,000,000 taels' worth of precious metals, which is piled up in the marine barracks.

Today the walled city looks as though a tornado had stricken it. Enough valuable property has been destroyed to stock a big city, and enough has been seized to give every soldier a considerable sum if the distribution is honestly administered.

BRESCI'S AWFUL DOOM.

Solitary Confinement In Silence and Idleness For Humbert's Slayer.

Though under the law of Italy abolishing capital punishment Gaetano Bresci, the anarchist who killed King Humbert of Italy at Monza and who has been sentenced to life imprisonment, escapes death, his fate will appear to most men far worse than death, says the New York World. His first place of incarceration will be the "secret cell," a chamber about six feet long by three feet wide and half lighted. A few inches above the floor is a plank about half a yard wide and slightly inclined, which serves as a bed. The food is bread and water, passed through the little window called the "spy" by the jailer, the door being always rigorously closed. He will be condemned to absolute silence. If he breaks the rule, he is subject to other punishments, such as the strait waistcoat, irons and strait bed. If he attempts his life in any way, he will be put into the strait waistcoat and at night into a sort of sack in which he cannot move.

When he has suffered the punishment of the "secret cell" for a longer or shorter time, he will be removed to another cell, where he must remain for ten years. Its size depends on the construction of the prison. These cells are lighted from the corridor and are generally about two yards square. The bed is the usual plank and bread and water the food. In winter a single blanket is allowed at night. Silence is still enjoined. The only concession is the door being opened a few inches. The food is given only once in the 24 hours. If the prisoner is sick, the doctor can have him removed to the prison infirmary, where he is kept in a separate chamber. Prisoners in solitary confinement may neither read, write, smoke nor work. They are condemned to absolute idleness and absolute silence. Very few withstand it long. They either go mad or die.

Rare Flowering Tree.

A new flower is blossoming in Central park, says the New York Sun. It is the flower which grows on the Queensland fire tree, known otherwise as the Stenocarpus sinuatus. It has taken Mr. Rose, the park landscape gardener, several years to cultivate the tree, which is now blossoming. The flowers are red. The tree in its present condition is said to be worth no less than $1,000.

Boston Theatre.

James O'Neil is to be seen again at the Boston theater as Edmund Dantes in Monte Cristo. To the grown generation of theatre goers, the news means that they may once more go to see one of the most perfect performances that romantic drama ever offered. The younger people, who are just reading Dumas' books now, will welcome the opportunity to see the story in the stage form at once and will be agreeably surprised when they find out that the production of Monte Cristo they will see this year is one that will likely never be excelled or duplicated—at least that is the aim Mr. O'Neil's managers, Liebler & Co., have sought to pursue. They have spared neither money nor brains in the attempt to make a production of Monte Cristo that will set the whole country talking. Over a year has been spent in the preliminary work of making new models and costumes. Scenic artists were dispatched to France to obtain material for correct views of the Port of Marseilles, and the ruins of the Chateau d'If, and to hunt up descriptions of those places as they looked at the time time of Monte Cristo. Frederick DeBelleville, Thurlow Bergan, Augustus Cook, Robert Paton Gibbs, Warren Conlan, Edmund Breese, Rebecca Warren, Annie Ward Tiffany and Vicencia Martinez, are names familliar to the public and every individual is particularly well fitted for the part assigned him or her. The Boston theatre engagement will begin Monday, Sept. 17, lasting four weeks, when the production will be moved to New York for a permanent stay.

A PEEP

Into the future would sadden many a happy woman. The misery of marriage often results from ailments which maidenly modesty kept hidden. When doctors are at last consulted they frequently fail to help. They do not understand the root of the trouble. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has cured in thousands of cases where doctors entirely failed.

"I had been a great sufferer from female weakness," writes Mrs. M. B. Wallace, of Muenster, Cook Co., Texas. "I tried four doctors and none did me any good. I suffered six years, but at last I found relief. I followed your advice, and took eight bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and four of the 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I now feel like a new woman. I have gained eighteen pounds."

For the sum of twenty-five cents general admission, not only to the Hall proper but to Bumstead Hall, which is to be given over to an exhibit of wax figures identical with those which have made the Eden Musee in New York famous, may be secured and fifty cents will obtain any reserved or box seat in Music Hall for any performance, afternoon or evening.

Keith's Theatre.

Such a multiplicity of "headline features" are announced for appearance at Keith's Boston theatre the week of Sept. 3, that the program can be quite properly termed an "all-star" one. Charles Dickson, the popular comedian, supported by Nell McEwen, will play "A Pressing Matter," a capital one-act farcial sketch; John C. Rice and Sally Cohen will appear in one of their laughable farcicalities; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sidman will play their rural gem "Back Home," for probably the last times in vaudeville Eugene Canfield will make his vaudeville debut in an original comedy sketch; Allen Shaw, skilful coin manipulator; W. C. Fields, comic juggler; George E. Austin, comedy wire performer; Millie Scott, expert riding artist; Clarence Vance, "the Southern singer," and Kelley and Violette, singers and dancers. The foregoing is not the entire list, but it is certainly one of the strongest variety programmes ever offered in any theatre in the country, and has only been excelled by previous shows at Keith's, and not very often at that.

Castle Square Theatre.

The fourth regular fall and winter season at the Castle Square Theatre begins with the performance of the coming week and extensive preparations have been made to present an unusually brilliant and varied list of attractions. The company will include in its membership the Misses Lillian Lawrence, Maude Odell, Leonora Bradley, Leonora Gnito, Marian A. Chapman and Hope Ross, and Messrs. John Craig, John T. Craven, Charles Mackay, J. L. Seeley, Tony Cummings, Lindsay Morrison, Edward Wade, Stanley Kent, J. T. Hasson and John J. Geary. Mr. J. R. Pitman will have charge of all the stage productions and Manager J. H. Emery's staff remains as at present. The opening attraction will be Augustin Daly's famous American play "Divorce," for which the cast will be as follows: Alfred Adriansе, John Craig; Captain Lynde, Tony Cummings; Rev. Harry Duncan, Charles MacKay; DeWolf DeWitt, J. L. Seeley; Templeton Jitt, John T. Craven; Mr. Burritt, Lindsay Morrison; Judge Kemp, Edward Wade; Dr. Lang, Stanley Kent; Miss Fannie Ten Eyck, Lillian Lawrence; Miss Lu Ten Eyck, Maude Odell; Mrs. Ten Eyck, Leonora Bradley; Grace, Marian A. Chapman; Molly, Leonora Gnito. For the week beginning Monday, September 10th, an elaborate production of "Monte Cristo" is announced. Chocolate bonbons will be given to all Monday Matinee patrons until further notice.

New Downer Landing Park.

Sunday grand concerts will be given by the St. Augustine Cadet band with concert selections between the numbers by well known vaudeville singers. The progamme for next week will be one of the best ever given, being the first appearance in this section of Mme. Dufree's female minstrels. Twenty handsome ladies will compose the circle and furnish an abundance of fun. Other features are the wargraph and illustrated songs.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning Sept. 2—Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle.

TOPIC.—Seek souls.—Luke xv, 1-10.

The parables of the lost sheep and the lost coin, which form our study, were spoken by Christ as a result of criticism against Himself for associating with publicans and sinners. "The Pharisees and scribes murmured, saying, This man receiveth sinners and eateth with them." In answer to this charge Christ pointed out by these parables that He came to seek and to find lost souls. Seeking souls was Christ's mission on earth. Seeking souls is the mission of every Christian and of every Christian church. Christ is our example and our inspiration in this as in all other respects.

1. The soul should be sought because it is lost. It was a lost sheep and a lost coin that were sought. Had their owners not realized that they were lost they never would have sought them; hence before we will be earnest soul seekers we must realize that the soul is lost. It is lost if unsaved through Christ—lost in sin, lost to God, lost to heaven, lost to eternal life! But many do not realize it. Many minimize sin. They look upon it as a weakness, a defect, but not of a serious character. They do not realize that it is a transgression of God's law, punishable by the eternal death of the soul. Let us keep this clearly in mind. Unsaved souls are lost souls. This should inspire us to fidelity in seeking them.

2. The soul should be sought because it is valuable. The lost sheep and the lost coin were valuable; hence they were sought. The soul is valuable, transcendentally so, above sheep, coins or all the world. He who knows the bliss of heaven and the pangs of hell has estimated the value of the soul as greater than that of the whole world. If a sheep, a coin, are diligently sought because of their value, how much more the soul should be sought because of its value!

3. The soul should be sought diligently and persistently. The shepherd sought the sheep until he found it. There were difficulties and hardships in the way, but these did not discourage him. His efforts ceased only when they had been crowned with success. In such a spirit we should seek souls—until we find them. The search should never be abandoned until success has been accomplished. It may require months—yea, even years—of patient toils and labors, prayers and tears, but still we should persevere. It was a long way from heaven to Calvary and a hard way, yet Christ trod it that souls might be sought and saved. Can the servant do less than his Lord?

4. There is joy in soul seeking and soul finding. There is joy in soul seeking. Soul seeking may become a passion if heartily entered into, upon which our own souls feed and live. But here at least possession is infinitely better than pursuit. If joy in seeking, what rapturous joy in finding and what joy in being found! The seeker rejoices, the sought rejoices, friends rejoice, the angels of God rejoice, the Master rejoices, the Father rejoices. What a wave of joy is started when a soul is sought and found! Have you ever experienced this joy? If not, seek in Christ a lost soul until you find it.

THE PRAYER MEETING.

Arrange a special programme, studying "Christ as a soul seeker." Have prepared papers or address and "The Ninety and Nine" sung as a solo.

BIBLE READINGS.

Dan. xii. 3; Math. iv. 17-20; John iii. 16; Acts ii. 37-47; iii. 1-10; viii. 26-40; Rom. xi. 13, 14; I Cor. vii, 16; I Tim. iv, 16; Jas. v. 20.

Our Duty to Be Respected.

A desire for the good opinion of the best people is legitimate and honorable. Very few have sufficient individuality to stand up against public judgment and defy the unanimous opinion of society. There may be times when it becomes one's duty to be an "Antipas" against all, but it requires great assurance that we are singularly enlightened and all others are in error. It is generally safe to conclude that the many know more than any one individual and are more likely to be right than even the wisest of the whole number. On this account it has become a proverb, "The voice of the people is the voice of God." This is, indeed, not an axiom, for the people may err and have erred, while the voice of God is always right. Nevertheless the public voice is with most of us, and, properly, a secondary conscience.—New York Observer.

Getting and Giving.

Should it be a rule of life to get all you can or to give all you can? That question is just now under discussion. Well, how much can one give unless he first gets? The men who are laying thousands or millions on the altars of education, humanity or religion have generally been successful as captains of industry, princes of commerce or leaders of large business enterprises. Possibly also their chief benefaction has consisted in creating profitable employment—which is a kind of giving—especially if they have been just and considerate in their dealings and have paid fair wages. To get honestly is quite as legitimate as to give generously and ought to take equal rank.—Youth's Companion.

Restlessness of Spirit.

There is no time that we need so much to go apart and seek God in prayer as when we are conscious of restlessness of spirit and are moved by hasty impulses. In such times we are almost sure to do the wrong thing unless we have taken counsel of God after waiting before Him long enough to have become perfectly quiet. There is no place where we can sooner attain unto quietness than on our knees before God. He will not leave us to distractions if we patiently wait before Him.—Words and Weapons.

TO CHECK GERMANY.

Key to "Russo-American Mystery" as Furnished by De Blowitz.

An Official Wants a Reward For Slaying Foreigners.

Chung Li Visits Pekin and Is Arrested For Complicity In Attack Upon Legations.

London, Sept. 4.—The latest reliable Pekin date is now nearly a fortnight old. An undated dispatch has been received at Vienna, reporting that the allied troops marched through the imperial palace Aug. 28, but it was known that this date had been fixed by the allied commanders for a formal promenade. There is no other news of any kind.

M. De Blowitz, the Paris correspondent of The Times, asserts that the origin of Russia's decision to evacuate Pekin was her desire to frustrate the schemes of Emperor William, and to correct the impressions produced by the kaiser's speech attributing to Emperor Nicholas the initiative in the appointment of Field Marshal Count Von Waldersee to the command of the international troops.

"Russia also desired," says M. De Blowitz, "to save France from the hard necessity of placing her troops under Count Von Waldersee. The United States were also much dissatisfied with the prospect of their troops acting under German orders.

"If you compare the Russian evacuation proposal with the American plan for beginning negoitations before Count Von Waldersee's arrival, and if you add to this the prompt adherence of France, addressed to the United States, you have the complete key to the Russo-American mystery."

Another dispatch from Pekin, dated Aug. 21, says: Yu Hsien, governor of Shanghai (?), has sent a memorial to the throne asking for a reward for having invited 52 foreigners under his protection and for having afterwards killed them.

There is a possibility of the Pekin dispatch being somewhat in error as to the identity of the Chinese official who is asking for a reward for murdering 52 foreigners. A dispatch to the Associated Press from Chefoo, dated Aug. 29, said Yu, the governor of the province of Shen Si, was reported to have invited the foreigners in that province to come under his protection. It was added that, about Aug. 21, 50 foreigners accepted the invitation and all were massacred. Probably Yu, the governor of Shen Si, is identical with the Yu Hsien who is referred to in the Pekin dispatch as "governor of Shanghai."

A dispatch from Pekin, dated Aug. 27, says: Chung Li, a members of the tsung li yamen and prefect of police, visited the Austrian representative yesterday, who arrested him because of the Chinese official's complicity in the attacks on the legations.

Sir Robert Hart, the director of the Chinese imperial maritime customs, has resumed charge of the customs and has reopened the imperial posts.

The Hong Kong correspondent of The Daily Mail says that the Canton officials have been ordered to transmit all possible revenue to the north for war expenses; that all pay from the viceroys down has been stopped during hostilities.

The Daily Express publishes an interview with a New York Chinaman, Liu Chu Ah, now staying in London, who admits Li Hung Chang's "duplicity and rooted antagonism to western ideas," but thinks that the allies have no choice but to negotiate with him, or to retire from China all together.

Three members of the tsung li yamen, says a dispatch from Tientsin of Aug. 28, Nan Tung, Ching Hsin and Chung Li, are seeking to negotiate with the allies through Sir Robert Hart, the director of the Chinese maritime customs.

Most of the German papers are of opinion that it is very doubtful if Germany can adopt Russia's suggestions, and they deplore the evidence of a threatened split in the European concert. One leading Berlin journal asserts that Emperor William, while conversing with a group of officers last Saturday evening, said: "Under no conditions shall we give up Pekin, not even if every army corps has to be mobilized."

Tribute to Washburn's Memory.

Kansas City, Sept. 4.—From 11:15 o'clock till 11:20 Monday every locomotive, every piece of machinery and every employe on the Memphis railway system from Kansas City to Birmingham, Ala., were idle. This action was taken as a mark of respect to the memory of the late president of the system, E. S. Washburn, who died at Rye Beach, N. H., last Friday. For the five minutes specified every train, car and locomotive was held at a standstill, no matter where they happened to be. The funeral service of President Washburn were held Monday at Rye Beach. The body was later taken to Boston for interment in Forest Hills cemetery.

The End of the Lizzie Smith.

Chatham, Mass., Sept. 4.—The two-masted schooner Lizzie Smith, from Rockland, Me., for New York with a cargo of lime, ran ashore on Shovelful shoal, and vessel and cargo will be a total loss. The crew abandoned the vessel, being rescued by the crew of the Monomoy life saving station. When last seen the vessel was a mass of flames. She carried 1400 barrels of lime.

LABOR DAY SPORTS.

Many Interesting Bicycle Contests—Bostons Beaten by the Pittsburgs.

Waltham, Mass., Sept. 4.—The 25-mile motor-paced race here between John H. Nelson, Archie McEachern and James F. Moran was won by Nelson, but was marred by a number of accidents, all of which affected the result, but did no serious damage to the riders. Nelson led McEachern by 1 1-3 miles, and Moran by 2 miles. Time, 40m. 43 2-5s.

Accident on Brockton Track.

Brockton, Mass., Sept. 4.—At the electric light meet at the Shoe City oval Monday evening the principal event was a 25-mile motor-paced race between W. C. Stinson and Albert Champion, which was won by Stinson by almost two miles. Champion led for the first 11 miles. Stinson trailing him and making three unsuccessful attempts to pass him. In the 12th mile the rear tire on Champion's motor burst and his pacemakers, Marks and Gately, rode off the track into the enclosure. Marks jumped, landing on his head and making a wound that required eight stitches.

Caldwell the Victor.

Springfield, Mass., Sept. 4.—Harry Caldwell of Manchester, N. H., won the six-day, hour a day, race, which ended at the Coliseum track Monday night, by more than two miles from his nearest competitor, Burns Pierce. Walthour rode a greater distance for the hour, but on account of a previous accident was far in the rear on the week's work. Caldwell's total was 200 miles, 4 laps, 128 yards.

Came Up to the Record.

Worcester, Mass., Sept. 4.—Harry Elkes, in his first appearance on an American track this season, equalled the world's record for a six-lap track at the Coliseum last night.

Worcester, Mass., Sept. 4.—Fred L. Britton of South Hadley Falls defeated Thomas E. Holland of Worcester in a 660 yards match race at Worcester oval Monday at the field day of Worcester labor organizations. The purse was $360, and six inches separated the men at the tape.

New London, Conn., Sept. 4.—The fight between Patsy Sweeney of Manchester, N. H., and Jack Sloan of Brooklyn Monday night resulted in Sloan being knocked out in the second round. The fight was one-sided from the start.

Boiler Explosion Caused Two Deaths.

Biddeford, Me., Sept. 4.—One of the big boilers in the engine room of the Electric Light company's plant in this city exploded Monday from some unknown cause, killing William Heffran, 40 years of age, and Charles Meserve, 58 years. The building in which the engines were situated was entirely demolished. It was a frame structure, three stories in height. Five men were employed at the plant, but at the time of the accident no one, with the exception of the two men killed, was present. The boiler was so far demolished that no possible way remains to find the cause of the explosion. Two other large boilers which stood by the side of the wrecked one were badly damaged.

Arthur Sewall at Death's Door.

Bath, Me., Sept. 4.—Arthur Sewall, Maine's leading Democrat and shipbuilder, is lying at death's door at Small Point, the victim of apoplexy. Small hopes are entertained for his recovery. He has been in poor health for some time past, but until the shock came no fear of his demise had arisen. To the last he was in close touch with the business affairs. It is stated by physicians that there is absolutely no hope for his recovery. His death is expected at any moment, and he probably will not come out of the stupor in which he has lain since he was stricken. The family are about the bedside awaiting the end.

STILL HANGING FIRE.

Growing Confidence That Russia Will Not Withdraw Her Troops.

Presence In Pekin Would Aid In Providing Government.

Another Dispatch From Conger, but Its Contents Are Not Made Public.

Washington, Sept. 4.—It cannot be learned that there has been any marked advancement of the negotiations between the powers touching the withdrawal of the international forces from Pekin. The plain indication is that the powers are acting upon the hint conveyed in the last note of the state department and are bringing all of their influence to bear upon Russia to induce her to change her mind as to withdrawing her troops. For some reason the authorities here appear to feel a growing confidence that this effort will be successful.

It is noted as a fact of great significance that the proposition is being advanced to have Prince Ching return to Pekin as the acting head of the Chinese government. The suggestion is made that the progress of this wave of reorganization, while the international troops are still in Pekin, promising as it does speedily to provide an actual de facto Chinese government, with which the nations may treat without further doubt as to its strength, may solve the present problem and put the Chinese question in a fair way to final and satisfactory settlement. Much may depend upon the attitude of Russia in this matter, and the manner in which she treats this appealing from the Chinese notables may prove to be a test of the sincerity of her expressed desire to deal with the Chinese government as soon as possible.

Dr. Hill, first secretary of state, returned to Washington last night and assumed the duties of acting head of the state department, relieving Mr. Adee, who has performed these duties during the perplexing diplomatic exchanges of recent date. Dr. Hill has been absent in New England with his family on a vacation, but in view of the important diplomatic phases of the Chinese question which have arisen, decided to curtail his stay and take up the work here. Soon after arriving he went to the White House, and spent a half hour with the president, going over the present status of the Chinese negotiations. Later he conferred at length with Mr. Adee. From this time on, until Mr. Hay returns, Dr. Hill will be the active head of the state department.

A dispatch from Dr. Perley, the chief surgeon at Taku, makes it apparent that whatever the conditions may be on the land route between Taku and Pekin, the Pei Ho river route, at least, is open, and safe for the transportation of passengers.

A dispatch from Minister Conger was received by the state department Monday. It was chiefly interesting in being the first word from him since his dispatch of about the 27th ult. referring to the proposed parade of troops through the imperial palace in Pekin.

Like that dispatch, this is dateless as to Pekin. The contents were not made public, but it was stated that it contained nothing materially changing the situation. The lack of date led to a determination to take energetic steps by which all dispatches hereafter coming to the state department from China will have the date clearly stated.

Two other dispatches received from China referred to the state of health of the troops, which generally is satisfactory.

All Allowed to Land.

New York, Sept. 4.—The Anchor line steamer City of Rome, which arrived at quarantine at 6:45 Monday morning from Greenock and was detained by Health Officer Doty for examination, owing to the prevalence of bubonic plague at Glasgow, was released at 12:30 p. m. Health Officer Doty and his assistants examined every one of the 1369 persons on board of the steamer and decided that it was perfectly safe to permit the steamer to go to the dock and land the passengers.

Proposition Likely to Be Rejected.

Hermosillo, Mex., Sept. 4.—A delegation of five Yaqui Indians have arrived here, on their way to lay a proposition before President Diaz looking to a settlement of the war that has been going on for the last two years between the Indians and government troops. The Indians demand that they shall be permitted to conduct their own tribal affairs without interference and without taxation. It is not considered probable that President Diaz will accept the proposition.

Hebrew Got the Worst of It.

Binghamton, N. Y., Sept. 4.—Rev. J. H. Taylor, a colored pastor of this city, was arrested last night on complaint of Samuel Siteman, a Hebrew, who charged the clergyman with assault. A week ago the pastor reproved the Hebrew for using profane language in the presence of women, and in the altercation Siteman claims that Taylor struck him. Taylor claims that he "pushed" the Hebrew, who was unable to leave his bed for five days.

Two Boys Killed by Train.

Fall River, Mass., Sept. 4.—William Sweeney, 12 years old, and Arthur Sullivan, 15, were instantly killed Monday evening by a passenger train. The boys were walking upon one track, and in their endeavor to avoid an approaching freight train stepped directly in front of the passenger train, and were struck by the engine of the latter. Their bodies were badly mangled.

Good Afternoon.
The reporters of the Herald and Globe in their stories of the Al Kyris-Hanley imbroglio at the Quincy Yacht Club house on Saturday both drew largely from imaginations in writing up the affair. The accounts for both papers were based wholly upon the Al Kyris owner's ex-parte testimony. Both of the reporters are or have been members of the Al Kyris' crew this season, thus the warping of their stories to suit their patron, greatly to the injustice of the board of judges and Mr. Bache.

Drift of Opinion.
☞ Memorial Day will stand. The Grand Army convention rejected the proposal of Commander-in-Chief Shaw that it be changed to the last Sunday in May. The 30th of May has so long been set aside for memorial services and it is a legal holiday in so many States, that a change would not readily be made. The Grand Army is a dying organization and when the last veteran has been mustered out, it is the hope of the comrades that Memorial Day will keep alive the memories of the valor of the men of '61 and '65. To make the day a holiday fixes it in the minds of the people, and while some prefer to make it an occasion of the highest solemnity, others greet it as a day of pleasure and recreation, a day of rejoicing over the deeds of the departed, rather than of mourning, that they are no longer here. To change the day to Sunday would meet the views of the first, but it would cease with the end of the G. A. R. It is better as it is, and the delegates to the national convention acted wisely when they rejected the suggestion of a change.—Lynn Item.

GO TO SCHOOL NOW.
Two to Three Hundred Added to the School Army.
The school year opened this morning with an increased attendance. New pupils will be received every day this week but from returns already received it is evident that there will be over 200 new five-year olds, possibly 300. But new pupils have entered every grade in nearly every building as new families are moving into Quincy every week.

The entering class at the Quincy High school was not as large as last year although it was expected that it would be fully as large. The number that had registerd to enter was 226 and of this number 190 report. This brings th numbr of pupils in the school up to 500.

Others will probably come in later It is expected and in fact it is known that a number intending to enter did not do so on account of having go to the old High building.

Principal Harper has sent 75 to the old building thus far. These are those of the first year of the two year business course. Mr. Slade will have charge of the pupils here, and he will be assisted by Miss Tupper.

The greater part of today was consumed in getting the pupils assigned to their respective rooms and in getting things in running order. Solid work therefore will not be entered into before Wednesday or later.

The new five-year- old pupils to enter the primary grade were:

FIRST LADIES DAY.
Of the North Quincy Social Club for Season of 1900-1901.
The spacious rooms of the North Quincy club on Billings road presented a gay scene Monday afternoon and evening. It was the first ladies' day of the club this season, and a very successful affair it proved to be. The members with their wives were present in large numbers, and those who were not fortunate enough to have wives but hope some day to be thus endowed, brought their sweethearts along.

The billiard and pool tables seemed to hold a charm for the ladies, and the merry clinking of the ivories proved that they equalled the gentlemen in enthusiasm of the fascinating game.

All could not manipulate the cue, and for them whist, chess and checkers served to pass the hours pleasantly.

In the evening there was dancing and the cool breeze that swept through the hall made this a delightful diversion. Many elegant costumes were worn by the ladies, and the dance was a brilliant affair. During the evening light refreshments were served.

This is but the first of many similar events to be given by the club, and if the success of Monday is any criterion, the winter season will be one of unusual social interest.

A meeting of the ladies was also held at which it was decided in order to advance the interests of the club, and to extend its social influences, to form a ladies' auxiliary and steps were taken.

Special days will be set apart for the ladies when they will have the exclusive use of the rooms of the club.

W. Y. C. Cruise.
The yachts comprising the fleet of the Wollaston yacht club sailed out of the bay Saturday. Some of the boats went to Gloucester, while others went to Marblehead, and thence to Nahant and took in Monday's races.

In the fleet that went to Gloucester were the Rover, Capt. James Smith; Premier; Capt. Edward Hayden; Edna Capt. C. F. Marr.

In the fleet that took in Marblehead and Nahant were the Brant, Commodore, J. A. Fenno, Mudjikewiss, Capt. A. L. Baker; Enigma, Capt. C. A. Dickey; Medora, Capt. S. B. Willey; Neptune, Capt. A. E. Linnell, and Idlewise, Capt. Charles Merrill.

ANNUAL OUTING

Of the Street and Water Departments of the City.

The annual outing and clam bake of the employes of the Highway and Water departments was held Saturday at Fallon's farm in Germantown, the day was an ideal one for an outing and the men had a jolly good time. Aside from the employes present, there was Commissioner Knowlton, City Clerk Cleaves, Chief Ripley and Chief Williams, Assessor Glover, Overseer of the Poor Bass, City Messenger Tirrell, Franklin Jacobs, Dr. Henderson, Driver Brown of the steamer, Supt. Weeks, Liquor Officer Ferguson, Benjamin Johnson and ex-representative in Congress Harrison A. Atwood, who came down to renew old acquaintances and incidentally to show himself to the voters. Mayor Hall was prevented from being present by illness.

Many of the employes went down early in the day, as it was intended to have some of the sports in the morning. About the only morning sport, however, was the ball game which commenced shortly before noon. This was a great game, and was between the Water and Highway Departments.

Bill Duane umpired the game and some of his rulings were hardly in accordance with the rules of the game, but he was umpire and everything went. There was no appeal. Four and one-half innings were played, but the smell of the steam clams was too much for the players and they left the diamond for seats about the tables.

Peter Dakers kept tally and said the score was 17 to 13 in favor of the Highway department, although it is hard to tell how the game would have resulted had the innings been completed.

The line up of the two teams was as follows:

The game was replete with unique features and a succession of happenings, and the things happened so frequently it was impossible to record them.

Then came the clam bake and it was a good one. This was not all the men had, for in the morning they were served with a lunch of cold meats, and along about 4 o'clock Mr. Fallon brought out bananas, apples, plums, etc., so that everybody had their fill of good things, the menu of the clam bake consisted of clam chowder, steamed clams, sweet and white potatoes, green corn, frankforts, steamed ribs of pork and lobsters.

After the bake there were a series of sports which resulted as follows:

Potato race. Peter Lane, first, John Fallon second.

Old Man's race, 50 years and upwards. Nightingale first, Griffin, second.

High jump. Gilcoine first, Regan second.

Standing high jump. Hinchon first, Gilcoine second.

Putting shot. Gilcoine first, Hennessey second.

Running broad jump. Gilcoine first, Regan second.

Running, hop, step, and jump, Gilcoine first, Regan second.

Tug of war between Highway and Water departments.

Both heats were won by the Highway department.

The first by six inches and the second by one and one half inches.

The make up of the two teams was as follows:

Highway department, Larson, Barrett, Carlson, O'Neil, Driscoll.

Water department. Now, Anderson, Di Sautes, Agnetti, Hennessey.

Tennis Tournament.

The Whitney Road Tennis club gave an open tournament in doubles Labor day. Eight pairs were entered, but two of the gentlemen were unable to be present and substitutes took their places. During the day Mr. King played for himself and as substitute ten sets and was game until the last in the finals. The cups were won by Packard and Holden, who had an easy time after the preliminaries. The score:

Packard and Holden beat King and Southworth, 6-3, 6-4.

Sheppard and Jones (King substitute for latter) beat Nowland and Burke, 6-4, 2-6, 7-5.

Harlow and Ellsworth (Severance substitute for latter) beat Hall and Atkins, 9-7, 6-2.

Pollard and Dornan beat Severance and Hultman, 6-1, 7-5.

SEMI-FINALS.

Sheppard and Jones beat Harlow and Ellsworth, 6-4, 4-6, 6-0.

FINALS.

Packard and Holden beat Sheppard and Jones, 6-2, 6-1.

CHAMPIONSHIPS.

The Canicum and Tautog Win in Handicap Classes.

The Canicum was an easy winner over a large fleet of starters in Class A of the Quincy Yacht club's last handicap race of the season, which was sailed off the club house on Monday afternoon at three o'clock. The Hustler won on actual time but was second on corrected. Monday's race placed her at the head of her class for the club's sterling cup, her total percentage being 340, against 320 for her nearest competitor, the C. C.

The race was sailed in a two-reef breeze from the south west.

In Class B the Tautog and Whisper were the starters. The whisper met with an accident at the start. The Tautog went over the course alone and won the championship for that class.

Golf Tournament.

R. R. Freeman and C. L. Bremer made the best gross scores at the members handicap golf tournament at Wollaston on Labor day, but the big handicaps allowed others to put these gentlemen well down in the net column, the prize for best score going to R. H. Whitney who had a handicap of 24.

Q. Y. C. OPEN RACE.

The Largest Number of Entries for Many Years.

At the Quincy Yacht club's twenty-seventh annual open regatta, which was sailed off the clubhouse on Saturday afternoon, there was a fleet of 27 starters, the largest number which has sailed under the auspices of the club at an open regatta for many years. The wind was from the east and light. At the close of the racing an incident occurred on the club floats which was discreditable to the participants. When the H. O. boats finished, Mr. Bache of the Hanley came to the judges and said:—"Gentlemen, I have grounds for filing a protest against the Al Kyris, but under no circumstances will I do so unless the Al Kyris protests my boat for an alleged foul."

A few minutes after this conversation Mr. J. Fred Brown came hurriedly up to the judges and filed a protest against the Hanley for the alleged fouling of his boat at the starting line. After this protest had been filed Mr. Bache thereon filed a counter protest. The judges notified both parties that at the conclusion of the race they would be given a hearing at the clubhouse so that the entire crews of both yachts could be present and testify.

There were three members of the club on the board of judges and one of these, Mr. Whiton, saw what followed and afterwards officially rendered his report to the other two members of the board. Mr. Whiton testified that after a brief wordy warfare, Brown made a pass at the younger Mr. Bache, striking him in the ribs. Mr. Bache retaliated by striking Mr. Brown in the face. Mr. Brown thereupon grabbed up a heavy oak chair and threatened to knock Mr. Bache down. At this point members of the club intervened and separated the belligerents.

Upon the strength of Mr. Whiton's report the board of judges tore up both protests, and refused to hold further relations with the owners of the Al Kyris and Hanley owing to the disgraceful affair and the fact that neither of the parties offered an apology to the club for such a proceeding upon its premises.

The judges refused to hold any relations whatever with either the owners of the Al Kyris or Hanley until an ample apology is received.

In the 27 years of its existence this is the first time that an effort has been made at one of the club races to supplant the Quincy Yacht club rules by those of the Marquis of Queensbury.

In the H. O. class start the boats were pretty well bundled, but Joe Turner finally pulled the Hanley away from the Al Kyris and Empress and kept the lead until the finish. If the judges disqualification is not revoked, the first prize of $20 goes to the Empress.

In the second class there were three starters, the Hostess, Cleopatra and Zaza. The Hostess of course won hands down, with the Zaza, second. Prizes $10 and $5

The third class also had three starters. The Dauntless of Lynn took first money and the Lobster second.

About all of the fun in the entire regatta centered in the Handicap class A. There were twelve starters. The Eclipse which was sailed by John T. Cavanagh, won first, $12, both on actual and corrected time. The Omeme was second, $10; Hustler, third, $8; Harbor Light fourth, $5 and C. C. fifth $3.

In the Handicap Class B there was some warm racing. The Whisper won first money $8 on actual and corrected time; the Tautog second $5; and the Bobolink third $3.

The judges were Commodore Davis Vice-Commodore Whiting and J. L. Whiton, Jr.

IT is significant that in homes of wealth where the very best is demanded, Ivory Soap is used in the nursery. At the same time, in hundreds of families where economy decides the choice, Ivory Soap is selected. Thus its purity attracts the rich; its economy attracts the poor. High quality and low cost: is there any better combination?

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

BRYAN AND ROOSEVELT

Set Forth Their Views on Current Topics From the Same Platform.

Both Speakers Receive a Hearty Greeting.

Dignity of Labor and Specific Matters Dealt With by the Speakers.

Chicago, Sept. 4.—William J. Bryan and Theodore Roosevelt yesterday reviewed organized labor of Chicago. Hour after hour the labor unions marched down Michigan avenue past the Auditorium hotel, on the loggia of which stood the Democratic nominee for president and the Republican vice presidential candidate, together with Charles A. Towne, Senator Mason and a dozen other political leaders. Both Bryan and Roosevelt were heartily greeted by the men as they marched by the hotel.

When the last man of the long line of marchers had swung round Michigan avenue and Jackson boulevard, Bryan and Roosevelt went inside the hotel, where soon after they sat down to a luncheon given by labor representatives. It was a "flag of truce" luncheon, for the trades union men had declared that in the celebration of Labor day there was to be no politics. Even while the parade was moving a host of people, mostly the families of workingmen, gathered at Electric park, where the speeches of the day were delivered. Governor Roosevelt was the first speaker, the program having been thus arranged so that he might leave by an afternoon train to keep an appointment.

He was received by a storm of applause, and throughout his address his more telling points were received with marks of approbation. He said in part:

"The fundamental law of healthy political life in this great republic is that each man shall in deed and not merely in word be treated strictly on his worth as a man; that each shall do full justice to his fellow, and in return shall exact full justice from him. Each group of men has its special interests; and yet the higher, the broader and deeper interests are those which apply to all men alike; for the spirit of brotherhood in American citizenship, when rightly understood and rightly applied, is more important than aught else. Let us scrupulously guard the special interests of the wage worker, the farmer, the manufacturer and the merchant, giving to each man his due and also seeing that he does not wrong his fellows; but let us keep ever clearly before our minds the great fact that, where the deepest chords are touched, the interests of all are alike, and must be guarded alike.

"Before us loom industrial problems, vast in their importance and their complexity. The last half century has been one of extraordinary social and industrial development. The changes have been far reaching, some of them for good and some of them for evil. It is not given to the wisest of us to see into the future with absolute clearness. No man can be certain that he has found the entire solution of this infinitely great and intricate problem, and yet each man of us, if he would do his duty, must strive manfully so far as in him lies, to help bring about that solution. It is not as yet possible to say what shall be the exact limit of influence allowed the state, or what limit shall be set to that right of individual initiative so dear to the hearts of the American people. All we can say is that the need has been shown on the one hand for action by the people in their collective capacity through the state, in many matters; that in other matters much can be done by associations of different groups of individuals, as in trade unions and other organizations; and that in other matters it remains now as true as ever that final success will be for the man who trusts in the struggle only to his cool hand, brave heart and his strong right arm. There are spheres in which the state can properly act, and spheres in which a comparatively free field must be given to individual initiative."

Governor Roosevelt was followed in order by Charles A. Towne, Samuel Alschuler, Democratic candidate for governor of Illinois; Richard Yates, the Republican gubernatorial nominee; Senator Mason, Mayor Rose of Milwaukee, Mayor Harrison of Chicago, R. M. Patterson and P. J. O'Donnell. When finally Mr. Bryan rose to speak the applause was deafening and long continued. As he enunciated his views on various labor measures, shouts of approval greeted his words. He said in part:

"This day has been wisely set apart by law to emphasize the dignity of labor and for the consideration of those subjects which especially affect the interests of the wage-earner. The laboring men constitute so large and so indispensible a proportion of the population that no social, economic or political question can be treated without an investigation of their connection therewith.

"Mr. Gompers, the chief executive of the Federation of Labor, has, in his correspondence with the secretary of the treasury, so ably presented the laboring man's reasons for opposing a gold standard and a national bank currency that it is not necessary to discuss those questions at this time.

"The laboring man has abundant reason to fear the trusts. Charles R. Flint, in a speech delivered in Boston, more than a year ago, in defense of the trusts, frankly asserted that one of the advantages of these combinations is that, 'in case of local strikes or fires the work goes on elsewhere, thus preventing serious loss.' Is it possible that any wage-earner can fail to see how completely the trusts place the employe at the mercy of the employer?"

Militarism and imperialism were then discussed by the speaker at considerable length, and he closed as follows:

"In the presence of these perils the laboring man has a responsibility commensurate with his opportunity. Without a large percentage of the laboring vote no party can win an election in the United States. The men who work for wages can, by throwing their votes on the one side or the other, determine the policy of this country. They need not march in parades; they need not adorn themselves with the insignia of any party, but on election day their silent ballots can shape the destiny of this nation, and either bring the government back to its ancient landmark or turn it into the pathway followed by empires of the old world."

What Shall the Harvest Be?

White River Junction, Vt., Sept. 4.—The unusually active political campaign which has been conducted by both of the parties in this state for the past four weeks clased last night, and the voters of Vermont at the polls today will decide the election of the various state officials and the two national congressmen. There is little doubt as to what the result will be, the only matter of vital interest being as to the size of the majority of the Republicans. The Democrats are confident that the majority for the other side will not exceed 25,000, notwithstanding the fact that in the state election preceding the national election in 1896 the Republican majority was 36,930. The members of the Republican state committee admit that they do not hope to be favored with the record-breaking majority of 1896.

Democratic Leaders In Conference.

Chicago, Sept. 4.—Senator Jones, chairman; J. G. Johnson, vice chairman, and C. A. Walsh, secretary of the executive committee of the national Democratic committee, held a conference Monday with the party leaders in several states. The object of the conference was to obtain an accurate idea of the conditions existing in the various states represented and to arrange plans for conducting the campaign in those states.

Bay State Socialists' Ticket.

Boston, Sept. 4.—The Socialist Labor party of Massachusetts held their convention here today. The following state ticket was nominated: Governor, Michael T. Barry, Haverhill; lieutenant governor, Morris E. Ruther, Holyoke; secretary of state, A. E. Jones, Everett; auditor, A. A. Forstom, Worcester; treasurer, F. E. Nagler, Springfield; attorney general, Frank McDonald, Stoneham.

Republicans Made Gains.

Little Rock, Sept. 4.—The entire Democratic ticket, headed by Jeff Davis for governor, was elected in Arkansas Monday. H. L. Remmel, the Republican candidate for governor, made a good showing, and his increased vote over two years ago will probably reduce the usually large Democratic majority. There was no opposition to the Democratic ticket for any office except the governorship.

A Third Party Convention.

New York, Sept. 4.—All the eastern states except Maine, all the central seaboard states and a great number of others from the southwest and middle west will send delegates to the convention of the third party, which opens here tomorrow. The purpose of the convention is to put candidates in the field for president and vice president and to appoint a campaign committee.

Stirred Up Crowd's Anger.

New York, Sept. 4.—William Kutchen of Providence was arrested on the Maspeth bicycle track Monday and rescued by the police from an angry crowd. In a five-mile bicycle race five professionals started, including Kutchen and Teddy Goodman, who had gained a lap on Kutchen. As Goodman passed Kutchen the second time it is charged he deliberately grasped his rival and after running 20 yards the two fell, Goodman sustaining a broken collar bone. The foul aroused the indignation of the spectators and a rush was made for the offender, who was rescued with some difficulty by the police and locked up on the charge of assault.

Variag Must Have Another Trial.

Philadelphia, Sept. 4.—Orders have been received from St. Petersburg at Cramps' shipyards which will necessitate a new trial by the cruiser Variag before her formal acceptance by the Russian government. This is due to the accident which happened during the last trial, when the head of one of the high pressure cylinders was cracked. The vessel exceeded the speed required by the contract for six consecutive hours when the accident occurred. It was not expected that a new trial would be demanded.

Passenger Train Derailed.

Freeport, Ills., Sept. 4.—A Chicago and Northwestern passenger train was derailed near here Monday, resulting in a bad wreck. All the cars left the track. Engineer Ryan was instantly killed. Twelve or 15 persons were more or less injured, but none seriously.

Rifle Ball Through His Head.

Uxbridge, Mass., Sept. 4.—Arba W. Taft, an ice dealer, 42 years of age, killed himself Monday with a Winchester rifle. He placed the muzzle against his left eye and pulled the trigger with his toe. He had been despondent since his wife died.

WEEK OF SUNSHINE AND HEAT

Has Caused Crops in the Larger Part of New England to Ripen Prematurely.

Boston, Sept. 4.—Following is a statement of the weather and crop conditions in New England, compiled from the reports of correspondents of the weather bureau throughout the section, for the week ending Sept. 3:

The weather of the past week has been favorable for the harvesting and threshing of grain, but too dry for growing crops. Very little rain has fallen and much sunshine has prevailed.

The condition of growing crops is now less satisfactory than at the close of the preceding week. The prevalence of high temperature and the absence of rainfall for the past six days has caused crops to ripen prematurely. The corn crop being late has been affected, though not so seriously as have rowen, buckwheat and late vegetables. The peach crop is, perhaps, suffering more than any other fruit. Peaches are small and of poor quality. The week has been favorable for the housing of tobacco and for the threshing of wheat, oats and barley. It is too dry for plowing. Grasshoppers continue to do much damage in Maine, beans, turnips and pastures being destroyed.

Mown fields generally are making little growth. Some rowen has been cut, but it is very light. New seeded fields are not doing well, and pastures, with few exceptions, remain poor.

Fodder cutting is now progressing rapidly in Connecticut and Massachusetts. Buckwheat in the northern portion of the section is in splendid condition, but in the southern states is less promising.

Apples in southern New England are falling slightly more than usual, but the prospects remain favorable. Blackberries, plums and grapes are abundant. One correspondent states that pears are rotting on the trees. Fall peaches are of a poor quality.

Rust has damaged many fields of potatoes and cantaloupe vines have blighted badly. Late potatoes, however, promise a larger yield than the early varieties. The onion crop is slightly below the average. Beans are better than usual, and cabbage is excellent.

Ten Thousand In Line

Boston, Sept. 4.—Union men to the number of 10,000 paraded Boston's streets yesterday. With bands playing and banners announcing to the world their identity and position on various economic questions they marched, making a splendid showing. There were three parades this year instead of one, as has been the custom in past years, the unions allied with the American Federation of Labor parading apart from the Knights of Labor, while the sewer workers broke away from the former body because of the friction with Mayor Hart, and paraded by itself. All made a splendid display, and there were no signs of friction. The great public did not discriminate, but enthusiastically applauded each procession.

To Free Use of Knives.

Providence, Sept. 4.—In a row between several Italians and Poles at Barrington, on Sunday evening, one man was killed, one fatally injured and two others quite badly hurt. Chester Cardenta plunged his knife through Karrol Kabeleviec's heart, and then stabbed him a number of times after he had fallen. Raffael Papa stabbed Antonio Corusia, puncturing the heart, and he cannot recover. A Pole named Farnsuski was also stabbed three times. The Italians were arrested, and when arraigned pleaded not guilty, and were held for trial.

Big Order From New Zealand.

St. Louis, Sept. 4.—A local car and foundry company has been awarded a contract for constructing 68 passenger coaches for the government of New Zealand. These cars will be built complete and then taken apart and shipped to their destination. Men will be sent to put the cars together after their arrival.

Gashed His Own Throat.

Rochester, N. H., Sept. 4.—David F. Ham, 71 years old, a well-known and prosperous farmer of this city, committed suicide Monday by cutting his throat with a clasp knife. Mr. Ham had been worrying about pending actions for damages for fires set by him to burn brush on his farm, which communicated to valuable timber on neighboring land.

Hemmed In by Boers.

Pretoria, Sept. 4.—Commandoes under Fourii, Grubelaar, Bemmer and Hassebrock, together with 200 of Theron's scouts, are investing the British garrison at Ladybrand. It is reported that the troops have already burned their stores, and it is feared that they will be compelled to surrender. General Hunter is hastening to their relief.

Cutdown May Be Averted.

Fall River, Mass., Sept. 4.—There is every indication that the determined opposition to a reduction in wages will be forcible enough to prevent a cutdown now. It is evident from the gossip among mill men that some compromise will be arrived at and that the paper now in circulation will be withdrawn until later in the year.

Cholera's Awful Visitation.

Bombay, Sept. 4.—There were 7969 deaths from cholera in the native and British states during the week ending Aug. 25.

Part of Santiago Under Water.

Santiago, Sept. 4.—Santiago is now experiencing the severest weather known here since 1877. The lower part of the city is five feet under water. The firemen and police are assisting the sufferers.

Killed In Game of Baseball.

Dalton, Mass., Sept. 4.—Joseph Marsh, 23 years old, a baseball pitcher, was killed by a foul ball Monday. He was at the bat in a local game and was struck in the head by the foul off his bat. Death came instantly. He was for a time a member of the Springfield team.

Boy Killed His Father.

Cedar Rapids, Ia., Sept. 4.—While making a brutal assault upon his wife in a quarrel over a trivial matter Monday, A. Woods, a farmer, living near Martelle, was shot and instantly killed by his 18-year-old son. The son was exonerated by the coroner's jury.

Clean Bread

Can't be made by foul hands and clean, pure blood can't be made by a foul stomach. The blood is made by the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition.

When these are diseased they contaminate every drop of blood made from the food they act upon, and this contamination is carried through the whole body. It may settle in the liver, kidneys, heart or lungs but the root of the disease is in the stomach. Cure the stomach and you cure the disease. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the organs of digestion and nutrition perfectly and permanently. It purifies the blood, and so by curing the cause of disease, cures many forms of disease in organs remote from the stomach.

"For the past sixteen years I have had torpid liver and indigestion and tried many doctors and patent medicines but I could not get a cure," writes Mrs. Simeon Suggs, of Clyde, Sabine Parish, La. "Three months ago I thought I would try Dr. R. V. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and his 'Pleasant Pellets.' I got six bottles of each and I received a good result in a week, and to-day I am cured sound and well. The symptoms were coated tongue, specks before the eyes, disposed to be cross and irritable, foul stomach, bad taste in the mouth, tired feeling, a feeling of dread or fear, headache, yellow skin, etc. These symptoms did not all appear at once. If sufferers from such troubles will take Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Pleasant Pellets' as directed in pamphlets wrapping bottles, they will bring back the bloom of life as it did with me."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure biliousness and sick headache.

Madame Yale's
HAIR TONIC

Ladies and Gentlemen.—It has gone on record that Madame Yale's Excelsior Hair Tonic is the first and only remedy known to chemical science found to be a genuine hair specific. It has an affinity for the human hair for nourishing and invigorating its entire structure. It is antiseptic in character, as well as stimulating; its action upon the scalp and hair is truly wonderful, inasmuch as it has never been known in a single instance to fail to cure scalp diseases and to create a luxuriant growth of healthy, beautiful hair. It stops hair falling within twenty-four hours and brings back the natural color to gray hair in nearly every instance. It is not a dye; it is not sticky or greasy on the contrary it makes the hair soft, youthful, beautiful and glossy; keeps it in curl. It is a perfect hair dressing, and can be used by ladies, gentlemen or children as a daily toilet requisite. Its influence is delightfully soothing.

CHAFFEE AND CONGER

Both Send Messages of Recent Date to Their Respective Departments.

The Military and Diplomatic Situation Unchanged.

Why Russia Aims to Maintain the Present Territorial Conditions.

Washington, Sept. 5.—The war department yesterday received a very interesting dispatch from General Chaffee, describing the military situation as eminently satisfactory. It would have been of great value but for the omission common to all of the other official dispatches from China, namely, the date line.

However, taking into consideration the fact that a cablegram was received by the state department yesterday, dated five days ago, from Mr. Conger, the conclusion was reached that General Chaffee's dispatch also was sent from Pekin about Aug. 29 or 30. General Chaffee asks a very important question as to the withdrawal of the American troops. The answer to that question, it is said, might have been found in the state department's answer to the Russian evacuation proposition. But that answer, or rather a synopsis of it, was not cabled to General Chaffee until Aug. 30, and it is assumed that, allowing for the same time in transmittal as was consumed by General Chaffee's dispatch received yesterday, the synopsis has just reached him. When the American answer to the Russian proposals was made public it was stated here that General Chaffee had been instructed some time before, by telegraph, just what course to pursue in the matter of retiring from Pekin in the event of the emergency that afterward arose. This being so, yesterday's application for instructions might be regarded as an indication that he had not received the original instructions when he sent his message.

It is stated that no order has been sent to General Chaffee to leave Pekin as the result of any recent development. In fact it would seem that the war department is not able to instruct him more specifically on this point until the decision of the powers relative to general evacuation is known. It was stated at the war department that our proposition was unchanged; if Russia withdraws her troops then General Chaffee will do the same. Meanwhile it is gathered that conditions in China are still disordered and foreign life and property are still unsafe.

The dispatch received from Minister Conger was gratifying to officials in that it contained the date of Pekin, Aug. 30, as an integral part of the message and this part cipher. Aside from bringing the information up to a recent day, it satisfied the officials that the minister at last had received the instructions to include the place and date of each message as an integral part of it. This promises to do away with the great confusion caused thus far in dateless messages.

The text of the Conger dispatch was not made public, but it was authoritatively stated that it did not change the situation and was devoted somewhat to expressions of opinion. It was authoritatively stated in this connection that Minister Conger will remain at his post until further orders. Up to this time he has expressed no wish to be relieved.

In diplomatic quarters Russia's motive continues to be a fruitful theme. The theory advanced by M. Blowitz in the London Times that it was an offset to France for Russia's supposed nomination of Count Waldersee is regarded as purely fanciful. A much simpler and more reasonable explanation is advanced by one of the diplomatic officials who has taken an active part in the negotiations. He says that Russia recognizes the obvious fact that it is to her advantage to have a weak neighbor instead of having a partition of China, which would range a number of the powers alongside of Russia. For this reason, it is said, Russia's chief aim is to maintain the present territorial conditions.

An official communication received here through diplomatic channels makes the rather surprising statement that Li Hung Chang is at present using all his efforts to have one or more of the powers dissent from Russia's proposition, believing that a rupture of the allies will be of greater advantage to China than any agreement, even on the favorable basis put forward by Russia.

Forty-Eight-Hour Act Condemned.

Detroit, Sept. 5.—That the new law providing 48 hours work a week for letter carriers is in disfavor with a majority of the carriers was shown Tuesday in the 11th annual convention of the National Association of Letter Carriers, when it was declared that "ninety-nine hundredths of the carriers of the United States deplore the 48-hour act, and know that any law which is an infringement on our old 8-hour law will never be satisfactory to the letter carriers."

All Hands Were Coatless.

Camden, N. J., Sept. 5.—The first shirt waist wedding is claimed for Camden by the marriage of Miss Annie Jacobs to Morris Blumstein. The bridegroom's best man, ushers and most of the guests were coatless. The innovation had been noised about and the crowd in front of the church blocked the sidewalk and street.

VERMONT AND NEW YORK.

Republicans Elect Stickney By Somewhat Reduced Figures.

Odell and Woodruff To be Ticket In Empire State.

White River Junction, Vt., Sept. 5.—State issues, of which that of local option was the most important, caused a 20 percent decrease in the Republican vote in Tuesday's state election, and a large proportion of that loss went to the Democratic party. The Republicans, of course, carried the state by an immense margin, but it is likely to fall at least 10,000 under the vote of 1896, but at the same time, it is probably about 5000 ahead of the gubernatorial vote of two years ago.

The Republicans elected the following ticket: Governor, William W. Stickney of Ludlow; lieutenant governor, Martin F. Allen of Ferrisburg; treasurer, John L. Bacon of Hartford; secretary of state, Fred A. Howland of Montpelier; auditor, Orin M. Barber of Arlington; members of congress, First district, David J. Foster of Burlington; Second district, Kittredge Haskins of Brattleboro.

The Republican majority in the state election in September preceding the national election in 1896 was 36,950, and in the state election of 1898 it was 22,773. Many conservative Republicans claim that when the returns are all in the majority will be at lest 27,000. In 1888, 1892 and 1896 the Republican majority averaged 27,501, and the average of the three "off" years in the same period was 20,927, while the average for the six elections since 1888 is 25,712.

The vote of the Democrats on the state ticket unquestionably will be larger than the three "off" year elections, in which the average was 14,561, as against an average of 19,347 in 1888, 1890 and 1892. The increase is attributed to an active canvass and the closer union of the party.

The election resulted in the choice of 30 state senators, all of whom are Republicans. In the 160 cities and towns which thus far reported the Democrats have elected 30 representatives, and the leaders of the Democratic party predict they will have a representative on at least 50 in the general assembly. In 1896 the Democrats elected 19 representatives, while in 1898 42 were seated.

The election ended the most interesting and exciting campaign carried on by the Republicans and Democrats for over 30 years. The fight has been continuous since the national conventions were held. The contest that has been waged by candidates for the seat of the late United States Senator Morrill is responsible for the active work of the Republicans in the selection of representatives to the general assembly.

There are four candidates for the unexpired term of Senator Morrill: Jonathan Ross of St. Johnsbury, ex-Governor Dillingham of Waterbury, Charles A. Prouty of Newport, and William W. Grout of Barton. The former was appointed by Governor Smith to fill the vacancy until the general assembly elected a successor. Judge Ross resigned as chief judge of the supreme court of Vermont to accept the honor of occupying a seat in the United States senate, and it is generally understood that he does not aspire to the office after the term of Senator Morrill expires. His opponents in the senatorial fight have also carried on active campaigns in the selection of representatives that will support them in the legislature.

The work of the two parties during the past few weeks has differed from that of previous years, the Republicans dealing wholly with national issues, while the Democrats have been active on both national and state issues. Every town in the state has been visited by "spell-binders," and from the beginning it has been termed an educational campaign.

Republican Campaign Plans.

New York, Sept. 5.—Senator Hanna left Republican national headquarters in this city Tuesday, to be gone three weeks. He will open the Ohio campaign at Youngstown on Saturday, and will then go to Chicago. It was announced here that Senator Depew will be at Youngstown with Senator Hanna. Governor Roosevelt will be joined at Sioux Falls, S. D., on Sept. 11 by Curtis Guild, Jr., of Boston, who will accompany him on the remainder of his stumping tour.

Probable Democratic Slate.

Saratoga, N. Y., Sept. 5.—Republican politicians claim to have most positive assurances that the leaders on the Democratic state ticket will be John B. Stanchfield for governor and William F. Mackey for lieutenant governor. Inquiry among Democrats here rather confirms the statements.

Davis' Big Majority.

Little Rock, Sept. 5.—Returns from 40 of the 75 counties of the state give Jeff Davis, the Democratic candidate for governor, 30,000 majority over Remmet, Republican. The Republican leaders concede that Davis' majority will ultimately be 40,000.

FRANK F. CRANE,

AUCTIONEER and APPRAISER,

Office, 4 Chestnut St., Quincy, Mass.

Aug. 17

Saratoga, Sept. 5.—With the adoption of a platform the practical work of the Republican state convention was completed Tuesday. There only remained the formal naming of the candidates, and these had already been agreed upon and known for several days. Today is being devoted to oratory. The ticket is:

For governor, Benjamin Odell; for lieutenant governor, Timothy C. Woodruff; for secretary of state, John T. McDonough; for comptroller, William Morgan; for state treasurer, John P. Jaeckel; for attorney general, J. C. Davies; for state engineer and surveyor, A. E. Bond.

Former Governor Black presented the name of Mr. Odell as a candidate for governor. Senator Depew followed when the convention had ratified this nomination by acclamation, with a speech nominating Timothy Woodruff for lieutenant governor.

The prearrangement of all details of the convention was manifested in the work of the committee on resolutions when it assembled. A printed platform prepared by Senator Raines was read, and with the modification of a single phrase in the canal plank this was adopted by the convention. The platform is of unusual length and remarkable for its statistical review of the party and the evils which have passed, rather than for the definite party pledges. The convention itself was characterized by no unusual demonstrations.

Preliminary Skirmishing In Connecticut.

New Haven, Sept. 5.—Without a flutter of excitement and with practically no enthusiasm so far as it appeared on the surface, the Republicans of Connecticut assembled in state convention in this city last night to prepare, by temporary organization, for the session of today, when candidates for state offices will be nominated and presidential electors named. Not a word of discord was uttered, and the whole session partook of the characteristics of old time love feasts. Before the convention was opened the factional lines, however, were nicely drawn. The leaders of the Fessenden-Warner faction on the one hand and the controlling spirits of the Fyler-McLean side were hard and incessantly at it. With the opening of the convention all bitterness disappeared, either as a matter of tactful diplomacy or because neither faction cared a rap for such blood as could be drawn at this preliminary session.

Croker Pitches Into Hill.

New York, Sept. 5.—Mr. Croker spoke unreservedly as follows of Senator Hill's speech delivered in Troy: "Mr. Hill attacked me in his speech. He did not come right out and attack me by name, but he did so indirectly. That's his style of doing business. He did the same thing six years ago, and when I charged him with it he denied that he meant me. Mr. Hill never does things in the open. He always hides behind something and leaves a loophole to crawl out of. He is deceitful, tricky and couldn't tell the truth if he wanted to. He is a picayune politician, a 'peanut politician,' and he wouldn't be a captain of a district if he lived in New York city. Tammany Hall wouldn't have a deceitful, untruthful sneak like Dave Hill in its organization. If it wasn't for these things I would have recognized Dave Hill as leader long ago."

Albany, Sept. 5.—Senator Hill returned here last night from a flying trip to New York city. He refused to say anything relative to the attack made upon him by Richard Croker.

Wellington and Bryan Speak.

Cumberland, Md., Sept. 5.—The opening of the Democratic campaign for the states of Maryland and West Virginia at this place last night was rendered memorable by the appearance on the same platform of W. J. Bryan and United States Senator Willington, who was elected as a Republican. Senator Wellington's speech marked his formal renunciation of party ties on account of his opposition to imperialism. In the course of his speech he said that it was an occasion of more than ordinary importance for any man to antagonize the political party which he had served for a quarter of a century; to which he has given the best years of his life. On the journey of the presidential candidate across the state he made a number of brief speeches from the rear platform of his car. Mr. Bryan made his usual arguments, saying that he regarded militarism as an actual and present menace.

Another Convention to Be Held.

Boston, Sept. 5.—There are now two Socialist Labor parties in Massachusetts, or rather there will be but one when the state ballot law commissioners decide the question now at issue—whether the state convention held in Paine Memorial hall yesterday was the regular Socialist Labor party or the one which is to be held later in this month. That the Socialists who met yesterday feared an attempt would be made to capture the convention was shown by the manner in which only delegates were allowed seats in the gathering. The contest promises to be as celebrated as was the famous Music hall and Faneuil hall conventions of the Democrats four years ago.

It is good news that there will be no reduction in wages in the Fall River mills.

Some advocate swift and stern revenge on the Chinese in Pekin, but have we not had too much warfare already. There are other ways probably to secure satisfaction.

Why does the City Council suspend its rules when it does not adjourn over the date of the next regular meeting? A regular meeting is scheduled for Sept. 17, and no suspension of rules is required if the Council desires to meet Sept. 10, or any date previous to Sept. 17.

The Youth's Companion has lost another valuable man in the death of Henry H. Sylvester, the head of its art department. Bro. Sylvester had journalistic experience at Barnstable, Provincetown, Middleboro, Brockton and Boston, and each was a stepping stone to a successful career.

The crowds carried by the street railway Sunday and Monday makes it imperative for good service that it should have a double track from Neponset to Quincy Point and also to the Braintree line on Independence avenue. The need of a double rail has been very apparent since the advent of free transfers.

It is now evident to members of the City Council and West Quincy people that Councilman Elcock has a private interest in the widening of Copeland street. There is considerable indignation in West Quincy over the lines which appeared to have been adopted, also over the alleged inequality of the awards.

There will be added interest in the Municipal election this year, as the City Council has voted to submit a referendum on the erection of a new City Hall. The assent of the voters is evidently expected as there is already some interest as to the location. One suggests the Hancock hall lot, another the Briesler corner, and others the Nightingale corner, Coddington street corner, and lots on the south of the Public Library lot on Washington street. The City Charter in section 21 provides: "The city council shall not authorize or appropriate money for the erection of a hall, or for the purchase or lease of land for a location thereof, until such erection has been approved by the qualified voters of the city voting in their respective precincts, at an annual municipal election. The form of such approval shall be prescribed by the council."

Drift of Opinion.

☞Men who have learned the art of self-control and who cherish the right of free speech are able to meet each other in the sharpest encounter of wit and arguments without even the suggestion of an angry emotion.—Christian Register.

☞Many young men fail to achieve success because they lack the power or inclination to do hard work. No man can hope to achieve success or get on if he shirks his work. A man owes work to the world, while the world does not owe him anything. No young man need be afraid of his success, providing he is thoroughly imbued with the precept. Keeping everlastingly at it brings success. Many young men fail to render valuable service through lack of ability to do accurate, systematic work.—Beverly Times.

COPELAND STREET.

Councilman Hogan presented an order setting forth that he had reason to believe that the original plans for the Copeland street widening had been changed without the authority of the Council, and requested that a committee be appointed to investigate.

In support of his petition he said after careful investigation he found that the plan of 1899 had been changed so as to benefit Councilman Elcock.

Councilman Poland said the plans were the same as reported by the Committee. They were the same as those the committee had when they first visited the street.

Councilman Packard asked Commissioner Knowlton if the plans had been changed.

Commissioner Knowlton replied that early in the year he took the plans that had been rejected last year and looked them over, and found the lines unsatisfactory, so he changed them before the petition of 1900 went to the council. The plan today was the same as acted upon by the City Council of 1900 and was the one presented at the public hearing. They were not identical with the plans of 1899.

Councilman DeNormandie moved an amendment that the committee of investigation consist of three. Voted.

Whalley Road.

The residents or land owners of Presidents Hill are going to present to the City Council a letter asking a change in the name of the street now known as Whalley road, to something more euphonious and suitable to the locality. There seems no good reason for perpetuating the name of the English regicide, Whalley, in this vicinity, and especially on this hill which was the favorite haunt of the presidents John and John Quincy Adams, as well as for so many years their private property. Our much beloved Miss Elizabeth Adams has been heard to say that she hopes the name "Presidents Hill" will never be lost sight of, as it was given to this tract of land when she was a little girl and known by this name ever since. She is now over ninety-two.

Several names have been suggested for the new street among others Presidents road or Sunset road. Neither of these meet with entire approval. It is hoped the Council will consent to a change of name or refer the matter to the committee on streets who will confer with the residents or abutters until something satisfactory and suitable is agreed upon.

Arrested for Burglary.

William H. Sullivan was arrested at South Weymouth Tuesday for breaking and entering the store of Eldridge Nash. Sullivan's arrest in this case came about in a rather peculiar manner. He is a printer by trade and for the past five months has been employed at South Weymouth. Saturday the police of Brookline arrested a man named Chapin for breaking and entering. After his arrest Chapin said he roomed at South Weymouth and later confessed that he had broken into the store of Mr. Nash at that place and stolen a quantity of cigars, knives and razors. When his room at South Weymouth was searched part of these goods came to light, and the police decided to arrest Sullivan as an accomplish.

He was arraigned in court. Sullivan claims he is innocent, and in this Chapin is alleged also to have cleared Sullivan from any connection with the affair.

Trip in Automobile.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Nay of East Boston, whose summer residence is on Howard avenue, Quincy Neck, started Monday for a three or four weeks' trip in "Pomp's Auto."

Their first stop will be made at West Miland, New Hampshire, the place of Mr. Nay's birth, and from there they will continue to Sabago Lake, Maine, and various other places.

Upon their return they will settle down in their winter home on Border street, East Boston.

Perry B. Brayton will accompany them as footman, and all no doubt, will enjoy themselves, even Pomp, who will make lots of noise and keep Ben out of mischief.

Victory Celebrated.

Rose Cliff, North Weymouth, the summer home of Mr. J. C. Morse, went wild Saturday night over the Canicum's victory in the Quincy Yacht club's race on Saturday. Mr. Morse kept open house and entertained the victorious crew and their friends. The poet laureate of the cliff composed the following ode in celebration of the prowess of the victorious crew.

Here's to the "Canicum,"
The winner of the race.
Pot lead helped it,
Tho it covered Ed's face,
Capt. Ed with the jib,
Skipper Mert with the wheel,
Charlie Brackett on the sheet,
And Joe, the board to wield,
Make a strong combination,
As today's work does show,
And the windup as usual
Is a credit to big Joe.
The Hustler how she hustled;
The C. C. did her best,
But the Canicum got the penant,
At Rose Cliff it will rest.

OLD HOME WEEK.

Mayor Hall Endorses the Movement for Massachusetts.

Conspicuous in the Monday Globe was the following letter of Mayor Hall, which appeared in a double column and set in much larger type than the remainder of the paper:

Mayor's office, Quincy.

Regarding the adoption of the observance of Old Home Week, I have to say that certainly the establishment of this custom could bring about only good effects.

From the homes of New England have come that spirit which has been the making of this great republic.

From the firesides of these old homesteads there has gone forth over all the land a power of enterprise and a depth of consecration to the highest and best in character and life which has made itself manifest in every section of our land and throughout all the years of our national existence.

The example and teachings of noble and pious fathers and mothers have been multiplied in dutiful and courageous sons and daughters, who have settled every part of the country and made the life of the nation what it is, have made the dessert to blossom as the rose and the American character to be respected and honored all over the world.

From these fields and orchards the fathers gathered inspiration and courage to battle for the highest life and taught faith and inspired hope by their noble living.

If we have gone from them and prospered let us come again and again to offer the incense of a pure and contrite heart on the altar of this patience, faith and courage, and if we have failed, still let us come again and again and take fresh courage for a more successful battle with adverse fortune and hear the spirit of some pious and loving mother speaking again the same old cheering words as in our childhood days.

Oh, keep the old home as near like what it was as we can.

Its every foot of ground is sacred by a thousand memories and loves, and wherever we may travel and however we may have been blessed with wealth or fame, the old remembered path and the old spring stir the depth of our being as nothing else can.

Keep the old place trim and neat and come again and yet again to receive its blessing and its cheer and comfort.

And if the march of progress has obliterated the old home, and the old farm has given place to a prosperous and wealthy city, still the old friends are there in goodly numbers and they will give us cordial greeting, and as we bring them the greeting of the outer world they will cheer and encourage us with tales of long ago, when we and they toiled and labored together.

Oh, keep alive the old home week, and year by year gather in field and orchard and within city walls, and as we sing a song again for auld lang syne our hearts will swell with a newer love for mankind at large and our souls will grow in power and beauty of that grace which is divine, and shall help along the coming of that millennium of justice and peace and love and God shall dwell with men as men shall dwell with God. John O. Hall.

Political Potpourri.

A meeting of a number of prominent Democrats was held at room 20 in the Hancock House Saturday night to form a democratic club. William T. Shea presided and Timothy J. Carey was clerk. It was voted to form a permanent club, and a committee consisting of the chairman and one from each ward was appointed to draft by-laws and report at a meeting to be held next Friday evening in French's hall, to which all Democrats are invited. The committee is made up as follows: William T. Shea, Thomas J. McGrath, W. H. Sampson, Jr., M. T. Sullivan, James F. Burke, David Roche and Stephen H. Edwards.

Vermont continues solid for the Republicans.

The City Council has received the appointment of election officers, and has designated polling places.

The Lalapaloosa club report that a number of candidates are seeking its endorsement.

The Registrars will meet Saturday evening to add names to the voting lists.

Maine will have its State election next Monday.

The Globe quotes Col. Drinkwater as follows: "There have been fewer Democratic votes in Massachusetts in the last five years than in previous years, but I want you to understand that there are more Democrats in Massachusetts today than there ever was. Before the next presidential election we shall elect a Democrat governor of Massachusetts, so these gentlemen who are preparing to succeed Gov. Crane, want also to prepare themselves for a fight at the polls."

The preliminary voting lists have been posted.

Ex-Congressman Atwood was a guest at the Alpine club of Dorchester Monday evening.

SCHOOLS CROWDED.

But No Children Will be Turned Away as in Some Cities.

As was expected, several of the school buildings were found inadequate to accommodate the number of children who desire to attend schools. This was particularly so at the Willard, John Hancock and Quincy schools. At the former, relief will be had by sending some of the Gridley Bryant building. At the John Hancock by rooms in the attic.

At the Quincy school the School Committee have given up the annex that has been in use, owing to the lack of funds. Just what will be done here has not been determined, but some of the older pupils will probably be sent over to the Massachusetts Fields school.

The other buildings have all the pupils that they can readily handle.

Some idea of the rapidity with which the attendance of school children increases can be had, when it is known that the number of new pupils to enter the lower grade Monday was 277. As the children have a week or more to enter, this number will probably be increased to over 300, which would alone fill seven rooms with over 40 pupils each.

The teachers of the Willard school, omitted from the list published, are: Chester H. Wilbar, Alice M. Packard, Hattie M. Smith, Madge L. Rierdon, Mary E. Keohan, Mary A. White, Ellen B. Fegan, Elizabeth J. McNeil, Emeline A. Newcomb, Frances C. Sullivan, Elizabeth A. Garrity, Nellie C. Gragg, Teresa McDonnell, Mary L. Conway, Annie M. Cahill, Ellen A. Desmond, Annie F. Burns, Abbie M. Kelley, Anna B. Kelly and Grace E. Drumm.

The names of the new primary pupils at four buildings are added to those of yesterday, completing the list for the opening day:

TUB TRUTHS.

A DROP of ink will color a whole glass of water. It is an inch of yeast which makes a pan of bread rise, and a single cake of soap containing unabsorbed alkali can ruin a hundred times its cost in laces and fine embroidery. After all, is it wise to take such risks with common soap? Of course you can get along without Ivory Soap. So can a wagon without axle grease—but it goes hard.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

EVACUATION OF PEKIN

Desired by Chinese, While Foreigners Are Strongly Opposed to Such Action.

Chinese Peace Commissioners Are Radically Anti-Foreign.

Assertion That Li Hung Chang and Russia Have a Secret Understanding.

London, Sept. 5.—Today's dispatches from Shanghai and Tientsin refer to the hopeless confusion and mismanagement of the Chinese telegraph system, which may probably account in part for the delay in getting news from Pekin.

Another reason for the delay, doubtless, is the anxiety of the Chinese authorities to procure the evacuation of the capital. No effort is being spared by them to bring this about. Their idea is that, should the foreign ministers in Pekin be allowed free communication with their governments the full extent of the complicity of the Chinese government in the anti-foreign outrages would be revealed and would lead the allies to decide to remain until retribution had been exacted.

Li Hung Chang, Yung Lu, Hsun Tung and Prince Ching, whom an imperial edict has appointed peace commissioners, constitute a radically anti-foreign commission. Hsun Tung, guardian of the heir apparent, is especially obnoxious. Three of the commissioners are Manchus.

The American association, whose membership includes all the foremost business men at Shanghai, met yesterday and adopted a protest against the evacuation of Pekin until a final settlement has been reached. The meeting also resolved to urge President McKinley to insist upon the appointment of satisfactory commissioners and the recognition of the emperor as sovereign.

A copyrighted Associated Press dispatch from Shanghai says: Reports received here from the treaty ports show that the opposition to the allied forces evacuating Pekin before a final settlement with the Chinese is arrived at is universal and intense among the foreigners. The commercial and missionary bodies are cabling protests to their governments. The diplomatic and military officers, except the Russians, share this feeling.

According to Shanghai advices, Li Hung Chang wired the Chinese minister in London as follows: "Our St. Petersburg minister has persuaded Russia to leave Pekin. You are useless if you cannot persuade England."

It is asserted that Earl Li has promised Russia three Manchurian provinces if she secures the withdrawal of the allied forces from Pekin and favorable peace terms from the powers. Both the empress dowager and Li Hung Chang are said to be lavishing money to attain these objects.

Li Hung Chang, since his understanding with Russia, has changed front towards the representatives of the other powers, and has been insolent and almost insulting in his interviews with them.

The empress dowager's anti-foreign frenzy in June, according to a special dispatch from Shanghai, was due to the presentation to her by Prince Tuan of an ultimatum, which is now known to have been forged, in which the powers demanded her abdication in favor of Emperor Kwang Su, the removal of the seat of government from Pekin, the placing of Chinese finances under European control, and other sweeping concessions.

It is officially announced that Germany is about to land 450 troops at Shanghai to co-operate in the protection of the city.

British Cotton Spinners to Act.

Manchester, Eng., Sept. 5.—The federation of cotton spinners yesterday decided to invite all the Lancashire spinners to attend a conference, at which it will be proposed to discontinue buying American spot cotton. This will have the effect of almost stopping the mills until the new cotton is marketed, as the mill stocks are low.

Shamokin, Pa., Sept. 5.—Fire broke out in No. 10 vein of the Neilsen shaft Tuesday and has become so serious that it is feared the mine will have to be flooded. The origin of the fire is unknown.

HOISTED A BOER FLAG.

Bar Harbor, Me., Sept. 5.—Tuesday was a great day for Bar Harbor. Seven American and five British warships lie at anchor sheltered by its great mountains. The 4000 officers and men of the two squadrons were generously entertained by the thousands on shore. Vice Admiral Bedford is at the head of the British fleet, while the Americans are under the charge of Rear Admiral Farquhar.

Just after the British ships dropped in the harbor an incident of more than ordinary interest occurred near the shore path, where the crowds had gathered to witness the arrival of the fleet. Edward Van Ness of New York had erected on his lawn in front of the anchorage of the British ships a 50-foot flag pole, and shortly before the arrival of the fleet he swung to the breeze a large Boer flag, and addressed his friends with a bitter attack upon British methods and objects in South Africa.

The news of the flag raising was soon the talk of the town, and to say that the people were angry is putting it very mildly. A dozen volunteered to cut the pole down without further ceremony. Admiral Farquhar was particularly vehement in his denunciation of the man and his action.

Charles H. Wood, chairman of the board of selectmen, called on Mr. Van Ness and requested that the flag be taken down, as it was considered an insult to the British. Mr. Van Ness refused to grant the request, whereupon Mr. Wood returned to the Gentlemen's club and held a council of war. It was unanimously decided that the flag must come down at once.

Chairman Wood, together with J. M. Taylor, representing the board of trade, and two police officers, returned to the Van Ness cottage and renewed the request to have the flag removed. Again the owner of the flag refused and defied the officers to remove it. Quite a crowd had gathered to listen to his address against the British and their methods. When he had finished Mr. Wood applied a knife to the halyards and the Boer standard floated to earth amid the cheers of those assembled. The flag was taken to the police station, where it is now held.

Mr. Van Ness is a New Yorker and was one of the committee to receive the Boer commissioners when they visited this country. He has been requested to resign from the Gentlemen's club, and invitations to the private functions already issued have been cancelled.

Slipped Away From Policemen.

Clinton, Mass., Sept. 5.—Charles Alberto, the Italian wife murderer, slipped through the hands of the Clinton police Tuesday, and escaped into the woods when three officers sent out to arrest him had come within gunshot. A shanty at the Italian camp on the new metropolitan reservoir, where Alberto was in hiding, was pointed out to the officers, but the man made for the woods in sight of the officers, and a thorough search later brought no trace of Alberto.

A Thousand Woodworkers Out.

Chicago, Sept. 5.—One thousand members of the Amalgamated Woodworkers' union refused to go to work Tuesday because of the expressed determination of the manufacturers to return to the 9-hour working day. Paid Bequests Before Death.

Cincinnati, Sept. 5.—The will of David Sinton, the Cincinnati multi-millionaire, who died last Friday, was probated yesterday. The estate is valued at over $15,000,000, and Mrs. Charles P. Taft, the only heir, is made executrix without bond. Sinton had many bequests in his will, but paid them all before he died.

Big Increase In Foreign Shipments.

Minneapolis, Sept. 5.—The official figures compiled by The Northwestern Miller show that the flour output of the Minneapolis mills the past year was 15,308,160 barrels. The output in 1898 was 15,318,415 barrels. Foreign shipments increased 344,460 barrels.

Life Is Ebbing Away.

Bath, Me., Sept. 5.—Early this morning there was no change in the condition of Mr. Sewall. The physicians are not able to judge if the patient is weaker, as he continues in a comatose state. It is not thought that he will survive many hours.

Held on Charge of Murder.

Uxbridge, Mass., Sept. 5.—At the session of the district court Tuesday George Quinlan, who killed Dennie Deane of North Uxbridge, was bound over to the grand jury without bail on a charge of murder. He pleaded not guilty and took the stand in his own behalf, but Associate Justice Thayer of Blackstone held there were grounds for holding the man for the October session of the grand jury at Worcester. Deane was killed by the throwing of a stone by Quinlan at a picnic party in the woods.

DR. CLARK AT HOME.

Speaks of Conditions In China as They Came Under His Observation.

Boston, Sept. 5.—Rev. F. E. Clark, D. D., president of the United Society of Christian Endeavor, reached Boston Tuesday on the steamer Cestrian after an eventful journey around the world. His purpose in making the journey was to attend the national Christian Endeavor conventions in Japan, China, France, Spain and Germany, which were all very successful, and also the great world's convention in London.

Dr. Clark left north China only a week before the troubles broke out, and barely escaped being shut up in Pekin with the other foreigners. He declares that the foreigners were living in utter oblivion of the coming disasters. Everyone, of course, knew that the Boxers were mustering, and though the disturbance might mean the overthrow of the present dynasty. But no one in the legations or among the merchants or missionaries conceived that foreigners would suffer severely, much less that the legations would be besieged.

Dr. Clarke spoke in the highest terms of Major Conger, the American minister, as a man of great ability, courtesy and common sense. He impressed one as a thorough, typical American of the best type, and was very popular among the Chinese and foreigners alike. He also spoke in the highest terms of praise of the heroism and devotion of the missionaries who, instead of being "trouble breeders," as some aver, are really the peacemakers of the situation.

Dr. Clarke returned home by way of the trans-Siberian railway and the Amur river, being one of the first travelers to cross Siberia by the all steam route, which was only opened on May 15 last. He spent 20 days on the Amur river and 20 days more on the trans-Siberian railway, part of the journey being attended by many difficulties and dangers. He spent several days in Blagovestchevsk and other Siberian towns, which were shortly afterward bombarded by the Chinese.

He reports the great railroad as being as yet in a very incomplete state, but it opens a new way around the world, and will be of immense strategic value to Russia in the future.

Alighted on Husband's Parachute.

Nashua, N. H., Sept. 5.—A woman clinging desperately to a parachute that had refused to open, in a rapid downward flight in midair, was the spectacle that greeted the many thousand spectators who had witnessed a balloon ascension at the Nashua fair Tuesday. Mrs. E. L. Stafford, with her husband, had made an ascent. On the way back to earth Mrs. Stafford's parachute lines broke when she was 400 feet in the air, and she dropped at a frightful rate 150 feet, landing on the top of her husband's parachute, which by some good fortune was directly beneath her. She was uninjured, although the added weight sent the big umbrella downward at a good rate.

Noted Bay State Man Dead.

Greenfield, Mass., Sept. 5.—James S. Grinnell, who had held many positions of national importance, died at his home here Tuesday evening after an illness covering a period of several years. He was 79 years old and a native of Greenfield. Mr. Grinnell was admitted to the bar in 1846. He was a Democrat of the old school. He served a term in the state senate, was a number of times a candidate of the Democratic party for lieutenant governor, treasurer and member of congress. For many years he was head of the state board of agriculture of Massachusetts. His second wife, a sister of Hon. John E. Russell, survives him. There are no children.

Strong Opposition to a Cutdown.

Fall River, Mass., Sept. 5.—The developments of Tuesday indicate that the plan of the selling committee to reduce the wages of Fall River operatives will be defeated by the opposition which has developed against the movement. It now appears likely that a plan for independent curtailment favored by manufacturers who oppose the cut-down scheme will be substituted, and the question of a wage reduction postponed at least until the market has been given a fair chance to improve and the cotton quotation an opportunity to lower itself to a satisfactory basis from the standpoint of local manufacturers.

Concerning the Plague.

New York, Sept. 5.—Health Officer Doty says, regarding the report that all steamers arriving from British ports would be subjected to a very close and thorough inspection on arrival at quarantine, owing to the outbreak of plague at Glasgow: "I have this matter under consideration, but am not prepared to make any definite statement for two or three days."

Peculiar Accident Results Fatally.

New Haven, Sept. 5.—Albert Harris, aged 60, a farmer, whose home was in Orange, died here Tuesday as the result of an unusual accident. He attempted to catch in his arms a boy who fell off the roof of his barn, but instead the boy struck him on the head with such force that his neck was broken. The boy was little hurt.

Becoming a Serious Matter.

Berlin, Sept. 5.—The German papers continue to discuss the coal famine, which now threatens to become a public calamity. The Kreuz Zeitung demands that the export of coal be prohibited. The Prussian cabinet will hold a special meeting this week to deal with the question.

New Archbishop of Dubuque.

Rome, Sept. 5.—The pope has sent to Mgr. Keane, former rector of the Catholic university at Washington, a papal decree formally conferring upon him his rank, title and authority as archbishop of Dubuque.

The Akron Riots Recalled.

Akron, O., Sept. 5.—A special grand jury was impanelled Tuesday to consider the cases of the men arrested for participating in the recent riots.

Stable and Horses Burned.

Lewiston, Me., Sept. 5.—R. C. Pingree's stable was destroyed by fire early this morning with 12 horses. The loss is estimated at $5000.

General Delarey's Death Reported.

Pretoria, Sept. 5.—It is reported that General Delarey, the Boer commander, died of wounds received at Elands river.

All Women Know

That ordinary treatment fails to relieve painful periods.

They know Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will and does and has, more than any other medicine.

Every woman knows about Mrs. Pinkham's medicine.

Every woman knows some woman Mrs. Pinkham has cured.

But nine women out of ten put off getting this reliable remedy until their health is nearly wrecked by experiments or neglect!

Then they write to Mrs. Pinkham and she cures them, but of course it takes longer to do so. Don't delay getting help if you are sick.

She has helped a million women. Why not you?

CAFFERY AND HOWE

Are Chosen as the Standard Bearers at National Party's Convention.

State Organization Wins In the Connecticut Contest.

Late Figures From Vermont Show a Republican Majority of Over Thirty Thousand.

New York, Sept. 6.—The National party, otherwise known as the third ticket, assembled in Carnegie lyceum Wednesday to nominate a national ticket. Thomas M. Osborne was in the chair. There were delegates present from the states of Kentucky, Indiana, North Carolina, Louisiana, Missouri, Connecticut, Massachusetts, New York, Iowa and Pennsylvania in attendance.

A platform was adopted and a title and emblem chosen. These are the candidates:

There were no other candidates for the positions and the nominations were received with hearty applause.

The platform of the party has four planks—anti-imperialism, sound money, civil service reform and anti-special privileges. Its objects are:

"First, to procure the renunciation of all imperial or colonial pretensions with regard to foreign countries claimed to have been acquired through or in consequence of military or naval operations of the last two years.

"Second, we further pledge our efforts to secure a single gold standard and a sound banking system.

"Third, to secure a public service based on merit only.

"Fourth, to secure the abolition of all corrupting special privileges, whether under the guise of subsidies, bounties, undeserved pensions or trust breeding tariffs."

Chairman Osborne's speech in calling the meeting to order followed the lines which are expressed in the platform. Speeches were also made by John J. Chapman and Archibald M. Howe.

It was decided that the party be known as the National party, and that its emblem be the statue of liberty on the capital building at Washington.

A DEFEAT FOR FESSENDEN.

New Haven, Sept. 6.—The greatest political battle in the history of the Republican party of Connecticut was fought to a bitter end Wednesday when, in the long awaited state convention the candidates for the various state offices were nominated and the party presidential electors were chosen, the palms of victory went to the state organization and against former National Committeeman Samuel Fessenden of Stamford.

O. R. Fyler, the chairman of the state central committee, succeeded in securing the nomination for governor of the organization man, George P. McLean of Simsbury, while Donald T. Warner of Salisbury, Mr. Fessenden's candidate, was defeated by a margin of 49 votes.

The electors named are: Electors-at-large, Henry H. Bridgeman, Norfolk; Charles S. Merrick, New Haven. District electors, Maro S. Chapman, Manchester; Frederick De Peyster, Portland; Winslow T. Williams, Norwich; E. W. Marsh, Bridgeport.

The convention was in continuous session for five hours. Two hours sufficed for the nominating speeches. There were but two candidates. Out of a possible full convention of 504 delegates there were but two absentees, 502 votes being deposited on the vote for governor. Of this number McLean received 274; Warner, 225, thus giving the Simsbury man a majority of 49.

White River Junction, Vt., Sept. 6.—The Republicans of Vermont elected their state and congressional ticket Tuesday by a plurality of at least 32,250, and a majority over all of 31,000. If the towns yet to be heard from give a vote corresponding relatively to the vote of the towns reporting yesterday the figures mentioned will be about right. The state senate is solid Republican and the Republican representation in the general assembly will be substantially 200 out of a membership of 246. The various county tickets are, as usual, Republicans. Returns from 239 cities and towns in the state give Stickney (Rep.) 47,876; Senter (Dem.), 15,842; all others, 1273. The same cities and towns in 1896 gave Grout (Rep.), 53,024; Jackson (Dem.), 14,929; all others, 1632. Stickney's plurality in these cities and towns is 32,034, and majority over all, 30,761.

Named by Acclamation.

Saratoga, N. Y., Sept. 6.—The last day's session of the Republican convention, presumed to be devoted to the nominations of state officers, was really a huge mass meeting, an opening of the state campaign and a ratification of the national and state platforms. In bursts of splendid oratory, started by ex-Governor Black, and ended by Governor Roosevelt, this state ticket was named by acclamation: For governor, B. B. Odell, Jr.; for lieutenant governor, Timothy L. Woodruff; secretary of state, John T. McDonough; comptroller, William J. Morgan; state treasurer, John P. Jaeckel; attorney general, John C. Davies; state engineer, Edward A. Bond.

Olney on the Bryan Side.

New York, Sept. 6.—The World prints a letter from Richard Olney, secretary of state during the Cleveland administration, in which Mr. Olney declares his intention of supporting Mr. Bryan for president. After saying that Mr. Bryan is hardly the candidate he should choose if he had his way in the matter, and that he entirely dissents from parts of the Kansas City platform, Mr. Olney criticises the policy of the McKinley administration regarding the Philippines and thinks that the country will soon find itself in the toils of a Chinese problem even more costly, menacing and insatiable than the Philippine problem.

Bryan's Work of Yesterday.

Deer Park, Md., Sept. 6.—Mr. Bryan began Wednesday in the easternmost county of West Virginia, and since leaving the tri-state gathering at Morgan's Grove, in that county, he worked constantly westward. He made only two speeches during the day, the first at Morgan's Grove and the second at Keyser. At both places the crowds greeted the national candidate with enthusiasm. Deer Park was reached late in the afternoon, but no meeting was held here. Mr. Bryan is the guest of Colonel McGraw.

Republicans Get a Convert.

Indianapolis, Sept. 6.—The Republican campaign in this city was opened last night. John L. Griffiths, candidate for the nomination for governor before the last state convention, presided. George G. Tanner of this city, the first speaker, who was a Gold Democrat in 1896, declared for McKinley. Senator Fairbanks delivered the address of the evening.

Endless Chain a Success.

Boston, Sept. 6.—Judging from returns yesterday an endless chain which was inaugurated by George Fred Williams a few days ago to raise funds for the national Democratic committee will be a success. A large number of letters came to Mr. Williams, and none of them contained less than $5, and the amounts ranged from that up to $200.

Thirty-Inch Main Burst.

Boston, Sept. 6.—Another bad break in a water main has put the city to heavy expense to repair the present damage, and again has placed the municipality in danger of more actions at law. The present break was not spectacular like the first one, for the geyser was missing. Instead, the water from the 30-inch fire main cleaned out an underground conduit and then flooded abuttor's cellars. The losses are yet undetermined.

Bicyclists Met With Accidents.

Boston, Sept. 6.—Not for a long time in New England cycle racing have so many sensational accidents occurred at one race meet as was the case last evening at Charles River park during the first two hours of the "Golden Vase" race, Moran, Champion and Stinson all met with accidents, but they finished the race. Moran, the Chelsea boy, was the surprise of the night and showed up remarkably well against the older riders.

Eastwood Expects a New Trial.

Middlebury, Vt., Sept. 6.—Frederick Eastwood, the convicted slayer of Franklin E. Fenn, was taken to the state prison at Windsor Wednesday, there to remain until his exceptions and application for a new trial are heard in January next. Since his conviction Eastwood has been sullen and morose. He is confident that he will be granted another trial, a confidence not shared by those most conversant with the case.

Big Strike In Prospect.

Indianapolis, Sept. 6. — President Mitchell of the United Mine Workers is to attend the meeting of the national board to be held here. The meeting will be the most important held since a general strike was ordered, effective July 4, 1897, when 110,000 men were called out of the mines. The strike now imminent involves 143,000 men. Mr. Mitchell expects the board members to declare for a general anthracite strike.

Children Caused a Costly Fire.

Danielson, Conn., Sept. 6.—A fire which started in a barn in the rear of The Observer office at Dayville resulted in the total destruction of The Observer building, a railroad freight house, four tenement dwellings and considerably damaged the Dayville hotel and other buildings. The total loss is over $50,000. The fire was probably started by children playing in the barn.

Three Killed In Railroad Accident.

Clearfield, Pa., Sept. 6.—Engineer Barrett, Fireman Schearer and a brakeman were killed last evening by the wrecking of a freight train on the New York Central railroad at Forge Run. The engine dashed into a herd of cows and rolled over an embankment, carrying several cars with it.

NEWS IN BRIEF.

The death is announced of Bernard Aronson of New York, aged 105 years. Mr. Aronson was born in Germany and came to New York about 47 years ago, engaging in mercantile business until 1870, when he retired.

John Kelly, aged 52, died at Waterbury, Conn., as the result of taking laudanum with sucidal intent. He was despondent on account of being out of work.

The 21st annual gathering of the Old Folks' association took place at Charlemont, Mass., and was largely attended. Of those present, 72 were over 70 years of age, 12 over 80, two over 90 and two over 95.

James Rose, a machinist, aged 45, was killed by a fall through a hatchway at Andover, Mass.

AMERICANS PRAISED.

Their Zeal and "Go" In Advance Upon Pekin Receives Merited Recognition.

Modification of the Original Russian Proposal.

Evidence of a Determination to Maintain the Solidarity of Powers.

London, Sept. 6.—The British admiralty has issued Vice Admiral Seymour's detailed report of the experiences of the first Pekin relief expedition. It is good reading, but embraces nothing not previously known. Referring to the harmonious action of the forces of the eight nationalities engaged, he especially mentions Captain Von Usedom of the German navy and Captain McCalla of the United States navy. Regarding the latter he says:

"Captain McCalla was of the greatest value to me and to all concerned. He was slightly wounded in three places and well merits recognition."

Annexed to the report are copies of letters sent to the senior officer of each nationality engaged. Most of these are complimentary notes, identical for the greater part, but each ending with a paragraph referring to the officers with the expedition.

That to Rear Admiral Kempff runs as follows: "I cannot conclude my letter without expressing to you the high admiration I have for Captain McCalla, who accompanied us in command of your officers and men. Their post was usually in the advance guard, where their zeal and 'go' were praised by all.

"I regret to state that Captain McCalla was wounded in three places, but considering the gallant way in which he exposed himself, I am only equally surprised and thankful that he is alive. Had he been thoroughly British he could not have stood by me more loyally in every way and carried out more promptly any wish I expressed.

"I may, indeed, say the same of all of those of his command. I hail this experience as further proof of the real good feeling so happily existing between our nations, which is by no one more valued than by your brother sailors in our navy."

Sir Alfred Gaselee's dispatch, which shows that the situation in Pekin was unchanged on Aug. 29, is the only Chinese news this morning. The cancellation of the order holding back the Fourth Indian brigade is regarded as important. It shows that, whatever the outcome of the Russian policy, the British government is determined to have sufficient troops on the spot adequately to protect British interests.

Considerable significance is attached to the statement by The Journal De St. Petersburg, as possibly indicating a modification of Russian policy. The paper is the organ of the Russian foreign office, its editor being a councillor of state. It is noted that, while The Journal De St. Petersburg announces Russia's determination to maintain the solidarity of the powers, it only mentions the withdrawal of the ministers, and not of the troops, to Tientsin. It is believed that the powers might agree to such a modification of the original Russian proposal.

The Vienna correspondent of The Times declares that Japan has a strong disposition to act in harmony with the United States in the Chinese question.

A Shanghai dispatch announces that German troops will land there today (Thursday). Curiously enough they will be located in barracks adjoining the residence of Li Hung Chang. United States Consul Goodnow, according to The Daily News, says there never was any necessity for landing troops at Shanghai.

According to a Hong Kong dispatch, dated yesterday, Canton is more disturbed. Native shops dealing in foreign goods have been looted and sinister rumors prevail.

The German cruiser Schwalbe has gone too Amoy.

Fifty Taels for a Head.

New York, Sept. 6.—Robert E. Speer, one of the secretaries of the Presbyterian board of foreign missions, has received a number of letters giving details as to the situation in China. Rev. J. Walter Lowrie writes from Tientsin on Aug. 1: "I saw the original today of a receipt given by the viceroy for the head of a foreigner, in return for which he presented the Boxers with 50 taels."

Thieving Letter Carrier Confesses.

Boston, Sept. 6.—Charles L. White, a colored letter carrier, confessed to the postoffice inspectors Wednesday that he had been stealing letters and appropriating whatever money he found in them. He says that he stole to obtain money to support a woman, his relations with whom he did not care to have his wife know. White has been the superintendent of a Sunday school, and was looked up to with great respect by the colored folks of the South End.

Cresceus Lowers a Record.

Hartford, Sept. 6.—Cresceus beat the world's trotting stallion record Wednesday in a special trial against time. Time, 2:04¾. The former record, 2:05¼, was held by Directum.

Good Afternoon.

The committee appointed by President Bryant to "investigate" the Copeland street order, strikes the average citizen as being rather peculiar in its personal. To have made a disinterested investigation in which people would have confidence at least, two of the members should have lived in outside wards. Spare the whitewash.

The towns on the north of Boston are favored with free transfers on the electrics to all parts of Boston. The latest to receive this benefit is Malden. At the same time through cars from Woburn, Stoneham, Melrose and Malden run into the Boston subway. The aldermen of Malden secured these concessions, and shows what can be accomplished.

Someone at Wollaston must have a lot of leisure time on his hands, which drags heavily. He has written the editor this week a lengthy news letter, accompanied by a note which says: "I enclose the following, which if they are worthy of publishing you are welcome to." If we knew the author most of the items would be published, but the writer signs himself "Anonymous," and he will never see his contribution in print. It is almost an insult to a newspaper to continue to send news anonymously after all that has been said on this subject.

Drift of Opinion.

☞Now that the Cuban school teachers are gone, newspaper stories are appearing about their untidiness, laziness, etc. There were no doubt some shiftless ones, but the general opinion is that they were as a whole, bright, neat, modest girls, though of course unaccustomed to our ways of living. It would be a pity to have them think on their return home that America's courtesy was not genuine.—Milford Journal.

☞Virtue to some people, is indeed its own (and only) reward. The working man, for instance, who has devoted the greater part of his life to an attempt to solve the rent problem by owning the house he lived in, only to lose it in his old age by an inability to pay the interest on the mortgage. Strange it is that the most useful unit in our society—the honest, thrifty (unbusiness-like, if you please) skilled artisan—should be apparently, the most hardly treated. Surely these qualities should count for more than mere shrewdness. Be assured however, ye splendid bulwarks of our great republic (if of no higher appreciation), of an approving beam from the spectacled eyes of—the Spectator in the Hingham Journal.

☞The state of Iowa has placed on its statute book a law prohibiting the sale, not to minor alone but to any one, of cigarettes, and any dealer having cigarettes for sale on his premises is liable to their seizure and an accompanying heavy penalty for violation of the law; and to the credit of that western state the law is no dead letter. Are we, who live in New England, to be outdone by our brethren of the Hawk Eye state? Are we going to permit our boys to sap their vitality and dry up their lungs and brain with the poisonous fumes too often inhaled by the devotee of the cigarette habit? The use of tobacco, in any form, is by no means a cleanly habit, especially if indulged in to excess, but the constant sucking of the cigarette leaves its irradical ear marks in the way of discolored teeth and finger-tips, not to mention lassitude and nervousness of those who indulge.—Haverhill Gazette.

Spectacular Presentation at Music Hall.

A Large Audience But Not a Crowd Last Night.

The Wales Pageant, a spectacular production in which a large number of Quincy's young people took part, was given Wednesday evening at Music hall for the benefit of the Quincy City Hospital. The attendance was quite large, especially in the gallery, which was crowded. The floor of the house front was well filled, although there were a number of vacant seats in the rear. The entertainment consisted of a series of pretty scenes, tableaux, songs and dances. That they caught the audience was evidenced by the frequent and hearty applause to which the performers gracefully responded.

Braintree's New Schoolhouse.

In the new Penniman school house on Cleveland avenue last Thursday evening there was a large gathering in attendance to make preparations for the dedication of that building. The ladies and gentlemen of the Middle street district were well represented and among others there were Superintendent of Schools, Irving W. Horne; Mr. W. C. Harding, chairman of the school committee; Mr. J. A. Ewart, master of the High school; Mr. Louis T. Morse, principal of the Penniman school; Miss Taylor and Miss Knight, teachers in the same building.

The meeting was called to order at 8.20 by the chairman, Mr. G. H. Holbrook. Impromptu speeches were made by Rev. F. H. Palmer, Mr. G. H. Arnold, Col. A. C. Drinkwater, Mr. W. C. Harding and others.

That the children of the Penniman school take part in the exercises by singing, etc. That a committee of ten be appointed by the chair including the chairman and secretary of the meeting and the four teachers in the building, to make all the arrangements for the dedication. The committee as organized are as follows, George H. Holbrook, chairman; Eben Prescott secretary; Miss Coralyn Lang, Mrs. G. C. Fuller, Mrs. W. G. Nixon, William C. Harding, Louis T. Morse, Miss L. May Whitney, Miss Hattie C. Taylor and Miss Mabel T. Knight. Meeting adjourned at nine o'clock.

A short meeting of the committee was then held which soon adjourned to meet next Thursday evening at eight o'clock at the residence of Mr. G. H. Holbrook on Middle street.

No Better Fire Department.

Everbody in Quincy knows that the city has a good and efficient Fire Department, yet is pleasant to have praises of our department sung by others. Tuesday a representative of the fire underwriters was in the city upon official business, and before he departed he made the remark that he had visited many places, but in no place did he find a better fire department than in Quincy; in fact it was one of the best departments in the State.

Those who follow the fires in Quincy will agree with the gentleman. The answering of alarm, whether upon bell call or still alarm, is always prompt. Every man knows his place and duty, and so well has Chief Williams got his department in hand that his men will follow him through fire and smoke, knowing full well that he will not ask them to go where he will not lead.

Removing the department from politics was a good thing, and as Chief Williams has proved his ability, and the citizens have the fullest confidence in him, he should be retained as long as he will consent to do so.

Historic Bunker Hill monument built of Quincy granite will probably become a landmark by night as well as by day if plans are carried out. It is proposed to place a row of electric lights around near the top, perhaps twenty on a side, at a distance of 220 feet from the ground. Why not light the interior by day at the same time.

The corn in the garden on Walker street belonging to Thomas Gurney, grew very well until reports of Quincy corn rivalled it. Then it ceased to grow, and spent its energy in producing corn of such sweetness that its reputation has extended far and wide, and the ears are so long that an express wagon is needed to carry a dozen ears any distance, and two dozen ears are out of the question to carry at one time. It is well for corn not to get so high up in the world that it cannot stoop to nourish its fruit.

☞Remember that this is positively the last week of the great Bankrupt Sale of Dry Goods at the Quincy Department Store. What there is left of the stock will be shipped to Fall River Monday, Sept. 10. Never again will you have an opportunity to buy dry goods, at one-half price.

At Webster's Home.

An outdoor institute, the first ever held by the state board of agriculture convened at Marshfield Tuesday, at the old Webster homestead, upon invitation of the owner, Walton Hall. A large number of members of the state board were present, with their wives, coming from all over the state, and upon their arrival on the morning train were carried, some in the old Daniel Webster coach, and others in barges, to the scene of the festivities. There they were shown about the old homestead and through the rooms of the house, by Mr. and Mrs. Hall, to the Daniel Wesbster spring; to the cranberry bog, peach orchard, and last to the grave of Daniel Webster.

At 12.30, the gathering, some 200 persons in all, sat down under the spreading maple and were treated to a clam bake.

Madame Yale's
HAIR TONIC

Ladies and Gentlemen.—It has gone on record that Madame Yale's Excelsior Hair Tonic is the first and only remedy known to chemical science found to be a genuine hair specific. It has an affinity for the human hair for nourishing and invigorating its entire structure. It is antiseptic in character, as well as stimulating; its action upon the scalp and hair is truly wonderful, inasmuch as it has never been known in a single instance to fail to cure scalp diseases and to create a luxuriant growth of healthy, beautiful hair. It stops hair falling within twenty-four hours and brings back the natural color to gray hair in nearly every instance. It is not a dye; it is not sticky or greasy; on the contrary it makes the hair soft, youthful, beautiful and glossy; keeps it in curl. It is a perfect hair dressing, and can be used by ladies, gentlemen or children as a daily toilet requisite. Its influence is delightfully soothing.

GRANDPAPA CRANE.

All "the Boys" Go to See Him—A Grand Serenade.

The Sunshine club which holds meetings semi-occasionally met Wednesday evening the object was to demonstrate, in a forcible manner to Charles Crane, the fact that it was beknown to them that he had gone and done it. The Brooks serenade was a largely attended affair but that of Wednesday night was larger. Early in the evening the crowd began to gather in front of the Savings bank block, and the racket they made must have conveyed the impression to strangers that a detachment of Boxers were about. Battalion number one, headed by a drummer, left the square about 8.30. This squad carried a transparency which read on the sides:—"McKnight for Representative" "Atwood for Congress." "Sunshine Club."—"Charlie Crane is all right."

Red lights were burned all along the line, and a continual din was made with the tin cans carried by the crowd.

It might be mentioned that later these same tin cans found a resting place on Mr. Crane's lawn.

This crowd turned into Greenleaf street and played one "tune." As this was finished, squad number two turned the corner. They also carried a transparency which read: "Float squad minute men of 1900"—"All to see Grandpapa Crane."

This squad carried firearms, and when the front of the house was reached, they came to company front, and several volleys were fired, which rattled through the trees and made a terrible din.

Mr. Crane came onto the lawn and was immediately surrounded by the crowd, who shook his hand, patted him on the back and assured him he was all right.

In response to cries for a speech, Mr. Crane said: "Boys, I am glad to see you all. I hope you will have a good time. I am having a good time.

On the piazza were a number of members of Maple lodge, K. & L. of H., and relatives who had arrived just previous to the serenaders. Bowditch, the only man who can sing in such a crowd, warbled two solos, two that he has sung so many times that they were a little rough on the edges.

Mr. Crane had a wash-tub full of lemonade which was served in the kitchen, the floor of which soon resembled a minature pond.

The club had its own refreshments, which were served at various places. Some of the crowd made a raid on Mr. Crane's vineyard, but a stop was soon put to this. It was nearly 11 o'clock before the last of the serenaders departed and the neighborhood was once more at rest.

Mr. Crane was about early this morning and was kept busy for some hours clearing away the tin cans, etc., and in mowing the lawn, which had been badly trampled.

Aside from giving Mr. Crane a serenade, it was a boom for John McKnight for Representative and Harrison A. Atwood for Congress. The serenaders, who numbered several hundred, were apparently unanimous for these gentlemen and were ready to hoop her up for them until they are landed.

TODAY'S COURT.

William Leahy, John Connell, Raymond Morrell, John McLaughlin and Edward Cronin were arraigned for tresspass at Quincy. Case continued until Sept. 20.

Blind Man Commits Suicide.

Cambridge, Mass., Sept. 6.—Charles H. Watts, 40 years of age, a blind inmate of the Cambridge city home, committed suicide Wednesday. His act is supposed to have been caused by despondency. He cut his throat twice, also making a cut at his wrist. He died almost immediately. Mr. Watts was born in Cambridge, and was a son of Benjamin S. Watts, a veteran of the Civil war. He was admitted to the almshouse in 1874.

Immigration May Cause Fever.

Havana, Sept. 6.—The yellow fever situation is improving, a decrease in the number of deaths from 89 to 75 being reported since Sept. 1. A foreign ship has arrived in the harbor with 300 Spanish immigrants on board, and 10,000 are expected during the next few months. It is said that the presence of yellow fever here is principally due to Spanish immigration.

Nothing Gained by Interview.

Pawtucket, R. I., Sept. 6.—An interview between Henry S. Lippitt, agent of the mills at Manville, and a committee of the Loom Fixers' National union, Wednesday, with the object on the part of the latter body to secure a settlement of the strike of 56 loom fixers at the mills in Manville, was without definite result.

No New Cases Reported.

Glasgow, Sept. 6.—The plague's spread seems to have been checked. There are no new cases, and the patients in the hospitals are progressing favorably. Of four suspected cases, diagnosis proved that two were not suffering from plague symptoms. Eight cases are now under observation.

—The Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company will make a trip to Montreal in October, leaving Boston the first Monday.

QUINCY'S CHOICE.

Journal of Education Has Good Word for Supt. Parlin.

The comments of the Journal of Education on the election of Quincy's new Superintendent of Schools are of interest. In justice to Quincy teachers, we would state that none of them made formal application for the position, although some were suggested in the local press. Everyone seems pleased with the choice made by the School Committee. The Journal says:

"The election of Superintendent Parlin of Natick as successor of Superintendent Lull at Quincy gives that city a progressive, earnest, aspiring leader. It is the first time since the choice of Colonel Parker in 1875 that a superintendent has been chosen from outside the city teachers. It is understood that Mr. Harper of the high school did not desire the position, else it is generally supposed he would have been elected, judging, however, chiefly from past tendencies. No city, paying no higher salary, has ever had an equally distinguished list of applicants.

It was generally regarded as worth something to any man from a distance to have a position of so great prominence. There were a score of applicants the choice of any one of whom would have been entirely safe, and it is greatly to the credit of the board that they considered only those whose election would have given them an efficient superintendent. In the two weeks before the election the preferences of the members swayed from one to another in an interesting way, so that the choice of any one of six men would have been no surprise. The selection of Mr. Parlin was therefore all the more flattering to him. He has had a most successful career at Natick, a place in which before his day reputations were not generally made. The choice places Mr. Parlin in line for still greater promotion at a not distant day."

Political Potpourri.

Councillor William W. Davis, of this district, who was a candidate for re-election, has withdrawn, leaving the field to Arthur A. Maxwell of Ward 22, F. W. Darling of Hyde Park, and possibly Warren S. Leach of Raynham.

The Boston Democratic caucuses will be held Sept. 27, the same date as the Quincy caucuses.

The Democrats are claiming five or six Congressional districts in Massachusetts.

The latest returns from Vermont gives the Republican candidate for Governor, 47,826 votes, an increase of 9,271 over 1898, and the Democratic candidate 15,842, an increase of 1,156 over 1898. The Republican majority of 32,000 is larger than expected by Republicans.

Mr. Drinkwater's prophecy that Massachusetts will have a Democratic Governor before the next presidential election after this, would be more inspiring if it was not so dim and distant.—Herald.

A meeting of the Republican City Committee will be held Friday night.

Flying squirrels have the power of making leaps without using their legs, as they have a fold of skin at each side of their body, which spreading over their extended paws, forms a kind of aeroplane, which supports them in their passage through the air.

—More than 100,000,000 Chinese, it is said, are engaged, either directly or indirectly in the tea industry.

THE SWEDE RALLY.

All Urged to Become Naturalized Citizens.

Every seat at Faxon hall was filled Wednesday evening at the Scandinavian rally and close interest was taken in the remarks of the speakers. Mr. E. J. Sandberg presided and spoke briefly.

Representative John G. Hagberg of Worcester was the principal speaker. He emphasized the need we have of our fellow creatures, and of equal rights among men. True liberty, he said, does not consist in doing what we will, but in doing what we have a right to do. Government is not then a a power distinct from and independent of society; it draws from society its whole force. It is a sad and false political system that places society and government authority and liberty in opposition to each other. Mr. Hagberg urged the Swedes of Quincy to be united politically. Then they would be a power, and secure representation in city affairs, in the council and in the legislature. The laws of naturalization had been changed this year to make it easier to become citizens, and he urged all to become voters.

Other speakers were Councilman Hultman, Rev. Peter A. Englund, Rev. John Bernhard, Mr. Gustafson, Andrew Ericson and Swante Ellison, who urged all to become voters, and to take an interest in local affairs.

Councilman Johnson was unable to be present because of sickness.

COUNCILMAN ILL.

Eugene N. Hultman Suffers a Stroke of Paralysis.

It is with a genuine feeling of sympathy that the announcement is made of the serious illness of Councilman Eugene N. Hultman. The Captain, as he is familiarly known by his many friends, attended the Scandinavian rally Wednesday night at Faxon hall. He was listed to address the meeting which was a boom for his candidacy as Representative to the General Court. While seated upon the platform, he was taken with a fainting spell. He rallied a few minutes later. A carriage was called and he was removed to his home, where he was attended by Drs. Jones and Welch. It was then learned that he has suffered a stroke of paralysis and that his right side was affected.

He remained unconscious all night and up to a late hour this morning had not come to, and serious fears are entertained for his recovery.

Capt. Hultman's health has not been of the best for a year or more and upon several occasions he has had hemorrhages at the nose, which have been checked with difficulty. These hemorrhages, however, have probably kept him from having a stroke of paralysis up to the present time.

Capt. Hultman was present at Tuesday night's meeting of the City Council and was unusually bright. It was doubtless due to the excitement of entering a campaign that brought on this attack.

HOLBROOK.

The assessors have completed their work, with the following result: Valuation of personal estate, $118,090.50; valuation of real estate, $1,099,590 total, $1,217,680.50, an increase over last year of $7,160. The rate of taxation will be $20 per thousand. The number assessed for property is 750; for poll tax only 216. There are 546 dwelling houses, 4,270 3.8 acres of land 142 horses and 121 cows.

The Q. Y. C. Concert.

There was a big crowd at the Quincy Yacht Club's concert, which was held at the club house on Wednesday evening. The building was illuminated with scores of Japanese lanterns. The music was under the direction of Mr. George Monk. The orchestra was made up largely of musicians from the Symphony and Tremont theatre orchestras. It was about the best concert orchestra ever heard in this city. The cynosure of all eyes was George Tracy, the composer of "Jack and the Bean-stalk."

The Unsanitary Veil.

Veils have always called forth the disapproval of the physician and the animadversion of the oculist. This fact, however, has never interfered with the wearing of these filmy beautifiers.

Now that women are wearing not one, but two, veils, not consecutively, but continuously, another charge is laid against them. They are ruinous to the complexion, says one authority.

There are some women who decline to wear dotted veils, there are a few who refuse to wear veils of any kind, but the great majority of them would as soon go out of doors without a collar as without a veil. Some of these enthusiasts have been collecting statistics, and they are triumphant. Men never wear veils, they say, except in the deserts, where dust storms are frequent, and yet men habitually resort to the use of glasses at an earlier age than women. They likewise call attention to the fact that women habitually do fine needlework and embroidery, which is far more trying to the eyes than the work of the average man could possibly be.

In regard to the statement that veils are injurious to the complexion, these women argue that not only does a veil keep the dust out of the pores, but it protects the tender cuticle from the effects of wind and sun and so prevents wrinkles and retards the inevitable darkening of the skin by the march of time. That a filmy bit of silk tissue or lace can heat the skin and cause it to be covered with a sticky moisture is, they declare, impossible. That it can interfere with the circulation is also extremely unlikely. And so madam, secure in the panoply of her own observation and experience, calmly proceeds to tie a fresh veil over her pretty face and go on her conquering way.

Boudoir Comforts.

There are a number of simple but valuable little articles with which the toilet table of the wise summer girl is always equipped. No toilet table is complete without borax. It softens the water and removes grease from the face without parching the skin, as ammonia sometimes does.

The wise summer girl will have a small bottle of fresh lemon juice put on her toilet table every morning. It will draw the inflammation from prickly heat, as well as subdue a too ruddy complexion. It will remove stains from the skin or nails and if used daily with an orange stick will hinder any growth of the cuticle. Put in water it is splendid as a skin tonic or taken internally, two teaspoonfuls in a glass of water every morning, will serve as a mild purgative.

A box of cold cream will suggest itself. A little cold cream rubbed on the skin and puffed over with powder will do much toward preventing sunburn.

Pennyroyal is highly recommended by experienced mosquito warriors who have defied these pests for years. Camphor also is effective in keeping mosquitoes away, as well as in soothing their bites.

The list of toilet articles is not complete without a vial of tincture of benzoin. It softens the water, adds brilliancy to the skin and imparts a subtle fragrance to the person of the bather.

All athletic girls must realize the value of witch hazel for the sprains and bruises so frequent during summer outings.—Philadelphia Times.

How to Keep Cool.

A physician says that diet is of great importance in keeping cool during hot weather. Fish, chicken, vegetables and fruit are the best food. Breakfast should be as light as possible and principally of fruit. Luncheon should consist of vegetable salad and a light dessert, and dinner should be composed of soup, fish, chicken, vegetables, salads and simple dessert. Salads are especially desirable.

The quantity eaten should be small. Overloading the stomach is even more dangerous in summer than in other seasons. Drinking should be on a moderate plan also, and alcoholic liquors should be absolutely avoided.

A reasonable amount of exercise is beneficial, as it eliminates excess of fat. A half hour of vigorous exercise in the morning, with lightest possible clothing, followed by a warm bath and a cold sponge, will enable one to endure comfortably the hottest day. A substitute for exercise is a hot air bath, which, however, does not strengthen as the exercise does.

A W. C. T. U. Organizer.

Mrs. Ruth Shaffner-Etnier was the first woman to organize a club for the W. C. T. U. among Americans on the island of Porto Rico. She is the president and was recently appointed inspector and supervisor of the public schools of Ponce. As Miss Shaffner she journeyed to Iceland and secured for the W. C. T. U. the adoption of scientific temperance instruction in the schools of that country. At the Toronto convention Miss Shaffner was appointed world's missionary. Her marriage about a year ago brought to the ranks of the W. C. T. U. an earnest, zealous worker in the person of her husband, who at all times lends his aid for his wife's plans for the white ribbon work.

Teach Children Economy In Little Things.

Teach children not to waste trifles which they often throw away without thought, and which if saved might be of use to others if not to themselves. Wrapping paper, pieces of twine, odds and ends of various kinds may do service a second time if put away until the need for them arises. The habit of economy is one that ought to be cultivated, for careful saving makes lavish giving possible. Hoarding is not a vice of childhood, nor should it be encouraged, but the wise husbanding of resources for future expenditure is a valuable lesson that cannot be learned too early.—Ladies' Home Journal.

TO FORECAST A SEASON.

High Aims of the United States Weather Bureau.

OBSERVATIONS OF CHIEF MOORE.

Science of Weather Prediction Is In Its Infancy, Says the Professor. Thinks Time Will Come When Farmers Will Know What to Plant In the Spring.

Professor Willis L. Moore, chief of the United States weather bureau, who was in Chicago recently with the river and harbor committee of the national house of representatives, consented to an interview with a Chicago Inter Ocean reporter relative to the progress made by the weather bureau during the 30 years of its establishment. Perhaps the most interesting of his statements was that in time, and before long, he believed the experts of the weather bureau would be able to accurately forecast an entire season, whereas at present a prediction of only 36 hours ahead is ventured, and then statistics prove that in only 83 of every 100 are these predictions correct.

"When the weather bureau was established," said Professor Moore, "every one in connection with it was practically inexperienced meteorically and in the actions of barometric conditions. Now we have men who have spent 15, 20, 25 years over the instruments, who have studied weather conditions, who have come by experience to know what certain air currents, high and low pressures and humidity portend. We have for years been gathering and compiling statistics on weather, and these are and always will be the valuable archives of the bureau.

"It has been the principal aim of the weather service to discover a system which, I believe, exists whereby we can tell indefinitely into the future what the weather will be. So far we have been unable to even approach such a system. All we can do now is to recognize the approach from some direction of a certain condition of weather. We can only see definitely 36 hours into the future and sometimes 48, and then we are wrong 17 times in 100.

"But we have made great progress, and our work is now valuable, especially to agriculturists. Efforts beyond number have been made to devise a system from our meteorological records whereby we could foretell a week, a month or a season in advance, but the nearest to any such discovery has been the finding of an unreliable cycle which we have come to know as the seven day cycle. We have found that at times it will rain one day in the week and that it will not again rain for seven days, raining again on the same day of the next week. This may continue for three or five or six and seven weeks straight running, but no one is able to tell by the first, second or third periods of the cycle whether it is the cycle or not, nor have we been able to tell when this cycle will start to occur. All we can tell is that it was a seven day cycle when it has passed. So the knowledge of such a recurrence is practically valueless at present. But it is a stepping stone which will help us on to welding together a chain of such phenomena which will add to the efficiency of the service in time.

"I believe the time is coming and not far distant compared with the past when we will be able to issue a forecast of the season. The value of this will be inestimable. It will tell the farmer when and what to plant, and as the product of the producer affects all the result on civilization can only be conjectured.

"We have had much trouble with fakirs—weather prophets. Without exception all these men are laymen. Does it seem reasonable that they can forecast a year, a month or even a day when astronomers and scientists have spent their lives and have been unable to be perfect? But we who are studying the action of the weather are confident that in time our experience with the statistics of those who were before us and with the delicate instruments which are constantly coming into use will bring forth great results. While our value at present—at least the only value the public receives at present—is the reasonably accurate forecast of 36 hours, we are storing a warehouse of knowledge which in time will enable the weather bureau to forecast an entire season."

NEW SUBMARINE BOAT.

British Craft That Can Pass Under the Heaviest Warship.

The British admiralty is drawing stores from Woolwich and other naval stations for an official trial of a newly designed submarine boat, says the London correspondent of the New York Sun. Prior experiments with the boat have proved satisfactory. She submerges and travels well.

She is so constructed as to allow of her passing under an enemy's heaviest warship. Thus a submarine mine charged with 500 pounds of gun cotton can be attached to a hostile vessel, and the boat will have time to get out of danger before the mine is exploded. The boat is fitted with two tubes for discharging torpedoes, both above and below the water. She is armed with quick firing and machine guns.

It is asserted that she is able to encounter successfully the largest ironclad afloat.

British Census In 1901.

It has been arranged that the national decennial census of the United Kingdom shall be taken on March 31, 1901, says a London dispatch to the New York Sun. The estimated population of Great Britain and Ireland is 41,000,000.

IS STILL IN ABEYANCE.

Russia's Proposal to Withdraw Troops Being Considered by the Powers.

Diplomatic Situation Appears to Be Much Brighter.

United States Prepared to Adapt Itself to Any Change in Conditions.

Washington, Sept. 6.—Until definite replies are received in Washington and St. Petersburg to the Russian and American proposals in regard to the future course of the powers in China it is expected that Russia will make no actual move to withdraw her troops from Pekin. It is also believed that pending the receipt of these replies the Russian minister will remain at Pekin, and thus the military and diplomatic situation remain in abeyance.

The United States government has received from its representatives at foreign capitals much material information in regard to the attitude of the powers on the Russian proposal to evacuate Pekin. It is stated authoritatively that if there was at any time a prospect of a serious international clash this has been very largely, if not entirely, removed by the harmonious character of the communications the several governments are making.

The exact nature of the responses is not made public by the state department, for there are yet some replies to be transmitted, and until all of them are in the negotiations are considered in such an incomplete form that they will not be made public. It is said, however, that the answers go much beyond the tentative character of those heretofore referred to, and are of a conclusive nature, so far as showing the purposes of the governments, although they may not be regarded as conclusive in accepting or rejecting the particular proposition advanced by Russia.

If the present state of affairs in China is protracted until the arrival there of Count Waldersee it is not to be doubted that the government of Germany will endeavor to have all the negotiations with the Chinese government conducted through that official, as a representative not of Germany alone, but of all the powers. It is gathered that a strong argument will be advanced to support the advisability of combined action through one agency in this manner as the best means of securing a speedy and generally satisfactory termination of the Chinese trouble. In fact it will be urged that there is little hope for an early adjustment of the differences between the powers and China if each of the powers is ready to lay down an independent proposition, the culminative effect of which, particularly in the case of money or territorial indemnities, might be absolutely crushing to the Chinese empire.

The German foreign office appears to be active in furthering the negotiations. Those persons most likely to have a correct understanding of Germany's attitude, look for the suggestion of a compromise, or middle course, which will be neither an acceptance nor a rejection of the Russian proposal, but will be such a satisfactory middle ground that all the powers, including Russia, can agree to it.

For instance, it is suggested that Germany with propriety might suggest that a certain limit be fixed on the extent of the military detachments to be left at Pekin, with an understanding that each small detachment confine itself to quarters so long as peace and quiet prevail in Pekin, but be ready to act in case of further Chinese depredations.

In another diplomatic quarter, the strong belief is expressed that the requisite compromise will be found by China's re-establishing a government and naming peace commissioners. It is quite generally accepted that some such move on the part of China has matured and will take form in Washington very soon. In that event, it is believed that the entire status of the negotiations between the powers might be changed, and that Russia no longer would feel impelled to insist upon the withdrawal of her minister and troops from Pekin, as all these matters would be subject for the commission itself to deal with. It is pointed out also, that in the six days since the Russian-American notes were given to the world, the sentiment has been growing in favor of continuing the presence of the troops at Pekin.

In view of the declarations made in the American reply to Russia, some question has arisen as to the course open to this country in case of a compromise or change in the present diplomatic status. It is said that the attitude of the United States is particularly favorable for adapting itself to any change in conditions. Only in one contingency of Russia's withdrawing her minister and troops has this government given the positive declaration that the American troops also will be withdrawn. But on the many other conditions which may arise, either through counter-propositions from the powers or by a modification of Russia's original purpose, the United States has left its course open for future determination.

Government Transports May Be Withdrawn.

Washington, Sept. 6.—The quartermaster's department is considering the advisability of taking off the five government transports that now ply between the United States and the islands of Cuba and Porto Rico. The department has invited bids from three lines, and when a computation has been made will determine whether it is cheaper to patronize these lines than to maintain our present transport service.

Cable Communication Interrupted.

Washington, Sept. 6.—The consul of the United States at Teneriffe has informed the department of state that the cable connection between Teneriffe and Las Palmas, Grand Canary, is broken. From three to six months will elapse before the cable will be in working order again.

EMINENT CAREER ENDED.

Death of Arthur Sewall, One of the Pine Tree State's Foremost Citizens.

Bath, Me., Sept. 6.—Arthur Sewall, who was stricken with apoplexy at his summer home, Small Point, last Sunday, died Wednesday. Mr. Sewall had not been in good health for some time, although he was not considered to be seriously ill. He was passing the summer quietly at Small Point when he sustained the stroke of apoplexy Sunday night. It was apparent from the first that the attack would prove fatal. Mr. Sewall became unconscious from the stroke and remained in that condition until death came.

ARTHUR SEWALL.

Throughout the maritime world in every city of the globe Arthur Sewall was known either by name or as a factor in the marine carrying trade of the United States. He was born in this city, and here his fortune was built. Educated in the city schools he then went into the woods to learn the rudiments of selecting and cutting timber for ships. Later he formed the partnership of E. & A. Sewall, and in so doing continued in the calling of one of the oldest ship-building families in Maine.

Upon the death of his elder brother he formed the firm of Arthur Sewall & Co., a company which now controls one of the largest American sailing fleets and which within the last decade has launched the famous half clippers Shenandoah, Rapahannock, Susquehanna and Roanoke, the latter the largest wooden merchant ship afloat. When the change in construction material came this firm at once erected a steel plant and has already turned out the Dirigo, the first steel sailing ship.

Mr. Sewall had several times studied the methods of foreign shipbuilders, visiting all the leading yards, and was a believer in the ability of Americans to furnish the material and build the ships as cheaply as any nation doing equally good work.

Mr. Sewall had been one of the prominent business men of New England, at one time being largely interested in railroads. For many years he was Maine's representative on the Democratic national committee, had served in the city government and held many positions of trust. He was the choice of his party for vice president in the campaign of 1896.

Mr. Sewall had been recognized as an authority on financial matters, and his sound judgment appears in the success which attended his efforts. His strongest effort was toward the upbuilding of the American merchant marine, of developing the sentiment that American commerce should be carried in American bottoms.

Mr. Sewall was deeply interested in the welfare of the city of Bath, and was the mainstay of the Democratic party in the state of Maine.

He leaves two sons, Harold M. Sewall, who was stationed by the government at Hawaii, and William D. Sewall, one of Bath's most energetic young business men, and who was recently elected president of the Bath Savings institution.

To Examine American Mines.

London, Sept. 6.—John Hays Hammond, the American mining engineer, has sailed for Boston on the Cunard line steamer Saxonia from Liverpool. On the result of his visit hangs the investment of a large amount of British capital in American mining properties. As the representative of a syndicate, Hammond has gone to examine a group of mines in Colorado. If he reports favorably, it is asserted, the syndicate has agreed to purchase the mines referred to, the price named being $7,000,000.

Hague Commission Appointment Accepted.

Washington, Sept. 6.—President McKinley has received a reply to the invitation he addressed to former President Cleveland to accept an appointment as a member of The Hague commission. Mr. Cleveland's reply will not be made public, but it is understood that he has attached certain conditions to the acceptance. Former President Harrison agreed to act as commissioner in a letter received at the White House.

Misery Ended by Suicide.

Chicago, Sept. 6.—Frank Follensbee, ex-alderman and a wealthy real estate owner of Chicago, committed suicide last night by shooting himself. Mr. Follensbee had been sick for several months, and for the last week had been kept alive by the use of oxygen gas. During his nurse's absence he procured a revolver and fired two bullets into his brain.

Is a Magnificent Ship.

Washington, Sept. 6.—Captain Brownson, who will command the battleship Alabama, is in Washington making arrangements to have the big ship put into commission. He does not claim that she is the fastest or the most powerful battleship in the world, but he does assert that she is a magnificent ship, and that she can make 17½ knots if driven.

BOUGHT 500,000 PIECES OF COTTON.

M. D. C. Borden's Coup Likely to Defer Wage Reduction Plan at Fall River.

Fall River Mass., Sept. 6.—When cotton mill officials went to their offices Wednesday they were informed that a remarkable and altogether unexpected transaction had been executed in the print cloth market here. The news was to the effect that M. C. D. Borden of New York, owner of the Fall River Iron Works mills, the largest cotton manufacturing plant in the city, and of the American Print Cloth works, had purchased 500,000 pieces of cotton goods at 2 7-8 cents. The deal was the principal topic of discission here and was the most interesting development in the local situation since Mr. Borden compelled the other manufacturers here to grant a 10-percent advance in wages last year.

The purchase of 500,000 pieces was made through Mr. Borden's brokers here, and according to the terms of the sale, 20,000 pieces are to be shipped weekly for 25 weeks. It is the general opinion here that Mr. Borden considers the outlook for cotton not as unfavorable as most of the local mill owners do, and it is inferred that he has found a market for prints which could not be supplied by the product of the Iron Works mills. The Iron Works mills have not been able to furnish sufficient goods for the American Print Works, and it is supposed that the New York man found his supply running short.

Everyone connected with the industry believes now that the wage paper will be quietly withdrawn. In a few days, when the effect of the large purchase is seen in the general market, if there is to be no large amount of trading, a further attempt will be made to agree on some form of curtailment to extend over a period of three months.

The latest development was pleasing news to the union officials here as they have steadily maintained that the outlook was not as bad as the manufacturers' selling committee had painted.

Crowd Neglected Brave Lad.

Boston, Sept. 6.—A heroic rescue of two boys who had twice sank in Swain's pond, Melrose, Wednesday, was made by Walter Adams, 13 years of age. A boy was heard to call for help, and instantly another boy sprang from the float to the rescue. The drowning lad grasped his would-be rescuer by the throat and the two went down twice. Then Adams, without waiting to remove his clothing, jumped into the water and brought the unconscious lads ashore safely one after the other. Half an hour later the boys were brought to consciousness. During the excitement young Adams was forgotten by the large crowd present and later was found on the shore of the pond unconscious. He was resuscitated after some effort. All will recover.

Van Ness Is Complimented.

New York, Sept. 6.—A meeting of the New York committee to aid the South African republic was held last night to consider the Boer flag incident at Bar Harbor, Me., when a Boer flag, raised by Edward Van Ness, one of the members of the committee, at the approach of the fleet of English war vessels, was taken down by the authorities of Bar Harbor. A letter was sent to Mr. Van Ness, complimenting him on his action in raising the Boer flag in the face of the British fleet.

Exceptions In Powers Case Overruled.

Georgetown, Ky., Sept. 6. — Judge Cantrill has overruled the bill of exceptions in the case of ex-Secretary of State Powers, convicted as accessory before the fact to the assassination of William Goebel, and sentenced the prisoner for life. Judge Cantrill made an order suspending execution of the sentence 60 days in order to enable the defendant to procure a transcript of the record to be filed in the court of appeals, and an appeal was allowed.

Washout Caused Fatal Wreck.

Miles City, Mont., Sept. 6.—A double-header freight train on the Northern Pacific road went into a ditch four miles east of here yesterday. Fireman Warren of the second engine was killed, and two men seriously, and one slightly, injured. The accident was due to a washout caused by heavy rains.

Reception Day at Bar Harbor.

Bar Harbor, Sept. 6.—Wednesday was reception day for the officers of the British and American squadrons, and a play day for almost all of the jackies. The feature of the day was the reception during the afternoon on board the United States flagship New York, where lunch and dancing were enjoyed.

Cotton Mills to Reopen.

Pawtucket, R. I., Sept. 6.—Mills of the United States Cotton company of Central Falls, which have been closed for the past week, during which necessary repairs to the boilers were made, will resume operations next week. The shutdown last Saturday was thought to be for an indefinite period.

Cape Breton Miners Strike.

Sydney, C. B., Sept. 6.—Work at the North Sydney Mining and Transportation company's mines is suspended owing to a strike of the coal cutters, who demand an increase of 5 cents an hour. A general strike in Cape Breton is threatened.

A TRYING POSITION

"My position is a trying one" was the joking remark of the cloak model of a fashionable firm. But there is less jest than earnest in the statement. It is trying to be on the feet all day, to be reaching and stooping hour after hour from morn until night. And that is a very meager outline of a business woman's day. With many such women the ordinary strain of labor is intensified and aggravated by a diseased condition of the delicate organs, and they become victims of that terrible backache, or blinding headache, which is so common among business women.

If you are bearing this burden, bear it no longer. For the backache, headache, nervousness and weakness which spring from a diseased condition of the womanly organs there is a sure cure in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Half a million women have been perfectly and permanently cured by this wonderful medicine.

"My niece was troubled with female weakness for about four years before I asked for your advice," writes Mr. J. W. McGregor, of 62d St. and Princeton Ave., Chicago, Ills. "You advised her to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription which she did faithfully for nine months, and now we must acknowledge to you that she is a well woman. We cannot thank you enough for the cure."

Religious Organizations Come In For Sharp Criticism.

Gubernational Candidate Doesn't Care Whether Bryan or the Devil Is Elected.

Worcester, Mass., Sept. 7.—The Prohibitionists' state convention in Worcester Thursday was attended by 176 delegates from 73 cities and towns. They had a parade from Union station to the hall, with a drum corps, and wore badges showing canteens turned upside down. The speakers denounced President McKinley as a blackslidden Methodist, traitor and anarchist. All other Republican and Democratic candidates were referred to as ruled by rum.

The convention, after a long, sharp debate, voted down a resolution offered by John M. Fisher of Attleboro, which in effect was that: "This convention recommends to Prohibitionists throughout the commonwealth that they hereafter take no part in local option contests, nor in the enforcement of the liquor laws under local option no license."

Later the convention cheered lustily the nomination of Mr. Fisher for the party's gubernatorial candidate. Then Mr. Fisher said: "If I accept this nomination, will I be as badly defeated at the polls as I was a few minutes ago on my resolution?"

The platform adopted by the convention insists on wiping out the traffic in rum and indorses the national candidates of the Prohibition party.

The state ticket as nominated by acclamation is: For governor, John M. Fisher of Attleboro; lieutenant governor, William M. Purrington of Williamsburg; secretary of state, William H. Partridge of Newton; treasurer, Napoleon B. Jonnson of Milford; auditor, William G. Merrill of Malden; attorney general, Allen Coffin of Nantucket.

Scarcely 100 people attended the Prohibition state rally in Association hall last night. The speakers were Henry B. Metcalf of Pawtucket, R. I.; Samuel Dickey of Michigan and John M. Fisher, candidate for governor. Mr. Fisher was wroth. He said Worcester Prohibitionists ought to be buried, and lambasted the churches, the W. C. T. U., Y. M. C. A. and kindred organizations for their indifference. The only good thing he could say about the city was that the Metcalf boom was hatched in the Worcester depot. He said he did not expect to be elected, but if his issue did not prevail he did not care whether Bryan or the devil was elected.

Roosevelt's Object Lesson.

Detroit, Sept. 7.—The initial meeting of Governor Roosevelt's western tour, which was held here last night, was all that the governor's most ardent partisans could have desired in point of attendance and enthusiasm. Many were unable to get within hearing distance. The vice presidential candidate received a tremendously enthusiastic greeting. Governor Roosevelt asserted that our soldiers in the Philippines had less to fear from any body of armed bandits in that country than they had to fear from the principles of the Kansas City platform and the success of the Democratic ticket. He said five members of the regular army were present, and he asked them to stand up that the audience might see their tyrants. Five soldiers from the Fourteenth infantry at Fort Wayne, who occupied a front seat, when thus invited arose, and were applauded. "Now," exclaimed Governor Roosevelt, "behold your tyrants. There are here five soldiers to 4000 people in this audience, which is a larger percentage of tyranny in this house than the percentage of the regular army bears to the whole number of the people of this country."

Socialists Talk to Hub People.

Boston, Sept. 7.—Job Harriman, vice presidential candidate of the Social Democratic party, and other speakers, addressed a large gathering in Faneuil hall last night. Much of Mr. Harriman's time was occupied in explaining the economic principles of his party. The trouble is, he said, that the capitalist classes have their power centralized, while the power of the workers is dissipated. It is the work of Socialism to show how the forces of the working people may be mobilized so as to be made effective for remedial measures. We need to organize the power of the nation in accordance with a system which will remove the sufferings of the workers.

West Virginia Tour Ended.

Wheeling, Sept. 7.—The tour of West Virginia, which was begun Tuesday last by Mr. Bryan, was concluded last night with a speech at this place. He traveled from Deer Park by the way of Clarksburg and Parkersburg, making three speeches of length and two or three other brief and informal talks. The three days' tour is regarded by Mr. Bryan and the West Virginia Democrats who have been escorting him as in every way successful from a political standpoint. He has made six set speeches and a number of briefer addresses and has had uniformly large audiences.

Stickney's Plurality Is 31,468.

White River Junction, Vt., Sept. 7.—Complete and revised returns of the state election give: For governor, Stickney, Republican, 48,466; Senter, Democrat, 16,998; all others, 1276. Stickney's plurality is 31,468, and the majority over all, 30,192.

Clark Supporters Denounced.

Helena, Mont., Sept. 7.—The Republican state convention completed its ticket Thursday by the nomination of presidential electors, state treasurer, auditor, superintendent of public schools and associate justices of the supreme court. The platform denounces the Republican members of the last legislature who voted for W. A. Clark, Democrat, for United States senator. A resolution was adopted calling on Senators Hobson, Mitchell, Phillips and Geiger, who were among this number, to resign at once.

Considered Nicaragua Canal.

Santa Cruz, Cal., Sept. 7.—The Republican state convention adjourned Thursday after the adoption of a platform and the selection of electors. The platform included a strong endorsement of the platform adopted by the Republican national convention and pledged its support to McKinley and Roosevelt. It also advocated the construction and government ownership of the Nicaragua canal.

Utah Democrats Meet.

Salt Lake, Utah, Sept. 7.—The Democratic state convention to nominate a state ticket, one congresman and three presidential electors, met Thursday. The platform approves the national platform adopted at Kansas City, and heartily endorses the nominees of that convention. Special mention is made of imperialism, silver, trusts and other prominent questions.

A Combine In Minnesota.

St. Paul, Sept. 7.—Fusion was effected between the Minnesota Democrats and Populists Thursday, and a full state ticket was named, headed by Governor John Lind and T. J. Helghan as lieutenant governor. An electoral ticket was also endorsed by the two conventions. The Democrats held their convention in this city and the Populists in Minneapolis.

Over a Hundred Bolomen Killed.

Washington, Sept. 7.—The following cablegram has been received at the war department from General MacArthur, dated Manila, Sept. 5: "Details outbreak Bohol developed. Pedro Samson, commandant police, left Tagbilarian ostensibly inspect police various towns. This he did until heard from in Carnsen, with followers threatening attack garrison at Ubay. Two detachments ordered Carnsen, found town peaceful. No trace of insurrection. Detachment 27 men under First Lieutenant Leback, Aug. 31, were attacked near Carnsen by 120 bolomen; latter nearly annihilated; over 100 killed. Our loss as previously reported. Movement in interior now in progress."

To Secure Foreign Trade.

Pittsburg, Sept. 7.—The Commercial Gazette says: Pittsburg and associate interests have taken costly and determined steps to insure the development of an export business in iron and steel. A hurried order has been placed for the construction of a fleet of 10 great freighters, to ply from Lake Erie ports across the Atlantic. The fleet will cost something like $3,500,000. The Carnegie and Rockefeller interests are the notable purchasers.

Cleveland Bids For Encampment.

Cleveland, Sept. 7.—Owing to the disinclination of the Western Traffic association to grant the rate of 1 cent a mile, which was one of the conditions on which Denver was selected for the next encampment of the G. A. R., Cleveland has made a bid for the encampment. The G. A. R. posts in this city, working in connection with the Business Men's Convention league, have started the movement.

Freight and Passenger Trains Collided.

Saco, Me., Sept. 7.—As the result of a head-on collision between a freight and a passenger train on the Boston and Maine railroad, at Saco station, both engines were disabled and several cars damaged. Engineer Tibbets was slightly injured and a score of passengers were shaken up, but escaped injury. A misplaced switch was the cause of the accident.

Wrestling Contest at Brockton.

Brockton, Mass., Sept. 7.—In a wrestling match at the Belvidere rink Thursday, catch-as-catch-can, for a purse of $100 and gate receipts, John Kelly of Waterbury, Conn., defeated William Watson of this city. It took one hour and four minutes for the Connecticut man to get the first fall. Kelly got the second round in 5½ minutes.

Liquor Producers Form a Trust.

Cincinnati, Sept. 7.—After three days' deliberation, the conference of distillers and distributors of America has accomplished what seems to be the closest association, if not the strongest combine, of spirit distilling interests since the days when the Distilling and Cattle Feeding conmany controlled 95 percent of the output of such goods.

The Curtailment Proposals.

Fall River, Mass., Sept. 7.—Individual and possibly concerted curtailment is yet a probability in the mill situation. If renewed curtailment is taken up it is believed that the recommendation of the labor unions for a semi-weekly or four days a week running of the mills will be adopted.

FRANCE AND GERMANY

Express Their Opinions as to the Proposed Evacuation of Pekin.

Former Favors Russia's Plan, to Which Latter Is Opposed.

Chaffee Proceeding Upon Understanding That Troops Will Winter In China.

Washington, Sept. 7.—The United States ambassador at Paris, Horace Porter, has advised the authorities here that the attitude of the French government is favorable to the position taken by Russia. Almost simultaneously with this dispatch from Mr. Porter came another from Mr. Jackson, the American charge of affairs at Berlin, giving the attitude of Germany on Russia's proposal. This in substance states that Germany, while anxious to avoid friction between the powers, regards the conditions at Pekin such as to require the continued presence of German forces there. Neither Mr. Porter nor Mr. Jackson gave the text of the answer, but only the substance of the positions taken by the two governments.

These two highly important communications bring the Chinese negotiations to a very advanced stage, though they are not yet concluded, as all of the answers are not yet in. The German and French answers, however, clearly indicate the alignment of the powers. It is generally accepted that Germany's attitude in favor of remaining at Pekin will be concurred in by Italy and Austria, as these two countries act with Germany on political questions of a general nature. Moreover, definite word has been received here which clearly foreshadows Austria's position in favor of remaining at Pekin.

As to the purposes of Great Britain there is an absolute lack of official information, though little doubt is entertained that since Germany has taken the initiative, Great Britain will follow suit in favor of remaining at Pekin. The postion of Japan likewise is lacking in definiteness, although it is believed that if other nations remain at Pekin, Japan will deem it expedient to remain there also.

It would seem from this that France is the only government to give concurrence to the Russian proposition, although the United States has expressed a purpose of following Russia's course unless the other powers brought about a modification of Russia's position.

Thus far Russia has not expressed any purpose of modifying her original position. It is stated authoritatively that Russia has not ordered the departure of her minister or troops from Pekin up to this time, so far as the United States government is advised. It is stated also that no new proposition has been presented, but that the question is practically the same as when first presented, namely, as to whether the troops will remain or be withdrawn from Pekin.

The receipt of the communications from Berlin and Paris brought about numerous conferences. It was gathered from these meetings that another note was being prepared by the United States, but the authorities did not feel disposed to give any inkling as to its nature, and it is quite probable that its final form will await the consideration of the cabinet.

Aside from the general question the French government is again considering the status of Li Hung Chang. His acceptability as a peace commissioner continues to be a subject of discussion, there being a strong desire in certain quarters not to include him on the Chinese commission.

The military situation at Pekin remains unchanged, apparently. General Chaffee's messages make it clear that he is proceeding upon the understanding that the American troops are to winter in China, and he and General Barry speak of the comfortable arrangements that have been made for the soldiers.

The American contingent in the parade through the imperial palace was small, probably in conformity with an arrangement between the various commanders in Pekin that the force selected to make the demonstration should be limited in numbers in order to reduce the chance of looting. It is supposed here that this demonstration was made to impress the Chinese people as a whole and not from any present military necessity. Some action of this kind appears to have been necessary in order to offset the stories which were afloat in the southern Chinese ports to the effect that the allies had been completely overthrown by the imperial troops and the Boxers, which stories were calculated to cause further uprisings. Besides, the demonstration at the palace may reduce the ill effects of any withdrawals of troops from Pekin as a result of the present negotiations.

Mr. Goodnow has cabled from Shanghai that all of the marines were withdrawn from Amoy last Friday, a matter of news that has been anticipated in the press dispatches, but which is recorded officially here for the first time. It appears that the commander of the Castine was instructed not to land marines, so the United States was not represented in the landing parties.

Good Afternoon

It is almost useless nowadays to give expensive entertainments, celebrations, etc., without a committee on publicity. It is important that the event be well advertised in advance, and that the co-operation of the press be secured. It is a great mistake to expect the merchants of the city to make everything a success by advertising liberally in worthless programs. The merchants cannot afford it. Neither can the newspapers afford to boom entertainments, however worthy the object, when not liberally advertised in their columns. A merchant devotes only a percentage of his receipts to advertising, and if this is expended in programs, the newspaper publishers suffer. The profits from entertainments should come from the sale of tickets, and the sale will be large if the entertainment is attractive and well advertised in the newspapers.

The general impression is that the city is building a large number of schoolhouses, but figures today show that the increase in attendance since September 1895 has been 841, an average of 168 per year, enough for four rooms. This would seem to require one new eight or nine room building every other year, particularly as some of the buildings are now crowded. Since 1895 the city has erected two nine room buildings—the Gridley Bryant and the Massachusetts Fields, both opened in 1896, and is now erecting the Cranch school of nine rooms, which however, will not be ready until 1901. If to the increase of 841 since 1895 is added the gain next September 200, the increase will be 1041, or 35 pupils for each new room, without taking into consideration the crowded condition of the schools in 1895.

Drift of Opinion.

☞Among the delegates to the Republican State convention at Saratoga, N. Y., was young Cornelius Vanderbilt, great grandson of the old Commodore. The young fellow wanted to learn politics by practical study, so he was sent to the State convention and participated in the business of the two days' meeting. His appearance on the stage was not much unlike that of Roosevelt, who was elected to the New York assembly when only 22 years of age, and entered at once upon a career that brought him into public notice. He was just out of college, as is the case with young Vanderbilt. It will be worth while to keep this descendant of old Commodore Vanderbilt in mind, as we are liable to hear more of him.—Lynn Item.

☞We must all learn the two lessons: the lesson of self help and the lesson of giving help to and receiving help from our brother. There is not a man of us who does not sometime slip; who does not sometimes need a helping hand; and woe to him who when the chance comes fails to stretch out that helping hand. Yet, though each man can and ought thus to be helped at time he is lost beyond redemption if he becomes so dependent upon outside help that he feels that his own exertions are secondary. Any man at times will stumble and it is then our duty to lift him up and set him on his feet again; but no man can be permanently carried, for if he expects to be carried, he shows that he is not worth carrying.—Gov. Roosevelt.

SUDDEN DEATH.

Councilman E. N. Hultman Passes Away.

Was Serving City for the Fourth Year.

Early in Life a Sea Faring Man —Then Railroad Man.

Capt. Eugene N. Hultman, whose serious illness was noted in Thursday's Ledger, passed away about 3 o'clock that afternoon without having regained consciousness. The news of Capt. Hultman's illness and death came like a shock. Few even knew of his illness, and on every side were heard expressions of regret. Everybody seemed to take his death as a personal loss and could hardly realize that he had gone from them. Seldom is one so generally liked and admired as was he, which makes his sudden leave taking all the more severely felt. Immediately upon the receipt of the news at City Hall, the flag was placed at half mast and notices were sent to all members of the City Council. No special meeting will be called, but they will attend the funeral and formal action will be taken at Monday night's meeting.

The funeral will be held Sunday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock from his late residence, and the burial, which will be private, will be at Mt. Wollaston.

Captain Eugene N. Hultman was a Swede by birth, having been born in Sweden, Oct. 30, 1844. Here he received his early education and in 1858, upon graduating from the gymnasium, he took up a sea-faring life, shipping before the mast. In 1861 he returned to Sweden and entered the naval school, from which he graduated, and the early age of 21 years, he was given the command of a ship engaged in the African trade, which he followed for ten years and is believed to be the last of that class of sea-faring men. During the early part of his life he visited Melbourne, Australia, when it was but a city of tents, and also witnessed the bombardment of Shanghai, in the Tai Ping rebellion, by the English.

Capt. Hultman gave up sea-faring life in 1880, and from that time until he came to Quincy in 1887, he was largely interested in railroad construction, having charge under Mr. Munson, of the tunnel under West Point on the West Shore railroad.

When the Massachuetts Central railroad was opened, he became its freight agent, and remained with the road until it was absorbed by the Boston & Maine. He then retired to private life, and for the past few years has devoted himself to real estate.

Capt. Hultman first became generally known in Quincy when he was elected to the City Council from Ward Two. He was reelected to the Council of 1898 and 1899, and was returned to the City Council of 1900 as Councilman-at-large.

During his service in the Council he did valuable work upon the standing committee of Police, Fire Department, Streets and Finance. He has also, for two years, represented the City Council on the Board of Trustees of the City Hospital. He was also treasurer of the Republican City Committee for two years, and has served on the Ward Two Committee.

During his service in the City Council he made many friends, and time never lagged at social gatherings which he attended. He always had a good word for everybody, and his ever ready and hearty hand shake was enough to put even the stranger at ease. Socially he was a favorite and fond of entertaining, and none knew better how to please his guests than did he. Being possessed of inexhaustible stories gathered from his varied business experiences, made these gatherings of unusual pleasure, for none new better how to tell a story.

His home was at 105 Washington street where he was surrounded by a loving wife and devoted children, and it was as happy a home as could be imagined; one where each worked for the others pleasure. His sudden demise leaves a void that time can never fill. He is survived by a widow, two sons and a daughter.

—The life of the old style of iron rail is only about 11 years. That of the modern steel rail is from 17 to 20. The first steel rail in America was laid on the Pennsylvania road. Last year there were exported from this country 341,646 tons of steel rails against 6,149 tones of iron rails. Steel rails cost $35 a ton.—Somersworth Free Press.

THE BANK WINS.

Opinion of Superior Court Reversed in Whicher Case.

The Herald says: The full bench of the supreme court Thursday passed upon two cases brought by the National Granite Bank of Quincy vs. T. H. Tyndale, administrartor of the estate of Isabella S. Whicher, in which it formally held that the defendant's intestate, the maker of three notes amounting to $15,000 being a married woman, and the notes being made payable to the order of her husband and indorsed by him, was not liable under them to the plaintiff, in two different aspects.

These cases different in form, were one an action at law to recover back the money which the bank had paid out on the notes as money lent to her, or as money had and received by her, and the other a bill in equity to restrain the defendant from making the defence in the action at law that the notes are void for the reason that they were made payable by Mrs. Whicher to her husband upon the ground that she, having received and kept the proceeds of the notes, is estopped in equity to deny their validity.

The superior court decided against the plaintiff in both these cases, ruling that common law action could not be maintained and sustaining a demurrer filed by the defendant to the bill in equity.

The supreme court, however, holds that the common law action may be maintained being brought solely against the administrator of the maker of the notes to recover a loan made to her and on her credit, which was consistent with the form of the notes which, though declared void as notes, did not destroy the original transaction or avoid the debt created by the loan to her.

The court decided that the plaintiff is not enittled to the relief sought in its bill in equity, as equity will not override a positive rule of law which holds that the notes are void, as such, by estopping the defendant fromsetting up that rule as a defence to the notes because she got the benefit of them.

The plaintiff's exceptions in the action at law are sustained, while the decree dismissing its bill in equity is affirmed.

Mr. and Mrs. Quincy.

Ex-Mayor Josiah Quincy will return to America early in October. He has secured passage on the Augusta Victoria of the Hamburg-American line, which leaves Southampton, Eng., Sept. 28. He will remain in this country but six weeks and will then return to England. Mrs. Quincy will not accompany her husband to America, but will remain in London at the house on Eaton Terrace, which Mr. Quincy took after touring Europe during the early spring. This house is in the Belgravai district of London and close to the one occupied by Justin McCarthy, the retired leader of the Irish Parlimentary party.

Here Mr. and Mrs. Quincy have lived very quietly, appearing in society but little. To the numerous invitations to speak the ex-Mayor has responded to but two—one at the American dinner, Fourth of July the other to deliver a series of lectures on "Municipal Government in the United States" before the London School of Economics and Political Science, which is now a part of the London University.—Post.

Drowned Near Hangman's.

Thursday morning about 8.30, while yachting about a mile off Hangman's island, John E. Martin, 31 years of age, unmarried and living at 51 Mather street Dorchester, was drowned. Martin, in company with two friends, left Dorchester at an early hour for a day's sport down the harbor, and while fixing a sail, lost his balance and fell overboard. The body had not been recovered at a late hour last evening. He was well known in Dorchester, where he had lived for many years.

Proved Fatal.

One of the saddest accidents which ever occurred in Nortolk Downs happened Wednesday. Some small children on their way from school got into a dispute and hit each other. One of the boys named Stoddard hit a little girl named Powers so hard that it proved serious, and she died from the effects of it on Thursday. The parents of the child are completely prostrated, as she was their only child and had just started in to go to school. The Powers family have only been living in Norfolk Downs about two weeks.

Ninety degree weather in September is unusual. The mercury did not reach it once last September. In September, 1898, there were four 90 degree days out of the first seven and no more during the month. In 1897 but one, and in 1896 none.

The Sewer department is laying its pipes on Buckley street. It was but a few years ago that this street was rebuilt at quite an expense, and to tear it up in the manner in which it is being done seems like a waste of money. The street under the surface was nothing but ledge, and in order to lay the sewer pipe it was almost necessary to tear the street all to pieces. It is a long, slow job.

THE SCHOOL ARMY.

Over Forty-Six Hundred Pupils Now.

The Attendance by Buildings and Grades.

A New Schoolhouse Necessary Every Other Year.

The attendance at our public schools on Tuesday, the opening day, was 4,624 against 4,548 on the opening day in September 1899, and the number of new D primary pupils was 279 against 259 in 1899.

In 1898 the attendance on the opening day was 4,359; in 1897 there were 4,198; in 1896 a total of 3,874; in 1895, but 3,707. The increase over 1895 is 841.

	Totals. 1900	1899.	New Pupils. 1900	1899
Adams,	448	416	46	32
Coddington.	414	431	22	27
Gridley Bryant,	328	328	20	20
John Hancock,	505	447	39	26
Lincoln,	412	406	27	27

Washington,	291	282	17	19
Willard,	819	830	49	49

	4,125	4,075	279	259
High,	499	473	202	231
	4,624	4,548

It will be seen that the Willard has over 800 pupils; that the John Hancock is second with over 500, and that the Adams, Coddington and Lincoln are very closely bunched with over 400, while none have less than 280.

The number by grades is shown by another summary. At the Adams, Coddington, John Hancock and Willard it is necessary to divide the lowest grade, the Willard devoting three rooms to the D primary. All the grades at the Willard except the highest one are divided. The Lincoln has two of Grade III, and the Coddingtontwo o f Grade VI.

Many of the other grades ought to be divided as will be seen by the summary:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8
Adams,	35 36	65	60	50	57	44	39	32
Coddington,	45 38	42	56	43	43	71	38	38

Grade VIII which will be graduated next June now numbers 328, but in April next from 200 to 300 more D primary pupils will enter and require accommodation.

YOU WRONG YOURSELF

If you think you are making the most of your opportunities and do not advertise liberally in the Quincy Daily Ledger, which reaches most of the families of Quincy, Wollaston. Atlantic, Norfolk Downs, Quincy Point, Quincy Neck, South and West Quincy. It also circulates in Weymouth, Braintree and Milton.

JOHN WANAMAKER,

The millionaire of Philadelphia, who made his fortune by store advertising, says "I never in my life used such a thing as a poster, or hand bill, or dodger. My plan for 20 years has been to buy so much space in a newspaper and fill it up as I want it."

PASTOR CALLED.

Rev. Henry G. Megathlin Coming to Park and Downs Church.

The unanimity with which the Park and Downs church called Rev. Henry G. Megathlin to its pastorate augurs well for his labors in that field. A brief sketch of the pastor elect shows that he comes to his work with a fine equipment.

Mr. Megathlin was born in Harwich, Mass., Aug. 29, 1867. After graduating from the High school in his native town, he entered the employ of Silas Pierce & Co. gaining there a thorough knowledge of business methods. But a thirst for knowledge impelled him to prepare for college, and in 1889 he entered Middlebury, and was graduated therefrom with the class of 1893. He immediately entered upon studies at Andover Theological Seminary, graduating in class of 1896. He was called to the pastorate of the Broadway church, Fall River, where he served from October 1896, to July 1899, when he was invited to engage in the different lines of work of which Mr. Rufus B. Tobey of Wollaston has charge in Boston. Mr. Megathlin's duties were in connection with the Boston Floating Hosptial, though he was prominent in other departmeuts of the work and deriving therefrom a rich experience.

Though the pastor's wife was not included in the call she deserves more than passing mention. Mrs. Annie Ritchie Meglathin is also a graduate of Middlebury college in the class of 1894. Her alma mater has given her the additional honor of degree of A. M., which was conferred in 1895. She was assistant librarian at the college from 1894 to 1896. It would not be fair to quote Longfellow to the extent of saying:

"Useless each without the other,"

but the church, which naturally expects much of its new pastor, will find that he has a worthy helpmate in Mrs. Megathlin.

It is proposed to complete the repairs made necessary by the removal and enlargement of the church.

This parish affords ample opportunity for the widest scope of activity, and if ability, consecration and energy count for anything, this church may hope to see good results.

TENTH REPUBLICAN.

United Party Support Can Easily Elect Candidate.

The Tenth Congressional district has been regarded by many Republicans as a Democratic district, but figures don't show it, even though a Democrat was elected in 1898. Last year was an off year, and the vote was small, but Quincy, Milton and the Boston wards which comprise the district, gave Governor Crane 18,437. This was, 1,553 more votes than received by Congressman Naphen. Mr. Barrows received only 13,815 votes in 1898, but in a Presidential year like 1900, a solid Republican vote would foot up 20,000, and easily elect the candidate. The following summary shows the Republican vote in 1898 for Congressman, and in 1899 for Governor; Quincy was the only part of the district which did not give Crane a larger vote than Barrows:

City of Boston.

The battleship Alabama, authorized by congress June 10, 1896, and which in her recent speed trial made an average of 17 knots an hour for four hours over the 33 knot measured course off Cape Ann, was launched on May 18, 1898, at Cramps' shipyard, in Philadelphia, says the New York Tribune. The dimensions of the Alabama are as follows: Length on load water line, 368 feet; beam, extreme, 72 feet 2 inches; draft on normal displacement of 11,525 tons, 23 feet 6 inches; maximum displacement, all ammunition and stores on board, 12,325 tons; maximum indicated horsepower (estimated), 10,000; probable speed, 16½ knots; normal coal supply, 800 tons; full bunker capacity, 1,400 to 1,500 tons; complement of officers, 40; seamen and marines, 449.

The main battery consists of four 13 inch breechloading rifles in Hichborn balanced turrets, oval in shape and placed on the center line of the vessel; fourteen 6 inch rapid fire guns. The secondary battery consists of sixteen 6 pounder, four 1 pounder rapid fire guns, two Colt guns and two field guns. There are four torpedo tubes. The 13 inch guns have an arc of fire of 135 degrees on each side of the center line and the 6 inch guns an arc of 90 degrees on the broadside, with the advantage to those on the upper deck of a direct fire ahead or astern. Any injury to or near either of these 6 inch guns will be confined to its own compartment, as a 1½ inch steel splinter bulkhead separates each gun from its neighbor.

The armor belt, which extends from the stern to abaft the after turret, is 16½ inches thick at the top and 8½ inches thick at the bottom except at the forward end, where it tapers to four inches at the stern. This belt armor extends from four feet below the normal load line to 3½ feet above it and maintains the full thickness amidships between the turrets and for the distance occupied by the engines and boilers. The sides of the vessel above the belt armor in way of the 13 inch battery and forming a casemate is armored with 5½ inches of steel, extending between the turrets, with diagonal armor of the same thickness at the ends, connecting with the barbettes and working above the 12 inch diagonal armor below. She is also protected by cofferdams extending for the length of the vessel on each side and having a general width of three feet, with a total capacity of about 12,500 cubic feet of fireproofed corn pith cellulose.

NEW FOOD CEREAL.

Advantages of Cottonseed as Compared With Wheat.

Time was when the cottonseed was the least of all seeds in the public estimation, but it bids fair to become in the future by its merit the greatest of all, says The Forum for September. Let us compare this so called byproduct with one of the cereals:

WHEAT AND COTTONSEED COMPARED.

	Protein.	Carbohydrates.	Fat.	Value.
Wheat	11.87	73.69	2.09	$1 00
Cottonseed	17.57	10.82	20.19	1 39

The above table gives the number of pounds of food components and the analytical value of 100 pounds each of wheat and cottonseed, according to the methods in use by the agricultural experiment stations. It shows the surprising fact that, pound for pound, cottonseed has a greater intrinsic value than wheat. Neither is the bulk of the cottonseed crop by any means insignificant as compared with wheat. There are raised in the southern states alone five-sevenths as many bushels of cottonseed as there are raised bushels of wheat in the whole of the United States.

Although the cottonseed has been almost obscured by the far more showy cotton crop, it has nevertheless been proved by recent investigations to have an intrinsic value half that of the cotton crop when fully and properly put to such uses as are already known for it. There is a known latent value in the cottonseed crop of $200,000,000, equal to 4 cents per pound on the entire cotton crop, which is still annually lost.

Novel Features on New Yacht.

The steam yacht Lysistrata, designed by G. L. Watson, was recently launched at Denny's shipyard in Dumbarton, Scotland. Several novel features, both in size and design, have been introduced, the chief of which is a straight stem, a departure which, it is promised, will render her the finest ship of her class afloat, says the New York Sun. The Lysistrata is 310 feet long. Her beam is 40 feet and her depth 45 feet. She has a displacement of 2,000 tons and is designed to steam 18 knots.

Bird's Nest Worth Preserving.

The nest of a red throated fruit sparrow, built inside a large apricot, is being preserved, says the Los Angeles Times, in alcohol as a curio.

Here's an Important Question.

All the ladies are anxious to know, says the Cleveland Plain Dealer, what the dowager empress wore when she jinrikishawed away from Peking town.

FOR LITTLE FOLKS.

Sparrows and Corn Thieves.

Near the village of Half Day, Ills., lives a one armed man named Lester Mowers, who has a large field of corn. Mr. Mowers' corn had scarcely appeared above the ground when a band of crows swooped down upon it. They hopped gleefully up and down the rows, pulling up the delicate green blades with their beaks and eating the seed kernal that still clung to the corn. Mr. Mower set a scarecrow in the field, but these crows were evidently old hands at robbery, for they utterly disregarded the ragged sentinel. Then he tried shooting at them, but a one armed man is not half as quick as a crow, and he failed to kill or cripple a single one. They would fly clumsily away at each shot, jeering and "haw-hawing" in derision, returning as soon as he had left the field.

Finally a colony of sparrows came and started to build nests in a thicket near the corn. Hardly had the small couples made their summer housekeeping arrangements before they began to drive the crows away. Every black robber who came into the field was set upon and pecked vigorously, the sparrows following him a quarter of a mile to administer punishment thoroughly. In a week a visit from a crow was a rarity. Mr. Mowers replanted his corn, and now throws a handful of bread crumbs to the sparrows each morning.

A Young Oarsman.

Here is the picture of a promising young oarsman. He is only 10 years old, and his name is James Hall. He lives with his parents at 1953 Park avenue, New York. He took to the water about two years ago and learned to row so well that his father, who is an oarsman, bought him a racing shell of his own. The entire outfit, including

JIMMY IN HIS SHELL.

Jimmy, weighs less than 75 pounds, but the speed of the little craft is said to be something remarkable. The shell is 21 feet long, 8 inches wide and weighs about 19 pounds. The sculls are only a foot shorter than the regulation man's size. Jimmy is the mascot of the Harlem Rowing club, of which he is a member. The picture shows him ready to defend his title to the 10-year-old championship of America.

A Queer Alaskan Fish.

In Alaska there is a queer fish that can be used as a candle when dried. The tail of the fish is stuck in a crack of a wooden table and its nose lighted. A good sized flame will burn about three hours. It gives a good, steady light of three candle power and considerable heat.

The reason that fish are slimy is to protect them from a certain fungus, a form of plant life that is found in all waters. Should a fish be so injured that a spot is no longer covered with slime the fungus lodges there and grows until it eventually kills the fish. Slime also increases the speed of fish through the water.

The whale is the only fish that has a brain larger than a man's. We think the machinery of the human body is very wonderful, with its many bones, but few people know that every time a fish breathes it moves 4,386 bones and muscles.

Nearly Ten.

When a body comes to be nearly ten,
Ah, all sorts of troubles beset her then!
At least, if the body happens to be
The eldest of all in the family,
Whose mother's at work the whole of the day;
And I'm that body, I may as well say!

There isn't a baby in all our street
Who's nearly as pretty or half as sweet
As our little Sally; but, oh, dear me!
It's strange how heavy that baby can be!
And Tommy's a wonderful boy, I know,
But sometimes that child does bother me so.

It's "Hush-a-by, baby," and off she goes,
But, if I put her down, that baby knows;
And, as soon as she's fast asleep,
Then down on the floor our Tommy will creep,
And it's, "Don't wake baby; be quiet, do;"
Or, "Tommy, you'll pull that cat's tail in two."

But, perhaps, when a body's worn out quite,
Her dear little mother will come in sight.
Then it's, "Polly, my pet, what should I do
If I hadn't a good little girl like you?"
And somehow a body feels glad just then
She's a grown up girl of nearly ten!

Making It Easier.

Little Jean's dolly had met with an accident and her mother had procured a new head for it. The removal of the old head proved to be a rather difficult task, which Jean watched with great interest.

Jean's face glowed with the light of an inspiration as she said:

"Never mind, mamma; just take the body off."

MONDAY.

IT all depends upon what you want in a soap. If you require simply a dirt remover, almost any soap will do. But if you care at all about the thing which is to be washed, you must think twice before you act. Any soap will clean linens and muslins, but Ivory Soap leaves them as white as snow. Any soap will clean sheets and table cloths, but Ivory Soap leaves no coarse, strong odor. Try it once!

MUST FILL VACANCY.

The death of Councilman-at-large Hultman makes it necessary to hold a special election throughout the city to fill the vacancy, as the vacancy occurred more than three months prior to the expiration of the municipal year.

Chelsea Republicans are also opposed to the convention idea in nominating candidates, and the City Committee has been requested by three of the four candidates for Senator in the First Suffolk district to have a straight caucus vote on the candidates themselves. The demand of one of the candidates that the plan be adopted, hurts the movement, but nevertheless it has merit, and could well be adopted in Representative districts which include wards of but one city.

One of the speakers at the Scandinavian rally suggested E. J. Sandberg for Representative. The modest young man said he would appreciate the honor, but did not think he would fill the bill. He is chairman of the Scandinavian Republican club, and small half tones of him were presented at the rally.

Caffery and Howe are sure of one vote in Quincy, but they will not receive many more. Dr. Everett has written a letter endorsing the National candidates.

A meeting of the Democratic club will be held tonight.

A meeting of the Scandinavian club has been called for tonight to take action on the death of Capt. Hultman.

The nomination by Mayor Hall of Walter M. Packard as Warden of the Ward One election officers is favorably commented upon, as it is generally admitted that he is the most efficent warden this ward has ever had. Mr. Packard held the position for several years, and this ward was one of the first to announce its returns although the largest. Last year Mayor Keith did not appoint him. The result was that many mistakes were made and instead of being the first to announce returns it was the last.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. LI WANTED IN PEKIN.

Chinese Officials There Think That He "Can Save the Situation."

England Urged to Institute Peace Negotiations.

Salisbury's Reply as to Evacuation Likely to Correspond With That of Germany's.

London, Sept. 7.—Shanghai is full of conflicting rumors regarding the movements of Li Hung Chang. It is asserted that Marquis Tseng and 30 officials remaining in Pekin have appealed to Li Hung Chang to repair immediately to the capital to save the situation, since nobody is there to assume authority, Prince Ching being detained in the province of Shan Si by illness.

Chang Chi Tung, the Wu Chang viceroy, has telegraphed an urgent appeal to the British consul in Shanghai urging Great Britain to institute peace negotiations. He emphasizes the magnitude of British trade interests and refers to the activity of the secret societies and the decline of trade, citing these as vital reasons why England should take the lead, instead of, as in 1894, allowing Russia to usurp her power and prestige. His final ground of appeal is that Great Britain, the United States and Japan have shown anxiety to promote commerce and to befriend China.

Germany's polite refusal to withdraw from Pekin is commented upon with keen satisfaction in London, and the hope is expressed that Lord Salisbury will show similar firmness. The British reply has not yet been formulated. Lord Salisbury desires to consult with his colleagues and has notified the foreign office of his intention to return to London from the continent early next week.

There is little doubt, however, that Germany's reply is the outcome of the discussion carried on during the last few days between the European cabinets and that the compromise policy of maintaining the occupation of the capital, but withdrawing the greater part of the troops to Tientsin, will be found to have met with general concurrence.

From Shanghai it is reported that Japan has notified to the powers her willingness to withdraw her troops, provided an adequate guard is left for the legations, and on condition that China formally requests evacuation and opens genuine negotiations for peace. Altogether, appearances are more than hopeful, and it is likely that when Count Von Waldersee arrives, a fortnight hence, at Taku, he will find the allies agreed upon some common policy.

Black Flags on the Move.

Yokohama, Sept. 7.—The Japanese foreign office has received a telegram from Sha Hsien, dated Sept. 4, saying that large bodies of Black Flags, under command of General Liu, were passing northward through the provinces of Hu Nan and Hu Pei.

Strike Would Affect a Million People.

Indianapolis, Sept. 7.—"The condition in the anthracite region of Pennsylvania was not considered at today's meeting of the executive board of the United Mine Workers of America," said President Mitchell last night. "I said some time ago that, in my opinion, there would be a big strike unless the operators agree to meet us in a wage conference. I have no reason to believe otherwise now. Information from the anthracite region indicates that the operators will not meet us, and from this you can draw your own conclusion as to what the outcome will be." Approximately over 1,000,000 people will be directly affected by a strike in the anthracite region.

Serious Accident on Race Track.

New York, Sept. 7.—In the racing at Sheepshead Bay Thursday, three horses went down in a heap at the last furlong pole in the first race. The field was well straightened out in the stretch when Unsightly, Knight riding, fell. Beverage, with Wedderstrand up, turned a complete somersault over him, and Elnus, with Murphy up, also plunged into the struggling mass. Wedderstrand was only stunned, and Knight had his shoulder sprained. Murphy lay all the afternoon in an unconscious condition, and appears to have sustained a fracture of the skull.

Results of Allen's Observations.

San Juan, P. R., Sept. 7.—Governor Allen returned to San Juan Thursday after a week's tour through the mountainous regions of the island. He found considerable crops on the rice and corn plantations, but little coffee. The people expressed themselves as anxious for work, and as ready to build roads. No anti-American sentiment was encountered. Governor Allen is convinced that, if properly encouraged, the portions of the island that he visited are capable of wonderful development.

Abdul Hamid's Enemies at Work.

Constantinople, Sept. 7. — Abdul Hamid's enjoyment of the jubilee festivities, which began Sunday on the completion of his 25th year as head of the Ottoman empire, has been spoiled by the discovery of a plot against his life. One hundred and eighteen arrests, including several high officials, have already been made, and a secret inquiry is proceeding.

Letter Carrier Held.

Boston, Sept. 7.—Charles L. White, the colored letter carrier, charged with stealing from the mails, was taken before a United States commissioner Thursday. White was held by the commissioner in $1000 for the United States court. No friends appeared to furnish bail and he was committed to jail to await trial.

Was Knocked Overboard.

Boston, Sept. 7.—John H. Martin, a sportsman who, with companions, was sailing among the islands in the harbor Thursday, was knocked overboard by the main boom and drowned.

AMERICA'S COTTON CROP.

Prospective Shortage Alarms British Spinners, Who May Have to Close Their Mills.

New York, Sept. 7.—The expected delay and shortage of the new American crop has brought the cotton manufacturers of the United Kingdom face to face with the most serious conditions which they have had to weather since the exports of cotton from the United States were stopped during the Civil war, says a London telegram to The Herald.

A meeting of master spinners will be held in Manchester to consider an indefinite shutdown of the mills. The total supply of American cotton on the docks and in the warehouses of Liverpool does not exceed 150,000 bales, only half of which is said to be usable. The scantiness of this stock may be judged from the fact that the average weekly consumption of the Lancashire mills is 58,000 bales.

Dr. McGee at the Head.

New York, Sept. 7.—The organization of the society to be known as the Spanish-American War Nurses' association is announced at the New York hospital, where some 60 of the nurses who served in the Spanish war have been in session for that purpose. The constitution adopted makes only those who were in actual service not less than one month during the Spanish war eligible to membership. Of these there are at least 500. Dr. Anita Newcomb McGee, acting assistant surgeon, U. S. A., detailed to the army nurses' corps, now with the surgeon general's office, Washington, was elected president. The officers are all women.

An Interesting Case.

New Bedford, Mass., Sept. 7.—Dr. Joseph P. St. Germain, employed by the board of health in the wholesale vaccination it is carrying on, was in court Thursday, charged with assault upon Grace A. Braley, aged 5 months, for vaccinating her against the will of her parents. The mother, although objecting to the vaccination, bared the child's arm for the physician when he insisted upon performing the operation. Judge Milliken discharged Dr. St. Germain, saying that the board of health had authority to order such vaccination.

Missing Since July 13.

Washington, Sept. 7.—News has reached the war department that First Lieutenant Brewer, company F, Twenty-seventh infantry volunteers, in company with Private O'Flaherty of his company, left Novalichis for Manila on July 13 last. Neither has been heard from since. Lieutenant Brewer had with him $1000 in Mexican currency, and it is feared that he and his companion have been captured by a robber band of Ladrones.

Services No Longer Required.

Washington, Sept. 7.—The secretary of war has instructed General Shafter to discharge all volunteers in San Francisco. About 400 are now there, having been sent home from Manila sick or wounded. Most of them being convalescent, all such will be discharged from the service, being no longer required. This course will be followed until the volunteer regiments return for final discharge.

Drowned In Marblehead Bay.

Marblehead, Mass., Sept. 7.—William E. Ryan, a fisherman, and Robert G. H. Roundy went out in a dory Thursday to catch perch for the local market. They secured a good fare and started on their return, when a squall upset the boat. Roundy reached shore, but Ryan, who was unable to swim, was drowned.

Note Forgers Rounded Up.

London, Sept. 7.—The police of Buda-Pesth, according to a dispatch from Vienna to The Daily Mail, have captured a gang of wholesale note forgers, including a political lawyer named Takata and Frau Kovacz, a well-known painter. Takata tried to shoot himself.

Weather Conditions and Forecast.

Sun rises—5:16; sets, 6:07.

On the coast fresh southerly winds will shift to west and north.

THE ROCKVILLE INTERVIEW.

Discussion of the Matter Brings Forth Statements From Washington and Shanghai.

Washington, Sept. 7.—The state department has issued the following: A cablegram has been received from W. W. Rockhill, dated at Shanghai, Sept. 5, in which he authorizes the department emphatically and categorically to deny the statements made in certain newspapers relating to an interview alleged to have been given by him. The only interview he has given related strictly to the circular of July 3.

[The Associated Press interview with Mr. Rockhill, dated Shanghai, Sept. 2, was sent from Shanghai by cable after having been carefully prepared by a trusted staff correspondent of the Associated Press at Shanghai.]

Shanghai, Sept. 7.—William W. Rockhill, United States special commissioner in China, when questioned Thursday regarding his denial of statements made by him to a correspondent of the Associated Press and cabled to the United States from Shanghai last Sunday, said the state department had cabled him regarding the interview, and, as he considered the conversation personal, he had felt justified in replying that he had given no interview.

The correspondent of the Associated Press, on the occasion in question, visited Mr. Rockhill as a correspondent and for the purpose of inquiring whether, in Mr. Rockhill's opinion, Russia would withdraw from Pekin. As Mr. Rockhill did not request the correspondent to refrain from publishing his views, as expressed during the conversation, the correspondent thought he desired to have them made known.

Lynn's War on Druggists.

Lynn, Mass., Sept. 7.—War has been declared on illegal liquor selling in Lynn in drug stores, and Horace D. King, agent of the Tolman Temperance fund, is busy securing evidence against druggists who offend the law in this respect. The Lynn police, acting on evidence secured through Mr. King's employes, raided the large drug store of Gilman E. Thomas Thursday and notice has been served on Joseph W. Colcord, who conducts a large establishment, to appear in court and answer to the charge of maintaining a liquor nuisance. Mr. Colcord is an active and aggressive member of the Lynn school board, and his being accused as maintaining a liquor nuisance has created a sensation.

The Molineux Case Again.

New York, Sept. 7.—The case of Roland B. Molineux was revised again Thursday by the receipt by Assistant District Attorney Osborne of the official papers in the case. Mr. Osborne said: "Physically I have those papers in my hands. Judicially Recorder Goff has yet to pass on them. I have not seen them to read them. After I have finished with them they will go back to the recorder. Weeks and Battle will then be given an opportunity to see them. I can say emphatically that the case will go to the court of appeals as soon as possible."

Boy Lost In the Woods.

Colebrook, N. H., Sept. 7.—Ernest Banfil has been lost in the woods since Aug. 26. Large searching parties have been scouring the forest during the intervening time, but no trace of the boy has been discovered. One day there were 800 men in the woods, but their efforts to locate the lad or find a clue as to his whereabouts were unrewarded. The mills at Beecher Falls have been shut down each day for some time past to enable their large number of operatives to join in the hunt.

Suspicion of a Hold-Up.

Hartford, Sept. 7.—Circuit racing Thursday was sensational in one feature, Prince Alert, one of the three starters in the free-for-all pace, after making a half in 1:00:3-4, coming in at the wire in second place. The odds were $50 to $10 on the horse, and the bets were declared off by the judges, on the supposition that Walker, who was up, held up the horse. Walker explained that Prince Alert came down the stretch suffering from blind staggers.

For Gotham Police to Unravel.

New York, Sept. 7.—From the appearence of a corpse, taken from the North river Thursday, the police believe they have a murder mystery on their hands. The body was that of a fairly well-dressed man, weighing about 180 pounds. The throat had been cut, and on the right hand was a gash which looked as though it might have been received in an effort to ward off a knife thrust. The body had been in the water a long time.

Cuban Crops Destroyed.

Havana, Sept. 7.—The mayor of Trinidad, province of Santa Clara, has wired to the military government from Casilda for assistance, claiming that a cyclone Wednesday destroyed all the crops of the district, and that the people are destitute. Efforts will be made to relieve the situation. Official advices from Santiago say that 15 inches of rain fell there Wednesday.

Lineman Badly Hurt.

Revere, Mass., Sept. 7.—Edward Pearson, a lineman employed by the Suburban Electric Light company, came in contact with a live wire on Ocean avenue Thursday night and fell from the electric light pole to the ground, a distance of 40 feet. He was picked up unconscious, having sustained a severe cut over the eye and internal injuries.

Admits His Guilt.

Gardiner, Me., Sept. 7.—William H. Walters was arrested here for stealing the team of Dr. A. P. Sawyer. Clarence Avery arrived from Bath in search of a team stolen from him and at once recognized Walters as the man he let it to. Walters acknowledged the theft of both teams.

Located In Illinois.

Elmira, N. Y., Sept. 7.—Charles F. Freidholdt, the local manager for R. G. Dun & Co., who disappeared five weeks ago, has been located at Harvey, Ills., and will be brought back to this city. It is charged that he is a defaulter.

Advance In Wages Granted.

Sydney, C. B., Sept. 7.—The strike at the miners of the North Sydney Mining and Transportation company is off, the miners receiving the advance demanded.

Ellsworth, Wednesday of this week, was a delightful affair, the day being cool and bright, and the view from the Faxon's country home of Boston bay enjoyed by all. Mrs. Faxon received with Mrs. Ellsworth on the veranda. Sherbet, cakes and lemonade were served on the lawn. The summer toilets of the ladies added to the brightness of the scene. Mrs. Ellsworth is a woman of charming personality and Quincy is fortunate to have a lady of such cultivation and wide experience added to its already attractive list of clergymen's wives.

CAPE ANN GRANITE.

Its Use by Metropolitan Water Board in Quincy Not Favored.

There is considerable feeling among the granite men over the action of the Metropolitan Water Board who are building the stand pipe on Third hill, because the contract for the granite for the outer walls has been let to the Cape Ann Granite Co.

According to Quincy granite men, the contract with Messrs. Breckenbridge & Co. specified that Quincy granite should be used in the construction of the outer wall.

Bids were asked, and the Quincy Quarry Co. and Fallon & Sons put in bids. Both of these firms say that they gave exceptionally low bids, and that when they were submitted the contractors informed them that Cape Ann parties had submitted lower bids, and that they would be given the contract.

If, as the Quincy men say, the contract specified Quincy granite, they should be made to live up to it. It is therefore probable that some action in the matter may be taken by the City Council at its meeting next Monday evening.

Rhodes-Potter.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Potter, Tremont street, South Braintree, was solemnized on Wednesday evening, one of the prettiest home weddings Braintree has had for many a day.

The bride was the eldest daughter, Marion Bartlett Potter, and the groom Mr. Wilbur M. Rhodes of Belfast, Maine. The decorations of the house were very artistic in pink and white, pinks, asters and white lilies being profusely used. Cuffs' orchestra played the wedding march, and furnished music throughout the evening.

Only the relatives and intimate friends were bidden to the wedding, which was solemnized at eight o'clock by Rev. C. F. Hill Crathern of the South Congregational church.

An informal reception followed the ceremony, and the bridal couple were assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Potter, the bride's parents. Morton P. Potter, brother of the bride, introduced the guests, assisted by Arthur C. Pratt of Weymouth and Frank Walker of South Braintree.

The bride's gown was of white silk, cut en train trimmed with duchess lace, caught with a beautiful diamond pendant, a gift from the groom. The tulle veil was caught up with orange blossoms and she carried a large bouquet of bride roses.

A wedding supper was served in the dining room, also fruit punch in the reception hall, and each guest was presented on leaving with a box of wedding cake.

Mr. and Mrs. Rhodes left late in the evening amid a shower of rice, firing of guns and the beating of drums. They go to Montreal on their wedding trip and on their return are to reside at Portland, Maine.

Miss Potter will be much missed at South Braintree, and especially in the home where she has been a dutiful and loving daughter and sister, but the home's loss is Mr. Rhodes' gain, and he has the sincere congratulations of a host of friends.

We wish Mr. and Mrs. Rhodes their just share of future happiness and prosperity and may they always find that: "Life's burdens are lighter for two than for one, and its pleasures less sweet when partaken alone."

AT THE SHIP YARD.

Whole Plant Will Soon be in Full Operation.

Although the keel of the cruiser Des Moines was partially laid last week, but little more has been done upon it up to the present. The keel is laid some fifty feet north of where it was first intended the cruiser should be built. The foundation upon which the keel rests must necessarily be solid and this has been accomplished by first building a narrow strip of granite and cement. Upon this the keel rests, and there is not much danger of its getting out of true.

From present indications it will not be long before the whole plant is in full operation. The large steel building and the machine shop are practically completed, and much of the heavy and costly machinery has arrived and is being set up. Further along toward Howard street is the power house, where the electric current which is the motive power to be used, will be generated. The boilers are in place and one of the engines that is to drive the generator has been set up and is being connected.

Still further along toward Howard street, is the blacksmith shop, the frame of which has been raised this week.

The several parts of the massive trip hammer are on the ground, and workmen are busy setting them up. Some idea of the power of this trip hammer may be had, when it is known that the hammer part of the machinery weighs 98,000 pounds. This is supposed to strike an eighteen-ton blow. There will also be other trip hammers of less power.

To the south of the blacksmith shop was a large gravel bank. This is fast disappearing, as the city teams are using it for surfacing the new street known as Des Moines street, which runs from Howard street to South street. This street is practically completed. It is a good wide street and one that will be used considerable.

The extreme easterly end of the ship yard, where the wharf has been built, is a busy part of the plant. Here there are vessels constantly unloading material for the plant, which is transported from the water's edge by the freight train to any part of the plant desired.

Many new lines of track have been laid so that now there is no part of the vast plant which it does not reach. The tracks are also laid into the buildings already erected, so that the heavy machinery is taken from the wharf and landed where it is to be set up.

On the water's edge there has just been completed a massive steel scow, which will be used by the company in transporting material from its plant at East Braintree to the Quincy Neck plant.

A large number of mechanics are at work upon the plant, but the thoroughness with which the work is being done, makes it seem some weeks as if slow progress was being made. This is not so, for considering the nature of the work rapid progress is being made.

State Road.

The following is the letter received from the Mass. State Highway Commission, which caused so much argument at the Braintree Town meeting on Thursday evening:

The Mass. Highway Commission has allotted the sum of $5,000 for the construction of a section of State highway in your town this year, said work to begin at the Quincy line and extended southerly.

Unless your Board already has authority to contract with this commission under Chapter 404, Acts of 1900, it will be well to at once call a town meeting to see if such authority may be granted. Your attention is called to the fact that under the Acts above referred to you will haxe but ten days to decide as to whether or not you will execute the contract after it is sent you.

If the town declines to give you such authority, kindly sign the enclosed "waiver of contract" and send it at once to this office.

To use the contrivance it is not necessary to have a specially built car, as it can be applied to any axle.

—The recent census gives Greater New York a population of 3,438,202, which makes it the second city in the world in point of population.

NINTH DAY.

FILLEY EXPOSED.

On Wednesday morning John Draper's first inquiries were directed to the Drovers' bank. There he learned, of course, that Reuben Filley had drawn the $50,000. At the bank doors all trace of the fugitive ceased. He was not at any of the hotels, nor had any of the president's Denver acquaintances seen him. It was certain that the money had not reached the hands of Dallon's men and that they had not set eyes on Filley since he left them.

Greatly puzzled and surprised was Draper at this state of affairs. Two theories presented themselves. Either Filley had met with foul play at the hands of some one who witnessed him draw the money or else he was pursuing some ulterior plan of his own. But among the letters and dispatches waiting for him Draper found the following telegram, dated New York, Tuesday, from the cashier of the Grain Exchange National bank:

Notes for fifty thousand drawn by R. K. Filley, favor of Cutting & Cutting, indorsed by you, presented payment. No funds Filley's account. Shall we take up? Answer.

The language of the dispatch was explicit enough—notes drawn by Filley for $50,000. What had he been up to? To say that Draper was indignant is to put it very mildly. He was simply furious. In all his long business career it had been his proud boast that no commercial paper bearing his name was ever protested. Even when he was a struggling merchant doing a big business on a small capital his name always stood high, for he had always protected his signature.

He knew that at the time he had no "paper" out. His private means were ample, and there was no need for him to raise money in that way. None but Filley could explain the mystery. However, one thing was certain. He, John Draper, had never appended his name to anything of the kind. Suddenly it flashed across his mind that there was a curious coincidence between the amount of the notes and the sum which Filley had drawn out of the bank. What treachery was afoot he could not tell, but it began to look black for Master Reuben.

Seizing a telegraph form, Draper rapidly indited the following reply to the Grain Exchange bank:

The next step was to endeavor to trace or find Filley. So to keep the matter from the ordinary police channels the Pinkerton agency was called in and the case placed in its hands, with a full statement of all the facts. And as Reuben Filley will not figure in these pages again it may be stated here that before leaving Denver John Draper had sufficient evidence to convince him that his trusted secretary was not only a forger and a defaulter, but a treacherous villain.

He was traced to the Union depot, thence to San Francisco, where the trail was lost. It was supposed that he caught an outward bound Pacific mail steamer for China and Japan, from whence it would be easy for him to reach India or Australia. Where he ultimately "fetched up" was never definitely known. John Draper declined to continue the search, preferring to pocket the loss. Neither the bank nor Cutting & Cutting cared to prosecute. The money secured on the forged notes for the partnership interest was refunded, and hence the matter dropped, a result which the astute Filley probably foresaw. The world of New York knew him no more.

The failure of President Draper to appear at the meeting of the railroad magnates occasioned no surprise at first, as it was expected that he might arrive at any moment. Then came the tidings of the mysterious disappearing of part of the express train, and the wildest conjectures became rife. Every foot of the railroad between Colorado Springs and Denver was searched again and again during the daylight hours of Sunday and Monday; but, as we have seen, it was not until Tuesday morning that the forgotten and disused railroad spur was thought of.

The news of the rescue was telegraphed into Denver from Castle Rock, and so when Draper appeared at the session of his confreres on Wednesday morning they knew all about his adventure and its happy termination.

Much of the routine business had been dispatched, and only a few weightier matters demanding unanimous action remained to be acted upon. Consequently by 3 o'clock the conclave adjourned sine die, and Uncle John hurried back to the hotel to announce that he was at the service of the ladies.

Chester Ives had improved the opportunity to change his clothes, and after a bath and a shave and a good night's rest he was none the worse for his nocturnal adventure. Nor did the ladies show any marked effects of the strain of the last two days beyond some natural lassitude and nervousness. But a quiet night went far to repair the shock and strain.

Draper found all the party assembled in the hotel saloon. It had originally been planned that a couple of days should be spent in sightseeing, but the adventure with James Dallon, Esq., and their enforced stay at his hostelry naturally interfered with this.

"Now, children," said bluff Uncle John, speaking to every one in general, but to Florence in particular, "what shall we do and where shall we go? I see that some cards have already been left by several people, and I have no doubt they will do all in their power to entertain you charmingly."

"For my part," said Mrs. Hurst, "I don't feel like entertaining or being entertained. I'm a perfect wreck, and you'll never catch me so far west of New York again."

"Oh, you don't know the west yet, my dear," replied her brother. "This has been an unfortunate trip, but you mustn't blame the country for our exceptionally trying experience."

"I like the country well enough," was the response. "The scenery is magnificent, and the climate is superb, but I must confess I don't admire some of its products—the Dallon gang, for instance," she concluded, laughing.

"Well, I can't blame you for that, only I had hoped to show you something of the west at its best before we turned our faces toward the rising sun again. What do the girls say?"

"The girls say, 'Stand not upon the order of your going, but go quickly,'" said saucy Madge. "Flo and I have settled everything. We don't want any more adventures. We've seen enough of the country, and the people can wait. We want to go home!" and she put her knuckles in her eyes and pretended to boo-hoo like a spoiled child.

Draper turned to Florence for confirmation, who said:

"I don't want to seem ungrateful, but I should like to get back to New York."

"Well, Ives, my boy," said their host, "you and I evidently have no option in the matter, but as a mere matter of politeness I should like to hear your wishes."

"Oh, I'm for New York," was the unblushing reply. "You know my leave expires tomorrow." But the rogue had taken his cue from Madge. If she had said, "Stay," he would have found means to square the office for a few days longer.

"That settles it!" said Uncle John. "I'm in a hopeless minority, and, to be frank with you, I want to get back myself." And then he told them of Filley's disappearance with the money intended for their ransom.

"The wretch!" hissed Florence Granniss, her usually pale face white with indignation. "We might have been murdered for all he cared! I always disliked him, but I almost came to hate him on this trip. So there!" And she subsided into a chair, all quivering with the unwonted excitement.

Mrs. Hurst beheld this little outburst with quiet satisfaction. If nothing else had been accomplished, Filley had put himself out of the running, and the danger was past. That Florence ever regarded the man seriously she had never been quite able to credit. Now it was John Draper's turn, and he should have his innings before New York was reached.

"Then it was Ches—Mr. Ives—who really saved us after all?" said Madge. "What should we have done without you?" she said. The words were simple and commonplace enough, but the tone and the glance which accompanied them were eloquent of honest admiration and maidenly liking. Mrs. Hurst saw and in that instant submitted to the inevitable.

"Yes; we certainly owe our safety to Chester," said Uncle John. "I should never have thought of the little river as a means of escape, and if I had I'm too fat to wriggle along like an eel in a water pipe. Ah, Ches, my boy, it's you youngsters who capture all the best things in life after all, and we old fellows have to put up with what is left," sighed Uncle John in mock dismay.

But Florence would none of this and came to the rescue.

"Why, Mr. Draper, what would we poor women have done if you had left us?"

"Yes," chimed in Ives, modestly anxious to change the direction of the conversation; "it needed more courage and fortitude to stay behind in that den of thieves than it did to cut and run. The only cur in the party vanished, and we can thank our stars that he did us none of the mischief he intended."

So saying he rose and went to the window where Madge was gazing down at the busy life of the Queen City of the Plains, and we will not disturb them.

"How soon can we start, John?" queried Mrs. Hurst.

"This very evening," was the reply. "We can go east with the flier at 6 o'clock. Is it agreed?"

"Oh, yes! Let us get away," begged Florence, and thus it was settled.

LAUGHING GAS.

The Man In the Cream Shirt Waist.

He came this way from Newport gay—
The man in the cream shirt waist!
He drifted down to Chicago town—
The man in the cream shirt waist!
And he thought as he walked in the sultry heat
The people would say as he passed on the street,
"He's fashionable, comfortable and neat"—
The man in the cream shirt waist!

He thought, with a smile, he'd set the style—
The man in the cream shirt waist!
They'd be "in the swim" and follow him—
The man in the cream shirt waist!
He thought he'd be one paradigm
When winds came up from a sultry clime
And shirt waist mills would work overtime—
The man in the cream shirt waist!

But, alas, and, lo, his cup was woe—
The man in the cream shirt waist!
And everywhere he saw them stare—
The man in the cream shirt waist!
"Sissy's shirt!" the boys would yell;
"Saw a freak!" the women would tell;
"Put on your coat!" at the big hotel—
The man in the cream shirt waist!

So he'll go away to Newport gay—
The man in the cream shirt waist!
Among the belles and foreign swells—
The man in the cream shirt waist!
Where beauty sports in the breaker flood,
Where wealth's autos are stalled in the mud,
Where you may wear cream or wild oxblood—
The man in the cream shirt waist!

To a Poet.

FROM DULCINEA.

Poet, although you've been extremely kind,
The time has come when I must speak my mind.

I think it is absurd for you to write
My "lips are like twin cherries." What a sight

I'd be if such a silly thing were true!
Do cherries really look like lips to you?

Then, "shell-like ears!" To the marines, pray tell,
My ear is like a hard and slimy shell!

"With eyes like stars!" Indeed, sir, even at night
My eyes are not two yellow dots of light.

And I confess it gives me quite a twinge
Just to imagine "lids with jetty fringe."

"Hair like a raven's wing!" Fancy a maid
With short, stiff quills that wouldn't coil or brai

And I would be the most distressed of girls
Were my teeth small and spherical "like pearls."

As to my neck, you really should be told
'Tis not "like alabaster," hard and cold.

Then "arms like ivory!" Candid, I must own!
Why don't you say they're nothing but a bone?

Oh, prithee, poet, if you think me fair,
With better things than these my charms compare!

Summer Fads.

Oh, where are the follies of summer flown?
No more we hear of the kissing bug
Who came from a source that was all unknown
And caused the lassies to shriek and shrug.
The kissing bug, he has taken wing,
And we even hint there was no such thing.

And we hear no more of the monster strange
That made us shudder and fear to sleep;
The sad sea serpent has ceased to range
On his 'customed course through the dismal deep.
We simply smile at our old time fuss
And wonder that we were so credulous.

We hear no more of the summer girl
Who once was praised in exalted rhymes;
"Her fluffy dress" and "her dainty curl"
Are only an echo of bygone times.
No more do we gather to sing her praise;
She is only a half remembered phrase.

Oh, where are the follies of summer flown?
Where is each foible and fleeting fad?
Those friends have drifted to realms unknown
And left the scene to one stalwart lad.
We see no more of the good old clan,
And all we have left is the shirt waist man.

Helping a Little.

When the days are hot and growing hotter
And earth is dry as a wornout blotter,
When the grass is crisp and the sky is copper
And more than a burden is each grasshopper,
When the shrill cicada's redhot voice is
A note at which no heart rejoices,
When at every crack the dust is sifting
And gasping hens their wings are lifting,
I like to think of the deep snow drifting,
Of frostbound pond and icicles brittle;
It helps a little.

When out on the path the step is ringing
And keen as a whip the sleet is stinging,
When buffalo robes are heaped to the shoulder
And the cold moon makes the night seem colder
When a few thin leaves on the beeches shiver
And dead and buried and gone is the river
And out of the north the flakes are flying,
I like to think of the new hay lying,
Of summer airs in the branches sighing,
Of the hammock at noon where I lounge or whittle;
It helps a little.

Ennui.

A stretch of landscape somber and serene,
A dull, gray sky farreaching overhead,
A flight of swallows wheeling eastward seen,
But from the earth all signs of life are fled.

The barren cliffs no movement swift can boast,
The fields are quiet with the still of death;
The languid wavelets softly kiss the coast;
The wind has hushed its stillness to a breath.

The strangeness born of silence still abounds,
And in the woods rest each bird and his mate,
Until the shrill, hoarse cry of curlew sounds
Like trumpet blast of destiny and fate.

Upon the rocks two silent figures sit,
A fair young girl with him who loves her so.
She sighs and shivers; then she yawns a bit
And petulantly says: "Oh, dear! How slow!"

HAS NOT CHANGED HIS OPINION.

President of Mine Workers Predicts a Strike Involving Half a Million People.

Indianapolis, Sept. 8.—Under the constitution of the United Mine Workers of America the executive board must decide before 6 o'clock tonight upon the application of the districts embraced in the anthracite region for permission to strike.

Indications are that before the time limit has expired messages will have been sent to the presidents of the three districts in question announcing that the permission has been granted. Following these messages will be others ordering the men out of the mines.

The question of ordering the strike was not submitted to a vote at Friday's meeting of the executive board, which was in session here all day.

Expressions were heard from the members of the board as to the advisability of ordering a strike and, after a day spent in discussing the situation and hearing the views of the board members, President Mitchell said: "I said some time ago that in my opinion there would be a big strike. After talking with my colleagues all day I have no reason to change my opinion."

This assertion is considered very significant at this time, and is taken as an assurance that unless conditions change very materially before tonight the big anthracite strike will be a question of but a few hours.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Sept. 8.—Miners' meetings were held in various parts of the Wyoming valley last night, and the strike situation discussed. In nearly all the meetings the sentiment was in favor of abiding by the decision of the executive board of the United Mine Workers, now in session at Indianapolis.

But Small Proportion of Voters.

Washington, Sept. 8.—General Sanger, director of the Porto Rican census, has just published the third bulletin relating to the population of the island of Porto Rico, with special reference to the effect upon the voting population of the educational requirement imposed by the Foraker act. Under the educational qualification the number entitled to vote in the island would be 47,978, or 25 percent of native-born males of voting age, restricting the suffrage to about one-fourth of the adult males.

Sailed Without Skipper or Keeper.

Portland, Me., Sept. 8.—Fishing schooner Margaret M. Mather arrived in this city Thursday from a successful mackerel trip. Soon afterwards a keeper was placed aboard of her on two attachments that had been served. Captain Mallock went ashore and then the crew cast off their lines and sailed away. The keeper came ashore. The Mather was caught off Cape Ann yesterday. Unless the crew return with all of the cargo, their cases will be considered by the federal courts.

American Energy to Be Rewarded.

Cape Town, Sept. 8.—Orders for 300 large coal trucks, involving £150,000, are about to be placed in America by gold mining companies on the Rand, in which quick delivery is vitally important. Tenders were received from British and American manufacturers, but the latter quoted lower prices and promised more speedy delivery. British financial houses fear that the English manufacturers will allow foreigners to reap the commerical benefits of the war.

Police Failed to Find Him.

Clinton, Mass., Sept. 8.—The police surrounded and advanced in battle array upon a shack inhabited by Italians on the Wauchusett reservoir Friday upon the strength of a "tip" that Alberto, the alleged wife murderer, was there in hiding, and although the squad searched every shack within the Italian quarter no trace of their man was gained. The belief prevails among the police that Alberto still lurks about the camps somewhere.

Edwards was convicted on a verdict of 10 to 2, and the court grants an appeal, as an unanimous verdict is necessary under the constitution.

NEW PHASE REACHED.

Administration Preparing Another Pronouncement as to China.

Ultimate Withdrawal of the United States Troops

Washington, Sept. 8.—Having received an intimation that the department officials were desirous of conferring with him, Minister Wu returned to Washington yesterday from Cape May. For nearly an hour the minister was closeted with Acting Secretary Hill and Assistant Secrtary Adee, the door being locked meantime and not even the messengers allowed entrance. None of the parties to the conference was communicative as to the conference, but at its conclusion Dr. Hill repaired to the White House with a portfolio well filled with papers.

For several hours preceding the minister's visit Acting Secretary Hill and Assistant Secretary Adee had been engaged in short conferences, and it was gathered that the negotiations relative to China were approaching another phase, and that another pronouncement of some kind was in preparation. The fact is recalled that when the United States made its response to the Russian note on Aug. 20 the officials here expressed the belief that about a week's time would be required to determine upon the next step, and at the end of that time it would be definitely known whether or not the troops were to be withdrawn from Pekin. That period of time has now elapsed. The reports from the European chancellories indicate that, officially at least, this important subject is being treated with the greatest deliberation, and at least another week, and probably even more time, may be consumed in framing the last of the answers to the Russian note.

Meanwhile our government has pretty well satisfied itself as to the attitude towards this last proposition of each and all of the powers interested in the Chinese problem. It may be that this knowledge is regarded as sufficient upon which to base another forward, and, perhaps, in this case an independent movement, by the United States towards the ultimate withdrawal of the troops and the settlement with China which the government has had in mind since the beginning of the trouble.

The consultations with Mr. Wu are believed to have been inspired by a desire to learn something of the personality of Chinese notables whose names have been suggested as proper to constitute the Chinese side of any commission which may be named to arrange a settlement of the difficulties. Mr. Wu is an ardent adherent of Earl Li.

There was a dearth of official information from China Friday. General Chaffee got through a dispatch dated Sept. 1, at Pekin, indicating that couriers are still employed to close the gap in the line of communication between Tientsin and Pekin. This dispatch made no mention of the military situation, and it was inferred that affairs in Pekin remain quiet. The message recommended that Special Colonel Aaron S. Daggett, Fourteenth United States infantry, be made a brigadier general for gallantry.

If this government is taking any measures urging the return of the imperial family to Pekin the responsible officials decline to make any statement on the subject. Such a step, however, on the part of the Chinese officials, it is pointed out, would be highly desirable and might be an important factor in facilitating the progress of the negotiations for a peaceful settlement of the existing troubles. With the responsible heads of the Chinese empire at the capital city, in direct communication with the representatives of the allied powers, much more satisfactory results could be accomplished than by negotiating through subordinates.

The situation at Amoy, China, having apparently cleared up considerably, the navy department instructed Admiral Remey to dispose as he deems best of the gunboat Castine, which was sent to that port some days ago when the Japanese landed marines. The Castine was on her way to the Cavite naval station when the troubles at Amoy threatened to become acute, but was diverted to the latter place to look out for American interests.

The statement was made last night that no new note had been sent to the powers by this government on the Chinese question. The United States, animated solely with the purpose of having an early settlement of the Chinese question, prefers that the armies of the allied powers should remain in Pekin until a settlement is definitely reached, but it is reiterated that should any nation withdraw its troops then our government will do likewise.

Opinion That Russia Will Leave Pekin.

London, Sept. 8.—The Chinese crisis presents no new features this morning. Nothing appears to be certain regarding Russian action. Various statements are made in Vienna and Berlin, with an assumed air of authority, but the balance of opinion leans to the belief that Russia is still inclined to adhere to her decision to leave Pekin, whatever the other powers may do.

Will Provide Accommodations

Chicago, Sept. 8.—Railroads operating south of the Ohio and east of the Mississippi have departed from the time-honored campaign year custom of gratuitously wheeling president and vice presidential candidates and their retinues about their territory on electioneering expeditions. This year they want money for hauling candidates by special trains, and they have agreed among themselves to stand out for a fixed rate per train mile. The national committee of the Democratic and Republican parties have been notified of the railroads' action.

Unregistered In Boston or Falmouth.

Boston, Sept. 8.—The Transcript says: "Richard Onley never was registered in Falmouth." This information is conveyed to Boston by wire from Zeba A. Holton, chairman of the Republican town committee of the place where Mr. Olney makes his summer residence, and, added to the fact that Mr. Olney is not and has not been registered in Boston for five years, gives cold proof that Mr. Olney himself is a violator of his own dictum that "the voting power is a trust which calls for use and is violated by the neglect of use."

Put In Final Arguments.

Biddeford, Me., Sept. 8.—The end of the Maine campaign for both Democrats and Republicans in this city came last night with enthusiastic rallies. At the Republican meeting Postmaster General Smith made the chief address, Richard Webb of Portland spoke on national issues. At the Democratic rally Messrs. Belleau and Clair, two representatives of the French people in Maine, spoke at some length.

Democrats to Confer.

Albany, Sept. 8.—Chairman Cantwell has issued a call for a conference of the executive committee of the Chicago platform Democrats at Saratoga Sept. 10, on the eve of the Democratic state convention. In his call, Chairman Cantwell says that conditions have arisen which threaten party unity and may, if permitted to continue, affect not only the state, but national ticket as well.

Talking to Kansans.

Kansas City, Sept. 8.—Senator Fairbanks of Indiana made the first speech of his Kansas tour Friday to a large and appreciative audience. He dwelt particularly upon Bryan's responsibility for the ratification of the Paris treaty. Senator Fairbanks spoke at Strong City last night.

Cockran to Stump For Bryan.

New York, Sept. 8.—National Committeeman Richardson announces that Bourke Cockran will take the stump for Bryan. Former Senator Gorman of Maryland has arrived here to assist the eastern branch of the Democratic campaign committee.

Party Question Brought to the Gallows.

Wilmington, N. C., Sept. 8.—Rather than be hanged at the hands of a Republican or Populist, as he declared, Archie Kinsaule, a condemned white murderer, who was sentenced to be hanged yesterday at Clinton, made two unsuccessful attempts yesterday to commit suicide in his cell, one by cutting his throat from ear to ear and another by taking morphine. Under the circumstances the governor has granted the murderer a respite of one week. Kinsaule, a Democrat, killed a Populist in the heated political campaign of 1898.

Burden on Steamship Companies.

New York, Sept. 8.—The price of coal is soaring in Europe, and not enough ships can be had on this side of the ocean to carry cheap coal to supply the demand. This is adding considerably to the operating expenses of the big steamship companies, as the swift liners burn from 400 to 550 tons of coal daily. Coal is worth from $2.50 to $3 a ton more in Europe than here. As a result the liners are carrying on the outward voyage enough coal to take them over and part of the way back.

Isabelle Is Released.

Burlington, Vt., Sept. 8.—The Isabelle case was brought to the attention of Burlington people Friday by the release from durance of M. M. Isabelle of Concord, N. H., on his own cognizance, having been taken into custody in the case wherein Mrs. Ella Bagley of this city is charged with obtaining money falsely. Lack of evidence is said to have caused a nol prosse of the warant.

English Spinners Stop Buying Cotton.

Providence, Sept. 8.—A girl of 4 years ran in front of a trolley car at Anthony village Friday noon and was ground under the wheels, and killed before the motorman could stop the car. The victim was crossing the street with a playmate, and ran from between two passing teams, directly in the path of the car.

Affects Only Low Grade Product.

Havana, Sept. 8.—The tobacco growers have submitted a petition to Governor General Wood, asking the removal of the export duty on tobacco. The petition is being favorably considered, as it affects only the low grade product, which is not used in the United States, but goes chiefly to Spain.

Excursion Steamer Disabled.

Plymouth, Mass., Sept. 8.—The excursion steamer John Endicott, which plies between Boston and Plymouth, was temporarily disabled Friday by the blowing out of one of her boiler tubes. There was no excitement on board and the hundreds of passengers were well taken care of over night.

Embezzlement Charge Against Banker.

Yates Center, Kas., Sept. 8.—E. A. Runyon, a banker, has been arrested, charged with the embezzlement of $12,000. The arrest was made on a warrant sworn to by County Treasurer Culver in behalf of the officers of the Citizens' State bank, of which Runyon was cashier.

HUSTLING CANDIDATE.

Roosevelt Finds His Time Fully Occupied In His Western Tour.

Ex-Senator Hill Makes Unexpected Address at Herkimer.

Evidence That the Political Pot Is Actively Sizzling In Many Quarters.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Sept. 8.—Governor Roosevelt arrived at this city last evening, and was accorded a grand street demonstration. Later he spoke in the Auditorium, which was crowded to its utmost capacity, and later made a brief speech in Powers' theatre. During his trip through Michigan yesterday, Colonel Roosevelt made eight speeches, beginning at Bay City at 8:30 in the morning and ending at Hastings at 5 o'clock. The crowds at the various stopping places during the day were large, appreciative and responsive. The governor is pleased with his western reception, although he complains that he is greatly overworked. He says that while his health is robust and his strength equal to any ordinary demand, he will be glad when he crosses the Michigan state line into another state where the central committee does not work its candidates so hard. The governor slept here last night in his private car, and started for South Bend, Ind., today, where he speaks this evening.

HILL APPEARS AT HERKIMER.

Herkimer, N. Y., Sept. 8.—ExSenator Hill's appearance here last evening occasioned something of a sensation in political circles. He came ostensibly to visit his old friend, ex-Judge Earl. He was met by Judge Earl at the Central depot, and they dined together. That Judge Earl was to be advanced as a compromise candidate for governor was rumored as an explanation of Mr. Hill's visit, but Judge Earl said emphatically that his name was not to be considered.

After dinner the Fort Dayton band appeared at the hotel and serenaded Mr. Hill, who was called upon for a speech by the crowd assembled in front of the hotel. Mr. Hill said:

"It is needless to say that I am heartily in favor of the election of Bryan and Stevenson. They are the candidates of the Democratic party, duly and regularly nominated at a national convention, of which I was a member, and which treated me, from beginning to end, with marked and unusual courtesy, and I am honorably bound to actively support a ticket of my party nominated under such circumstances.

"Our candidates represent the interests of the average man—the plain people of the country—the farmer, the mechanic, the laborer. The issues this year are very plain and cannot be misunderstood. Let me epitomize them: One party favors large standing armies, immense public expenditures, a government of grandeur and magnificence, high protective tariffs, a British colonial policy, great combinations of corporate wealth and a centralized government.

"The other party favors a continuance of the plain and simple government of our forefathers, public expenditures limited to the actual necessities of the government, tariff taxation for public purposes only, an army for defense and not for conquest, competition in business free from monopolistic combinations.

"These are the essential differences concisely stated between the two great parties.

"If wise counsels shall prevail at the Saratoga convention next week and we proceed on right lines to plan for victory instead of inviting defeat, and shall so shape our course and policies as to deserve the suport of the great independent and conservative forces of this state—always an important factor in our elections—and the thousands of Republicans dissatisfied with the arbitrary machine rule of their party— we cannot only rescue the Empire state from further Republican control, but can give our electoral vote for William J. Bryan."

The Croker Slate.

Saratoga, N. Y., Sept. 8.—Richard Croker has not arrived here, and neither has Senator McCarren, but both are expected today. Congressman Sulzer and Henry D. Purroy are the latest additions to the group of politicians. Every delegate that has arrived predicts that Mr. Croker has the upper hand in the contest for control of the convention. Talk of the ticket seems to favor the head as Stanchfield and Mackey. If, however, Stanchfield should not want to run, Mackey is spoken of for first place, with Colonel Rowe for lieutenant governor. It is believed that the ticket will be made up as follows: For governor, J. B. Stanchfield; lieutenant governor, W. F. Mackey; secretary of state, C. F. Rowe; comptroller, Edwin Atwater; attorney general, George M. Palmer.

Considered Asiatic Labor.

San Jose, Cal., Sept. 8.—The state Democratic convention adjourned Friday after nominating an electoral ticket and adopting a platform embodying the principles set forth in the national platform adopted at Kansas City. The platform condemns the employment of Asiatics and favors the re-enactment and improvement of the Chinese exclusion act and the adoption of such laws as will exclude all Asiatic labor. It opposes "government by injunction," denounces the blacklist and favors arbitration between corporations and their employes.

THE BUSINESS OUTLOOK.

Favorable Developments This Week With Further Improvements Considered Probable.

New York, Sept. 8.—Bradstreet's says: Trade developments this week have been mainly favorable, and the improvement in general distributive business noted in the latter part of August has gathered force in the first week of September. Leading features have been the widening fall trade reported at nearly all points, west, south and on the Pacific coast, some improvement in the jobbing demand at the east, with southern buying a marked feature, rather better reports from the two great staple crops of the west and south, corn and cotton, improved export demand for American products, notably wheat, iron and steel and cotton, a growth in cheerfulness, albeit with some irregularity in prices of iron and steel, and unvarying good returns by the transportation interests of the country.

It is a question whether the admittedly backward demand for some lines of goods has not been due to a prolongation of the vacation season, and certainly the expectation is that further improvement is still probable when the business interests are again actively engaged.

The corner appears to have been turned in bank clearings because the aggregate for the first week in September, though broken by holidays, is larger than the total for the preceding week.

The industrial outlook has been improved by settlement of the tin plate scale, the general resumption of operations in the glass industry, the predicted settlement satisfactorily of the remaining iron and steel wage scales, and the possibility that recent large sales of print cloths will avert a resort to wage reductions in the New England cotton mill industry. The anthracite coal trade outlook is, however, clouded by the prediction that 140,000 men will strike this week.

Business failures for the week number 154, as against 165 last week, 123 in the week a year ago.

Mystery Partially Unravelled.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Sept. 8.—A skeleton was found in an old well on a farm near Stormville, nearly two weeks ago, and an inquest has established the identity of the remains as those of Charles Brower, a farm-hand, who disappeared 14 years ago. It was shown that Peter Austin, the former owner of the farm, and Brower had a fight two months before the latter disappeared. In the encounter Brower's leg was broken and was never properly set. A leg bone in the skeleton found in the well established the identity. While the evidence was entirely circumstantial the farmer is now in jail here charged with murder.

Placing the Responsibility.

Lasdale, Pa., Sept. 8.—The coroner's jury which has been investigating the cause of the wreck on the Philadelphia and Reading railroad at Hatfield, last Sunday, in which 13 persons were killed and over 50 injured in a collision between a milk train and a crowded excursion train, rendered a verdict fixing the responsibility upon the railroad company, Engineer Davis and Conductor Shelby of the colliding train, D. B. Beidler, telegraph operator at Souderton, and W. S. Groves, train dispatcher in the Reading terminal station at Philadelphia.

Dangerous Spot For Mariners.

Miami, Fla., Sept. 8.—The barkentine Culboon of St. John, N. B., laden with pine lumber, is ashore five miles south of Caryfoot light. She is waterlogged. She was driven over a reef and is lying in 12 feet of water. The vessel and cargo may be saved. Three miles south of the barkentine Culboon is a deserted lumber-laden barque, which stranded during the night of the 5th. The crew, it is thought, was swept overboard during the storm. The vessel is thought to be Norwegian.

Two Cases of Smallpox Unearthed.

New Bedford, Mass., Sept. 8.—Two new cases of smallpox were discovered in a house on Hicks street, which had been watched for the past two days. Inspections made on Wednesday and Thursday afternoons revealed nothing, but a later visit resulted in the discovery that two cases had been concealed, and the house was at once quarantined. The victims are Omer Brault, 3 years old, badly affected; and Azellie Brault, 12 years old, nearly recovered.

What Liquor Will Do.

Clinton, Mass., Sept. 8.—With a shotgun and two dirks for weapons, Frank Murphy of Sterling, somewhat influenced by liquor, started out to kill somebody Friday. He threatened his wife and children, who escaped before injury was done them, and then he attacked Michael Corkey, who was at work in a field, seriously cutting and bruising him. He will recover.

Meat Unfit For Use.

Liverpool, Sept. 8.—A corporation inspector yesterday condemned a large portion of the beef and mutton preserved by the new sterilized air process, brought by the British steamer Southern Cross from Buenos Ayres. The rest of the cargo realized about half the prices of American chilled beef.

Church Dignitary Tenders Resignation.

Chicago, Sept. 8.—It is reported that the resignation of Bishop Alexander J. McGavick, appointed nearly two years ago to assist Archbishop Feehan, has been forwarded to Rome. Bishop McGavick, it is said, resigns on account of ill-health.

Want Pay For Lost Time.

Winnipeg, Man., Sept. 8.—A strike among Canadian Pacific conductors is considered almost certain. The company offered to reinstate four men suspended, but they refused to work unless given pay for the time suspended.

Portland Shows Rapid Growth.

Washington, Sept. 8.—The population of Portland, Me., as officially announced, is: In 1900, 50,145; in 1890, 36,425. These figures show for the city as a whole an increase in population of 13,720, or 37.67 percent from 1890 to 1900.

Is it that the practical demonstration of Socialistic theories necessarily brings about such results, or is it to be admitted that the glare of the Socialistic ideal blinds its representatives to the facts and conditions of every-day life? A friend in need is a friend indeed, and such a friend to the laboring man our Social Democratic city fathers have not shown themselves to be during the present year.—Haverhill Gazette.

Gordon Rest.

Five ladies of South Braintree took a trip to Hanson Tuesday morning and visited Gordon Rest. Miss Hill, daughter of the president, Mrs. E. Trask Hill, very kindly showed them over the home and gave many points of interest about the carrying on of the work.

This summer the house has been full and over a hundred applicants have been refused. They were especially interested in looking over the Inez Penniman Memorial room, which a year ago several ladies of the South parish helped to furnish.

This home is a worthy object and calls for contributions from all interested in giving tired women a few weeks' vacation in the country.

—Three million dollars is the amount of money the people of Boston will spend on their public schools this year. Out of the $14.75 which every $1,000 of assessed property in Boston must pay, $2.90 goes for school expenditure. Our school system comes high, but the education of our children is the most important work in which the city is engaged, and if the children get the worth of the money their fathers can afford to pay it. The City Auditor presents figures showing that in the last ten years the School Committee of Boston has spent $25,533,724.—Boston Courier.

—Hyde Park has 1360 pupils in its grammar schools and 256 in the High schools.

W. Y. C. CRUISE.

The Yachts to Participate With Their Guests.

The fourth annual cruise of the Wollaston Yacht club took place Saturday, Sunday and Monday and was enjoyed by 48 members and friends, requiring fourteen yachts to convey them. Three captains started early Saturday morning and sailed direct to Gloucester, remaining there over night and returning to Marblehead, Sunday, where they met the rest of the fleet which had sailed down that morning. When all were in port a visit among the boats was in order. Most of the "regulars," were met and many new faces were seen.

After a pleasant day and night spent in Marblehead, the fleet at 8.15 A. M., Monday, passed in review of Commodore Fenno, dipped their colors and moved out of the harbor. After rounding the neck, every skipper seemed to be filled with the racing spirit, for every boat was seen to trim sheets and point as high as possible in the strong S. W. wind which prevailed. The race to Bass Point was a hotly contested. Vice Commodore Merrill arriving first, closely followed by our Tax Collector. So close indeed, that "Gene" passed Mr. Baker two dollars as an inducement to luff. Some thought that Gene was saving a trip to City Hall, but it was not so. After the races at Bass Point, the fleet disbanded and sailed home independently.

During the entire trip they were favored with a good wholesale breeze and pleasant weather.

Yawl Brant—Commodore Fenno, Dr. Howard Streeter, Councilman Nichols and Winthrop Fenno.

Thelma II—Vice Commodore E. A. Merrill, Frank Brackett.

Mudjekeewis—Capt. A. L. Baker, Clair Baker, Lowell Baker, Herbert Meserve. Mr. Baker also had lady passengers from Marblehead.

Premier—Capt. Standford Hayden, E. A. Hayden, J. F. Bubert, Loring Dimmock.

Yacht Edna—Capt. C. F. Marr, C. W. Page.

—Boston is now the fifth city in the United States, judged by quantity and the census returns, while it is the first, judging by the opinion of its citizens as to quality.—Boston Home Journal.

—Have you been at Revere or at Nantasket beach this summer? And have you noted the delightful change for the better? And was it not a revelation to find that there are so many respectable people in the world? Thousands upon thousands of them.—Massachusetts Ploughman.

—The United States has not been alone in its sufferings this summer. England has had a hot wave with the thermometer jumping up to nearly 90 degrees.

The flags on the several engine houses and school buildings were at half mast Friday out of respect of Councilman Hultman.

Mrs. Abigail D. Cunningham, who died in South Weymouth on Thursday, will be brought to Quincy today for interment at Mt. Wollaston.

A certain young lady in Quincy while out walking one evening this week, saw as she supposed, a cute little black kitten on the car track. In her good heartedness, she attempted to remove it from its dangerous position but her simple act of kindness was followed by disastrous results. Moral:—Beware of little black animals.

Mr. William B. Glover, who has a very attractive residence and grounds on Atlantic street, has also in his yard a prize too heavy to lift but not too big to roll. It is an iron ball, weighing about 200 pounds, which was fired at a target in Quincy bay from South Boston, about half a century ago, at the time cannons were manufactured at Alger's foundry at South Boston. Quite a number were found at Atlantic in those days, and this one is kept as a souvenir by Mr. Glover in his yard.

A pleasant word has often been said through these columns of the grounds of the Mass. Field school. Still we believe too much has not, or cannot, be said of the care and attention given by the janitor, J. W. Dorety, to the lawns, the walks, the plants and flowers, and to the building generally. It is very creditable to the citizens of Norfolk Downs to have such a handsome school building and nice grounds. Even in these dry times, when most lawns are dry and yellow, those about this school are kept green and beautiful.

—The revenues of the postal service are of good index of business conditions. The revenues of the postal service for the year ended June 30 last amount to $95,021,384, and the expenditures to $101,632,161, leaving a deficit of but $6,610,777. This is the smallest deficit reported since 1893.

Dear Sirs:—Some days since a package of your GRAIN-O preparation was left at my office. I took it home and gave it a trial, and I have to say I was very much pleased with it, as a substitute for coffee. We have always used the best Java and Mocha in our family, but I am free to say I like the GRAIN-O as well as the best coffee I ever drank.
Respectfully yours, A. C. JACKSON, M. D.

THE FORBIDDEN CITY.

Wonderful Features of the Imperial Section of Peking.

TWO HUNDRED PALACES THERE.

A Veritable City of the "Arabian Nights," Into Which Allied Troops Marched and Where Women of the Harem Live—Special Temple Dedicated to Discoverer of Silkworms.

The only detailed description of the Forbidden City extant, a section of Peking through which the allied troops marched recently, is given by Dr. S. Wells Williams in his "Middle Kingdom," says the Cincinnati Commercial Tribune. He says that in the great tower above the south gate of the inclosure is a huge gong which is struck whenever the emperor passes through. Here the imperial ruler receives his troops when they return in triumph, and here he confers gifts upon vassal potentates and viceroys. Passing through this gate, one finds himself in a large court, where a small stream is spanned by five marble bridges. These bridges cross over into a second court, which is paved by marble and flanked by pillared corridors and porticoes. At the head of this court is a superb marble structure, known as the Gate of Extensive Peace, 110 feet high. It is a sort of balcony, where the emperor, on New Year's day and other festive occasions, receives the homage of his courtiers.

Ascending a stairway and passing another gate, one reaches the Tranquil Palace of Heaven, in which is the imperial council chamber, and wherein candidates for office are presented to the sovereign. This is the richest, loftiest and most magnificent of all the palaces. In a court beneath its walls is a small tower of gilt copper adorned with a great number of statues. Beyond this building is the Palace of Earth's Repose, which accommodates the imperial harem, superintended by the empress.

Between this palace and the north wall of the Forbidden City are the gardens appropriated for the use of the inmates of the harem—the wives of the emperor, the eunuchs and other attendants. These gardens are adorned with pavilions, temples and beautiful groves of trees, interspersed with canals, fountains and other ornamental artifices.

This walled imperial precinct is a veritable city of the "Arabian Nights," and its truthful annals might compose many a volume of fascinating and romantic interest. It is surrounded by a deep moat, and the eastern part of it contains, among other buildings, the offices of the cabinet and the treasury. North of these offices is the so called Hall of Intense Thought, where periodical sacrifices are made to Confucius and other sages, and near by is the Hall of the Literary Abyss—in other words, a library—which publishes from time to time a catalogue which is an excellent synopsis of the best Chinese literature up to date. At the north end of the eastern division are numerous palaces and buildings occupied by princes of the blood royal and their relatives and families. In this same quarter is a small temple to which the emperor comes at regular intervals to perform devotions before the tablets of his ancestors.

Surrounding the Forbidden City is a second and larger walled inclosure, known as the Imperial City. It is an oblong square six miles in circuit and has a great gate on each of its four sides. On its eastern side is a depository of military stores, with workshops for the manufacture of munitions of war. A beautiful artificial lake more than a mile in length is supplied by the Tunghui river and is crossed by a bridge of nine arches, its banks being shaded by groves of trees. On the west side is a hall for the examination of candidates for military appointments, and here the emperor in person sees the aspirants exhibit their prowess in equestrian archery. A special temple is dedicated to Yuenfi, the supposed discoverer of the silkworm, to whom sacrifices are offered annually, and near this shrine are a plantation of mulberry trees and a cocoonery.

Close by, on the borders of the lake, is the Temple of Great Happiness, wherein is inshrined a gilded copper statue of Buddha 60 feet high with 100 arms. Many arms when appended to the image of a Chinese god signify much power.

There are upward of 200 palaces in the two inclosures of the Forbidden City and the Imperial City. Much gorgeousness is assembled within a small area, but not even the sacred dwelling of the emperor himself has modern plumbing, and the conveniences deemed essential to comfort in occidental countries are conspicuously absent in the royal domiciles and official buildings. Everywhere there are gilded squalor and dirt thinly covered up.

An-archy.

The farther one probes into the Chinese sore, says the New York Press, the less Boxer and the more dowager one finds.

ENDS IN A ROW.

Tomorrow closes the season of the Yacht Racing Association, and it may be wind up for the Association which seems to have sailed in turbulent water since the withdrawal of the Quincy Yacht club.

In the past the annual rendezvous has been at Hull, but the Hull club refused this year to open its clubhouse to visiting yachtsmen, and the association therefore decided upon South Boston as the place of rendezvous. But the South Boston clubs don't take kindly to the change, and will not put themselves out to decorate, illuminate or entertain.

The South Boston club will have a handicap race to Hull this afternoon, and the Columbia club will have a run to the same place, so their clubhouses will be practically deserted. The association has beeen advised to call the rendezvous off.

$50 Fine for Fishermen.

Catching smelts in Massachusetts waters by means of a seine is a very serious offense as is very evident from the sentences imposed by Judge Humphrey in the District Court this morning. Deputies Hunt and Thayer of the Fish and Game Commission have been on the lookout for some Italians who they had reason to believe were seining smelts. Friday they landed on Moon Island where they found three Italians asleep on the shore. Near them was a smelt seine in which were several smelts, the officers arrested the men and seized the seine and two boats. The court after hearing the evidence imposed the minimum fine which was $50 each. It also forfeited the seine and boats.

No More H. O. Races.

Not over three yachts started in any of the classes at the Hull races yesterday. The H. O. boats, Hanley, Empress and Al Kyris, were on hand, but the last two refused to sail against the Hanley, and started five minutes in advance for a match race. This gave the Hanley a walkover. In the other classes the Flirt, Holly and Barbara won first prizes, and the Little Peter, Nike and Zaza secured prizes.

In the race scheduled for today there will be no H. O. class, which is probably a thing of the past because of the trouble at Quincy.

Fisher Cup Race.

The Genesee, built by Hanley, is racing today a Rochester, N. Y., as defender of the Fisher cup. The challenger is the Minota of Toronto. The course is a triangular one of 20 miles, three and a half miles to a leg, twice round. The start was at 11. A M. and the time limit is five and one-half hours.

The Genesee was successful in defending the Canada cup last year, and is sailed by the same skipper.

—The Massachusetts state board of health is about to enter upon one of the most important enterprises ever undertaken in this Commonwealth. This is the practical elimination of arsenic from every woven fabric or paper made or sold in this state. It has secured an act fixing severe penalties on every "corporation, person, firm or agent who directly, or by an agent, manufacturers, sells, exchanges, or has in his custody or possession with intent to sell or exchange, any woven fabric, or paper, or article of dress or of household use containing arsenic in any form above a certain legal limit." The state board has been at work for fourteen years for such a law and the last legislature gave it the power. The law was approved May 18, becomes operative Jan. 1, 1901, and places the power in the hand of the state board.—Boston Home Journal.

PRESSED FLOWERS.

Flowers are pressed and dried in books—
Gone lucent colors, fresh and new;
Gone sweetness, swaying, bloom and dew!
And thought is as mummied there in books—
No light of eye nor poise of head,
The thought that's written is unsaid.

And yet one touch of nature's there,
And memory leads us true,
From withered leaf to budding flower,
From moldering dust to freshening shower,
From musty page to odorous air,
From words to thoughts anew.

TRICKING THE EGYPTIANS.

BY M. QUAD.

[Copyright, 1900, by C. B. Lewis.]

When the firm of Haywood, Stone & Co. of London established an agency at Cairo, Egypt, I was placed in charge. My business was the buying of rugs, vases, arms, cloths and whatever else might find sale in England. That was what I may call my general and legitimate business. As a side line I was to pick up bargains in mummies. Up to the founding of that agency in Cairo only a few museums in Europe or America had been able to secure specimens. To get hold of a mummy with a history required a couple of years' diplomatic correspondence between governments, and the cost would run up as high as $30,000. Under the laws of Egypt it was death to disturb the dead without official permission, and death to any foreigner discovered trying to ship a mummy out of the country without special license. In justice to the old and respectable house I have named I must say that they had no knowledge of my side line. I had a partner in London who advanced the money and shared the profits. When I was ready to begin business, we had orders for 30 mummies.

Let me tell you that I had a crafty part to play. In a way the branch was under the supervision of the Egyptian government. At the end of each week I had to submit a list of my purchases. All my shipments had to pass the customs officials. My warerooms must always be open to official inspection. I was not told in so many words that all this watchfulness was to prevent me from dealing in mummies, but of course I knew that it was. My first step was to bribe every official who could obstruct me, and I had to move slowly in the matter and make no mistakes. Then an agent must be found to look up and ship me the specimens from points in the interior, and he had to be a nervy as well as an honest man. He in turn would have to find faithful men, and taken all in all it was a bit of business to be handled with care. It was six months before I got it under way, and after once fairly in it there was not an hour in which I felt safe from discovery.

In most cases the burial places in Egypt are easily to be got at. Most of our orders simply called for a specimen, and it made no difference about the sex or whether there was a record attached. There were a few museums in want of particular bodies. They wanted kings, queens, generals or poets who had been dead from 3,000 to 5,000 years. It is perhaps unnecessary to inform the reader that I always filled these orders. After getting a mummy into my warehouse I had a way of making it fill the bill and give general satisfaction. My assistant, who was a native antiquary, a native doctor and a villain, was handy at unwrapping and rewrapping and carving hieroglyphics and manufacturing relics. If there was fraud in it, I do not seek to defend myself. I simply say that if there is a public demand for the mummy of Pharaoh it is the duty of some agent to supply it as near as possible and keep people good natured.

In the course of two years I shipped 56 mummies safely out of Cairo and landed them in London, and I am frank to say that my dividends were considerably larger than those paid last year by the Standard Oil company or the Carnegie Iron works. The mummy business was booming, and I was filling orders for anything up to 10,000 years old on demand when a government official gave me a hint that my business had been tumbled to. He exchanged his information for my $20 goldpiece and went his way, and it was my business to put up a job on the khedive and square myself. I don't know that any one had given me away directly, but suspicion had somehow become aroused, and I was to be put under surveillance and caught red handed. My shipments suddenly ceased, and the mummy market became dull. After a couple of weeks my assistant villain went up the Nile toward the ruins of Memphis to look for a man. It was a live man and a particular sort of man he wanted, and when he found him the sum of $30 changed hands. Then the man died. At least he was swathed in bandages which had come from the looms 2,000 years before, scented and spiced in A1 style and then put in a coffin which gave him away as having been dead almost 20 centuries. The hieroglyphics on that coffin and on a manuscript inclosed revealed the fact that the dead man was the celebrated fakir Sonadi Hassassan and that when he had slept his sleep he would awaken and begin another pilgrimage on earth.

The mummy reached my warehouse one afternoon, and within an hour a government official backed by a file of soldiers had arrived to make a search. There had been no concealment. The mummy occupied a conspicuous position. They had caught me red handed in a way, and yet they could not understand why I had been so open about it.

"My dear sir," I said to the official, "I know the laws of Egypt. I am not dealing in mummies. The law does not say I may not restore a dead man to life. At this present hour that thing there is a mummy. Tonight at 9 o'clock it will be a living man."

"What nonsense is this?" exclaimed the man as he struck the coffin with his cane. "Do you think I am a child to believe such tales?"

"I think you are a very smart man," I replied, "but there is yet something to learn. Read of Sonadi Hassassan. He was the greatest magician the world ever knew. He it was who made the Nile flow backward for a day. When he had lived for 1,000 years, he became weary for the want of sleep. He fell into a trance which was not to be broken for 2,000 years. The time is up at 9 o'clock tonight."

"And he will come back to life?" queried the man, with an incredulous smile.

"He will. You and your friends will be here to see. I had read of him, and I was anxious to get his body. I paid a large price for it that I may see it restored to life with my own eyes."

The Egyptian's natural superstition and my earnestness staggered the man, and when I saw it I clinched the matter by saying:

"It is only a few hours to wait. You shall dine with me at 8 o'clock. At 9 my assistant shall unwrap Hassassan and bring him to life. Let two of your soldiers watch the coffin meanwhile. If things don't turn out as I say, you shall carry me off prisoner and have $100 in gold as a present."

"So be it," he said after a long look at me, "but do not attempt to trick me. I am no fool."

Two soldiers were left to watch the coffin, and in my hearing he warned them that any remissness on their part would be followed by swift punishment. My living rooms were over the warerooms. When the dinner hour arrived, I had the official and two of his friends to sit down with me. All three of the men had made up their minds that I was playing a game of bluff, and they had a curiosity to know how I was going to carry it through. Fifty dollars would have bribed any of them to shut his eyes for a year, but in this case they had received their orders direct from the minister and dared not trifle with him. They drank sparingly of the wine that they might keep their heads clear, but grew sufficiently good natured to hope that I might get out of the trouble without serious loss.

"There will be no trouble," I replied, with calm assurance. "Sonadi Hassassan has had his sleep and will return to life, and the government will probably reward me for restoring such a celebrated man to earth. Come, gentlemen, it is time."

The soldiers had been sitting before the coffin for hours. My assistant was on hand and ready, and we lost no time in getting to work. The coffin was tilted up on end, the body lifted forward so that it could be got at, and the wraps were soon removed. I knew that the mummy was a live man, but never had I looked upon the face of a subject showing death and the passage of time more plainly. The face would have deceived the wisest professor in Europe. There were the sunken eyes and cheeks, the loss of teeth and the seal brown color, and I found myself wondering if some mistake hadn't been made. The official and his friend quietly chuckled as the business proceeded, and my assistant villain was the only one who was perfectly placid. He did not hurry his work. He was a full half hour getting down to the last wrapping, which was a sort of union garment made for the occasion. Then he stepped back with a flourish, picked up a stick and, striking three blows on the coffin, he called out:

"It is time, Sonadi Hassassan; it is time!"

The chest of the mummy began to heave and its eyes to flutter. Then came a long breath and its eyes unclosed. The soldiers bolted from the warehouse in affright, and the three men retreated several paces in consternation. Very slowly and without a false motion the mummy gasped and stretched and looked about. A hand went up to rub sleep from its eyes. Then it moved uneasily and presently stepped from the coffin, straightened up and passed out of the door into the night with slow and dignified steps.

"Well?" I queried as I turned to the dumfounded trio.

They stood staring with open mouths, and I had to put hands on them before they came back to earth.

"Did I not tell you so? Did I not say that after a sleep of 2,000 years the great magician would return to life?"

They did not answer, but with pale faces and chattering teeth they tottered out into the darkness with a mighty fear upon them. I had the agency for two years longer, and there was a continuous boom in the mummy market, but after that incident there was never an official inspection of my stock. The officials could not have been hired for money to poke about in the dark corners.

Pooling In Wedding Presents.

"What shall we give her?" That is a question which desolates innumerable breakfast tables when the morning post brings the announcement of an approaching marriage. A most valuable precedent has been set by a batch of Lady Randolph Churchill's friends, who clubbed together and presented her with a beautiful gewgaw in the shape of a pearl and diamond tiara. The example should be followed widely. Individual effort is apt to fritter itself away in superfluous salt spoons and unnecessary photograph frames. Given a bride, it is pretty certain that many of her friends will be friends of one another. And how much more pleasant for the bride and how much simpler for her friends is the pooling of affection in a really valuable gift! The perennial difficulty of the wedding present is in a fair way toward solution.—London Chronicle.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning Sept. 9—Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle.

TOPIC.—Our simple duty.—Luke xvii, 7-10.

THE PARABLE.

The parable of the plowing servant is not a very familiar one. In some books on the parables of Christ it is not to be found at all. Yet it teaches Christians a very important lesson and warns them against a very grave danger, peculiar to Christians only. If you have a servant, says Christ, who has been plowing or feeding cattle, doing his work faithfully, when he comes in from the field you do not say, "Sit down to meat," but "Make ready wherewith I may sup, and afterward thou shalt eat and drink." So likewise Christ adds when we have done all that we have been commanded, we shall be unprofitable servants, having done simply our duty.

THE INTERPRETATION.

What does this parable of the plowing servant mean? It must be studied in the light of its surroundings, and the one lesson that it is intended to teach must not be lost sight of, nor must it be taken to teach too much. Christ's disciples have asked for an increase of faith. Christ replies that a little real faith would accomplish what seemed to them impossible, that faith as a grain of mustard seed would remove trees and plant them in the sea. Then follows this parable, and what for but to warn the disciples against the danger of being unduly proud of what they could do as a result of their faith and of thinking that in what they did there was personal credit and merit. Suppose they did do great things? Would merit be attached to it? No. Because in all they might do they were only doing what was their duty and doing it by the power of God Himself.

A servant does his day's work faithfully. He comes in from the field. Does the master say, "You've done well; sit down and eat?" No. The servant had but done his duty. The master owned him. There was still work for him to do, other duties to be performed—the master's meat must first be prepared. Thus Christ warned the disciples against attaching merit to their personal works. They were God's servants. Their service belonged to Him as a result of ownership. The fulfilling of it in this relation would give them no claim to merit. Simple duty demanded it of them, and after all was done no man could claim to be more than an unprofitable servant. Let us remember that this is only one phase of our relation to God. We are His sons as well as His servants, and in this relation God is love and not simply just.

THE APPLICATION.

An emphasis needs to be placed upon duty in religion. There is too much of a tendency today to emphasize sentiment and personal inclination. There are too many who serve God when they feel like it and neglect it when they feel otherwise. Duty has its place, and an important place. We are God's and should serve God as a result of this ownership and not for rewards that may be attached to the performance of duty. Feelings change; duty is unchangeable. Christianity is opposed to natural personal inclinations, and hence we cannot give them the supreme place in our religion. Men ought to obey God, though obedience may conflict with personal inclination, and if by God's grace we do accomplish something let us not be puffed up, for, do what we may, we only do our duty.

THE PRAYER MEETING.

Have the parable explained and applied, followed by an open voluntary service.

BIBLE READINGS.

Eccl. ix, 10; xii, 13, 14; Job, xxii, 1-3; Math. xxv, ; Acts v, 29; Rom. xii, 1, 2; I Cor. vi, 19, 20; ix, 16, 17; x, 31; Col. i, 17.

Enthusiasm.

We need more enthusiasm. The more we have the better. I have a great admiration for Garibaldi, though I cannot, of course, approve of all his acts. When put in prison, he said, "It is better that 50 Garibaldis should perish than that Rome should not be free." This was the cause getting above the man. That's what we want. We want to forget ourselves. There are 100,000 men waiting now to be brought to Christ, to be invited to come to Him, and shall we hang back?—Lutheran Observer.

A Solution.

Love is the solution of most human problems. That is why Christ said, "Love your enemies." It may be a hard saying, but it will work out the solution unerringly if we are willing to try it.—American Friend.

The Shadows of Life.

Shadows are the unusual, and because of this we dread them. But customs explain nothing. Should an eclipse occur every day it would create no more interest than the sunset.—Presbyterian Journal.

A Wrong Name.

It is a sorry day for Christian faith when we call things religious that have become so cruel that they cease to be human.—Rev. E. L. Rexford, D. D.

Nothing More So.

Is there anything more uncommon than common sense—even sanctified common sense?—Christian Standard.

Three Gates of Gold.

If you are tempted to reveal
A tale some one to you has told
About another, make it pass,
Before you speak, three gates of gold.

These narrow gates—first, "Is it true?"
Then "Is it needful?" in your mind.
Give thankful answer, and the next
Is last and narrowest, "Is it kind?"

And if to reach your lips at last
It passes through these gateways three,
Then you may tell the tale nor fear
What the result of speech may be.
—Evangelist.

WOMAN'S WORLD.

AN AMERICAN WOMAN WHO INFLUENCES GERMANY'S EMPEROR.

What Two Women Saw—Social Functions For Women—The Ruling Passion—Needs No Chaperon—Does Coeducation Educate?

In his telegram to President McKinley the German kaiser said that the Countess Waldersee, wife of the field marshal who has gone to China to command the allied forces, is an American woman.

As a little girl Mary Esther Lea played among the flour barrels and currant boxes of her father's grocery store on Front street, New York. But that was many years ago. Now the little girl is a white haired and regal lady, with the title of princess. More than that, she is who is the power behind the German throne, who is known as the "female Bismarck" and who, it is believed, brought about the kaiser's marriage. Her title is Princess von Noer, and she is a powerful influence in the great palace at Berlin.

COUNTESS WALDERSEE.

Her history is most interesting and unusual. Her father left Connecticut in 1810 and began a small grocery business in New York. Though he was financially successful, when he died in 1853 he left but a very small fortune to his family. Mrs. Lea, unable to afford the expensive living in New York, bundled up her little family and went to Stuttgart. Here the eldest daughter married Baron von Waechter. He soon became embassador from Wurtemberg to Paris, and in due course of time Mrs. Lea and her other daughters found themselves in the social set of the great French capital. Other important marriages came about.

Mary Esther, the youngest girl, found a fast and affectionate friend in Princess Louise of Sleswick-Holstein. Through her she formed the acquaintance of the father of the princess, an old widower, who immediately fell desperately in love with the beautiful and bright little American girl. To compensate for marrying the daughter of a grocer the prince gave up his title and accepted the simpler designation of Count von Noer, which was given to him by the Austrian emperor. The groom was 64 years old, the bride 24. Six months later the venerable husband died, and his rich and youthful widow settled down in Vienna. There she won the esteem of the Austrian emperor, and he created her princess of Noer in her own right.

A few years after being made a princess the one time daughter of a grocer met Count von Waldersee. A marriage between them took place in 1866. These two brilliant and tactful people went to Berlin, and in a few months the countess was a social power.

Her particular ambition was to marry her grandniece by her first marriage, Princess Augusta Victoria of Sleswick-Holstein, to Prince William of Prussia, the present emperor of Germany. The mother of the prince raised great objections, but the Princess von Noer was persistent and tactful and planning, and the wedding was celebrated. Prince William and his bride were both devoted to the one who helped along the rough way of their courtship, and their gratitude has been unceasing. When Princess Augusta Victoria became empress, she was more than ever under the sway of her American aunt.—Boston Herald.

What Two Women Saw.

There is a man in this town who is marveling over the long range and the sharp range of feminine eyesight. His surprise is due to a little incident he witnessed the other afternoon.

Two women boarded the open trolley in which he rode and took a seat directly in front of him. One was fat and spoke in a soft gurgle. The other was thin, nervous and sharp voiced. Having finished reading his paper, the man noted these things in that idle, trivial spirit which seems to possess the average trolley rider.

Presently as the car whizzed along he saw the two women turn quickly, nod vigorously toward the sidewalk and hail some one there with an eager "How do you do?"

The car went buzzing by so fast that although the man glanced involuntarily in the same direction he caught only a flitting vision of pink clad girlhood escorted by a something in trousers. But in that sixteenth of a second the two women in front saw! The man is wondering yet how they managed it.

"Was that the young fellow Marie is engaged to?" asked the fat woman of her companion.

"Yes; John Blank's son. Fine looking, isn't he?"

"Well, I never saw him before, but he struck me as being too thin and gawky. But that sort of hat makes a man appear like an overgrown schoolboy. Marie looked as though she thought he was pie."

"I should say she did. By the way, how that girl has improved."

"Yes; she looked better today than I've ever seen her. A new dress does so much for a woman."

"Why, that wasn't a new dress. That was the pink organdie she wore so much last summer. Don't you remember it?"

"Was it really? It looked different to me somehow. Hasn't she changed it a little?"

"Yes. I noticed she had put in a tucked yoke and sleeves."

"It fitted her well, but I thought the deep shade of pink about her throat was rather trying."

"Well, Marie never had much color, you know, and a pink hat does bring out the yellow in a woman's skin."

"But those French roses on that Tuscan straw were exquisite. She never got those for a penny."

"I should say not. She's an extravagant creature. As she held up her skirt I saw she wore a new taffeta underslip, and her petticoats were simply lace cobwebs. Ruffles and ruffles"—

The man in the rear blinked his eyes.

Social Functions For Women.

"____ Beach seems an ideal place for children and young people," remarked a society woman who was discussing the merits of several watering places with a view to renting a house for the summer, "but what is there for the married woman to do?"

"Oh, my dear," exclaimed her friend, who was a resident of the place, "we have the most delightful times. We dine out at each other's houses every night, wear our best clothes and afterward play bridge whist. I hear people say we are the best dressed lot of women anywhere. Even at Newport they do not wear better clothes."

"But what do the husbands do?" said the old fashioned wife in astonishment at the new order of things. "Surely they are not all away at business during the summer?"

"Oh, you know, they wouldn't enjoy it," returned the other. "Men hate dinners in summer, and besides it is much nicer to be by ourselves. I believe they are getting up a club called the married men's club. They say it is in self defense, but that is all nonsense. They like to be together just as we like to be together."

The tendency of women to give social functions exclusively for their own sex is certainly on the increase. Women's luncheons have always been popular, but it is only of late years that evening entertainments composed exclusively of women have obtained vogue. Now, however, women's dinners and card parties are an accepted fact and are even more frequently given than men's affairs of the same kind. Moreover, as it has always been an undisputed axiom that women dress for one another much more than for men the gowns worn at these assemblages are smart, and in consequence the latter are exceedingly brilliant. Women's golf tournaments have also brought this feature of the social life of our day into great prominence. In almost every community the golf club represents the best society of the place, and at a women's tournament the entertaining is necessarily almost entirely for women. House parties are given for those who have entered for the tournament, and dinners and luncheons are given in their honor.

"What did we do?" answered a young woman who had been one of a large party of girls at a well known country house during a tournament. "Why, it was just the same as at other house parties, only there were no men except our host. We had lovely 5 o'clock teas at which we wore our prettiest tea gowns and had delicious things to eat. Such a rest after our arduous days! We had late dinners, too, at which we wore low necked gowns in the usual conventional manner. Of course we all went to bed early, as we were all pretty tired, but otherwise it was just the same as any other party except, as I said before, there were no men. No great loss either, as we all agreed."—New York Tribune.

The Ruling Passion.

"It is a laughable thing after the fright is all over," writes a woman from Prescott, A. T., "to recall how differently different women are affected in an extremity or, in other words, how the 'ruling passion shows itself,' if not in 'death' at least in a good scare. It was last Saturday, when the great fire came that swept away the whole business part of the city and the central residential portion in a single night. We were several blocks away from the fire and on the hill, so we could look right down over the burning district. When about midnight the wind sprang up and the flames began to sweep up the hill, every one in our vicinity began to pack his or her trunk and tie up bundles ready for a hurried exit to the golf links just beyond. One woman, having put on two of her best dresses, one over the other, both having trains and a frou frou of lace, capped them with a heavy fur cape of which she was especially fond, although the mercury was standing well over the nineties. Adorned in this fashion, she began with infinite vigor to pump water and drag about boxes, bundles and trunks, the perspiration meanwhile rolling down her face in streams. Another woman, an invalid, whose wardrobe for the last few years had been confined mainly to wrappers, remarked serenely, 'Well, it is something to be thankful for in a case like this that you haven't much to lose,' and sat herself down in composure to await results. Still another, the wife of a prominent army officer in the Philippines, ran from window to window and door to door, holding a cold curling iron tightly fastened to her hair. A fourth, a Berkeley girl, spending her vacation in Prescott, packed her trunks and dragged the family carriage to the door, the horse having escaped in the excitement. She declared her intention of filling it with the family valuables and putting herself between the shafts to 'tote' the things to a place of safety. A neighbor, a young married woman, gathered up her bird and a pet chicken, but renounced all allegiance to her trousseau and her valuable wedding gifts. Another carefully packed into a handbag some embroideries she was doing and never thought of her diamonds, worth hundreds of dollars.

"The climax was reached, however, when a large woman still in the garments of the night appeared upon the streets pushing before her a baby cart in which she had entirely forgotten to put the baby.

"A lusty howling from the abandoned infant recalled her to her senses, and the gocart was reversed."

Needs No Chaperon.

The well bred summer girl has rebelled against the chaperon, as she does not consider her presence a necessity or a compliment to herself and her friends, says the New York Herald.

One of the reasons given by the summer girl for dispensing with the time honored custom is that she no longer indulges in the same dangerous pastimes as did her sisters of years gone by. For instance, she does not accept invitations to sail in the moonlight unless she is one of a party comprising married and unmarried people in abundance. Nor does she wander along the beach after a dance in the ballroom, because the dampness is liable to ruin her gown and give her a severe cold.

She no longer deprives her mother or her mother's friends of her society and is as frequently seen in their company as with the masculine element. She never attends a hop at a neighboring hotel alone, because if her family is composed of cottage holders they are sure to receive invitations for the ball, and so it is quite natural that the entire party should go together. If by chance the summer girl is at a hotel, she seldom shows her preference for other hotels by accepting invitations for dances at them.

This year's summer girl is not one bit affected. She does not seek to collect engagement rings. Her natural pride revolts against the idea of allowing complications to arise by engaging herself to a man whom she has not known for years or of giving him a right to assume a familiar attitude toward her and to call her by her first name.

She has this summer made it clear to all that she has a brain and will not allow it to become inert by submitting to things or customs of which she does not approve. Some are calling her prudish because of this new reserve, but it brings her more respect and therefore more admiration and demonstrates her cleverness.

Does Coeducation Educate?

In an able article on higher education for women in The Woman's Home Companion Louise Castle Walbridge thus arraigns our present collegiate instruction for women:

"Does coeducation accomplish the best results for a girl? Is her work identical with man's? Are the feminine and masculine natures the same? If not, isn't there a suspicion of folly in spending the important preparatory years pursuing the same studies demanded by man's work? Wouldn't it be just as reasonable to teach a boy cooking and sewing and nursing and expect him to make a full fledged lawyer or blacksmith as to instruct a girl in surveying and mechanics and physics and then expect her to blossom into a thrifty, notable housewife and house mother? The 'new woman' may fight against her obvious destiny with all her acquired masculinity, but she cannot alter the purpose of her creation, and woman will go down to the end of time as wife and mother, and it is for this her education should prepare her. An unfortunate number of our girls marry and try to rear families with the uses of the needle as unknown to them as it was to one of the aborigines. There have been schools where fine needlework was taught, and might it not be profitable if our up to date institutions would discard such superfluities as metaphysics and theoretical ethics and substitute instruction in this essentially feminine and eminently useful employment before it becomes a lost art? Cooking schools have been popular for several years and why not practicable and sensible to include some knowledge of the culinary art in a girl's education? And, most Utopian scheme of all, some experience in the care of the sick and young children? For just so sure as the years go by this work will fall upon her shoulders, and then an understanding of logarithms and Latin idioms will avail her nothing."

The earliest brides of the season had the high corselets to their gowns made of different kinds and colors of flowered ribbons, and pretty girls have been using them off and on ever since, and there is still nothing prettier with thin frocks.

Mme. Sara Bernhardt has a unique idea of a holiday. She reclines on a couch in a quiet room, reading and dozing during the day, and appears at dinner in the evening in a negligee and retires to her couch immediately afterward.

Oilcloths should never have soap used when washing them, as the lye will destroy the colors and finish. They are greatly benefited and last much longer if a thin coat of varnish is applied once a year.

STOP BUYING COTTON.

Action of Manchester Spinners Will Have Effect of Closing Many Mills.

Expectation That It Will Cause Lower Rates.

English Mills Slow In Realizing That Present Crop Will Be a Small One.

London, Sept. 8.—At a meeting of the cotton spinners at Manchester Friday it was decided not to purchase American cotton during September. Four-fifths of the employers in the trade were represented. It is anticipated that the decision will lead to the closing of scores of mills for several weeks.

The morning papers comment upon the seriousness of the crisis which has arisen at Manchester, where suffering is likely to be caused by the enforced idleness of operatives, especially if, as is not impossible, the stoppage continues into October. The prospects of a satisfactory American crop are regarded as slender.

New York, Sept. 8.—The action outlined above as taken by the Lancashire spinners was expected here in view of the discouraging outlook for their getting a supply of the material at anything short of what seems to them exorbitant prices. The English buyers have been exerting themselves of late to secure cotton from here, and it is learned that 3000 bales were bought here last week form an eastern mill, which found it more profitable to sell than to make it into goods to be sold at present prices.

Arnold B. Sanford, manager of the American cotton yarn exchange, said: "One of two things will have to be done by the cotton manufacturers. Either higher prices must be demanded for goods or the mills must shut down. They are now selling their product on a basis of 8½-cent cotton, when the actual cost is 25 percent above this. The English mills seem to have arrived at the conclusion that a shut down would be the more effective of the two courses proposed. Our own manufacturers may take the same view of it later.

"Every interest, except those devoted to the raising of and speculation in cotton, is bearing the price; higher values are being demanded for the staple, with the prices at Liverpool the highest for 10 years. The planters have everything their own way, and the buyers who are obliged to go into the market are at their mercy. The situation is more acute abroad than it is here, though the domestic manufacturers cannot but view with some dismay the possibility of a bare cotton market. The bulk of the crop that has not gone into consumption or held by the mills is held in the south either by dealers and speculators of by factors on planters' accounts. These are putting the highest values on their holdings that they think can be secured from the manufacturer caught with a small supply. Nothing short of a cessation in purchasing will have any effect in making prices lower."

The English mills were remarkably slow in realizing that the present cotton crop would prove a small one. Trusting to the prediction that the supply would be sufficient for all purposes, they delayed buying until the domestic mills had had the pick of the market. Their purchases, even then, were not on as large a scale as the circumstances would seem to warrant. Last May, however, the Liverpool buyers came into the market with their accumulated wants and by the largeness of their prospective transactions sent prices up 146 points. The result of this was to put a damper on their buying, so that they did not purchase half as much of the material as they actually wanted. The final effect of it all is seen in the conclusion arrived at yesterday. The probability is that the action has been too long delayed. The demand is still brisk from spinners elsewhere than in the Lancashire district, and it may neutralize the effect of their withdrawing from the market.

Shakeup In Cotton Market.

New York, Sept. 8.—Friday marked the turning point in the great bull movement in cotton on the New York, New Orleans and Liverpool cotton exchange. With a crash and amid tremendous excitement prices fell 25 to 32 points on the opening, while the close was weak at a net loss of 19 to 25 points. Between the opening and the final phase the market scored some violent pendulations.

A Novel Proposition.

Detroit, Sept. 8.—At a meeting of the executive committee of the National Association of Street Railway Employes, held here Friday, President Mahon was instructed to draft a plan by which the local unions are to be assessed for raising a fund with which to purchase automobiles for use by the street railway men in the cities where the street railway men's strikes are in progress.

Fishermen In Sore Straits.

St. John's, Sept. 8.—Reports from northern Labrador reveal the existence of great distress among the fishermen, owing to the ice remaining on the coast so long. Many vessels have been crushed in the floes, losing their supplies and fishing outfits. The others are meeting with but poor success. The Labrador cod fishery is virtually a failure.

Rain Relieves Famine Districts.

Simla, Sept. 8.—The weather is now promising for the crops. Excellent rain has fallen in all the famine tracts and the winter sowings are practically assured. The number now receiving relief is something under 4,000,000, an encouraging reduction.

The Abbot Lowers a Record.

Hartford, Sept. 8.—The Abbot reduced the world's mile trotting to wagon record Friday at Charter Oak park to 2:05½. The former record was 2:09 1-4, held by Lucille, and made at Cleveland in 1897.

Madame Yale's HAIR TONIC

Ladies and Gentlemen.—It has gone on record that Madame Yale's Excelsior Hair Tonic is the first and only remedy known to chemical science found to be a genuine hair specific. It has an affinity for the human hair for nourishing and invigorating its entire structure. It is antiseptic in character, as well as stimulating; its action upon the scalp and hair is truly wonderful, inasmuch as it has never been known in a single instance to fail to cure scalp diseases and to create a luxuriant growth of healthy, beautiful hair. It stops hair falling within twenty-four hours and brings back the natural color to gray hair in nearly every instance. It is not a dye; it is not sticky or greasy; on the contrary it makes the hair soft, youthful, beautiful and glossy; keeps it in curl. It is a perfect hair dressing, and can be used by ladies, gentlemen or children as a daily toilet requisite. Its influence is delightfully soothing.

KANSAS CITY FIREMEN.

WON THE CHAMPIONSHIP CUP.

Foreigners Shouted "Vive l'Americaines!" as the Fire Laddies Worked Amid Tremendous Applause. Grand Reception at Boulogne. Horses Shared In the Praise.

All Kansas City knows by this time that the representatives of its fire department at the Paris exposition proved themselves the premiers of the world. In fact, it was a foregone conclusion that they would do so even before they started on their journey, but nobody knew just how it was done until the other day when Assistant Chief Edward Trickett received from Chief Hale the letter given below, says the Kansas City Times. The letter was written in the flush of victory, but with the modesty characteristic of a brave man. It is the clearest and at the same time the most succinct account yet given of the work of the fire laddies and will be read with interest by all of the admirers of Chief Hale and his men—which means by all of Kansas City. The letter, which is dated Paris, Aug. 19, follows:

"Dear Friend—The great international tournament has just closed this evening and I will endeavor to give you an outline of our trip up to date. We sailed from New York July 28. We were ten days crossing the Atlantic, when we arrived at Greenock, Scotland, where we were met by Chief Patterson of Glasgow and a committee to receive us. We were royally entertained by the officials and firemen of Glasgow during our two days' stay in that city. We then traveled by rail from Glasgow to London. On our arrival at King's Cross station, London, we were met by Chief Gambell of the London fire brigade, Major Fox, chief of the salvage corps of the city of London; Horace Folkner, the honorable secretary of the Fire Brigades' union of Great Britain, and a large delegation of firemen.

"Our horses were immediately taken charge of by the London fire brigade and were given the very best stable rooms in the fire department headquarters. We remained in London until 2 o'clock, Aug. 13, when we departed from London in company with 140 British firemen.

"We arrived in Boulogne, France, across the English channel, at 4:30 p. m. and there were given a grand reception by the mayor and city officials of that city. We then took train to Paris, arriving at 12:30 Sunday morning, where we were met by a large staff of officers and members of the Paris fire brigade. Vans were in waiting for the whole party. Baggage was soon cleared through the custom house and the entire party driven away to quarters. Monday and Tuesday were spent in getting apparatus on the grounds and getting ready for action.

"Wednesday the test was made of the steam fire engines from all parts of the world, and I will just mention here that the American engine which we brought with us threw two streams of water farther than any other engine in the contest could throw one single stream. Bear in mind, two streams from our engine at the same time beating all other engines which were playing but a single stream. We threw a single stream a distance of 310 feet. The performance of this engine brought forth tremendous applause from the thousands of people who witnessed the grand display of American skill and workmanship. The superiority of the American fire engine over the foreign makes was as marked as an electric car is superior to the old mule car. There are 5,000 firemen here at present, and our engine, horses and apparatus were reviewed by the president of France, the minister of war and his entire staff. We made a dashing run before the president and were cheered to the echo. Horses were hitched before the great multitude of people, and everything worked as smooth as we could expect. Our performance aroused great admiration among the foreigners, and we spent the afternoon in receiving handshakings and congratulations upon our prompt work and wonderfully trained horses.

"The French papers say that the Kansas City firemen work with a dash and promptness which much resemble the action of the French military. The Kansas City firemen gave numerous exhibitions — hitching, climbing and throwing water with the steamer—which added very much to the interest and amusement of the foreigners, who formed in great groups around the Kansas City boys, shouting 'Vive l'Americaines!' and then jabbered about them like a flock of geese. We could not understand what they were saying, but read the expression of delight in every one's face.

"On Saturday afternoon the international contest took place. There was a protest against the Americans by several nations claiming that we were professional firemen, but the matter was finally adjusted by allowing all companies to compete outside of the Americans, and the one showing the best record should compete with the Americans. So our competitor proved to be a company from Italy. We drew lots to see who would go first, and it fell to the Americans. Our engine and single hose were placed in a station near one-fourth of a mile from the building from where the work was to be performed, and from a signal they made the run, our steamer being drawn by Buck and Mack and our hose wagon by faithful Charley. All horses seemed to realize the struggle for supremacy. They made a grand run, covering the distance much faster than any other horses. The engine dropped suction within 300 feet of the supposed burning building, hose laid on the dead run and a stream of water playing in less than one minute. Our engine carried 130 pounds of steam, and when the throttle valves were opened it shot a stream of water at least 100 feet higher than the seven story structure which the pompier men were now scaling.

"The rules required them to rescue three people from the top story, time taken from the engine leaving quarters until the men were rescued, the last man on the ground and all life lines, ladders, etc., cleared from the building. This feat was performed in the remarkably short space of 3m. 40s. This work was performed under one continuous cheer from the immense grand stand and thousands of people on the grounds. Among the spectators were hundreds of Americans, among them United States Commissioner General Fernando Peck and his entire staff, Commissioner W. W. Foote of California and many other state commissioners.

"Now came the Italians. The official time required by them to perform the same work done by the Americans was 12m. 10s.

"So ended the great international contest. Today at 4 o'clock we were called before the minister of war and were presented with the championship cup; also 800 francs in money, and we were notified that we would receive a prize for our engines and horses and medals to be presented tomorrow or next day.

"The United States fair commission under Mr. Peck has rendered us very valuable assistance. Our party is all very well; our horses are like 2-year-olds. We will stop here a few days, then go to London and perhaps to Ireland. We sail from Glasgow for home Sept. 15. Hope you are all well and having good success. In the meantime during our sojourn in foreign lands we shall do our best to uphold the dignity of the greatest nation on earth—America."

SEYMOUR PRAISES M'CALLA.

The British admiralty has issued Vice Admiral Seymour's detailed report of the experiences of the first Peking relief expedition. It is good reading, but embraces nothing not previously known. Referring to the harmonious action of the forces of the eight nationalities engaged, the admiral especially mentions Captain von Usedom of the German navy and Captain McCalla of the United States navy. The report concludes as follows:

"When the fact that the Chinese beheaded any one they got is considered, the conduct of such officers or men as exposed themselves to capture is to be praised far more than if the risk were taken against a civilized foe."

Annexed to the report are copies of letters sent to the senior officer of each nationality engaged. Most of these are complimentary notes, identical for the greater part, but each ending with a paragraph referring to particular officers with the expedition.

The letter to Rear Admiral Kempff ends as follows:

"I cannot conclude my letter without expressing to you, sir, the high admiration I have for Captain McCalla, who accompanied us in command of your officers and men. Their post was usually in the advanced guard, where their zeal and 'go' were praised by all. I regret to state that Captain McCalla was wounded in three places; but, considering the gallant way in which he exposed himself, I am only equally surprised and thankful that he is alive. Had he been thoroughly British, he could not have stood by me more loyally in every way and carried out more promptly any wish I expressed.

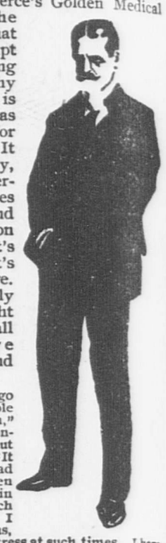

"I may indeed say the same of all those of his command. I hail this experience as further proof of the real good feeling so happily existing between our nations, which is by no one more valued than by your brother sailors in our navy."

Novel Protection For a Peach Orchard.

A peach grower near Georgetown, Del., protected his trees from the depredations of fruit thieves this summer by conspicuously displaying this legend on signs nailed to the fence surrounding his orchard: "Caution! This fence is surmounted by a live electric wire!" The wire could be seen on top of the fence strung on glass insulators, and no one attempted to meddle with it, says the New York Tribune. But now that he has marketed his crop the owner of the orchard admits that it was a "dummy."

There is just one thing to use if your stomach is "out of order" and that one thing" is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. The supposition is that you want a prompt cure and a lasting cure. That is why the "Discovery" is recommended as the one thing for your condition. It cures promptly, perfectly and permanently, diseases of the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition. It's sure to help. It's almost sure to cure. It has completely cured ninety-eight per cent. of all those who have given it a fair and faithful trial.

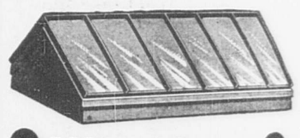

"About ten years ago I began to have trouble with my stomach," writes Mr. Wm. Connolly, of 535 Walnut St., Lorain, Ohio. "It got so bad that I had to lay off quite often two and three days in a week, my stomach would bloat, and I would belch up gas, and was in awful distress at such times. I have been treated by the best doctors in this city but got no help whatever. Some said I had cancer of the stomach, others dyspepsia. I have bought and tried everything I saw advertised for dyspepsia and stomach trouble, but continued to get worse all the time. About twelve months ago I was in such a condition that my friends had some fear about my recovery. It was then I wrote to you for advice. You told me that by my symptoms you thought I had liver complaint and advised the use of your 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Pleasant Pellets' in connection. These medicines I have taken as directed, and am very happy to state that I commenced to get better from the start and have not lost a day this summer on account of my stomach. I feel tip-top, and better than I have for ten years."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cleanse the bowels and stimulate the liver.

GALVESTON WRECKED.

Loss of Life In the Texas City Will Reach Up Into the Thousands.

Torn by a Cyclone and Submerged by Waters of Gulf.

The Magnitude of the Terrible Disaster Yet Remains to Be Told.

New York, Sept. 10.—The World prints the following:

Austin, Tex., Sept. 9.—Information has just reached me that about 3000 lives have been lost at Galveston, with enormous destruction of property. No information from other points.

Joseph D. Sayers,
Governor.

Advices regarding the awful effects of the storm which has been raging along the gulf coast of Texas are just beginning to arrive, and the story they tell is fraught with horror.

First in importance is the news that Galveston was struck by a tidal wave, and that the loss of life there was between 2500 and 3000. The water is 15 feet over Virginia point.

Every effort is being made out of New Orleans to get telegraphic or cable communication with the wrecked city, but to little avail. One message was received, fixing the loss of life at 2600. It came by cable from Vera Cruz, and was later confirmed in a general way.

Great damage and considerable loss of life is reported along the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railroad. There is much anxiety about Sabine Pass, and Port Arthur. The last news received from Sabine Pass was Saturday at noon, and at that hour the town was entirely surrounded by water. The storm had not then reached its height, nor had the tidal wave come which is reported to have swept over Galveston.

However, at the time the last report was sent out the people were fleeing to the high lands for safety, and it is hoped that they may have found refuge in time.

Port Arthur is not so exposed to the waves as Sabine, but the damage there is believed to have been great.

Telegraph wires are down to Port Lavac, Rockport, Aransas Pass, Corpus Christi and Brownsville, on the lower coast, and grave fears are entertained regarding the safety of the inhabitants of these towns.

James C. Timmins, who resides in Houston, and who is the general superintendent of the National Compress company, arrived at Houston at 8 o'clock Sunday night from Galveston. He was one of the first to reach there with tidings of the great disaster which has befallen that city, and the magnitude of the disaster remains to be told because of his endeavors to reach home. After remaining through the hurricane of Saturday he departed from Galveston on a schooner and came across the bay to Morgan's Point, where he caught a train for Houston. The hurricane, Mr. Timmins said, was the worst ever known.

The estimate made by citizens of Galveston was that 4000 houses, most of them residences, had been destroyed, and that at least 1000 people had been drowned, killed or are missing.

The city, Mr. Timmins avers, is a complete wreck, as far as he could see from the front and from the Tremont hotel. Water was blown over the island by the hurricane, the wind blowing at the rate of 80 miles an hour straight from the gulf, and forcing the sea water before it in big waves. The gale was a steady one, the heart of it striking the city about 5 o'clock Saturday evening and continuing without intermission until midnight last night, when it abated somewhat, although it continued to blow all night.

The scenes during the storm, Mr. Timmins said, could not be described. Women and children were rowed into the Tremont hotel, where he was seeking shelter, and all night these unfortunates were bemoaning their losses of kindred and fortune. They were grouped about the stairways and in the galleries and rooms of the hotel. What was occurring in other parts of the city he could only conjecture.

The city of Galveston, he says, is now entirely submerged and cut off from communication. The boats are gone; the railroads cannot be operated, and the water is so high people cannot walk out by way of the bridge across the bay, even should that bridge be standing.

Provisions will be badly needed, as a great majority of the people lost all they had. The water works power house was wrecked and a water famine is threatened, as the cisterns were all ruined by the overflow of salt water. This Mr. Timmins regards as the most serious problem to be faced now. The city is in darkness, the electric plant having been ruined. There is no way of estimating the property damage at present. So far as he could see or hear, Mr. Timmins says the east end portion of the city, which is the residence district, has been practically wiped out of existence. On the west end, which faces the gulf and another portion of the island, much havoc was done. The beach has been swept clean and many of the residences are total wrecks.

MANLEY'S PREDICTION.

Results of Maine's Election Will Be Full of Hope For All Republicans.

Augusta, Me., Sept. 10.—Joseph H. Manley, chairman of the Republican state committee, has issued the following on the election: "The Republicans will carry Maine by a majority greater than they ever cast in any year since the party came into existence, in 1856, save four years ago. The Republicans will poll their full strength, and the vote will show no falling off on their part. The Democratic vote will increase somewhat over the vote four years ago, but it will not reach the average Democratic vote for the last quarter of a century. The result of the election will contain no grains of comfort for the Democracy, but will be full of hope for the Republicans throughout the country."

No one questions the result of today's election. It is only the size of the result that is in doubt. Nothing has happened to change the predictions of those who are inclined to make estimates. The Republicans are still hoping to carry the state for governor by from 25,000 to 30,000, while the Democrats are still hoping to keep the plurality below 20,000.

Will Fight For a Seat.

Boston, Sept. 10.—The Post prints an interview with Thomas White, Democratic nominee for congress in the Fourth Maine district, where Congressman Boutelle is the Republican nominee, in which he says that, if the next congress is Democratic, he will contest the seat, provided he is not elected, on the ground that an insane person is not legally fit to hold public office, and that therefore his election is null and void. Congressman Boutelle has been in the McLean asylum at Waverly for many months, and his condition is understood to show little or no improvement.

Stanchfield For Governor.

Saratoga, N. Y., Sept. 10.—For governor, John B. Stanchfield; lieutenant governor, William F. Mackey; secretary of state, John T. Norton; attorney general, George M. Palmer; state treasurer, Guy H. Clark; comptroller, Martin Glynn. This is the work of the slate-makers. There is much probability of it being entirely changed by the time the convention meets. It is fairly well established that Mr. Stanchfield will be announced as the Croker-Murphy candidate and that Senator Mackey can have second place if he will take it.

Has Been Very Busy.

Chicago, Sept. 10.—Governor Roosevelt arrived in Chicago at 8 o'clock Saturday night and proceeded at once to the Auditorium annex, where he remained over Sunday. He started for Lacrosse, Wis., last night. While in strong health and good spirits the governor is very much exhausted by his recent labors in Michigan and Indiana, having made no less than 21 speeches, most of them in the open air, in 48 hours.

Verified Returns From Vermont.

St. Albans, Vt., Sept. 10.—The complete returns of the state election as verified by election officers in the 246 cities and towns indicate that the plurality of Stickney (Rep.) for governor is 31,072. The total vote for the head of the ticket stands: Stickney (Rep.), 48,209; Senter (Dem.), 17,137.

Excursion Steamer Foundered.

Cohasset, Mass., Sept. 10.—The excursion steamer John Endicott struck a sunken rock, just east of Minot's light, Sunday, and tore a great hole in her side, so that she was obliged to run full steam for the shore off North Scituate, where she foundered. There were on board 600 passengers at the time of the accident, but every person aboard was saved. The steamer now lies submerged off the North Scituate shore.

War Nearing Its Last Stages.

Cape Town, Sept. 10.—General Buller continues his advance. The occupation of Lydenburg is regarded as marking one of the last stages of the war. The Boers now talk of trekking into German territory. Lord Methuen is marching on Lichtenburg from Mafeking.

NEWS IN BRIEF.

The dedication of St. Mary's church, the new and beautiful house of worship at Dedham, Mass., was carried out with all the solemn service befitting such an event and participated in by the dignitaries of the diocese.

The body of Arvah Johnson, who was drowned in a lake at Westboro, Mass., was recovered by grapplers. During the search for the body upwards of 200 pounds of dynamite had been used in explosions.

The new Church of the Holy Name was dedicated at Providence, with imposing ceremonies. The dedicatory sermon was preached by Archbishop Ryan of Philadelphia.

The Unitarians of Athol, Mass., observed with appropriate services the 150th anniversary of the First Unitarian church.

J. L. McCusker, the American champion, won the five-mile swimming match at Boston with Percy F. Cavill, the English and Australian champion, in 2:40:48. Cavill was seized with cramps when six laps from the finish and withdrew.

The torpedo boat Barney, now building at the Bath iron works, was given a successful 25-mile run on the Kennebec. She promises to exceed the contract speed of 28 knots.

The body of Florence M. Daly, 31 years old, was found near the tracks of the Boston and Albany railroad, between Dalton and Hinsdale, Mass. Death probably resulted from being struck by a train.

Hiram B. Phillips, 45 years old, was struck and instantly killed by a train at Providence.

The new military port at Fort Valdez, Alaska, has been named Fort Liscum in honor of Colonel E. H. Liscum, killed while leading his regiment at the battle of Tientsin, July 13, last.

M'KINLEY'S LETTER.

Declares That the Financial Question Is the Immediate Issue.

An Exhaustive Review of the Philippine Question.

Showing What Has Been Done and What Is Being Done Toward Ameliorating Conditions.

Washington, Sept. 10.—The letter of President McKinley, accepting the nomination of the Republican national convention for the office of President of the United States, was made public last night. It is as follows:

Executive Mansion,
Washington, Sept. 8, 1900.

Hon. Henry Cabot Lodge,
Chairman, Notification Committee,
My Dear Sir:

The nomination of the Republican convention of June 19, 1900, for the office of President of the United States which, as the official representative of the convention, you have conveyed to me, is accepted. I have carefully examined the platform adopted and give to it my hearty approval. Upon the great issue of the last national convention it is clear. It upholds the gold standard and endorses the legislation of the present congress, by which that standard has been effectively strengthened. The stability of our national currency is, therefore, secure so long as those who adhere to this platform are kept in control of the government. In the first battle, that of 1896, the friends of the gold standard and of sound currency were triumphant, and the country is enjoying the fruits of that victory. Our antagonists, however, are not satisfied. They compel us to a second battle upon the same lines on which the first was fought and won. While regretting the reopening of this question, which can only disturb the present satisfactory financial condition of the government and visit uncertainty upon our great business enterprises, we accept the issue and again invite the sound money forces to join in winning another and, we hope, a permanent triumph for an honest financial system which will continue inviolable the public faith.

As in 1896, the three silver parties are united, under the same leader, who immediately after the election of that year, in an address to the bimetallists, said: "The friends of bimetallism have not been vanquished; they have simply been overcome. They believe that the gold standard is a conspiracy of the money-changers against the welfare of the human race, and they will continue the warfare against it."

The policy thus proclaimed has been accepted and confirmed by these parties. The Silver Democratic platform of 1900 continues the warfare against the so-called gold conspiracy when it expressly says: "We reiterate the demand of that (the Chicago) platform of 1896 for an American financial system, made by the American people for themselves, which shall restore and maintain a bimetallic price level, and as part of such system the immediate restoration of the free and unlimited coinage of silver and gold at the present ratio of 16 to 1, without waiting for the aid or consent of any nation."

So the issue is presented. It will be noted that the demand is for the immediate restoration of the free coinage of silver at 16 to 1. If another issue is paramount, this is immediate. It will admit of no delay and will suffer no postponement.

[Turning to the other associated parties Mr. McKinley says that we find in the Populist national platform, adopted at Sioux Falls, and the platform of the Silver party, adopted at Kansas City, declarations on the silver question similar to those adopted by the Democratic party.]

Issues All Important.

In all three platforms these parties announce that their efforts shall be unceasing until the gold standard shall be blotted from the statute books and the free and unlimited coinage of silver, at 16 to 1, shall take its place.

The relative importance of the issues I do not stop to discuss. All of them are important. Whichever party is successful will be bound in conscience to carry into administration and legislation its several declarations and doctrines. One declaration will be as obligatory as another, but all are not immediate. It is not possible that these parties would treat the doctrine of 16 to 1, the immediate realization of which is demanded by their several platforms, as void and inoperative in the event that they should be clothed with power. Otherwise their profession of faith is insincere. It is, therefore, the imperative business of those opposed to this financial heresy to prevent the triumph of the parties whose union is only assured by adherence to the silver issue. Will the American people, through indifference or fancied security, hazard the overthrow of the wise financial legislation of the past year and revive the danger of the silver standard with all of the inevitable evils of shattered confidence and general disaster which justly alarmed and aroused them in 1896?

The Chicago platform of 1896 is reaffirmed in its entirety by the Kansas City convention. Nothing has been omitted or recalled; so that all the perils then threatened are presented anew with the added force of a deliberate reaffirmation. Four years ago the people refused to place the seal of their approval upon these dangerous and revolutionary policies, and this year they will not fail to record again their earnest dissent.

The Republican party remains faithful to its principle of a tariff which supplies sufficient revenues for the government and adequate protection to our enterprises and producers, and of reciprocity which opens foreign markets to the fruits of American labor.

The present congress has given to Alaska a teritorial form of government for which it had waited more than a quarter of a century; has established a representative government in Hawaii; has enacted bills for the most liberal treatment of the pensioners and their widows; has revived the free homestead policy. In its great financial law it provided for the establishment of banks of issue with a capital of $25,000 for the benefit of villages and rural communities, and bringing the opportunity for profitable business in banking within the reach of moderate capital. Many are already availing themselves of this privilege.

During the past year more than $19,000,000 of United States bonds have been paid from the surplus revenues of the treasury, and in addition $25,000,000 of 2-percents matured, called by the government, are in process of payment. Pacific railroad bonds, issued by the government in aid of the roads in the sum of nearly $44,000,000, have been paid since Dec. 31, 1897. The treasury balance is in satisfactory condition, showing, on Sept. 1, $135,419,000, in addition to the $150,000,000 gold reserve held in the treasury. The government's relations with the Pacific railroads have been substantially closed, $124,421,000 being received from these roads, the greater part in cash and the remainder with securities for payments deferred.

Instead of diminishing, as was predicted four years ago, the volume of our currency is greater per capita than it has ever been.

Our industrial and agricultural conditions are more promising than they have been for many years; probably more so than they have ever been. Prosperity abounds everywhere throughout the republic. I rejoice that the southern, as well as the northern, states are enjoying a full share of these improved national conditions and that all are contributing so largely to our remarkable industrial development. The money lender receives lower reward for his capital than if it were invested in active business. The rates of interest are lower than they have ever been in this country, while those things which are produced on the farm and in the workshop, and the labor producing them, have advanced in value.

Our foreign trade shows a satisfactory and increasing growth. The amount of our exports for the year 1900 over those of the exceptionally prosperous year of 1899 was about $500,000 for every day in the year, and these sums have gone into the homes and enterprises of the people.

Unless something unforseen occurs to reduce our revenues or increase our expenditures the congress at its next session should reduce taxation very materially.

The Boer War.

In the unfortunate contest between Great Britain and the Boer states of South Africa, the United States has maintained an attitude of neutrality in accordance with its well known traditional policy. It did not hesitate, however, when requested by the governments of the South African republics, to exercise its good offices for a cessation of hostilities. It is to be observed that while the South African republics made like request of other powers the United States is the only one which complied. The British government declined to accept the intervention of any power.

Our Shipping Interests.

Ninety-one percent of our exports and imports are now carried by foreign ships. For ocean transportation we pay annually to foreign shipowners over $165,000,000. We ought to own the ships for our carrying trade with the world and we ought to build them in American shipyards and man them with American sailors. Our own citizens should receive the transportation charges now paid to foreigners. I have called the attention of congress to this subject in my several annual messages, and I now reiterate these views.

A subject of immediate importance to our country is the completion of a great waterway of commerce between the Atlantic and Pacific. The construction of a maritime canal is now more than ever indispensable to that intimate and ready communication between our eastern and western seaports demanded by the annexation of the Hawaiian islands and the expansion of our influence and trade in the Pacific.

Our national policy more imperatively than ever calls for its completion and control by this government; and it is believed that the next session of congress, after receiving the full report of the commission appointed under the act approved March 3, 1899, will make provisions for the sure accomplishment of this great work.

The Trusts.

Combinations of capital which control the market in commodities necessary to the general use of the people, by suppressing natural and ordinary competition, thus enhancing prices to the general consumer, are obnoxious to the common law and the public welfare. They are dangerous conspiracies against the public good and should be made the subject of prohibitory or penal legislation. Publicity will be a helpful influence to check the evil. Uniformity of legislation in the several states should be secured. Discrimination between what is injurious and what is useful and necessary in business operations is essential to the wise and effective tretment of this subject. Honest co-operation of capital is necessary to meet new business conditions and extend our rapidly increasing foreign trade, but conspiracies and combinations intended to restrict business, create monopolies and control prices should be effectively restrained.

Civil Service Reform.

Practical civil service reform has always had the support and encouragement of the Republican party. The future of the merit system is safe in its hands.

During the present administration as occasions have arisen for modification or amendment in the existing civil service law and rules they have been made. Important amendments were promulgated by executive order under date of May 29, 1899, having for their principal purpose the exception from competitive examination of certain places involving fiduciary responsibilities or duties of a strictly confidential, scientific or executive character, which it was thought might better be filled either by non-competitive examination or by other tests of fitness in the discretion of the appointing officer. It is gratifying that the experience of more than a year has vindicated these changes, in the marked improvement of the public service. The merit system, as far as practicable, is made the basis for appointments to office in our new territory.

Drift of Opinion.

☞ Many people who take long vacations and then plunge into hard work, often find themselves unable to endure the strain. They are like horses taken from summer pasture and put suddenly to work on a grain diet.—Christian Register.

☞ The sight of steamboats on the Dead sea is promised by United States Consul Winter at Annaberg in a letter to the state department. Some iconociast will be inserting a phonograph in the throat of the Venus of Milo next.—Pawtucket Times.

☞ This fever for work, like any other fever, is contagious, and as yet no panacea for it is in sight. If with the increased commercial advantages which we are striving for in the far east we could also barter some of our nervous restlessness for their undisturbed calm, the exchange might be our most profitable gain.—Chicago Chronicle.

☞ "Talk of the Day" in the Boston Journal forsees a time when authors will have to quit writing for the lack of new names to gives to books and stories. That is more than a blessed prediction. In the next generation, at the farthest, readers may have time for some of the good old books with the good old names. And, confidentially, the reader might read them now without losing much by reason of missing most of the new ones.—New Bedford Standard.

☞ It is said that the cause of Bright's disease has been found, and that it is not unlikely that a cure will be discovered. A contemporary thinks that "with the marvels of faith, and the researches of science, the coming man is likely to live forever." There is fairly good authority for the belief that the present man will live forever, and possibly he is better off than the coming man who, according to our contemporary, is likely to live forever here.—New Bedford Standard.

Second Anniversary.

The Rev. David Kerr, pastor of the Calvary Baptist church of this city, celebrated last Sabbath the second anniversary of his present pastorate. Special services suitable to the occasion were held morning and evening. The pastor preached in the morning taking for subject "Paul's review of his life retrospective and prospective," while his brother, Rev. Archibald Kerr preached in the evening a most helpful discourse on "The true secret of church prosperity, viz. Redeeming the time." The services were well attended and many testimonies and expressions of appreciation of good received were given in the evening by many strangers present as well as members of the church.

West Quincy Champions.

The West Quincys won again from the Quincys at the West Quincy grounds on Saturday. It was almost a walkover, the home team batting heavy and safe. The score by innings was:

Innings,	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8
Quincy,	0	0	1	1	0	0	3		— 5

William Hobart, a South Quincy boy, had a narrow escape from drowning at Flat ledge quarry on Saturday. Thomas Ferguson, aged 13, quickly jumped into the water and, with the assistance of others, was successful in saving Hobart. It was a brave act on the part of young Ferguson.

NOTABLE FUNERAL

City Officials Pay Respects to Councilman Hultman.

"All Liked Him," the Universal Opinion.

Beautiful Flowers in Great Profusion at House.

The funeral of Councilman Eugene N. Hultman was held Sunday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock from his late residence, 105 Washington street. The services were very largely attended and were of an impressive nature. The body was encased in a black broadcloth casket with open sides, along which were entwined smilax and carnations. The casket was placed in the front parlor, which was a veritable flower bower. Exquisite bouquets and massive set pieces completely filled the whole side of the room almost hiding the casket from view.

The services were conducted by Rev. Edwin N. Hardy pastor of the Bethany church. After reading the scriptures he spoke of the deceased as one who was everybody's friend. One of whom it could be said he was true and beloved by all. One who possessed the highest type of citizenship, and while opinions sometime differ, all regarded him a man of sterling worth one who was destined, had he lived, to obtain higher honor.

Such citizens as he, the city was proud two own, and had too few of them. He also spoke briefly of his home ties and his devotedness to his home and family. He closed by a fervent prayer. During the services the Apollo Male quartette sang "Nearer My God To Thee," "We'll Meet Again" and "Good Night My Beloved."

At the conclusion of the services the remains were taken to Mt. Wollaston cemetery for burial. The bearers were City Clerk Cleaves, City Auditor Sidelinger, Councilmen Newcomb and Wilson.

Among the well known citizens present were: Mayor, John O. Hall; Chief Engineer Peter J. Williams; City Solicitor Russell A. Sears, Commissioner of Public Works Charles F. Knowlton, City Clerk Edgar G. Cleaves, John S. Gay and Dr. C. W. Garey of the Board of Health, Thaddeus H. Newcomb and Charles H. Johnson of the Assessors department, Overseer of the Poor E. W. H. Bass, City Messenger Tirrell, Clerk of Council Christopher A. Spear, City Auditor George A. Sidelinger, Postmaster Charles L. Hammond Representatives Eben W. Sheppard and Eugene H. Sprague, ex-Representative John R. Graham; John P. Bigelow and John McKnight, chairman and secretary of the Republican City Committee; E. J. Sandberg, president of the Scandinavian Republican club; Medical Examiner Fred E. Jones, Inspector of Milk Henry C. Hallowell, M. D., ex-Chief of Police A. L. Litchfield, Clarence Burgin, Frank F. Prescott and others.

The City Council was represented by President Charles M. Bryant, and Councilmen William G. Gassett, Arthur W. Newcomb, Eugene F. De Normandie, Thomas W. Smith, George H. Wilson, James F. Cleverly, John W. Walsh, Walter F. Nichols, John E. Poland, Walter P. Hill, James H. Elcock, Daniel McLennon and Harry S. Nicol.

Among the floral offerings were: an anchor, broken column and pillow from the family, a mound from the City Council, a standing wreath from the City Government, a pillow from the chief and permanent men of the Fire Department, an anchor from the Scandinavian Republican club, a bank of roses from the Ward Two Republican Committee. Aside from these there were a large number of bouquets, etc., from friends of the deceased.

D. A. R. Outing.

Members of John Adams chapter, D. A. R., will take the 10.20 A. M. boat from Rowe's wharf for Hull, on Wednesday, when the chapter is to be entertained at Stony beach by the regent, Miss Vining. A clambake will be served in Rhode Island style in a marquee on the lawn. Miss Vining has just designed some very beautifully ornamented stationery for use of the chapter members. She expects to spend the winter in California, when the affairs of the chapter will be placed in the hands of the efficient vice-regent, Mrs. Samuel Thomson of Roxbury.

Plead Guilty.

Mrs. Emma Buckner of Milton plead guilty at Dedham, Saturday, to an indictment for manslaughter, having killed her husband at Milton on June 5.

LIVERPOOL IDEA.

A Suggestion to Mr. Faxon as Cure for Drunkenness.

The Christian Register notes a report from Liverpool that owing to the improvement in the tenement houses in that city, there has been a marked falling off in drunkenness. This is very likely. Many men have argued loud and long as to whether bad conditions of living made drunkenness or drunkenness made bad conditions of living. The question does not seem to us to admit of long debate in the light of the facts which are revealed by observation and experience. Both sides are right, but neither is wholly right. Given a large section of dirty and disagreeable tenement houses in a large city, and we have a condition of affairs which directly encourages drunkenness for reasons so obvious as not to be worth recounting here. An improvement in the habitations must necessarily effect an improvement in the habits of their tenants, because the better the surroundings of life the greater the incentive to decency. Fine houses will not inevitably make better men, but decent houses are pretty sure to have a decided influence in bettering the morals of the dwellers therein. On the other hand the instances of poverty and ruin which have come from the drink habit to men and women who commenced in the best circumstances are so familiar to everybody that they need not be discussed. On the whole and in the long run, disregarding for the moment individual cases, it is probable that conditions and influences and habits act and react so that poor living and untidy homes are causes in producing the drunkenness which in its turn produces them. And so it is that the institution of improved tenement houses is a good work of temperance reform.—New Bedford Standard.

Silver Wedding.

Rev. and Mrs. Elbert Watson Whitney of Milford who were married in this city Sept. 8, 1875, observed the silver wedding in Milford on Saturday. Mrs. Whitney was Miss Mary Frances French, daughter of the late Dr. and Mrs. C. S. French of Hancock street.

Mr. Whitney has had a long and successful pastorate at Milford. He was a native of Nashua N. H., and was graduated from Tufts college in 1875, the year of his marriage. Since then he has held successful pastorates at Peabody, Brattleboro, Vt., Cincinnati, O., and Milford.

Rev. and Mrs. Whitney were married by Rev. George W. Whitney, brother of the groom, who was then pastor of the Universalist church at Quincy assisted by Rev. John D. Wells, pastor of the Unitarian church. Their family now includes a son, Arthur B. Whitney, an honor graduate of Tufts, '99, and now of the Harvard Divinity school; and a daughter, Miss Mabel Whitney, recently of Smith college.

The silver wedding was celebrated at the beautiful new Universalist church in Milford, with the cordial co-operation of the members of the parish and a host of friends. T. D. Cook & Son of Boston catered.

DR. PIERCE AT TOP.

His Delegations Head the Boston Ballots—Political Notes.

Evidently Dr. George B. Pierce of Milton, has the hustlers of Boston with him in his candidacy for the Republican nomination for Congress in the Tenth district. Saturday morning at 9 o'clock was the time was the first hour for filing nomination papers. Representatives of opposing factions occupied rooms in the corridor of the Albion building, adjoining the headquarters of the city committee, and kept an all-night vigil for the purpose of getting the first place in the line at the rail when the headquarters opened.

In the struggle which ensued the lists of delegate nominations favorable to George B. Pierce of Milton for Congress in wards 15, 16, 17, 20 and 24 of the 10th congressional district were filed in advance of any others from those wards, and in the wards of the 11th district—21, 22, 23 and 25—the delegation favorable to the nomination of Fred H. Williams of Brookline scored the supposed advantage of being filed before the delegations pledged to the opposing candidate, Samuel L. Powers of Newton.

On this occasion, says the Herald, the representatives of the Pierce and Williams candidacies for Congress in the 10th and 11th districts and of the Innes and Codman senatorial candidacies got control of the rooms most desirable to possess under the circumstances. They were marshalled by Henry Bowden of ward 20, who carried the delegates lists from that ward favorable to Dr. Pierce for Congress.

Mr. Bowden has been an adept through long experience, in this sort of generalship, and he rarely fails in his efforts when he sets out to secure the first place on the official caucus ballot for the candidate in whom he is interested. He is the inventor of a system of lining up his cohorts for the rush for the headquarters door which works to perfection, and can scarcely help but succeed.

He forms the men in two parallel lines inside the room, where they have been passing the night, and when the door is opened in the early morning one line passes out over the threshold and turns quickly to the left toward the entrance to the city committee headquarters. The other line turns to the right and when all are in the corridor they make a right about face and form a continuous line with their comrades, facing the headquarters door, and here they remain for three hours.

This scheme of operation was re-enforced by putting two muscular foot ball players at the head of the double line, and when the doors were opened the athletes leaped across the corridor and kept the rival party in the opposite room busy for a few seconds.

The Saturday evening Herald reports that ex-Congressman Atwood did not take the trouble to make an attempt to file his delegation first, but the Traveler says the door was locked on the Atwood men, which would indicate that an attempt was made. That the door was locked is disputed. The facts are that the Atwood-Powers-Colby forces were outwitted and that they got left. The clever work of the Pierce men will count at the caucuses, as the voters are with the man who hustles.

Maine is voting today.

Only two weeks to the caucuses.

Garden Party.

Saturday, the front and side lawn of 21 Quincy avenue looked no more festive than usual and many people when they arrived at Miss Parker's home wondered at its quiet appearance, but a walk to the garden in the rear, impressed the fact that a very successful party was in progress. For many interested groups of people were scattered over the tastefully decorated grounds, and buyers in plenty were thronging about the prettily arranged sales tables.

Excellent music was furnished throughout the afternoon by the Lord family, and solos were very acceptably given by Mr. Lincoln of Dorchester.

Birthday Surprise.

A large number of the friends of Angus G. McDonald of Madison avenue, tendered him a surprise party Saturday night, the occasion being his 35th birthday anniversary. During the evening A. G. Coffin, in behalf of the guests, presented Mr. McDonald with a gold watch and chain. Refreshments were served and there were vocal selections by Miss Jennie Gordan, Mrs. Nicol, Mrs. Dawes and William Kingstree.

Lightship Launched.

The launching of lightship No. 72 at the works of the Fore River Engine Co. took place today at 11.50 A. M. There were about 2,000 people present. Miss Frances A. Kellilea stationed on the bow of the ship broke a bottle of wine as the vessel slid gracefully into the water. The whistles on nearby manufactories announced to the public the launching.

LEG FOR GENESEE.

Defeats Mineola in First Race for Fisher Cup.

The Genesee built by Hanley at Quincy, and the Candanian boat Mineola, sailed the first of the Fisher cup races on Saturday in Lake Ontario of Ontario beach, twice over a triangular course of ten miles. A seven-mile breeze was blowing at the start. The Mineola led at the first buoy, but at the second turn the Genesee had pushed to the front and she led to the finish.

The time on the first round was: Genesee 12 59:40; Mineola, 1:01:40. At the finish: Genesee, 2:52:15; Mineola, 2:59:41.

Squantum Yachts at Hull.

Many boats from the Squantum Yacht club were present at the rendezvous at Hull on Sunday. The Lobster, one of the boats of the club passed the judges' boat third in the course from Hull to South Boston. There were over 250 boats in the fleet.

The east wind dying out as it did Sunday afternoon, many boats were becalmed right in sight of their moorings at Atlantic. There were several young people on one boat, who tried to keep up their good spirts by singing "John Brown's body lies a moldering in the grave" Opposite the singers, a boat was stationed at a stand still with every sail set. The men on board were impatient and started to row the boat along. They stood the singing very well until the fifth verse was begun. Then they exploded. "Why don't you sing something a little older," they cried bitterly, "perhaps you didn't know that John Brown had his whiskers cut thirty-eight years ago." They rowed in silence after that. The music had ceased.

The Powers Girl.

The citizens of Norfolk Downs were sorry to learn last week of the sudden death of the little Powers girl but were more grieved when it was reported to have been occasioned from a blow by a playmate. We are pleased to be able to inform our readers that the death was in no wise caused by a quarrel of the little ones, but a case of cholera morbus, and so reported by the attending physician. It is pleasant to know that any little fracas the tots may have had on their way from school, had nothing to do with her death, though sad it is to part with one loved so dearly.

HAS TROOPS ENOUGH.

Gaselee Directs That No More British Fighters Be Sent to Chinese Capital.

Nothing Definite as to the Actual Position of Affairs.

Americans Outwitted In Apportionment of Pekin to Control of Different Nations.

London, Sept. 10.—The Hong Kong correspondent of The Daily Telegraph, wiring Saturday, says: Sir Alfred Gaselee (British commander in Pekin) has wired to Hong Kong directing that no more troops be sent forward. In north China the Japanese and Russians have arrived at an understanding ,and are working together more cordially.

The deadlock in Pekin apparently continues. It begins to look as if no solution would be attained, at any rate before the arrival of Count Von Waldersee at Tientsin. Germany seems to have introduced a new complication by endeavoring to organize some kind of off-side movement in the province of Chi Li.

From the plentiful crop of conflicting rumors, both as regards the actual position of affairs in China and the diplomatic aspect in Europe, it is next to impossible to extract any definite fact. A Washington special talks of a movement among the powers to appoint Sir Robert Hart as the European representative in negotiations with China.

Belated dispatches to The Times from Pekin say that the court fled on the morning of Aug. 14 by the west gate, while the Japanese were shelling the east gate. The intention of the court was not to proceed to Sian Fu, in the province of Shen Si, but to turn north to Jehol and to remain there awaiting events. No high officials accompanied the court except Prince Ching.

In the apportionment of the city to the control of the different nations, the Americans, in ignorance of what was being done, permitted a rectification of the French quarter, adjoining the American, which transferred from American to French possession Prince Li's palace, the richest in Pekin, stocked with treasures worth millions of dollars.

Li Hung Chang intends to go north next Tuesday (Sept. 11). He will be accompanied by Chang Wi, director of mines for the province of Chi Li, and Tseng, manager of the Northern railway.

The Standard publishes the following: An imperial decree has been issued aiming to prove the innocence of the empress dowager in connection with the attacks upon foreigners.

Washington Has Heard Nothing New.

Washington, Sept. 10.—Acting Secretary Hill of the state department said last night there were no developments in the Chinese situation. Dr. Hill was at the state department for a time during the morning, but no telegrams of importance had come during the night, and there was nothing to make public. The naval officials were also without any information from the east during the day.

Negotiations Still Pending.

Indianapolis, Sept. 10.—The national executive board of the United Mine Workers of America adjourned sine die Sunday, without promulgating a formal endorsement of the application of the miners of the anthracite districts for permission to strike. At the close of the session, President Mitchell said: "There is practically no change in the situation. If the operators do not meet our demands within a given time, the strike will be ordered, upon the endorsement of Secretary Wilson and myself. Whether the time allowed is five days or longer, I decline to say. Influences are at work to bring about a settlement without ordering the men to lay down their tools."

Case For Medical Examiner.

Fitchburg, Mass., Sept. 10.—The body of Mrs. Mary Leathers was taken from Vinton pond, Townsend, Sunday, after a search of 24 hours. On the right temple was a severe bruise, from which blood flowed when the body was taken from the water. Circumstances made an autopsy necessary, and a medical examiner will try to ascertain the cause of death. According to an interview which Frank Bennett says he had with Mrs. Leathers Friday night in a clubhouse, the woman appeared despondent, and upbraided herself for unfaithfulness to her husband.

Serious Fires In Maine Woods.

Ellsworth, Me., Sept. 10.—The woods in the territory surrounding this city are afire in half a dozen localities, and in several instances the fires are raging with such fierceness and over so great areas that property of much value is threatened. The largest of the group of fires is that five miles northeast of Ellsworth and is about 10 miles long. This fire joins with another half as long, and both are burning rapidly. The fire thus far has been confined almost entirely to second growth timber.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Story of Crooked Pugilism.

New York, Sept. 10.—The World prints a story in which it is alleged that James J. Corbett has mysteriously left his home in this city. His destination is not known, though in some quarters it is thought he sailed for Europe on the Campania. Mrs. Corbett is quoted as saying that an arrangement had been made previous to the fight with "Kid" McCoy that Jim should allow McCoy to whip him, and Corbett put up money on that result. Half an hour before the fight Jim refused to carry out his part of the contract and whipped McCoy.

Attributed to Domestic Affairs.

Rockland, Me., Sept. 10.—Frank O. Henley shot and severely wounded Harry Sabin Saturday night and a little later Henley shot himself in the head and died about midnight. The police do not seem to know just what the affair was about, but it is thought to be due to domestic affairs. Surgical assistance was summoned and the men were pronounced to be in a critical condition. About midnight Henley died without regaining consciousness and Sabin does not appear to have strength enough to recover.

M'KINLEY'S LETTER.

marines who have in every time of conflict fought their country's battles and defended its honor. The survivors and the widows and orphans of those who have fallen are justly entitled to receive the generous and considerate care of the nation. Few are now left of those who fought in the Mexican war, and while many of the veterans of the Civil war are still spared to us their numbers are rapidly diminishing and age and infirmity are increasing their dependence. These, with the soldiers of the Spanish war, will not be neglected by their grateful countrymen. The pension laws have been liberal. They should be justly administered and will be. Preference should be given to the soldiers, sailors and marines, their widows and orphans, with respect to employment in the public service.

As to Cuba.

We have been in possession of Cuba since Jan. 1, 1899. We have restored order and established domestic tranquility. We have fed the starving, clothed the naked, and ministered to the sick. We have improved the sanitary condition of the island. We have stimulated industry, introduced public education, and taken a full and comprehensive enumeration of the inhabitants. The qualification of electors has been settled and under it officers have been chosen for all the municipalities of Cuba. These local governments are now in operation, administered by the people. Our military establishment has been reduced from $43,000 to less than $6000. An election has been ordered to be held on Sept. 15 under a fair election law already tried in the municipal elections, to choose members of a constitutional convention, and the convention by the same order is to assemble on the first Monday of November to frame a constitution upon which an independent government for the island will rest. All this is a long step in the fulfillment of our sacred guarantees to the people of Cuba.

Concerning Porto Rico.

We hold Porto Rico by the same title as the Philippines. The treaty of peace which ceded us the one conveyed to us the other. Congress has given to this island a government in which the inhabitants participate, elect their own legislature, enact their own local laws, provide their own system of taxation, and in these respects have the same power and privileges enjoyed by other territories belonging to the United States, and a much larger measure of self-government than was given to the inhabitants of Louisiana under Jefferson. A district court of the United States for Porto Rico has been established and local courts have been inaugurated, all of which are in operation. The generous treatment of the Porto Ricans accords with the most liberal thought of our own country, and encourages the best aspirations of the people of the island.

Under the new law and the inauguration of civil government there has been a gratifying revival of business. The manufactures of Porto Rico, are developing; her imports are increasing; her tariff is yielding increased returns; her fields are being cultivated; free schools are being established. Notwithstanding the many embarrassments incident to a change of national conditions she is rapidly showing the good effects of her new relations to this nation.

The Philippine Question.

For the sake of full and intelligent understanding of the Philippine question, and to give to the people authentic information of the acts and aims of the administration, I present at some length the events of importance leading up to the present situation. The purposes of the executive are best revealed and can best be judged by what he has done and is doing. It will be seen that the power of the government has been used for the liberty, the peace and the prosperity of the Philippine peoples, and that force has been employed only against force which stood in the way of the realization of these ends.

On April 25, 1898, congress declared that a state of war existed between Spain and the United States. On May 1, 1898, Admiral Dewey destroyed the Spanish fleet in Manila bay. On May 19, 1898, Major General Merritt, U. S. A., was placed in command of the military expedition to Manila, and directed among other things to immediately "publish a proclamation declaring that we come not to make war upon the people of the Philippines, nor upon any part or fraction among them, but to protect them in their homes, in their employments, and in their personal and religious rights. All persons who, either by active aid or by honest submission, co-operate with the United States in its efforts to give effect to this beneficent purpose, will receive the reward of its support and protection."

On July 3, 1898, the Spanish fleet, in attempting to escape from Santiago harbor, was destroyed by the American fleet, and on July 17, 1898, the Spanish garrison in the city of Santiago surrendered to the commander of the American forces.

Following these brilliant victories, on Aug. 12, 1898, upon the inatiative of Spain, hostilities were suspended, and a protocol was signed with a view to arranging terms of peace between the two governments. In pursuance thereof, I appointed as commissioners the following distinguished citizens, to conduct the negotiations on the part of the United States: William R. Day, William P. Frye, Cushman K. Davis, George Gray and Whitelaw Reid. In addressing the peace commission before its departure for Paris, I said:

"It is my wish that throughout the negotiations entrusted to the commission the purpose and spirit with which the United States accepted the unwelcome necessity of war should be kept constantly in view. We took up arms only in obedience to the dictates of humanity, and in the fulfillment of high public and moral obligations. We had no design of aggrandizement and no ambition of conquest. * * * Without any original thought of complete or even partial acquisition, the presence and success of our arms at Manila imposes upon us obligations which we cannot disregard. The march of events rules and overrules human action. Avowing unreservedly the purpose which has animated all our effort, and still solicitous to adhere to it, we cannot be unmindful that, without any desire or design on our part, the war has brought us new duties and responsibilities which we must meet and discharge as becomes a great nation, on whose growth and career, from the beginning, the ruler of nations has plainly written the high command and pledge of civilization."

The treaty of peace was concluded on Dec. 10, 1898. By its terms the archipelago, known as the Philippine islands, was ceded by Spain to the United States. It was also provided that "the civil rights and political status of the native inhabitants of the territories hereby ceded to the United States shall be determined by the congress."

In order to facilitate the most humane, pacific and effective extension of authority throughout these islands, and to secure, with the least possible delay, the benefits of a wise and generous protection of life and property to the inhabitants, I appointed in January, 1899, a commission consisting of Jacob Schurman, Admiral George Dewey, Charles Denby, Dean C. Worcester and Major General Otis. Their instructions contained the following:

"The commissioners will endeavor, without interference with the military authorities of the United States now in control of the Philippines, to ascertain what amelioration in the condition of the inhabitants and what improvements in public order may be practicable, and for this purpose they will study attentively the existing social and political state of the various populations, particularly as regards the forms of local government, the administration of justice, the collection of customs and other taxes, the means of transportation, and the need of public improvements. They will report * * * the results of their observations and reflections, and will recommend such executive action as may from time to time seem to them wise and useful. * * *

"It is my desire that in all their relations with the inhabitants of the islands the commissioners exercise due respect for all the ideals, customs and institutions of the tribes which compose the population, emphasizing upon all occasions the just and beneficent intentions of the government of the United States. * * *"

On Feb. 6, 1899, the treaty was ratified by the senate of the United States, and the congress immediately appropriated $20,000,000 to carry out its provisions. The ratifications were exchanged by the United States and Spain on the 11th of April, 1899.

As early as April, 1899, the Philippine commission endeavored to bring about peace in the islands by repeated conferences with leading Tagalogs representing the so-called insurgent government, to the end that some general plan of government might be offered them which they would accept. So great was the satisfaction of the insurgent commissioners with the form of government proposed by the American commissioners that the latter submitted the proposed scheme to me for approval.

In the latter part of May another group of representatives came from the insurgent leader. The whole matter was fully discussed with them and promise of acceptance seemed near at hand. They assured our commissioners they would return after consulting with their leader, but they never did.

As a result of the views expressed by the first Tagalog representative favorable to the plan of the commission it appears that he was, by military order of the insurgent leader, stripped of his shoulder straps, dismissed from the army and sentenced to 12 years' imprisonment.

After the most thorough study of the peoples of the archipelago the commission reported, among other things:

"Their lack of education and political experience, combined with their racial and linguistic diversities, disqualify them, in spite of their mental gifts and domestic virtues, to undertake the task of governing the archipelago at the present time. The most that can be expected of them is to co-operate with the Americans in the administration of general affairs, from Manila as a center, and to undertake, subject to American control or guidance (as may be found necessary) the administration of provincial and municipal affairs. * * *

"Should our power by any fatality be withdrawn, the commission believes that the government of the Philippines would speedily lapse into anarchy, which would excuse, if it did not necessitate the intervention of other powers, and the eventual division of the islands among them. Only through American occupation, therefore, is the idea of a free, self-governing and united Philippine commonwealth at all conceivable. * * *

"Thus the welfare of the Filipinos coincides with the dictates of national honor in forbidding our abandonment of the archipelago. We cannot from any point of view escape the responsibilities of government which our sovereignty entails; and the commission is strongly persuaded that the performance of our national duty will prove the greatest blessing to the people of the Philippine islands."

Satisfied that nothing further could be accomplished in pursuance of their mission until the rebellion was suppressed, and desiring to place before the congress the result of their observations, I requested the commission to return to the United States. Their most intelligent and comprehensive report was submitted to congress. In March, 1900, believing that the insurrection was practically ended and earnestly desiring to promote the establishment of a stable government in the archipelago, I appointed the following civil commission:

William H. Taft, Dean C. Worcester, Luke I. Wright, Henry C. Ide and Bernard Moses. My instructions to them contained the following:

"You (the secretary of war) will instruct the commission * * * to devote their attention in the first instance to the establishment of municipal governments, in which the natives of the islands, both in the cities and in the rural communities, shall be afforded the opportunity to manage their own local affairs to the fullest extent of which they are capable, and subject to the least degree of supervision and control which a careful study of their capacities and observation of the workings of native control show to be consistent with the maintenance of law, order and loyalty. United States, both civil and military, should be impressed a sense of the duty to observe, not merely the material, but the personal and social rights of the people of the islands, and to treat them with the same courtesy and respect for their personal dignity which the people of the United States are accustomed to require from each other."

That all might share in the regeneration of the islands and participate in their government, I directed General MacArthur, the military governor of the Philippines, to issue a proclamation of amnesty.

Under their instructions the commission are now laboring to establish stable government under civil control, in which the inhabitants shall participate, giving them opportunity to demonstrate how far they are prepared for self-government.

This commission, under date of Aug. 21, makes an interesting report, from which I quote the following extracts:

"Hostility against Americans originally aroused by absurd falsehoods of unscrupulous leaders. The distribution of troops in 300 posts has by contact largely dispelled hostility and steadily improved temper of people. This improvement is furthered by abuses of insurgents. Large numbers of people long for peace and willing to accept government under the United States. Insurgents not surrendering after defeat divided into small guerilla bands under general officers or become robbers. * * * Tagalogs alone active in leading guerilla warfare. In Negros, Cebu, Romblon, Masbate, Sibuyan, Tablas, Bohol and other Philippine islands little disturbance exists and civil government eagerly awaited. * * * Turning islands over to coterie of Tagalog politicians will blight fair prospects of enormous improvement; drive out capital, make life and property secular and religions most insecure. * * * With proper tariff and facilities Manila will become great port of Orient."

No Promise of Independence.

Nobody who will avail himself of the facts will longer hold that there was any alliance between our soldiers and the insurgents, or that any promise of independence was made to them. Long before their leader had reached Manila they had resolved, if the commander of the American navy would give them arms with which to fight the Spanish army, they would later turn upon us, which they did murderously and without the shadow of cause or justification. There may be those, without the means of full information, who believe that we were in alliance with the insurgents, and that we assured them that they should have independence. In the report of the first Philippine commission, submitted on Nov. 2, 1899, Admiral Dewey, one of its members, said: "No alliance of any kind was entered into with Aguinaldo nor was any promise of independence made to him at any time."

Generals Merritt, Greene and Anderson, who were in command at the beginning of our occupation, and until the surrender of Manila, states that there was no alliance with the insurgents, and no promise to them of independence. On Aug. 17, 1898, General Merritt was instructed that there must be no joint occupation of Manila with the insurgents.

Would not our adversaries have sent Dewey's fleet to Manila to capture and destroy the Spanish sea power there, or, dispatching it there, would they have withdrawn it after the destruction of the Spanish fleet, and if the latter, whither would they have directed it to sail? Where could it have gone? What port in the Orient was opened to it? Do our adversaries condemn the expedition under the command of General Merritt to strengthen Dewey in the distant ocean and assist in our triumph over Spain, with which nation we were at war? Was it not our highest duty to strike Spain at every vulnerable point, that the war might be successfully concluded at the earliest practicable moment?

And was it not our duty to protect the lives and property of those who came within our control by the fortunes of war? Could we have come away at any time between May 1, 1898, and the conclusion of peace, without a stain upon our good name? Could we have come away without dishonor at any time after the ratification of the peace treaty by the senate of the United States?

There has been no time since the destruction of the enemy's fleet when we could or should have left the Philippine archipelago. After the treaty of peace was ratified no power but congress could surrender our sovereignty or alienate a foot of the territory thus acquired. The congress has not seen fit to do the one or the other, and the president had no authority to do either, if he had been so inclined, which he was not.

It has been asserted that there would have been no fighting in the Philippines if congress had declared its purpose to give independence to the Tagal insurgents. The insurgents did not wait for the action of congress. They assumed the offensive, they opened fire upon our army. Their unprovoked assault upon our soldiers at a time when the senate was deliberating upon the treaty shows that no action on our part, except surrender and abandonment, would have prevented the fighting, and leaves no doubt in any fair mind of where the responsibility rests for the shedding of American blood.

The Real Contention.

With all the exaggerated phrase making of this electoral contest, we are in danger of being diverted from the real contention. We are in agreement with all of those who supported the war with Spain, and also with those who counselled the ratification of the treaty of peace. Upon these two great essential steps there can be no issue, and out of these came all of our responsibilities. It is our purpose to establish in the Philippines a government suitable to the wants and conditions of the inhabitants and to prepare them for self-government, and to give them self-government when they are ready for it, and as rapidly as they are ready for it. That I am aiming to do under my constitutional authority, and will continue to do until congress shall determine the political status of the inhabitants of the archipelago.

Are our opponents against the treaty? If so, they must be reminded that it could not have been ratified in the senate but for their assistance. The senate, which "Upon all officers and employes of the ratified the treaty, and the congress which added its sanction by a large appropriation, comprised senators and representatives of the people of all parties.

Would our opponents surrender to the insurgents, abandon our sovereignty or cede it to them? If that be not their purpose, then it should be promptly disclaimed, for only evil can result from the hopes raised by our opponents in the minds of the Filipinos, that with their success at the polls in November there will be a withdrawal of our army and of American sovereignty over the archipelago; the complete independence of the Tagalog people recognized and the powers of government over all the other peoples of the archipelago conferred upon the Tagalog leaders.

The effect of a belief in the minds of the insurgents that this will be done has already prolonged the rebellion and increases the necessity for the continuance of a large army. It is now delaying full peace in the archipelago and the establishment of civil governments, and has influenced many of the insurgents against accepting the liberal terms of amnesty offered by General MacArthur under my direction. But for these false hopes, a considerable reduction could have been made in our military establishment in the Philippines, and the realization of a stable government would be already at hand.

No government can so certainly preserve the peace, restore public order, establish law, justice and stable conditions as ours. Neither congress nor the executive can establish a stable government in these islands except under our right of sovereignty, our authority, and our flag. And this we are doing.

Our rights in the Philippines are now free from outside interference and will continue so in our present relation. They would not be thus free in any other relation. We will not give up our own to guarantee another sovereignty.

Our title is good. If any who favored its ratification believed it gave us a bad title, they were not sincere. Our title is practically identical with that under which we hold our territory acquired since the beginning of the government, and under which we have exercised full sovereignty and established government for the inhabitants.

Those who profess to distrust the liberal and honorable purposes of the administration in its treatment of the Philippines are not justified. Imperialism has no place in its creed or conduct. Freedom is a rock upon which the Republican party was builded and now rests. Liberty is the great Republican doctrine for which the people went to war and for which a million lives were offered and billions of dollars expended to make it a lawful legacy of all without the consent of master or slave. There is a strain of ill-concealed hypocrisy in the anxiety to extend the constitutional guarantees to the people of the Philippines, while their nullification is openly advocated at home. Our opponents may distrust themselves, but they have no right to discredit the good faith and patriotism of the majority of the people, who are opposed to them; they may fear the worst form of imperialism with the helpless Filipinos in their hands; but if they do, it is because they have parted with the spirit and faith of the fathers and have lost the virility of the founders of the party which they profess to represent.

The Republican party doesn't have to assert its devotion to the Declaration of Independence. That immortal instrument of the fathers remained unexecuted until the people under the lead of the Republican party in the awful clash of battle turned its promises into fulfillment. It wrote into the constitution the amendments guaranteeing political equality to American citizenship and it has never broken them or counselled others in breaking them. It will not be guided in its conduct by one set of principles at home and another set in the new territory belonging to the United States.

Empire has been expelled from Porto Rico and the Philippines by American freemen. The flag of the republic now floats over these islands as an emblem of rightful sovereignty. Will the republic stay and dispense to their inhabitants the blessings of liberty, education and free institutions, or steal away, leaving them to anarchy or imperialism?

The American question is between duty and desertion—the American verdict will be for duty, and against desertion, for the republic against both anarchy and imperialism.

The Chinese Question.

The country has been fully advised of the purposes of the United States in China, and they will be faithfully adhered to as already defined. The nation is filled with gratitude that the little band, among them many of our own blood, who for two months have been subjected to privations and peril by the attacks of pitiless hordes at the Chinese capital, exhibiting supreme courage in the face of despair, have been enabled by God's favor to greet their rescuers and find shelter under their own flag.

The people not alone of this land, but of all lands, have watched and prayed through the terrible stress and protracted agony of the helpless sufferers in Pekin, and while at times the dark tidings seemed to make all hope vain, the rescuers never faltered in the heroic fulfillment of their noble task.

We are grateful to our own soldiers and sailors and marines, and, to all the brave men who, though assembled under many standards representing peoples and races strangers in country and speech, were yet united in the sacred mission of carrying succor to the besieged, with a success that is now the cause of a world's rejoicing.

Not only have be reason for thanksgiving for our material blessings, but we should rejoice in the complete unification of the people of all sections of our country, that has so happily developed in the last few years and made for us a more perfect union.

The obliteration of old differences, the common devotion to the flag and the common sacrifices for its honor, so conspicuously shown by the men of the north and south in the Spanish war, have so strengthened the ties of friendship and mutual respect that nothing can ever again divide us. The nation faces the new century gratefully and hopefully, with increasing love of country, with firm faith in its free institutions, and with high resolve that they "shall not perish from the earth."

Very respectfully yours,

William McKinley.

CHAOS IN GALVESTON.

Loss of Life Estimated at From Fifteen Hundred to Five Thousand.

Awful Wreck and Ruin Caused by the Wind and Flood.

Houston, Tex. Sept. 11.—From the latest reports which are considered reliable the disaster at Galveston and along the coast has not been exaggerated. The waters of the gulf and bay met, covering the island to a depth of 6 to 12 feet. During this sudden flood a most terrible storm was raging, the wind blowing about 80 miles an hour. Many of the dead have been uncovered; others are still under the debris; others carried out to sea.

It is not possible to give, at this time, a reliable report at to the number of deaths. From estimates made by reliable persons who have just come from Galveston, it is believed that not less than 1500, possibly as many as 5000 people, were destroyed. Of course, the wounded are numerous. The damage to property is most shocking.

A mass meeting was held yesterday and liberal contributions were made for the immediate relief of the destitute.

Governor Sayers appealed to President McKinley for aid. This appeal was met with a prompt response from the president, who stated that 10,000 tents and 50,000 rations have been ordered to Galveston. Governor Sayers also addressed an appeal to each municipality in the state, asking for prompt assistance in caring for the sufferers.

Telegrams of inquiry and sympathy have been pouring in from every state in the union, and in almost every instance substantial relief has been offered.

The stricken city is in imminent danger of a water famine, and strenuous efforts are making here to supply the sufferers. Relief trains are being organized and will leave here at an early hour.

Reports from interior towns confirm the heavy loss of life and destruction of property.

A special from Galveston by the tug Brunswick to Houston says: The center of the West Indian hurricane struck here at 8 o'clock Saturday morning. At that hour the wind was in the north and the waters of the bay were rising rapidly. The gulf was also turbulent and the water, forced in by the tropical storm, rolled up the beach and gradually crept inland. About 2 p. m. the wind was riding rapidly, constantly veering and settling towards the east and coming in fitful jerks and puffs which loosened awnings, cornices and slate roofs and sent the fragments flying into the air.

The waters of the bay continued rising and, creeping ashore, mingling with the water from the clouds, filled the down-town streets and invaded stores. Despite the dangers of the flying missiles, as the afternoon wore on men ventured out in the streets in hacks, wagons, boats and on foot, some anxious to get home to their families, some bent on errands of mercy and others animated by no purpose save bravado.

Gaining in velocity, the wind changed to northeast, then to the west and the waters rose until they covered the city. The wind howled frightfully around the buildings, tearing off cornices and ripping off roofs. The wooden paving blocks rose from their places in the streets and floated off.

At 6:30 o'clock the wind had shifted to the southeast, still increasing in velocity. At that hour the wind gauge on the roof of the United States weather bureau registered 85 miles an hour and then blew away. Still the wind blew harder and harder and even the most fortunate houses lost all or a part of their coverings. The storm reached its height at about 8:30 o'clock.

At 9 o'clock the wind began subsiding and the waves to recede. But the fury of the storm had not been spent until well into the day. At 1 o'clock the water had fallen until the streets were inundated no more than they would be by a big rain.

Sunday morning broke clear and the sun shone brightly on a scene of wreck and ruin. The streets were piled with debris in many places, several feet high. Buildings were shorn of roofs, cornices, chimneys and windows. Stocks of goods were damaged by floods from below and by rain from above.

But it was the wind which wrought the greatest havoc in every respect. The damage from the waters of the bay was inconsequential when compared with that from the wind. The eastern part of the city received the full force of the storm and suffered most, although no section escaped serious injury.

Along the beach for about four blocks back scarcely a residence was left. The beach district was shorn of human habitation. Back of that houses and timbers piled up, crushing other buildings which lay in their path. Men and women walked through the slimy mud that spread the streets, homeless, rushing around, frantic, hunting their relatives.

Wire communication was opened at Dallas with Beaumont and Orange yesterday afternoon. It is reported that several lives were lost in the localities of Sabine Pass and Port Arthur, but the towns are reported to have suffered only slightly.

Dead and wounded men, women and children lay around awaiting the coming of the volunteer corps, organized to remove the bodies to the improvised morgues and hospitals. There was no thought of the property damage; those who has escaped with their families, losing all else, felt satisfied and thanked their God.

It is impossible at this time to give a definite or reliable estimate as to the loss of life and property. It is known, however, that the death lists will run into the hundreds with other hundreds injured, and the property loss will be several million dollars.

A large number of people took refuge in the Rosenburg public school, in the eastern part of the city. The building collapsed and several were killed and injured. The Lucas flats, a large brick building, was totally demolished, and a number of people who had sought it as a haven were lost. St. Mary's infirmary was badly wrecked, and a number of sisters and inmates of the hospital were killed. Ritter's cafe, a three-story building, collapsed. This cafe is largely patronized by cotton men, ship brokers and railroad officials, and a number of them were there at the time. It is known that several were killed, though the relief corps has not completed its work.

Colonel Polk and Chief Engineer Felt of the Santa Fe went out on horseback yesterday afternoon to see about the railroad bridge, but could not get within seeing distance. No reports have come in from Point Judith, the extreme eastern end of the island.

A view from the wharves discloses that all the barracks of the United States engineer department, storehouses, lighthouse, life-saving station, quarantine warehouse, in fact all buildings, but the quarantine station proper, have been washed away. The jetty is not visible; only a portion of the fortifications can be seen.

At Fort Crockett, in the western portion of the city, battery C, First artillery, suffered greatly. Twenty of the men were killed and a number injured. All the barracks' storehouses and Captain Rafferty's residence, were demolished. Thirten members of the battery were at Fort San Jacinto (Fort Point) and seven at the Bolivar Point fortifications on duty. They have not been heard from.

A special from San Antonio, Tex., says: At military headquarters, department of Texas, the information is that of 120 men stationed at Fort San Jacinto, Galveston, only 15 escaped.

Red Cross to the Rescue.

Washington, Sept. 11.—Miss Clara Barton has issued an appeal in behalf of the Texas sufferers. Contributions may be wired or sent by mail to the treasurer of the American National Red Cross, William J. Flather, assistant cashier, Riggs National bank, Washington, also to the local Red Cross committees of the Red Cross India famine fund at 156 Fifth avenue, New York city, and the Louisiana famine fund at New Orleans.

Assistance For the Distressed.

Washington, Sept. 11. — Governor Sayres of Texas has applied to the war department for 10,000 tents and 50,000 rations for immediate use for the sufferers from Saturday's storm. Actin Secretary Meikeljohn at once issued an order granting the request.

General Wheeler Leaves the Army.

Washington, Sept. 11.—A formal order has been issued by the war department announcing the retirement of Brigadier General Joseph Wheeler, who yesterday reached the age limit of 64 years. The president did not make any appointment to fill the vacancy caused by the retirement of General Wheeler, but it is probable that Colonel Daggett will be appointed, and retired. It is also probable that General Schwan will be appointed brigadier general in the regular arm and retired. This will leave the vacancy for General Chaffee, whose regular rank is colonel of cavalry.

Negroes Form a Law and Order League.

New Orleans, Sept. 11.—The leading colored citizens of this city have organized a law and order league. The purposes of the league are to encourage and teach civic worth and pride, to promote a higher regard for the duties and responsibilities of citizenship, and to better the moral and industrial condition of the negro. The association is non-political and non-secterian.

Tender-Hearted Monarchs.

Washington, Sept. 11.—The state department has been informed that the emperor and empress have each sent a representative to visit the United States marine hospital in Yokohama to convey their sympathy for the sick and wounded soldiers there. The messenger of the empress also carried presents and delicacies for the comfort of the patients.

Lowell Man Wins a Championship.

London, Sept. 11.—In a contest for the middleweight championship of England, Frank Craig, "The Harlem Coffee Cooler," was defeated in four rounds by George Gardiner of Lowell, Mass. The fight was spoiled by hugging and clinching throughout. Craig was finally disqualified for throwing his opponent.

Boers Lost Heavily.

London, Sept. 11.—The war office has received a report from Lord Roberts, saying that General Buller, Sept. 8, attacked and captured the Boer position at Spitzkop. He adds that the Boers retreated over a narrow causeway, losing heavily. The British lost 13 men killed and 25 wounded.

THE VOICE OF MAINE.

Plurality of Thirty-Three Thousand Recorded In Favor of Republicans.

Democrats Gained, However, Over the Vote of 1896.

Prohibitionists Carried County Where National Issues Were a Secondary Consideration.

Portland, Me., Sept. 11.—Carrying out its traditions of many years, with but one break, Maine went Republican in the state election Monday by a good majority. The plurality over the Democratic candidates is more than 33,000.

The returns, compared with 1896, showed Republican losses of about 10 percent and a Democratic gain of about 18 percent. The Republicans polled almost as large a vote as in 1896, and the Democrats made heavy gains over that year. While thousands of voters who in 1896 deserted the Democratic ranks returned to the fold Monday, yet the Republicans were able to make good most of the loss.

As to the four Republican congressmen, all were returned by large majorities, the endorsement of Messrs. Allen in the First and Burleigh in the Third being especially large and notable. Mr. Littlefield is returned in the Second and Mr. Boutelle in the Fourth.

The state legislature will remain practically unchanged, all the senators (31) being Republicans, while about 125 out of the 151 representatives will also be of that faith, and assures the election of William P. Frye as senator.

The most notable contest in the state was that in Cumberland county over the shrievalty, which resulted in a victory for the Prohibitionists, or those who believe in enforcing the law.

There was every incentive for voting. The campaign had been a spirited one, there was enough local contest to arouse interest, while the day was unsurpassed. The vote, however, was not quite as heavy as in 896, but exceeded that of the 1898 election by many thousands.

The Republican ticket was headed by John F. Hill of Augusta for governor. The campaign throughout the state, except, perhaps, in Cumberland county, was fought entirely on national issues, prominent speakers from outside the state being imported by both parties. The Republicans held many meetings, and the Democrats were not far behind, and nearly all the gatherings were well attended. The issues arising from the results of the Spanish war were hotly debated on both sides and the voters apparently were well informed by the time the campaign had closed.

In Cumberland county, with Portland as a center, there was fought out one of the most interesting contests in the state. This was solely on the liquor law, its enforcement or its non-enforcement, the Republican candidate representing the latter and a Prohibition candidate the former issue. The fight was a bitter one and every effort was made to get out the vote. The Prohibitionists landed their candidate for sheriff, Samuel F. Pearson of this city.

Sure of Jordan's Nomination.

Concord, N. H., Sept. 11.—The Republican state convention opened here today. Edwin F. Jones of Manchester is president, A. T. Batchelder of Keene is chairman of the committee on resolutions, and John H. Broughton of Portsmouth is chairman of the committee on credentials. Chester B. Jordan of Lancaster will be nominated for governor. His only opponent, Franklin Worcester of Hillis, will probably receive but a small vote. Four presidential electors will be nominated. The resolutions endorse the national platform and the national and state administrations.

A Mixed Situation.

Saratoga, N. Y., Sept. 11.—The situation here irresistibly recalls that of two years ago at Syracuse. After the morning newspapers had gone to print the name of August Van Wyck was brought forward and he was nominated. The same men who controlled the situation then are in control now—Croker, Murphy and Shevlin—and there is a general feeling prevailing that the situation may turn out to be a precedent for that which will occur here. Late last night rumors became statements that David B. Hill's forces had been completely stampeded.

Women Interested In Politics.

Chicago, Sept. 11.—William J. Bryan told two Chicago audiences yesterday why he thought he should be elected President of the United States. The first speech was made at a reception arranged at the Sherman House by the Nebraska Bryan club of Chicago. The second was at the University of Chicago, where, in Kent theater, he addressed an audience consisting of more than 1000 people, mostly women.

Republican Campaign Plans.

New York, Sept. 11.—It is announced at Republican national headquarters that the campaign this week will open in Maryland at Baltimore on the 11th; in New Jersey on the 13th, and in this city on the 14th. A little later in the month the campaign will be in full force throughout the entire middle west, and Oct. 1 will witness the formal opening in Massachusetts and Connecticut.

To Make Another Trip East.

Chicago, Sept. 11.—Senator M. A. Hanna arrived in Chicago yesterday to take charge of the Republican national campaign. He will remain in charge two days and then go east for a fortnight, when he will return to this city.

Good Afternoon.

That Quincy Point needs a new school building has long been known, and now that the new ship building plant is likely to increase the number of school children the erection of a new building should not be delayed.

The saying "dead as Chelsea" is no longer appropriate to the growing city just north of Boston. While Charlestown within the city of Boston scarcely made any gain, the returns show the population of Chelsea to be 34,072, a gain of 6,164 in ten years, or 22.08 per cent.

From the statement of Principal Assessor Thompson to the City Council, it is very evident now that the tax rate of 1899, was much larger than necessary. That it would have been materially reduced if Mayor Keith and the Board of Assessors had made a closer study of the city receipts, which are really a very important factor in determining the amount that shall be raised by taxation. In August, when the tax rate is determined, it should be possible to ascertain with considerable accuracy the amount of the receipts for the year. Yet they were estimated by the Assessors of 1899 at only $46,270, while the facts are they were rising $100,000. Mayor Hall's knowledge of the finances of the city, from years of service as City Auditor, made it possible for him to reduce the tax rate $1 per $1000, although his opponents were sure the tax rate of 1900 would be over $20. The taxpayers, however, appreciate a saving of $2 per $1,000.

Drift of Opinion.

☞ A hoodlum is a hoodlum wherever he appears, and whatever the color of his skin may be. Nor is there much to choose between white hoodlums and black hoodlums, whether in New York or New Orleans. In all cases they menace the good order of the community and terrorize the peaceably disposed. Intelligent men of all sections of the country see this clearly enough, and so far as their influence goes, seek to suppress the hoodlum wherever he may be. No occasion exists for taunts or criminations. The evil is one which afflicts all our cities to a considerable degree, though its outbreaks are naturally most violent in the largest places. And what is going to be done with it is one of the most serious problems of the time.—New Bedford Standard.

☞ Mr. S. W. Kingsmore, American postmaster at Dagupan, P. I., says that "the natives live on three cents a day and are seemingly happy. They have the independent spirt of millionairse." We shall change all that. We shall teach the Filipino to smoke Imperials and crease his trousers. We shall arouse his interest in shirt waists and teach him to dodge taxes. In our later schemes of imperialist expansion elsewhere, we may see him complaining of war stamps. We shall have him dreading the call of the rent collector, and hunting a job from one of the trusts. It is the business of civilization to do away with the three-cent millionaire. The supreme satisfaction of having few wants and being able to satisfy them easily is too barbarous. The Filipino must learn to wear collars and cuffs. He is too unprofitable a subject in his present ridiculous happiness and independence.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

CITY RECEIPTS OF 1900.

And Is Able to Defend Them to Satisfaction of City Council.

But Little Business at Meeting of the Quincy Legislators.

A short session of the City Council was held Monday evening. The absent members were Councilmen Alden, Callahan, and Packard.

CITY RECEIPTS.

The Mayor forwarded a communication from the Board of Assessors, enclosing the estimated receipts from which they made up the tax levy, which were as follows:

Garbage,	$450 00
Burial places,	4,500 00
Edgestones and sidewalks,	2,645 00
Sundry miscellaneous receipts,	5,400 00
Interest and premiums,	10,000 00
Streets,	1,000 00
Corporation tax,	12,000 00
Bank tax,	1,700 00
State and military aid,	4,500 00
Poor department,	2,200 00
House connections,	2,000 00
Street sprinkling,	3,000 00
	49,395 00
Water,	18,000 00
	$67,395 00

This was laid on the table until later, when Councilman Freeman asked Principal Assessor Thompson if in making up the amount they were furnished any estimate of the actual receipts of 1899, and if he could tell what it was.

Mr. Thompson replied—Yes they were $100,000. He got the figures from the Mayor and City Treasurer.

Councilman Freeman asked the City Treasurer what amount of the receipts of 1899 were to be taken for the tax levy.

Assessor Thompson was then asked if he knew the law applicable to making the estimated amount of receipts to which he replied yes. They could not exceed the amount of receipts last year.

Councilman Freeman then moved that the Principal Assessor furnish the Council with an itemized account of the actual receipts of last year. The motion was ruled out of order.

The communication was then referred to the Committee on Finance.

ELECTION OFFICERS.

The Mayor's appointment of election officers was confirmed.

PETITIONS.

Emeline Brown sent a petition relative to restoring her driveway, which had been taken by the regrading of Quincy avenue. Referred to the Committee on Claims.

Petitions for the regrading and rebuilding of Cranch street, for a gravel sidewalk on Garfield street, and from the Telephone Co. for location of poles on School and Water streets, were referred to the Committee on Streets.

REPORT OF COMMITTEES.

The Committee on Streets reported an order for $2,000 for abolishing nuisance at Teel pond, Atlantic. Referred to the Committee on Sewers and Drains.

The Committee on Licenses reported favorable upon several petitions for minor licenses, and leave to withdraw on petition of G. L. Lyman for a merry-go-round, and E. J. Hardy for a Common Victualler's license. Accepted.

INCREASE OF SALARY.

Councilman Freeman offered an amendment to Ordinance No. 18, changing the salary of the Commissioner of Public Works from $2,000 to $2,500 per year. Referred to joint committee on Ordinances and Finance.

Upon motion of Councilman Cleverly, a committee consisting of President Bryant, Councilmen Cleverly, Newcomb and Badger, were appointed to draw up resolutions on the death of Councilman Hultman.

Adjourned at 7.53 until Sept. 17.

Raid on Trees.

Wollaston people were up in arms against the Quincy Electric Light and Power Co, on Saturday. The trouble arose over the trimming of beautiful elm and maple trees of that ward. The Electric Light Co. sent down a gang of nine men, two teams and the necessary extension ladders and tools to lop off all branches which interferred with their wires. The result was that many of the beautiful trees, which it has taken years of care to grow, are irreparably injured. The foreman of the gang was implored to stop the work of destruction, but all to no purpose. Under the new tree law every property owner or lessee who had trees disfigured by Saturday's raid at Wollaston can recover heavy damages from the Electric Light Co. It is understood that some pretty stiff claims are to be filed. The indignation against the company and the city authorities for allowing such vandalism is intense.

Penants and Cups.

The Quincy Yacht club has presented to each of the championship winners in the two handicap classes a cock-of the-walk pennant. These pennants are pointed, 48 inches long, 16 inches wide, having a white field with a large red rooster near the luff and red letters "Q. Y. C." running into the point. Each championship winner was also presented with a large sterling cup appropriately inscribed. The "C C" put up such a splendid fight for the championship in class A, being only 20 per cent behind the Hustler, that a sterling cup was also given to her owners.

A Big Rattler.

Sewer Commissioner Jones had many callers Monday to see the rattlesnake which he killed on Sunday. All said, that as snakes go, he was a handsome fellow. In stretching him upon the floor he was found to measure three feet, nine inches, in length, which is said to be one of the largest killed in this vicinity. Although killed Sunday, there was some life left in his snakeship, for his tail could be seen to move occasionally.

The Cat Came Down.

Last week a curious thing happened on Webster street. There has been a black cat frequenting the different houses whose disposition was anything but sweet. Everyone wanted to kill the cat, but no one could get heart or courage. One night a dog sighted the black coated creature creeping along the street, and immediately gave chase. The cat ran up a telegraph pole, way to the very top. Then she couldn't get down. All night she stayed there, crying mournfully off and on, and looking down the pole to the road beneath. The next morning she was still there. About noon the telegraph pole was without its feline ornament. How she got down no one found out, but the cat has disappeared.

Geddes—Neilson.

The was a quiet wedding at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Geddes, on Hall street, Monday morning, Sept. 10, at nine o'clock, when Mr. Winfred H. Geddes and Miss Magdalena Neilson, were united in marriage by Rev. W. H. Rogers of East Milton Baptist church. The bride was given away by her father, and Mr. Howie and Miss Bessie Neilson acted as groomsman and bridesmaid. The affair was unpretentious as it was enjoyable, and at noon the wedded couple took the St. John steamer for a two weeks' sojourn in New Brunswick. On their return they will make their home in East Milton.

☞ To our everlasting gratification and pride the parts of Outram and Havelock have been enacted by American soldiers marching under the Stars and Stripes. To say that is not to slight nor to depreciate the other powers. They have been among the foremost and the bravest. Without them there could have been no victory and no rescue. But we may justly claim that it was the American spirit of hope and courage that animated them all and led them to the splendid victory in which all now rejoice.—New York Tribune.

The Managers of Public Burial places will meet Thursday evening.

Though it is as yet early in the season the following have already been booked.

Gus Sun's Minstrels,
The Flints.
Donnazetta's Span of Life,
The World Against Her,
Sunshine of Paradise Alley,

The management wish also to call attention to two facts :—

FIRST :—The excellent dancing floor which Music Hall now has—selected white maple, protected when not used for dancing by a heavy canvas covering, and

SECOND :—That every precaution has been taken to guard against fire and the dangers of a panic—there is a fire extinguisher on each side of the stage and one in the gallery—the stage can be instantly cut off from the main hall by an asbestos fire proof curtain—throughout the hall between the inner and upper floors there is asbestos paper—there are now five distinct exits, each always lighted when the hall is in use by both electricity and gas.

WON BY ACCIDENT.

The Genesee Was Second When the Minota Was Disabled.

The Minota, the Canadian challenger for the Fisher cup, carried away her jib and shortly afterward her spreader, and was compelled to withdraw in the second race on Monday with the Genesee on Lake Ontaria. The Minota was leading at the time. On the 5-mile beat to the first mark she turned 6 minutes, 30 seconds ahead. The Genesee picked up on the run home and rounded only 49 seconds behind. The accident to the Minota occurred on the second beat to the outer mark, and she withdrew. The Genesee had a walkover, and won the second and deciding race, and successfully defends the cup. The Canadians are naturally dissatisfied and have offered a $100 cup for races over the same courses on Lake Ontaria.

Political Potpourri.

Republican City Committee will meet Thursday evening at headquarters, where all Republicans of the city will be welcome. The young men voters will also form a McKinley batallion.

Republican headquarters will be open every night where literature of the campaign may be obtained. Citizens and would-be citizens may get full information.

All citizens who are not registered and desire to be, and all eligible men should possess public spirit to that extent, at least, should attend to the matter early and avoid the rush of the closing days.

The Socialists of this city are makpreparations for another great conference and meeting of socialists to be held next Sunday when their chieftans from all over the state will be present and make addresses. Mayor Coulter of Brockton, Mayor Chase of Haverhill, their candidates for Governor and Lieut. Governor, and a long list of others, including Hon. Job Harriman of California; their candidate for Vice President. Preparations are in progress to care for ten thousand should the day be fair. Last year their meeting was very successful.

Politicians have begun to hustle, and the indications are that there will be three and possibly four lists filed for delegates to the Congressional convention.

The Social Democrats will hold a convention Wednesday evening in the old Franklin school building on Washington street, near Dover street, Boston, to nominate a candidate for Congress in the Tenth district.

Tomorrow evening will be the last opportunity to register before the caucuses, the next date being Sept. 26.

The First Norfolk Republican Senatorial convention will be held at 11 A. M., Oct. 1, at Wesleyan hall, Boston.

West Quincy Republicans.

The West Quincy Republican club will hold meetings every Tuesday evening in their hall on Copeland street. All Republicans are invited to these meetings, which are for the benefit of the whole party. The club does not desire two factions in the ward, but to be united as a party, that Republicans may know what is being done and where the party stands. In this manner the experiences of the past will not be repeated, and the club will know who are Republicans and who are not. Tonight lists will be made out for the several conventions, and every Republican is invited to be present and aid in the selection of delegates.

Mayor Takes a Hand.

Mayor Hall does not intend that the contractors for the stand pipe on Third hill, Wollaston, shall violate the specifications of their contract by using other than Quincy granite. He has already written to the Metropolitan Water Commission about the matter, calling their attention to the alleged violation, and developments in favor of Quincy may be expected.

Pol Plancon, the opera singer, sings a whole opera in admirable German without understanding a word of that language.

Sir Donald Currie, head of the Castle line of steamers, was discharged from the line during his younger days because he refused to work on Sunday.

Sir Thomas Lipton has started a new enterprise. He is trying to organize the Australian wine trade with a view to pressing the colonial wines on the British public as he did the Ceylon teas.

President McKinley is a lover of chess, a game with which he frequently amuses himself. He is an expert at all chess problems and believes firmly in the value of the game as a training for logical thought.

John D. Rockefeller, the Standard Oil magnate, was interviewed the other day on vacations in the abstract. "The only way for a rich man to enjoy one," he said, "is for him to forget completely that he is rich."

Newport, O., has furnished the champion eater. He is Jack Rarre, and at a recent sitting he ate and drank six bowls of chicken soup, two spring chickens, two loaves of bread, six raw onions, four quarts of beer and three pounds of fish.

General Strjelbinzky, the greatest of Russian geographers, died recently at the age of 76 years. His "Measurements of the Surface of the Russian Empire" is not only the standard for all maps of Russia, but has been a model for other works in that department of geography.

Gould P. Dietz of Omaha and the late C. P. Huntington began regular business together in 1845, when the latter had saved $1,500 from his earnings as a peddler. Huntington was then a man of wonderful strength and would often lift into a wagon a barrel of salt weighing 300 pounds.

Lord Roberts never learned the art of dictating his dispatches and always has to write them out with his own hand. His writing is, moreover, so very bad that it can be read only by his aid, to whose lot it consequently falls to "translate" the orders into characters more readily decipherable.

Senator Morgan says that he is in better health now than he has been for ten years past and indignantly resents any intimation that he is getting feeble, though he is indeed slowly losing weight, and his voice is weak. He is now 76 years old, but his friends say he will stay in the senate until he is 83.

Field Marshal Count Blumenthal, the distinguished chief of the late Emperor Frederick's general staff during the Austrian and French wars, celebrated his ninetieth birthday on July 29. He and the king of Saxony are the only officers of the Germany army of exalted rank still alive of those who took part in the Franco-German war.

Mr. Yamada, a young judge of Japan and a friend of the Japanese minister at Washington, is making his home temporarily at Philadelphia. He was the first native Japanese to join the Society of Friends in Tokyo, where a number of Philadelphia Quakers opened a school some years ago. CHICAGO AND THE CENSUS.

Chicago wants to be "censused" again. Would a ratio of about 10 to 1 satisfy her—ten counts to one inhabitant?—Boston Traveler.

In bitter disgust Chicago admits that at the present rate of growth it will take her 30 years to pass Greater New York. —Detroit Tribune.

By the late federal census Chicago ranks fifth among the cities of the world in point of population. In energy it is the first.—Springfield News.

Chicago ought to be well satisfied with the census returns in her own case. A growth of 54.44 per cent is not to be sneezed at.—New York Sun.

The World's fair city should have prepared for the enumerator by annexing St. Louis and Milwaukee before the count was made.—Omaha Bee.

So far Chicago is the banner city of the country regarding increase in population. Before the Chicago figures were given out Buffalo led, with 49 per cent increase in population. It seems the cities by the great lakes are drawing on the rest of the country rather heavily.—Nashville American.

MEN'S NEW FASHIONS.

Correct Modes For the Fall and Winter Seasons.

THE SHIRT WAIST MAN RULED OUT

Gay Colored Shirt Now Frowned Upon by Authorities—White or Plain Design Alone Admissible. Simplicity the Rule In Selection and Planning of Clothing.

The dictates of fashion for the fall and winter seasons are unusually arbitrary. The latest modes in almost every article of dress for men are radical, almost revolutionary, in character. The London fashions will obtain this year more than ever before, says the New York World. Many of our most fashionable tailors and haberdashers have arranged to have their London representatives keep them informed of all changes by cable. This custom is a new one and will serve to keep Americans in closer touch with the actual leaders of fashion than ever before.

The simplicity of the coming winter's styles will apply particularly to shirts. The privilege granted by fashion for expressing one's taste in the colors of shirtings has been sadly abused. The present riot of colors in shirts has never had the sanction of any regular authority in fashions. There will be little or no color in the new shirtings. The correct shirt will be plain white, with collars and cuffs attached. The only allowable design in colors will be plain vertical stripes on a background of white. All designs in color and in horizontal stripes will be quite impossible. For evening dress the plain white bosom with two studs is prescribed. It may be remarked here that the best shirt makers frown upon the so called shirt waist man. Several of these haberdashers when seen recently said that the innovation never for a moment received any authoritative recognition.

There will be fewer designs in collars for this season than for many years previous. Whereas a dozen different styles or variations of styles have prevailed, choice will hereafter be restricted to one of two forms. These are the high standing collar and the high band turn down. All collars will be white and must be worn very high. The only liberty of choice will lie between square and rounded corners, though the best authorities favor the square corners. In the choice of cuffs either the round or square corners will be allowable.

A great deal of attention has been given to ties. The strict ruling covering the choice of colors in shirtings will also apply to ties. Gay colors in ties will hereafter be considered quite out of the question. Ties of solid colors and only quiet designs are to be worn. In place of the Bagdad and other obtrusive designs the only decorations will be the simplest unit designs in geometric forms. The white polka dot will probably be the commonest. There will be no new forms of ties, while all the old, tried forms will continue. The string and butterfly bow ties, the four-in-hand, the ascot, the derby and culross will all survive. It will be very bad form, however, to wear a ready made tie. The color of the tie must harmonize exactly with the shirt. The same tone of simplicity will govern the choice of scarfpin. It will no longer be allowable to wear any of the conspicuous designs mounted on safety pins. The correct thing will be a solitaire stone on a simple design, preferably in gold. Simplicity in all jewelry is the rule.

Gloves this fall should be of red tan or slate tones. They should be heavy cape saddle stitched. For informal evening functions the gloves should be of chevrette of a very light slate tone, with self stitching on the back. For wear at formal evening affairs the glove should be a light weight suede of a white pearl tint. Gloves should fasten with a pearl button and in no case with a clasp. A very heavy white glove is provided for fashionable outdoor wear. In the matter of shoes there is no radical change. The fashionable forms have round toes without boxes and an unusually heavy sole. In winter shoes soles will be heavier than ever. The correct colors will be black and dark tan. Patent leather will be worn less for general wear than heretofore. All shoes will be laced.

The hats for the fall and winter present several distinctive styles. The correct forms will be the derby and silk hat. Felt hats of all designs will be seen less frequently than last year. The derby will be worn very low in the crown. The rim differs from recent styles in being appreciably heavier, though it remains very narrow. The roll of the brim is closer and gives the hat a stockier, squat appearance. The colors will be black and very dark brown and pearl. The high hat has a heavy narrow brim and a top of exaggerated bell shape. It is in part a return to the form of 30 years ago.

The fashionable styles in clothing also evidence a return to standard designs and very quiet colors. A certain set of fashionables have strongly advocated extreme styles for the winter, but a more conservative tone will prevail.

The only striking novelty is the Norfolk jacket, which of course comes from London. This coat resembles the old Norfolk jacket except that the plaits stop a few inches below the shoulder, while a yoke runs beneath the arm. For business dress the correct coats will be the single breasted sack with either three or four buttons and the three buttoned double breasted sack. Both these coats should be worn rather shorter than last year. The new styles are cut on the new military model and fit very snugly. The single breasted sack is the only form allowable for goods of distinctive color or design. A double breasted waistcoat, if the designs and color be quiet and inoffensive, is allowable with the single breasted sack. The double breasted sack is of blue or black, with trousers of the same.

The coat for formal day functions is somewhat novel in design. It is, of course, the familiar form of frock coat, but the new style has received universal attention. It may be made of black vicuna, lamb's wool, undressed worsted or of the many Oxford mixtures. The coat this year has high peaked lapels, which are faced to the buttonholes. The shoulders are cut in the military style, imparting a square shouldered effect. It may have either three or four buttons and should be worn open. The length of the coat is important. It should be exactly four inches more than half the height of the wearer. Fancy waistcoats are not allowable with this coat. A white double-breasted vest or one of the same material as the coat is alone allowed. The trousers for this coat must fit snugly about the ankles and rather loosely about the waist. They should be of a quiet tone, with a modest and inconspicuous stripe.

Dress clothes for the season may be of black broadcloth, dress worsted or soft faced vicuna. In the accepted cut the military spirit is again noticeable. The coat has square shoulders and fits closely about the waist. The skirt of the coat—never call it the tail—drops to the back of the knee. It should be exactly 5½ inches wide, with slightly rounded corners. The lapels are peaked more than usual and are faced with silk, black, of course, to the buttonholes. The trousers must be of the same material, of course, as the coat. They should fit snugly about the instep and very loosely about the waist. With this suit should be worn a waistcoat of the same material, cut single breasted. The opening should be of the shield form.

NEW LOCOMOBILE PLOW.

It Is Claimed That It Can Be Run For Less Than Steam.

Consul General Guenther writes to the state department at Washington regarding an exhibition of the newly invented alcohol plow locomobiles by a motor factory of Oberursel, near Frankfort, in the presence of a number of experts.

"The plow locomobile," says Consul Guenther, "is a 20 horsepower one, and confidence is expressed by competent judges that coal can in some cases be substituted by alcohol, which can be procured everywhere and at a low cost. The alcohol plow is said to have performed its work fully as well as a steam plow operated simultaneously. The problem of using alcohol for power purposes has been solved by the motor factory in evaporating denaturalized alcohol of 90 degrees. The construction and operation of the motor are, after this gasification, the same as those of a gas motor. The machine uses about a pint of alcohol an hour for one horsepower. It is claimed that the operating expense is 25 per cent lower than that of steam plows."

MORE LAND TO BE OPENED.

North Half of Colville Reservation Available Oct. 10 Next.

The north half of the Colville reservation is to be opened, in accordance with a proclamation recently issued by President McKinley, at 12 o'clock noon, Oct. 10 next.

The Colville reservation, according to a Seattle dispatch to the Chicago Inter Ocean, contains about 1,500,000 acres and is mountainous in character, interspersed with small valleys, rolling hills and table lands. A portion of it is covered with timber. This land can be entered at the Spokane and Waterville land offices, or the homestead papers can be sworn to before the clerk of Ferry county or before the United States commissioner at Republic, Wash. The land in this reservation will cost $1.50 per acre, one-third of which must be paid within two years and the balance within five years from the date of entry.

The principal towns which have been established since the reservation was thrown open for mining are in its northern part.

The Autumn Girl.

Hark!
Do you hear a faroff,
Dim, mysterious throbbing strain
Of wondrous melody?
It is the goldenrod
Beating its stalks against the meadow breeze
To time her coming.
Soon the sounds will swell
Into a gladsome, gleesome song,
A march triumphal.
That's her cue,
And with a swirl, a swagger and a swish
Enter the autumn girl of nineteen hundred!
From the sea, the shore, the mountain top,
Yacht deck and hotel porch
She swoops upon us,
A bloomy eyed, sun kissed symphony of girl!
About her clings a certain sadness
For the mad, glad summer,
And not one trace, one whittle nor one jot
Of all the riante rampantness
That marked the year's high noontime.
In her eyes the sky and sea have left blue distances.
The waves have put a tangle in her hair
Brine odored, glinting like golden sand
Touched by the sun to flame.
But why write madrigals like this
To her?
She wots not of a rhyme
Just now;
She's busy hunting lotions, almond creams
And other freckle chasers
To touch her tawny cheek
And bleach her tilted nose.
For, while you think her very beautiful,
And maybap tell her so,
She'll let you understand
That she's a perfect fright
And hasn't worn a hat all summer!
Oh, cheerfulest of liars,
Too well you know
The peach crop is no failure,
Autumn girl,
Now you are here!

Madame Yale's HAIR TONIC

Ladies and Gentlemen.—It has gone on record that Madame Yale's Excelsior Hair Tonic is the first and only remedy known to chemical science found to be a specific. It has an affinity for the human hair for nourishing and invigorating its entire structure. It is antiseptic in character, as well as stimulating; its action upon the scalp and hair is truly wonderful, inasmuch as it has never been known in a single instance to fail to cure scalp diseases and to create a luxuriant growth of healthy, beautiful hair. It stops hair falling within twenty-four hours and brings back the natural color to gray hair in nearly every instance. It is not a dye; it is not sticky or greasy; on the contrary it makes the hair soft, youthful, beautiful and glossy; keeps it in curl. It is a perfect hair dressing, and can be used by ladies, gentlemen or children as a daily toilet requisite. Its influence is delightfully soothing.

THE COOKBOOK.

Dip slices of stale bread in milk, then in beaten egg; fry in hot lard till well browned, and after buttering sprinkle with sugar and a little cinnamon. Nice for tea or breakfast.

Molds in which blancmanges are to be put should be wet to insure their easy turning out. On the other hand, in those to be used for jelly no water should go, as it will crack the jelly.

Jelly keeps better if hot paraffin poured over each tumblerful after it has "set" than if paper covered. The paraffin can be washed when removed and kept to be melted over again next year.

Danger Point Considered Passed.

Hazleton, Pa., Sept. 11.—There are no new developments in the strike situation here. The general opinion seems to be that the trouble will be altogether avoided, or, if a strike is ordered, it will not be so effective as it would have been had decisive action been taken on Saturday night.

TROOPS TO WITHDRAW.

United States Will Thus Avoid Becoming Involved In Clash In China.

Li Hung Chang Is Clothed With Absolute Authority.

Can Conclude Peace at His Discretion, Without Referring to His Government.

Washington, Sept. 11.—Minister Wu yesterday presented to the state department Li Hung Chang's credentials as Chinese peace envoy, in the shape of an imperial edict, dated about two weeks ago. It clothes Li Hung Chang with absolute power to negotiate peace. The terms are left to his discretion, and need not be referred to the Chinese government.

Similar credentials have apparently been presented by the Chinese representatives in other capitals. Prince Ching's arrival in Pekin strengthens the belief that China is at last coming to terms, and that her officials are now ready to account for themselves, make reparation and conclude peace with the world. If this hope should be fulfilled it will be a most fortunate circumstance, for there is little doubt but that the powers are in a bad diplomatic tangle, and that the prospect for united action in China henceforth are, if not hopeless, at least distinctly bad.

Minister Wu has not yet been clothed with powers by his government to effect a settlement of the Chinese trouble directly with the Washington authorities. The officials are inclined to believe that no such large power as this will be conferred upon him, though he may, as do the Chinese ministers in Europe, play a most important part in the preliminaries to the institution of regular negotiations through commissioners for a final settlement.

The developments of Monday in the Chinese situation still point to a speedy withdrawal of the United States troops from China. General Chaffee has added the weight of his opinion to that already entertained by many officials here. It probably is significant that the general's statement on this point was given publicity by the administraton.

General Chaffee cabled that the legations are of no present use at Pekin, nor are they likely to be. He suggested that our legation be withdrawn and the troops merely held at Pekin pending negotiations for peace, conducted at some other point. He is, however, ready to start his troops for the Philippines at a day's notice.

No confirmation is at hand here of the report that Great Britain and Germany have joined in an agreement to remain together in Pekin, regardless of the attitude of the other powers. Should this be true, the fact doubtless would hasten the rearward movement of the American troops, for there is a firm determination to avoid becoming involved in any clash between the powers, such as might reasonably be expected to follow the execution of this reported British-German program.

If there have been further responses to the Russian note relative to evacuation their purport cannot be ascertained. This delay no longer interferes with the execution of the American policy. The state department has a reasonably accurate understanding of the attitude of even those powers that have not made formal responses to the Russian note, so that the mere written record of their views is not of importance.

It does not follow, because the United States troops are to be withdrawn this autumn from China, that our interests will be left completely at the mercy of the other powers. On the contrary, such disposition will be made of these troops that they, with others if necessary, can be returned to China in short order. To this end the entire army of General Chaffee will be quartered in some of the pleasantest and most salubrious portion of the Philippines. If they are wanted again in China they can be transported inside of a week.

MANY KILLED AND MISSING.

Missionaries and Their Families Have Fared Badly at Hands of Chinese.

London, Sept. 11.—A copyrighted Associated Press dispatch from Shanghai, dated Sept. 8, says:

John Goodnow, the United States consul general here, learns that the number of British and American missionaries probably murdered during the uprising in China has been 93, while 170 others, stationed in Chi Li and Shan Si provinces, are unaccounted for, and there is reason for the belief that they have met the same fate. Of those whose deaths have been absolutely proven, 22 were Americans—8 men, 8 women and 6 children.

There is strong proof that 37 more were killed at Tai Yuen. All the natives from that place tell substantially the same story. Ten men, 13 women and 7 children are known to have been there.

Among those missing the Americans number 20 men, 21 women and 20 children.

The massacre and persecution of Chinese Christians continues everywhere.

Dr. Morrison, the Pekin correspondent of The Times, wiring Aug. 31, confirms the reports of the treachery of the Chinese government and the issuance of imperial decrees ordering the extermination of foreigners.

"The imperial troops," he says, "mined the British legation and probably in another day there would have been a terrible explosion. A similar mine, made by the Chinese imperial troops, exploded in the Pei Tang cathedral and engulfed 200 native Christians.

"The most profound indignation is felt here that Sir Chi Chen Lofengluh and Wu Ting Fang, whose shameless lies and transmissions of bogus imperial edicts delayed the departure of the relief column until nearly too late, are still received with honor in London and Washington."

Unexpected Demand For Cotton Goods.

Fall River, Mass., Sept. 11.—For a time Monday, so strong had the print market become because of heavy inquiries from buyers and the strong bull movement in New York in cotton, the local selling syndicate refused to sell any goods at the present quotation of 2⅝ cents. A meeting of the committee was hastily called and it was decided to place a limited amount of goods in the market at the old figure. The day's sales amounted to 100,000 pieces, and had the committee manifested a desire to sell large lots at the present quotation a much larger number could have been disposed of.

An Incident of the Ashanti Uprising.

Kumassi, Sept. 11.—News has been received here that a body of 3000 native levies, under Captain Benson, attacked Ojesu, the famous Fetish town, 10 miles east of Kumassi, Aug. 29, instead of waiting to co-operate with Lieutenant Colonel Drake's column, consisting of the Central African regiment, which destroyed Ojesu, Aug. 31. As soon as they were under fire the levies turned and fled. Captain Benson, who had only one white man with him, is reported to have shot himself in order to avoid falling into the hands of the Ashantis.

Talked to Marylanders.

Cumberland, Md., Sept. 11.—President McKinley was given an ovation here, and after repeated calls went on the platform of his special car and spoke briefly to a large crowd, which had congregated upon the announcement that he would pass through the city on a regular train. The president and party were en route to Somerset, Pa., to attend the wedding of Miss Mabel McKinley, the president's niece.

Victoria, B. C., Sept. 11.—Steamer Danube reached here at midnight with over $500,000 in Klondike gold. Victor Gilmore, who was arrested at Skaguay on a charge of smuggling diamonds, has been released and the stones returned to him. Influenza is playing havoc with the Indians of the west coast of Alaska.

No Hope For Saving Vessel.

Cohasset, Mass., Sept. 11.—Steamer John Endicott, which struck on Gull ledge Sunday evening, and was later beached, and her 248 passengers safely landed, is fast going to pieces, and will be a total loss. The water and shore are strewn with wreckage. Any idea of saving her has been practically abandoned.

Forest Fires In Granite State.

Exeter, N. H., Sept. 11.—Fires are raging in the belt of heavy timber between this town and Newfields, and there is no prospect of saving any of the old growth, unless rain falls soon. Six hundred acres have already been burned over. The fire is sweeping a path through the woods a mile in width.

Big Warships Practically Completed.

Washington, Sept. 11.—Two of the six new first-class battleships are practically completed, and another one is fast nearing that stage. The Alabama is set down as 99 percent completed, and the Wisconsin is stated to be 96 percent completed. The Illinois will be the next of the big warships to be launched.

American the Champion Swimmer.

Boston, Sept. 11.—The title of champion swimmer of the world comes to James L. McClusker, the American, who won the decisive race in the series with Cavill, the Australian. The distance was half a mile. The time was 13:24 2-5.

Schoolteacher Commits Suicide.

Nearly Six Thousand Deaths In a Week.

London, Sept. 11.—Viceroy Curzon of India telegraphs that the deaths from cholera for the week ending Sept. 1, were: Native states, 1930; British districts, 4021.

Weather Conditions and Forecast.

Almanac, Wednesday, Sept. 12.

Sun rises—6:20; sets, 6.

Moon rises—7:53 p. m.

High water—1 a. m.; 1:30 p. m.

Since Sunday night the storm has moved northward from northeast Texas to extreme north central Kansas, with diminished intensity. Warm weather has continued east of the Mississippi river, except in New England. Fair weather is indicated for New England. On the coast the winds will be light to fresh, and mostly easterly.

AGRICULTURAL CONDITIONS

Have Steadily Grown More Discouraging Because of the Lack of Rain.

Boston, Sept. 11.—Following is a statement of the weather and crop conditions of New England, compiled from the reports of correspondents of the weather bureau throughout the section, for the week ending Sept. 10:

The drought has increased during the past week. Many correspondents not only report no rain during the week, but state that no rain has fallen for two weeks. South Deer Island, Me., reports that no rain has fallen for 22 days. Hope, Me., reports that wells and springs never before dry have failed. Exeter, N. H., reports that the drought is the worst in the history of the place. Reports from Connecticut indicate that conditions continue to grow worse. A small acreage of buckwheat was sown, and the crop has suffered severely. Millet and crops sown for fodder will be very light. The yield of corn has been curtailed, but the crop is medium. Fodder cutting is in progress in all states of the section. Sweet corn is being rapidly gathered. Dairy products continue to decrease. Extensive forest fires have been burning in Maine during the week.

Pastures were affected very little by the rains of the week. Nearly all Hungarian grass and rowen have been harvested. The former crop was heavy; the latter, light.

About three-fourths of the corn cutting has been completed in southern New England. Reports are not uniform as to the yield. Like all crops, it has ripened prematurely, thus injuring late planted fields most severely. A large acreage of late fodder was sown, but the outlook is not for a larger harvest than usual.

Apples are dropping badly; so much so that the yield of winter apples remains doubtful. The fruit is generally below the average in size. Blackberries are still plentiful in Vermont. Peaches have improved during the week. Cranberries are being gathered in Connecticut. The crop is reported good in Connecticut and Massachusetts. Many grapes are shrivelling on the vines.

Beans are being gathered; the crop has been prematurely ripened. Pumpkins and squash are doing well. There are few cucumbers. In some instances potatoes are rotting; the yield is far below the normal. Carrots, beets and onions are small.

Twelve Years For Assaulting Child.

Boston, Sept. 11.—In the superior criminal court, before Judge Hopkins, Monday, Hubert Maguire was found guilty of criminal assault on Lizzie Sullivan, aged 8, and sentenced to state prison for not less than 12 nor more than 15 years, the first day to be passed in solitary confinement, and the residue at hard labor. On the charge of assault with intent to kill, also contained in the indictment, Maguire was acquitted. Maguire had no counsel. He declined to make any statement in rebuttal of the testimony offered by the child against him, when given opportunity to do so by the court.

Remarkable Surgical Operation.

New York, Sept. 11.—At the Harlem hospital a rare operation was performed on Mrs. Anna Smith, who had her back broken by a fall from a third-story window into a yard. The operation, which was for the removal of the shattered bone from her spinal cord, is said to have been even more difficult that that performed at Roosevelt hospital for the relief of young Duryea, who had only one vertebra broken, while Mrs. Smith had three.

Another Victory For Nelson.

Brockton, Mass., Sept. 11.—Johnnie Nelson defeated W. C. Stinson by exactly one mile in a 25-mile motor-paced race here last evening. Nelson, by covering the 25 miles in 39:36 3-5, beat his own record for that distance of 39:45, although Michael holds the championship.

Paddled Across Straits of Dover.

Calais, Sept. 11.—A young Frenchman by the name of Cauchois has successfully crossed the straits of Dover, from Dover, in a canoe. He paddled all day Sunday and Sunday night.

FIVE THOUSAND DEAD.

Conservative Estimate of the Number of Victims of Galveston Disaster.

Heroic Efforts Made to Bring Order Out of Choas.

Horrible Stories of Acts of Vandalism Being Committed by Negroes and Whites.

Houston, Tex., Sept. 12.—The Post correspondent was instructed to forward the following address from Walter C. Jones mayor of Galveston, to the people of the United States:

"It is my opinion, based on personal information, that 5000 people have lost their lives here. Approximately one-third of the residence portion of the city has been swept away. There are several thousand people who are homeless and destitute. How many there is no way of finding out. Arrangements are now being made to have the women and children sent to Houston and other places, but the means of transportation are limited. Thousands are still to be cared for here. We appeal to you for immediate aid."

Chief of Police Ketcham is in charge of the work of burying the dead. There are large bodies of men engaged in this work, tearing up the ruins and getting out the corpses. Some of those whose bodies are being taken out were probably only injured when they were first struck down, but there was no getting relief to them and they perished miserably.

The remnant of the force of regular soldiers who were stationed here—and it is a very small remnant—have joined the police in patrolling the city. Several persons have already been shot, it is reported. A soldier of Captain Rafferty's battery, while patrolling the beach Tuesday morning, ordered a man to desist from looting. The fellow drew a weapon and the soldier shot him dead. The soldier was attacked by four other men, and he killed all of them. He had five cartridges in his rifle, and each of them found a victim. Other men have also been shot, but the details are not known, nor can the exact number be ascertained, but it is probable that 25 were killed. Some of these were shot for failing to halt when ordered to do so, and others were shot for vandalism.

The ruins of the heavier brick buildings have not yet been searched for the dead, and there is a large number in them. In the mass of rubbish which marks the site of the Lucas Terrace boarding house, 40 or 50 people were killed outright, and their bodies are still in the ruins. The orphans' home, on the beach, is totally demolished. Ninety-two children and 11 nuns were killed there. It is reported that one sister escaped, but if she did so no trace can be found of her.

Of the regular soldiers few remain. Twenty-three were drowned at the barracks at Camp Hawley, and seven at Bolivar. One man drifted about in the bay until Monday morning, and was taken out alive.

Some order is being brought out of chaos, and something like a systematic attempt is being made to clear the debris and remove the dead. Idlers are being pressed into service at the point of the bayonet and made to work, and a military cordon is being drawn tighter and tighter about the place. Every horse and mule that was left in the city is in service. Supplies are coming in from Houston, and the first line of communication with the outside world was opened Tuesday via Texas City.

Large forces are working on the railroads and in a few days the people of Galveston believe the situation will be greatly improved.

People from Galveston are now numerous and all tell of a terrible calamity. More bodies have been picked up on the beach at Virginia Point and Texas City, and searching parties are now getting into the country between the two points. One member of the life saving crews says he believes that not one-third of the dead bodies are being recovered. Many sank before reaching the beach, and he believes a week will pass before the bay gives up all the dead.

A man who arrived from Galveston says that bodies are being cast into the gulf with weights attached, as the best method of disposing of them, while others are being buried in the sand where found. Many of these are unidentified, and so the death list will never be known. Scores of people are here trying to get into Galveston. Many of them claim relatives there, but it is not possible to reach that city at present. All the small boats and tugs in the bayou have been taken down to the bay to be used in ferriage.

A horrible story is told by citizens who have returned from Galveston. They declare that negroes and many white persons are hourly committing the most atrocious acts of vandalism. J. N. Griswold, division freight agent of the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe, who was in Galveston during the storm and had a narrow escape from death, says:

"Ears and fingers bearing diamonds were hacked off with pocket knives, and the members placed in the pockets of the vandals. The bodies of women who wore fine clothes have been stripped of the last thread and left to fester in the sun. The residences left standing have been broken into, and jewelry and silver plate stolen.

"Upon all hands this horrible work is going on. The offenders are generally negroes, although there are some white men who have demonstrated that they are sufficiently devoid of honesty and manhood to participate in these ghoulish deeds.

"As soon as the storm subsided the negroes stole all the liquor they could get and beastly drunk, proceeded with their campaign of vandalism. Troops are needed at once. If they are not sent without delay, God help the survivors in Galveston."

This is confirmed by a dozen men of the highest standing here.

UNCLE SAM ASKED TO SETTLE.

Chinese and Japanese Have Claims Aggregating $2,300,000 For Destruction of Property.

Washington, Sept. 12.—Claims aggregating $2,300,000 or more have arisen in connection with the efforts made, principally in Hawaii, to prevent the bubonic plague from securing a foothold in this country and its outlying possessions, by burning down a large part of the Japanese and Chinese quarters where it was thought the disease might find lodgment. Two thousand Japanese residents are said to have lost their homes, furniture and practically all their belongings. Their loss is estimated at $300,000. The Chinese loss was estimated at about $2,000,000.

The Japanese consul general to Hawaii first brought the matter to the attention of the Hawaiian authorities, asking that the losses incurred by Japanese be reimbursed to them. President McKinley gave the necessary authority to Governor Dole to appoint a commission of five members to pass upon all claims of this nature, but on objection of the claimants this fell through. The authorities here felt that it is a matter which Hawaii should adjust, and moreover there is no fund available under which the United States government could pay for such losses. The subject is under consideration, however, and it is hoped that some means may be adopted by co-operation between Washington and Honolulu for adjusting the matter.

A Newspaper's Serious Allegations.

New York, Sept. 12.—It is announced that a cablegram has been received from Rome making known the recall of Chevalier Branchi, the Italian consul general of New York. He had charge of the surveillance of anarchists, and it is reported that his government held him responsible for failing to report the departure of Bresci, the assassin of King Humbert of Italy. An Italian newspaper published in this city alleges that Chevalier Branchi knew as early as May 16 of the conspiracy against the life of King Humbert, and was aware that Bresci had been chosen by lot to kill him. The paper also stated that a letter was addressed to Chevalier Branchi, revealing the plot, but the consul professed not to have received it.

Trouble Among the Cranberry Pickers.

Middleboro, Mass., Sept. 12.—In court here Tuesday Martin Benson, a cranberry picker, was held in $300 for an alleged assault on Michael Moses, an employe of the former at North Carver. Moses was unable to testify, owing to his injuries. Moses had complained that he had been cheated out of a measure of cranberries picked by him, and a riot followed, in which friends of both sides took a hand. During the fray Moses was severely beaten. A Frenchman named Lettano was sentenced to 30 days in the house of correction for complicity in the affair.

Germany Seeks an American Loan.

New York, Sept. 12.—A representative of the German government has canvassed the local financial field, with a view to ascertaining whether or not it would be feasible to attempt to float a loan in this country. The amount of the proposed loan is variously estimated at from $25,000,000 to $50,000,000. One of the Wall street financial bureaus says that a group of bankers in the west has arranged to take at least $2,500,000 of the bonds, which, it is said, will bear 4 percent interest.

Three Forest Fires In a Day.

Plymouth, Mass., Sept. 12.—The fire wardens had three forest fires on their hands Tuesday. The first one was at Chiltonville, but it was extinguished after burning over an acre. The second fire was near Warren's Wells, and burned over nearly a square mile. The third fire was not far from the second, and was a small one. There is little doubt but that the fires were of incendiary origin.

Don't Want the Job to Go Away.

New York, Sept. 12.—All the workmen employed in making temporary repairs on the steamer Main quit work yesterday. It is understood that the reason was that it is feared that it is intended by the steamship company to take the Main to some other port, where permanent repairs, which will cost in the neighborhood of $500,000, are to be made.

Hopes of Floating the Endicott.

Boston, Sept. 12.—The contract for floating the steamboat John Endicott from the beach at Scituate, where she was grounded Sunday afternoon to prevent her from sinking in deep water, after a hole had been made in her bottom by striking a ledge, has been awarded a wrecking company of this city.

Urgent Call For Assistance.

Toronto, Sept. 12.—A terrific fire is raging in Paris, and there is little hope of saving the business portion of the town. A message asking for immediate assistance was sent early this morning to Brantford. Paris is about 40 miles west of Toronto.

A RUSSIAN TRIUMPH.

Did the Honors In the Great Pageant Through the Forbidden City.

Her Stay Assumes Every Character of Permanency.

Further Massacre of Christians Shown to Have Been Sanctioned by Imperial Troops.

London, Sept. 12.—Shanghai correspondents confirm the assertion of Dr. Morrison, the Pekin correspondent of The Times, that the military parade through the imperial palace was a Russian triumph. Dr. Morrison's account comes as a timely reinforcement of the opinions beginning to be expressed in London papers to the effect that, in spite of all talk about the evacuation of Pekin, Russia has made no sign of withdrawal, but on the contrary is continually shipping fresh troops from Odessa to China. Dr. Morrison says:

"Since the relief of the legations, one feature stands conspicuous—the prominence of Russia and the overmastering positions she is now asserting there. The pageant in the forbidden city on Aug. 8 was a triumphant entry by Russia, followed by the other powers. Russia did the honors, greatly to the chagrin of the other ministers.

"Russian troops are pouring into Pekin daily. Nineteen hundred came yesterday, and 800 the day before. Already the Russians outnumber the Japanese, and they will soon outnumber the combined forces. Their stay is assuming every character of permanency. Cossacks daily raid the country and drive the Chinese peasants and laborers, in herds, through the deserted and dismantled city, setting them to build their military camp.

"No one, not even Sir Claude MacDonald, is allowed to enter the summer palace and the splendid palace buildings within the imperial domain, which is occupied by the Russians, without permission. The expected arrival of Vice Admiral Alexieff, who, it is announced, will remain during the winter, indicates the importance which Russia attaches to future developments.

"Russia has occupied Kin Chau and the branch railway to the Nan Piao collieries, thus securing the possible control of the richest coal mines in north China. She will also occupy Shan Mai Kwan.

"The British position is anomalous. The aimless action of detaching the brigade at Hong Kong has had a bad effect. The Japanese are openly expressing dissatisfaction that a smaller British force has been sent than was promised. The outlook is not promising. It is unaccountable why Japan, to whom belonged the honors of the rescue, should consent consistently to give way to Russia, and apparently accept Russian predominance.

"Fortune favors Russia, for Baron Nishi, formerly Japanese minister to St. Petersburg, is credited, perhaps unjustly, with being much under the influence of M. De Giers, and the appointment of Li Hung Chang to negotiate peace is grateful tidings to Russia.

"Meanwhile a famine is inevitable. The government must quickly make preparations if the British troops are to winter here.

"The effect of Emperor William's impassioned speech is marred by his permitting the Chinese minister to remain accredited at his quarter. The kaiser now knows that Baron Von Ketteler was murdered, not by brigands, but by an imperial officier, acting under imperial orders.

"It has been discovered that the empress dowager and Prince Tuan had planned a massacre of all the ministers that fatal morning. Whatever else is done, the powers should insist upon the deposition of the empress dowager and the execution of Prince Tuan and the high officials who led the Boxers and directed the massacres.

No news has been received that the Pao Ting Fu expedition for the relief of missionaries has actually started. An undated dispatch from Tientsin reports that it was delayed by bad weather.

"The censorship, which is under Sir Alfred Gaselee's control, makes it difficult," says Dr. Morrison, "to convey a true picture of the present situation in Pekin. Today the foreign community was thrilled with horror at the news of the massacre of the missionaries at Pao Ting Fu, who were under the protection of the imperial troops. Children were butchered before the eyes of their parents. White women were ravished and carried into captivity. Parents were tortured and murdered.

"Massacres by Red Indians never call in vain for vengeance. Yet the troops remain here inactive. Their one thought and wish is to be given work or to be recalled from Pekin. Surely the civilized world will not suffer this cruel massacre to remain unavenged, and make no effort to ascertain the fate of the poor martyred Christians and white women.

Matter Still In Abeyance.

Washington, Sept. 12.—From the formal statement given out Tuesday it appears that the state department is not yet ready to begin direct negotiations with Li Hung Chang. It does not question his credentials as a plenipotentiary, but simply leaves the matter in abeyance. Probably this is because all of the powers have not yet returned their responses to the Russian note, and it is desired to avoid making the United States the first among the powers to abandon the hope of harmonious action and strike for itself toward the settlement directly with China. Also it may be deemed well to wait to hear from Mr. Conger, who, several days ago, was invited to express his opinion about leaving Pekin.

Good Afternoon.

In 1895 the population of Haverhill was 30,209 and the town of Bradford had 4736. the combined population being 34,945. By the census just taken, expanded Haverhill has 37,175, a gain of only 2230, or six per cent, a rather small percentage of gain. Evidently the city is going from "bad to worse," and a Socialistic government is not a success.

The City Council chamber was lighted by electricity for the first time Monday evening. As compared with gas it was certainly a failure. Some parts of the chamber were light, but other parts were so dark that it was difficult to see to read. This was especially so at the end desks and at the reporters' table. Either more lights must be put in or the gas used in addition.

The park assessment upon Quincy is probably as equitable as it is possible for the commissioners to make it. Quincy has over one per cent. of the valuation, and has been assessed a little over one per cent. of the cost. The city derives no particular benefit from the reservations thus far opened, and the same is true of most of the other towns. A few like Revere, the towns abutting the Middlesex Fells, Brookline and Milton are exceptions, and the commissioners have evidently taken these into consideration.

Drift of Opinion.

☞ The hard-up man will always listen to the demagogue, when the latter announces that the panacea is a complete overturn of all existing things, because the hard-up man feels that the great need is a change—Malden News.

☞ Very few incidents in the political world excite more wonderment and comment than has the election of a Prohibition Sheriff in the Prohibition State of Maine. It is the novelty of all the novelties of 1900.—Lynn Item.

☞ It is fitting and very pleasing that this country should take the initiative in the endeavor to secure peace in China. Certainly there is nothing to be gained by continuing hostilities and there is little fear of our disinterestness being doubted.—Marlborough Enterprise.

☞ After all it is the bread and butter question that appeals most forcibly to the average man. Imperialism may be forced to the front as the leading issue of the present campaign, but while John Jones and George Smith may talk themselves blacker in the face than Tagals disputting over the Philippine problem, each of them will vote for the party they think will ensure them steady employment, no cut in wages and a chance for a raise.—Beverly Times.

☞ No amount of effort to inflame labor against capital or no amount of success in so doing will affect these facts:

When capital is prosperous labor is prosperous.

When capital is prostrate labor is prostrate.

One cannot have good or bad fortune without the other being in the same box.

To strike at capital, to weaken its sense of security, or to narrow the grounds for its self-confidence is to strike also at labor.—New York Sun.

PARK ASSESSMENTS.

Apportionment Made by Valuation and Special Benefits.

Quincy's Amount Between One and Two Per Cent. of Total.

Brookline Sum the Largest---Revere About the Same as Quincy.

Quincy's assessment for Metropolitan reservations and parkways will be about one and one-third per-cent. of the total levy, or to be exact—.01313 for those outside Nantasket, and .0128723 for the Nantasket taking.

The Commissioners, Messrs. Charles Francis Adams, Thomas M. Stetson and John C. Hammond, were appointed June 16, to "determine and make award of the proportions in which each of the cities and towns of said district (39 in all) shall annually pay money into the (state) treasury beginning with Jan. 1, 1900, until the 1st day of January, in which a new award is made as provided by said act, to provide the amount required to meet the expense of metropolitan park board, and the care, maintenance and operation of the parks, reservations, boulevards and other works acquired, cared for and controlled by said board as provided in said act, and the deficiency, if any, in the estimates and payments for the preceding years and to do and perform all other duties prescribed for them by said act."

The commissioners after hearing, make the following apportionment. In the first column is the percentage to be paid by each for the cost and maintenance of the system, and in the second column is the percentage to be paid under the act authorizing the park commission to take control and manage the Nantasket beach reservation.

The commissioners decided that it had jurisdiction to assess the town of Westwood, which is against the contention of the town, that they had no power to assess it.

The claim of the town of Cohasset that its liability did not extend to any part of the metropolitan park system provided for by law prior to chapter 464 of 1899, is approved by the commissioners.

The state appropriations for the metropolitan park system were as follows:

Series 1,	$6,125,000
Series 2,	2,700,000
Total,	$8,825,000
Sinking fund,	1,000,000
Total,	$7,825,000

It will be noticed that for the general park system, eleven cities and towns outside of Boston must pay a larger percentage than Quincy, the order being: Brookline, Cambridge, Newton, Somerville, Milton, Lynn, Malden, Medford, Chelsea, Revere and Waltham. Then Quincy, Everett and Winchester, while the remaining 24 towns will pay less than one per cent.

For the Nantasket reservation Quincy's per centage is a little smaller. However, the order of the first 13 cities is the same. Then comes Cohasset with just one per cent. and all the other towns with less.

Quincy's rank in the district, including Boston, is 9 in population and 12 in valuation.

A republication of the population and valuation upon which the apportionment is based will be handy for study:

Valuation and special advantages were evidently the basis of apportionment. The valuation of Brookline is about four times that of Quincy, and she will pay about four times as much. Cambridge has a larger valuation and population than Brookline but escapes with a smaller assessment. Revere pays a trifle more than Quincy because of the large outlay in that town. The Commissioners also consider that Milton has been a favored town.

Party at Norfolk Downs.

Miss Dorothy Drew entertained a number of her friend, at the home of her aunt, Mrs. E. F. Ranagan of Royal street, Monday evening. The first part of the evening was spent in playing all kinds of games on the lawn. After which refreshments were served and the happy couples adjourned to the house, where Master George Douglas succeeded in taking a few flash light pictures. Miss Drew is from Charlestown and has been spending part of her vacation with her aunt. During her stay she gained many friends, and the party was held as kind of a wind up of the summer, as Miss Drew leaves for home today. Among those present were: Miss Annabelle Marr, Miss Helen Willett, Miss Agnes Moore, Miss Maud Thomas, Miss Kate Klein, Miss Ethel Marr, Miss Mildred Saunders, Master Arthur Newman, Master George Douglas, Master Harold Lewis, Master Ernest Woodman and Master Louis Cleaves. The happy party broke up at a late hour, all wishing Miss Drew many happy returns.

The temperature at noon today was 91 degrees, the highest point reached at the same hour since Aug. 26. It is the hottest September day since Sept. 3, 1898, when the temperature at noon was 92 degrees. What would the temperature be without the wind?

The Boston Globe says of Peck's Boy: If everybody in the large audience of last evening did not laugh sufficiently loud and long to gain at least one pound of flesh it was not the fault of the play. Tickets on sale for Friday evening at Music hall pharmacy.

The West Quincy team has played 21 games this season and won 19, lost 1 and tied 1. It has beaten such teams as City Point, Waverly, Olympia, Cambridge A. A., Roxbury and Randolph. It would like two games with Dorchester or Randolph for a purse of $100, John Swansey, West Quincy.

Early Morning Alarm.

The good people of Norfolk Downs were treated to an unusual noise one morning quite recently. The hour was 1.30 A. M., and the morning warm and clear. Sounds of feminine voices mingled with the laugh of the sterner sex were plainly heard through the open windows by the residents of this usually quiet section.

As "Observer" hastily dressed to go to the assistance of one who was seemingly in dire distress, he was greatly relieved to see Officer Goodhue doing a "Bernard Wifer sprint" along the newly asphalted walk on Billings road in the direction from whence the noise was heard.

At the signal, "Here's the cop, scatter" the forms of four prominent young people were seen scurrying across the lots adjacent to Billings road.

The officer gained rapidly upon one of the feminine members of the crowd, and as she reached her front gate was gently but firmly detained. "Observer" listened to explanations and was satisfied it was only a lark, and upon the officer's threat to report to her parents she was allowed to enter the house.

Since then Norfolk Downs people have slept peaceably and it is hoped that the young people will choose a more opportune time for their larks in the future.

—The Dorchester Yacht club will have a ladies' day on Saturday, with a handicap race. There will also be water sports from 4.30 to 6 P. M., followed by a collation and dancing.

SECOND :—That every precaution has been taken to guard against fire and the dangers of a panic—there is a fire extinguisher on each side of the stage and one in the gallery—the stage can be instantly cut off from the main hall by an asbestos fire proof curtain—throughout the hall between the inner and upper floors there is asbestos paper—there are now five distinct exits, each always lighted when the hall is in use by both electricity and gas.

ADRIFT OR ASHORE

Considerable Damage to Yachting.

Boats Unable to Weather Wind Storm.

Too Dangerous to Attempt to Save Them.

The heavy wind is doing an immense amount of damage among the pleasure yachts in the bay. At Houghs Neck four yachts have broken away from their moorings. One has gone ashore on Grape Island, and the others are being blown out to sea. Owing to the high wind no attempt can be made to rescue them. It was high water about 1 o'clock and it is possible that they may be blown ashore on some island.

Report from Wollaston beach says the wind there is blowing a gale and that several yachts have broken away.

From Squantum comes the report that all the yachts in Neponset river are floating about and that there is a large steam launch ashore on Thompson's island. Owners of this launch have been notified and an attempt will be made to haul her off before low water.

The wind today is something fierce. Clouds of dust and dry leaves are blown about in great clouds that are almost blinding. The sprinkling of the street does but little good, as the wind dries the water as fast as it is put on. Trees that contain fruit are suffering, and if the wind continues to blow at the rate it did at noon, there will be but little fruit left. Several large limbs of trees in the centre were ripped off this morning, but fortunately no one was near enough to be injured.

The gale today is probably a touch of the Southern hurricane which was at Chicago yesterday. The wind was 72 miles an hour and has done considerable damage in Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and on the lakes.

Peck's Bad Boy.

The opening professional show at Music hall will be Peck's Bad Boy, Friday evening, Sept. 14th. There is probably no farce comedy on the road that has lasted so long and given such universal satisfaction to the fun loving public as this jolly play. Bad Boy Peck with his mischievous pranks will always hold a warm place in the hearts of old and young. When he bothers his pa and ma, sports with the funny grocery man, makes love to his best girl, makes the policeman's life a burden, and cuts capers in general and in particular the dullest audience cannot fail to grow merry. The first scene is at the famous grocery store and the second at the Waldorf-Astoria. Some very clever specialties are introduced. Dot Karroll takes the part of the Bad Boy and the company throughout is a strong one.

A CRUISING SCHOOL.

Lieutenant Harlow's Novel Scheme For Educating Boys.

Lieutenant Charles H. Harlow, one of the brightest officers in the American navy, who was special commissioner to Chile and Bolivia for the World's Columbian exposition and has spent a good part of his term of service as instructor at the Naval academy and on the schoolships Alliance and Essex, has developed a novel scheme for the education of boys and their preparation for the United States Naval or Military academy and other institutions of learning and at the same time to give them the broad experience and knowledge of the world and its affairs which can be acquired only by extensive and intelligent travel.

He proposes to equip a steel vessel of 2,000 tons with both steam and sail power and every comfort, convenience and improvement known to modern shipbuilding and make it a cruising school, with a chaplain, a surgeon who will be a specialist in physical culture and a corps of instructors in the various branches of learning, says William E. Curtis in the Chicago Record. A complete course will cover a period of four years and include a visit to every country in the world. A new class will be entered each September. The term will extend from Sept. 15 to June 15, during which time there will be instruction of some sort every day. The cruises will be so arranged that the ship will avoid stormy regions and be in perpetual sunny weather. The first year will be spent in the West Indies and Europe, the second in the Mediterranean and the waters of Africa, the third in India, China, Japan, Siam, Alaska and the Pacific coast of the United States and the fourth year among the islands of the south Pacific, Australia, New Zealand and South America. The first year's itinerary includes 143 days at sea and 130 days in port—16,000 miles; the second year 24,000 miles of sailing, 140 days at sea and 118 days in port; the third year 26,000 miles, 173 days at sea and 100 days in port, and the fourth year 27,000 miles, 173 days at sea and 100 days in port.

While in port the cadets will visit all places of interest in charge of the professors, and each country and place will be the subject of study and lectures in addition to the regular course of study, which will be similar to those followed in the high schools and preparatory schools of the country. The cadets will be organized similarly to those at the Naval academy, with the same discipline and drill. They will be commanded by former officers of the navy, and, while they will not be called upon to perform the manual labor of sailors, they will be drilled in seamanship, taught the science of navigation, electricity, steam engineering, and so forth. The cadet officers will be chosen according to merit, as at West Point and Annapolis.

Lieutenant Harlow is now in charge of the United States hydrographic office at Boston, but hopes to develop his scheme during the coming winter so that the first cruise may begin in September, 1901.

TALK WITH A FRIEND OF LI.

Hongkong Merchant Named Six Men as Instigators of Boxer Troubles.

H. T. Bosman, a rich merchant of Hongkong, who arrived recently at San Francisco on the Doric, is a personal friend of Li Hung Chang, with whom he had a long talk the day before he sailed from Shanghai, says the New York Sun. Li had not then been appointed peace commissioner, but his selection was regarded as sure. Mr. Bosman said:

"Li is the strongest man in China and the only one capable of dealing with the present crisis. There is absolutely no truth in the statement that Li was ever in favor of the Boxer movement. He is too shrewd to think for an instant that China is able to go to war successfully with the whole world.

"There are just six men responsible for all the trouble in China—Kang Yi, Tung Fu Hsisang, Hsu Tung, Chao Sho Chiu, Chi Hsiu and Yung Lu. The first two were principals. Prince Tuan was their nominal head, made so in order to counteract the influence of Prince Ching, father of the heir apparent. If Li had been viceroy of Chili, as formerly, there would not have been any Boxer uprising."

Titus of Kansas.

'Neath Peking's walls so grim and brown
The wearied soldiers sat them down.

Waiting to mix in the battle feast,
The pulsing west 'gainst the senile east.

High frowned the walls in their garb of brown,
Barring the road into Peking town.

Captains glared up at that stony reach:
"Here we must wait till the guns can breach."

Then Titus of Kansas, turned nineteen,
Agile and supple and long and lean,

And to his hat these words let fall,
"Give me the chance, an I'll climb the wall!"

Titus of Kansas rushed the space
Where the bullets flew—and gained the base!

Just for a moment pausing there,
Foot followed foot up the cruel stair.

A jutting stone, a crevice small—
With bloody hands he smeared the wall.

The troops in silence, crouching low,
Watched the youngster upward go.

Gasped when he reeled, but he did not drop!
God! What a cheer when he gained the top!

Thus Titus of Kansas cleared the way;
The foe fell back—the rest was play.

So rose the star of that battle feast
When the pulsing west met the senile east.

Lifting himself to a deathless fame—
Titus of Kansas, that's his name.

The widowed Duchess of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha, according to The Westminster Gazette, has an income of £6,000 a year from the British treasury, besides a jointure from the Coburg duchy estates. The Russian estates of the duchess and her own invested money and her life allowance from the imperial treasury give her £50,000 a year.

THE DOMINIE.

St. Paul's cathedral was completed within 35 years, while the building of St. Peter's, Rome, was extended over 176 years.

A novel building removal recently took place in Chicago when the Woodlawn Presbyterian church was moved across the Illinois Central tracks. The tracks are elevated, and the church was hoisted about 15 feet high and lowered on the other side.

The Rev. John Contant, pastor of the Reformed church of Lodi, N. J., was forced to preach in blue overalls and a boy's coat on a recent Sunday morning, because a burglar had stolen his clothes during the previous night. The minister prayed for the burglar in the course of the morning prayer.

The Rev. L. J. Coppin, colored, of Philadelphia, who was recently elected bishop of the African Methodist Episcopal church in the Transvaal, will sail for Africa next January. By that time the members of the denomination hope to raise $20,000, and when he arrives in the Transvaal there will be a reorganization of the conference, and work on the college will be commenced.

THE WRITERS.

George Moore, the English novelist, dramatist and art critic, is to visit this country about next Christmas time for the purpose of studying art conditions in America.

Mr. Richard Whiteing's new novel will deal with the life of the British farm laborer. The author is again at work, though slowly, as he is not entirely recovered from his recent severe illness.

Beatrice Harraden, it is said, wields a saw and plane with as much skill as her pen. While living on a ranch in California for her health's sake she became quite expert as a carpenter, helping upon occasions to build a fence. She set out with her own hands a small orchard and attended to the grafting and pruning.

M. Sardou frankly admits that there is nothing but plebeian blood in his veins. For three generations his ancestors lived in very modest circumstances at Cannes. Before that they were Sardinian fishermen. His great-grandfather, he says, may have been wrecked on the south of France and settled there; hence the family name Sardou, signifying an inhabitant of Sardinia.

Just after 2 o'clock this afternoon, when the gale was at its highest, Box 53 at Wollaston was pulled. This box is located on Second hill, at the corner of Warren avenue and Winthrop street, and the locality was getting the full sweep of the wind, and it was a dangerous time for a fire.

The Wollaston and Atlantic hose and also the Quincy apparatus responded very promptly. The house was occupied by John A. Packard.

The fire was confined mostly to the kitchen and dining room and the loss will be about $500.

The family were away.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

GOLD DEMOCRATS

Cast Their Lots With the Republicans of the Granite State.

Chester B. Jordan Receives Nomination For Governor.

Political Gossip of Interest From Various Quarters of the Country.

Concord, N. H., Sept. 12.—The New Hampshire Republicans met in state convention here Tuesday, nominated Chester B. Jordan of Lancaster for governor and chose presidential electoral candidates. Frank D. Currier was nominated for congress from the Second New Hampshire district.

A notable addition to the number present was to be seen in the attendance of prominent Gold Democrats who definitely cast in their lot with the Republicans and acted in the convention. Conspicuous among there were Albert S. Batchelor of Littleton, who was a delegate to the Indianapolis convention in 1896, and William P. Buckley of Lancaster, a law partner of Mr. Jordan, the nominee of the convention.

A. T. Batchellor of Keene presented the platform, which was unanimously adopted. It cordially approves the platform adopted by the national Republican convention at Philadelphia and accepts each declaration of that convention as true Republican doctrine.

The final plank reads: "Believing that the re-election of President McKinley is demanded by the highest interests of the nation, we call upon the voters of New Hampshire to give their support to the nominees for presidential electors of this convention; and to the end that the policies and principles which have made our state so prosperous during the long season of Republican ascendancy may be continued, we confidently appeal for the triumphant election of our candidate for governor. Every consideration of public good demands that the affairs of state and nation be continued in the hands of the Republican party, and the phenomenal vote of 1896, which was given as a protest against the heresies of the Chicago platform, is the best possible assurance that the state will remain true to the doctrines upon which the future welfare of our people so largely depends."

James W. Remich then presented to the convention the name of Chester B. Jordan of Lancaster as gubernatorial candidate. A similar office was performed for Franklin Worcester of Hillis by Mr. Goodwin of that town.

The ballot was then taken, as follows: Whole number, 669; necessary to a choice, 335. Franklin Worcester had 83; Chester B. Jordan had 586. The nomination was made unanimous, and Mr. Jordan came before the convention and accepted the nomination in a brief speech.

Slate All Fixed Up.

Saratoga, N. Y., Sept. 12.—John B. Stanchfield will be nominated for governor by the Democratic state convention today. William F. Mackey of Erie has been offered second place upon the ticket. This is the ticket which seems most probable of final acceptance: For governor, John B. Stanchfield; lieutenant governor, William F. Mackey; secretary of state, John T. Norton; comptroller, Edwin A. Atwater; attorney general, George M. Palmer; treasurer, Guy H. Clarke; engineer and surveyor, Russell A. Stewart. Only an absolute breach of faith can prevent the selection of the two at the head of this ticket, and only the persistent claims of up-state leaders will upset the complete ticket.

Danger In Over-Confidence.

Chicago, Sept. 12.—The Hamilton club last night gave a dinner in honor of Senator Mason, who shared oratorical honors with Senator Hanna. Senator Hanna talked frankly of the over-confidence on the part of the Republicans, and declared with all possible emphasis that everything that Republicans and patriotic Democrats fought for four years ago was at stake in the present campaign. The silver question and not imperialism he asserted to be the paramount issue.

Kansas City Platform Endorsed.

Dover, Del., Sept. 12.—The Democratic state convention adjourned Tuesday evening aftre having placed in nomination for governor Peter J. Ford of Willmington; lieutenant governor, W. E. Hoey of Fredonia; congressman (long term), Alexander M. Daly of Dover; congressman (unexpired term), Edward Fowler of Laurel. The platform endorses the nominations of Bryan and Stevenson, and also endorses the Kansas City platform in its entirety.

Roosevelt In the Far West.

Yankton, S. D., Sept. 12.—The demonstration here last evening in honor of Governor Roosevelt's arrival was almost unequalled in the history of the small city. A torchlight procession and a parade were the features of the evening. In the mounted escort were a number of Indians clad in their native costumes, with blankets and feathers and painted faces. Addresses were made by Governor Roosevelt and Curtis Guild of Boston.

First Estimates Were Correct.

Lewiston, Me., Sept. 12.—Belated election returns from all over the state have come sifting in, but with the exception of Knox county, very few show any decided change. The estimated Republican plurality for the state ticket remains at 32,000. The total vote of towns thus far received show a Republican loss of 11 percent, and a Democratic gain of 22 percent.

Prohibitionist In Second Place.

Columbia, S. C., Sept. 12.—The second Democratic primary nominees of state offices was held yesterday. Out of 52,000 votes heard from at 11 o'clock last night, McSweeney, dispensary candidate, for governor, had received 29,000, and Colonel Hoyt, Prohibitionist, 23,000. McSweeney's lead is growing.

Two Senators on the Platform.

Baltimore, Sept. 12.—Under the auspices of the Maryland league of Republican clubs, Senator Foraker of Ohio and Senator McComas of this state addressed a large and enthusiastic gathering here last night in the interest of the Republican national candidates.

Triple Convention at Denver.

Denver, Sept. 12.—The three state conventions now in session here—Democratic, Silver Republican and Populist—appointed committees to arrange for a division of the offices on a fusion ticket. The nominations will probably be made today.

A Bid For Unionist Votes.

London, Sept. 12.—Joseph Chamberlain, in the form of a letter to the Durham Conservative association, issues an election manifesto. Referring to the settlement in South Africa he said: "I should seriously fear that, if by any cause the Liberals were now returned to office, they would be ready to throw away, in connection with the settlement, the position which has been so hardly gained by the sacrifices of war. I hope every elector who feels that the arrogant and arbitrary tyranny of the Boer oligarchy, culminating in an invasion of her majesty's territories, requires to be dealt with by a strong hand, will support the Unionist candidate at the polls."

Forced to Live In Caves.

Cape Town, Sept. 12.—In the Cape house of assembly yesterday Premier Gordon-Sprigg, replying to a question concerning the fate of refugees who had not been permitted to return to their occupations, said that, if charitable funds failed, the government would see to it that the refugees did not starve. The Cape Town correspondent of The Daily Mail, referring to the question put to Gordon-Sprigg regarding the refugees, says: "The distress among them is very serious. Large numbers, mostly Americans, are living in caves on the sides of Table mountain owing to their inability to pay rent."

Creditor Alleges Insolvency.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Central Trust company of New York has brought suit in the United States circuit court in this city against the United States Flour Milling company, to recover $225,120 interest due May 1 last on first mortgage bonds to the amount of $7,504,000, and which was defaulted on. The complaint alleges that the company is insolvent.

Charged With Robbing His Host.

Boston, Sept. 12.—David H. P. Percy is under arrest, charged with robbing Rev. Harry P. Rankin of jewelry valued at about $100. Mr. Rankin met the young man on a steamer returning from Europe and invited him to visit him at his summer home at Gloucester. It was during the visit that the articles were purloined.

Union Greatly Strengthened.

Boston, Sept. 12.—The demand of the metal polishers, buffers, platers and brass finishers for a nine-hour day, an hour less than the schedule they now work under, is likely to cause a strike among the metal workers of this city. At a meeting held last night the union gained over 100 new members.

Good Autumn Crops Assured.

London, Sept. 12.—Viceroy Curzon of India has cabled that good rains have fallen in Madras and Central Bengal and on the Gangetic Plain, relieving all present anxiety regarding the autumn crops in those territories. The total number now receiving famine relief has fallen to 4,334,000.

Cotton Prices Too High.

Vienna, Sept. 12.—The Austro-Hungarian spinners, at a meeting held yesterday, decided, in consequence of the high price of cotton and the impossibility of getting equivalent yarn prices, to reduce their output by one-sixth, closing down one day a week until next spring.

Will Not Return to Cuba.

Havana, Sept. 12.—Rius Rivera, former Cuban secretary of agriculture, now in Honduras, who was nominated to represent Pinar del Rio at the forthcoming constitutional convention, will be unable to serve in that capacity, as he intends to remain in Honduras.

Victims of Tropical Storm.

Norfolk, Va., Sept. 12.—Steamship Montgomery, which arirved here last night for bunker coal, reports having met the tropical storm in the gulf of Mexico last week. She sighted two barks, one barkentine and one schooner ashore on the Florida reefs.

THE WORLD OF SPORTS.

Several Interesting Bicycle Races—Miller Badly Hurt—Bostons Defeat St. Louis.

Springfield, Mass., Sept. 12.—Jimmy Michael defeated Harry Caldwell, the New Hampshire giant, in a 20-mile paced race at the Coliseum last night. The time for the 20 miles, 33:10 1-5, is below the track record, but is nearly two minutes slower than the world's record. Michael gained a lap in the fifth mile, and again in the eighth he passed the giant for a second time. Then in the 10th mile the rear tire on Caldwell's pacing machine exploded, and Caldwell, who was following close, was thrown from his wheel and could not finish.

Cambridge Boy a Winner.

Boston, Sept. 12.—Harry Elkes, the hour bicycle champion of the world, was defeated at Charles River park Tuesday night by William Stinson of Cambridge, who rode 35 miles and 1156 yards. Elkes was 439 yards in the rear. It was the first contest Elkes had ridden in since his return from Europe, and was intended as a trial before his coming race with Johnnie Nelson. There were many odds in Elkes' favor.

The Nelson-Downing Race.

Worcester, Mass., Sept. 12.—The feature of the race meet at the Coliseum last evening was a 15-mile motor-paced race between John A. Nelson and Hardy Downing of San Jose. Nelson won by four laps and 100 yards, each lap being a sixth of a mile.

Serious Accident on Bicycle Track.

New Haven, Sept. 12.—As the result of a spill at the Coliseum board track last night Miller, the six-day champion of the world, it is feared, sustained concussion of the brain, and Archie McEachern was also badly injured. The pacemakers on the motor tandems were all more or less injured.

On the Diamond.

Boston, Sept. 12.—The first link in the process of mending their shattered reputation was forged by Boston when "Muggsy" McGraw and his mates were handily taken into camp in a sort of a nondescript game that was neither very good nor very bad.

Chicago Gets It.

Chicago, Sept. 12.—The storm of Tuesday was one of the most severe that has visited Chicago in years. At one time the wind reached a velocity of 72 miles an hour, and at no time during the day was the velocity less than 50 miles an hour. Two people lost their lives as a result of the gale and a number were injured. The damage from broken windows, falling signs and trees will run into thousands of dollars. Marine interests were warned by storm signals early in the day and only the staunchest vessels of the regular lines ventured out.

An Electric Car Accident.

Woburn, Mass., Sept. 12.—An electric car of the Woburn and Reading Street railway jumped the switch at a turnout Tuesday, and, after running about 30 feet, turned almost at right angles with the track and brought up against a guy wire post with considerable force. The passengers were all thrown violently about the car, and two of them, Mrs. F. A. Parker and C. A. Norton, were severely injured. The car was a closed one or the casualties would have been of greater number and more serious.

Conference or a Strike.

Chicago, Sept. 12.—"I will leave for Indianapolis tomorrow night and if, upon arrival there Thursday morning, I fail to hear anything from the operators in New York indicative of their willingness to meet us in conference, I shall immediately order a strike." These were the words of John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers of America, last night. "It is with the greatest reluctance that I take this step," continued Mr. Mitchell, "but nothing else remains for us to do."

Cotton Situation Uncertain.

Fall River, Mass., Sept. 12.—The print cloth market, at the close of business Tuesday, was very firm at the old quotation of 2 7-8 cents, with much uncertainty as to its continuance. Cotton at the present figure is too high, and at the first break of note in the figure it is believed that local mills will enter the market with large orders, as the supply on hand now is very small.

Laborers Hurt In Explosion.

Smith's Ferry, Pa., Sept. 12.—In a freight wreck on the Cleveland and Pittsburg railroad near East Liverpool the section gang from this place was called out. Nine cars were wrecked, among which was a car of gasolene. While the men were working the tank exploded, injuring 15 persons. Two will probably die.

"Card Chain" Schemes Are Illegal.

Washington, Sept. 12.—The attorney general, in an opinion to the postmaster general, holds that all of the so-called "card-chain" schemes that recently have been operated through the mails are violations of the lottery law. Postmasters will be called on to notify all promoters of such schemes of the above ruling.

German Coal Increases In Price.

Berlin, Sept. 12.—The hard coal syndicate in Silesia and the Rhine provinces have driven up the price of hard coal 25 percent, and soft coal in Berlin is 50 percent higher.

DUMPED INTO OCEAN.

Method of Disposing of the Dead to Save the Living at Galveston.

The Death List Has Already Reached Three Thousand.

Not a Single Individual on the Whole Island Escaped Property Loss.

Galveston, Sept. 13.—All attempts at burying the dead here have been utterly abandoned, and bodies are now being disposed of in the swiftest manner possible. Scores of them were buried Wednesday, and hundreds were taken out to sea and thrown overboard. The safety of the living is now the paramount question, and nothing that will tend to prevent the outbreak of an awful pestilence is being neglected.

It was found yesterday that large numbers of the bodies which had been previously thrown in the bay were washed back upon the shore, and the situation was then rendered worse than before they were first taken in the barges and thrown into the water.

Mayor Jones of Galveston claims that the dead will amount to 5000, and others, whose opportunities for judging are less than that of the mayor, place it as high as 10,000.

R. G. Lowe, manager of the Galveston News, makes the following statement:

"A summary of the conditions prevailing at Galveston is more than human intellect can master. Briefly stated, the damage to property is anywhere between $15,000,000 and $20,000,000. The loss of life cannot be computed. No list could be kept and all is simply guesswork. Those thrown out to sea and buried on the ground wherever found will reach the horrible total of at least 3000 souls. My estimate of the loss on the island of the city of Galveston and the immediate surrounding district is between 4000 and 5000 deaths. I do not make this estimate in the fright or excitement. The whole story will never be told, because it cannot be told.

"The necessities of those living are total. Not a single individual escaped property loss. The property on the island is wrecked; fully one-half totally swept out of existence altogether. What our needs are can be computed by the world at large by the statement herewith submitted much better than I could possibly summarize them. The help must be immediate."

Relief committees from the interior of the state have commenced to arrive, and, as usual, they are too large in numbers, and, to a certain extent, are in the way of the people of Galveston and an impediment to the prompt relief which they themselves are so desirous of offering. Some of the relief expeditions have had committees large enough to consume 10 percent of the provisions which they brought. The relief sent here from Beaumont, Tex., arrived yesterday and was distributed as fast as possible. It consisted of two carloads of ice and provisions, and came by way of Port Arthur. The great trouble now seems to be that these people who are in greatest need, through no fault of those in charge of the distribution, are the last to receive aid. Many of them are so badly maimed and wounded that they are unable to apply to the relief committee.

Vandalism in Galveston has been horrible. The most rigid enforcement of martial law has not been able to suppress it entirely. Adjutant General Scurry's men have arrested a hundred or more negroes, 43 of whom were found with effects taken from dead bodies. These were ordered tried by court-martial. They were convicted and ordered shot. On negro had 23 fingers with rings on them in his pocket.

Governor Sayers has begun receiving reports from various points along the gulf coast which would indicate that there has been great property damage done for several hundred miles, and that the list of Galveston fatalities and suffering will be largely augmented.

Contributions have fairly deluged the governor, upwards of $100,000 having been received during Wednesday. Among the largest contributors are the Standard Oil company with $10,000, St. Louis Commercial club for a like amount and the Huntington interests for $5000.

The relief committee last night gave the following to the Associated Press:

"We are receiving numerous telegrams of condolence and of offers of assistance. As the telegraph wires are burdened we beg the Associated Press to communicate this response to all. Near by cities are supplying and will supply sufficient food, clothing, etc., for immediate needs Cities farther away can serve us by sending money. Checks should be made payable to John Sealy, chairman of the finance committee. All supplies should come to W. A. McVitie, chairman relief committee. We have 25,000 people to clothe and feed for many weeks and to furnish with household goods. Most of these are homeless and the others will require money to make their wrecked residences habitable. From this the world may understand how much money we will need. This committee will from time to time report our needs with more particularity. All communicants will please accept this answer in lieu of direct response and be assured of the heartfelt gratitude of the entire population."

Indianapolis, Sept. 13.—At 5:15 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, President Mitchell and Secretary Wilson of the United Mine Workers of America affixed their signatures to the document which will call 142,000 miners of the Pennsylvania anthracite coal region from their work Monday morning, and precipitate one of the most gigantic strikes in the history of the labor world. The document was the official indorsement of the request of the anthracite district to strike, and it was sent to the three presidents of Pennsylvania districts.

The great West Indian storm which has been the center of meteorological interests for the past 12 days is fast disappearing into the Atlantic by way of Cape Breton island. South to west gales have resulted from this storm, and yesterday they extended along the entire coast from New Jersey northward. But little rain accompanied this storm after it left the upper lake region. It has, however, except in the south, caused a marked moderation of the high temperature which has so long persisted over the eastern portion of the country. It will be fair and somewhat cooler in the New England states. On the coast the winds will be fresh west to north.

THE TAMMANY SLATE

Goes Through at Saratoga With But Little Display of Friction.

Nomination of Stanchfield Is Made Unanimous.

Proposal Came From Senator Hill, After an Unsuccessful Effort in Behalf of Coler.

Saratoga, N. Y., Sept. 13.—The Democratic state convention was called to order Wednesday by Chairman McCarren. The report of the committee on credentials was received with mingled cheers and hisses, and was declared by the chair to be adopted. The committee on permanent organization reported the name of George Raines of Monroe for chairman, and he was escorted to the platform.

For governor, John B. Stanchfield of Chemung; lieutenant governor, William F. Mackey; secretary of state, John T. Norton; comptroller, Edwin S. Atwater; treasurer, John B. Judson; attorney general, Thomas F. Conway; engineer and surveyor, Russell R. Stuart.

The head of the above named ticket was not selected without acrimonious personalities and a sarcastic exchange of compliments among the leaders. But when the will of the convention had been finally registered Senator Hill was first to propose the unanimous nomination of "a friend of life-long standing, John B. Stanchfield."

This attitude proved so spontaneously infectious that representatives of almost every county which had opposed Mr. Stanchfield were immediately upon their feet, and, one by one, they were recognized by Chairman Raines to second the nomination.

The name of Bird S. Coler was presented as candidate for governor by Senator D. B. Hill, who made a ringing address in behalf of the comptroller. Judge Taylor followed, naming John B. Stanchfield for governor.

An evident purpose to avoid friction on all other questions than the gubernatorial candidate, upon the part of both Hill and Croker, was manifest in the unanimous adoption of the committee reports upon both resolutions and credentials. Some of the remarks of the speakers were extremely poignant and no attempt was made to conceal the intensity of feeling existing among the rival leaders. But this spent its entire force in the selection of the head of the ticket.

Even more pronounced in the convention was Mr. Murphy's defeat of Mr. Hill, although the Hill vote was a surprise.

Naturally the great interest of the day centered in the factional controversy between state leaders Murphy and Hill, and each may be said to have come out of the convention with support unimpaired. Mr. Murphy's majority both in committee and convention was preponderating, and yet Mr. Hill had three times the support for his candidate allowed him in ante-convention statements by the opposition.

The platform opens with the following declaration:

"We pledge ourselves anew to the principles and policies of Jeffersonian Democracy and indorse the platform adopted by the last Democratic convention.

"We recognize the truth of the declaration of that convention that the burning issue of imperialism growing out of the Spanish war involves the very existence of the republic and the destruction of our free institutions. We regard it as the paramount issue of the campaign.

"Upon this issue, therefore, we invite all citizens of our state to promote the election of a Democratic president, however they may differ upon national issues, which at this time are inferior in rank.

"We ratify and enforce the nomination for the presidency of William J. Bryan, a statesman of undoubted patriotism and independence, enjoying in a marked degree the confidence of his fellow-citizens, an honest, able and fearless champion of popular rights and aspirations, in whose hands the business interests of the country and the industrial elements of our citizenship would find equal and ample protection."

On state matters the salient features of the platform are: Denouncement of the ice trust and all other combinations of like nature; restoration of the day of individual opportunity for young men; reduction of expenses of government; endorsement of the franchise tax act; condemnation of the Republican policy on the canals and advocating their maintenance; condemning Republican defeat of employer liability bill; pledging support to labor measures and advocating the establishment at Washington of a cabinet officer to be known as the secretary of labor; calling for repeal of the Ramapo charter; calling for the election of United States senators by the people; favoring a practical civil service law.

Drift of Opinion.

☞The Dewey arch was once a thing of beauty, but it is fast going into decay and will be removed. American hero-worship is not usually of the lasting kind and the building of a permanent and fitting memorial to the victor of Manila will be left for a coming generation while the present tends to the more important questions of a political campaign.—Haverhill Gazette.

☞The news of wrongdoing in the sporting circles of New York, which was suppressed during the continuance of the Horton law and the almost daily attractions at the athletic clubs, is coming out in the newspapers now, and the public in general is learning much. It is an assured fact that the prize fighting managers and some at least of the big fighters have done wretchedly dishonest work. "Fake" fights and bought and sold fights have been comparatively common, and the public have not in a percentage of cases been treated with fairness by the grab-all managers and pugilists. It will cause no sorrow to the average man, even though he is a lover of sports, if there are no more New York glove fights for many years to come. Tricks don't appeal to the lovers of games.—Brockton Enterprise.

☞There are many accumulators of wealth who, so far as the world's affairs are concerned, are mere trifler and idlers,but we have had in America for half a century a class of men who have accumulated wealth through hard work and the employment of extaordinary talents in management. Such men have been as incessantly active in carrying out great schemes, as much absorbed in forwarding semi-public enterprises, as the most commonplace workers in industrial fields. There has been for this class no elegant leisure,no lounging at home or abroad, no indulgence in social pleasures or dissipations. Such men have projected great public improvements and have organized schemes for the development of new commonwealths, not as a pastime, but as an absorbing employment. If there has been any lesson in their lives it has been against the old dream that to be wealthy gave any one license to be useless and profligate. —Chicago Tribune.

☞Don't indulge in parody of favorite and familiar hymns. Don't practice or encourage punning on texts of Scripture. Punning is the cheapest kind of wit. Besides, a hymn once stained by parody can never be restored to its original whiteness; it bears ever after the wrinkle and soil of parody. If it is called up in the most sacred company, or on the most solemn occasion, it will come as the clown or court fool in can and bells. The text which came as a cup of nectar to your lips, once laden with the pun's low wit, henceforth brings but the stale beer of the wayside booth. You will not hate, but you will test your grace in forgiving,the thoughtless trivality with which pun or parody has spoiled for you a verse of sacred song or Holy Writ. For holy use it must be pure and unsoiled. A single spot or stain on the linen ephod unfits it for temple service. The sacred Word must be free from low associations. Keep temple service and sacred ritual free from earthly soil.—Zion's Herald.

CREW IN DANGER.

The Sloop Yacht Idlewise Wrecked at Hangman's.

Had Party From Wollaston Aboard.

Damage from Gale in All Parts of City.

The 25-foot sloop yacht of the Wollaston Yacht club, Capt. Fred C. Merrill, was wrecked on Hangman's island during the gale Wednesday, and will probably go to pieces.

The yacht started out from Wollaston on Tuesday with a fishing party which included Capt. Merrill, J. H. Bennett, Avery Bennett, Nathaniel Thayer and Waldron Schumaker.

The party went to Weir river and Wednesday morning they started about 8 o'clock for home. When off Hangman's island two hours later, in attempting to come about, she missed stays and drifted onto a ledge staving a hole in her planking. Capt. Merrill beached her on Hangman's island, and the party remained there all night.

This morning Avery Bennett came to Wollaston in a row boat, and reported all safe and sound. Later the balance of the party was brought home in a yacht. No anxiety was felt for the party, as it was supposed they were at Weir River.

The Idlewise pounded considerable during the gale, and it is feared she will be a total wreck.

Considering the severity of the wind on Wednesday, Quincy was very fortunate in escaping with comparatively little damage. Gardens containing unharvested corn were destroyed, and fruit trees of all kinds suffered, many of the trees being divested of all their fruit. Great clouds of dust and leaves were blown about,and at times it was almost blinding. In some places small trees were uprooted,and in other large limbs were torn ruthlessly from the trees. Small pieces of limbs were blown about so that people on the streets were in constant danger of being hit by flying limbs.

The greatest damage perhaps was along the shore front. At Wollaston beach, the Gypsy and Ace of Diamonds broke away from their moorings, and after drifting about came ashore at Houghs Neck causeway.

The barrels of the float at Adams Shore broke away and came ashore at the Houghs Neck causeway. Several row boats also came ashore here during the day.

The Little Eva, broke away and also came ashore. The Witch broke away as did also two small boats owned by Kearns and Annis,these went ashore at Grape island.

The only other damage noted at Houghs Neck was the carrying away of the chimney of the Fensmere.

At the new Fore River Engine works quite serious damage was wrought in many cases by the gale. Work had to be suspended, and one end of the large machine shop had to be braced by heavy timbers in order to withstand the heavy wind. The thick prepared paper which covers the roofs of both machine shop and steel mill was torn away in many places and scattered about the works.

Two trees in the yard of Dr. Everett were blown down and a large apple tree at N. B. Furnald's was snapped off. Part of the stack of the Lyons Granite Co. was also blown off during the gale.

For an all-round yachtsman, Chester Collins of the Quincy Yacht club takes the cake. During the great blow he boarded his big Cape cat, the Ida J., stuck in five reefes and then single-handed sailed up to City Point and Savin Hill to see the damage being done by the storm.

No damage was done to any of the yachts at the Houghs Neck anchorage.

So the old steamer Stamford alias John Endicott is a thing of the past, as the boat is fast breaking up near Minot's. Perhaps after all, it is more poetical to end in the harness than to perish ignominiously by fire at Apple Island.—Post

South Weymouth Fire.

The forest fires at South Weymouth Wednesday burned over a large territory to the South of Union street and destroyed the cottages of Daniel Maher, John Ryan, Henry Cushing anp Michael Flynn. The fire also invaded Rockland and Abington.

It was reported from Rockland this noon that the fierce forest fire that raged all day Wednesday in the woods between South Weymouth and Rockland was under control and practically out. That three houses have been burned and acres of woodland destroyed. The cars of the South Shore and Boston street railway which were held up by the fire Wednesday resumed schedule time today.

Third Anniversary.

The Ladies' Auxiliary, No. 10, A. O. H., celebrated its third anniversary Wednesday evening at Faxon hall. The affair was very largely attended. The exercises opened with an address of welcome by Mrs. George Ferguson, president of the auxiliary. Other remarks were made by County President, Miss Eliza C. Sheahan; Hon. John A. Ryan, State President of the A. O. H., and W. H. Sullivan.

The entertainment consisted of dancing by Miss Rhines and Miss McCluskey, solo by John McGuane; the Misses McCluskey, Master Peter Sullivan, Ellis Doe and Louis Gomez and recitations by Miss Helen Walsh. The anniversary closed with refreshments and dancing.

THE DRESS MODEL.

Yellow brocade, craped satin and silk or satin matelasse will be fashionable opera and ballroom fabrics this winter.

A new twilled cloth, slightly rough of surface, manufactured for the making of smart traveling and walking costumes, resembles the weave of French vicuna.

The autumn will bring a great many handsome full length wraps and a number of half length, three-quarter and jacket styles, reaching a few inches below the waist and variously shaped and adjusted.

Shepherd's checked taffetas, in handsome color blendings suitable to the season, will be revived for the making of shirt waists to wear beneath short, open jackets of plain or fancy wool autumn suitings and for linings, vests, yokes and separate waists.

Hats to be worn with youthful costumes of tweed and cheviot this fall are Ladysmith models of rough felt—Sanglier felts they are called. Upon them quills and stiff feathers are secured, with knots of brilliant gladiolus red or equally brilliant nasturtium yellow velvet.

A new English walking jacket is cut with short rounded skirt fronts and fastens diagonally across the chest. Beneath this is a close fitting vest of pale tan cloth covered with braid work on silver and brown soutache, running side by side and fastened with rococo buttons of medium size.

The fancy for combining blue with certain shades of green still prevails, though it has been worn so much that many have tired of it. The newer rhododendron blending of pink and blue is apt to form mauve and is therefore not generally becoming, though much admired on those who are fair enough to wear it.

Handsome qualities of light weight venetian cloth in blues, pansy and rich fruit colors, including red, will be much used for the first wool costumes of next season. They are extremely plain in effect except the red suits, which are trimmed with flounces edged with narrow folds of velvet of a deeper shade.—New York Post.

THE IDLE RICH.

Although Thomas Nelson Page does not think so, it is a fact nevertheless that the acts of the Newport Four Hundred blazoned forth in every newspaper in the land do affect the tastes and amusements of thousands of other people.—Nashville American.

Mr. Page is wrong. The pernicious example of our aristocracy of wealth is widespread. For a light set upon a hill cannot be hid. The light of folly and profligacy among the conspicuous rich of the United States at the present time is a beacon of scandal to the country.—Chicago Chronicle.

It would be a sad thing for American manhood and womanhood if the men and women of this country got their morals and their ideas of life from the smart set in New York. They lead a life of idleness and selfish indulgence, and they are worse than useless. The world is the worse rather than the better for their living.—Richmond Times.

In London the members of the most exclusive society are also leaders in the world of politics and of letters. The men are frequently brave soldiers or sailors or members of parliament; the women are usually intelligent and interesting. The members of the Four Hundred are noted only for their brazen effrontery and their lack of morals.—Louisville Post.

The management are taking particular pains this year to have strong, clean plays in Music Hall and it is earnestly hoped that the citizens of Quincy will show their appreciation of this by a generous patronage.

Though it is as yet early in the season the following have already been booked.

Gus Sun's Minstrels,
The Flints.
Donnazetta's Span of Life,

The management wish also to call attention to two facts :—

FIRST :—The excellent dancing floor which Music Hall now has—selected white maple, protected when not used for dancing by a heavy canvas covering, and

SECOND :—That every precaution has been taken to guard against fire and the dangers of a panic—there is a fire extinguisher on each side of the stage and one in the gallery—the stage can be instantly cut off from the main hall by an asbestos fire proof curtain—throughout the hall between the inner and upper floors there is asbestos paper—there are now five distinct exits, each always lighted when the hall is in use by both electricity and gas.

Will Make Good Showing with Quincy.

Pierce, Towle and Atwood Active in Boston Wards.

Nomination papers were opened in the Boston wards Wednesday for the Republican caucuses and afford many interesting studies, especially to the voters of the Tenth Congressional district, where there are at least four candidates. In four wards the first sets are designated as "favorable to Dr. George B. Pierce." Five sets are designated as "favorable to William W. Towle." Three lists as "favorable to Harrison H. Atwood." The second list in Ward 12 is designated as "Anti-Atwood on all ballots." This leaves seven other lists which are unnamed, but which are presumably for either Pierce or Atwood. Ward 19 must make its choice between two of these unnamed or unknown lists as no others were filed. Ward 17 also has two of these unknown lists, but in addition has one for Towle. In Ward 15 there is but one list, and it is unknown. Ward 18 must make its choice between an unknown list and one favorable to Towle.

None of the sets filed are designated as favorable to our townsman, Hon. John Shaw, but he may have friends on the unknown lists, and if he does not secure any of the Boston delegates he may go into the convention with as many votes as some of the other candidates. If the 81 Boston delegates are divided equally among Messrs. Pierce, Towle and Atwood, they will have but 27 each, while Quincy may give Shaw 21.

Fifty-five votes will be necessary for a choice in the convention which is entitled to 108 votes, and it is hardly probable that any of the four candidates will go into the convention with a majority.

In the summary of nomination lists which follows, the figures 1, 2 and 3 designate the order in which the lists were filed in the ward, not the number of lists favorable to the candidates; thus one for Towle and one Anti-Atwood in Ward 12, one for Pierce and one Unknown in Ward 14, etc:

	Pierce.	Towle.	Atwood.	Anti Atwood.	Unknown.	Delegates.

* Two sets unknown.

The Herald says: "The candidacy of John Shaw of Quincy for Congress in the 10th district will not be in evidence in the Boston caucuses, nor will Dr. Pierce have tickets in the Quincy caucuses. It has been agreed between these two not to invade each others territory."

Political Potpourri.

The Scandinavian Republican club held a regular meeting in Wilson's hall Wednesday night and the following officers were elected: President, Edward J. Sandberg; vice president, Theodore H. Hermanson; secretary, Andrew Johnson; treasurer, Hubert Samuelson; executive committee, Edward J. Sandberg, Andrew Olson, John Wedin, Edward Johnson, Julius Johnson, Andrew Erickson, Otto Gelotte. The next meeting will be held September 24 in Wilson Hall.

It is understood that George H. Wilson will be one of the Democratic nominees for the General Court.

Report says that William N. Eaton will be the Democratic candidate for Mayor next December.

It is now too late to register before the Republican caucuses.

OUR SHADE TREES.

A Protest Against the Slashing for Electric Wires.

Editors of the Daily Ledger:

The trimming of trees by the Electric Light Co., and kindred corporations, a matter which was referred in Tuesday's Ledger, is a question which deserves the most careful consideration from our city fathers.

The subject was put in a nut-shell by one of our leading citizens who remarked that "unless the trees are trimmed there can be no electric lights."

At Wollaston the tree trimming is peculiarly aggravating. During the years '72-'78 several hundred elms and maples were set out on the curb lines. Nearly all thrived and reached a height where they come into contact with the electric light wires, As the branches interferred with the wires, they were chopped off with the result that scores look like the capital letter Y, or are entirely lop sided. On Brook street an entire row of trees from Newport avenue to Taylor street have been trimmed so much that they have lost all resemblance to the stately trees for which they were intended. On Beale street and other streets the same trouble exists. Wherever an electric wire goes the young trees are destroyed, or so disfigured that they are worthless forever after for ornamental and shade purposes.

It seems as though there should be a partial, or possibly total remedy for such a state of affairs. For years the employes of the various electrical companies have been given carte blanche permission by the city authorities to trim the trees as they saw fit. That hundreds of our trees have been destroyed is as much the fault of those in authority as of the men who did the actual cutting. The City Council apparently has the power to remedy this evil. The cities of Worcester, Newton and Cambridge and the towns of Milton and Brookline, municipalities noted for the beautiful trees which shade their thoroughfares, long ago took means to forestall tree cutting by private corporations.

Newton has the following ordinance covering the preservation of trees:

"The Park Commissioners shall have the care of the trees in the public streets. They shall cause all statutes and ordinances made for the protection of said trees, the commons, and other public grounds and enclosures not under the general care and charge of the water board, to be strictly enforced, and shall institute legal proceedings against all persons violating such statutes and ordinances.

Although it may not be necessary to place the care of the trees in the hands of the park commissioners, it would seem as though a city forester should be appointed to have absolute authority over the trimming of all trees bordering on our highways. A man versed in forestry and equipped with a stiff backbone and a little common sense, could by judicious management, regenerate our much abused shade trees which are being so rapidly destroyed because there is nobody in authority who will say where the saw shall be put. J. S. Whiting.

WE LOVES HER THE BEST.

In all her gracious loveliness
She stooped and gave a fond caress
Unto the lad with curls of gold,
Who had been gently kissed and told
This lady was to be a mother
To him and his wee baby brother.

That night, unmindful of the bride,
He stole unto his father's side;
Upon his knee he climbed and said,
With tearful eyes and low bent head:
"Our new mamma is sweet and kind
And good; but, if you wouldn't mind,

"Dear papa, me and little brother
Would rather have our other mother,
The one who went away one day;
Nurse says 'twas just a year last May
(A sigh escaped the tiny breast),
'Coz, papa, we loves her the best."

A CURIOUS COURTSHIP.

HOW A GIRL DROVE AWAY A WORTHY LOVER AND WAS SORRY.

"If I go, Rosalie," Harry Reynolds said, "remember that I shall not return." He made a step toward her and continued, "Have you not a word for me, Rosalie?"

"I do not think of anything further that I wish to say," she responded coldly.

"Cold hearted, selfish girl!" he exclaimed.

For a few seconds after his departure Rosalie retained her indifferent position, but all her senses were alive to catch his lightest movement. Of course he would return, and when he behaved properly and asked her pardon and submissively he should have it, but to be lectured and scolded in that manner was more than she would bear. In vain did she listen. An hour, then two, then three hours passed by, and sick at heart Rosalie went up to her room and cried herself to sleep.

Rosalie was warm hearted and quick tempered, but was easily appeased. She was also passionately fond of admiration and quite as much bent on having her own way as was good for her. These faults, however, did not prevent the village beaus from being at her disposal, and hitherto she had been nearly impartial in her treatment of them, having no mind to give up the general homage by fixing upon one.

But lately there had been a difference in her feelings. She had acknowledged there was a charm in Harry Reynolds' attentions such as she had never found in any other. A thrill new and delicious went through her when their eyes met, and she read the admiration which he vainly tried to repress. Harry had a high ideal of womanly excellence which Rosalie by no means came up to, but in spite of her frivolities and his own misgivings they were frequently together and fast verging toward an explanation when that destiny which appears to delight in the annoyance of lovers introduced an element of discord into their happiness.

Mr. Clarence Dalton came up from the city on a visit to his uncle. He was handsome, agreeable, wealthy and noted for the careful elegance of his attire. The girls were enchanted with him, and Rosalie alone regarded him with seeming indifference. She said to herself with virtuous resolution, she must be careful now. Harry might be wounded if she received attentions from such a lion.

Happy for her had this prudent disposition lasted. But the old spirit came up after awhile. She was entirely accustomed to queening it in her little world, and her vanity was piqued that Mr. Dalton did not at all seem struck by her charms. It was quite a Christian duty to give Mr. Dalton a lesson in good taste. So by a few little feminine lures, such as a pretty girl well knows how to practice, he was attracted to her side, and once there he seemed exceedingly well pleased to stay.

Harry could endure it no longer and in the interview whose close we have portrayed determined to "put his fortune to the touch to win or lose it all." Conscious of her power, indignant, with some justice, that he should assume to dictate her conduct when he had never openly declared his love, Rosalie had responded by a series of flippant, exasperating little speeches which drove Harry almost to despair. She intended to relent in time, but pride, vanity and a certain triumph in knowing that his whole manly heart was hers to play with at will wrought sad mischief.

Rosalie had no doubt that Harry would come the next evening as usual and all could easily be made right again. But the evening came and went and no Harry. What could it mean? Surely he loved her, and if so he could not stay away. She would wait patiently since it was all that she could do.

The next evening Mr. Dalton called, but Rosalie sent down word that she was ill and asked to be excused. Yet as night after night went by and Harry did not return her submissive mood changed. She would show Mr. Harry Reynolds that she was not suffering from the withdrawal of his presence. There were other people quite delighted to be in her company.

The next time Mr. Dalton came she did not decline to see him, but came down and was as friendly and pleasant as could be desired. The young man noticed a more womanly thoughtfulness in her manner than he had hitherto observed and wondered what might be the cause.

Poor Harry's state meanwhile was far from enviable. For the first 24 hours he maintained a fierce resentment. But as the days came and went he softened little by little until every harsh sentiment had vanished and a determination seized him to seek Rosalie and try to efface the memory of his previous sternness.

Toward evening he wended his way to her home with the sweetest anticipations of reconciliation and affection. With every step she seemed to grow lovelier and dearer than before. But as he neared the gate a sight met his eyes which speedily cooled down the fervid tones of his fancy painting. It was Mr. Dalton assisting Rosalie to dismount from her horse. The exercise had brought a bright flush to her cheek, and she was fairly dazzling. She perceived Harry in time to bestow on him a very distant bow and then turned, with added empressment, to her companion. Harry changed his intentions at once, walked by the house in the most leisurely and indifferent manner and proceeded to call upon that obnoxious Nellie Kellis, whom Rosalie regarded so superciliously.

Mr. Dalton meanwhile found his affairs in a somewhat perplexing state. Flirtation had been since his eleventh year the element in which he delighted to exist. Matrimony with its cares and responsibilities was to him the most distant of prospects and must offer extra inducements to make him forsake his freedom. Now, however, he began to feel himself very seriously interested in a person who had not one claim to fashion, family or fortune—a little village girl who wore dresses of her own fitting and made all the pies and cakes that appeared on her table. Whether she really cared for him or regarded him as a friend or simply as an admirer was impossible to say.

Other people were not slow in drawing their conclusions, and before three weeks were over the village authorities in such cases declared it would be a match.

Harry could not in his heart deny the reasonableness of their predictions. He had the grief of believing that his wishes, hopes and affections were nothing to Rosalie. Yet had he anything but his own harshness to blame for the change? He was miserable, but his own act had caused the misery.

Mr. Dalton had a mother living, a stately lady of some forty odd years, well preserved and a leader of society. Clarence was her only boy and the object of a great many ambitious dreams. The marriage which looked to her so misty and far away was to her a very near reality. She had selected a girl of his rank for a wife, when, lo, there came a rumor that struck her to the heart. Could it be that Clarence was about to make a fool of himself? She wrote a letter to her son in which she expressed perfect confidence in his discretion and her assurance that he would do nothing foolish or imprudent.

Mr. Clarence's brow as he read the maternal effusion was clouded with thought. Where, in the name of common sense, could there be any danger in a marriage with such a charming girl as Rosalie Ames? As for the danger of her heart, he wished he were a little surer of it. He felt at that moment that his own was in a much more perilous position than hers.

As Harry walked that afternoon along the broad road leading from his house he was attracted by almost inarticulate groans, and looking a few yards into the distance he saw a senseless form lying in his path, while a mad horse dashed furiously down the road. As he drew nearer he recognized the dark, tasteful riding suit which he had seen Dalton wear so often before. And passing from the clothing his eyes rested upon the face, pale as death, of the unconscious man.

Good and bad angels tugged at Harry's soul for one moment in a mortal conflict. What call had he to interfere in his behalf? The sneering fop who had blighted all his hopes! Let him stay there and die. But in the next moment, forgetting all but the welfare of his fellow being, he snatched off his overcoat and raised Dalton's head and rested it upon it. Then, with frantic haste, he summoned aid, and all that skill and care could do was employed for the sufferer's restoration. Harry hung over him, pale and agonized, the accusing voice ever ringing in his ears. "God forgive me!" he cried. "That wicked delay."

At last signs of returning life were visible, and ere long the physicians assured the watchers round that all was hopeful. Rest and good nursing alone were needed.

Harry quietly stole away and resumed his walk. Wandering thus, quite forgetful of the outer world, he encountered a well known form—Rosalie stood in his path, her cheeks pallid, her eyes swollen with weeping. She did not seek to avoid him, but seemed waiting for him to speak. He took her hand. She did not withdraw it. He felt that she knew all.

"Don't hate me," he said. "I deserve no credit. I almost turned to leave him, for hatred and jealousy had possession of me, and if he had died I should have been his murderer. But it was for you, Rosalie. I loved you so! For I have saved him only to render certain the destruction of my own happiness."

Rosalie looked up at him with brimming eyes. "I don't see why," she said softly. "I am sure that nobody wishes to make you unhappy."

Now, I cannot say whether this statement appears particularly lucid, but Harry was clever enough to understand it instantly. All the troubles, trials and misgivings of the last few weeks dispersed like mists before the sun, and content took the place of wretchedness in those two reunited hearts.

Clarence Dalton made a very stylish best man at the wedding of his preserver, and, judging from his devoted manner to the maid of honor, he did not suffer irremediably from his loss. As for his mother, she blesses to this day the friendly accident that saved her darling from so terrible a misalliance. —Brooklyn Citizen.

Sulloway Is Renominated.

Manchester, N. H., Sept. 13.—The Republicans of the Second congressional district renominated by acclamation Cyrus A. Sulloway of Manchester as their candidate. This result was reached after five ballots had been taken and a deadlock reached. The candidates before the convention were J. A. Greene, Stephen S. Jewett, Stephen H. Gale and Rufus N. Elwell. At the critical moment Judge Abbott presented the name of the present congressman, Cyrus A. Sulloway. The effect was electrical. In quick succession, Gale's, Greene's and Elwell's managers withdrew the names of their candidates, and then the nomination was made.

Further Stories of Wholesale Massacre of Christians.

Diplomatic Situation as to the Withdrawal of Troops Still Appears to Be In a Tangle.

London, Sept. 13.—The foreign office has information confirming the private dispatches received yesterday, regarding an attack by the international forces upon the Chinese fortifications at Pei Tang, north of Taku, but that the attack was unsuccessful.

All the correspondents in China are sending terrible stories of the wholesale massacre of missionaries and native Christians. It is asserted that during July between 15,000 and 20,000 converts were massacred in the northern provinces. Large numbers of missionaries are still unaccounted for and small hope is entertained of their escape.

Native reports are subjected to the most careful scrutiny, with the result that, although there may be some exaggeration, it is impossible to doubt that in the main they are correct.

The horror is intensified by confirmation of the reports that the women were subjected to unspeakable barbarities and tortures, being stripped and slowly clubbed to death. This was one of the mildest methods. The Boxers wreaked fiendish vengeance. The newspapers are calling loudly for swift punishment.

Fears are expressed lest the Russian government, which does not encourage missionary propaganda, should prove lukewarm in the matter.

Statements were current in the European capitals last evening that all the powers had replied to the Russian proposition; that Great Britain and Germany had declined to evacuate Pekin; that Austria and Italy had decided to be guided by Germany's decision, and that the other powers had agreed to a more or less modified withdrawal. The Paris correspondent of The Morning Post claims to know that the allies will only withdraw outside the walls of the capital, where they will continue to dominate Pekin in a military sense.

According to a news agency dispatch from Pekin, dated Aug. 31, Mr. Conger regards the situation as deplorable and is advising all the Americans to leave the capital if possible.

Nothing is known here as to any conference between Li Hung Chang and Dr. Von Schwartzenstein, German minister to China. Nor is it known whether any of the powers has recognized Li Hung Chang. The report of Prince Ching's arrival at Pekin is officially confirmed, but there is no official confirmation of the statement that he has been appointed a peace negotiator.

The German papers continue to agitate for more drastic measures against China, and also for the forwarding of additional troops.

A dispatch from Blagovtchensk, capital of Amur province, describes the ceremony of re-christening the recently captured village of Sakhalin, on the right bank of the Amur, as being most impressive. The military and civil authorities were present. The officiating pope christened the village Ilinski. The pope, during the course of his address, said: "The cross has now been erected on the bank of the Amur, which, yesterday, was in possession of the Chinese. Muravieff and Amurski, the former governor general of eastern Siberia, forsaw that this bank would be ours sooner or later."

Li Hung Chang Given Safe Conduct.

Washington, Sept. 13.—As one more effort for a prompt settlement, the Washington authorities have granted Li Hung Chang's request for safe conduct to Pekin, and the hope is entertained that China's willingness to come to terms may help solve a problem that is fast becoming more complicated.

Narragansett Pier's Big Fire.

Narragansett Pier, R. I., Sept. 13.—The summer season came to a sudden, unexpected and disastrous end Wednesday through the complete destruction by fire of the great Rockingham hotel, Sherry's beautiful and famous Casino, the Hazard block, the Knights of Pythias hall and a score of smaller buildings which in summer are alive with excursionist trade. The fire started from the upper part of the Rockingham. The loss is estimated at about $350,000. No one as yet has come forward with any facts as to just how the fire started.

Germany to Borrow $25,000,000.

New York, Sept. 13.—The Evening Post says: Definite negotiations toward placing a German loan in this city were conducted Wednesday by a large banking house, with important foreign connections. Pending further investigation, the firm having the matter in charge declined to go into particulars. The issue will probably reach $25,000,000, or the amount quoted as representing the probable cost of fitting out the German expedition and carrying on the invasion of China.

Sanitary Precautions.

Havana, Sept. 13.—A sanitary order has gone into force directing and authorizing continuous police inspection of all buildings in Havana for the purpose of sanitation. While the streets of the city are clean, it often happens that private houses and the gardens attached are far from that condition, owing to the accumulations of garbage. The new order is intended to cure this evil.

Prominent Citizen Gone.

Littleton, N. H., Sept. 13.—Harry Bingham, in years gone by one of the stalwarts of the Democratic party of New Hampshire, died Wednesday of heart trouble, after a long illness. Not in politics alone was he well known, but at the bar, in his chosen profession, he ranked high. Mr. Bingham was born in Concord, Vt., March 30, 1821.

KRUGER AT LORENZO MARQUEZ.

London, Sept. 13.—President Kruger and several Transvaal officials are staying at the house of Mr. Pott, the consul of The Netherlands, at Lorenzo Marquez, where they arrived Tuesday night. It is reported that they will sail for Europe Sept. 24, on the German steamer Herzog.

On Saturday President Kruger was at Nelspruit together with President Steyn and Commandants Viljoen, Christian Botha, Fourie and Delarey. President Kruger was said to be in feeble health and apparently was taking little interest in military operations. It then was assumed that he was preparing to take flight toward Komatipoort. His departure probably was hastened by General French's movment in Barberton, which is the terminus of a branch road which joins the Pretoria-Lourenzo Marquez road about 50 miles west of Komatipoort, Lord Roberts' immediate objective. With the British in command of this branch line, Kruger's retreat to Portuguese territory would be cut off.

The departure of President Kruger from Transvaal territory indicates the beginning of the end of organized warfare in South Africa. When the head and front of the Boer nation deserts the ship of state it seems entirely unlikely that the struggle will be carried on much longer by organized bodies of men. Irreconcilables may continue guerilla warfare for a short time, but there is nothing left for which to fight. The Transvaal republic, like the Orange Free State, has been annexed by proclamation to the British empire, and after an heroic struggle against overwhelming numbers the Boers find themselves without a country.

General Roberts in this campaign has driven the Boers from all their strongholds, from their capital, and, from a military point of view, has been victorious everywhere. There has at no time been a reasonable doubt as to the eventful outcome, the only question being as to what the Boers could make it cost the British completely to crush out armed resistance.

A Lourenzo Marquez dispatch says that Mr. Kruger obtained formal leave of absence for six months, ostensibly to proceed to Europe to work for intervention. Mr. Schalkburger was appointed acting president, to serve during Mr. Kruger's absence.

Rode It Covering Much Ground.

Brookings, S. D., Sept. 13.—Governor Roosevelt's special train arrived here last evening. During the day many receptions took place and numerous speeches were made. An outdoor meeting was held at this place. The speeches of the governor mainly concerned topics already presented by him. At Chamberlain a wagonload of Indian maidens formed a part of the parade and a brass band composed entirely of young Indians led a procession. At Huron a notable feature of the parade was 250 rough riders in khaki uniforms, and leading them were 20 young ladies mounted upon horses and wearing the Roosevelt hat.

Alleged Conspiracy Against Railroad.

Boston, Sept. 13.—William S. Close and Fred A. White, charged with conspiracy against the Boston and Maine railroad, were held in $1000 Wednesday for the grand jury. According to the evidence, Close bought up old covers of mileage books and filled them with slips, which, it is charged, were printed by White. The newly-filled covers, it was testified, were sold by Close.

Policy Remains Unchanged.

Stockholm, Sept. 15.—King Oscar has accepted the resignation of Premier Bostron, for reasons of health, and has appointed Admiral Von Otter to be his successor. The other members of the cabinet are not affected by the change, and it will not modify the present policy of the government, either in internal affairs or regarding the union of Sweden and Norway.

Looking For an Alleged Embezzler.

New York, Sept. 13.—Detective Cronan of Bridgeport, Conn., is in this city, looking for Alexander Webster, who until recently was a New York manager for the Mohican Spring Water company. The plant and main offices are at Morris Heights, Conn. Webster, it is said, is several thousand dollars short in his accounts.

His Shoulder Was Broken.

New Haven, Sept. 13.—With the exception of Charles Miller of Chicago, the six-day bicycle champion, none of the riders who were injured in the smash-up at the Coliseum track here Tuesday evening are confined to their beds. Miller's shoulder is broken, and he probably will be unable to ride again this season.

Robber Had Great Nerve.

Denver, Sept. 13.—A Burlington train was held up by a lone highwayman at 2 o'clock Wednesday morning, five miles west of Haigeter, Neb. The robber secured about $500 in cash, and probably twice that much in diamonds and watches. He then made his escape by bringing the train to a stop.

THE GALE IN NEW ENGLAND

Causes a Fresh Starting Up of Forest Fires Which Had Been Nearly Subdued.

Boston, Sept. 13.—New England was entered Wednesday morning by the West India hurricane, which started far to the eastward of Porto Rico, rushed across Cuba and Jamaica, thrashed about the gulf of Mexico, obliterated Galveston, swept up the Mississippi valley and across the Great Lakes, and the inhabitants in this corner of the country have nearly $1,000,000 to add to the lengthening list of losses which this remarkable storm destroyed in its 10,000-mile career.

Strangely enough, the gale in this section was more destructive on land than at sea. It found a greater part of New England dried and parched from three months' drought, so that within an hour after the storm began a score of forest fires which by great effort had been almost subdued, were burning fiercely, and again sweeping over vast expanses of country. Nearly all these fires are still burning, and this is especially true of the districts to the south and west of this city, so that the air is permeated with smoke.

A week ago it only required a puff to set in motion a $10,000 forest fire, so that a living gale yesterday, with the country in exactly the same condition, fanned, blew and swept the flames over ten times as much territory, and by noon a dozen of these forest fires were burning fiercely, especially among the pines of Plymouth county and Cape Cod. In Plymouth county a score of summer residents had their property destroyed, and many who had lingered, barely escaped with their lives.

No fatalities have been reported, but there are a number of isolated houses which have not been heard from. The gale blew the sparks and flaming bits of wood along so fast that it seems as if a dozen different fires had started in many square miles of country almost at the same instant.

The gale is probably directly accountable for a dozen homeless families in this state alone. Reports were also received from various parts of New England of damage to telegraph and telephone wires, houses unroofed, orchards denuded of their fruit and great damage to standing corn and other crops.

Nothing in the way of an ocean disaster has come to hand. The gale was severe off the coast, but it blew off shore, so that most of the shipping found little difficulty in getting a lee.

Forest Fire Starts Afresh.

Plymouth, Mass., Sept. 13.—The forest fire near College pond, which was thought to have been extinguished last week, started afresh Wednesday, and fanned by the tremendous gale soon gained great headway. The fire is now fully three miles wide near Long pond, while it extends over a strip of land nearly 10 miles long. It has destroyed nearly every cottage and residence near Long, Halfway and College ponds. It is believed that the loss has already reached over $50,000.

Cottage in Line of Fire.

Yarmouthport, Mass., Sept. 13.—Along the line of the Cape railroad late yesterday afternoon a brisk blaze started up in some dry pasture land. A long skirmish line of fire is running southeast of this village, towards the Methodist campground. The campground includes about 100 empty cottages, and it looks as if they cannot be saved.

Twenty-Five Acres Burned Over.

Lowell, Mass., Sept. 13.—North Chelmsford citizens were engaged the greater part of Wednesday in fighting a brush fire in swamp land. An area of 25 acres was devastated before it was got under control.

Killed by Electric Cars.

Gloucester, Mass., Sept. 13.—An unknown man, presumably one of the crew of a fishing vessel, was run over and killed by an electric car Wednesday night. He ran out of a yard, directly in front of a slowly-moving car.

Greenfield, Mass., Sept. 13.—Mathew Dooley, 32 years old, was struck by an electric car Wednesday night and killed. Motorman Monroe saw a man stretched across the track, but was unable to stop the car. The death is ascribed to accident in the official report.

At Least Fifteen Lives Lost.

Cleveland, Sept. 13.—The tail end of the West Indian hurricane, which swept over Lake Erie, was the most destructive storm that has visited this section in years. At least two vessels were sunk, carrying down with them several persons. Schooner John B. Lyon foundered off Conneaut, O., and all but two of her crew of 16 were lost. The schooner Dundee sank about 15 miles off this port, and a woman was drowned. A number of vessels were badly injured.

Flour Trust Is In Debt.

Milwaukee, Sept. 13.—The Central Trust company of New York has instituted foreclosure proceedings against all the property of the United States Flour Milling company. The bill asks that all of the property be sold, the company having failed to make the first payment of interest under a mortgage dated May 1, 1899, issued to cover a bond issue for $15,000,000.

Generous Gift to Central Falls.

Pawtucket, R. I., Sept. 13.—The will of Stephen L. Adams, the cotton manufacturer, recently deceased, was admitted to probate Wednesday. The will bequeaths to the city of Central Falls $35,000 for the purchase of a site and the erection of a building for a free public library and reading room for the city. Several other public bequests are made.

Another Advance In Cotton.

Fall River, Mass., Sept. 13.—The further advance of 1-8 cent in the cotton market Wednesday caused local manufacturers to refuse contracts for future delivery, on the old basis of 2 7-8 cents for print cloths, and they are now holding off for better figures, although the selling committee has not made any advance in the quotation.

Used Shotgun Upon Himself.

South Hadley, Mass., Sept. 13.—The body of Hiram S. Ranney, warden of the town farm, was found Wednesday in the woods, half a mile from the farm buildings. It was lying upon his shotgun. He left the farm about 11 o'clock Monday night, taking his gun with him, and is supposed to have committed suicide.

Safe.

The little child is safe from ordinary dangers in the care of the faithful dog. But neither the dog's fidelity, nor the mother's love can guard a child from those invisible foes that lurk in air, water and food—the germs of disease. Children need to be specially watched and cared for. When there is loss of appetite, lassitude and listlessness in a child, an attempt should be made to revive the appetite and rally the spirits. In Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery parents have found an invaluable medicine for children. Its purely vegetable character and absolute freedom from alcohol and narcotics commend it to every thoughtful person. It is pleasant to the taste, unlike the foul oils and their emulsions offered for children's use. "Golden Medical Discovery" makes pure blood and sound flesh, and absolutely eliminates from the system the poisons which feed disease.

Mrs. Ella Gardner, of Waterview, Middlesex Co., Va., whose daughter suffered from malarial poisoning and catarrh, writes: "My little daughter is enjoying splendid health. I am glad I found a doctor who could cure my child. She took twelve bottles of the 'Golden Medical Discovery,' eight bottles of 'Pellets,' and one bottle of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, and she is well. We thank God for your medicines."

Give the little ones Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets when a laxative is needed. They're easy to take and don't gripe.

ON MODERATE SCALE.

Galveston Has Already Made a Start Toward Resumption of Business.

Widespread Wreck and Ruin Is Still In Evidence.

City Handicapped by Stopping of the Electric Light and Street Car Plants.

Galveston, Tex., Sept. 14.—There is little change in the situation here and the estimates of the loss of life and property are about as previously stated. The city is beginning slowly to recover from the stunning blow of last week, and, although the city appears to be pitilessly desolated, the authorities and the commercial interests are setting their forces to work, and a start has at least been made toward the resumption of business on a moderate scale.

The presence of the troops has had a beneficial effect upon the criminal classes, and the apprehension of a brief, but desperate, reign of anarchy, now no longer exists. The liquor saloons have at least temporarily gone out of business, and every strong-limbed man who has not his own humble abode to look after is being pressed into service, so that, first of all, the water service may be resumed, the gutters flushed and the streets lighted.

The further the ruins are dug into the greater becomes the increase in the list of those who perished as their houses tumbled about their heads. On the lower beach a searching party found a score of corpses within a small area, going to show that the bulwark of debris that lies straight across the island conceals many more bodies than have been accounted for.

Volunteer gangs continue their work of hurried burial of the corpses they find on the shores of Galveston island at the many neighboring points where fatalities attended the storm. It will probably be many days yet, however, before all the floating bodies have found nameless graves. Along the beach they are constantly being washed up. Whether these are those who were swept out into the gulf and drowned, or are simply the return ashore of some of those cast into the sea to guard against terrible pestilence, there is no means of knowing.

In various part of the city the smell of decomposed flesh is still apparent. Wherever such instances are found, the authorities are freely disenfecting.

The city still presents the appearance of widespread wreck and ruin. Little has been done to clear the streets of the terrible tangle of wires and the masses of wreck, mortar, slate, stone and glass that bestrew them. Many of the sidewalks are impassable. Some of them are littered with debris. Others are so thickly covered with slime that walking on them is out of the question. As a general rule, substantial frame buildings withstood better the blasts of the gale that those of brick. In other instances, however, small wooden structures, cisterns and whole sides of houses, have been plumped down in streets or back yards, squares away from where they originally stood.

Here and there business men have already put men to work to repair the damage done, but in the main the commercial interests seem to be uncertain about following the lead of those, who, apparently, show faith in the rapid rehabilitation of the island city. The appearance of the newspapers yesterday, after a suspension of several days, is having a good effect, and both The News and The Tribune are urging prompt succoring of the suffering and then equal promptness in reconstruction.

One of the most serious results of the storm has been the stopping of the electric light and street car plants. The city has been in absolute darkness for several nights, and only a few concerns who operate their own illuminating service are able to do business. Nearly every residence has gone back to the primitive candle. The absence of street lights drives all who have no imperative business on the streets to their homes at nightfall, but the work of the patrol system is made more difficult thereby, and the opportunity for looting greater.

The great destruction of live stock has eliminated the carriages and cabs as a means of transportation, and the need of the trolley promises to become a most pressing one when rebuilding begins.

Among the worst sufferers by the disaster were the churches. Nearly every one of them felt the effect of the storm. Some of them are entirely wrecked, absolutely beyond repair.

The work of relief continues energetically. Major Jones and his associates are bending every nerve to open a direct line of transportation with Houston, by which he may be enabled promptly to receive the greater quantity of provisions which are now on the way to the city.

The relief committe is striving to systematize its work, and there is undoubtedly distress here which ought promptly to be relieved. Weazen-faced, barefooted children were engaged yesterday on the streets in eagerly appropriating spoiled and cast-off stocks of food. The committee has instructed the drug stores to provide the poor and needy with medicine at the expense of the relief committee.

THIRTY-FOUR MORE THAN NEEDED.

An Estimate on the Result Gives McKinley 258 Electoral Ballots.

Boston, Sept. 14.—The time for making out slates or estimates on the result of the presidential election is now at hand, and The Transcript's Washington correspondent submits his conception of the outlook as follows:

According to the best obtainable information here a map of the McKinley states, and limiting it to those which there is a reasonable certainty of such a result, would include the six New England; the Middle Atlantic states, including West Virginia and Delaware, but not including Maryland; the states of the Mississippi valley, north of the Ohio and east of the Mississippi river, with the exception of Indiana, and of the states west of the Mississippi river—Iowa, Minnesota, Kansas, the two Dakotas, Wyoming, California, Oregon and Washington. Such a division of the country would give McKinley 258 electoral votes, or 13 fewer than he had before, but still 34 more than is necessary for success. The changes in this list over four years ago are as follows: McKinley loses Maryland, Kentucky and Indiana, or a total of 35 votes (one Kentucky vote was lost to him before). McKinley gains Kansas, South Dakota, Wyoming, Washington, and one vote in California, or a total of 22, leaving a net loss of 13.

Will Stick to Republicanism.

New York, Sept. 14.—The annual convention of the Republican State League of clubs of New Jersey was held yesterday in Jersey City. About 400 delegates were present. The convention sent greetings to Messrs. McKinley and Roosevelt, assuring them of the support of New Jersey. A platform was adopted endorsing the national platform, congratulating the country upon its prosperity and affirming the Republican principles.

Gets a Year In Prison.

Boston, Sept. 14.—Euphemia McPherson, the young woman who stayed at well-known hotels, rode in equipages furnished by a leading stable and wore costly garments obtained by fraud, was sentenced in the municipal criminal court yesterday to Sherborn for one year. The young woman was between two alternatives. She could either go back to the Lancaster school for girls and serve out her minority, which is two years, or go to Sherborn for a year on the complaint against her. She chose the latter alternative.

Evidently a Dangerous Character.

Madrid, Sept. 14.—The Swiss arrested at San Sebastian, charged with plotting to assassinate a European monarch is named Walter. He is 30 years of age. His departure from New York, about three weeks ago, was due to the police searches in anarchist centers, in consequence of the assassination of King Humbert. A number of newspaper cuttings, referring to the movements of political personages, were found in Walter's trunk. The sum of 500 francs and a poignard were found on the prisoner.

Hurricane Reaches Newfoundland.

St. John's, Sept. 14.—The Texas hurricane has swept the coast, wrecking many fishing places. Numerous schooners have been driven ashore near St. John's, and the telegraph wires in remote localities are down. It is not known how much damage has been done at distant points, but it is believed the storm must have worked havoc with the fishing vessels on the Grand Banks, as the wind has blown from every quarter of the compass within the last 24 hours.

Root Has an Enforced Vacation.

New York, Sept. 14.—Secretary of War Root is confined to his summer residence at Southampton, L. I., as the result of an operation for the removal of a carbuncle and will not be able to leave his room for 10 days or two weeks. The secretary had been troubled with a peculiar growth on the chest for some time, but paid no attention to it until recently. He is not confined to his bed and appears in fine health.

Succeeded In Killing Herself.

Winnipeg, Sept. 14.—Mrs. Hutton, wife of Dr. Hutton of this city, and a niece of the late Bishop Phillips Brooks of Massachusetts, committed suicide here. Owing to previous attempts at suicide she was constantly in charge of an attendant, but yesterday escaped the vigilance of her nurse and shot herself.

Chief Officer Has Smallpox.

Boston, Sept. 14.—Steamer Barrowmore, from London, was detained at quarantine on account of the chief officer having been stricken with smallpox a few days after leaving London. Upon the arrival of the vessel at quarantine the port physician vaccinated the entire crew and thoroughly fumigated the ship and cargo.

In Their Ohio Home.

Canton, O., Sept. 14.—President and Mrs. McKinley arrived in Canton shortly before 6 o'clock last evening in a special train from Somerset, Pa. They expect to remain here for some time. There was no formal demonstration at Canton, out of respect to the president's wishes.

Her Life Crushed Out.

North Thetford, Vt., Sept. 14.—Miss Julia A. Earle, aged 45, stepped in front of an express train near this station Thursday, and was killed. The cause for an act of suicide is unknown, although at times she had talked despondently.

Yellow Jack Still In Evidence.

Havana, Sept. 14.—Five new cases of yellow fever were reported Thursday, 78 being now under supervision. The death rate for August was 2.76, yellow fever furnishing 49 victims and tuberculosis 65.

Boston Coal Dealers Raise Prices.

Boston, Sept. 14.—All of the local dealers advanced hard coal prices 75 cents a ton Thursday on account of the strike. This makes the price for stove coal $6.

PLYMOUTH'S BIG FIRE.

Miles of Woodland Burned and Many Houses Destroyed.

Effort of the Fire Fighters Are of But Little Avail.

Lives of Persons Imperilled---Cattle and Feathered Creatures Burned.

Plymouth, Mass., Sept. 14.—Hundreds or acres of what was beautiful woodland of pine, maple, birch and beech, early in the week, is now a stretch of blackened, smoky ground, over which dense and nauseating smoke hangs in clouds. The brush fires which sprang into activity with Wednesday's gale have devastated a great section of Plymouth county, sweeping away scores of frame buildings, stampeded cattle and horses, killed off immense numbers of feathered creatures and imperilled the lives of very many people.

The stories of fearful conflagrations in the west and northwest, which have seemed hardly possible, to those reading them in the farming districts of New England, have become actual experiences in this immediate vicinity. The probable losses are very heavy, far exceeding in the aggregate $100,000 in Plymouth county alone. The fire which spread out fully 10 miles east and west Wednesday, is still sweping on slowly, but surely, for the wind now is not such an active factor in the spread of ruin.

Wednesray night was one of trial to the residents of a score or more of villages and hamlets in southern Plymouth. A shift of the wind into the southwest bids fair to do wonders, and help the hundreds of tired fire fighters, men and women, who had actually to fight fires to save their homes. Even with the fire running back almost over the swath, it marked out the town of Manomet, and the clusters of summer cottages on the shores of Great South pond and Boot pond are in danger.

During Wednesday night, the fire shifted its direction several times, sending out its arms first towards the little town of Manomet, then in the direction of one or the other of the chain of ponds in which the section abounds. Several houses were destroyed. Two women who were missing have returned, having escaped the fire by wading into one of the ponds and remaining there several hours until the fire had passed.

After having eaten up a long section of woodland between Long and Gallows pond, an arm of the fire took an eastward course along Sandwich road, burning the house and barn of Joseph Savory and James T. Savory, brothers. Another stretched out towards Manomet, and then the Plymouth fire department sent a chemical engine, together with hundreds of men, to stop the fire. A large number of houses were burned.

Early Thursday morning a shift of the wind sent the fire in a westerly direction, and all day it was much in evidence, the skirmish line making a very irregular path. About 6 o'clock last night the wind veered around to southwest and then Manomet and the summer colonies out that way had to take things seriously.

Many stories of imperilled life are reported, the most thrilling one being the escape of 18 girls who were screening berries at the cranberry bogs of George Briggs. The fire ran around the bog and then came across it. The men put the girls into the flume below the bog reservoir and then turned on the water. Even then the girls' clothing and hair singed. The men took to the brook and laid in the water until the fire went by.

Numerous instances are told of freaks the fire took in burning almost to the dooryards of many houses and then leaving them unharmed, or where entire properties were consumed while the barn or some other structure in equally exposed positions with those burned escaped completely from the flames.

The scene in the burnt district is one of desolation. The loss, while heavy in its present aspect, is also discouraging to the residents, for a large number of the destroyed houses will not be rebuilt. Especially is this true as regards summer residents, for the sylvan beauty which had attracted them here has departed, and if the fire has struck in deep among the heavy woodland it will be years before a new growth comes up.

Many Houses In Danger.

Athol, Mass., Sept. 14.—After burning 36 hours, the fire in the brush near Pinedale has developed to alarming proportions. Some 25 houses are in danger and there is general fear of the result which must follow a change of wind. About 100 acres have already been burned over.

Overtime Question Causes Strike.

Lowell, Mass., Sept. 14.—The employes of the Hamilton Print works went out on strike Thursday, because their demands for overtime remuneration were not acceded to. The employes of the Merrimack Print works voted to join with the operatives of the Hamilton, they having the same grievance. Some 500 or 600 operatives will be involved. The union asks that all overtime wirk shall cease, or that employes shall be credited with time and a quarter for all overtime work.

Robbery Easily Accomplished.

Boston, Sept. 14.—Representing himself as an electric light inspector, a robber entered the house of Robert Everett in Newtonville Thursday and departed, after having searched the house, with about $500 in cash and jewelry. The robber was going down the street at a rapid gait when Mrs. Everett gave the alarm, but he succeeded in making his escape.

Germany Denies American Loan.

Berlin, Sept. 14.—The Frankfurter Zeitung prints a New York dispatch that Germany has sounded American bankers with a view of placing a portion of the new German loan in the United States. The Boersen Courier meets this with an emphatic denial from official sources.

A French Victory In Africa.

Paris, Sept. 14.—The defeat of the last remnant of the forces of Rabah, the famous Arab chief, who was long a thorn in the side of the French in southern Sahara, and who was recently killed in battle, is announced. The remnant, under his two sons, has now been finally routed in two battles by an expedition commanded by Captain Reibell, who, with 800 native troops and three cannon, took two camps of the enemy by assault. A large quantity of arms and ammunition, as well as rich treasures, fell into the hands of the French.

Convicts Receive Sentence.

Dedham, Mass., Sept. 14.—In the Norfolk criminal court Thursday, William Jones and John A. Clark, both colored, were sentenced each to the state prison for terms of not less than three years for breaking and entering. William T. Barker was sentenced to not less than six years to the state prison for rape upon Violet C. Johnson, and his wife, for aiding and abetting him, to the Sherborn woman's prison for two years.

Kaiser's Name Dragged In.

Berlin, Sept. 14.—The Leipsic Tageblatt announces that a pamphlet with the sensational title, "My Relations With Emperor William II," by Countess Wedel-Berard, the divorced wife of Count Wedel, has been confiscated by the Leipsic police on the ground of lese majeste. The pamphlet purported to make revelations regarding the Dreyfus affair and the murder of King Humbert.

The Loomfixers' Convention.

Lowell, Mass., Sept. 14.—At Thursday's session of the convention of the National Loom Fixers' association laws putting a stop to all overtime work in the mills were demanded. Resolutions recommend the amalgamation of all labor unions.

Good Afternoon.

Boston is responding nobly to the relief of Galveston. It is the more satisfactory because it is prompt.

Quincy should put a brick on the head of East St. Louis. The city has jumped in population from 15,165 in 1890 to 29,655 in 1900.

Dr. Everett should direct some of his arguments to the Prohibition candidate for President or he will receive more votes than the National party.

Drift of Opinion.

☞ The market reports say there is to be a rise in the price of brooms. This in mind, doubtless, to the desire of two great political parties to "sweep the country" next fall.—Indianapolis News.

☞ Certainly it is not altogether gentlemanly on the part of the powers to follow the dowager empress after the lady has plainly indicated that their attentions are distasteful. — Detroit Evening News.

☞ Well, the big coal strike has been ordered, and it now remains to be seen what magnitude it will attain. The man with a full fuel bin can look on with complacency if he gives no thought to those less favorably situated.—Lynn Item.

☞ The shirt-waist man will never be competely emancipated until he abandons the high, stiff, starched linen collars and cuffs. His next progressive step should be toward the adoption of the net-work affairs that allow a free circulation of air about his neck and shoulders.—Beverly Times.

☞ Militarism is about all talk, anyway, as far as this country is concerned. There is on an average less than two soldiers for every 1,000 inhabitants. In area, we have 3,602,884 square miles of land or about 36 square miles to each soldier. The cost is about 70 cents per capita. In comparison with European countries it is found that Great Britain has 7 soldiers for each 1,000 of her population, Germany 14, France 14. The cost of their vast increase is, of course, a burden but no one need fear that this country will be hampered in its progress by any standing army out of proportion to its wealth and population.—Milford Journal.

THE TWO PROTESTS.

Quincy Yacht Club Give Hearing to Al Kyris and Hanley.

The hearing on the Al Kyris vs. Hanley, and the Hanley vs. Al K yris protests, over the open race of Sept. 1, was held at the Quincy Yacht club house on Thursday evening. The hearing was devoid of any sensational features. Both protests were tried jointly before the Regatta Committee and the Board of Judges.

Mr. J. F. Brown, the owner of the Al Kyris conducted his case and Mr. William F. Bache, the owner of the Hanley, looked after the interests of that boat.

Commodore Davis presided. Associated with him were Vice Commodore Whiting, Secretary Faxon, Mr. George W. Jones, Mr. Henry M. Faxon, Mr. William P. Barker and Mr. J. L. Whiton, Jr.

The Al Kyris' crew claimed that when the alleged foul occurred at the starting line the Hanley had not filled away on the starboard tack and that all of her sails were shaking.

The Hanley's crew contended that when the Al Kyris struck her boat the Hanley's sails were filled and she was on the starboard tack, thus giving her the right of way.

The committee took the question under advisement and adjourned to Saturday Sept. 22.

Political Potpourri.

The complete Maine vote is very satisfactory to Republicans showing a Republican gain since 1898 of 19,256, against a Democratic gain of 11,426. The vote was: Hill (Republican), 73,156; Lord (Democrat), 39,911; Rogers; (Prohibitionist), 3,107; Lermond (Socialist), 455.

Harrison O. Apthrop of Milton has been selected as the Presidential elector of the Tenth Congressional district for the National party.

The Republican City Committee has filled the vacancy on its Finance Committee, caused by the death of Eugene N. Hultman, by the election of Archibald F. Macleod, and the committee now includes E. E. Jameson, W. T. Spargo, John R. Graham and Mr. Macleod.

President Bigelow of the Republican City Committee has been authorized to proceed with the organization of a McKinley & Roosevelt battalion of young voters, and will call a meeting soon.

The Democratic leaders are banking on the coal strike to aid Bryan. Politicians who breed discontent among labor, set a bad example and are not worthy of success.

The Journal says: Dr. William Everett of Quincy entertained and dazzled about forty of the followers of the National Democratic Party at a meeting held at the Exchange club, Thursday afternoon, with one of his characteristic oratorical displays. The doctor announced himself, with much warmth, as opposed to both Bryan and McKinley, and stated that he should work for Caffery and Howe, the nominees for President and Vice President, respectively, of the National Democratic party. The meeting was called in response to a call issued to all citizens of Massachusetts who are interested in the Nationl party, and who desire a campaign to be made upon its platform.

WOMAN ON TRIAL.

Emma Buckner Charged with Manslaughter at Milton.

John W., and J. J. McAnarney are counsel for Mrs. Emma Buckner colored, of Milton whose trial for manslaughter in killing her husband, Louis Buckner, at Milton, June 4, 1900, began Thursday afternoon in the Superior Criminal Court, before Judge Hardy, at Dedham. The crime which is charged occurred at the Buckner home on Clapp street. The couple were at the supper table, about 5 o'clock in the afternoon, when a quarrel arose between them. The Journal reports the case as follows:

According to the wife's story, Buckner began hitting and kicking her until she, in self-defence, stabbed him twice in the breast with a small pocket knife, from the effects of which he soon afterward died. His wife was arrested and arraigned in the District Court at Quincy charged with murder, which charge was afterward changed to manslaughter. She did not plead, and was held in $2,000 for the Grand Jury, which last week indicted her for manslaughter. She has been confined in the Dedham jail. District Attorney Harris is conducting the Government's case. The Court appointed Alvan N. Davenport of Sharon foreman of the jury.

The indictment was read charging the defendant with manslaughter. The indictment was in a new form, as authorized by the statutes of 1899. Mrs. Buckner pleaded guilty the day the Grand Jury reported, but changed her plea to not guilty yesterday. District Attorney Harris made his opening plea to the jury, reciting briefly the circumstances of the crime, and the law as it applies to such cases.

The first witness for the Government was S. O. Hibbard, a fireman at the Milton fire station, who said that Mrs. Buckner told him she had killed her husband. She said he had kicked and struck her and she had killed him in self-defence. Witness went over, and while there, about 5.30 Buckner died. The body lay on the floor of the kitchen. This witness was the first to enter the house after the affair took place.

Timothy McDermott, Deputy Superintendent of Police of Milton, testified that he was called to the Buckner house and when he arrived, about 5.30, the body of Buckner was on the floor; looked about the house placed Mrs. Buckner under arrest; she asked if her husband was dead and asked what they would do with her. Witness asked what she knew about it, and she told him that Louis came home about 5 o'clock and sat at the supper table with her; she tried to talk with him, but he would not talk; he was in an ugly mood as the result of a quarrel a few days before; she picked up a small knife and fooled with it a while, and then she went to the place where he was sitting and putting her arms about him, said: "Louis give me a kiss; let us make up. I don't want to live this way." He then struck her, knocking her into another room, where he struck her again saying he would kill her. She had the knife in her hand all the time; she finally stabbed him twice in the breast with it; the house was in an orderly condition; she asked a number of times what would become of her. Superintendent Pierce came and pronounced Buckner dead. He asked Mrs. Buckner what kind of a knife she struck him with, and she said it was a pocket knife.

Charles Sturtevant of Hyde Park, one of the Medical Examiners of Norfolk County, said he performed an autopsy on body of Louis Buckner, June 5. Found two marks on the left breast, one of which severed an artery sufficient of itself to cause death.

After some other witnesses had been heard the Government rested.

The defence was opened by Jeremiah J. McAnarney, junior counsel for the defence, who made the opening plea. He said that the defendant would take the stand and tell of the cruel treatment of her husband for some time past, and also the story of the crime. The trouble arose over Buckner's paying too much attention to a woman who lived in the neigborhood. The defence acknowledged that the deed was done by Mrs. Buckner, but claimed self-defence.

TODAY'S COURT.

Eugene Connors was arraigned for drunkenness at Braintree. Case continued until Sept. 22.

Thomas Phelan was arraigned for drunkenness at Quincy. Case continued until Sept. 17.

Guistino Bendinelli was arraigned for assault with dangerous weapon on Guissipi Mariana. He was fined $5.

The yacht Mudjekeewis and crew, for whom some anxiety was felt at Wollaston, was reported Thursday night as being safe at Gloucester. The crew put in there Wednesday morning and tied up to a fish wharf, where they remained until the gale had passed.

The work of the First Presbyterian church is opening up in a gratifying manner under the new pastor, the Rev. Dr. James Todd. Last Sunday evening the church was well filled with a most appreciative audience. All were delighted with the services, and the large choir sang the anthem in fine style. The family of the Rev. Dr. Todd arrived in the city last Saturday.

ANNUAL APPEAL.

A Meritorious Plan for Raising Hospital Funds.

The Trustees of the City Hospital of Quincy have tried many plans for raising the sum annually required for the maintenance of the institution which is doing noble work, and is now one of the necessities of the city. There has been well founded criticism, that the hospital is continually begging. It is to overcome this that the trustees have labored, and when the citizens learn that a per capita gift of but fifty cents annually is required, it would seem as if the necessary number of pledges should be promptly secured. The annual appeal is about to be issued.

The trustees say: "It is believed by the Trustees of the City Hospital of Quincy that nearly every workingman would be willing to make a small contribution towards its maintenance, and that he would prefer to do this at some stated time each year.

"If every man on the pay roll of the various stone manufacturers and other employers of labor will contribute yearly 50 cents, the amount received, together with other generous contributions which are assured, will be sufficient to guarrantee that the Hospital will be continually maintained in a manner to render the greatest service to those who need it. The matter would be much simplified if an arrangement could be made whereby each employer would collect the amount from his men during Hospital Week and remit the total to the Treasurer about October 15; therefore the Trustees hereby ask each employer in Quincy to place this appeal before his men and request each to sign the agreement."

The pledge reads: "I hereby agree to contribute yearly 50 cents towards the support of the City Hospital of Quincy, payable in October of each year as long as I am employed by —— and hereby authorize —— to pay the same on my account."

MILTON.

Delegates to be voted for at the Republican caucus have been filed with the Town Clerk as required by the Boston caucus act. Only one set has been filed, they are for Pierce for Congress, Bradlee for Representative, Maxwell for Councillor and Grover for Senator. Some new blood has been enthused into the delegations.

The team got almost across when the train came down onto it striking the rear end. The only damage was the smashing one of the rear wheels.

His Opinion.

Fiddleback—Are you going around to Miss Muffin's tomorrow night, Mrs. Von Blumer?

Mrs. Von Blumer—She gives a chafing dish party, doesn't she?

Fiddleback—Yes.

Mrs. Von Blumer—We may. Are you?

Fiddleback (smiling)—Well, hardly.

Mrs. Von Blumer—Why, I thought you were fond of Miss Muffin.

Fiddleback—I am, but not of her chafing dish parties.

Mrs. Von Blumer—You mean—

Fiddleback—I mean the chafing dish part.

Mrs. Von Blumer—You don't like that?

Fiddleback—Well, I can stand a good deal, but the concoctions Miss Muffin gets up in that instrument of torture are too much for me.

Mrs. Von Blumer—You are too hard on her, I am sure.

Fiddleback—Hard on her, do you say! Well, I guess she is pretty hard on the rest of her victims.

Mrs. Von Blumer—What particular dish of hers don't you like?

Fiddleback—Well, I can't say that I am partial to any of them. I've tried them all, and there isn't much choice. Her lobster Newburg can produce about as much complex agony as anything else. But I think for suffering long drawn out, for steady, unintermittent, ablebodied pain, her Welsh rabbit takes the blue ribbon. Have you ever tried Miss Muffin's Welsh rabbit?

Mrs. Von Blumer—Oh, yes, indeed! Why, I have been giving her cooking lessons for the last six months!—Harper's Bazar.

His Moments of Joy.

Did you ever hear of the strange man who went out to a summer hotel once for a holiday? He impressed on the clerk the first day he was there that it was of vital importance that he be called at 6 o'clock next morning. He was called. He didn't come down stairs till 2 in the afternoon. The injunction to the clerk was repeated every day, and every day the mysterious guest slept in his room till late in the afternoon. When he had been at the place a week and was about to leave, the clerk said to him:

"I beg your pardon, sir; it's none of my business, but why have you left orders to be called at 6 o'clock every morning and never got out of bed till several hours later?"

"Well," he replied, "I'll tell you. Back in the city I've got a job that compels me to get up every morning, summer and winter, at 6 o'clock. This is my first vacation for five years. Every day when your bellboy has come up stairs and banged at the door I've started up to dress and get down to the office and then suddenly let the conviction steal blissfully over my brain that I didn't have to. Then I've gone back to bed, hugged the pillow and dreamed that I was in the Elysian fields. That moment of joy that has followed the banging on my door every morning has been worth three times the price of the bill."—Chicago Times-Herald.

Sympathy Misplaced.

One day during a cold snap last winter I saw an old man in a grocery acting rather suspiciously, and soon I saw him steal a potato from a barrelful of the tubers that stood outside the counter. The old fellow slipped out of the house as soon as he could conveniently and limped away. I followed him, thinking to give him what change I could spare, for I thought he must be desperately poor if he must steal a potato.

When I caught up with him and offered him a little money, the old man roared with laughter. When he had got his breath again, he said:

"You saw me steal the potato, didn't you?"

"Yes, sir, I did."

"Well, lemme tell you, my son, I've got potatoes to sell. I raise thousands of bushels of them. I've got the biggest market garden in this county, and I've got more money than you ever saw. Carryin a potato in your pocket will cure the rheumatiz, but for it to do any good you've got to steal the potato. See?

I saw. And I sawed wood.—Will Visscher in Woman's Home Companion.

Bad Manners.

An old gentleman, walking up Cork Hill, Dublin, overtook a coal cart heavily loaded and drawn by a wretched quadruped with its legs bending under it, its bones sticking through its skin.

"How can you ill treat your horse so?" he cried, addressing the driver. "It is quite exhausted. Look at the way its tongue is hanging out."

"Exhausted, is it?" answered the boy. "Why, 'tis the bad manners of him. He's putting it out at you!"—London Tit-Bits.

A Kind Hearted Lady.

A Mrs. Abigail Vaughan left a legacy of 4 shillings per annum with which to buy fagots to burn heretics. She left it to St. Martin Outwich, now demolished. Mrs. Vaughan's remains were among those removed to Irford from the Church of St. Martin Outwich. The facts are given in a history of St. Helen's, Bishopsgate, by a late rector.—Notes and Queries.

Dangerous.

"Papa," asked a 4-year-old youngster, "are little boys made of dust?"

"Yes, my son," was the reply.

"Well, then," continued the little fellow, "I wish you would make nurse stop using the brush on me. I'm afraid she'll brush me all away."

Enjoyable.

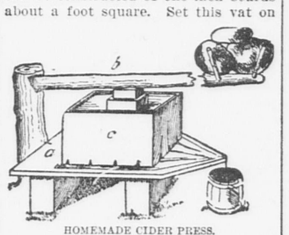

Tess—How did you enjoy yourself at her wedding?

Jess—Very much. Her gown was a wretched bad fit, and everybody was remarking how poor the presents were.—Exchange.

HOW TO MAKE CIDER.

A SIMPLE PRESS WHICH ANYBODY CAN MAKE AND OPERATE.

On the farm where there is no cider mill a large number of good apples are wasted every year, says J. G. Allshouse in The American Agriculturist. These might be converted into cider. The accompanying illustration is of an easily made press for the purpose of utilizing those apples. Simply procure a plank about four feet in length and as broad as available and a stout pole, b, 15 to 20 feet long. Make a frame, or vat, to hold the apples to be pressed. It can be constructed of one inch boards about a foot square. Set this vat on the plank, a, and have a channel cut round it in the form of the letter Y. Place the plank and vat at the base of a tree or stump, using a few blocks to raise it from the ground one or two feet. Now cut a deep notch in the tree or stump about 1½ or 2 feet above the plank and insert the heavy end of the pole. At the other end of the pole set four pins, as shown.

The apples to be squeezed with the press are thrown into the vat a few at a time, and a heavy wooden stamper is used to crush them. When the vat is full of the broken up apples, a wooden cover, fitting inside of the vat, is laid on top. A few blocks are placed on top of this cover so as to allow the pole to press down on the movable covering. The pole is weighted down with heavy stones or bowlders placed between the four pins at the end remote from the press. Cut several small V shaped openings round the bottom of the vat or make a system of channels connecting with the large channel to collect the juice and permit it to follow the course along the plank until it reaches the vessel used to receive it.

New Artificial Foods to Replace Meat.

In opposition to the determined vegetarians, who condemn all animal food, there is a growing number of physiologists who insist that abstention from meat, if continued for ages and generations, is responsible for the feebleness and low intellect of certain races, says the New York Press. Chemists are becoming more and more anxious to find new sources of nitrogenous foods, and the artificial food industry has developed widely in Germany, chiefly in the large works which supply dyestuffs, for which albumen is an important material.

The artificial foods are mostly mixtures of more or less secret composition. Thus, the tropon of Professor Finkler of Bonn, whose works are at Muhlheim, consists of one-third of animal and two-thirds of vegetable albumen. Albumenose is a frequent constituent of those foods. By albumenose is understood a preparation which, as regards solubility, occupies a position intermediate between the original animal albumen and its peptone.

The managers of the Elberfeld Farbenwerke have made a hit with their somatose which is such an albumenose, and have recently brought out the more economical tannin and milk somatose, which may become a very important food for the masses. This latter preparation utilizes the casein of the milk.

Electrocuting a Tree.

A large elm had recently to be removed from the grounds of the Illinois Central Hospital For the Insane at Jacksonville. The only crosscut saw on the place was not large enough, and no one wanted the job of chopping it down. During the consultation of an improvised ways and means committee the electrician of the hospital happening to pass it was suggested that he electrocute it. He finally consented, and a piece of wire rope was secured, heated to a dull red (in the sunlight) by the current from the hospital plant and used as a saw. The tree was 42 inches in diameter, and it took two hours and ten minutes to burn it through. The heating current varied from 120 to 135 amperes direct, the voltage at the machine being about 100.

Weeds Harbor Insects.

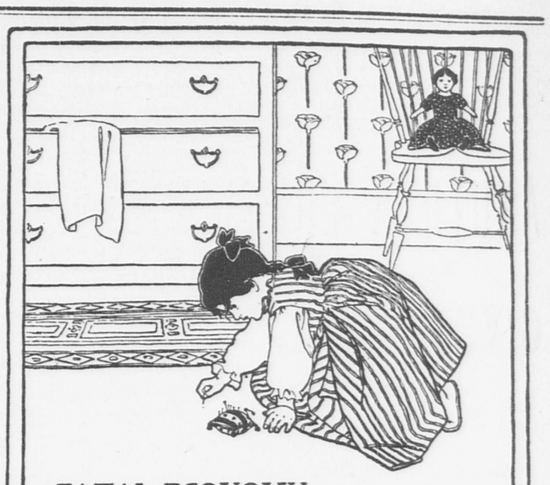

A writer in American Gardening urges the importance of keeping weeds cut down as one measure in the war on insect pests. Many of the insects that infest field and garden crops live on the weeds that spring up in early spring until the cultivated crops come on. Of course if only one farmer in a community kept the weeds under subjection it would have small effect on the insects.

Destruction of Birds by Hurricane.

Nature notes a remarkable fact in connection with the West Indian hurricane of September, 1898. It appears that before the hurricane one of the tamest and commonest birds on the island of St. Vincent was a small humming bird, but none of these birds have been seen since September, 1898.

Tarantula Silk.

Tarantulas are being raised in Australia for the sake of their webs, the filaments of which are made into thread for balloons. They are lighter than silk and when woven lighter than canvas.

FATAL ECONOMY.

AVERY old maxim declares that it isn't economy to pick up pins; the time is worth more than the pins. Similarly it is not true economy to do without Ivory Soap; your health requires the daily removal of the bodily excretions which are discharged through the pores of the skin. These tiny mouths must be kept open, and they should be opened only with a pure soap.

BLOWN AWAY OR DROWNED.

New Orleans, Sept. 14.—A telegram from John H. Poe, member of the state board of education, states that 85 lives were lost on the Gulf and Inter-State train which left Beaumont Saturday morning from Bolivar Point, after having made connections with the Southern Pacific train which left this city Friday night. Mr. Poe was one of the passengers on this train, and, together with a few others, he sought safety in the lighthouse at Bolivar Point, and was saved.

The train reached Bolivar about noon, and all preparations were made to run the train on the ferryboat preparatory to cross the bay. But the wind blew so swiftly that the ferry could not make a landing, and the conductor of the train started to back it toward Beaumont. The wind increased so rapidly, coming in from the open sea, that soon the water had reached a level with the bottom of the seats within the cars. It was then that some of the passengers sought safety in the nearby lighthouse. But Mr. Poe states in his telegram that, in spite of all efforts, 85 passengers were blown away or drowned. The train was entirely wrecked. Those who were saved had to spend over 50 hours in the dismal lighthouse with almost no rations.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. EARL LI'S RESPONSE.

Has the Power and Disposition to Protect American Lives and Property.

Tends to Greatly Facilitate Negotiations For Peace.

Russians Are to Remain In Pekin Until the Chinese Government Enters.

Washington, Sept. 14.—The diplomatic side of the Chniese question has become again the object of attention. The order to General Chaffee to leave at once, which was expected in some quarters, did not issue yesterday.

The Chinese government has made swift answer to the latest communication from the state department relative to the recognition of Li Hung Chang as an envoy competent to negotiate a peace settlement. There never has been any doubt here as to the sufficiency of Li's credentials as a plenipotentiary, but the effort of the state department has been to cause him to use any extraordinary powers he might have for the protection of American life and property in China, pending a final settlement. It has succeeded in attaining this object, as is indicated in the responses from Li Hung Chang presented to Assistant Secretary Hill yesterday by Minister Wu. The department asked Li without further delay "to give assurance that the life and property of Americans will henceforth be respected throughout the Chinese empire." The viceroy has given the assurance asked.

Earnest efforts are making to arrange the preliminaries for the negotiations which are expected finally to settle the Chinese troubles. Li Hung Chang's message removed, perhaps, the last obstacle to the speedy beginning of these negotiations, and the only doubt that now exists is as to his ability to redeem his pledge to protect American interests and stop the outrages upon the missionaries and native converts. If he can do this, and thus manifest the existence of a de facto government, there is no reason to doubt that negotiations will be immediately in order.

The Russian government has given notice that it adheres firmly to its proposal to evacuate Pekin and continues to cherish the hope that Germany will end by agreeing to it and thus induce Great Britain to follow. It is explained, however, that Russia recognizes the impossibility of the allies leaving Pekin unless the Chinese government immediately enters, so that there should not be an interval without a government. Russia explains that she cannot, therefore, move before the termination of the negotiations now begun for guaranteeing order in Pekin by the installation of a government immediately after the evacuation.

The notice that the Russian troops will not evacuate Pekin until some arrangements have been made for the installation of a government to take charge of affairs, is directly in line with the aim the state department has been pursuing in the exchanges with Li Hung Chang, and if this Russian decision is adhered to, it certainly will facilitate the ultimate withdrawal of all of the foreign forces, in the opinion of the officials here. An inference from the Russian government is that Li Hung Chang's coming to Pekin will be forwarded by Russia in the hope of making the desired arrangement for the establishment of a Chinese government there.

As Li cannot reach the capital from Shanghai, starting today, inside of a week, it may be that there will be no developments in the international situation within that period of time.

Our government has not been advised even yet that all of the answers to the Russian note have been returned. It is said that all of the powers have been heard from on the subject, but the disposition is to regard their communications not as answers, but rather as argumentative statements, which leave the main issue still open for discussion. This point, however, becomes of diminished importance, in view of the announced purpose of the Russian government to modify the terms of its original proposition in the manner indicated.

The department of state has received from the consul at Amoy, China, a telegram to the effect that the British and Japanese marines have been withdrawn; that order is maintained, refugees are returning and the shops are reopening.

Dismemberment Almost Inevitable.

London, Sept. 14.—No further light is thrown this morning upon Li Hung Chang's intended movements. The Times has an interesting dispatch from Pekin, dated Sept. 4, which says in part: In the best-informed quarters the opinion is expressed that Russia and Germany are acting in accord, Russia seeking the definite alienation of all territory north of the great wall, and Germany the annexation of Shan Tung, Kiang Fu and the Yang Tse provinces. Russia seeks also to restore the power of the empress dowager and the emperor, in order to be enabled to wield her influence through them over the remaining provinces. The dismemberment of China seems almost inevitable. The empress dowager has retained Prince Ching's son as a hostage for his father.

Convicts Ate Poisonous Roots.

Dorchester, N. B., Sept. 14.—Several convicts from the maritime penitentiary, while working on the farm of the institution yesterday, found some roots which they considered edible and made a meal off them. One of them died within a few hours from poisoning, and half a dozen others recovered after hours of acute suffering.

Thieving Bank Clerk Sentenced.

London, Sept. 14.—C. J. Goss, a former clerk of Parr's bank, who was accused of stealing about $300,000 from the bank in January, 1899, and who was caught passing a £5 note, pleaded guilty yesterday and was sentenced to seven years' penal servitude.

PREPARED FOR A LONG FIGHT.

Miners Present Their Grievances For Consideration by the Public at Large.

Indianapolis, Sept. 14.—There is practically no means of arriving at any estimate of the resources of the miners available for the maintenance of the people to be called out by the strike.

Aside from the money in the hands of the national executive board local unions in a number of states have accumulated large sums of money in their treasuries which will probably be placed in the strike fund. Contributions from other trades unions can be counted on, and from these facts it can be seen the miners are prepared for a long fight.

President Mitchell and Secretary-treasurer Wilson of the United Mine Workers of America have issued a statement giving in detail the causes that have led up to the strike.

"The average wages of the anthracite miners for many years," says the statement, "has been less than $250 annually. During that period of time the cost of many of the necessaries of life has been increased over 20 percent. The laws of the state of Pennsylvania make 2400 pounds a ton of anthracite coal, yet anthracite coal miners are compelled to mine from 2700 to 4000 pounds for a ton, and in addition to that are docked exorbitant amounts for any impurities which may be sent out with their coal. Where they are paid by the car they have gradually been compelled to increase the amount of coal in each car by building the same perpendicularly from 6 to 18 inches above the edge. They are compelled to purchase the powder used in mining from their employers, paying $2.75 a keg for a grade of powder that can be purchased elsewhere for $1.50 a keg, and which wholesales for about $1 a keg. They are required by many of the companies to deal in "pluck me" stores or leave their employment. They must pay to the company $1 a month for a doctor whether they need him or not, and have no voice in saying who the doctor shall be.

"The smallness of their earnings, together with the great cost of living, has compelled them to take their children from school before they have reached the age prescribed by law and place them at work in the breakers in order to keep the family from starvation. When any miner, feeling the burden of these conditions, has gone to the management and asked to have them removed, he has been told if he does not like it he can quit.

"Having exhausted all other means of adjustment, we had reached the point where we must either advise the miners of the anthracite region to continue working under these unjust and tyrannical conditions or counsel a strike. We have chosen the latter, and having done so we invite a thorough, impartial and public investigation of the conditions existing in the anthracite coal fields."

Squadrons Leave Bar Harbor.

Bar Harbor, Me., Sept. 14.—The American and British squadrons terminated their 10 days' visit here Thursday and left the harbor. The sight of the 12 warships maneuvering about the harbor was a spectacle rarely presented in the waters of this country. The American vessels displayed the British flag at the peak, the visitors showing similar courtesy. Upon reaching Baker's island the squadrons separated and the event of the season for Bar Harbor was over.

Looks Gloomy For English Spinners.

Manchester, Sept. 14.—The prospects of the Lancashire cotton trade for the year to come are regarded as gloomy. In addition to the reported smallness of the new crop, there is a special reason for reducing the output, namely that India and China, owing to famine and war, have not consumed the usual quantity of cotton goods, heavy stocks of which are on hand there.

Suicide In Front of Mirror.

Waltham, Mass., Sept. 14.—Standing in front of a mirror in his room, Thursday, Alfred E. Farwell drew a razor across his throat, severing the jugular vein, causing almost instant death. Temporary insanity was probably the cause of the deed. Farwell was about 45 years old, and was janitor of the Unitarian church and a schoolhouse.

Vanderbilt's Boat Won.

New York, Sept. 14.—Cornelius Vanderbilt's slop yacht, Rainbow, was the winner in the 30-mile race against Mineola, Yankee and Virginia, by the margin of 3m. 22s., and gets the $1000 cup offered by Sir Thomas Lipton. The Mineola was second boat, the Virginia third and the Yankee fourth.

Eleven Persons Probably Lost.

Conneaut, O., Sept. 14.—Eleven persons are believed to have gone down with the steamer Lyons, which foundered in the great storm of Tuesday night. Five survivors, two women and three men, drifted ashore near here, lashed to a mast.

Two Marine Casualties.

St. John, Sept. 14.—Schooner Carita, 121 tons, is ashore at Grand Pabos. The Norwegian bark Ingomar hit on a ledge off Grand Manan. She made water so fast the captain ran her into this harbor and beached her.

Kruger's Wife Won't Join Him.

Lourenzo Marquez, Sept. 14.—Mr. Kruger telegraphed his wife to join him here before sailing for Europe, but she replied that her health will not permit it.

NOW AND THEN.

How the New York Journal Viewed the Expansion Policy Only Two Short Years Ago.

"Lest we forget" some of the bright and true things which young Mr. Hearst's Bryan organ, the New York Journal, said, it will be well to refer to his files.

The chief organ of Bryan and Bryanism in New York in the present campaign is this same New York Journal. Adopting the policy announced by the Democratic candidate himself at Indianapolis, The Journal is now loud and constant in its denunciation of "imperialism" and is doing its utmost to assist in electing the man who has declared that his first act as president would be to call congress together for the purpose of withdrawing our forces and hauling down our flag in the Philippines.

Mr. Bryan's inconsistencies in regard to the Philippine question have been frequently pointed out, and it is in order now to point out the corresponding inconsistencies of his organ, the New York Journal. This can be done very readily and without the slightest difficulty by quoting from the editorial pages of The Journal during 1898 and 1899. The following editorial opinions of The Journal are extracted verbatim from the files of that paper, and serve to show what its present opinions are worth. No comments are appended. No comments are necessary. The public will make its own comments:

New York Journal, Sept. 14, 1898.

New York Journal, Dec. 16, 1898.

We have demanded from the first the annexation of Hawaii; we demanded the war; we demanded the acquisition of territory in the West Indies and the retention of the Philippines. We now demand the government of our new territories as integral parts of this country.

New York Journal, Aug. 17, 1898.

The capture of Manila has made us masters of the Philippines, and the American diplomat who would give them up would find it advisable to stay abroad for the rest of his life.

New York Journal, Aug. 10, 1898.

American blood has been spilled at Manila. Every drop was a sacrifice to the cause of liberty. No retreat from the Philippines!

New York Journal, Sept. 17, 1898.

We have a duty to perform in the Philippines—a duty to the Filipinos, to ourselves, to republican ideas, to civilization. The American people are perfectly willing to assume all the risks and burdens of that duty. No dishonorable desertion of the rescued people of the Philippines!

New York Journal, Aug. 12, 1898.

The American flag is up at Manila. Let it wave there until the people of the Philippines, under American protection, have grown into capacity for full self-government. That is the just, the American, policy. Nail the flag to the mast!

New York Journal, June 13, 1898.

It is hastily assumed that any carrying of the flag away from home means "imperialism." That is a mistake. To conquer and colonize distant lands for the sake of glory and profit is one thing; to secure outposts, the possession of which will better enable us to preserve peace and be more efficient for an attack when war does come, is another.

New York Journal, July 1, 1898.

Men who use their brains to think with are not to be bullied by phrases. "Imperialism" for instance. That word comes down like a portcullis before a good many minds, and the blows of fact and argument beat against it in vain. The Philippines are in point. A splendid naval victory has made us masters there. Should we keep them or give them up? An "imperialism" which means the spread of American power, free institutions and human happiness is not an "imperialism" to be feared by anybody who has faith in the vitality of this republic and confidence in the democratic principles on which it is founded.

This list of quotations from The Journal before the gammon of the "paramount issue" had struck it, might be continued to double the space given here, but the above ought to suffice to show the sober sense of The Journal when in its right mind.

What Senator Frye Says.

"There was opposition to the ratification of the treaty. Mr. Bryan came to Washington and persuaded his Democratic friends to vote for the treaty, and it was through his influence that the treaty was finally ratified. It then became the duty of the United States to maintain law and order, and protect the lives and property of all residents of the islands, whether native or foreign born. The United States, at the time of the ratification of the treaty, held military possession of Manila, and immediately after such ratification assumed the sovereignty of the islands. The people of the United States, and particularly of the Pacific coast, became entitled to the vast commerce of the Pacific ocean, of which the Philippines furnish the key.

"One Aguinaldo, whose political destiny is the leading factor in the Bryan campaign, had raised a rebellion in Luzon against Spain before the commencement of the Spanish war with the United States. This adventurer had sold out or settled his rebellion with Spain for $400,000 before Dewey set sail for Manila, and as a part of the bargain with Spain, Aguinaldo had agreed to leave the islands and never return. Dewey took the wily agitator back to the islands, supposing, as a matter of course, that Aguinaldo would naturally be an enemy of Spain and a friend to the United States. In this Admiral Dewey was mistaken. Aguinaldo, as soon as he landed on his native soil, organized a rebellion against the United States, which would have been of little consequence if he had not been able to obtain aid and comfort in this country. An organization was formed in the United States, called the Anti-Imperial league, which has, for the last two years, co-operated with Aguinaldo's Tagal junta, with headquarters at Hong Kong, to supply literature and materials of war for Aguinaldo."—Senator Frye at Old Orchard.

Kendall to visit him at Atlantic. The remainder of the party will go to the Pacific House, Nantasket, and pass the night, and stop at Mr. Kendall's tomorrow. Capt. Kendall is taking the annual tour, of course, and so are Papa Weston, "Happy Days" Pitman and about 25 others.

Grass Fire.

The Atlantic combination was called ont on a still alarm at 1 o'clock yesterday for a grass fire off Atlantic street, near the Pope estate. The fire was working into the woods, and in order to prevent a repetition of the fire along the South shore, the members of the company, many of whom are employed at the Wollaston foundry and machine shop, were summoned by telephone. After two hours' hard work the fire was put out.

Chinese Superstition.

When General Grant was visiting China, Chester Holcombe, for many years secretary of the American legation at Peking, secured for him a privilege never before that time accorded to a foreigner, the privilege of admission into the sacred precincts of the Temple of Heaven in Peking.

Now, it is contrary to the settled belief of the Chinese to admit a member of the female sex, old or young, even to the temple ground, under any circumstances. It is said that should a Chinese guard venture even to carry a baby girl in his arms within the forbidden lines he would probably be punished with death. Not knowing of these restrictions, a number of ladies in General Grant's party ventured to follow him when he visited the sacred edifice.

Realizing the seriousness of this action, Mr. Holcombe afterward apologized to the emperor's representative for the conduct of his countrywomen and was informed that the intrusion would be overlooked, but must be kept as secret as possible, for should the populace learn of it an antiforeign outbreak would be likely to follow. They would not forgive such a pollution of their most sacred building.—Leslie's Weekly.

To Clean and Polish a Piano.

In cleaning and polishing a piano go over the woodwork with a cloth wet with paraffin oil, being generous with the oil where the woodwork is very much soiled. Let this remain two or three hours. This is to soften the dirt. Then wash with soap and water and a soft cloth, being careful not to let any water touch the works inside the piano. Use a good white or a white castile soap. Wipe dry with a soft cloth and polish with soft, old linen or chamois leather.—Ladies' Home Journal.

SHE PLEAD GUILTY.

But Jury Found Mrs. Buckner Not Guilty of Manslaughter.

Lawyers J. W. and J. J. McAnarney successfully defended Mrs. Emma Buckner of Milton on the charge of manslaughter, which was on trial in the Superior court at Dedham this week, securing a verdict yesterday of not guilty.

The woman when indicted by the grand jury, plead guilty, but afterward retracted her plea and plead not guilty to the charge of manslaughter.

The evidence of the government was reported yesterday. For the defence Mrs. Buckner took the stand and the Globe reports her testimony as follows:

Mrs. Buckner said she had been married to Mr. Buckner six years. They had always lived in Milton. They have a child four years of age. Her husband had been in the habit of beating her every week—sometimes every day for a spell. Her arm was injured by her husband beating her and throwing her on the stove. "Every day, every week anyway, he would beat me," said she.

On the Sunday before the day of the tragedy her husband beat her with a stick. "He said he wanted to kill me to get me out of the way entirely," was the remark of witness. He also told her aunt the same thing, for he said, 'She hasn't sense enough to go off."

The woman had a talk with her husband that day. He also whipped her Monday morning. He knocked her with his fist. When beating her he used a stick, a shovel or the poker. He was at breakfast in the morning. Would not say anything to her but swear.

He came home to dinner about 2 o'clock. He began to swear at her but she paid no attention to him. He came to supper about 5 o'clock. When she first saw him she was at the kitchen door. Her aunt and little girl were out of the door. The baby spoke to him, but he did not answer. She asked, "Why don't you take notice of the baby?" He said, "To h— with the baby."

After taking off his shoes and hanging up his coat he sat down to supper. She related the conversation at the supper table, and told of how her husband said in answer to her statement that a friend was going to come there, that she would be in hell—by that time.

She described the quarrel. One word led to another. He struck her, saying, "I fetched you that time." As she was getting up he grabbed her by the neck. Then he began to beat her. She caught a knife from the table. She could not strike him, because he held her. She ran into the hall. While beating her he said he was going to kill her and clear out, for she did not have sense enough to get out. While he had hold of her he kicked her. He He threw her on the floor and struck her. He then started to go upstairs after releasing her, but went into the kitchen. He put his hand in his pocket and said that if he had his dagger he would finish her then.

She thought she stabbed him during the struggle on the floor. The knife closed on her fingers, severely cutting them. She didn't know how many times she had cut him. He did not say anything about being cut.

He said he was going to kill her. She got frightened and ran to the fire station. She then threw the knife away. She had no intent of using the knife until he had struck her. She did not see him take any other knife out of his pocket.

The jury was out but fifteen minutes when it brought in a verdict of not guilty. Mrs. Buckner was discharged.

Braintree Golf Club.

The Braintree golf club held a tournament on their links Sept. 8. The following were the winners:

Mixed foursomes: Winners, semi-finals—Miss Julia Arnold and Mr. Howe, one hole up. Miss Bertha Arnold and Mr. Small, one hole up. Winners, match—Miss Julia Arnold and Mr. Howe, one hole up.

The event was well attended, and the match was a very close one. Quite a little enthusiasm was aroused over the finish and the players had a good "gollery" in the deciding contest.

Today there will be a regular club tournament and these will be continued every Saturday until the end of the season.

Some very good scores are being made as a result of the new greens that have been put in by Mr. William May and it is hoped that the course will continue to be improved. The work done is highly satisfactory and the varied nature of the ground makes it possible to have a very sporty course, with good natural hazards.

More than twenty fires could be counted from the summit of Blue Hill yesterday.

TENTH DAY.

HOMEWARD BOUND.

A small army of car cleaners having been put to work on the Miranda and the Pullman, they looked as fresh as at leaving New York when our friends went aboard that Wednesday night. With a sigh of relief Mrs. Hurst sank into her favorite chair.

"It seems almost like home," she said.

Draper and Ives busied themselves looking to the comfort of the two girls, and for the moment the mother and chaperon was left alone.

"Well," said Ives when Madge had been fussed over enough, "we are minus one of our party, but we ought to be thankful that it is no worse."

"Small loss!" sniffed Madge contemptuously. "We shall have a perfectly lovely time going back; 'no foes without, no fears within,' as the old hymn says."

"Rather a tame ending, don't you think so?" ventured Uncle John, looking up from his labor of arranging a cushion for Florence's feet.

"Oh, one can never tell what will happen," said Madge mischievously, and then, catching the gaze of Chester Ives, she blushed scarlet and made a precipitate retreat into the ladies' boudoir, whither Florence followed her after a few moments.

Chester wandered into his place of solitary confinement, as he laughingly dubbed the Pullman, where he would now be alone save for the presence of Alec and Henry, and thus left Mrs. Hurst and her brother alone. John Draper drew up a chair beside her and said:

"Bess, I don't intend to stand this suspense any longer."

"Why, what do you mean, John?"

She knew perfectly well what was behind that declaration, but, womanlike, could not forbear a little catlike playing with the masculine mouse, and her big, worldly brother was just as timorous and nervous over the business in view as the tiniest rodent that ever nibbled cheese in a trap. The plunge into matrimony, like a cold bath on a winter's morning, seemed more repellent the longer it was put off, and where a younger and less worthy man like Reuben Filley would have dared all long ago John Draper, with the modesty of real and genuine merit, had forborne to test his fate with Florence Granniss, not because he did not love her dearly and devotedly, but for fear that she regarded him more in the light of a parent than as a possible husband.

"I mean with regard to Florence," he replied to Mrs. Hurst's innocuous query. "I am determined to know the worst and that right soon."

"My dear John," she said, "my heart has been set on this match for years—ever since Florence was of marriageable age. She has never made a confidant of me, but I am certain that she is heart free—that is, there is no other attachment. Further than that it would not be right for me to say except this, that I believe you have only to ask her to be your wife in order to gain her consent."

A joyous light shone in Draper's eyes as he made reply:

"I hope and pray your confidence may not be misplaced." Then in a more jocular tone he inquired:

"Are you prepared to carry two engaged couples back with you to New York? I think there is mischief afoot between Madge and young Ives."

"Do you think I am blind?" replied Mrs. Hurst. "I confess that I had hoped Madge would do better, but unless all signs fail Mr. Ives will not wait very long to find out what fate has in store for him. I shall not interfere."

"I'm glad to hear you say that, Bess," was the rejoinder. "Next to my own happiness I have that of Madge and Chester at heart. I know he loves her, and I think she cares for him."

"Indeed!" she laughed. "I must compliment you on your remarkable insight into the love affairs of others while you are so blind to your own." And with this parting shot Mrs. Hurst rose to go and make some slight toilet preparations for dinner, which was just then announced.

It was a rather quiet little group that assembled once more around the cozy dining table in the Miranda that night. The interior of the car was positively brilliant. By all analogies the gathering should have been a merry one, yet both Madge and Florence were unusually quiet. Perhaps it was the natural relaxation after the unnatural excitement of the past few days. Mrs. Hurst saw and noted the signs of the times and openly expressed her intention of retiring early, saying, with a meaning glance at her brother:

"We shall feel better and brighter tomorrow after we have become used to the old routine again." So Draper and Ives were left to their cigars and some desultory talk over Filley's villainy.

There is nothing to equal a sound beauty sleep for composing one's nerves and clearing away the overnight cobwebs. The two girls were positively blooming and bubbling over with life and gayety when they emerged from their boudoir at the tinkling of the breakfast bell next morning. Madge was full of mischief, and even the usually staid and dignified Florence caught the infection, and together they alternately bantered and bullied Draper and Chester until Mrs. Hurst came to the rescue.

They lingered long after the meal, and in after years both couples looked back with fond recollections to that memorable morning. They were speeding over the level Nebraska plains, rich with the lush green promises of the coming harvest. For miles the prairie farms spread out on either hand, dotted with white homesteads and quiet village stations, past which the train tore with ceaseless and steady energy.

Breakfast ended, Mrs. Hurst found an excuse for leaving the saloon on the plea of "tidying up" the boudoir. A few minutes later Ives invited Madge to inspect the view from the rear door of the Pullman. So John Draper and Florence Granniss were left alone. The moment for them had come!

Florence lay back in her seat, toying idly with some trifle of needlework, but her eyes were often turned to gaze windowward at the moving panorama without. John watched her, all the love in his great heart showing in his face.

Suddenly he rose and leaned over the back of her chair. It was a prosaic wooing, amid prosaic surroundings, but with him it was now or never!

Men never know exactly what they will do or say at such times. The most carefully prepared speeches are apt to fly away when the supreme moment comes. In fact, John Draper had made no verbal preparation. He wanted to tell her he loved her and to ask her to be his wife in a simple and earnest way, as became his whole nature, and then to listen to her answer and abide by it.

"Florence, dear girl," he began and then stopped.

"What is it?" she inquired. He had taken her hand, and as her uplifted eyes met his she must have read his secret with a woman's intuition, for a rosy flush swept from throat to forehead and then as quickly faded. But she could not help him—not yet. He dropped her hand and took a few hasty steps across the car and back again, then, drawing up his chair beside hers, he took her unresisting hand again.

"My dear child," he said, "we have known each other a good many years—so many that I sometimes fear you only regard me as a grim and gray old fellow, with no part nor purpose in your young life but that of a mere business relation."

"Say, rather, the best and kindest and truest friend I have ever known," she replied, lifting her eyes to his. Unless he was mistaken the true lovelight was dawning there.

"I would not for the world disturb that feeling unless I could put something better in its place," he went on. "Florence, I have learned to love you—not as a daughter, but as a man loves the woman he would make his wife. Will you marry me, Florence?"

Her glossy head bent low, but her unresisting hand nestled in his not unwillingly. Bending nearer, he waited for her answer. Slowly and shyly she raised her eyes to his and bravely answered:

"Yes, dear, I will."

In the Pullman another wooing was in progress. Chester Ives had likewise determined to put his fate to the test that very morning and went at the matter with his usual dash and decision. For a few minutes he and Madge stood watching the flying prospect from the vestibuled door. Then his arm stole round her waist, and, putting his lips close to her ear so as to conquer the din of the train, he said:

"Madge, I can't go on like this any longer. Do you know why I asked you to come out here?"

"The prisoner is not bound to answer any incriminating questions," she retorted, as saucy as ever.

"Well, I'll tell you, though I believe you've known it for ever so long. Madge, dear, one little word from you will make me the happiest or the most miserable fellow in the world. I love you, Madge, and I want you for my wife. Is it to be happiness or misery, Madge—yes or no? Don't keep me in suspense, dear."

A moment she hesitated. All her bonhomie and piquant insoucience were gone, and she was just a simple daughter of Eve. Again he urged her. "Which is it to be, Madge?"

Then she shyly turned her face to his and murmured:

"The word is Yes!"

There is little more to add to this romance of the rail. Mrs. Hurst remained in seclusion for a sufficiently decent space of time, and when she emerged she found her brother and Florence sitting side by side in calm contentment, and by the quick, happy glance which flashed from her brother's eyes she knew that his wooing had sped favorably.

In a few moments Chester and Madge appeared, both trying to appear unconcerned, Miss Madge succeeding much the better of the two. Mrs. Hurst read the situation at a glance, and John Draper, his wits sharpened by his own recent successful campaign, was equally prompt at guessing at their secret.

"Come here, you children," he cried, rising at the moment and drawing Florence's arm within his. "Come here and make your peace with our chaperon."

"Mrs. Bradley Hurst," he began with mock severity, "I beg to inform you that from this time on your service will be no longer required. While I have the utmost respect for you as a woman and a wife, as a sister and a mother I must express my conviction that as a chaperon you are a distinct and lamentable failure. Permit me to introduce my future wife, Miss Florence Granniss!"

Then his arm stole round her waist.

"Allow me also," said Chester, "with your kind permission, to present my future wife, whom you already know, Miss Madge Hurst!"

Mrs. Hurst took it all in good part, kissed the prospective brides and ventured to hope that she might be invited to the dual wedding.

Thus ended the tenth day, all dewy smiles and happiness. Upon reaching St. Louis that night John Draper sent the following dispatch:

To Edward Gates, New York:
Your congratulations are in order.
JOHN DRAPER.

THE END.

Uncle Bob's Hailstone Story.

"An old countryman I used to know when I was living in south Georgia," remarked a college professor apropos of sudden changes in the weather, "was in at least one respect a very remarkable character. To a casual listener he appeared to be a fluent and unconscionable liar, yet when you came to scrutinize any of his statements closely it was impossible to catch him in the slightest deviation from the truth."

"One day in early spring we had an unusually severe fall of hail, and next morning while driving down the road with a friend we happened to encounter the old fellow at his gate. 'Well, Uncle Bob,' I said, 'that was a pretty bad hailstorm we had yesterday.' 'I should say it was,' he replied. 'You just oughter seed some of the stones that come down in my back yard.' 'How big were they?' I asked. ''Bout as big as small watermelons,' said he. 'Well, we've caught him in a whopper at last,' chuckled my friend as we drove on. 'No, we haven't,' I groaned. 'As usual the old rascal has secured all the advantage of a fine, large lie and at the same time has adhered rigidly to the truth. Look at that vine.'

"An early watermelon vine was festooning the bottom rail of a fence by the roadside, and here and there it was studded with minute green spheres about the size of gooseberries. My friend made no comment. I never tried to catch Uncle Bob again."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

An Arab's Parlor.

A woman traveler in Egypt is amazed at the dearth of the natives' household goods, says a correspondent of the Chicago News. There is little furniture because the Arab needs little. His life is spent out of doors, and he can sleep in any handy gutter as peaceably and happily as a child, while most of his meals are eaten in the open air.

In one exceptionally luxurious house, that of a charwoman, the traveler found a parlor. It was regarded as a sort of shrine by Fatima. She had made it a fetich, devoting to its embellishment all the money she could spare and sacrificing to it even her children's wants. The visitor was shown through a broken down doorway into a squalid passage, where two rooms at either end revealed perspectives of greater squalor beyond. Children teemed from every entrance.

Arrived at the holy of holies, the door had to be unlocked. It was a brand new Birmingham lock. Distant Manchester had supplied a carpet blazing with roses and small creton curtains of brilliancy to match. Such things are in Cairo called "fellah" (vulgar), as none but fellahin are found to be purchasers of them, but poor Fatima's horrors are not yet quite catalogued. From some common shop in the Muski she had captured two or three glass vases, and in them—the last touch of triumph—were artificial flowers.

Rose Displays at Buffalo.

In the outdoor horticultural exhibits of the Pan-American Exposition will be numerous beds of roses of choice varieties, each containing 500 bushes. Imagine what a brilliant show they will make when all in blossom!

* * * I consider THE NEW YORK TIMES SATURDAY REVIEW worthy of the highest commendation. It is the first thing I look for in my copy of the Saturday TIMES, and it very rarely happens that I do not read it through from beginning to end. It is not only interesting to me as a writer of books and as an editor of a weekly publication, but I have found it of extreme value in the pursuit of my duties as a Trustee of the Yonkers Public Library. GALVESTON'S DEAD.

Authentic List Indicates That Over Three Thousand Were Killed.

Work of Cleaning Up Being Vigorously Prosecuted.

Many People Leaving the City and Universal Feeling of Depression Prevails.

Galveston, Tex., Sept. 15.—The Houston Post prints a list of 2701 names of people who lost their lives in Galveston. It is compiled from various sources, and is believed to be authentic. As there were many bodies buried at sea, and many more are supposed to be beneath the ruins of the buildings, it is not probable that an absolutely correct list can be made, and it is reasonable to suppose the loss of life was more than 3000.

The first real attempt to clear away the mass of debris piled along the beach front, for a distance of several miles, was begun yesterday.

Advertisements were printed in The News, asking for hundreds of men and boys to do this work. A multitude responded. They were formed into squads and promptly put to work with police and deputy sheriffs in charge. It is hoped that a vigorous prosecution of this work will lead to the early recovery of bodies still in the debris.

An Associated Press representative traversed the beach for some distance yesterday and the stench at different points was absolutely sickening. Everywhere little groups of men, women and children, some of them poorly provided with raimnent, were digging in the ruins of their homes for what little household property they could save. In many cases those seeking their former residences were utterly unable to find a single remnant of them, so hopeless is the confusion of timbers and household furniture.

The exodus from the city was heavy yesterday and hundreds more were unable to secure transportation. Along the bay front there were scores of families with dejected faces pleading to be taken from the stricken city, where, in spite of every effort to restore confidence, there is a universal feeling of depression.

Shipping men say that the damage to the wharves is by no means as serious as at first supposed. The chief damage has been in the tearing open of sheds and the ripping of planking. The sheds, however, can be quickly replaced. The piling for a considerable distance along the bay front successfully withstood the pounding it got from the wind and waves, and business men find a measure of consolation in this.

More hopeful reports were received touching the water supply. The company is placing men all along the mains, plugging the broken places and thereby assisting the flow. It is serving some of its customers today and hopes gradually to increase the service.

The people are having difficulty in carrying supplies to their homes or places of business. The ice supply continues bountiful, and at many corners lemonade is being served at 5 cents for as much as you can drink at one time.

More effective measures have been taken to keep undesirable people off the island. Soldiers patrolled the water front and challenged all who could not show a proper reason for their landing or who were unwilling to work for the privilege of coming into town.

Assurances have been received by the railroads that they will do all in their power to reopen communication, and their present plan seems to be to concentrate all forces on the work of reconstruction of one bridge.

Telegraph communication has been partially restored, the Western Union and Postal companies having reached the city with one wire. Large forces have been at work along the lines of both companies and connection with Galveston has been attended with many difficulties.

The sympathy felt for Galveston throughout the world was again evidenced yesterday when local bankers were notified by cable that the Liverpool cotton exchange had subscribed £1000 for the relief of the sufferers and that more will follow.

The storm stricken people are profoundly grateful for the generous response of the world to their appeal for relief, and from a wish to be worthy of the aid extended to them they are speaking more hopefully of reconstruction.

Many Vessels and Lives Lost.

St. John's, Sept. 15.—Tales of widespread destruction wrought by Thursday's gale continue to pour in. Six vessels were wrecked near St. Pierre and six in Placentia Bay. It is also reported that four were lost in Renews harbor, two in the straits of Belle Isle and four near Cape Bonavista. Other parts of the island have yet to be heard from, the telegraph wires to remote points being down. Thus far 14 lives are known to have been lost.

Hurricane Strikes Prince Edward Island.

Charlottetown, P. E. I., Sept. 15.—The Texas hurricane swept over this province Wednesday night, causing immense damage, the full details of which are not obtainable, as wires are down throughout the island, and broken connections are only now responding to calls. The shores are strewn with the wreckage of fishing boats, and the loss of life will be considerable. The fruit crop was nearly ruined and thousands of bushels of plums destroyed. The damage cannot be estimated.

Buffeted by a Gale.

Halifax, Sept. 15.—Steamer Alladin, deal laden, from Quebec for Liverpool, was caught in a strong gale off Cape Breton and lost her deck load and damaged her steering gear and boats. Several of the crew were injured by being knocked about on deck by seas breaking aboard. The steamer has arrived at Louisburg to land disabled seamen and make temporary repairs.

THE NEW YORK CAMPAIGN.

Four Great Meetings Addressed by Leading Men of the Republican Party.

New York, Sept. 15.—The Republicans of New York formally opened the campaign in this city last night with four big mass meetings. There were bands playing patriotic music, parades and general enthusiasm.

At Camp McKinley, the headquarters of the Republicans of the Thirty-First assembly district, Temporary Chairman Goodwin introduced Cornelius N. Bliss as permanent chairman. Mr. Bliss, in his introductory speech, asserted that the welfare of the country demanded the re-election of Mr. McKinley, for it would not do to place the reins of government in the hands of an inexperienced man like Mr. Bryan. Postmaster General Smith was then introduced, and he made a ringing speech. Congressman Sereno E. Payne and State Senator Elsberg also spoke.

The meeting at Cooper Union was the largest of the four. General Greene opened the proceedings. He spoke briefly on the general issues, and in endorsement of the ticket. He was followed by President Schurman of Cornell, who discussed the features of the campaign, taking the position that endorsement of the administration was necessary to the prosperity of the people. The speechmaking was concluded by ex-Governor Wise of West Virginia.

The meeting at Durland's riding academy was under the auspices of the West Side Republican club. United States Senator Lodge was introduced as the first speaker. He said that in this campaign the Republicans had no apology to offer. Following Senator Lodge came Archibald E. Baxter of Chemung county, who was the last speaker.

The local Republicans above the Harlem river gathered at Heltner's hall. In the absence of Senator Foraker, the chief speaker was General Stewart L. Woodford, former minister to Spain.

Looking For Ohio Votes.

Columbus, O., Sept. 15.—The Ohio Democrats opened their campaign here yesterday with a meeting in the afternoon at Goodale park and in the evening at the Goodale Auditorium. William J. Bryan made speeches at both meetings, and there was a large attendance of Democratic leaders from all parts of the state. Mr. Bryan's speeches were a general review of the political situation, and it was evidently intended to set the pace for the campaign in Ohio. He declared that he believed the Democratic ticket was entitled to the electoral vote of Ohio. "If the Republican party wants to make its full dinner pail argument," said Mr. Bryan, "let it go into the anthracite coal regions, where the operatives get less than $250 a year. I see in the newspapers," he said, "that originally the president's letter of acceptance contained 20,000 words but that it was cut down to 13,000. I suppose," he added, "that the other 7000 words were on the trust question, but were cut out." Mr. Bryan went at length into the Philippine question.

Roosevelt's Busy Day.

Fargo, N. D., Sept. 15.—Governor Roosevelt made several speeches yesterday en route to Fargo. He said: "What I ask you to remember is that a ton of oratory does not count for an ounce of performance. It was not talk that kept the flag up from 1861 to 1865. It was the way the government was handled at Washington and the way our men shot in the war. The issue nowadays is how we shall handle our affairs and how we shall behave in the face of the world. I ask you now in the first place to vote so as to secure a continuance of the conditions under which we lifted up the standard of the well-being of our people: and in the next place, not to dishonor the record made by the generation that fought the Civil war."

As Democrats See It.

Boston, Sept. 15.—The Bryan club of Massachusetts held a business meeting at the American House last evening. President Washburn reported the political conditions in the west from a Democratic basis, asserting that there was a general stampede toward Bryan in the middle west. In response to a request from a number of representative colored men a committee was appointed to make arrangements for the organization of colored Bryan voters.

Two Big Freighters Ordered.

Boston, Sept. 15.—In Boston shipping and commercial circles great interest has been aroused by the announcement that Kidder, Peabody & Co. have given the contract to the Maryland Steel company for the building of two great ocean freighters for the Boston trade. The vessels will be the largest freighters under the Stars and Stripes, and will operate between Boston and England. They are to be twin screw steel ships, 500 feet long, 58 feet wide and 40 feet depth of hold. They will carry 12,750 tons of dead weight cargo, and will register 9700 tons gross.

Steamer Taken Off the Beach.

Boston, Sept. 15.—The wreckers, who for five days have been at work on the steamer John Endicott, which was beached near Minot's light to prevent her sinking last Sunday, succeeded in raising and floating her off the beach Friday. She will be taken to some safer place nearby, where temporary repairs can be made, and later she will be towed to Boston.

A FIGHT WITH FLAMES.

But Little Progress Made In Checking Destruction In Plymouth County.

Settlement Peopled by Lobstermen Is Cleaned Out.

Women of Plymouth Have Done Much to Relieve Hardships of Fire Sufferers.

Plymouth, Mass., Sept. 15.—The great forest fire is burning more fiercely than ever, and now covers nearly one-half of the township of Plymouth. A new inconvenience has developed in the difficulty of getting horses to convey the men to the scene of the fire. The livery stables in this town have nearly all their horses in use, and those which are in their stalls are tired out.

The efforts of the fire wardens are at present centered near Halfway, Long and Bloody ponds. The fire is now heading toward Ennisville, which is about seven miles from Sandwich. A gang of men are at work at College pond.

At the wardens' office here fully 150 men are in readiness to go to various parts of the fire to help in the fight against the terrible flames, wherever they may be most needed, and as fast as men come in tired out others go to take their places.

The smoke is now blowing into the town, and everybody who ventures out suffers from smarting eyes. The fight will be kept up without abatement, and it is hoped some gains may be made, although this is very uncertain.

The settlement of Vallerville, on the shore, was wiped out. It was peopled by lobstermen. In one small house lived 15 persons. The flames swept down through the brush; the gale was lashing the sea to fury. The inhabitants chose the sea. Some of them lay in Ship pond; most of them went straight to the ocean.

The fire, halted on the east by the coast line and blown back on itself by the change in the wind, is spreading at the sides and is threatening houses which it passed in its first sweep. Principal among these are the houses on the east side of Long pond, which were protected by the spread of water. The fire swept around the north end of the pond, but did not go down the east side.

Now it is slowly but steadily moving back toward the houses of Charles Stoddard, Holland Davis, Edward Emery and George B. Collingwood. The homes of the Bassets, Turners, Coopers, Petersons and Woodwards have already been destroyed. The last-named house is an old landmark, formerly owned by Uncle Branch Pierce, the woodsman Daniel Webster used to visit him there to go hunting with him.

Altogether the area of the burned district extends from Manomet southeast to the sea, a distance of 12 miles. At the shore it reaches from Ship pond to Salt pond, five miles or more. Through its whole length it is getting broader every minute.

Many of the people who have lost their homes and household property in the fire are poor, have friends to whom they can go for food and shelter. In the case of the fisherfolk at Ship pond and Salt pond the neighbors are wanting. Refugees are gradually making their way out of the fire district to Ellisville, on the south side of the fire, and to South Plymouth and Manomet, on the north.

Plymouth has taken up the work of relief with vigor. There is no committee, the thing is done promptly and effectively and informally. Mrs. William Hedge, Mrs. Arthur Lord and Miss Kate Davis have each taken a part of the work. They went about on Thursday morning and gave notice that they were receiving contributions of clothing and food and money.

On Thursday night the first wagon, loaded high with relief supplies, started south from Mrs. Hedge's home for the fire district. From that time a wagon has gone out from Plymouth once in every eight hours. The prompt action of the ladies of Plymouth has done much to take the keen edge from the hardships of the fire sufferers.

Fire Takes a Fresh Start.

Rockland, Mass., Sept. 15.—The big forest fire which burned over several miles of territory here Wednesday, broke out fresh again late Friday afternoon, and is burning briskly. The fire is said to be the worst in South Weymouth, just over the Rockland line, and several dwellings are in danger.

No Eulogies Pronounced.

Littleton, N. H., Sept. 15.—In the presence of a gathering of men of prominence from all sections of the state, in the Opera House, Friday, the Episcopal committal service was read over the body of Harry Bingham, the veteran jurist and political leader. There were no eulogies pronounced, as the deceased had desired only a simple farewell, and the wish was complied with.

American Boys to the Front.

Paris, Sept. 15.—The grand race of the nations, one of the leading events of the cycling carnival at Vincennes, was yesterday won by America. Great Britain, Germany, Italy, Austria, Belgium, Holland and France also competed, each country being represented by three men. Cooper, McFarland and Banker constituted the American team.

CHANGES IN COTTON MARKET

One of the Principal Features of the Business World During the Week.

New York, Sept. 15.—Bradstreet's says: Expanding demand at advancing prices in many lines of trade finds its chief exemplar in the market for raw cotton, which has witnessed the greatest excitement, heaviest trading and largest gain in prices for at least a decade. English spinners, who are reported very generally short of supplies, are considering drastic methods of meeting the requirements. In American cotton goods the situation, from being a short time ago a buyers' market, is now reversed, and sellers are in a position to dictate terms. So suddenly has the outlook, as viewed by the trade generally, changed, however, that manufacturers are unable or unwilling to define their exact position, or, if they accept new business, do so on a distinct basis of cost of new supplies. The Fall River print cloth committee has withdrawn from the market and no more goods can be secured at the last recorded quotations.

Improved trade is reported at all points in the Mississippi valley, and thence east to the Atlantic coast. In southern Texas, of course, trade is still practically paralyzed. In the west and northwest fall trade is proceeding satisfactorily. At the east business is slower to develop, but signs of expansion in trade are not absent.

Most food prices are either firm or higher on the week, wheat being advanced on better export demand, and bad weather at the northwest, proved by the low grade of much of the receipts; corn is in good demand, with scant supplies of old crop, and pork and lard sympathize therewith. Raw sugar is still scarce and higher for the week, and coffee is fractionally higher. Among the few products lower are butter and tea. Print cloths are out of the market at old prices, and southern cotton yarns have advanced. Wool is still rather weak.

The predicted anthracite coal miners' strike is almost the only unfavorable feature of the industrial situation. It is doubtful, however, if the full force of anthracite coal miners will go out, in answer to the request of their leaders. Retail prices of fuel have already begun to advance, despite large stocks laid in in expectation of this trouble. In the meantime, the bituminous coal trade is reaping the benefit of the expected tie-up in hard coal.

Business failures for the week number 167, as against 154 last week, 149 in the week a year ago, 173 in 1898, 169 in 1897 and 315 in 1896.

The iron and steel situation has not materially changed, and irregularity in demand and prices is still a feature.

Roberts to the Burghers.

London, Sept. 15.—Lord Roberts, in a proclamation, has made known to the burghers of the Orange river and Vaal river colonies the flight of former Presidents Kruger and Steyn, and their formal desertion of the Boer cause. He points out that this action by the chiefs of state shows that the struggle is hopeless, and should not be carried on any longer. He points out further that there are about 15,000 Boer prisoners in the hands of the British who can be released only upon unconditional surrender. He concludes by stating that the irregular methods of warfare now practiced, if continued, will bring ruin and suffering upon the country, as the practices of war permit severe methods for its suppression.

Promise of Quiet Elections.

Havana, Sept. 15.—An amicable basis of representation on the election boards for the forthcoming election of delegates to the constitutional convention was arranged yesterday by Governor General Woods, the National, the Republican and Union Democratic parties having three provincial boards of canvassers representing each organization in each province. The elections promise to pass off quietly in Havana. There have been some inflammatory speeches, but conditions are for the most part quiet and orderly.

Killed Eight Besides Himself.

Caserta, Italy, Sept. 15. — Gaetano Longo, on returning from the United States to Pastona, killed his wife in a fit of jealousy and then two men whom he believed to have had improper relations with her. Having committed the triple crime, he ran amuck, killing five others and wounding two fatally. Then he went to the local cemetery and committed suicide.

Mrs. Buckner Not Guilty.

Dedham, Mass., Sept. 15.—Mrs. Emma Buckner, colored, who has been on trial for the past two days in the superior court, charged with manslaughter, in killing her husband, Louis, with a knife at their home on June 4 last, was found not guilty by the jury Friday, after 15 minutes' deliberation. The defendant claimed self-defense in justification of her act.

Good Afternoon.

The candidacy of our townsmen, Hon. John Shaw for Congress, and Representative Eugene H. Sprague for the Senate, has met with flattering progress, and Quincy Republicans should be a unit in the convention in their support. It is Quincy's opportunity and it rests with those who attend the Republican caucuses to honor the city. Messrs. Shaw and Sprague can do much, if elected, for their constituents, more than we could reasonably expect from non-residents.

Thayer Academy A. A.

The annual meeting of the Thayer Academy Athletic Association was held Thursday afternoon with Prof. Gallagher in the chair. On the declination of Mr. Gallagher to again run for office, Prof. Oakman was elected president for the ensuing year. The following other officers were elected:

Vice President, L. W. Newell.
Secretary, W. D. Clark.
Treasurer, R. M. Gallagher.
Manager Foot Ball Team, F. E. Winslow.
Executive Committee, Profs. Oakman and Townsend, Messrs. Clarke, Newell and Gallagher.

A rising vote of thanks was given retiring president Gallagher for the services which he has rendered to the association and to the school.

The meeting adjourned after a short talk by the coach.

The outlook for foot ball team at Thayer this year is discouraging in the fact that but three of last year's team remain. The ends, the tackles, one guard, center, quarter-back, and one half-back will have to be filled by new material. Still if any man can develop a team Prof. Townsend can, and a team which will be an honor to both Thayer Academy and the town will undoubtedly be developed before the close of the season.

The only game scheduled up to date is St. Mark's school at Southboro, October 6th.

Reception to Supt. Lull.

A dispatch of Sept. 14 from Newport, R. I., to the Herald, says:—Herbert W. Lull of Quincy, Mass., the new superintendent of public schools, was given a notable reception tonight at the residence of John R. Leslie, submaster of the Rogers High school. The entertainment was given under the auspices of the Teachers' Retirement Association. All the teachers, 90 odd, and the members of the school committee, with their families, were present, and Mr. and Mrs. Lull were given a hearty welcome to a small New England city, which in view of the excellence of its public schools, pays its superintendent $3,000 per annum, and allows him a clerk at a salary of $750. Mr. Lull has made an excellent impression during the two weeks that he has been employed as superintendent of public schools.

Show Season Opened.

The new Music Hall was opened Friday evening by that ever laughable comedy, "Peck's Bad Boy." There was a good attendance and many favorable comments were heard on the appearance of the hall. The changes in rebuilding have been previously noted in these columns. For some reason the hall looks much lighter than before, the acoustic properties have been improved, so that it is now possible to hear in all parts of the hall. One of the most marked changes is the covering the floor with canvas. This prevents dirt from being ground into it, and keeps it in good shape for dancing. Under the new management a more successful season is anticipated.

The Fish and Game Commissioners have revoked the appointment of G. J. Jerard, their deputy. Jerard and an assistant visited Quincy early in the season and made several seizures of short lobsters.

MONKEYS AS LABORERS

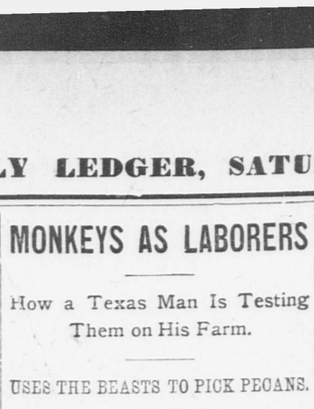

How a Texas Man Is Testing Them on His Farm.

USES THE BEASTS TO PICK PECANS.

John Pangle Now Expects to Secure the Finest Nuts From Tops of His Trees Which Were Formerly Lost. Has Imported a Lot of Trained Brazilian Simians.

John Pangle of Marble Falls, Tex., is either a genius or a fool. There is a great difference of opinion on that point in Texas. On one side is Pangle, on the other all his neighbors. Pangle insists monkeys can be trained to gather pecans. Other Texans laugh at him. Pangle has imported a big troop of simians from Brazil to save his reputation and, according to a Del Rio (Tex.) dispatch to the Chicago Times-Herald, is spending hundreds of dollars to decide the issue. It should be understood incidentally that he was led into this novel enterprise by the hope of making his fortune. "I'll have the laugh on 'em yet," he says.

Pangle recently made a journey through South America, and, being a Yankee, he had his eyes open for "good things." While traveling through Brazil he met a tribe of natives that had trained monkeys to gather certain kinds of nuts and berries from tall trees. This novel labor saving invention suggested an idea to Pangle. He recalled the pecan groves of Texas. He remembered how tall the trees grew and how the sweetest nuts were generally lost because they grew on the topmost branches and defied even the bravest of Texas boys. If monkeys will gather nuts in Brazil, why not in Texas? He saw no reason why they should lose their simian senses by emigrating from South to North America. If Texas had the nuts, it was as sure a winner as "two and two make four."

So he came home to survey the pecan groves. He found the Colorado bottom dotted with pecan trees growing some of the finest nuts in the world. They have come to be one of the most important products of the Lone Star State, and the industry of gathering them puts large sums in circulation among the poor class of inhabitants. Unfortunately the largest and best nuts are on the topmost branches. It is necessary to climb the trees and thrash down the nuts, but the upper limbs generally escape because too slender. Pangle found that the rains insured an unusually heavy crop of good quality this year. Before he left Brazil an American in communication with the natives had agreed to send him monkeys as needed. It only remained for Pangle to "say when." He immediately set about getting a corner on all the pecan trees within 20 miles of Marble Falls. He contracted to take the crop of numerous groves. On the Colorado bottom he found pecan trees scattered over several thousand acres of land owned by a cattle syndicate and got the crop for a song. These are the tallest trees in Texas, and the nuts are the largest of the kind in the world.

Pangle cabled his agent in Brazil to ship him 100 monkeys. Twenty-five were sent from Rio Janeiro in charge of a Brazilian keeper, and all but three came through alive and well. Pangle astonished the people of Marble Falls one day by turning his strange troop loose in the public park. Most of the spectators saw only a lot of scampering, chattering, tail twisting animals cutting many a laughable monkey shine, but it was an anxious hour for Pangle. Would the monkeys redeem their promise and make his corner on pecan trees go or would they fall back into their primitive ways and make him the laughing stock of all Texas?

The Brazilian sent several of the baby faced animals into a tall pecan tree in the plaza and went through his repertory of whistling, clucking, gesticulating and shouting to make them gather the nuts. For a time they paid no attention to him, and it looked as though Pangle had paid a big price for the cap and bells, but that was probably because the joy of being again free among the trees deafened the monkeys to the call of duty. It was only for a short time, however, for their nut wise ways soon came back to the simians, and they began to pick the green pecans. As they dropped a shower of nuts to the ground the crowd greeted the performance with cheers, and a responsive chattering came back from the topmost boughs.

Many Texans are now more than half convinced that Pangle is a genius. He has 75 more monkeys on the way and is confident he will have a fortune gathered in with his pecans before Christmas. Heretofore about half the crop of nuts has been lost. He thinks he has solved the problem of preventing that loss, and in imagination he already sees himself "the pecan king of Texas."

He has been confined to his home with feebleness of age for two years, but had been in usual health and about the house as usual until last Friday when symptoms of heart trouble were noticed and he gradually sunk away from this life. He was a man of strict integrity and great firmness of purpose. He enjoyed a wide circle of friends and had the good will and respect of all who knew him. For many years he was clerk of the Universalist society. He leaves a son, Mr. A. W. Gardner, (mail carrier at Quincy) and a daughter, Mrs. Lucy A. Blauvelt of North Weymouth, who for several years resided on Gay street, Quincy. The funeral at his residence, Fort Hill, Hingham, Friday, 2 P. M., was attended by Rev. Merrill C. Ward.

PEKING SIEGE HORRORS

Thrilling Details Related by One of the Besieged.

KINDNESS OF MINISTERS' WIVES.

Gave All Their Linens and Silks For Bandages and Scrubbed Out the Hospitals—Brave Marines of All Nations Fought and Were Killed Side by Side.

The Canton Black Flags are gathering near Tien-tsin and are coalescing with the Boxers, says Seymour Hankin, the New York Journal's correspondent, writing from Tien-tsin, China, under the date of Aug. 27. They have many guns and are ready for battle, which may break out at any time.

It is reported that Admiral Seymour has resolved to desecrate the graves of the dead at Peking as a reprisal upon the Chinese nation. Permission has been refused to the Chinese to dig up their dead.

Mrs. M. S. Woodward, whose husband is a Chicago fire insurance man, gives thrilling details of the siege of the legations:

impressed me so that I can never forget their gallantry, pluck and humanity.

"The American troops were so young, too, or at least so they appeared to me. I worked in the hospital. It always brought tears to my eyes to see them lying together like brothers—Russians, Germans, Americans, Austrians, Italians and French.

"Mrs. Conger and Lady Macdonald gave up their fine linen embroideries, presents from the king of Korea, and their damask tablecloths and just stripped their trunks for materials for sandbags, pyjamas and sheets for the hospitals.

"The ministers' wives actually scrubbed out the hospital. We should never have come through it alive had it not been for Gamewell, the American missionary, who took hold of things and made marvelous fortifications to resist the bloodthirsty hordes outside.

"The Chinese Christians did all the hard manual labor and bravely assisted the Europeans and Americans. We lived on horse meat, which we found enjoyable, and also got down to the third grade of rice.

"Minister Conger was always cheerful. He kept up our spirits with wonderful success. Six others and myself slept in a small room in the British legation after we had to abandon the American legation on account of the shells. When an American soldier was buried, I stood by and saw the Russians put earth under his arms and head to make him sleep more comfortably, for they were brothers, they said.

"Young Mitchell was one of the bravest there. He captured a flag from the Chinese with his own hand. Then he found an old Chinese gun in a shop and, securing Russian ammunition and an Italian carriage, fitted it up as a piece of artillery. It was fired by an English gunner. We called it 'the international gun.' This brave young American marine is now in hospital with a shattered arm, standing his injuries with patience and heroism.

"Mrs. Conger was our fairy godmother, and so we called her. She always had some one thing more to give away to the needy. She has absolutely nothing left herself now for the winter if she stays in Peking.

"The women doctors and nurses slaved day and night in the hospital. There were Drs. Martin, Jerry, Mackaye, Gloss, Leonard and Sisters Lambert and Jessica. We forgot for a time our anxiety for our dear ones in watching the heroic and unselfish service of all for the mutual good, irrespective of nationality or creed.

"The bravery of the soldiers who held the wall and saved us was a lesson and a marvel."

French Army's War Preparations.

A large number of the new French fieldpieces, with quick firing action, are being manufactured as quietly as possible, so as to spring a surprise upon an enemy in the event of war, as in the case of the new rifled field gun in 1859 and the mitrailleuses in 1870, says the Pittsburg Dispatch. The moral effect of such surprises is the chief element of their value.

ROYAL
Baking Powder
Absolutely Pure

Makes hot breakfast-breads wholesome—no yeast germs, no alum. Makes cake, biscuit and pastry of superior fineness, flavor and delicacy. Makes food that will keep moist and sweet. Is most economical, because it is the purest and greatest in leavening strength. In the easy, expeditious preparation of the finer cakes and pastries appropriate to the season, Royal is indispensable.

Care must be taken to avoid baking powders made from alum. Such powders are sold cheap, because they cost but a few cents per pound. Not only will they spoil the cake, but alum is a corrosive acid, which taken in food means injury to health.

Metropolitan Parks Now in System cost $130,000 and interest.

Editors of the Ledger:

The cost of the system of Metropolitan parks and boulevards, including accrued interest, is understood to be, approximately, ten millions of dollars. Were this sum to be liquidated at once by the thirty-nine cities and towns concerned, the portion that the City of Quincy would be called upon to pay—based upon a like percentage as has been just established by Commissioners for meeting its annual contribution—would exceed, somewhat, one hundred and thirty thousand dollars.

This shows that the City of Quincy by legislative acts has incurred the above debt, to which must be added the annual interest charges for a long term of years, the expenses of the Metropolitan Park board, and the care, maintenance and operation of the parks, reservations, boulevards and other works acquired.

It has been remarked facetiously, but truly, that "The Metropolitan chickens are now coming home to roost," and opinion settles down into the believe that the legislature in authorizing the large appropriations, has made a deep plunge into the pockets of the people. LEWIS BASS.

ANNUAL APPEAL.

A Meritorious Plan for Raising Hospital Funds.

The Trustees of the City Hospital of Quincy have tried many plans for raising the sum annually required for the maintenance of the institution which is doing noble work, and is now one of the necessities of the city. There has been well founded criticism, that the hospital is continually begging. It is to overcome this that the trustees have labored, and when the citizens learn that a per capita gift of but fifty cents annually is required, it would seem as if the necessary number of pledges should be promptly secured. The annual appeal is about to be issued.

The trustees say: "It is believed by the Trustees of the City Hospital of Quincy that nearly every workingman would be willing to make a small contribution towards its maintenance, and that he would prefer to do this at some stated time each year.

"If every man on the pay roll of the various stone manufacturers and other employers of labor will contribute yearly 50 cents, the amount received, together with other generous contributions which are assured, will be sufficient to guarrantee that the Hospital will be continually maintained in a manner to render the greatest service to those who need it. The matter would be much simplified if an arrangement could be made whereby each employer would collect the amount from his men during Hospital Week and remit the total to the Treasurer about October 15; therefore the Trustees hereby ask each employer in Quincy to place this appeal before his men and request each to sign the agreement."

The pledge reads: "I hereby agree to contribute yearly 50 cents towards the support of the City Hospital of Quincy, payable in October of each year as long as I am employed by ——— and hereby authorize ——— to pay the same on my account."

Mr. Albert Keating, one of the trustees, will, during the next two weeks, call upon every business, salaried and professional man in the city, and solicit his co-operation. Employers will be furnished with copies of the above for signatures.

The continued case of Eva Mooney for keeping a disorderly house at Houghs Neck was heard. There was no evidence of any kind to substantiate the complaint. The government witnesses who resided near the cottage occupied by the defendant had seen nothing suspicious about the place, and had heard of no disturbance other than singing which was as common among other cottages as this. It also came out that the house was leased to the defendant's parents, who also resided there. No evidence for the defence was offered and the court ordered the complaint dismissed.

Gentlemen:—Our family realize so much from the use of GRAIN-O that I feel I must say a word to induce others to use it. If people are interested in their health and the welfare of their children they will use no other beverage. I have used them all, but GRAIN-O I have found superior to any, for the reason that it is solid grain.

THE GALVESTON HORROR

Remarkable Incidents of the Storm Described by Survivors.

ESCAPES AND DEEDS OF HEROISM.

How James Irwin Found His Wife. George McIlhenny's Brave Fight For Life—Heroism of Three Galveston Police Officers—A Commercial Traveler's Great Run For Life.

Many stories are told by the survivors of the great catastrophe at Galveston of marvelous escapes from hurricane and flood and of the heroism displayed by men and women in saving or attempting to save their fellow sufferers, says the New York World.

Mr. and Mrs. James Irwin got out on the roof of their dwelling and when the building blew over they floated off separately on sections of the roof. Mrs. Irwin was on her raft alone all night. Mr. Irwin, who had found refuge at the Ursuline convent and who despaired of seeing his wife again, heard a cry for help. Hoping merely to rescue a fellow sufferer, he swam out to the raft and was overjoyed to find his wife.

A woman and her daughter from St. Louis were in Officer Bowe's home when the storm struck the house and washed it from its foundation. The officer made a heroic effort to save the women and children and had partly succeeded when a house came rushing down the street and demolished the raft upon which six persons were battling with the storm. Bowe was carried away, but saved himself by clutching a piece of wreckage, to which he clung until rescued.

Mrs. Dorrian, five children and nine other persons had taken refuge in a house at Twenty-seventh street and Avenue L. The Dorrian home, which was deserted, withstood the storm, while the house where the frightened women and children sought refuge was wrecked. Adolph Schuler, his mother and five sisters left their own home, thinking it would not withstand the storm, and sought protection in a house which was crushed to kindling wood. Their own home was not wrecked.

George McIlhenny was rescued alive, but completely exhausted. He says the water came up so rapidly that he and his family sought safety upon the roof. He had a son, Haven, in his arms, and the other children were strapped together. It was not long before a heavy piece of timber struck Haven, killing him. The father then took up young Rice, another son, and while he had the boy in his arms he was twice washed off the roof, and in this way young Rice was drowned. Finally the roof blew off the house, and as it fell into the water it was broken in two, Mrs. McIlhenny remaining on one half and Mr. McIlhenny on the other. The portion of the roof to which Mrs. McIlhenny clung turned over, and this was the last seen of her. Charles Wollam lost his life after he had saved several women from drowning and while he was trying to save others.

Stories of heroism making one proud to be an American are told. Take, for example, the devotion to duty shown through that Saturday night, Sept. 8, by Byrd, Johnson and Rowan, three of the remnants of Galveston's police force. When the waters swept up the streets and panic began to spread, these officers found their way to the city hall and reported to their chief, Captain Ketchnim, for duty. Hour after hour they made life saving trips in various directions as the chief gave the orders. Houses were falling; the wind carried through the air bits of boards, of slate and glass. The officers piloted women and children through the water to the city hall. They rescued from wreckage many who must have perished from fright and exposure before morning. Without one word of fatigue or of languor, their chief says, these men continued their life saving all night.

A graphic description of one man's experiences is given by a commercial traveler, Mr. Van Eaton, says the New York Sun. He reached Galveston on Saturday morning, Sept. 8. His narrative is especially interesting, because it shows with what suddenness the storm assumed dangerous character. There were high wind and rain. So light was thought of it, however, that Mr. Van Eaton and some acquaintances started down to the beach. The water came up so rapidly that the party turned and hurried toward the hotel. Before they reached it they had to wade in water waist deep.

"Within a few minutes," said Van Eaton, "women and children began to flock to the hotel for refuge. All were panic stricken. I saw two women, one with a child, trying to get to the hotel. They were drowned not 300 yards from us."

Mr. Van Eaton was one of the first to cross from Galveston to the mainland after the storm subsided. He paid $15 to a boatman to make the crossing. When he reached land, he found an engine and a caboose chained together with the water several feet deep around them. While he waited in the caboose for the water to go down, the bodies of two men and a boy floated against it, and the trainmen tied them to one end of the car. Mr. Van Eaton counted 14 bodies that had drifted in from the bay, all showing that they had been dashed against wreckage.

A Big Rise In Elephants.

"The price of elephants in Siam has gone up threefold," writes the British consul at Chiengmai in his report for 1899, published the other day. This is a serious rise, says the London Express, for it is impossible to work the teak forests, on which the prosperity of Siam largely depends, without elephants.

FOREMOST FALL MODES.

The Overskirt Has Fallen by the Way—Boleros and Etons In Favor.

Graduated folds are seen as a trimming on many of the fall gowns and are a compromise between the plain hem of the traditionally correct empire gown and the billowing frou frou in which women have luxuriated during the past season, according to the New York Sun, from which are gleaned the following items of autumn fashions: An absolutely plain skirt, shirred over the hips and finished with five tuck folds, is a charmingly simple model for a young girl, and with an empire bodice and soft empire sash it makes up a costume that has just the required touch of graceful simplicity.

The question of skirts is almost as puzzling and indefinite just at present as is the question of sleeves; but, on the whole, the new skirts show less of the prophesied fullness than was expected. The sheer and clinging materials are frequently shirred across the hips and back, but the heavier gowns keep the old clinging curves across the hips and the inverted plait back and rely upon stitched plaits and bands for trimming above the knees. Yokes of lace, stitched cloth or braiding are used in moderation, and in such cases the sides and back of the skirt are slightly full on the yoke.

The most pronounced innovation in skirts is the front panel, which is more and more in evidence. It appears in lace, braiding and embroidery, and as the season advances gowns in two materials are more common, the outer skirt falling over a petticoat front.

The overskirts heralded in the early summer have apparently fallen by the way, and for the present at least woman is saved from panniers and need not be a Watteau shepherdess unless she really longs for the role. Styles are well within the lines of artistic variety, reflecting the virtues of empire, Louis XV, 1830 and other modes without embracing their defects. The princess gown has not come forward so prominently as was foretold, although, with modifications, it is often seen.

There is no doubt that the bolero is to hold its popularity during the coming season, and the Eton also appears to have a long lease of life. Nine-tenths of the smart autumn tailor gowns already shown have been made with an Eton or a bolero of some sort, and the larger jacket, save in the Louis XV coats of silk or velvet and in the outside coats, is conspicuous by its absence.

A gown of creamy gray cloth has an Eton coat to which stitched vertical bands of the goods are applied, crossing a broad band of guipure and buttoning with small gold buttons, to the stitched band around the bottom of the jacket. Tabs of black velvet, tipped with gold, knot loosely across the chiffon vest and hold the jacket fronts in place.

The covert cloth top coat is always with us, but three-quarter length and long cloaks seem the prevailing models so far. Aside from the dressy dust cloaks, there are the "l'aiglon" and the raglan, hanging loosely in front to three-quarter length and fitting more closely in the back, and there are innumerable half fitting three-quarter coats in biscuit and gray cloth, with braided, embroidered or fur yokes and collars.

Small capes have soared into favor again, and three, four or even five little capes fall over the shoulders of many of the newest coats, broadening the shoulder line in most desirable fashion and offering vantage ground for the inevitable stitching, braiding or embroidery.

More Shirt Waists.

"The confirmed lover of shirt waists will have an orgy in the fall if present indications continue," says the New York Sun. "All the prophets honored in the fashion world have been denouncing the shirt waist, but the devotees, like the 'tar baby' of blessed memory, 'kep' on sayin nuffin' and bought more shirt waists. The flannel waists of last season are to appear in brighter and more attractive guise. The patterns and colors of the new flannels offer a variety and beauty never before attained in that material. The Persian designs are particularly effective, and conventionalized lotus flowers and leaves on delicate grounds of iris, pastel blue, silver green, etc., are beautiful both in flannels and silks, while dots, big, little, rim encircled, varying in size, in two colors on one background—every variety of dot imaginable is represented in the shirt waist stuffs.

"It is said that taffeta separate waists are to give way almost entirely to more serviceable and pliable silks, preferably satin souple of a dull finish. Lace waists are to be still the correct thing, and a lace waist dyed to some soft tint, made over cream and worn with a cloth skirt of the same color, is all that there is of the most chic."

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning Sept. 16—Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle.

Topic.—The broad way; the narrow way.—Math. vii, 13, 14.

Christ here uses the familiar illustration of a way to describe life. He points out that there are two ways, one of which we must follow, and then describes these ways by contrasts. He speaks of the gates (the entrances to the way), the ways themselves, the ends of the ways and the number who travel them. In this order let us study these solemn words of the Master.

1. The wide gate and the strait gate. The gate or entrance to the broad way is wide. It is easy to go through, because in entering it we follow our natural inclinations, and it is easier to do this than to go against them. The gate or entrance to the narrow way is strait or straitened or pressed together, so that it is difficult of entrance. Christ Himself is the door to the Christian life, and we find Christ through repentance and faith. All recognize the fact that the human heart naturally inclines toward sin and from Christ rather than from sin to Christ; hence the wide and strait gates.

2. The broad way and the narrow way. The way of sin and the world is not only more easily entered than the Christian way, but it is easier to follow. It is broad; the other is narrow. A broad way is easier traveled than a narrow way, particularly the narrow ways of the east. It is hard to live a Christian life even after we enter the strait gate. We still go against our natural inclinations. It is easy to travel on the broad way because we are going with the stream. In the world we go with the current; in Christ we go against it. The one is therefore easier to travel than the other.

3. The broad way leads to destruction, the narrow way to life. The end of the one is hell, eternal separation of the soul from God. The end of the other is heaven, the eternal life of the soul with God. The end of the ways should determine which one we should travel. A wise and prudent man looks at the end of a road to determine whether or not he will enter it. What though the entrance be easy and pleasant if the end is death? Hell is robbed of none of its sorrows because we reach it by an easy road. On the other hand, what though the entrance to a road be difficult and the road itself hard of travel if the end pays, if the end is eternal life? The joys of heaven will be all the sweeter because they have been difficult of attainment and because they have caused us toil and labor, self denial and sacrifice.

4. Many go in at the wide gate and travel the broad way. Few find the straight gate and enter it. If this is true, it is no reason why we should enter the broad way or travel upon it. To know that millions are poor does not alleviate the sufferings that sometimes come as a result of poverty. To know that millions were dying of hunger or thirst would not lessen our sufferings if we were in the same condition. The numbers of the lost will not detract from the sorrows of the lost. Let us follow the voice of wisdom and enter and travel upon the road that leads to eternal life.

THE PRAYER MEETING.

Make this meeting evangelistic in character, giving associate members or others present an opportunity to enter the straight gate to the narrow way, which leads to life.

BIBLE READINGS.

Deut. xxx, 15-20; Ps. i, 1-6; xxxvii, 5; xxxiv, 1; Prov. iv, 25-27; xiv, 12; Isa. xxxv, 8-10; Math. vii, 24-27; Luke xiii, 24; John xiv, 1-7.

Lecturing From the Pulpit.

Preaching has not lost its hold on the people, but a good deal of lecturing and not a little reading of essays and papers in the pulpit under the name of preaching has failed to draw and hold the interest of the general public. The "all round minister" who knows what his people are thinking about all week and who goes to his pulpit to tell them how to think their thinking according to his thinking is apt to prove a weariness to flesh, mind and spirit. The fact that they have been thinking of secular things all the week and putting these thoughts into the great conflicts of the day is the reason why they want a change on Sunday. They do not want to leave religion out of their daily lives, but they do want to get some religion to put into their daily lives, and they come to church for it, but get too often a warmed over mess of their everyday experiences.—Universalist Leader.

A Prayer.

We thank Thee, Lord, for the glory of the late days and the excellent face of Thy sun. We thank Thee for good news received. We thank Thee for the pleasures we have enjoyed and for those we have been able to confer. And now, when the clouds gather and the rain impends over our forest and our house, permit us not to be cast down. Let us not lose the savor of past mercies and past pleasures; but, like the voice of a bird singing in the rain, let grateful memory survive in the hour of darkness. If there be in front of us any painful duty, strengthen us with the grace of courage; if any act of mercy, teach us tenderness and patience.—Robert Louis Stevenson.

The Things Worth Doing.

If life is spent in a mad scamper after things of no real value or even after valuable things we can grasp but superficially, it is as much wasted as if thought were dulled or opportunities neglected. The hungry mind should not injure itself by gorging what it cannot digest. Wisdom lies in clearly discriminating the things worth doing, the objects worth pursuing, from those which, though perhaps good for others, may not be good for us.—Christian Register.

MINERS GRIMLY DETERMINED.

Women May Prove an Important Factor In the Impending Labor Struggle.

Hazleton, Pa., Sept. 15.—The utmost tension prevails throughout the anthracite coal region. The miners feel that they are on the eve of a big battle. They are grimly determined, and all who know of the spirit which animates them predict that the struggle will be long and fierce.

The women are even more determined than the men. Many said that they would sooner starve than endure the present conditions any longer. The women will certainly be heard from in the coming struggle. They are good fighters and they will hold out longer than the most determined of the men.

Most of the mines were working at their usual capacity yesterday, but one could see that there was unrest among the groups of men as they entered and left the mines.

There is one disquieting feature in the situation. It is feared that in a few of the collieries a sufficient number of non-union men may be prevailed upon to remain to keep the mines partially in operation.

The mines at the Cranberry colliery of A. Pardee & Co. were polled by a committee of the men employed in that mine for the purpose of ascertaining whether they would strike on Monday.

It was stated by the committee that three-fourths of the men said they were opposed to striking, and that they would report as usual for work next week when the strike order is to go into effect.

Over 400 men are employed at this colliery. Rev. Carl Houser of Freeland, Milnesville, Harwood and Eckley, in an interview, declared the Lithuanians of the region, as far as he could judge, were not in favor of a strike.

Serious Cutting Affray.

Boston, Sept. 15.—Slashed across the abdomen with a knife, in the hands of a man whom he had just assisted in ejecting from the building, John Reardon, porter in the United States hotel, tottered into the emergency hospital shortly after midnight this morning, calling for help. A hasty examination, and he was placed on the operating table, a long row of stitches taken in the gaping wound, from which his bowels protruded. The doctors think the man has a chance for recovery, if he withstands the shock. Some 10 minutes before the attack on Reardon a man had been creating a disturbance in the hotel, and the clerk called upon Reardon to aid in ejecting the man. He resisted and was put out with such force as was necessary. Unnoticed, the man returned and sprang fiercely forward, striking Reardon with a knife. The assailant escaped.

Two Verdicts In Hoboken Horror.

New York, Sept. 15.—Two coroner's juries which had inquired into the deaths of the victims of the Hoboken dock fire returned their verdicts last night. The first inquest embraced all of the victims who perished by drowning, and its primary object was to inquire into the alleged inhumanity of tugboat captains. The jury concluded that the stories were well founded, but the names of none of the captains could be learned. In the second inquest, embracing the burned victims, the verdict was that the origin of the fire was unknown to the jury.

Victory For Home Troops.

Berlin, Sept. 15.—The military maneuvers in Pomerania, carried out in accordance with plans prepared by Emperor William, came to a termination yesterday. The result was the complete defeat of the invaders, namely the second army corps, by the home troops, the Guard Du Corps, after the former had been made to transfer a division to the Guard Du Corps. The guard cavalry splendidly executed a series of attacks upon the invaders, who tried to escape northward, but were ultimately compelled to surrender.

Corbett Says It Wasn't a Fake.

Queenstown, Sept. 15.—A representative of The Associated Press, on boarding the steamer Campania, from New York, handed to James J. Corbett a number of dispatches relating to the charges against him in New York. He read them and said: "It is ridiculous to say that my fights with Sharkey and McCoy were fakes." Corbett and Marguerite Cornille, the actress, were booked as "Mr. and Mrs. Martin."

A Victory For Maher.

Philadelphia, Sept. 15.—Peter Maher completely out-classed Jim Jeffords in the two rounds of what was to have been a six-round fight here last night. Maher scored his first knockdown in the first round, and when he met the Irishman in the second round Maher went at him and scored three knockdowns in quick succession. The referee stopped the fight.

Ten Farmers on the Jury.

Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 15.—The jury in the case of James Howard, charged with being a principal in the Goebel assassination, was completed yesterday. The jury stands 10 Democrats, one Republican, one anti-Goebel Democrat. Ten of the jurors are farmers.

Suicide by Jumping From Roof.

Lowell, Mass., Sept. 15.—Lizzie Merrill, a young woman concerning whom it is impossible to learn a great deal, jumped from the roof of a building here Friday, sustaining injuries which resulted in her death. No motive is known for the deed.

Weather Conditions and Forecast.

EPIDEMIC OF LOOTING.

Almost Every House In Pekin Is Destitute of Furniture.

Continuation of Brutal Outrages In Tung Chow.

Li Hung Chang Will Proceed Toward Pekin Under the Care of the Russians.

London, Sept. 15.—A copyrighted Associated Press dispatch from Pekin, Sept. 3, via Shanghai, Sept. 13, says: Looting in Pekin continues, both authorized and unauthorized. Few houses are guarded except those occupied by foreigners, the palaces and those in the sacred city.

Almost every house is destitute of furniture. General Chaffee says he could not have believed that any city would ever be given over so completely to looters, and he earnestly desires the co-operation of any nation to prevent this.

On the other hand the missionaries complain because the sacred city has not been looted. They urge that the royal family and other high placed Chinese personages, who were behind all the trouble, should be made to suffer more than those who blindly followed them.

General Fuhushima, the Japanese commander, informed General Chaffee that brutal outrages were being committed in Tung Chow. He told the American commander that he had positive information that many women had thrown themselves into wells, or committed suicide in other ways, after having been outraged, and that there were several authentic cases of coolies who had been killed under peculiarly atrocious conditions. He requested General Chaffee to investigate and then to co-operate with him to check these barbarities, so far as possible. General Chaffee ordered Major Muir to proceed immediately to Tung Chow and to report.

At a council of generals today, the Russian general, Linevitch, said he had received information that two forces of Boxers, one numbering 10,000 and the other 4000, were marching from the south to endeavor to cut the communications of the allies between Pekin and Tientsin. It was finally decided that the line was sufficiently guarded, as the allies would certainly receive definite tidings of the approach of the Boxers in time to mobilize at any given point. The council merely issued orders for increased vigilance on the part of the outposts.

The telegraph lines have been closed against press messages, because of the enormous government business.

"Li Hung Chang will be taken on board a Russian warship at Wu Sung and received by the Russians at Taku," says the Shanghai correspondent of The Morning Post, "and he will be accompanied by the Chinese minister of railways."

According to the Shanghai correspondent of The Times, Earl Li considers that the preliminary difficulty of the negotiations consists in the necessity, which he realizes, of denouncing Prince Tuan and his accomplices to the throne. He is of the opinion that it would be advisable for the allies to take the initiative by compiling a list of those held chiefly responsible and by formulating their demands accordingly.

The Paris correspondent of The Morning Post says: "France and Russia, I have been assured, have agreed to demand the complete disarmament of China, including the razing of the Taku forts and fortifications and arsenals elsewhere."

The Russian legation in Pekin, according to a Taku special, is preparing to move to Tientsin, or to some other point, owing to the difficulty of communicating with the home authorities.

General Chaffee is preparing to make his troops comfortable for the winter. When asked his opinion regarding the situation, he is reported to have answered: "It would be better for the United States troops to leave; but in any event the Chinese Christians will be provided for."

A dispatch from Tientsin, dated Sept. 12, via Taku, Sept. 13, says: The expedition under General Dorward against the Boxers threatening the Tientsin region, reached Tu Liu, on the Grand canal, without opposition, and the city was occupied without a shot being fired. Three columns converged there yesterday, after a two-days' march, and found that the place had already surrendered to one officer and eight Bengal lancers. General Dodward ordered the town burned after it had been thoroughly looted. The villages en route made peace offerings and, in most cases, were undisturbed. Apparently the Boxers have disbanded in that region, and this whole country is quiet.

No News at Washington.

Washington, Sept. 15.—There were no developments in the Chinese negotiations yesterday with which the public could be made acquainted, the whole matter being still in the diplomatic phase and, therefore, not calling for military orders. War department officials are awaiting word from the state department as to the next step expected of the troops, but it is now intimated that this next step will not be taken immediately. The situation has lost something of its acuteness, owing to the change in the attitude of the Russian government.

Retail Milk Dealers to Organize.

Boston, Sept. 15.—The retail milk dealers of Boston met Friday for the purpose of forming an association, the purpose of which would be to take measures guarding against excessive charges on the part of the milk contractors. Several speakers declared that the retailer was utterly at the mercy of the contractor.

Three Negroes Lynched.

Tunica, Miss., Sept. 15.—Frank Brown, William Brown and David Moore, three negroes under indictment for murder, were lynched yesterday by a masked mob composed of about 60 white men.

JUDGING BY EXPERIENCE.

Some Figures Right Here In Massachusetts of Interest to Voters.

During recent years a number of the states have published from year to year from their bureau of labor statistics, information showing the number of persons employed in leading industries, the total wages paid employes and the value of products, etc. In every case where these facts have been published for a sufficiently long time, they show a marked difference between the years of Democratic and those of the Republican administration. In the years of Democratic administration a decided falling off was experienced in business activity, in the number of persons employed, total wages paid, etc.; while during the Republican administrations of Harrison and McKinley there were increases all along the line. The most complete statistics that have been published are those experienced by the state of Massachusetts. During the four years from 1888 to 1892 (Harrison's administration) there was a total increase in Massachusetts of $73,941,880 in the value of the product, $18,244,474 in the total wages paid, and 27,363 in the number of persons employed in the establishments reporting for those years. It was quite a different story under the next four years of Cleveland's administration, with its tariff reform and other Democratic shibboleths. Subtracting the increase of 1894 from the total increase during the other three years, there was a net decrease of $96,916,006 in the value of products, $4,085,252 in the total wages paid, and 16,687 in the number of persons employed. In 1897 and 1898, with McKinley's administration, came again years of prosperity. Once more the same increases are noted all along the line. During these two years, there was a total increase in Massachusetts of $45,300,054 in the value of products, an increase of $4,219,781 in the total wages paid, and of 14,215 in the number of persons employed.

A study of these statistics, plain and homely as they are, ought to furnish an object lesson for the manufacturer, the merchant and laboring men, who are to cast their vote next November either to continue the Republican administration or to have another change. It is a true statement of an eminent statesman: "I know of no other way of judging the future but by the past," and applying this rule to the result of the Republican administration of Massachusetts, ought to convince the most sceptical voter who considers his future welfare in connection with his ballot.

Registration.

The most important work of the political committees of the state at the present time is the matter of registration. It should be the duty of every town committee to carefully compare the assessed list with the last published voting lists, and then use every effort to see that as many names are added to the new voting lists as possible. The importance of this work cannot be underestimated. Here are a few important dates which should be carefully considered by every committee:

Oct. 1. Last day assessment in Boston.

Oct. 4. Evening registration opens in Boston in the several wards, from 6 p. m. to 10 p. m.

Oct. 7. Last day for registrars of voters in every city and town, except Boston, to post in each voting precinct preliminary alphabetical lists of voters.

Oct. 17. Last day for registration in all cities. Upon this day every registry of voters must be kept open from 12 o'clock noon (in Boston from 9 a. m.) until 10 p. m.

Oct. 27. Registration in towns closes at 10 p. m.

Expansion.

There is a rank due to the United States among the nations of the world which will be withheld, if not absolutely lost, by the reputation for weakness. —Washington.

Having practiced the acquisition of territory for nearly 60 years, the question of constitutional power to do so is no longer an open one with us.—Lincoln.

I am persuaded no constitution was ever before so well calculated as ours for extensive empire and self-government.—Thomas Jefferson.

I tell you, increase and multiply and expand is the law of this nation's existence.—S. A. Douglas.

I now behold the great American eagle, with her Stars and Stripes, hovering over the Lone Star of Texas, with cheering voice welcoming it into our glorious Union.—Andrew Jackson.

I do not share in the apprehension held by many as to the danger of governments becoming weakened and destroyed by reason of their extension of territory. —Grant.

Who is right, Mr. Bryan or The Fathers?

Campaign Notes.

The first week of October will be a very busy one in the Republican camp. The caucuses will be held Sept. 24 or Sept. 25, and four days later the conventions will begin. The 12 congressional conventions must be held in advance of the state convention of Oct. 4, and probably several of the county, senatorial and councillor conventions will be held the same week. None of the representative conventions can be held before Oct. 10.

Registration will close at 10 p. m., Oct. 6, but don't delay until the last minute. Why not register today, and then see that your neighbor is registered.

The Republican administration keeps its pledges to the soldiers. The expenditures for national homes and disabled volunteer soldiers since 1867 has been $47,885,382. The appropriations for maintenance of soldiers' homes for the present fiscal year are $2,510,450. To this is to be added clothing, salaries, incidentals and aid to state homes. The amount paid for army and navy pensions for the year was $139,949,717.35.

Mr. George H. Ellis, an Anti-Imperialist, says: "I do not favor a third party ticket. I shall vote for Mr. McKinley because, while I haven't agreed with many things he has done, I believe he has given us a good administration. In choosing between him and Mr. Bryan, I have no hesitation in selecting Mr. McKinley as the proper candidate to support. I am not altogether satisfied with the president's Philippine policy, but I think that thus far he has handled the situation in China very well."

A BIG CATTLE SHOW.

ALL BREEDS TO HAVE RECOGNITION AT THE BUFFALO EXPOSITION.

A Building to Be Devoted to Exhibits of Dairy Appliances, Methods and Products—Milk In All Its Commercial Forms.

It is expected that the live stock, poultry and pet stock exhibits at the Pan-American Exposition next year all told will include about 25,000 individuals. Beginning the latter part of August, Superintendent Frank A. Converse has arranged for a special cattle show, to continue two weeks. The 16 or 17 breeds recognized in this country and Canada, including beef and dairy cattle, will have a place in this division. The classification of beef animals includes the Shorthorns, Herefords, Aberdeen-Angus, Galloways, Devons and Polled Durhams. The National Live Stock, Shorthorn, Hereford and Galloway associations will endeavor to make exhibits excelling in interest any that they have heretofore brought together. The co-operation of these great associations gives strong assurances of an unqualified success in this feature of the show. The National Live Stock association expects to make a very instructive exhibit, showing the character of animals upon the ranches many years ago along with those of the present day, illustrating the remarkable results of scientific breeding.

The dairy associations are putting forth a special effort to be represented at the Exposition by their best animals, and individual exhibitors are preparing to come in considerable numbers with specimens of very fine dairy stock. The displays of dairy breeds will include Jersey, Holstein, Ayrshire, Guernsey, Brown Swiss, Red Polled, French Canadian and Dutch Belted cattle. Liberal prizes are to be awarded by the Exposition for the best animals of the several breeds. These attractive purses are certain to bring out a fine selection of animals.

So important are the dairy interests of the Americas that a large building will be devoted exclusively to them at Buffalo. The building will be equipped with a complete refrigerating outfit, so that fresh exhibits may be shown throughout the continuance of the Exposition. The many ins and outs of dairy management will be illustrated by means of models of stable appurtenances, ties, water buckets, mangers and appliances of all kinds. Particular attention will be given to the proper manipulation of dairy products.

In this connection will be shown all sorts of churns, separators, vats, bottles, butter workers, cans, creamers, apparatus for sterilizing and pasteurizing and vessels for setting and shipping milk. An exhibit will be made with special reference to the sanitary and hygienic management of the animals themselves, the stables which they occupy and the buildings in which the milk and cream are cared for. It has been found that nearly all diseases to which dairy cattle are subject can be avoided by cleanliness and proper management. The germ theory of the transmission of disease has had a revolutionary effect in dairy management, and the importance of the observance of hygienic rules will be graphically portrayed. The ventilation of dairy buildings, having due regard for the comfort and health of the animals, has been developed upon scientific lines, and present knowledge upon this feature of dairy construction will be shown by means of proper models. The exhibit of dairy products will include milk and cream in all their commercial forms, embracing pasteurized, sterilized and condensed milk, butter and many varieties of cheese.

America has never produced a distinctive breed of beef or dairy animals, but scientific breeding has so improved upon the imported stock that it is said the American product would hardly be recognized in the land of its origin. The effort will be made at this Exposition to bring to the attention of stock growers, dairymen and unscientific breeders of beef and dairy cattle the advantages to be derived from the possession of choicer and more efficient breeds.

It is said that half the dairymen in the United States are milking cows with no profit to their owners, while it is possible for well bred cows, whose milk is marketed at normal prices, to yield a profit of $100 per annum. This lesson in profit and loss concerns every one who devotes any part of his time to dairy work.

The judging of cattle will take place in the Stadium, where the honors will be bestowed and where an audience of 10,000 people may witness these formalities. The live stock buildings will accommodate not less than 1,000 cattle, and their construction is upon plans best adapted for the comfort and convenience of the animals and herdsmen.

MARK BENNITT.

A $5,000,000 Loan to Germany.

New York, Sept. 15.—The New York Life Insurance company has closed negotiations for taking $5,000,000 of the imperial German government loan of $20,000,000 negotiated in this city. The Evening Post says that the deal thus closed insures the success of the loan in the United States, and marks the culmination of negotiations carried on with the utmost secrecy between leading financiers of both countries.

Laws Adopted by Loomfixers.

Lowell, Mass., Sept. 15.—At Friday's session of the National Loomfixers' association convention it was voted that each association will hereafter establish its own weekly assessment. The by-laws are changed so that no local union could strike without the consent of the national officers. Officers were elected as follows: President, Thomas Lynch, New Bedford; vice president, W. H. Parkinson, Fall River; secretary, Richard Shovelton, Jr., Fall River; treasurer, James Bramford, New Bedford.

FIRST OUT OF GALVESTON.

Perilous Journey of Four Men From the City to the Mainland.

Colonel W. L. Moody's steam yacht Pherabe was the first vessel to leave Galveston after the storm, says a Houston dispatch to the New York Sun. It carried a party of volunteers who risked their lives to inform the outside world of the extent of the suffering and devastation caused by the storm. Lieutenant J. J. Delaney of the Southern Pacific railroad, Richard Spillane, special correspondent of the Galveston Tribune, and E. L. Porch, special correspondent of the Houston Post, and Lawrence V. Elder, superintendent of the Galveston Cotton mills, formed the party.

Mr. Elder acted as the engineer and the three other men served as stokers. That they succeeded in reaching land is considered miraculous by every one of the four who made the trip. Squall after squall struck them and the waves seemed as high as they were when the storm was raging at its highest. To add to the danger the bay was filled with floating wreckage of all kinds, and any one of the big logs that formed part of it would have been sufficient to sink the Pherabe had it collided with her at the proper angle. Lieutenant Delaney had this to say about the trip:

"I have been an officer in the Japanese navy and commanded one of their warships in the battle of the Yalu river. Afterward I was in the United States navy as a lieutenant. In the light of all my years of experience at sea, if any one had told me that a boat of any description could stand the awful buffeting that we went through, I would have laughed at him and would have said that he did not know what he was talking about.

"One minute we were pointing the prow of the boat straight up to the skies. The next we were plunging straight downward, seemingly in a way that presaged sure death. When we got in sight of Texas City, Elder refused to try to go farther and said that we would have to try to make a landing there, as the boat could not live any longer under such conditions. We agreed with him and tried to put in at Texas City. We broke through an almost solid lot of wreckage, and then, when the boat could go no farther, we got to shore by climbing and walking over the wreckage for 75 or 100 feet."

After the party got to the shore they managed to hire a buggy, and they went over the flooded prairie to La Marque. Just below La Marque they report that they encountered a wrecking train of the Galveston, Houston and Henderson railroad. They signaled and shouted to the conductor in the hope that he would take them aboard and carry them through to Houston, but the conductor signaled to the engineer, and the train pulled out, leaving them alone on the prairie. They finally reached Houston by a hand car which they found at La Marque.

BUBONIC PLAGUE GERMS.

Plans Made For the Study of Them In New York.

The board of health of New York has prepared plans for a bacteriological laboratory in which to study the germs of bubonic plague. The structure will cost $25,000. Two cases of bubonic plague have been treated at quarantine during the last year, says the New York Post. The city is said to be totally unprepared for such an emergency as would be occasioned by the appearance of the plague in New York.

Virulent in their nature, the bubonic germs must be cultured with the greatest care. The necessary bacteriological laboratory will resemble from the outside a "bombproof" more than anything else. It will be constructed of steel, with solid asphalt walls. There will be no chimney nor windows. The lighting will be by electricity. Several deaths have occurred from plague among the laboratory workers in Lisbon and Vienna during the last two years.

Streams to Run Trains.

The Great Northern railway of America is going to try to run some of its trains by means of the motive power supplied by mountain streams, says the New York Herald. In other words, Mr. J. J. Hill intends to operate that portion of his road from Everett to Leavenworth, in Washington state, by electric motors, doing away with locomotives. The abundant water power now running to waste beside the tracks is to be harnessed to furnish the electricity. There are numerous mountain streams, each one being a succession of falls and cataracts, and little work will be necessary to utilize them. The district where this experiment is to be tried is in the Cascade mountains, and it is claimed that the operation in winter of the electric motors will possess a great advantage over locomotives. While there are no details published as to the style of construction to be adopted, it is believed that overhead trolley will be the style used. The proposed section of line on which electricity will be introduced is 120 miles long and includes the big Cascade tunnel now in course of construction.

"Let Us Have Peace."

The czar, being approached by an envoy from the Transvaal, said he was sorry that he could do nothing for the Transvaal except to urge it to make peace, as he hated all war. The world may yet come to believe, says the Boston Globe, that the czar is really in earnest in all his talk about peace.

A Still Alarm.

The concert of Europe should at once organize itself into a fire department, says the Philadelphia Ledger, in anticipation of a blaze in the Balkans.

A Far-Famed Region.

Though all New England is beautiful, Central Massachusetts is by all odds one of the most charming and fertile of its many renowned sections. The Fitchburg Division of the Boston & Maine Railroad runs through the most interesting part of the State through the Deerfield Valley and Hoosac Mountain the cut through the mountain known as Hoosac Tunnel, being the largest tunnel in the country. On every hand are delightful scenes, for Massachusetts has a wide variety of landscapes; first a rural country is traversed then comes a mountain and hill district, and the ever changing views are delightful to the extreme. One of Boston & Maine's most popular one-day trips is known as the Hoosac Tunnel excursion, which trip leads through the region designated above, and one of these low rate outings is arranged for Saturday, September 22d, from Boston The rates $2.00 for the round trip, and tickets will be good going on special train which leaves Boston Union station at 8.15 A. M., and good returning on special train on September 22d, or on regular trains on September 23d and 24th. Tickets are on sale at Hoosac Tunnel Ticket Office 260 Washington street. Trains stops at Waltham in both directions but tickets can be obtained only at Boston office.

Castle Square Theatre.

The great production of "Monte Cristo" has proved so strong an attraction at the Castle Square Theatre than the management has decided to continue it another week. The advance sale of seats has been excessive and large audiences are fully assured for the additional twelve performances planned. The members of the stock company have again shown their varied abilities and the play has proved an unqualified success. Some charmingly realistic stage setting have been provided for this production and the series of artistic pictures, planned under the direction of Mr. J. R. Pitman, afford constant pleasure to the audiences. The beautiful scene showing the conservatory and salon of the Count De Morcerf is one of the most elaborate stage settings recently shown at this theatre The usual distribution of souvenir boxes of choice chocolate bon bons will be made at the Monday matinee. The evening performances begin at 7.45 o'clock.

Boston Theatre.

Liebler & Co. make the announcement that the opening performance of their production of "Monte Cristo" at the Boston Theatre, has been postponed to Tuesday, Sept. 18. This is due to the desire of the firm to give twenty-four hours more to scene rehearsals, thereby offering the carpenters and mechanics full opportunity to familiarize themselves with the elaborate settings and intricate machinery required in the production.

The advance sale of seats has now opened. It took the two treasurers of the house four hours to get the first batch of mail orders out of the way. A long line stretches all day in front of the box office, reaching way out into Washington street. It is probably no exaggeration to say that the "Monte Cristo" advance sale is the largest recorded in the history of Boston, since Jenny Lind sang there many years ago. Mr. O'Neill, whose connection with "Monte Cristo" dates back to the days of the John Stetson Company at Booth's Theatre, says that in his entire career, he has never seen a production of the play that could compare with the Charles Fetcher version, which Mr. O'Neill inherited from the celebrated French actor. No one else but Mr. O'Neill has any right to advertise or to play the Fetcher version. The full cast to be seen in Mr. O'Neill's support is as follows: Frederick DeBelleville, Thurlow Bergen, Augustus Cook, Robert Paton Gibbs, Warren Conlan, Edmund Breese, Rebecca Warren, Annie Ward Tiffany, and Vincencia Martinez.

BRAINTREE.

The members of Merrymount lodge, I. O. O. F., of Quincy, of which a large number from this town are members, held a very successful lawn party at the home of Miss Olive Pratt on Franklin street, Tuesday evening.

Frank Walker will play on the Quincy A. A. team, this afternoon.

Olive B. Battles will move with his family to Randolph the first of October.

Rev. L. B. Hatch, formerly pastor of the Baptist church, is enjoying his vacation at Cottage City.

The members of the Braintree Band will play at the Bay State driving club in Watertown Wednesday evening next.

John Coughlin is substituting at the freight house of the N. Y., N. H. & H. railroad here, while the regular clerk, Mr. Somes, is enjoying his vacation.

Antietam Camp, S. of V, held their regular meeting Tuesday evening. They voted to accept an invitation to attend a meeting of the Whitman camp on the 21st of this month.

Through the courtesy of Mr. T. A. Watson, the pupils and teachers of the four upper grades of the Jonas Perkins school witnessed the launching of the lightship No. 72, which they greatly enjoyed, and extend sincere thanks for this privilege.

At a meeting of the selectmen this week the resignation of District Engineer Battles, who is about to leave town, was accepted, and Lieut. Cottrell of H. & L. 2 was chosen to fill the vacancy.

Miss Fielden's room at the Pond school contains sixty first grade children. The committee have decided to give Miss Fielden an assistant at half salery, provided no way can be devised of decreasing the number of pupils to a reasonable limit.

The recent fire at the works of the Jenkins Manufacturing Co. was undoubtedly of incendiary origin as traces of kerosene are very prominent. A thorough investigation is going on and a suspicion of the guilty party is being traced.

The present year has opened most auspiciously for the high school. It is a pleasure to see a senior class of twenty-one members, the largest in the history of the school These pupils will be entitled to receive four years' diplomas next June if the year's work is satisfactorily performed. All of the third year class returned to complete the four years' course except one for whose absence the class is sorry. We know that he would be glad to be with us if it were possible.

Wednesday evening, Sept. 12 was the time of a very happy gathering at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Learnard, corner of Lowell and Park streets, when their son Frank, celebrated his nineteenth birthday. Invitations had been sent out to about forty relatives and friends nearly all of whom were present. Many handsome and appropriate presents had also been sent to testify to the friendship of the giver.

The luscious white and purple grapes also peaches and pears, products of Mr. George Fogg's farm on Quincy avenue, forwarded by Mrs. Fogg to the Jonas Perkins school, were greatly appreciated. Thanks are also due to Mrs. Albert E. Avery for basket of delicious pears. Truly the kindly hearts of East Braintree vie with each other in their efforts to make the teachers' paths as pleasant as possible. May the giver of all gifts return four-fold.

At the meeting of the school committee last Wednesday it was determined to place the pupils of the first grade at the Fenniman school in Miss Knight's room with the pupils of the kindergarten grade. Miss Kennedy was transferred from assisting in the Jonas Perkins kindergarten to assist Miss Knight. Marie Wainwright, one of the most famous of American actresses, will be the star entertainer at Keith's during the week commencing Sept. 17. She will appear in a one-act comedy, "Lady Dye's Escapade," and will be supported by a competent company. Others in the same programme are: Sadie Martinot, for years a favorite in the Boston Museum stock company, who will make her vaudeville debut as a monologist and singer; Hacker and Lester, the noted comedy bicyclists; Louise Dresser and her pickaninnies in "coon" songs; Hendrick and Prescott, dancing specialists; Mai Myota, a wonderful soprano vocalist; Brooks brothers, eccentric comedians; Johnnie Carroll, Irish monologue commedian and singer; Drawee, a marvelous juggler; Will and Loreto, in a comedy sketch; and Les Fraseties, in musical specialties. Prell's great dog act will be held over for another week, and the biograph will continue to show pictures or William J. Bryan and President McKinley, in addition to the usual new views.

—It is not generally known that comparatively few steam railroad companies derive much profit out of their passenger traffic. As a whole, the railroads of the United States obtain only a little more than one-fifth of their total earnings from passenger transportation. Gradually and surely the trolley lines, which use the peoples highways for roadbeds, without paying therefor, and which have station privileges at every street corner, are still further reducing the receipts of the steam railroads.—Charlestown Enterprise.

Bilge Water.

I am quite well aware that there are objections to hospital ships in the tropics. When they are moored, there is the burning question of bilge water. I will not discourse on the subject of bilge water, as inexperience thereof might make the explanation wearisome. Any one acquainted with the bilge water question knows it is of engrossing interest. Bilge is a prince among smells, and if you have ever fallen under its power you will always think that every terrific thing in smells is a manifestation of bilge water.

I remember on one occasion when on board a moored hulk, not a hospital ship, smelling in the evening something that called for mention, so I mentioned it. "Oh," said my companions, more under the sway of bilge water than I was, from their greater knowledge of its power, "it's only our bilge water." In the morning we found it was the rotting carcass of an elephant that had floated down the river and now hung in the mooring chain.

After a considerable time was spent in getting rid of the carcass I said, "For goodness' sake, gentlemen, stir up your bilge water, and let the smells fight it out together while we go ashore for a spell." "No," said my companions, terror stricken at the suggestion. "You do not know our bilge water when its back's up. It would stretch you if you were half way across Africa. This elephant is mere lavender water to it."

This was a more dreadful bilge water than a hospital ship would have. Still, though bad, bilge water is not necessarily fatal under proper management. —Chambers' Journal.

A Historic Die.

On the desk of the secretary of one of the oldest copper manufacturing firms in this city is a steel die which has served as a paperweight for 35 years, and the coins struck off by it are now, for the most part, in the hands of collectors. This die was used for striking copper tokens which symbolized the contest between President Andrew Jackson and the old United States bank of Philadelphia in 1832. The engraving on the die represents President Jackson, sword in hand and apparently standing in a money chest. Around the central figure is stamped Jackson's expression, "I take the responsibility," which arose out of his controversies with the bank.

When this die was made, the predecessors of the present company not only manufactured copper wire, but also made a special feature of copper coins, chiefly for South American countries and for private business firms which made a practice of issuing their own copper coins to be redeemed by them afterward. During the civil war and just preceding it many private corporations issued tokens which circulated as pennies, and some of them are now worth a great many times their original value to collectors.—New York Sun.

Paid His Debt.

When Joe Chamberlain entered the house of commons, he was anxious to try his oratorical powers. A certain leading politician, who was piloting a bill through the house, was approached by one of Mr. Chamberlain's friends, who said:

"Chamberlain would like to speak on the bill. Can you give him a chance?"

"Well, you know, I think it would not do. He's a new member, and nobody knows what the dickens he might say."

Time went on. Chamberlain gained ground—became a power in parliament. The leading politician, on the contrary, had made a series of blunders which had imperiled his position. An election was imminent. Forgetting his previous record, he thought that if he could get Mr. Chamberlain to speak for him he would strengthen his position. He, therefore, applied to the right honorable gentleman.

The latter calmly surveyed him through his eyeglass and said:

"Well, you know, I think it would not do. I am a new member, and nobody knows what the dickens I might say!"

Chinese Porcelain.

Chinese porcelain was common in Europe for 400 years before a German potter succeeded in finding out the process of making it. This Chinese pottery is scattered all over the world and everywhere valued, but nowhere was the distribution more curious than in western Canada. Early in the nineteenth century a Chinese junk was cast away on the Pacific coast of America just south of Vancouver island, and its cargo of willow pattern plates fell into the hands of the Hudson Bay company's officers. Still in the remotest trading posts of the fur traders a few fine specimens remain.

Wanted His Full Share.

Little Willie, sitting down to tea with his grandmother, who is just about to cut the cake. Willie (hastily)—Grannie, before you cut my piece of take I want to ask you a question.

Grannie—Well, dear, what is it?

Willie—I want to know if your spectacles magnify?

Grannie—Yes; a little, dear.

Willie—Well, then, will you please take them off while you cut my cake?

The Theory.

"So he regards himself as a senatorial possibility?" said one politician.

"Undoubtedly," answered the other.

"On what theory?"

"I don't know unless it's the theory that the unexpected always happens."—Washington Star.

Unhappy Coincidence.

Creditor—I wouldn't ask you for the money if I wasn't awfully hard up.

Debtor—And if I wasn't awfully hard up you should have it. Curious coincidence, isn't it?—Boston Transcript.

Motherhood ought always to bring happiness. But it is often the beginning of life-long unhappiness. As a preparation for motherhood, and as a preventive of the ills so often following maternity Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has been hailed as a "God-send to women." It heals diseases peculiar to women, tones up the system, makes motherhood practically painless, and establishes the sound health which insures healthy children.

"During the past year I found myself pregnant and in rapidly failing health," writes Mrs. W. J. Kidder, of Hill Dale Farm, (Enosburg Center), Enosburg, Vt. "I suffered dreadfully from bloating and urinary difficulty. I was growing perceptibly weaker each day and suffered much sharp pain at times. I felt that something must be done. I sought your advice and received a prompt reply. I took twelve bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and also followed your instructions. I began to improve immediately, my health became excellent, and I could do all my own work (we live on a good sized farm). I walked and rode all I could, and enjoyed it. I had a short easy confinement and have a healthy baby boy."

THE PLYMOUTH FIRE.

Rain Comes to the Relief of Those Who Had Been Fighting Flames.

Strip Twelve by Six Miles Completely Burned Over.

Property Loss Will Be More Than $200,000. Great Beauty of the Woodland Destroyed.

Plymouth, Mass., Sept. 17.—After working bravely day and night to check the onward rush of the flames that have raged for miles in the woods and bogs about here all the week, the fire fighters are resting, as the fire has at last ceased burning.

An area of blackened timber 12 miles long and six miles wide, steaming and smoking from the heavy rain of Sunday, marks the ravages of the fire which swept along, taking as a mouthful the dwellings of at least 20 families, killing horses and smaller animals in large numbers, ruining acres of valuable cranberry bogs and endangering the lives of half a hundred persons.

The actual losses will run well over $200,000, while the depreciation of value of wild land, which had its entire value from a sentimental point of view, is great, for the barren waste will no longer be attractive as a summer place, and the cottages which have been burned will not be rebuilt.

The fire was burning with great vigor Saturday night, and had reached nearly as far south as the shores of South pond and Great Herring pond on the southeast, when rain fell. It took hours of a heavy rainfall before there was any perceptible weakening of the blaze, but finally the flames died out, and great banks of smoke hung heavily over the marred countryside. Even after six hours of drenching rain, there yet were many places where the fire blazed tenaciously.

A great number of partridges and rabbits were burned or suffocated, as the remains of many are seen on the edges of what once were covers. Small animals had little chance of escape because of the fire's progress, the whole territory between Sandwich road and Ship pond, a distance of four miles, having burned in 30 minutes on Wednesday, or at the rate of eight miles an hour. At Ship pond, apples were baked on the trees. The southeastern extent of the fire, at Cedarville, in the vicinity of Great Herring pond, burned no houses, although many were situated almost in the woods, and directly in the path of the flames.

Plymouth has gone to an expense of $10,000 for fire-fighting purposes alone, and the town of Wareham has spent a great deal, as have many residents who owned large estates in the vicinity. Many of the burned houses were not wholly protected against fire loss, and the suffering in many families, who have lost houses and probably live stock, is severe.

Nearly all the timber has been burned, with the exception of a belt to the west of here. One can now ride for hours over roads once well wooded, with nothing to greet the view on either hand but burned and blackened stumps. Over half the township has been stripped of its trees.

Judging from the big fire of 30 years ago, it is said that only a small part of the devastated district will sprout. Residents who have witnessed both fires say that following the track of the first fire has grown up dense masses of scrub and ground laurel, which are sure barriers to the progress of a new forest. The real value of the timber is considerable, for there was much fine pine and oak in the district between Agawam and the shore, the entire length of the fire.

Hyannis Has Experience With a Tornado.

Hyannis, Mass., Sept. 17.—A small-sized tornado swept through this town Sunday morning, its path being about 100 yards wide and two miles in length. The storm skipped some buildings in its course and destroyed others. It lasted for two or three minutes. A two-story factory building was moved bodily from its foundations and the lower story crushed in. Several dwelling houses and stables were moved from their supports and unroofed, while many fences, signs, chimneys and towers were blown down, the latter crushing roofs of buildings in their fall.

Captain McQues on's Tragic Death.

Washington, Sept. 17.—The war department yesterday received a dispatch from General MacArthur, as follows: "Charles McQueston (captain Fourth United States infantry) died yesterday at Mangonone, Bacoor, Cavite province, 8:30, evening, resulting from gunshot wound caused by private soldier. Captain McQueston, in a fit of temporary insanity, attacked men of company. Shot one or more and was shot himself in self-defense. Further particulars when received."

Rescued In Nick of Time.

New York, Sept. 17.—Schooner Winnie Lowry, from St. John for Philadelphia, laden with laths, was overtaken by the storm off Sandy Hook Sunday morning and was picked up by a tug and towed into Red Hook. The schooner had lost her mainsail and jibs and was dragging her anchor in an attempt to keep off the shore outside the Hook. The captain and seven seamen were uninjured.

THE COAL MINERS' STRIKE.

An Opinion That Its Success Depends Much Upon the Foreign Element.

Hazleton, Pa., Sept. 17.—The much-talked-of strike of the anthracite mine workers in the coal regions of Pennsylvania under the auspices of the United Mine Workers of America, and which affects about 145,000 union and non-union workers, has been inaugurated. Just how many men obeyed the strike order can only be conjectured as yet. The union officials steadfastly assert that all the union men have remained away from work and will be further strengthened by a large majority of the non-union men. The operators, on the other hand, are confident that the proportion of striking miners has been greatly exaggerated. This afternoon alone can tell which is correct.

Public meetings of miners were held during Sunday in several mining towns. The largest gathering was that at Freeland, 12 miles north, where the union men are not so strong as the organizers would like to have them. This meeting was held in the open air and was addressed by a number of labor leaders well known in these regions. There were 2000 persons in the crowd. When one of the speakers asked all those to raise their hands who were against a strike not an arm went up. All the meetings were held for the purpose of encouraging the men to stand firm in the present conflict, and also to strengthen the union by recruiting new members.

All sorts of guesses are still being made as to the number of men who have remained from work today. The foreign speaking miners are in the majority in the Hazleton district and most of them are in favor of a strike. The English-speaking workmen who are in favor of striking are not so numerous. It seems to those who are in close touch with the situation that all depends on the foreigners. If they conclude to stay away from their work the mines will be so crippled that operations will have to cease, thus forcing idleness upon the English-speaking workmen.

The territory south of Hazleton is well organized and there is some apprehension here that disturbances might occur among the foreigners in that locality. Some of them have made threats of bodily harm against any one who starts work. The United Mine Workers' officials are doing their best to prevent any outbreak.

Contrary to expectation only three or four clergymen in the Lehigh valley preached on the labor troubles and only one, Rev. Carl Houser, took a decided stand against the strike. He is the preacher of three Lithuanian churches, one at Eckley, another at Harwood and the third at Freeland. He preached in all three yesterday and pleaded with his people to go to work.

Brattons in a Murder Scrape.

Columbia, S. C., Sept. 17.—H. A. Brown was shot to death in bed at his home at Rockhill. The coroner's jury found that Brown had been shot by Paul R. Bratton, and that the latter's brother, John S. Bratton, was an accessory. No evidence as to the motive was produced. The Brattons are nephews of the late Dr. J. R. Bratton, the Confederate surgeon, for whose capture the United States government offered a fabulous sum, he being the grand cyclop of the Ku-Klux-Klan. He was kidnapped in Canada by United States detectives and brought to this country, but England protested and he was returned to Canada.

Looks to School Children For the Future.

Santiago, Sept. 17.—The annual report of Colonel Whitside, commander of the military department of Santiago and Puerto Principe, which has just appeared, gives a full account of the civil and military events that have occurred in this department during the last fiscal year and is replete with statistics. He emphasizes the fact that this usually turbulent section of Cuba has during the last 12 months been almost absolutely quiet. Excellent sanitary conditions prevail. Colonel Whitside reports that there are 165,000 schoolchildren in the department. To them he looks for the future of the district.

Greek Warship at Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Sept. 17.—The first Greek warship that has ever visited the United States dropped anchor in the Delaware river last night. The vessel is the Corvette Nauarchos Miaulis. She is used as a training ship and was sent to Philadelphia in order that the naval cadets on board may have an opportunity to visit the shipyards, as well as the great steel plants of Pennsylvania. After her visit to this city the vessel will proceed to New York and Boston.

Crew Probably Lost.

Halifax, Sept. 17.—The capsized schooner Greta has been towed into Louisburg. There are no signs of the crew, who have probably been lost. When picked up by the towboat, the schooner's three spars were floating alongside. The Greta was launched last fall.

Hard Times at Johannesburg.

Johannesburg, Sept. 17.—Provisions are selling at famine prices here, sugar bringing 2s. 6d. a pound and pork the same price, while matches are sold at 1s. per box. Other staple articles are proportionately dear, while many necessities are not attainable at any price.

Killed by Electric Car.

Gardner, Mass., Sept. 17.—John E. Sullivan, aged 25, was instantly killed Saturday night by an electric car. Calvin Miller, the motorman of the car, saw Sullivan lying on the track and reversed the power, but the car struck the man and dragged him 90 feet, then leaving the track.

Susan Anthony Laid Up.

Rochester, Sept. 17.—Susan B. Anthony, the distinguished woman suffragist, is ill at her home here, having suffered a collapse a week ago and has been confined to her room since. Members of her family say her condition is not alarming. She is 80 years old.

SIX THOUSAND DEAD.

Property Loss at Galveston Will Not Be Less Than Fifteen Millions.

Stricken City Is Bravely Surmounting Obstacles.

Putting Forth Best Efforts to Clean Up and Resume a Position of Prosperity.

Galveston, Tex., Sept. 17.—Six thousand people out of Galveston's papulation of 38,000 were killed in the recent hurricane and tidal wave. The area of total destruction was 1300 acres. There were 5000 dwellings, hotels, churches and convents utterly destroyed.

More than 1500 bodies have been burned. The property loss is not less than $15,000,000.

One hundred and twenty-five men, most of them negroes, were shot to death for robbing the dead.

Out of this disaster, unparalleled in the history of the nation, Galveston is rising to reclaim her place among the most prosperous of our cities.

A week ago gloom, desolation and despair prevailed in this storm-torn city. Today hope and determination have seized the people; they realize that the task before them is gigantic, yet with the generous aid that is flowing to them from all parts of the civilized world, and their own indomitable purpose, the sick and wounded will be healed, the destitute relieved, the recuperation of Galveston will be speedy, the city will be rebuilt and her commercial career started anew. Such is the spirit displayed today by this grievously stricken people.

Looting and the desecration of corpses have ceased since the military have assumed charge of affairs, and they are co-operating harmoniously with the civil authorities. Sheriff Thomas is in charge of the isolated district and is directing interment and the recovery of property there. United States Marshal Grant has been given full authority by General Scurry and is directing affairs on the mainland, aided by a troop of rangers, who are ordered to make short work of looters and arrest all suspicious characters. The rangers and the militia and civil guards, stationed at Texas City and Virginia Point, are under the direction of Marshal Grant. These are the two points of ingress into the city. Marshal Grant also has control over all the railways running into the city and all craft plying between Virginia Point and Texas City and no one can embark or disembark at these places without his permission unless having authority so to do from his superior officers. The destitute, wishing to go to friends in the country, are given free transportation and being sent out of the city as rapidly as the limited transportation facilities at the disposal of the committee on transportation will permit. The owner of any water craft or railway found guilty of charging more than the regulation fare will be arrested and severely dealt with.

The cleaning up and disinfecting of streets, stores and buildings goes bravely on and the sanitary condition of the down-town portion of the city has been greatly improved. Mayor Jones states there will be no letup in the work until the entire city is cleansed and disinfected.

Dry goods stores and clothing houses resemble great laundries, and every available space is occupied with goods hung up to dry. Fortunately the weather is clear, hot and dry for this purpose. Those merchants whose stocks were but slightly damaged have done a rushing business, and so have the restaurants, but their stocks are very limited and fresh meat difficult to obtain. Extortions are rare exceptions, although the supply of food at hotels and restaurants is limited. This will be remedied in a few days.

Since all the railways terminating here have united upon one bridge and are pushing the work night and day with a large force reconstructing it, while the tracks are being restored on the island and mainland by large forces, it is confidently asserted that Galveston will have communication direct two days hence. If this is done it will relieve the existing situation wonderfully, as all supplies are now brought in by boat.

The following note was sent to The Associated Press at the request of Governor Sayers:

"Governor Sayers gave out the following: Reports sent out from this place that $800,000 or $900,000 had already been paid in are absolutely false, and made without authority and calculated to do harm to the needy sufferers on our coast. No such sum of money has been received, or anything approaching it. It is believed that the stories have done great harm, in that they have prevented the contribution of money, which is sorely needed at Galveston."

Services were held yesterday in the few churches made fit for use since the storm. All day men and boys were at work clearing away the debris. Only a few dead were found during the day, and they were quickly burned, no attempt being made to identify them.

The national hymn of China is so long that the singing of it occupies half a day.

Good Afternoon.

Good for Brockton; the Shoe City has turned 40,000 in population, a gain of over 46 per cent. in ten years.

New Britian, Conn., increased in population from 16,519 in 1890 to 25,998 in 1900. Can Quincy do as well. We had 16,723 in 1890 and 20,712 in 1895.

The heavy rain Sunday morning was welcome is more ways than one. It was the first good rain since the middle of August. Lawns were all dried up and vegetable gardens, what there was left of them, were about ruined for lack of rain.

It is probable that if the city desires the boulevard it will have to make over to the Metropolitan Park Commission a part of the Willard School yard, a strip 320 feet long by 80 feet wide. Under the boulevard act the city can recover no damages. The boulevard on its way from Merry Mount Park to the Blue Hills Reservation passes through this particular lot of land.

Drift of Opinion.

☞ There will be fun in Portland before long. Rev. Samuel F. Pearson, a Prohibition clergyman, endorsed by the Democrats, was elected sheriff of Cumberlain county on the express issue of his rigid enforcement of the Maine Prohibitory laws. His election has sent spasms through the veins of Portland liquor sellers already and there is plenty for them to fear from Portland's Dr. Parkhurst.—Milford Journal.

NOVEL PROCESSION.

Officer Barry Marches Italian Fruit Peddlers to Lockup.

It was quite a procession of Italian fruit peddlers with push carts, that came down Hancock street just before 7 o'clock Saturday night headed by Officer Barry. Every Saturday night there has been a line of fruit push carts along the edge of the sidewalk between Williams corner and City Hall. Many complaints have been made by storekeepers and the Italians have been repeatedly warned to keep away, but all to no purpose.

Saturday night Officer Barry told the fellow at Williams corner to come to the police station with him. As he went along he gathered in the other fellows in the same manner. When City Hall was reached there were ten in all and such a jabbering. They completely filled the police station yard so that it resembled a fruit wharf.

The fellows were lined up before Chief Ripley, who read the riot act to them. He informed them that it was against the ordinance to do as they had been doing, and that if they did not stop he should have to take them into court. They were given to understand that there must be no more peddling along the sidewalk and then allowed to depart.

May Be Sailed Over.

The first race for the W. M. Chase cup, under the auspices of the Wollaston Yacht club, was sailed on the club house on Saturday afternoon. The course was seven miles, and to secure the cup, two out of three races must be won. Saturday's race was upon the whole, far from being satisfactory, as the course buoys were out of place, and the competing yachts lost considerable time in trying to locate them. For this reason the race may be sailed over.

Five boats competed. The Mudjekewiss took the lead until the first buoy, when she parted her throat halliards and withdrew. Shortly ofter three of the other boats withdrew, leaving the Thelma II and Quissett to fight it out. The Quissett crossed the line first at the finish, leading the Thelma II about one minute, but as she allows the latter boat four minutes it gave the race to Thelma II.

Church Goers Complained.

Sunday many people who desired to attend church, and who depended on the electric cars were prevented from doing so, in the fact that only open cars were to be had. At about time for the service to begin in the forenoon the cars were dripping with water, both as to curtains and seats, and gentlemen who took them were obliged to stand or to sit in puddles on the seats and many ladies who looked into the cars went away rather than take the risk of colds or of soiled garments. Yet the storm, which threatened a long northeaster and coming on a flood-tide with no abatement on an ebb-tide, began at one o'clock in the morning. There was time in getting out cars to have selected closed ones. People felt that they had a right to complain.

Struck by Train.

Timothy Sullivan, of 14 Parker street, while waiting for a train at the Columbus avenue station of the Boston & Albany railroad, Sunday afternoon, was struck by an inward train and severely injured, receiving a compound fracture of the shoulder and several scalp wounds. His escape from being killed was miraculous, the only thing that saved him was that the train was slowing up. He was taken aboard the train and Dr. T. J. Dillon of Roxbury, who was a passenger, attended to his injuries and fixed him up with splints and bandages. When Sullivan arrived at the South station he was taken to the City Hospital.

Sullivan crossed the track in front of the train and was knocked down and dragged several feet. He is about 38 years of age.

Too Much Beer.

A South Boston Senator entertained a party of friends at New Downer Landing Park on Sunday. There were about 75 in the party and they had a warm time. Everything went well until after dinner when the stimulants which had been taken presumably to aid digestion began to work, and before the party broke up there were several free fights in progress. Black eyes and bruised jaws were common. Officers Butler and Hayden, who appeared upon the scene, arrested two of the fellows who gave their names as Joseph Griffin and John Foley. The two fellows were brought into court this morning and contributed $5 each for the support of the county.

Economic Supremacy.

"America's Economic Supremacy" is title of a new book by Brooks Adams, which The Macmillan Company is about to bring out. The problems discussed relate to the economic competition between nations which determines the seat of empire and regulates the distribution of wealth. The author would have his readers note that Great Britian is rapidly losing her economic supremacy, and that the probability now is that this supremacy must be transferred to the United States.—New York Times.

The crew of the Cleopatra were surprised to read in the Sunday papers that the special race for the Q. Y. C. 21-footers on Saturday resulted in a dead heat. The facts are it was a clear victory for the Cleopatra by a minute and 30 seconds. The wind was fresh from the eastward and all the boats had reefs tied in. The Cleopatra showed her old time speed, leading the Omeme on the windward leg to Brush buoy 1 minute, 45 seconds. The summary:

POLITICAL TRICKS

May Be Resorted to in Congressional Fight.

Atwood Seeking to Divide Opposition.

Our Townsman, John Shaw, to Push Him Hard.

The indications are that the Congressional vote in the Republican caucuses will be more complicated than was expected. It is a well known fact that there are four candidates in the field, but it was not expected that all of them would try to get delegates in Quincy, yet this may be the situation in Ward One, and perhaps some of the other wards. There is talk of some political tricks, which include the filing of a Pierce list by the Atwood men, and of an Atwood list by Anti-Atwood men.

It is understood that most of the members af the Ward One Committee are for Atwood, but a list favorable to our townsman, Hon. John Shaw, has been filed by his friends. Warren W. Adams, on the other hand, is doing his best to defeat Mr. Shaw, and will probably cause a Towle list to be filed. The Pierce men say, if any list is filed favorable to Dr. Pierce, it will not be by request of his managers.

It is understood that Shaw lists and Atwood lists will be filed in every ward, and many would like to see the issue between these two men. The general opinion is that Atwood will put up a stiff fight, as he has been pulling the wires for eight or ten years, and may win out in some of the wards. But others say he has been overrated, and that he cannot win a single Quincy ward unless the opposition is divided. With three or four Congressional lists on the caucus ballots, his chances would be better, as his followers would stick even if there were a dozen lists.

Local pride will probably cut quite a figure at the caucuses, and many look to see Mr. Shaw sweep the city. But this cannot be done without a hustle. Many of the voters are not saying much, but the caucus of Sept. 25, will doubtless be the largest ever held.

Political Potpourri.

E. C. Jenney of Hyde Park is a candidate for the Democratic nominatio for Congress in the 11th district.

A meeting in the interests of Dr. Pierce for Congress was held at Hendrie's in Dorchester, Saturday, and considerable interest was manifested.

The letter of acceptance of Candidate Roosevelt appears in this issue.

Nominations for the Democratic caucuses will be received until Saturday evening of this week. The city is entitled to 23 delegates at its Representative convention and 15 to each of the others as follows:

	State and others.	Representative.
Ward One,	2	3
Ward Two,	2	3
Ward Three,	3	5
Ward Four,	4	7
Ward Five,	2	2
Ward Six,	2	3

The Republican campaign speakers for Massachusetts include Senator Hoar, Senator Lodge, Congressman Roberts, Moody, Gillett and Lawrence, Lieut. Gov. John L. Bates, Atty. Gen. Hosea M. Knowlton, Col. Albert Clarke, Michael J. Murray, Senator Charles H. Innes, Senator A. P. Gardner, A. E. Winship, William Schofield of Malden, Alfred E. Root of Worcester, James P. Magennis, formerly a member of the House from North Adams; Hugo A. Dubuque of Fall River, George A. Marden, Butler R. Wilson. Robert Luce of Somerville, George S. Selfridge, Nelson P. Brown of Everett, Peter F. Ward of Fitchburg, William S. Youngman of Cambridge, Guy A. Ham of Dorchester, George S. Delano of Medford, Walter I. Lane of Brockton, Curtis G. Metzler, Frank E. Fitts of Somerville, Fred S. Elliott of Cambridge, William H. Lewis of Cambridge, the famous Harvard foot ball rush of some years back; Damon E. Hall, Elmer L. Curtiss of Hingham, John E. Hadlock, J. B. Furber, H. Heustis Newton of Everett, Frank M. Carpenter and Malcolm E. Nichols.

—Whether you believe that prosperity is restored or not depends to some extent on what political party you belong to. One thing seems pretty certain in this section. There is going to be a great deal of fall building in and around Norfolk county, and building and real estate activity do not, as a rule, indicate hard times.—Norwood Advertiser.

HE'S JUST THE MAN.

The New England Grocer Endorses Sprague for Senate.

A. C. Dowse, editor of the New England Grocer, has served in the Legislature with Representative Sprague of this city, and his opinion of the Quincy member is valuable. First, he quotes in a recent issue the following "thumbnail" biography:

"E. H. Sprague, 5th Norfolk, Rep., Quincy, b. Islesboro, Me., May 22, '64; public schools, Easton State Normal. Wholesale provisions. City Council, '95-6-7. Masons, K. T. House '99; Com. on Election Laws."

Then Bro. Dowse adds: "I said, and I repeat it, that Eugene H. Sprague was ever ready to work for business reforms and needed legislative enactments. He is a clear, concise, forceful speaker, and his remarks on the Dubuque law were as convincing as one could desire. He has represented his city faithfully for two terms, and I hope he'll get the third. But I understand his friends intend to send him higher. He is a candidate for the Senate from the First Norfolk district. I hope he'll succeed. He's just the man we need there. Had he been a Senator this year that bill to prevent fake advertising would have passed—I know it would. Send such men as E. H. Sprague, E. F. Porter and George H. Bond to the Senate, and we break the back of judicial conservatism. Every grocer in the First Norfolk will, I feel sure, work for Mr. Sprague's nomination."

Naphen Has Opposition.

Nomination papers for the Democratic caucuses in Boston were opened Saturday. The Herald says: The most interesting disclosure revealed by the opening of the papers is the fact that Councillor Charles I. Quirk heads a delegation in ward 17 pledged to himself for the congressional nomination in the 10th district, and that tickets in opposition to the present congressman have been filed in nearly all the wards of the district. The anti-Naphen ticket in ward 14 is headed by Senator John E. Baldwin, who says he is a congressional candidate on his own account, and the ticket in ward 15, headed by Henry J. McGrain, is likewise said to be for Baldwin and against Naphen. In this ward the congressman heads his own delegation. In ward 16 the ticket headed by Richard H. Foley is unpledged, but it is said to be in the Quirk interest, as is that in ward 18 headed by James A. Watson. The ticket headed by John A. McCarthy in Ward 19 has some Quirk characteristics. In all the wards of the district, however, Congressman Naphen's interests have been carefully looked after and tickets filed in his behalf. His friends say he will have an easy victory and that there is no solid foundation for the opposition to his renomination. In Wards 20 and 24 he has been left a clear field.

Was Interested in Charities.

Mr. Daniel L. Griggs, after a brief illness of but four days' duration, passed away at his home at Wollaston early on Saturday forenoon.

Mr. Griggs was born at Brimfield, Mass., Oct. 2, 1848, where he passed his early youth. Later he removed to Brattleboro, Vt., where he lived for many years. From that city he went to Northfield, where he conducted a hotel. About three years ago he came to Boston and assumed the superintendency of Tremont Temple. After relinquishing that position he became interested in numerous charities, being prominent in pushing the Indian famine relief, and acting as superintendent of the floating hospital for the month of August. He had just taken charge of the farmers' fruit offering under the auspices of the Lend a Hand Society when he was stricken with the disease which proved fatal.

He is survived by a widow. The interment was at Brimfield on Sunday.

Council Business.

At tonight's meeting of the City Council the special committee appointed to investigate the changing of the plans of Copeland street will report.

The Committee on Streets will report vote of thanks for the drinking fountains given the city by George W. Morton and Merrymount lodge of Good Templars; on location of telephone poles, laying gas pipe on Brook street, and on the petition of Andrew A. Meyer for fifteen minute cars to Houghs Neck.

Committee on License will report on petitions for minor licenses.

Annual Shoot.

Lieut. H. L. Kincaide is one of the four officers detailed by Col. J. H. Whitney to assist the I. R. P. in conducting the annual rifle competition of the 5th infantry to be held at Walnut Hill Tuesday forenoon at 10.30 o'clock. Teams will consist of 10 men and one substitute, all of whom must be qualified marksmen, and have performed one-half of the state duty ordered.

CURTAIN RAISERS.

A Boston theater has girl ticket sellers.

Sarah Bernhardt has been on the stage since 1857.

Madge Lessing will be a member of Francis Wilson's company this season.

The best seats in Parisian theaters cost from $2 to $3 and in London from $2 to $2.75.

Joseph Haworth, it is said, will star next season in a new play, "The Master Mind."

Gabriel d'Annunzio is writing a new tragedy in verse for Eleanora Duse in spite of the reports of their quarrel.

"On the Quiet" is the new title of Augustus Thomas' "Treadway of Yale," in which Willie Collier will star next season.

"Sherlock Holmes" has proved to be such a strong dramatic attraction that three companies will probably play it next season.

Marie Touhey, the wife of Thomas A. Edison, Jr., has returned to the chorus girls of the New York Casino after a varied matrimonial experience.

Two timely plays have been written by Charles T. Vincent. "Yellow Peril" has its scenes in China and "So Shall Ye Reap" at the Paris exposition.

George Grossmith's new operetta, in which he is to appear as Perkin Warbeck, the one time pretender to the English throne and for which he wrote the libretto, will be sung in London during October.

Mrs. Langdon Mitchell has been engaged for the principal female role in her husband's dramatization of his father's story of "The Adventures of Francois." Mrs. Mitchell's stage name is Marian Lee.

Mr. and Mrs. Russ Whytal are going to make a professional tour of the West Indies this season. Their repertory is indeed varied. It includes "The Merchant of Venice," "For Fair Virginia," "As You Like It," "Trilby," "Out Yonder," "Captain Swift" and "Blackballed."

THE VERDICT.

First Paul Morphy died insane, and now Steinitz has done the same. If you are a chess enthusiast, be careful.—Somerville Journal.

The young Chinese emperor loyally accompanied the dowager empress in her flight from the capital. He had to.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The Germans are buying a great many American horses for use in China. Possibly they may in time become fully reconciled to the American pig.—Washington Star.

The west is equally agitated over the shirt waist man and the net waist girl, yet where's the harm so long as there's a net gain of comfort for both?—Philadelphia Times.

People have been saying that Japanese civilization is only skin deep, a mere varnish over ineradicable barbarism. If so, the varnish seems to be uncommonly durable.—New York Tribune.

Forty years ago the negro was a slave; today he is a problem. The south disfranchises him and lynches him; the north lynches him and buys his franchise. Of the two the north uses him the worse.—Chicago Journal.

Good for Spain! The old kingdom is taking a step ahead of all the other powers. She announces that, beginning with Jan. 1, 1901, the hours will be counted from 1 to 24 instead of in two divisions of 12 hours. It is the simple and sensible plan and ought to be adopted by all sensible nations.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Mr. Tesla has patented a scheme to prevent loss of electricity by coating wires with ice. That is undoubtedly a good system of insulation, the trouble being to get the ice and keep it. If ice coated wire can be put on the market in hot weather, it ought to be popular for chair seats and bed mattresses.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

THE PEDAGOGUE.

Japan has established commercial schools for the training of women.

Dr. John Guiteras, who resigned the chair of pathology in the University of Pennsylvania to fill a similar position in the University of Havana, has established there a journal entitled Revista de Medicina Tropical.

The degree of doctor of philosophy was recently awarded to Mon Toa of Bangkok by the University of Heidelberg. The subject of the essay was natural history. This is the first instance in Germany of a doctor's degree being granted to a native of Siam.

The late Colonel Charles Scott Venable of the faculty of the University of Virginia was one of the greatest benefactors of that institution, and, besides his own gifts, secured, through his influence, the large telescope from Leander McCormick and gathered the $75,000 for its endowment. He was the author of many well known textbooks.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

Soiled linen should never be kept in a bedroom, as it is unwholesome to the sleeper when the room is closed at night.

To prevent a musty smell in metal tea and coffee pots which are seldom used put in a teaspoonful of very dry tea leaves. The aroma will keep the pot sweet.

A solution of soda and water, applied with a whisk broom kept for the purpose, will remove the brown streaks in bathroom bowls made by sediment in the dripping water.

Grease spots on marble will yield to treatment with fuller's earth. It should be made into a paste with a strong solution of sal soda and allowed to stand 24 hours. A second treatment will remove the stain if the first does not.

THE CYNIC.

We never knew any one who really had good sense.

Most people just believe things; they don't know them.

Unfortunately, "good hearted" people are usually tiresome companions.

If time flies too fast for you, invite your kin to make you a month's visit.

It is said of some families that when they rent a house they always wreck it.

If you knew what people say of you behind your back, you would faint. Don't imagine that you escape.

The first few months of a married woman's life she neglects her prayers, believing she has a husband to take care of her, but after that she begins again.—Atchison Globe.

TO THE MAN WHO THINKS.

LOOK yourself squarely in the face and see if you are not half ashamed to be without Ivory Soap in your house. Worse than this, your wife is without it. It is bad enough for a man, though a man often doesn't care how his comfort is mis-spelled. But a woman misses all these little helps to housekeeping. And Ivory Soap is one; its great potency makes it actually cheaper than yellow soap for general work. It floats.

ANNUAL APPEAL.

A Meritorious Plan for Raising Hospital Funds.

The Trustees of the City Hospital of Quincy have tried many plans for raising the sum annually required for the maintenance of the institution which is doing noble work, and is now one of the necessities of the city. There has been well founded criticism, that the hospital is continually begging. It is to overcome this that the trustees have labored, and when the citizens learn that a per capita gift of but fifty cents annually is required, it would seem as if the necessary number of pledges should be promptly secured. The annual appeal is about to be issued.

The trustees say: "It is believed by the Trustees of the City Hospital of Quincy that nearly every workingman would be willing to make a small contribution towards its maintenance, and that he would prefer to do this at some stated time each year.

"If every man on the pay roll of the various stone manufacturers and other employers of labor will contribute yearly 50 cents, the amount received, together with other generous contributions which are assured, will be sufficient to guarantee that the Hospital will be continually maintained in a manner to render the greatest service to those who need it. The matter would be much simplified if an arrangement could be made whereby each employer would collect the amount from his men during Hospital Week and remit the total to the Treasurer about October 15; therefore the Trustees hereby ask each employer in Quincy to place this appeal before his men and request each to sign the agreement."

The pledge reads: "I hereby agree to contribute yearly 50 cents towards the support of the City Hospital of Quincy, payable in October of each year as long as I am employed by —— and hereby authorize —— to pay the same on my account."

Mr. Albert Keating, one of the trustees, will, during the next two weeks, call upon every business, salaried and professional man in the city, and solicit his co-operation. Employers will be furnished with copies of the above for signatures.

Gentlemen:—I must say in regard to GRAIN-O that there is nothing better or healthier. We have used it for years. My brother was a great coffee drinker. The Bug—Get off my corn!—New York Journal.

Famous Old Tavern Burned.

Lowell, Mass., Sept. 17.—The explosion of an oil lamp in a room in the upper story of the Adams House at North Chelmsford, at an early hour Sunday, caused the total destruction of that famous old hostelry, and entailing a loss of about $10,000. During the time of stage coaches this old tavern was a popular resort for travelers between points in northern New Hampshire and Boston.

Fishermen Fared Badly.

St. John's, Sept. 17.—Seven fishing schooners have gone ashore at Concho, on the French treaty coast, four at Englee, three at Griquet, five at Eroce and seven at Quirpon. All are likely to go to pieces. About 40 others have been more or less seriously damaged by the storm. Fortunately no lives were lost, as all the vessels were in port at the time and the crews escaped.

Long Journey Completed.

New York, Sept. 17.—On the steamer New York, which arrived Sunday from Southampton and Cherbourg, was James F. Smith, who has just returned from his long journey to Pretoria, where he delivered the address and resolutions passed by the schoolboys of Philadelphia and which he delivered to President Kruger of the Transvaal republic.

Had a Short Career.

Halifax, Sept. 17.—Barkentine Clyde, reported wrecked at Broad Cove, C. B., was a new vessel only launched this season. She was valued at $3500, and was not insured. Her cargo was worth $12,000.

Racing Days Are Over.

Chicago, Sept. 17.—Lieutenant Gibson, the great 3-year-old, who was the favorite in the American derby, and for whom $20,000 was refused by Charles H. Smith, has broken down completely. He will be retired to the stud.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

ACCEPTS NOMINATION.

Roosevelt Says Fight Is Not Merely Between Republicans and Democrats.

Bryan's Success Would Be Detrimental to Nation.

Republicans Taking No Step Which Affects Our Traditional Policies.

New York, Sept. 17.—The following is the letter of acceptance of the nomination for vice presidency of Theodore Roosevelt, governor of New York:

"I accept the nomination as vice president of the United States, tendered me by the Republican national convention, with a very deep sense of the honor conferred upon me and with an infinitely deeper sense of the vital importance to the whole country of securing the re-election of President McKinley.

"The nation's welfare is at stake. We must continue the work which has been so well begun during the present administration. We must show in fashion incapable of being misunderstood that the American people, at the beginning of the 20th century, face their duties in a calm and serious spirit; that they have no intention of permitting folly or lawlessness to mar the extraordinary material well-being which they have attained at home, nor yet of permitting their flag to be dishonored abroad.

"I feel that this contest is by no means one merely between Republicans and Democrats. We have a right to appeal to all good citizens who are far-sighted enough to see what the honor and the interest of the nation demand. To put into practice the principles embodied in the Kansas City platform would mean grave disaster to the nation, for that platform stands for reaction and disorder, for an upsetting of our financial system, which would mean not only great suffering, but the abandonment of the nation's good faith, and for a policy abroad which would imply the dishonor of the flag and an unworthy surrender of our national rights. Its success would mean unspeakable humiliation to men proud of their country's good name, and desirous of securing the welfare of their fellow citizens.

On the trust problem the letter says: "The first thing to do is to find out the facts, and for this purpose publicity as to capitalization, profits, and all else of importance to the public, is the most useful measure. Even more can be done by regulation, by close supervision, and the unsparing excision of all unhealthy, destructive and anti-social elements."

Mr. Roosevelt refers to Jefferson as an exponent of expansion, and reviews the aquisitions of territory by the United States in the past, and says: "We are making no new departure. We are not taking a single step which in any way affects our institutions or our traditional policies. From the beginning we have given widely varying degrees of self-government to the different territories, according to their needs.

"The simple truth is that there is nothing even remotely resembling 'imperialism' or 'militarism' involved in the present development of that policy of expansion which has been part of the history of America from the day when she became a nation.

"The words mean absolutely nothing as applied to our present policy in the Philippines, for this policy is only imperialistic in the sense that Jefferson's policy in Louisiana was imperialistic; only military in the sense that Jackson's policy toward the Seminoles or Custer's toward the Sioux embodied militarism.

"When we expanded over New Mexico and California we secured free government to these territories and prevented their falling under the 'militarism' of a dictatorship like that of Santa Ana, or the 'imperialism' of a real empire in the days of Maximilian. We put a stop to imperialism in Mexico as soon as the Civil war closed.

"We made a great anti-imperialistic stride when we drove the Spaniards from Porto Rico and the Philippines, and thereby made ready the ground in these islands for that gradually increasing measure of self-government for which their populations are severally fitted.

"Cuba is being helped along the path of independence as rapidly as her own citizens are content that she should go.

"Of course the presence of troops in the Philippines during the Tagal insurrection has no more to do with militarism or imperialism than had their presence in the Dakotas, Minnesota and Wyoming during the many years which elapsed before the final outbreaks of the Sioux were definitely put down. There is no more militarism or imperialism in garrisoning Luzon until order is restored than there was imperialism in sending soldiers to South Dakota in 1890, during the Ogallalla outbreak.

"The whole argument against President McKinley's policy in the Philippines becomes absurd when it is conceded that we should, to quote the language of the Kansas City platform, 'give to the Philippines first a stable form of government.' If they are now entitled to independence they are also entitled to decide for themselves whether their government shall be stable or unstable, civilized or savage, or whether they shall have any government at all; while it is, of course, equally evident that under such conditions we have no right whatever to guarantee them against outside interference any more than we have to make such a guarantee in the case of the Boxers (who are merely the Chinese analogues of Aguinaldo's followers).

"To turn over the islands to Aguinaldo and his followers would not be to give self-government to the islanders; under no circumstances would the majority thus gain self-government. They would simply be put at the mercy of a syndicate of Chinese half-breeds under whom corruption would flourish more freely than ever it flourished under Tweed, while tyrannical oppression would obtain to a degree only possible under such an oligarchy."

RUSSIANS ACTIVE IN MANCHURIA.

It Now Looks as Though There Would Be Further Hostilities in China.

London, Sept. 17.—A copyrighted Associated Press dispatch from Tientsin, dated Sept. 13, says: The Russians are rapidly pushing troops into Manchuria, where all indications point to extensive operations before the arrival of winter. They have suspended work on the railroad to Pekin, which adds to the complications. It is believed that their object in this is to compel the other powers to consent to the destruction of Pekin.

In connection with the prediction by Sir Robert Hart that there will be further hostilities in China, in November, The Associated Press understands that the British government is already considering the transfer of troops from South Africa to India, in order to make it practicable to send more British troops to China.

It is probable that the Russian legation has already been removed from Pekin to Tientsin, but there is no definite news as yet as to whether Li Hung Chang will after all go to Pekin. General Dorward is going to the capital, leaving the British forces at Tientsin under command of Brigadier General Campbell. Vice Admiral Alexieff has returned to Taku.

The Americans have begun at Ho Si Wu a permanent telegraph line between Pekin and Tientsin.

The Pekin correspondent of The Daily News says that the assassin of Baron Von Ketteler has been shot.

The Morning Post representative there says that the question is being discussed of sending relief to a few British, French and American engineers, who are besieged in a city 200 miles south of Pekin.

Shanghai advices say that a house has been engaged there for Count Von Waldersee, who is expected to arrive next Saturday.

Chinese officials estimate that 20,000 disbanded Chinese soldiers, by the simple expedient of turning their coats, managed to remain behind at Pekin. Other dispatches confirm the report that, in addition to Hsu Tung, guardian of the heir apparent, Yu Lu, viceroy of Chi Li, and Wang Yi Yung, president of the imperial academy, with 200 members of official families, committed suicide when the allies entered Pekin.

Chinese regulars are reported to have relieved the Roman Catholic stronghold at Ho Chien, in the province of Chi Li, which the Boxers had been besieging since June.

On the Way to Pekin.

Washington, Sept. 17.—Special Commissioner Rockhill, who was sent to China by President McKinley to make a special report on matters incident to the existing complications in that country, is now on his way to Pekin, having left Shanghai Saturday. If he goes direct to Pekin he should reach there about the same time as Li Hung Chang, who also has just left Shanghai for the capitol city. Aside from this there is no news of consequence from the representatives of the government in China.

A Barbarous Proceeding.

Victoria, B. C., Sept. 17.—The finding of the heads of foreigners in sacks carried by Chinamen, which has been a frequent occurernce since the outbreak of the Boxer uprising, has an explanation in news brought by the steamer Breconshire, from the Orient. It is related that in the memoranda of the viceroy of Yu Lu was found this gruesome entry: "Paid 100 taels for heads of two American marines killed in the advance to the relief of Tientsin."

Haverhill Boy Drowned.

Haverhill, Mass., Sept. 17.—The body of Horace Pearson, 13 years old, was found in the Merrimack river Sunday. He left home Saturday afternoon, and at midnight his clothes were found on the bank of the river. The boy could not swim, and his parents cannot understand why he should have gone into the river.

Gale Caused Six Deaths.

Eau Claire, Wis., Sept. 17.—Eighteen men were crossing the Eau Claire river in a batteau, when a heavy gale capsized the boat. Eight men attempted to swim ashore and six of them were drowned. The other 10 men were rescued by another crew.

Winter Weather In Wisconsin.

Negaunee, Wis., Sept. 17.—With the thermometer at 20 above zero it commenced snowing Sunday, and continued all afternoon.

FRACTURED SKULL CAUSES DEATH.

Boston Police In Doubt as to Whether It Was the Result of an Accident.

Boston, Sept. 17.—J. T. O'Brien died at the Massachusetts general hospital yesterday morning. Thomas E. Barnaby of Somerville, who was arrested with him on Saturday night, charged with drunkenness, is held on a charge of making an assault which caused his death.

Barnaby and O'Brien were arrested by officers of station 15. When they reached the station house it was found that O'Brien's skull was fractured and Dr. O'Toole had him removed to the hospital, where he died without being able to tell how he was hurt.

The only thing that Barnaby says he remembers is that he and O'Brien were drinking together; that they left the saloon and some time later were arrested.

It has been learned by the police that the pair were in a saloon on Charlestown Neck drinking. They had some sort of a dispute and then went out together. No one can be found who saw them after that until they were arrested.

Whether O'Brien was hurt by an accidental fall or whether he was knocked down by Barnaby in a subsequent dispute is the mystery which the police are trying to clear up.

A Day Without Speeches.

Billings, Mont., Sept. 17.—Governor Roosevelt spent Saturday at Bismarck, and resumed his trip westward at 6 o'clock Sunday morning. There was no speech-making during the day, but there was some handshaking and conversations between the New York governor and the people along the route. Those accompanying the governor were United States Senators Hansbrough and Carter, ex-Senator Wilson of Washington, John P. Clarke of New York and Curtis Guild, Jr., of Boston. At Medora an hour's stop was made, and Governor Roosevelt mounted a broncho and rode out on the hills. The train remained here during last night.

Six Hundred Excommunicated.

Worcester, Mass., Sept. 17.—The bell of St. Joseph's Roman Catholic church, North Brookfield, was rung at midnight, Sunday, by order of Bishop Beaven, excommunicating all of the people who attended St. Anne's church Sunday, and Rev. J. E. Berger, its pastor. There were 600 at the masses in St. Anne's church, in defiance of Bishop Beaven's warning that Father Berger was not a priest in good standing. Father Berger organized the parish of St. Anne's for the French people of St. Joseph's parish, after Bishop Beaven had denied the petition of the French people for a separate church.

Drowned Under Peculiar Circumstances.

Kineo, Me., Sept. 17.—Henry Willer, aged 28, a well known Kineo guide, was in Kineo during Saturday night with his father-in-law. Upon his return Willer left his companion at his farm at the mouth of Moose river and started up stream toward his own home, a mile further on. His dead body was found Sunday in two feet of water. It is supposed that while poling his canoe up stream he lost his balance and fell, injuring himself so he was unable to lift his head above water.

Arranging For Kruger's Departure.

Lisbon, Sept. 17.—The Portuguese government has telegraphed to the governor of Mozambique authorizing the departure of Mr. Kruger for Europe. The governor, however, must satisfy himself that Mr. Kruger is really going to Europe. Meanwhile he is instructed to take all precautions to safeguard the personal security of Mr. Kruger.

At the Bottom of the Sea.

Boston, Sept. 17.—The attempt to save the excursion steamer John Endicott, after her wreck on Sept. 9 off North Scituate, has proved futile, for Sunday, while she was being towed up to the city after being patched up, she again filled off Harding's ledge and sank in 10 fathoms of water. As the steamer is very old no attempt will probably be made to raise her.

Taken From Guard and Lynched.

Richmond, Sept. 17.—Near Arrington a negro criminally assaulted Miss Ellen Bosworth, a schoolteacher. The negro left her for dead, having choked her into insensibility. The negro was arrested, taken before a magistrate and confined. He was then started for the county seat under guard, but was taken from the guard by a mob and hanged to the limb of a tree.

McDonald Routs Boers.

Cape Town, Sept. 17.—The military authorities have taken over the Netherlands railway. General McDonald, operating in the northeastern corner of Orange colony, compelled the Boers to make a hasty flight from the Vet river. He captured 21 wagons, a quantity of cattle and stores, and 65,000 rounds of rifle ammunition.

Garrick and Murphy.

Conferring the "freedom of the playhouse" on playwrights and men of letters was common in Garrick's day, and without doubt the good natured manager was often pestered for the same favor by persons who had no such claim. It was evidently Garrick's custom to give tickets of admission, permanent orders, to those whom he desired to honor. It is recorded that the Irish writer, Murphy, annoyed at what he thought ill treatment or neglect, returned the ticket with the words, "As I do not foresee any further occasion for this obliging passport, I am not willing to trespass too long upon your civility."

Garrick's answer was such as to reflect the greatest possible credit upon himself: "If you choose to relinquish your right to the freedom of Drury Lane playhouse, you certainly will do as you please. But without the ticket, I imagine, Mr. Murphy will find the doors open to him, as usual, and be it further known to you, sir, that as I thought you were above an undue influence I never meant the ticket as the least tie upon the liberty of your pen or conversation."

It may be safely inferred that Garrick presented the same permanent passport to his gruff but faithful friend, Dr. Johnson. It is hardly too much to say that the great player's generosity was as notable as his acting, and his acting was probably such as the world has never surpassed.

How Foxes Get Rid of Fleas.

By an old hunter and naturalist of local repute a story has been told here confirming as absolutely true and trustworthy the published account, which has had few believers until now, of how foxes rid themselves of fleas. The fox, according to the book narrative, simply backs slowly into a stream of water with a portion of the pelt of a rabbit in his mouth after the fox has made a meal off the rabbit. The water drives the fleas first up the fox's legs and then toward his head and finally out on the piece of rabbit fur, and then the fox drops the fur, and his pests are done for.

The local hunter and naturalist referred to, strange to say, had never heard or read this story when he told of the actions of the fox which he observed in the waters of the Patapsco river. The little animal, he stated, backed into the river slowly with so much deliberation that he wondered what it meant. It carried something—he did not know what—in its mouth and dropped the something when out in deep water. Then the fox hurried away. The object left floated near to the observer, and he hauled it ashore with a stick. Fleas literally swarmed through the object, which was found to be a bit of raw rabbit fur. The observer had a puzzling mystery explained to him. He says his admiration for the shrewdness of the fox grows more and more as he grows older and learns his ways.—Baltimore Sun.

It Troubled the Customer.

"A funny thing occurred here the other day," said a barber as he was putting the finishing touches on a hair cut. "A fellow came in to be shaved who was somewhat under the influence of intoxicants. He took his place in the chair, and all proceeded well till I had shaved one side of his face, when he stopped me.

"'Hold on,' he cried. 'I want this thing 'splained.'

"I asked him what was the matter, and he replied: 'There's a fly on my cheek, and you have shaved the lather and whiskers off, but the fly didn't move. Now, what's the mazzer with him?'

"I told him there was no fly on him, but he pointed to the mirror and said: 'You think I can't see him. I ain't so drunk that I can't see a fly.'

"I turned to the glass, and there stood the fly on the mirror and in such a position that from my customer's range of vision it seemed to be on his cheek. He afterward said that he had felt that fly tickling him all the time and wondered how I could shave under it and not cut its legs off."—London Tit-Bits.

Wants a Diagram.

"That Fuddlethwait girl makes the flattest remarks of anybody I ever saw. And people laugh at them too. I can't understand it. It must be because she has money."

"What's she been saying now?"

"I was telling her the other evening that my parents had 13 children."

"Yes."

"Well, she looked at me awhile and said, 'Oh, are you the thirteenth?' Then everybody snickered. Now, will you kindly tell me what there was funny about that?"—Chicago Times-Herald.

History's Notorious Fault.

"I must insist," declared Diana, who was the acknowledged leader of the Olympian Woman's Suffrage party, "that the purity of the ballot would be conserved by allowing us to vote."

"Nonsense," protested Mercury, leader of the opposition. "You wouldn't be able to control the Muse of History. She's a natural born repeater."—Philadelphia Press.

A Drastic Measure.

A Spanish magistrate, shocked by the extent of the food adulteration, issued a proclamation, aflame with righteous wrath, that "all wines, groceries and provisions which upon analysis are proved to be injurious to health will be confiscated forthwith and distributed to the different charitable institutions."—Woman's Journal.

With the exception of Norway, there is no country in Europe whose area is so taken up by forests as Germany, more than a quarter of its surface being devoted to them.

The tongue is a little thing, but it fills the universe with trouble.

THOUSANDS ARE IDLE.

Almost Complete Tie-Up In the Anthracite Regions of Pennsylvania.

President Mitchell Says That 112,000 Men Have Quit.

Renders a Decision In an Important Point as to the Matter of Arbitration.

Hazleton, Pa., Sept. 18.—The great coal strike in the anthracite regions of Pennsylvania is now well under way. Reports from all fields indicate that the tieup is at least as complete as the leaders of the United Mine Workers of America claimed at any time. Companies and individuals owning mines, who claimed that their workings would operate as usual, despite the strike order, apparently reckoned without accurate knowledge of the attitude of their men.

Each side is confident of winning and neither of the contending forces shows any disposition to yield. With the exception of a trivial incident at No. 3 colliery of the Lehigh Coal company, where a gang of boys compelled a mule driver to seek cover by throwing stones at him, the contest thus far has been entirely devoid of violence of any kind. The exact number of men who struck cannot at this time be told.

Reports received by the United Mine Workers' officials from the entire anthracite region were, to them, most satisfactory. In this territory, known as district No. 7, there are 16,000 men employed in and about the mines. Of this number it is conservatively estimated that about 50 percent, or 8000 miners, obeyed the order of President Mitchell to quit work. The district south of this place, known as the South Side, was tied up completely with the exception of three mines. In this territory the United Mine Workers are very strong. On the North Side the mines at Latimer and Pond Creek, employing 1200 men, are working full, but every other mine in that big territory is working with badly crippled forces. Three of the Markle mines, over which there has been so much contention, worked all day with about 65 percent of their men. On the West Side every colliery started up minus its union men, except at the Hazle mines, where the union miners went to work, in consequence of a misunderstanding.

Hazleton presents an animated appearance. Strikers from all the surrounding mining towns are here and gather in groups on the street corners and discuss the situation. It is a most orderly crowd.

President Mitchell decided an important point in the matter of arbitration. Last week the miners employed by G. B. Markle & Co. decided not to strike until the firm had passed upon a set of their own grievances, which differ somewhat from those of the United Mine Workers. The firm has an agreement with its men that if any differences fail of adjustment then the grievances shall be arbitrated. John Markle of the firm agreed to have Archbishop Ryan of Philadelphia arbitrate the differences if the mediators already decided upon by the firm and the men cannot come to a satisfactory agreement. Mr. Markle gave out an interview to newspaper reporters to this effect, and suggested to the reporters that they go see what President Mitchell would have to say to the proposition, Mr. Markle not caring to be put on record as recognizing the union. This was done, and Mr. Mitchell said:

"I regard this as a rather unusual way of conveying the wishes of Mr. Markle, but I wish to say that we intend to ask the men employed by Mr. Markle to cease work. We intend to use all lawful means to induce them to join the strike. If the miners employed by one of the big companies in the anthracite region fail they all fail. They may prove successful in some companies for a brief time, but the rate of wages in the entire anthracite region will get to a certain level. If we succeed at one place and fail at another, the low wages must be brought up to meet the high or the higher must come down to meet the lower, so that I am not now, and do not propose to, officially accept or reject for our organization any proposition for a settlement that is not made either by the company or by some other person to whom they will give authority to act as their representative."

President Mitchell last night gave out the following statement: "Information received up to this time indicates that 112,000 mine workers are on strike in the anthracite region. Of this number, 72,000 are in district No. 1; 30,000 in district No. 9, and 10,000 in district No. 7. Reports received are to the effect that large numbers of those who went to the mines today will join the suspension tomorrow. We feel confident that the entire number of men employed in and about the coal mines of the anthracite region will be idle in the next few days. The men appear determined to continue on strike until their demands for justice have been acceded to. The number of men now out on strike exceeds that of any other industrial contest in the history of our country."

Grievances of Puddlers.

Bloomsberg, Pa., Sept. 18.—The puddlers of the American Car and Foundry company struck Monday because the company will compel the puddlers to light their own fires in the morning and to produce a physician's certificate every time they are absent on the plea of sickness. Unless it can be amicably settled the strike will likely tie up the mill, which employs 1200 men.

Six Hundred Iron Workers Idle.

Danville, Pa., Sept. 18.—All efforts to settle the differences between the Reading Iron company and their employes have failed, and the 600 men employed at the plant refused to work Monday when the new wage scale, which makes a cut of 25 percent in the men's wages, went into effect. The mills completely closed down.

ROOSEVELT ATTACKS BRYAN

For the Position He Has Assumed on the Question of Militarism.

Helena, Mont., Sept. 18.—Governor Roosevelt arrived here last evening. Two meetings were held here. Governor Roosevelt attacked Mr. Bryan for his position on militarism. He charged that it was a reflection on the soldiery of the country to say that they were in idleness and extolled the men who have borne the brunt of the fighting in the Philippines. He spoke feelingly of the soldiers who have died in the campaigns and arraigned the Democratic candidate for unfeeling reference to them.

At Livingston, Governor Roosevelt was escorted to a stand near the station, from which he spoke briefly. He stated that at the last station he had been handed a communication signed by some one who was going to support the ticket, but who thought the governor's speech laid too much stress upon the retention of the Philippines. Here he devoted most of his speech to the acquisition of the Philippines. The Philippines, he said, belong to the United States, and it is not now a question whether we are going to expand, but whether we are going to contract.

"To leave the islands now," he said, "would be doing injustice to ourselves, even greater injustice to the people of the islands. Our opponents talk of liberty. Aye, liberty shall come to the islands and it shall come under the American flag."

During the day short stops were made at Bozeman, Manhattan, Logan, Townsend and Winston, at most of which five-minute talks were made by Governor Roosevelt or some of the party.

Bryan Talks to Kansans.

Pittsburg, Kan., Sept. 18.—Mr. Bryan arrived here a few minutes before 8 o'clock last night, and made a speech to one of the largest crowds he has yet addressed. He did not conclude his address until 10 o'clock. All told, he made during the day two set speeches and 13 platform talks. There were good crowds at all the stopping places. Mr. Bryan appeared in good condition, notwithstanding the arduous duties of the day, and he spoke with his accustomed force. He traversed most of the ground covered by the political issues of the day, but his speech was addressed especially to the zinc and lead miners, who are very numerous in this section. He, therefore, dealt largely with labor and trust questions.

Republican Rally at Haverhill.

Haverhill, Mass., Sept. 18.—The Republicans here fired the first gun of the state campaign last evening at city hall, with Congressman Littlefield of Maine and Samuel L. Powers of Newton, Republican candidate for congressman in the Tenth district, as speakers. The attendance was decreased by the heaviest downfall of rain of the season, but about 400 persons were present and manifested much enthusiasm.

Foraker Speaks at Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Sept. 18.—The presidential campaign was opened here last night with a mass meeting held under the auspices of the State League of Republican clubs. Senator Foraker was the orator of the occasion, and next in importance was Governor Stone of Pennsylvania. Both speakers made imperialism the main theme of their addresses.

Missouri Populists With Democrats.

Kansas City, Sept. 18.—At a mass convention of Missouri Populists, held here yesterday, resolutions were adopted endorsing the entire Democratic state ticket. The Populists estimate that their voting strength in Missouri is about 10,000.

The Seminole on Duty.

Boston, Sept. 18.—The new revenue steamer Seminole arrived at this port from Baltimore Monday and will hereafter patrol this station, the limits of which are Gay Head and Portland. The New England coast ports thus have the finest craft on the entire Atlantic seaboard. She is 183 feet long and has a speed of 17.5 knots. Her armament is a battery of two one-pounder Hotchkiss rapid-firers and one six-pounder Driggs-Schroeder. She can be converted quickly into a small gunboat.

Cotton Market Conditions.

Fall River, Mass., Sept. 18.—Business in the selling of the finished product and the buying of the raw material is at a standstill here, and there is a renewal of the talk of further general curtailment of production by many manufacturers. Print cloths cannot now be bought at less than 3 1-3 cents for regulars, and the conditions point to a further advance in the quotation as the result of the high price of cotton.

MOST GRUESOME TASK.

Sanitary Reasons Require Cremation of Victims of the Galveston Horror.

Bodies Jammed In Debris Extending Three Miles.

Laborers Employed In Cleaning Up Are to Receive Pay For Their Services.

Galveston, Tex., Sept. 18.—The work of clearing the streets of debris and wreckage is progressing steadily and with systematic rapidity. The military authorities have gradually perfected the system, and divided the laborers so that there is comparatively no interruption or delay in the undertaking.

On Sunday 197 bodies were recovered and cremated. The number cremated yesterday will exceed 100.

The task of recovering the bodies jammed beneath the debris, extending from the eastern to the western limits of the city, a distance of over three miles, is herculean and the most expeditious way of removing the whole, from a sanitary point of view, is by fire. This, however, in the crippled condition of the fire department and water works, would endanger the remaining portion of the city. As it now stands this immense amount of debris, strewn with bodies, the carcasses of decaying animals, etc., is a great menace to the health of the city, and is the most difficult problem the board of health has to deal with.

There is still an immense amount of work to be done in this respect, and in some quarters hardly an impression has been made in the mountains of wreckage, piled 15 to 20 feet high. A hopeful feature of the situation is the rapid progress being made by the railroads in their effort to restore rail communication. The Santa Fe has reached Texas City with its tracks, and it is announced that trains will enter the Union depot here on Thursday next.

The work of opening up the streets and disinfecting them is being vigorously prosecuted. The debris and garbage is being removed, 250 vehicles of every description carrying it out to a safe place, where it is burned. In a few days all streets will be opened for the passage of vehicles.

It was decided at a meeting of the central executive committee that all the laborers now employed in burying the dead, cleaning the buildings and moving the debris from the streets and sidewalks shall receive $1.50 per day and rations. Heretofore they have been working for nothing, and if they refused were impressed by the military.

The relief work of the sick and injured is well in hand and under the direction of skilled physicians and nurses it is improving daily. Eleven hundred tents were received yesterday by the board of health. All except 300, retained for hospital purposes, will be distributed by the chairman of the various ward sub-committees to shelter the homeless in their respective wards.

An Appeal For Afro-Americans.

Chicago, Sept. 18.—Cyrus F. Adams, publisher of The Appeal, and president of the National Afro-American Press association, has received a letter from Galveston, from W. H. Noble, Jr., publisher of The Times of that city, in which he states that about 1500 Afro-Americans lost their lives in the recent storm, and that fully 10,000 are homeless. Assistance of every kind is needed. Mr. Adams hopes that the Afro-American press of the country will urge the men and women of the race to form clubs and gather help for their suffering people. All money should be sent to John Dealy, chairman of the finance committee, Galveston, Tex. Mr. Noble will represent the Afro-American press. Contributions of clothing, shoes and food may be sent to Mr. Noble, 510 Twenty-Third street, Galveston, Tex.

Incipient Insurrection Suppressed.

San Diego, Cal., Sept. 18.—Steamer Hereodot brings the news that Minister of War Castro was the instigator of a plot to remove the president of Salvador, Thomas Regalado, and have himself proclaimed president of the republic. In his plans to bring about the insurrection Castro deemed it necessary to remove the colonel of the barracks and shot him down in cold blood. In the investigation that followed the whole scheme was unearthed. Castro was found guilty of murder and he was shot by order of the president. With the death of the leader the threatened insurrection subsided.

Cuba's Election of Delegates.

Havana, Sept. 18.—The result of Saturday's elections of delegates to the forthcoming constitutional convention show a total registered vote of 186,240, distributed as follows: Province of Pinar Del Rio, 18,072; province of Havana, outside of the city, 23,181; city of Havana, 26,478; province of Matanzas, 18,344; province of Santa Clara, 39,659; province of Puerto Principe, 11,122, and province of Santiago, 40,384.

Female Thief Confesses.

Boston, Sept. 18.—Harriet Calles, a colored domestic, has signed a confession at the office of the fire marshal to the robbery of about $500 worth of clothing from the closets of a woman for whom she worked. Her method of covering up the larceny was by setting fire to a variety of clothing after she had disposed of what she considered desirable for her purpose.

Five More Cases of Plague.

Glasgow, Sept. 18.—Five additional cases of the bubonic plague have been reported here, four of the stricken persons being members of the same family.

Good Afternoon.

It is not surprising that North Attleboro has been backward in announcing its tax rate. It has just been reported and the figures are $22.50, an increase of $1 over last year.

Mr. J. S. Whiting, who for the past ten years has had charge of the Wollaston department of the Ledger and Patriot, retires this week from active service. Mr. Whiting will continue, however, to be an occasional contributor to these columns on municipal and other matters of local interest.

The Ledger has received several inquiries of late about the omission of the Street Railway timetable. It is the time of year when many changes are being made and cars discontinued, and many are at loss to know when the cars are supposed to run. The publishers are informed that the company will advertise the timetable just as soon as the fall schedule can be arranged.

It is something new for the Citizens' Gas Company to make extensions of mains, no requests having been made of the City Council for many months if not years until this month. The consumption of gas would be greatly increased if houses could secure gas. Many have been unable to secure it in the past. Perhaps it will be different now that an extension will be made at Wollaston.

Thus far the wealthy town of Brookline is the only one to kick over the report of the commissioners to apportion the Metropolitan park assessments, yet the town is better able to pay even a larger assessment than is the city of Quincy to pay its assessment. But Quincy is not kicking. The assessment upon Brookline would not increase its tax rate forty cents per $1,000, and if the millionaires are hard up they could easily effect savings in other town expenditures to meet the entire assessment without any increase.

Evidently the Committee on Finance of the City Council are now satisfied that Mayor Hall and the Assessors did not overestimate the city receipts of 1900 in using the sum which they did in fixing the tax rate, for at the City Council meeting this week they provided for additional appropriations to be charged up to unappropriated receipts of 1900. Had the amount of the Park assessment for 1900 been known when the Assessors reported the tax rate, the receipts would have been estimated even higher, and the tax rate further reduced. But Mayor Hall was on the conservative side, and the taxpayers are pleased with the reduction of $1. Should Mayor Hall be reelected, we are encouraged to believe he would reduce the tax rate another dollar in 1901, and that he might make it even less than $17 per $1,000.

Drift of Opinion.

☞The inconsistent manner in which Chairman Jones demands that Democrats shall cough up campaign funds would seem to indicate that he really believes that the McKinley administration has put a vast amount of money in circulation.—Des Moines Iowa State Capital.

☞ Those strenuous gentlemen, Messrs. Jim Corbett and Kid McCoy, are being sued for divorce by their respective wives, both of whom, as the Skowhegan man said, are "charmin' enuff to make a man throw stones at his gran'mother if they axed him to." But they could not keep a secret, if, indeed, it was any secret, that the recent encounter between Jim and the Kid was only a delusion and a snare to catch unwary betters.—Boston Budget.

☞ American occupation means, for one thing, good roads for the Philippines. The Taft Commission proposes to use one-third of $6,000,000, which honest methods have accumulated in the Philippine treasury for the construction and repair of roads throughout the islands. This is something which the Spaniards neglected as grossly in Luzon and Panay as they did in Cuba. The result is, that although the Philippines have been under Spanish rule for three centuries, mule trails and footpaths give the only communication from one town to another in the outlying provinces.—Beverly Times.

☞The nervous man who went into the country to secure rest and quiet has returned. He says that the noises of the city act as a sweet lullaby after the unaccustomed and untimely disturbances of the country. He says he doesn't mind the early milkman going his rounds, the growl of the trolley car, the screech of whistles and the clang of bells; but he knows he never could get used to the crowing of cocks, the bleating of calves, the neighing of horses, and the yelling of the farmer to his help, a combination which he has been suffering from all summer.—Boston Transcript.

☞There is no people on the face of the earth who love themselves as do the denizens of our cities. In proof of this the agricultural reports states that: "The retail value of flowers sold annually is $12,500,000 of which $6,000,000 goes for roses, $4,000,000 for carnations, $750,000 for violets, $500,000 for chrysanthemums, and the rest for flowers of various names." These are all used for decorative purposes, and very largely for personal adornment, chiefly in the large cities. If you would like to learn the difference between the one who loves flowers and the one who loves to decorate themselves, go into some garden owned by a lady who has succeeded in raising some rare flowers, and ask her to cut a bunch. You will see her kindly face turn up in surprise.—Fibre and Fabric.

☞There is work in life for all men, to which men as individuals are severally adapted. We believe that every man is created for some special function, whatever his particular idiosyncrasy may be. There are round holes for round pegs, and square holes for square pegs. There are certain pursuits in life for which Bryan is manifestly fitted. There are laurels which he might reasonably pursue, with the expectation that all his fellow citizens from one end of the country to the other would commend him in the choice of his ambition. It is only when he poses as a statesman that we have any fault to find with him, and a rounder peg for a squarer hole than he as an aspirant for the seat of Lincoln has yet to be conceived by the mind of man. We shall never cease to regret that Mr. William Jennings Bryan, of Nebraska, did not study for the stage.—Harper's Weekly.

Decided Against Expressman.

Judge Kelley on Saturday rendered a decision on the case against William Vance of Abington charged with illegally transporting liquor. When the case was tried before him the judge said that as it was one of considerable importance to every express dealer in the State he should want to take more time to decide.

The case in question says the Enterprise hinged on whether or not the defendant, William Vance, was knowing to the fact that the name given him at which to deliver the liquor was fictitious or not. One "H. O. James" was a frequent customer of Mr. Vance ordering varied articles in Boston, and it is alleged that goods bearing this name were found in a local place and one in Whitman when raided by the officers.

Mr. Vance was fined $50 for illegally transporting, and the case was appealed to Plymouth, where it will be heard at the next term of the Superior court.

The New Bathhouse.

The new city bathhouse being erected at Quincy Point under the direction of the Park Commissioners is about completed. The building is 104 feet long and has dressing rooms for 40 men and 40 women in the two wings, with a large room in the rear for boys. There are four shower baths, besides waiting and toilet rooms, and a wide veranda extending across the entire front.

The desk of the attendant is so situated that he can overlook both departments. He is provided with a sleeping room in the second story. The L is fitted with steam generator, tubs, mangles, etc., for washing the suits.

Hogan's Alley.

It seems that in New York city Hogan's Alley really does exist. It is a settlement of people of all nationalities and it is their modes of living, their actions and queernesses that form the basis of this play. It first appeared as the New York World's famous cartoon comedy but since then it has been rewritten and made even more laughable. It is indeed a mirth provoker from beginning to end. Joe Kearney, the Irish comedian, is sometimes called "the creator of the laughing habit" and while this is doubtless overpraise it is certain that he is mighty funny. An excellent company of more than twenty support him, and with songs, dances, special scenery and play and players that are full of "go" the audience is sure to have a jolly good time.

Fire in Ice Chest.

The alarm from Box 39 at 6.40 this morning called the department to a fire in the basement of the grocery store in Malnati's block. When the firemen entered the basement they discovered that the fire was in the ice closet. It was extinguished with a loss of $25. The cause of the fire is unknown.

His Game Didn't Work.

A Bridgewater item in the Brockton Enterprise says, A smooth talking chap, representing himself to be Mr. Forbes, the Milton millionaire, has been in this section the past week negotiating for the purchase of a farm. He nearly closed a deal with Henry Porter of Halifax, but it was learned that the man was not Forbes, and he decamped. It is suspected that he had either a confidence game or robbery in view.

That is What Quincy's Park Assessment Foots Up.

Quincy's Metropolitan Park Assessment for 1900 is not as large as taxpayers had feared. No official notification of the exact amount assessed upon this city has been received, but as the Ledger figures it, the total will be $6,798.65, divided as follows: $6,714.99 for Metropolitan reservations and boulevards, and $83.67 for the Nantasket reservation.

The result is reached as follows:

The State Treasurer, if the allotment made is approved by the Court will call for a total of $517,923.17 for the year 1900, made up as follows:—

Parks,	$103,457 04
Interest,	230,250 00
Boulevards, Sinking fund,	20,716 13
Interest,	46,000 00
Maintenance, Parks,	88,500 00
Boulevards,	22,500 00
	$511,423 17
Nantasket Reservation,	6,500 00
	$517,923 17

According to these figures, Quincy's allotment will amount to

Parks and boulevards,	$6,714 99
Nantasket Reservation,	83 67
Assessment for 1900,	$6,798 66

Political Potpourri.

Republican nomination papers will be opened in all wards tomorrow night.

It is understood that up to the present time three lists for Congressional delegates have been filed in Ward One, of these lists, two are unpledged, and one is pledged to Harrison A. Atwood. This probably means that one of the unpledged lists is for Shaw and one for Towle and gives the Atwood list a good chance of winning out.

Governor Roosevelt has been definitely engaged for a speech during the campaign in Boston under the auspices of the Republican State committee. Oct. 27, seems to be the next available date which the vice-presidential candidate has open. Negotiations are making with a view to engaging Tremont Temple for this occasion, which will be one of the two great meetings of the campaign on the Republican side in Massachusetts. The other is the annual jubilation of the Republican Club, which is being arranged for Oct. 24, when Congressman Robert G. Cousins of Iowa will be the star feature.

"The Politician" which at first made sport of the candidacy of Representative Sprague for the Senate, is now willing to admit that he controls the balance of power. In the issue of Sept. 15, it said: "The contest for the presidency of the Senate seems to be settled down to Senator L. E. Chamberlain of Brockton, Senator Fred Joy of Winchester and Senator Rufus A. Soule of New Bedford. Senator B. Herbert Woodsum of Braintree will be a candidat if he is re-elected, but he has a sharp contest to secure the nomination. He has for opponents Judge Grover of Canton and Representative Sprague of Quincy. If Mr. Sprague secures the delegation from his representative district it would seem that he held the balance of power between Woodsum and Grover. In any event it will simply be a question as to who his friends desire."

Col. Drinkwater of Braintree is a Democratic candidate for Congress in the 12th district, and J. A. Hearn of Taunton and W. A. Douglas of Brockton are also mentioned.

The Democratic aspirants for Congress in the Tenth district include Congressman Naphen, Senators Baldwin, C. I. Quirk, J. A. Campbell, Fred Gore, P. A. McDonald, J. A. Bergman.

Atwood's Mistake.

Although Mr. Atwood has been actively at work in wards 24 and 20 and numbers many supporters, he has made one mistake recently, says the Politician," that may injure his chances, and certainly will affect party success, and that is the bringing of public service corporations into the fight. This has been done notably in the case of the gas companies, when men in their employ had been told to support Atwood.

"Mr. Burrage is said to admit that it is of interest to his company to have Mr. Atwood elected. Why should this be so?

"Can it be that the Standard Oil trust is so closely connected with the party that it wants Mr. Atwood's vote in Congress? If so, it will certainly react on the party success, for it will, in a certain degree, substantiate the claim of the Democracy that the Republican party is the party of the trusts.

"Again, it is said that Mr. Atwood has told the telephone companies that certain of their employes must desist from supporting Dr. Pierce. In this case, however, Mr. Atwood ran against a snag, for the companies refused to accede to his demands or interfere in any way.

"Mr. Atwood is a very bright man and he ought to have learned long since that the interfering with the vote of an employee is something the average man does not relish."

ANNUAL APPEAL.

A Meritorious Plan for Raising Hospital Funds.

The Trustees of the City Hospital of Quincy have tried many plans for raising the sum annually required for the maintenance of the institution which is doing noble work, and is now one of the necessities of the city. There has been well founded criticism, that the hospital is continually begging. It is to overcome this that the trustees have labored, and when the citizens learn that a per capita gift of but fifty cents annually is required, it would seem as if the necessary number of pledges should be promptly secured. The annual appeal is about to be issued.

The trustees say: "It is believed by the Trustees of the City Hospital of Quincy that nearly every workingman would be willing to make a small contribution towards its maintenance, and that he would prefer to do this at some stated time each year.

"If every man on the pay roll of the various stone manufacturers and other employers of labor will contribute yearly 50 cents, the amount received, together with other generous contributions which are assured, will be sufficient to guarantee that the Hospital will be continually maintained in a manner to render the greatest service to those who need it. The matter would be much simplified if an arrangement could be made whereby each employer would collect the amount from his men during Hospital Week and remit the total to the Treasurer about October 15; therefore the Trustees hereby ask each employer in Quincy to place this appeal before his men and request each to sign the agreement."

The pledge reads: "I hereby agree to contribute yearly 50 cents towards the support of the City Hospital of Quincy, payable in October of each year as long as I am employed by ——— and hereby authorize ——— to pay the same on my account."

Mr. Albert Keating, one of the trustees, will, during the next two weeks, call upon every business, salaried and professional man in the city, and solicit his co-operation. Employers will be furnished with copies of the above for signatures.

Opinion of a Native of Galveston, Who Tells of the Storm of 1875.

J. J. Labodie of Orange, N. J., is a native of Galveston. He was in the storm of 1875 and the other day told the following story to a reporter of the New York Tribune:

Galveston is situated on the easterly end of a long, sandy island, the highest point being about ten feet above the sea. Galveston bay, about 30 miles long, is on the north side, and the gulf of Mexico on the south. The coast country fronting on the bay and along the gulf is only from two to ten feet above the water except at La Porte, where the bluffs are 30 feet high.

An ordinary storm does no damage there because all the surplus waters are blown up into the bayous, creeks and rivers of the bay and do not flood the town. It is only when two storms meet flowing from opposite directions that any damage is done except to the exposed part along the gulf, where buildings are of the most temporary sort.

I was quite a small boy in the storm of 1875, which was considered the greatest we had a record of. The storm entirely wiped the town of Manolia out of existence; also West Galveston, at the far western end. In Galveston every other house was unroofed or collapsed, the water undermining the foundations. We lived at Tremont and Avenue B, where there was a slight elevation, and were cut off from the business portion of the town by a lagoon, now filled up, but then a raging torrent. At the height of the storm the water was probably three feet deep in our yard. The storm lasted three days and nights, the wind blowing from the southeast, piling the bay full of water, then veering suddenly to the northwest and blowing just as hard from that quarter. We had no gauges to find how hard it blew, but it must have been at a 75 mile an hour clip.

I have a mother, three brothers and two sisters in Galveston. Our home is in Avenue G, near the Ball high school and the Tremont hotel. It is of brick, and if all my relatives were home—and they usually are on Sunday—I know they are safe, as the first or main floor is built 22 feet above the tidewater.

What makes this storm so much more severe is that in former years there were five channels for the waters to escape into. Now that the jetties are completed, there is only one, and this storm will either have made a new channel or deepened the jetties' channel.

The villages around Galveston contain only from 150 to 500 inhabitants, and the loss of life is reported as more than their combined population.

ANTELOPES IN COLORADO.

More Numerous In Vicinity of Denver Than For Many Years.

Denver may be invaded by antelopes. There are many people now in the city who remember when the timid animals were accustomed to graze upon the plains which are now the choicest building lots on Capitol hill, but they would be as much surprised as any one should they see an antelope trotting through the streets today, says the Denver Republican. Yet it is not impossible that such a spectacle may be witnessed again.

Within 20 miles of the city there are now large droves of them. Hunting parties have left Denver during the past week to hunt the antelopes that are running in the bottoms of Kiowa and Box Elder creeks and some of them coming even nearer to the city. They are directly east of Denver, in Arapahoe county. One drove of 18 was seen recently, but the hunters could not approach near enough to them to get a shot. The animals are very timid and in the open country which they inhabit can easily keep out of range of any rifle.

Chief Roberts of the fire department was called into the country on business the other day. While on a big cattle ranch near Box Elder creek he saw a herd of 23 antelopes. He made no effort to shoot them, but could not have approached near enough to get a shot had he wished to, the chief said:

"The antelopes are thick in the country east of the city," said Chief Roberts. "I have not seen as many near the city for many years. In fact, I don't think that any have been known to come as near since the early days before the country was at all settled. But no one can get a shot at these. The nearest that I was able to approach was 500 or 600 yards, and even at that they were startled and ran till they were out of sight. The country in which they are feeding is a rolling prairie, cut up by barancas, in which the antelopes hide."

The antelopes have been protected by ranchmen in the country for a number of years until the herds have increased and are almost overrunning the ranches.

The Oyster Speaks.

"R" there!
Here I am again
To perform my popular disrobing act.
Borne from my billowy home,
I've come to boss the board
And do a leading business at the feast.
Now, by my beard!
When lolling luscious on my pearly couch,
My dimpled charms are daintily disclosed.
A ruddier rose on maiden cheeks will burn,
And grizzled gourmets will grow glad again.
The summer seas have spent their sweets on me,
"Rocked" in the cradle of the deep.
Seasoned, made savory in dim green glooms,
I'm now in shape to meet all comers!
Balm do I bear, and to weary peace!
I cool the coppers of the racketeer
And soothe dissension in the statesman's midst.
Ask not if I'm the product of a trust;
Assimilate me without asking my consent.
So set the board with snowy napery,
With shining silver and with gleaming glass!
It's up to me to start the courses coursing.
Lift! Lift me from my little bed
And tuck me in.

New Fancy Fish.

EFFORTS TO INTRODUCE THE TILE IN THE EASTERN MARKET.

The fish merchants are just now interested in the introduction of the tilefish, says the Boston Globe.

Recently the United States fish commissioners' schooner Grampus while fishing on the edge of the gulf stream caught a large number of these fish and carried them to Wood's Holl. Professor Bumpus, in charge of the government aquarium there, shipped two barrels of the fish to F. F. Dimick, secretary of the Boston fish bureau, for distribution among the local dealers.

A. F. Rich, chairman of the fish dealers' committee and one of the most prominent dealers, became especially interested. He had several of the fish prepared in different styles and invited the other dealers and experts to pass upon them. They all pronounced them very palatable and were surprised at the similarity between them and bass. The fish weigh from 2 to 20 pounds, and their meat is hard and firm.

One of the dealers in speaking of the tilefish and the possibility of its being placed on the market said that extensive as our list of edible fish is at present the public will gladly welcome anything new. He believed that the tilefish if it could be introduced would be classed as fancy fish and would sell for 15 cents per pound. The great difficulty is the distance the fishermen would have to go to catch them.

Captain J. W. Collins, who has written an interesting history of the tilefish, says that it has many peculiarities of its own and even to the casual observer presents features which differ essentially from those possessed by any other species. It has a general resemblance to the dolphin, the body being well formed, quite stout at the tail, like the salmon, and the general make up of the fish indicates that it is a rapid and active swimmer, well fitted to pursue and capture its food or to escape from its enemies.

Its distinguishing characteristics, however, are the nuchal crest or adipose dorsal fin just in front of the spinous dorsal and the peculiar color which it exhibits, being so profusely spotted with patches of greenish yellow that it received the name of "leopard fish" from the fishermen who were the first to capture it.

The tilefish when caught on hand lines are fully as active as cod in their movements. When caught on trawl lines, they are said to exhibit less activity than the cod.

The tilefish were first discovered about 1880, but were supposed to have become extinct in 1882.

The action of the fish commission in sending the fish here is warmly commended by the dealers. Boston is considered the most important fish market in the country, and it was probably on this account that the fish were sent here for examination and trial.

Scientific Mind Cure.

Most physicians recognize the influence of the mind on the body and use it when they are able to do so, says The Literary Digest. The trouble is that such influence must usually be secured by indirection of some kind, either by an acted lie, as when bread pills are administered, or by the aid of some variety of credulity or superstition. In an article in La Science Francaise, M. Gabriel Prevost advocates what he calls the education of the will, so that each person so trained may have power within himself to exert on his own body the influence of his mind, so far as it may be exerted at all. This would seem to be a modified form of Christian Science, divested of what the opponents of that cult call its absurdities and anomalies. M. Prevost, however, does not propose any system of will training, and so those persons who have ready made systems, no matter how objectionable to the scientific mind, will doubtless continue for the present to hold the field in what psychologists insist is merely treatment by auto suggestion.

Heatstroke and Sunstroke.

The discovery of a distinction between heatstroke and sunstroke is claimed by Dr. Moussoir, a French naval surgeon, who believes that a considerable saving of life should follow. Heatstroke, he affirms, results from prolonged exposure of the whole body to moist or dry heat exceeding 104 degrees Fahrenheit, and its ill effects are due to the action of the superheated blood. Sunstroke, instead of being caused by high temperature, is induced by chemical rays from intense sunlight falling on the cranium. It can occur only in the tropics, and the immunity of blacks is explained by the fact that a dark skin or other dark substance almost completely stops the passage of chemical rays.—Invention.

Like Sea Serpents.

From time to time reports come of strange animals being seen at sea, and while these reports have generally been scouted as sailors' yarns recent investigations show that they may be true. There are well authenticated cases where a creature known as the eel shark has been seen, a seeming sea serpent 40 feet long or so. Another well known but rare marine monster is the ribbon fish, of about the same length, a beautiful creature with rich scarlet fins.—Popular Science.

A JOINT PRESENTATION.

Kearsarge and Alabama Receive Tablets From New Hampshire.

Famous Fight In Cherbourg Harbor In 1864 Recalled.

Governor of Alabama Talks of the Obliteration of Sectional Strife.

Portsmouth, N. H., Sept. 18.—The presentation today of the tablets to the modern battleships Kearsarge and Alabama was one of the most interesting and historical events in the history of the Granite state.

The exercises begun at 11 o'clock, but because of the enormous crowd who wished to see and hear the speakers, the unveiling of the tablets and the formal presentation were made on shore. The exercises were opened by Mayor McIntyre, who welcomed the guests, and he was followed by George A. Burnham, president of the day. Governor Rollins made the presentation speech, after the two tablets had been unveiled by two young ladies, respectively descendants of relatives of the former officers of the two famous old battleships. Secretary Long accepted the tablet for the Kearsarge. Governor Johnston, in accepting the tablet for the Alabama, said:

"It is fit that the commonwealth of New Hampshire, a commonwealth the mother of Webster, that great apostle of an indissoluable Union of indestructible states, should be the first, officially, not only to rise superior to the passions and prejudices of a fratricidal war, but to determine to commemorate and honor the gallant deeds of the American sailor without regard to the flag which floated over him.

"Men may differ about the right or wrong of any cause, and they may conscientiously take one side or the other. A great nation worthy of liberty and inspired by lofty sentiments cannot fail to honor courage and heroism by whomsoever displayed; and especially should it do so when these heroes are descendants of the very men who gave so freely of their blood and treasure to secure the independence of our common country.

"We have met here in the beautiful language chosen by your state 'to perpetuate in enduring place names once associated in historic combat.' The commander of one of those ships was born in my native state, and the ashes of the other repose in the bosom of my adopted state. When Semmes 'passed over the river to rest in the shade' he carried in his heart no resentment towards the gallant Winslow.

"Upon that fateful Sunday morning in June, 1864, when the Alabama sailed out of the harbor of Cherbourg to meet the Kearsarge each commander knew that he had a foe worthy of his steel, for they had been friends and comrades in the past. Each knew that they were to lock arms in the embrace of death. The vessels were nearly evenly matched. The Kearsarge had seven guns and 162 men, and the Alabama eight guns and 149 men. The guns of the Kearsarge carried more metal. For one hour and 40 minutes they sailed around each other in a firey circle, hurling their missiles of death. The Kearsarge was struck 28 times and had one historic shell lodged in her exploded it is probable that she would have gone down before the Alabama. Semmes fought his ship until he had lost about one-fourth of his men and never struck his flag until he felt her sinking under his feet.

"When the battle ceased the Alabama found her grave in the sea. There she has slumbered until this resurrection morn, when she reappears once more, the consort instead of the enemy of the Kearsarge, to fight under the same flag and against all enemies of the republic. This memorial tablet joins them in enduring friendship, and the commanders of both will have the heroism of Winslow and Semmes to inspire them to gallant deeds.

"How much grander it is to unite in enduring peace than to separate by bloody war. If war shall come again, as doubtless it will continue to come so long as human selfishness and greed shall prevail over Christian charity and tolerance, and so long as the ambition of man, the lust of power and conquest and dominion shall be stronger than the love of justice and liberty and equality; and if the Kearsarge, in deadly and unequal combat, shall search the horizon for coming help, I know that this tablet and its inspiring inscription will give swift wings to the Alabama to hasten to the rescue and turn her flaming guns upon the common enemy.

"I feel that I may say also for my people that if an invading army shall ever press its bloody heel upon your shores and, by superior numbers, drive your troops from the coast, let some descendant of Starke rally them at the foot of your great mountain, kindle a fire on its loftiest peak and you will soon hear the impatient tramp of the gallant sons of Alabama. Then side by side with the men of New Hampshire they will never stay their irresistable steps until the flaming cross of Alabama shall, on the seashore, salute the Stars and Stripes floating victoriously from the mastheads of the Kearsarge and the Alabama.

"This tablet with its proud inscription that will be riveted upon the stout timbers of the Alabama has already left an unfading image upon the hearts of our people, one that will forever unite New Hampshire with her majestic mountains and thriving cities and thrifty people in enduring peace with Alabama, the fairest of all the fair states in the fair land of the sun and the sky."

After Governor Johnston's address the tablets were then taken down the harbor to the Kearsarge and formally turned over to the commanding officer of that boat, as well as to Captain Brownson, who will command the Alabama. At the latter exercise, former Secretary Herbert of Alabama made an interesting speech.

SIXTEEN SOLDIERS KILLED

In a Gunpowder Explosion at Tung Chow. Powers Accept Li as Negotiator.

London, Sept. 18.—The British commander at Taku cables that a fatigue party, engaged in destroying gunpowder at Tung Chow, has been blown up. Sixteen soldiers were killed and 22 injured in the explosion.

There is no additional news from China this morning. The Daily Graphic asserts that all the powers have accepted Li Hung Chang and will probably accept Prince Ching as negotiators. It says also that the powers have agreed to insist that a central government, satisfactory to the powers, shall be established in China, and that full retribution shall be exacted for the attacks upon the legations.

No communications, however, have yet passed between the powers concerning indemnities; and a Berlin dispatch says it is believed there that Dr. Von Schwartzenstein, the German minister, will purposely delay negotiations until Count Von Waldersee has arrived.

Waiting For China to Act.

Washington, Sept. 18.—The passage of Monday without an event bearing upon the Chinese situation went to confirm the prediction made last week by the officials that there would be no immediate important developments. Several cable messages were exchanged and there were some consultations, but these were without visible result. The general impression is that nothing can be done until the Chinese themselves have progressed further toward the restoration of the government at Pekin. Meanwhile the military preparations for a winter stay in China go on without cessation; though the officials are careful to point out that these are only precautionary measures and are not to be taken as an indication of a final determination on the part of the government.

Clothing Torn and Bloodstained.

Boston, Sept. 18.—Two bodies that were found in the water of the Charles river Monday were identified as those of Francis A. Spain and Thomas E. O'Connell, the former 51 years old, and the latter 27 years old, both of Cambridge. The men were chums and left their homes Saturday afternoon with the intention of meeting in Boston. Their clothing was torn and bloodstained when found. There is much of the case yet unknown that is evidently of a character which needs explanation.

Remains of Stolen Cannon Located.

Providence, Sept. 18.—A bronze cannon, the gift of the government to William A. Streeter post, G. A. R., of Attleboro, Mass., and which was used for decoration in Woodlawn cemetery, has been found in the junk heap of a local foundry company. The only piece of the cannon that is now intact is a section of the end. The rest of the cannon is probably traveling around the country in the form of couplings, pins and plates.

Strike May Be Precipitated.

Lowell, Mass., Sept. 18.—The Print Workers' union, which embraces the employes of the Hamilton mills, met Monday night. A committee reported that the agent of the Merrimack mill refused to grant their request of time and a quarter for overtime. It was voted, in consequence, to work no more overtime. This may lead to a strike if any of the men are discharged. The union has over 800 members.

Nine Hundred Out of Employment.

Somersworth, N. H., Sept. 18.—Five hundred more looms in the mills of the Great Falls Manufacturing company were stopped Monday. This makes a total of 1500 looms now idle. Nine hundred people are out of employment, owing to this partial shut-down, which is stated to be due to the high price of cotton and the scarcity of water power.

Shipmate Found Upon Inspection.

Salem, Mass., Sept. 18.—The body of Jeremiah O'Neil, member of the crew of the steamer Lancaster, was found in the water near the Philadelphia pier Monday. O'Neil had been missing since Saturday. When last seen he was in company with Patrick Hensey, also a member of the crew. Hensey will be detained until after the autopsy.

Indians Fought to the Death.

Fort Myer, Fla., Sept. 18.—A runner from Seminole camp at Turtle Mound reports that in a big sun dance four Seminole braves had a bloody fight, all being aspirants for the chief's daughter. All four were killed in the melee. The girl then drowned herself from grief for one of the dead braves.

An Early Snowstorm.

Mount Washington, N. H., Sept. 18.—The first snowstorm of the season began on the mountain about 9:30 last night, and half an hour later a miniature blizzard was in progress, sending a chill down the backs of a big party of excursionists who are here.

No Gold in Tanana District.

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 18.—A special to The Times from Dawson says: Reliable miners who have returned to Dawson from the Tanana district, after thoroughly prospecting and panning on all the different developed creeks, say the diggings are worthless.

Reitz to Locate In Land of the Free.

London, Sept. 18.—F. W. Reitz, state secretary of the abrogated South African republic, is going to Paris, according to the Pretoria correspondent of The Daily Mail, from which point he will proceed to the United States, where he will probably remain.

Trainmen Laid Off.

Middletown, N. Y., Sept. 18.—As a result of the coal miners' strike in the anthracite district, 12 train crews on the Ontario and Western railroad have been laid off and will remain idle until the strike is settled.

SAID THAT HE KILLED GOEBEL.

Alleged Declaration of James Howard as Testified to by an Ex-Deputy Sheriff.

Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 18.—Bowman Gaines, a local liveryman, and James Stubblefield, a former deputy sheriff of Clay county, yesterday gave the first really sensational testimony in the trial of James Howard, charged with having fired the shot that killed William Goebel.

The former identified Howard as the man who ran out of the rear of the state house grounds, and jumped over the fence immediately after the shooting. Gaines was positive in his identification of the prisoner as the man, and said the latter then wore a moustache, and was followed by a man who was tall and slender. A boy, who was nearby at the time, will also be introduced as a witness to corroborate Gaines.

The most sensational witness, however, and the most important witness from the prosecution's standpoint, was Stubblefield, a one-legged and one-armed ex-deputy sheriff. Stubblefield testified that Howard exultingly told him that he fired the shot that took Goebel's life.

Stubblefield lost his limbs as a result of the Clay county feuds last year. His testimony in detail was that Howard stopped at his house in February, shortly after the shooting. Stubblefield says he remarked to him: "Jim, you all have been having trouble down at Frankfort?"

"Yes," responded Howard, according to the witness, "we have raised hell and cleaned the platter," and added, "I never sight down my gun barrel but what I get meat or money, and this time I got both."

The witness says Howard was again at his house several days later and he asked him what he meant by his remark on the former occasion. Howard responded: "By ——, I meant just what I said."

Witness said he then pressed him, putting the direct question: "Jim, do you mean to say that you killed Goebel?"

Howard, he says, replied in the affirmative, and said he believed his mountain friends would stand by him, and that 500 men could not take him to Frankfort for trial. Stubblefield said he did not tell the story of Howard's confession to him until he had heard that Howard and his friends were planning to kill him. The defense subjected the witness to a severe cross-examination, but failed to tangle him to any extent.

On the Diamond.

Many Victims of Fire.

Cincinnati, Sept. 18.—An old four-story tenement building used as a branch nursery of the Salvation Army burned last evening and its occupants were so imprisoned that six were suffocated, three fatally and four seriously injured. On account of cold weather a fire had been started in the stove for the little tots who are cared for there during the day while their mothers are engaged at work elsewhere. It is thought that this caused the fire through some defect in the flues.

Shaking Up Caused Death.

Lynn, Mass., Sept. 18.—An accident during the descent of John Sawyer in his parachute at the Point of Pines was the cause of the aeronaut's death Monday. Sawyer made an ascent successfully, and had descended to within 20 feet of the ground when he was thrown against a pile of railroad ties, and severely injured. No bones were broken, but he was severely shaken up. The primary cause of death was heart failure.

Held on Manslaughter Charge.

Wells River, Vt., Sept. 18.—Burns Nelson, charged with manslaughter in having caused the death of Charles Bostock at this place on Sept. 8, was held for the grand jury Monday, bail being fixed at $2000. Bonds were furnished, and the prisoner was liberated. Bostock was found dead in bed in Nelson's room, with a gunshot wound in his head, after he and Nelson had been drinking together.

Planning For New Baseball League.

Baltimore, Sept. 18.—Representatives of six cities met here yesterday and organized the National Association of Baseball clubs. To bind the agreement each city's representative deposited $5000 with the Mercantile Trust and Deposit company of Baltimore. The six cities which deposited their cash are: Baltimore, Philadelphia, Chicago, Milwaukee, Boston and St. Louis.

Newspaper and Federal Leaders Attacked.

San Juan, Sept. 18.—An anonymous printed sheet, addressed to Governor Allen, was circulated Friday, inciting the mob to attack the new Diario printing office and the federal leaders in their mansions. The program was carried out, but the federals repulsed the attack. Several were wounded in the fray. Intense excitement exists.

Dinds Attempt at Suicide.

Providence, Sept. 18.—David W. Bucher, a New York real estate broker, shot himself in the temple with a revolver Monday at Roger Williams park. It is supposed he tried to commit suicide, though he denies it. He is reported as doing well.

MEN AS HOUSE SERVANTS.

Their Success In Chicago—Household Treasures and No Mistake.

The city of Chicago is credited with being the first to try the experiment which is the subject of this article, first employing men as "chambermaids," kitchen helpers, etc., in hotels; then, as the success of these tentative beginnings became known, private families also took up the idea, with the result that many families in that city are now very acceptably served by men.

A lady living in Chicago a few months ago wrote a friend a long letter detailing her experiences with a man as general servant and was emphatic in her opinion that she had made no mistake, but that her servant was a "household treasure," and, although she took him in "green" from the factory, where he was an ordinary machine tender but a short time before, he is now as good a plain cook as any of the women employed by her friends and is as neat, both in his work and personally, as the best of maids could possibly be. Her family consists of herself, her husband and grown up daughter, and she had always heretofore found it necessary to keep a cook and a housemaid as well as to pay a woman to come weekly to do the family washing.

After her servant had become sufficiently versed in the art of cookery to get along properly with the aid which the family cookbooks afforded he voluntarily offered to do the laundry work, having paid strict attention to the methods of the work while it had been done by the regular laundress. His mistress saw no objection to letting him try, with the result that that work is also well done and the cost of it saved. About the time that things were working in this way her maid, who was a good one, did as nearly all good maids do—left and married. My friend was in despair and was bewailing to her daughter the fact that she would now have to begin the work of searching for and training another maid when her cook assured her that he thought he would have plenty of time to do all the work of the house if she cared to try him.

I think I can hear the objection, "Yes, but what about the expense of employing men for such service?" In this it is a great saving, and, as the servant himself explains it, he is better off. His mistress now pays him $4 per week. While he was "green" and needed help and direction in all he did he received $2.50. When he worked in the factory, he received $7 per week. Of this $4 went for board and 60 cents for car fare, leaving $2.40 cents for clothing, laundry and all other expenses.

His wage now, you see, is thus equivalent to at least $8.60 from his standpoint. The work is no harder, the mistress, he says, is not so harsh as his former foreman, and his board and lodging are superior to anything he could before afford, so that he feels as though his employers are entitled to the best service he can give, and he gives it.

While at work the man wears a long sleeved, high necked apron which protects him from neck to feet. It is made so simply that it can be slipped on or off at a moment's notice. When the doorbell rings, it is instantly discarded and a white linen jacket assumed, in which the servant looks as neat as any maid-servant in Chicago—neater than a good many, in fact. Both apron and jacket are always spotless, and the man seems to take genuine pleasure in having both himself and his surroundings in apple pie order.—Designer.

Fruit Compote.

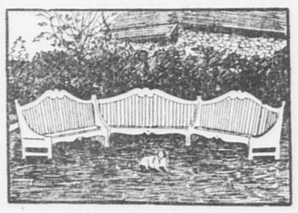

Once the difference in appearance and flavor betwixt a compote and a stew of fruit is realized a real step is gained. That one is rather more trouble than the other goes without saying, but the difference pays, all the same. For a compote of any kind of fruit a sirup of the sugar must be made first with a little water. The fruit is then dropped in and simmered gently until it is perfectly cooked, but its shape is not allowed to be lost, and naturally its flavor is retained.

Watermelon Diamonds.

Thoroughly ice a ripe melon. Cut into inch slices, then into strips and diamonds, removing the seeds. Arrange on saucers, dust with a little sugar and serve quickly.—Table Talk.

Garden Furnishing.

The furnishing of the garden is a matter of no little moment. Articles which in the house would be considered quiet and, if anything, too somber and rough in appearance, in the garden will seem absolutely out of place on account of their comparative garishness. The free and unrestrained beauties of nature demand a certain quaint liberty in the designs of furniture intended thus for al fresco use.

AN ARTISTIC GARDEN SEAT.

For gardens kept on the old fashioned plan of trimmed hedges and cut trees, nothing could exceed the suitability of the seat illustrated, while the fact that it fits in admirably with the more natural and less formal class of gardens now in vogue shows its high intrinsic merit.

You believe that statement. But you only realize in part the obligations implied by it. Do you keep that temple of the body clean? If not, the defilement attaches to every service of the temple. Disease of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, affects the mind as well as the body. The dull mind stupified by poisonous gasses, enters on its service without desire, and accomplishes it without delight. A healthy body and a clear mind result from the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It removes the clogging and poisonous impurities from the stomach, stimulates the flow of the juices necessary to digestion and increases the blood supply in quality and quantity. The "Discovery" is strictly a temperance medicine and contains no alcohol or whisky, neither opium, cocaine, nor other narcotic.

"I had suffered from indigestion and only those who have suffered from it know what it really is," writes Mrs. M. J. Fagan, of 1613 East Genesee Street, Syracuse, N. Y. "I had had severe attacks of headache and dizziness with cold hands and feet; everything I ate distressed me, bowels were constipated and I was growing very thin and nervous. I cannot half express the bad feelings I had when I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I took nine bottles of the 'Discovery.' I commenced feeling better with the first bottle and kept on improving. Now I am so greatly improved in health my friends often speak of it."

DEMAND OF GERMANY.

Wants the Surrender of Those Responsible For Outrages In China.

An Indispensable Preliminary to Negotiations.

A Rather Serious Matter For Consideration of All the Great Powers.

London, Sept. 19.—Germany has injected a new and troublesome factor into the settlement of the Chinese troubles by sending to the powers a circular note stating that it is Germany's view that the delivery of the persons responsible for the outrages is an indispensable preliminary to the opening of peace negotiations.

Much depends upon the interpretation put upon this statement by Germany, and much upon the tenacity with which Germany holds to her determination, but considered in its most favorable light the announced German policy does not make for peace. However just in the abstract may be the demand, high Chinese personages are involved in responsibility for the outrages.

Even the empress dowager herself is implicated, according to Li Hung Chang's own statements, and it is inconceivable that the Chinese should consent to surrender either her or princes of the blood, such as Prince Tuan, to western justice. Altogether, this news, coming on the day of Von Waldersee's arrival in China, is the most disquieting in weeks.

As The Daily News remarks, Germany has turned the tables on Russia, whose evacuation proposal had put Germany into an awkward corner. Now, if Russia assents to the German note, she will be unable to continue, says The Daily News, to pose as China's lenient and forgiving friend, while, if she dissents, Russia will lay herself open to the charge of reducing the punitive expedition to a farce.

The London morning papers have little but praise for what is called Germany's "admirable note." The Times goes so far as to wish that the credit for making such a proposal belonged to Great Britain. The Morning Post alone, in a cogent and well seasoned editorial, points out a grave objection, namely, that, if the real authors and instigators of the uprising should prove to be identical with the personnel of the Chinese government, it can hardly be expected that they will deliver themselves up, and that, if the Chinese government could be designated as guilty, it would be under the ban of the powers, a condition of things only terminable by the conquest of China or a revolution producing a new government. "Therefore," says The Morning Post, "the powers should carefully weigh the matter before committing themselves."

A copyrighted Associated Press dispatch from Tientsin says: It is understood that the British authorities here have been instructed to oppose vigorously the proposed Russian occupation of the Shan Hai Kwan and Tientsin railway, which is owned by a British syndicate, and leased to the Chinese. The recent Russian movements northward are believed here to include an expedition to Shan Hai Kwan, which is now held by the imperial troops. Both the British and the Americans have an eye on Shan Hai Kwan as an open winter port. Only a few miles of the railway have been destroyed, and the bridges are intact. A British expedition to Shan Hai Kwan is probable at an early date.

Brigadier General Humphrey, chief quartermaster of the United States expeditionary force, and Colonel Samuel S. Sumner have arrived here. The latter will command the second brigade.

Question Presented Plainly.

Washington, Sept. 19.—A copy of the German note, demanding the punishment of the leaders of the rebellion in China, was presented at the state department Tuesday from the German embassy. The German charge, Baron Von Sternberg, being temporarily absent from the city, there could be no attempt at discussion of this most important communication. The subject may be taken up with the baron when he returns. Meanwhile the note itself will receive the earnest attention of the president and such members of the cabinet as are in Washington. The state department has been all along directing its efforts to the speedy opening of negotiations for a final settlement with the Chinese government, and has so far not been heard from relative to the matter of punishments beyond the indirect reference contained in the notes that have defined the government's purpose. The question is now presented plainly, whether or not the negotiations shall be proceeded with a decision on this point.

Refugees Reach St. Petersburg.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 19.—The American missionaries who escaped from Kalgan, province of Pe Chili, have arrived here.

New York, Sept. 19.—According to the lists furnished by the American missionary board Rev. Mark Williams of Ohio, Rev. W. P. and Mrs. Sprague of New York and Rev. J. H. Roberts of Hartford were the American missionaries at Kalgan at the outbreak of the Boxer insurrection.

Number of Miners Now Idle in the Authracite Region Estimated at 118,000.

Hazleton, Pa., Sept. 19.—The second day of the anthracite coal strike has failed to bring forth anything that would lead to the coming together of the coal operators and the striking mine workers. Neither side has approached the other, and as far as can be learned there is no such move contemplated by either the operators or their employes. Unless there is a break in the ranks of either it seems that a third party will have to step into the breach and try to bring the two forces together.

President Mitchell, in his statement on the situation throughout the entire anthracite region, estimates that about 6000 additional mine workers laid down their tools Tuesday, making a total of 118,000 mine workers idle.

Although a majority of the operators and mine superintendents give no figures they insist that they are holding their own.

A cloud appears on the otherwise peaceful horizon in the shape of a report from Harrisburg that a bitter feeling is developing between the union and non-union men in the Lykens district, involving about 2500 mine workers.

A concession was voluntarily granted the 5000 employes of the Lehigh Coal and Navigation company in the region west of Mauch Chunk, who will hereafter work 10 hours a day with a consequent increase in earnings. These men were unorganized and had not presented any grievances.

True to its declaration made before the strike was ordered the Philadelphia and Reading company brought its mules to the surface in two mines near Shamokin that had been closed by the strike, and announced that they were permanently abandoned. This action makes it necessary for the miners who formerly worked in these collieries to seek work elsewhere.

All was quiet at Hazleton, with the exception of a few petty cases of breach of the peace.

Overtime Strikes at Lowell.

Lowell, Mass., Sept. 19.—Four hundred print cloth workers left the Merrimack mill Tuesday when they were told their services would not be required if they would not work overtime, and a number of Greeks were hired in their places. At noon there was a clash between the strikers and the Greeks, and one man was arrested. Later there were two more disturbances, as a result of which four arrests were made. The Greeks were escorted to their homes by officers, and the crowd howled and threw stones. No one was hurt, however. The strike at the Hamilton mill is still on.

Loomfixers Defeated.

Pawtucket, R. I., Sept. 19.—The strike of the loomfixers at the mill of the Manville Manufacturing company, because of the alleged favoritism in the hiring of loomfixers, has practically been broken, and the men are returning to work. The company states that 1600 employes will not be given employment under any circumstances. The strikers have been ordered out of the tenements of the company.

Labor Men Gain a Point.

Fall River, Mass., Sept. 19.—Eight hours a day has been made the legal work day upon all work performed for the city, the decision of the city officials having been brought about by request from the Central Labor union. This decision of the government settles the dispute over the interpretation to be given the law by contractors accepting public work.

Nest-Egg For Big Strike Fund.

Detroit, Sept. 19.—The convention of the National Brewery Workers' association ended Tuesday after having decided to tax each member of the association $1. The delegate to the American Federation of Labor was instructed to advocate this same movement in all unions of organized labor, the idea being to raise a great strike supporting fund.

Puddlers' Demands Granted.

Bloomsburg, Pa., Sept. 19.—The striking puddlers at the American Car and Foundry company at Berwick returned to work Tuesday, after a lengthy interview with the company's officials, in which they were granted their demands.

Portsmouth's Celebration.

Portsmouth, N. H., Sept. 19.—The initial day's celebration of the presentation of the tablets to the Kearsarge and Alabama proved a great success, and the two bronze emblems are in the custody of the commanding officers of the great battleships. Last evening the day's celebration concluded with a banquet at the Hotel Wentworth. Many of the guests made speeches.

Midget Loses Another Race.

Worcester, Mass., Sept. 19.—W. C. Stinson of Cambridge won a 20-mile motor-paced race from Jimmy Michael in this city Tuesday night. Michael's two motors went wrong, and the midget dropped out after finishing 12 miles. Stinson met with a terrible fall while practicing before the race.

Passengers From the Orient.

Victoria, B. C., Sept. 19.—The steamer Empress of India, which arrived yesterday from the Orient, brought the first arrivals from Pekin since the siege. Among the passengers was Lieutenant Hobson of Merrimac fame. He comes from Japan.

The Atlantic storm which was central Monday night off the New England coast has continued to the northeastward, after causing high northerly winds and some rains on that coast. As a rule temperatures are 5 to 15 degrees below the seasonal average. The temperature will remain comparatively low in New England for the next few days. Fair weather will prevail.

GOOD WORK GOES ON

Galveston Making Great Progress In the Removal of Wreckage.

Number of Dead Still Estimated at 5000 to 6000.

All Those Needing Medical Attention Have It Upon Application.

Galveston, Tex., Sept. 19.—The work of clearing the streets of debris is progressing rapidly under the perfect organization, instituted by military rule. Over 2000 men are engaged on the work. Ninety-eight bodies are reported as having been found in the wreckage and removed Tuesday, making a total of 1861 victims so far recovered. This list is far short of the actual number of dead found, because the bodies are buried or cremated without any record being made.

The extension of the electric lighting system continues. By tonight the distance from Twentieth to Twenty-seventh street, and from the bay to Broadway, will be equipped with street lights. More than 200 skilled mechanics were brought here yesterday from Texas cities.

The total number of dead is still estimated at 5000 to 6000. The newspaper list is over 4000. The names of many negroes, Italians and other foreigners can never be secured.

The work under the direction of the health department was pushed with vigor and rapidity Tuesday. As fast as disinfectants arrive they are being distributed over the city. Over a carload of disinfectants were taken from the wharves yesterday and sent to the health department supply depot. Almost as much was taken from that place and distributed over the city.

The sick and injured are receiving the best of treatment and the facilities are such that any one needing medical attention can have it on application. Besides the other hospitals and medical relief stations already in service, the marine hospital and refuge camp was opened yesterday and will accommodate a large number of patients. Persons able to travel have been taken from the hospitals and sent in the revenue cutters and by other means of transportation to relief stations on the mainland.

The outlook from a health standpoint is very encouraging. The waterworks system is being gradually restored and the mains are now supplying the various hospitals.

A bureau has been established to take a complete census of the city.

General Scurry has ordered that all the families living within a block of the pile of debris back of the district entirely swept away shall move out as a sanitary precaution.

Congressman Hawley advocates the building of a breakwater beginning at the south jetty and extending westward, parallelling the shore of Galveston island for a distance of about seven miles. With a base of 25 feet and crown of eight feet, capped with heavy granite blocks, he believes this would break the force of a tidal wave and adequately protect Galveston.

More Than Four Hundred Killed.

Dallas, Sept. 19.—News has just reached Dallas that High Island, a seaside resort 30 miles northeast of Galveston, near the Gulf Shore, and in the southwestern corner of Jefferson county, Texas, was entirely destroyed in the recent storm. The place had about 1000 residents, many of them visitors. Not a house is left standing and more than 400 dead bodies were found by relief and exploring parties.

Tokens of Sympathy.

Washington, Sept. 19.—Formal manifestations of sympathy with the people of Galveston in their great affliction continue to come from all parts of the world. In addition to those already received such expressions have come from the President of Chili, the Spanish minister, the Belgian minister, the Mexican minister, the Peruvian minister and the Haitian minister.

Nelson In Poor Form.

Cambridge, Mass., Sept. 19.—Harry Elkes won the first of a series of three races, motor-paced, one hour's riding, for the championship of the world, by riding 35 miles, 722 yards in 59:20 3-5, against Nelson's 34 miles, 150 yards in 57:41 1-5, at Charles River park Tuesday evening. Nelson appeared to be in very poor form and at best he was only able to hold his own occasionally for short distances.

Good Afternoon.

What more do the "Antis" want in the way of liberty in the Philippines than was planned by President McKinley in his instructions to the Commission. The President in his April letter to the Secretary of War says:

"You will instruct the commission to proceed to the city of Manila, where they will make their principal office, and to communicate with the military governor of the Philippine islands, whom you will, at the same time, direct to render to them every assistance within his power in the performance of their duties. Without hampering them by too specific instructions, they should, in general, be enjoined, after making themselves familiar with the conditions and needs of the country, to devote their attention in the first instance to the establishment of municipal governments, in which the natives, both in the cities and in the rural communities, shall be afforded the opportunity to manage their own local affairs to the fullest extent of which they are capable, and subject to the least degree of supervision and control which a careful study of their capacities and observation of the workings of native control show to be consistent with the maintenance of law, order and loyalty."

And in another paragraph the President adds:

"In all the forms of government and administrative provisions which they are authorized to prescribe, the commission should bear in mind that the government which they are establishing is designed not for our satisfaction or for the expression of our theoretical views, but for the happiness, peace and prosperity of the people of the Philippine islands, and the measures adopted should be made to conform to their customs, their habits, and even their prejudices, to the fullest extent consistent with the accomplishments of the indispensible requisite of just and effective government."

Drift of Opinion.

☞Provincetown and the end of Cape Cod are destined to be the great excursionist resorts of the New England coast in the near future, if we can augur from the experience of this season. The formerly quiet old town will see itself a new Coney Island before many more seasons. There is talk of a big new steamer for the route, new hotels in the town and an immense new restaurant to be in use by another year.—Newport News.

☞And now the Cuban teachers have got home, where they will get a chance to rest and give others a rest. For the next season it might be well for Harvard to give some of the teachers from the backwoods of our country a chance such as the Cubans have been enjoying. No doubt they would appreciate it. It would do them quite as much good, and is as much needed, both for their own and the nation's good as were the benefits which the Cubans received.—Haverhill Gazette.

☞Judge Hadley is right,—unruly, disobedient and lawless children need the rod more than the law as a corrective. We have little faith in truant and reformatory schools when the child cannot be corrected at home. There is sense in that sort of correction that makes the child a prisoner of the state and permits the too often negligent parents to roam fancy free. The best place for patriotism is in the home, and parents as well as children should be made to thoroughly understand the fact.—Lowell News.

☞Rev. Charles M. Sheldon of Topeka, Kan., is touring New England just now answering the question "What would Jesus do." Perhaps he knows, but we opine that if the Nazarene were managing this lecture tour he would change the tag on his lecture so that it would read "What would Sheldon do?" The noted lecturer comes to Haverhill soon, but we give him the tip that he has got some hard conundrums ahead of him when he gets against the Haverhill situation.—Haverhill Gazette.

☞A splendid monument has been erected at Antietam by the survivors of the 15th Mass. Infantry, and it wa dedicated on Monday, the 38th anniversary of the great battle in which the 15th bore so honorable a part. The monuments erected by Massachusetts on the battlefields of the Civil War are many of them rare specimens of the sculptor's art, and the one just dedicated must be classed in the first rank. And it should be so, for there are few organizations among those known as fighting regiments that have a better record of valor than the 15th Massachusetts—Lynn Item.

☞Race students are fearful that the Australian native names will be allowed to die out. There is the same propensity in Australia to substitute English place names for those which have come from the native language as was shown some years ago in connection with our Indian names. But we have grown wise enough most of us over here, to know that we cannot improve on the Indian names for picturesqueness or descriptive quality and that it is only through them that we can keep alive a suggestion of the language. Let us hope that Australia will emerge from its Anglicization period as safely as we.—New Bedford Standard.

☞The statistical reports of the treasury department supports the comment upon the bicycle as a novelty that has lost some of its power to amuse. Four years ago, when bicycling was becoming the most fascinating diversion for the whole world, and when the United States found it profitable to undertake to contribute to the demand for wheels outside of this country we exported to the rest of the world bicycles and parts of bicycles valued at $1,898,012. The demand had increased so greatly that in the next year we sent abroad wheels valued at $7,005,323. The height of the "craze" seems to have been reached then, for the exports fell in 1898 to $6,846,529, to $5,753,880 in 1899, and dropped to $3,551,025 in 1900—New York Times.

☞Every railway in order to furnish a reasonable accommodation to the public, must run a great many of its passenger trains with too few passengers to pay the actual train expenses. It must make enough profit on its better patronized trains to make up for this loss and leave a margin of profit beside, else its passenger traffic cannot be said to be on a satisfactory basis. Taking the United States as a whole, only a little over one-fifth of the total earnings of railways are derived from the passenger traffic. A large proportion of American railway lines are conducting their passenger traffic at a loss, while others are merely paying expenses and deriving no profit proportionate to the investment and the volume of business done. This is certainly not a satisfactory showing, and it ought not to be accepted as a permanent state of affairs.—The Railway World.

☞Some who are conversant with what went on at Harvard during the recent summer school for the Cuban teachers are of the opinion that the management in their endeavor to avoid the charge that the school was a Protestant proselytizing scheme, went so far in aiding the Catholics as to do very grave injustice to the small but very respectable Protestant element among the teachers. As for local Catholics, in their hatred to the efforts of the Protestant Cuban pastor from Tampa who came north to preach to the Protestant Cubans, we happen to know that they went so far as to threaten to have him arrested. Would that they had! It would have been interesting to have had the issue tried in Massachusetts courts whether it is still open for men to discuss privately or publicly the relative merits of Catholicism and Protestantism and the doctrines of Christianity in the streets under the eaves of Harvard. Managed as it was, the school gave the impression to the Protestant Cubans that either Harvard was a Roman Catholic institution or that if not, then that its Protestantism was of a peculiarly luke-warm, non-resistant type.—The Congregationalist.

THE QUINCY HIGH.

Largest Number of Pupils in History—New Teachers—Sports.

The High school this year has the largest number of pupils in its history. Up to date 510 are registered, which is an increase of 36 over last year and 103 over 1898.

The overflow rooms in the old High school building will open next Monday with eighty pupils. The teachers assigned to these pupils are Charles P. Slade and Miss Frances Tucker. Miss Tucker was graduated from the Chelsea High school in 1890 and entered Boston University graduating in 1894 with the degree A. B. She has taught at the Merrimac High school for six years, resigning to come to Quincy. She will teach English and bookkeeping.

Although the annex is in charge o these two teachers the rooms will be under Principal Harper who will visit the rooms every day.

Miss Mary P. Bond has been secured as a teacher in place of Miss Pearl who is ill. Miss Bond is a graduate of Vassar college, and has taught at St. Paul, Springfield and Newburyport.

The two foot ball teams are in daily practice and are open for challenges. Some good games may be expected.

Basket ball is receiving considerable attention among the girls, and the prospect is good for a series of games during the winter.

THE CORNER STONE.

Of St. Mary's New Church to be Laid on Sunday.

Next Sunday will be a red letter day in the history of St. Mary's church for upon that day the corner stone of the new church will be laid with impressive ceremonies. Rev. Fr. Doody, chancellor of the Archdiocese of Boston, will preach the sermon, and the cornerstone will be laid by Archbishop Williams. Special music will be furnished by an orchestra and a male quartette. The exercises will be held at 3 o'clock and a large number of visiting priests are expected to be present.

Political Potpourri.

Tonight at 7 o'clock is the last minute when nomination papers for the Quincy Republican caucuses may be filed. The papers will be opened by the Ward Secretaries this evening, and published in tomorrow's Ledger.

The next date for registration in Quincy will be Wednesday, Sept. 26.

There have been several withdrawals from the lists filed for the Democratic caucuses in Boston, including delegates to the Tenth Congressional convention.

Hon. Donelson Caffery of Louisiana has declined to be the candidate of the National party for President, and that after the kind words of Dr. Everett in his behalf.

The Ward One Republican committee has opened headquarters in Room 3, Adams building.

The Granite City club is arranging to hold a whist and billiard and pool tournament in October.

Today is the coolest yet: the noon temperaaure was 58 the lowest since June 3. Since Friday the mercury has not reached 70 degrees.

Have you bought your ticket for Hogan's Alley at Music hall, tomorrow night. It is a laughable play reported to be well worth seeing.

The cellar at the new Quincy station was pretty well filled with water this morning, caused by the recent rains. Men were employed who were bailing it out by the bucketful.

Granite shipments for the month of August from the several terminals of the city were: Quarry railroad, 3,923,340 pounds; West Quincy, 10,605,708 pounds; Quincy Adams, 4,968,755 pounds.

Why was it Co. K did not enter a team in the regimental shoot of the Fifth regiment on Tuesday? Seven men did respond out of eleven, but gave as a reason for not competing that as the company was without a range the men had had no practice.

ELECTRIC ROADS.

Railroads Will Soon Rival Street Railways.

Col. Heft of New Haven Road Investigates.

Interesting Report as to Progress, Cost, Transfers, Etc.

Quincy and other towns on the main line of the Old Colony system of the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. have been waiting expectantly for some time for the introduction of electricity between Boston and Braintree. Until the improvements at South Boston are completed the people realize that such a system will not be inaugurated, but that will not be long. That the subject is engrossing the attention of the management is shown by the thorough investigation that has just been made by Col. N. H. Heft, chief of the electrical department of the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R., on recommendation of President Hall and ex-president Clark. The report will be read at the International Railway Congress in Paris this week. In part it says:

"In 1883 experiments on trolley cars were begun in several small towns, and, while in themselves they were not a commercial success, yet they demonstated to the traveling public the possibilities of solving the question of cheap and rapid transit, which they desired. The obvious necessity for this change forced the railway managements to persevere in their experiments. The desired results were not achieved until 1893.

"The rapid substitution of electric power, and the demonstration of its commercial success on the lines in the smaller towns, soon compelled its adoption in the larger cities. With the introduction of electricity came increased car mileage, with cars of greater seating capacity, operated at a higher rate of speed and decreased fares. The new conditions brought an increase in the gross receipts, in some cases amounting to 300 per cent. The growth of light electric railways has been phenomenal. The first equipment of any magnitude was completed in 1899. At the end of the fiscal year, June 30, 1899, there were not less than 1031 individual companies operating 1,600 miles of track with 41,000 motor cars and 7,700 trail cars. The capitalization of these combined companies amounts to $1,700,000,000 with a funded debt of $700,000,000. They carried in the same year 3,140,000,000 passengers, and the gross receipts amounted to $157,000,000.

"The question of fares and transfers is one that enters largely into the successful operation of every system. While it has been demonstrated that the lowest fare at which a passenger can be carried a distance of five miles at a profit is 5 cents, it has also been demonstrated that over lines extending to suburban towns a distance of nine miles, where a fare of 15 cents has been collected, the operation was at a loss each year, until the fare was reduced to 10 cents. At this fare the gross receipts increased, and the line was operated at a profit. The majority of managers have adopted a most liberal policy in the use of transfers on their systems within the municipal jurisdiction. The use of transfers has resulted differently in different localities. In New York city a liberal use of transfers has tended to increase the travel, while in Chicago, where the municipal authorities regulate their use requiring managements to give them to each passenger paying a cash fare, it has been found that in cases where the passenger was not going beyond the transfer point, on leaving the car the transfer is given to newsboys or exchanged for a newspaper, and is then sold by the boys to passengers boarding cars at from 2 to 3 cents. This arbitrary regulation results in a heavy loss in gross receipts. The same result is found in other systems where the municipal authorities impose arbitrary regulations.

"The managements in the states where some of the principal light railways are operated report the cost of operation per car mile as follows:

Massachusetts 12 to 20 cents; New York, 11 to 18 cents; Pennsylvania, 12 to 20 cents; Illinois 12 to 19 cents; Indiana, 12 to 18 cents; Connecticut, 10 to 17 cents; New Jersey, 11 to 20; cents; California, 12 to 20 cents; Colorado, 12 to 20 cents; Maryland, 11 to 21 cents; Virginia, 12 to 18 cents; Missouri, 12 to 20 cents.

"While up to the present the light railway managers have been the petitioners for charters for electric railways permitting the paralleling of steam railroads, I believe that the future will find the steam railroad managements the petitioners for charters permitting them to construct electric railways from main trunk lines extending to small towns and pleasure resorts located at distances consistent with commercially successful operation also permitting the construction of electric railway lines in large centres of population with tracks laid through public streets and highways, connecting main lines at points which would allow the operation of a passenger service between cities and large towns.

"The service operated by steam railroads would be similar to that of the light railways while running through public highways, but between cities and towns a higher speed would be maintained, enabling the passenger to travel, without change of car, by the most desirable route in the shortest time.

"The light railway managements by securing legislation permitting them to enter the territory of the steam railroads removed the barriers enclosing their own, which the steam railroad managements will certainly enter whether as warriors, sure of conquest, or as friends to form an alliance for mutual benefit, the future alone can tell."

STOLEN BALLAST.

Quincy Officers Recover It and Also the Thief.

The police received a telephone message from Hingham Tuesday afternoon to lookout for a team upon which was a barrel of pig lead which had been stolen. Officer Lyons who was on duty had no difficulty in locating the team and 1400 pounds of pig lead was unloaded at the police station.

The metal was stolen from a boat off Hingham, and had been loaded onto a team and started for Boston. Before going far the team broke down and a passing lumber wagon bound for Boston was hailed and asked to take the lead to Boston. Thinking he was doing an act of kindness the driver readily granted the request, and he was surprised when he learned he was carting stolen goods.

An officer from Hingham came to Quincy and he and Officer Lyons laid for the thief, but he failed to show up. Late in the evening, however, he attempted to pass through Quincy and was promptly hauled in by Officer Larkin. The man gave his name as Hoffman, and admitted that he had stolen the lead.

Not Guilty.

The complaint of Jeremiah J. Keniley, inspector of plumbing, against Arthur W. Buntin, a plumber's apprentice in the employ of Gustave B. Bates, was on trial at Dedham Tuesday. The crime charged in the complaint, was "engaging in and working at the business of a journeyman plumber without a license." At the close of the testimony, Judge Hardy directed the jury to return a verdict of "not guilty," as the government had introduced no evidence to substantiate the charges set forth in the complaint.

CO. G WINS TROPHY.

No Team from Co. K in the Regimental Shoot.

Co. K of Braintree was the only company in the Fifth regiment which did not enter a team in the regimental shoot on Tuesday at Walnut Hill. It would not have been difficult to have made a better score than some of the teams which did enter, for Co. A of Boston scored but 183 out of a possible 500, and four other teams less than 300. The totals were as follows:

Co. G, of Woburn,	419
Co. L, of Malden,	397
Co. F, of Waltham,	377
Co. M, of Hudson,	352
Co. I, of Attleboro,	337
Co. C, of Newton,	325
Co. B, of Cambridge,	291
Co. H, of Boston,	282
Co. D, of Plymouth,	268
Co. E, of Medford,	247
Co. A, of Boston,	183

Private Cook of Attleboro with a score of 47 won the first individual prize, and Sergt. Pratt of Waltham and Private Durward of Woburn each made 54 points for the second.

Co. G won the trophy with a very good score. Their individual totals ranged from 45 to 37, and they did not make a single miss. In another company a private made but two hits out of 10 and scored but 5, while two others in the same company scored 7.

ANNUAL APPEAL.

A Meritorious Plan for Raising Hospital Funds.

The Trustees of the City Hospital of Quincy have tried many plans for raising the sum annually required for the maintenance of the institution which is doing noble work, and is now one of the necessities of the city. There has been well founded criticism, that the hospital is continually begging. It is to overcome this that the trustees have labored, and when the citizens learn that a per capita gift of but fifty cents annually is required, it would seem as if the necessary number of pledges should be promptly secured. The annual appeal is about to be issued.

The trustees say: "It is believed by the Trustees of the City Hospital of Quincy that nearly every workingman would be willing to make a small contribution towards its maintenance, and that he would prefer to do this at some stated time each year.

"If every man on the pay roll of the various stone manufacturers and other employers of labor will contribute yearly 50 cents, the amount received, together with other generous contributions which are assured, will be sufficient to guarantee that the Hospital will be continually maintained in a manner to render the greatest service to those who need it. The matter would be much simplified if an arrangement could be made whereby each employer would collect the amount from his men during Hospital Week and remit the total to the Treasurer about October 15; therefore the Trustees hereby ask each employer in Quincy to place this appeal before his men and request each to sign the agreement."

The pledge reads: "I hereby agree to contribute yearly 50 cents towards the support of the City Hospital of Quincy, payable in October of each year as long as I am employed by ——— and hereby authorize ——— to pay the same on my account."

Mr. Albert Keating, one of the trustees, will, during the next two weeks, call upon every business, salaried and professional man in the city, and solicit his co-operation. Employers will be furnished with copies of the above for signatures.

W. Y. C. Whist.

The first of a series of four whist parties was held at the Wollaston Yacht club Tuesday evening with twelve tables in play. As this is the first party that has been held in the new clubhouse, also the first one of the season, the attendance was large. The ladies' prize was a handsome water color picture, and was taken by Mrs. A. Polk; the second was two volumes of Longfellow's works taken by Mrs. Taylor. The first gentlemen's, a book entitled, "Ten Thousand a Year," was won by Mr. Teel; the second, a tobacco jar, was captured by Mr. F. Robinson. After the whist, dancing was enjoyed for the remainder of the evening.

TODAY'S COURT.

William G. Neate was arraigned upon two complaints for assault at Holbrook. This case grew out of a family misunderstanding, and satisfaction having been acknowledged, Neate was discharged upon payment of costs.

Arthur Hoffmann was arraigned for the larceny of pig lead to the value of $78, the property of Curtis G. Noyes. Case continued until Saturday.

Michael Crowley, Jr., was fined $7 for drunkenness at Weymouth.

John Locke was arraigned for drunkenness and disturbing the peace at Braintree. He was fined $5 for drunkenness and $5 for disturbing the peace.

AGORAPHOBIA.

A Strange Disease and Its Cure by Hypnotic Suggestion.

In a recent issue of the Edinburgh Medical Journal Dr. C. L. Tuckey gives an account of a case of agoraphobia, a rare nervous disease, which he succeeded in completely curing by hypnotic suggestion. The chief symptom in this remarkable complaint is an almost insane fear of large open spaces, such as parks, fields, theaters, churches and any places where crowds congregate. The patient, a young lady, aged 26 years, who was strong and healthy and of robust physique, had noticed for about two years that she felt nervous in church and uncomfortable in shops. This feeling increased until she became unable to enter any crowded building and very averse to going out alone. She was given bromides and tonics and ordered rest from work. These methods were not successful, and she was steadily growing worse when hypnotism was suggested. The Nancy method was adopted. She passed into the somnambulistic stage at the second sitting, and suggestions were then made to combat her morbid fears. She was strongly assured that she would gain confidence and be able to go about as before and to attend church on Sundays. She began to show improvement after this and after two weeks' treatment returned to her school work and continues well. The symptoms which she had before experienced when in a crowded building, such as faintness, giddiness, palpitation of the heart and a stifling sensation at the chest, with a vague terror which she could not control, had entirely disappeared.

Fruit Said to Cure Gout.

While the vegetarian regards meat as a poison, the frutarian looks with no enthusiastic eye upon the Lenten fare of the vegetarian, says the London Globe. To him uncooked fruit is the only natural food, and, though but a small body, men do exist in this cold country who eat nothing but fruit. For a long time they have found their chief opponents in medical men, who affirm that for gouty patients fruit is dangerous, some even asserting that fruit may actually engender gout.

Now, however, a little ray of sunshine penetrates the gloom where they sit in glorious isolation cracking nuts and chewing raisins with all the sylvan simplicity of monkeys. A medical man has arisen to declare that he has frequently cured gout with grapes and oranges. Further than this, he declares that his standing advice to gouty friends is, "Eat plenty of fresh, ripe, uncooked fruit." But while the "tendency" of fruit is to get rid of gout altogether, it seems that severe gouty headaches and bilious attacks may be caused by eating it, particularly by patients who have long ago shut the tempting apple and pear from their regimen. There, though the frutarians wax bolder for this medical testimony, the gouty would be wise to take their fruit sparingly at first and not by any means make it their one and only form of sustenance. It is, at any rate, interesting to find that medical men are beginning to look with kindlier eyes on fruit, but at present it would probably be difficult to encounter two doctors agreeing over one suffering gouty person that his salvation lay in a fruit diet.

Ammonia as a Fire Quencher.

Some interesting instances of the power of ammonia as a quencher of fires were given in a recent article, says The National Druggist. In one instance, says the writer, where fire had originated, probably from spontaneous combustion, in a pile containing several tons of cottonseed and the interior of which was almost a solid body of live coal a half gallon of ammonia completely smothered the fire. In another which occurred in Savenay, France, the vapors of a tank containing 50 gallons of gasoline caught fire in the linen room of a laundry. The room was instantly a mass of flames, but a gallon and a half of ammonia water thrown into it completely and almost immediately extinguished the fire. The ammonia was in a glass demijohn in an apothecary's shop next door to the laundry and was thrown into the room by the druggist as an experiment. To use his own words in reporting the circumstance: "The effect was instantaneous. Torrents of black smoke rolled upward in place of flames, and in a moment every trace of fire was gone. So completely was the fire extinguished that workmen were enabled to enter the room almost immediately, where they found the iron tank of gasoline intact."

Ball Bearings For Street Cars.

Street cars to run with the ease of bicycles! This is the latest improvement in transit service, and the Union Traction company of this city is now experimenting with the new arrangement, which consists of an application of ball bearing axles. To use the contrivance it is not necessary to have a specially built car, as it can be applied to any axle.

The idea is still in its infancy, and, although the Traction company is making comparative estimates by the use of electric meters on the new and several of the old cars, no data are as yet prepared. Those who have seen the ball bearing car in motion say that it moves almost noiselessly and that even railroad crossings fail to jar it in the least.—Philadelphia Telegraph.

A Chicken Plucking Machine.

A device has been invented by a western packing house for picking chickens. There is a receptacle in which the fowl is placed after being killed, and into this are turned several cross currents of air from electrical fans revolving at the rate of 5,000 revolutions per minute.

GUMPTION.

"ONE does not have gumption till one has been properly cheated." Persons of gumption are using Ivory Soap, women who have trusted themselves too near the precipice of false economy and who can now appreciate the true economy in a soap made of pure vegetable oils and other high-class ingredients, but made in such quantity as to bring the price within the reach of the very poorest family. Indeed it is the very poor who most need it, for they can least afford the extravagance of common soap.

Gen. Otis' Report.

General Elwell S. Otis says under date of Sept. 1: "The people are growing more conservative every day and are becoming more satisfied. There would be little trouble throughout the islands but for the coming presidential election in this country. Aguinaldo and his lieutenants are hanging on in wild and mountainous places in northern Luzon, hoping that the result of the presidential election may change the attitude of this country. They get newspapers from the United States and keep thoroughly posted as to what is going on here. When their hope is unfulfilled I look for a complete collapse of the opposition to the authority of this country. As a matter of fact, there is comparatively little opposition now. When I left the Philippines, Aguinaldo was in the mountains with about 250 guns. He was on the run all the time. When our troops were not close on his trail and fighting him he was being pursued by the mountain natives. This was in one of the few parts of Luzon not then under complete control by us. This control, however, was far more complete than it ever was under the Spanish regime. In some of the islands there is practically no trouble. Our troops have covered the entire islands, which was never done by Spain. The harvesting of the crops will aid in bringing about a more conservative feeling. The sugar crop will mature in most of the islands in December and will furnish money and employment to the people. A large rice crop is now being planted and will give them employment. The natives are industrious and intelligent. They will, and do, work. There is not an abler body of men in the world than the members of the Philippines supreme court. Many of the natives are educated in Paris and other European cities. They desire peace and are ambitious for their country. They believe in the good intentions of the United States and think that through us will come their salvation. This class of men is increasing in numbers every day, and they are doing much to put down the robber bands and the reckless natives who have been disposed to follow the lead of Aguinaldo and his associates."

Why Timothy Changed.

"I'm with the Republicans' platform and against the Democrats. For some weeks 40,000 Filipinos tried to break through our lines at Manila to cut my throat, and since then I cannot see any particular virtue in the Filipinos.

"I never want to see the American flag pulled down in that glorious city, and I'll never vote to have it done.

"No Democrat who was in Manila on Feb. 4, 1899, will vote for Bryan on his new platform."—Timothy W. Coakley, Boston.

Secretary Long in his address at Rumford, Me., last week put the case in a nutshell in the following:

"Politics," said he, "ought to be conducted on business principles. It is not a question of parties, but of your own bread and butter. If one of your great industries here should be unusually prosperous during the year, would you consider it good policy to change managers and workmen at the end of the year?

"The Democrats really have no issue. There is no such thing as imperialism; our American institutions will not permit it. There may be a very few honest men who believe in imperialism, as there are some who believe in ghosts. The Democrats use the term to hoodwink the people.

"The great questions are, 'Is labor in good demand with good wages? Is business prosperous? Are our general conditions improving?' If they are, let us keep on."

There has been no time since the destruction of the enemy's fleet when we could or should have left the Philippine archipelago. After the treaty of peace was ratified, no power but congress could surrender our sovereignty or alienate a foot of the territory thus acquired. The congress has not seen fit to do the one or the other, and the president had no authority to do either, if he had been so inclined, which he was not. So long as the sovereignty remains in us, it is the duty of the executive, whoever he may be, to uphold that sovereignty, and, if it be attacked, to suppress its assailants. Would our political adversaries do less?—President McKinley's letter of acceptance.

Heavy Drafts on Insular Funds.

Havana, Sept. 19.—Owing to the insolvency of many of the municipal councils throughout Cuba, whose number have been increased from 66 to 131, Mr. Cancio, secretary of finance, will move to abolish 30 percent of them. Since the military occupation of the island began all these bodies have been supported by a special fund. This assistance has been greatly abused. Local funds, formerly used for such purposes, have been gradually absorbed by the mayors, who have appointed numerous unneeded assistants.

A SON'S CONFESSION.

Father Said to Have Been Convicted of Murder Through a Conspiracy.

Stain Unjustly Sentenced to Life Imprisonment.

Another Chapter in the Dexter Bank Robbery and Murders of Years Ago.

Rochester, N. H., Sept. 19.—A statement alleged to have been made by Charles Stain, son of the man who is now serving a life sentence for the murders connected with Dexter (Me.) bank robbery, in which he is said to have admitted knowledge of a conspiracy through which came the conviction of his father, has again brought that famous case before the public.

Charles S. Barker, to whom the alleged statement was made by Stain, says that this confession by Charles Stain reveals the entire plot, and implicates persons, the mention of whose names, Mr. Barker adds, will cause a great stir. A little over a fortnight ago an interview with Mr. Barker was published, in which he said that he had once been employed by David L. Stain (father of Charles) to defend two of his pals, John F. Hardy and William Bell, who were charged with robbing a railway station at Needham, Mass. Mr. Barker was then practising law at the Suffolk county (Mass.) bar, and David L. Stain was a resident of Medford, Mass. In the published interview, Mr. Barker intimated that he had in his possession sufficient evidence to prove that David L. Stain could have had no connection with the Baron tragedy.

Mr. Barker's story was read by Charles Stain, who for the past two years has been engaged in the manufacture of harnesses at Canaan, N. H., under the name of George Clark. Charles Stain arrived in this city Monday night, and for six hours previous to his departure Tuesday was closeted with Mr. Barker. The latter, although he refused to divulge anything of the conversation with Stain, stated that no one, after hearing the story, can longer believe that the elder Stain is guilty of the crime with which he was charged and convicted, on evidence furnished by his son and John F. Hardy, and for which he is now serving a life sentence. Mr. Barker further stated that within the next 30 days action will be taken by the proper authorities, with the view of securing the pardon of Stain, but he refused to reveal further facts at this time, for the reason that such action might prove detrimental to the interests of the convicted man.

"The conspiracy or plot by which David L. Stain was brought into the toils and convicted," says Mr. Barker, "was one of the most cunningly devised and diabolical conceivable. I have always maintained the innocence of David L. Stain, and while I deem the facts already in my possession conclusive, the confession made to me by Charles Stain throws everything else in the shade. He told me he had long desired to right this wrong, and now that the statutory limitations on forgery have expired, he was determined on righting the matter.

"On reading my recent statement, the matter had prayed on his mind more than ever. He admitted the truth of the statement made by me with regard to himself and Hardy, and remembered me when I was practising attorney in Massachusetts. Finally he had consulted a Canaan man named Currier, and by him had been advised to come to me and made a clean breast of the matter in clearing his father and securing his pardon from prison."

Howard's Defense.

Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 19.—The prosecution concluded its direct testimony in the case of James Howard yesterday afternoon. Ben Rake, a stable boy, corroborated Bowman Gaines as to seeing Howard run out from the rear of the state house grounds shortly after the shooting. The defendant claims an alibi, and the attorneys for the defense say they will bring overwhelming proof that Howard was two squares away from the scene of the tragedy when the shooting occurred.

At Least Five Years in Prison.

Boston, Sept. 19.—For assaulting, with intent to rob Philip Sullivan, a soldier, 60 years old, and an inmate of the soldiers' home at Togus, Me., and who died during the assault, of heart failure, John Fanning was sentenced to not less than five nor more than seven years in state prison.

Had Whole Ship to Themselves.

New York, Sept. 19.—A curious document is the manifesto of the Atlantic transport line steamer Minnehaha, which arrived yesterday from London. It showed the whole cargo of a vessel of over 8000 tons to be three dogs and two mice consigned to Miss Lillian Macraw, New York.

A Score Are Wounded.

Lourenzo Marquez, Sept. 19.—Five hundred Boer refugees arrived here last evening, 20 being wounded.

HANNA SAILS INTO BRYAN.

Says He Is a Hypocrite and Afraid to Push the Silver Issue.

Chicago, Sept. 19.—Senator Hanna made an address yesterday to several thousand down-town business men and their employes at the rooms of the Commercial McKinley club. He said in part: "You will find my text in the letter of acceptance of that great apostle of free silver, W. J. Bryan. It is his last card, and he begins his interesting appeal to the people of the United States by telling what he knows about trusts. I wish I could have together on this platform W. J. Bryan and Senator George F. Hoar, that each might tell his reasons for opposing 'expansion' or 'imperialism.' Senator Hoar would convince you that he opposed it from conscientious motives, but is on all other points a unit with the party from which he differs in that one respect, and that he is a supporter of William McKinley. With these two together, I would tear the mask off the face of that hypocrite, William J. Bryan."

"One stands on the firm foundation of his convictions of right and the other on the flimsy foundation of hypocrisy. Bryan has been afraid to push the silver issue because he wants to carry New York and some other eastern states. He tried imperialism and made from five to 50 speeches a day, his audiences growing less and less every day. It is his trump and last card. We will hold him down to that issue.

"I believe there is not a trust in the entire United States. There is a national law and in every state there is a law against trusts. They cannot exist, and every law against trusts, national or state, has been the product of Republican lawmakers, and the credit is due the Republican party."

Bryan at Kansas City.

Kansas City, Sept. 19.—Armourdale, the center of the packing and stockyard interests of the vicinity of Kansas City, was invaded late yesterday afternoon by W. J. Bryan. The employes of the various institutions of the vicinity gathered in great numbers when Mr. Bryan arrived, and he spoke in the rain. At night, Mr. Bryan spoke in a huge tent in this city. Mr. Bryan's speech was addressed entirely to the labor element, of which his audience was composed. He plunged immediately into the "full dinner pail" subject, and in that connection referred to the anthracite coal strike as proof. He said that the dinner pail is not always as full as the Republican orators would have their audiences believe. Mr. Bryan also repeated his argument against the trusts, contending that they were calculated to cut off all the old-time opportunities for young men.

Speaking of the election of senators by the people, Mr. Bryan said: "We ask for the election of senators by the people. You cannot get any remedial legislation until your bill passes the senate as well as the house. Under the present method of electing senators, the corporations have more influence in the selection of a senator than they should have, and the common man, the ordinary voter, has less interest than he should have.

Socialistic Work Just Begun.

Rockland, Mass., Sept. 19.—The Social Democrats of this section held the opening rally of the campaign last evening. The speaker of the evening was Professor Herron of Iowa, who has recently returned from Europe. He said that we are now in the beginning of socialistic work. Human life, in order to be happy, reasonable, helpful and noble, must unite in the law of co-operation. We are face to face with an approaching industrial crisis. Wars are being waged to detract attention from the great industrial change. Competition is not law; it is the absence of law. No man has any right to control other men or to enrich himself with the results of his labor.

Henderson Defends the Administration.

Waverly, Ia., Sept. 19.—David B. Henderson, speaker of the national house of representatives, delivered a political address to a large audience here last night. He defended the administration against the charge brought by Democratic speakers that President McKinley did not sympathize with the South African republics and that, on the contrary, his whole sympathy is with the arm of monarchy. Mr. Henderson said that this country had done more than any other in an effort to help the Boers, and that the whole Democratic argument on this line was only an effort to poison the minds of the Germans and Hollanders in this country.

Roosevelt's Tour.

Butte, Mont., Sept. 19.—Governor Roosevelt was greeted very warmly by the citizens on his arrival here from Helena. The carriage ride from the station of the Northern Pacific to the Butte hotel, about one mile distant, was a flattering demonstration. The streets were lined with people. The immense Columbia Garden was entirely filled in the evening, and standing room was at a premium. Governor Roosevelt spoke here for nearly three-quarters of an hour on general lines covered in his former speeches.

Bison City Campaign Opened.

Buffalo, Sept. 19.—General Grosvenor of Ohio was the chief speaker at a meeting of 3500 Republicans at the new convention hall last night, which was the formal opening of the campaign of that party in this city. John Barrett, former minister of the United States to Siam, also spoke.

Revolutionists In the Ascendancy.

Havana, Sept. 19.—The results of the election of delegates to the forthcoming constitutional convention are being freely discussed. The conclusion reached is that the convention will be controlled by the revolutionary element. In the main the delegates are capable men. Most of them, it is said, are in favor of immediate and absolute independence, without the intervention of a protectorate. The Republicans and fusionists here have raised the cry of fraud.

Sentence None Too Heavy.

Boston, Sept. 19.—To repay his stealings from his employer, Charles N. Coburn stole the savings of a hard-working scrub woman, to whom $500 was a small fortune, and on Tuesday he was given a sentence of two years in the house of correction. Coburn was a clerk for a jeweler and had stolen $3000.

STEAMERS IN COLLISION.

Lives of Twenty Persons Were Lost In a Disaster In Cardigan Bay.

Liverpool, Sept. 19. — The British steamer Gordon Castle and the German steamer Stormarn were in collision in Cardigan bay Sunday night, and both vessels sank.

Twenty of the persons on board the Gordon Castle were lost.

The Stormarn cut the Gordon Castle in twain in a dense fog. The Gordon Castle sank immediately, her boilers exploding.

The Stormarn floated for an hour. Her boats saved a few of the Gordon Castle's passengers, who were transferred to the steamer Borregaard and taken to Pembrey.

Barge and Crew Missing.

Wellfleet, Mass., Sept. 19.—Another ocean tragedy took place off Cape Cod Tuesday, and before sunset there had been one vessel wrecked, one life surely lost, with five others in doubt, though probably sacrificed. The tremendous seas which followed the easterly storm made navigation around Cape Cod a hazardous proceeding. That only the barge T. L. Watson went down seems remarkable to those who stood out on the bluffs at the Highland light and watched the battle for life going on just outside the breakers between Race Point and the fearful Peaked Hill bars.

The barge Thomas L. Watson, Captain Holway of Hyde Park, carried a crew of five men all told, supposed to have been drowned. Her cargo consisted of 962 tons of coal, consigned to Curran & Burton, and was valued at about $4000, which is insured.

Several barges were safely anchored at Provincetown.

Many Disasters Off Newfoundland.

St. John's, Sept. 19.—Reports of marine disasters during last week's gale continue to pour in from remote localities. Yesterday's advices show 17 more vessels ashore, and 13 lives lost. Considerable damage was done to property along the seaboard. Hope for the safety of four vessels, with crews aggregating 25, is almost abandoned.

Scrambled For Abandoned Vessel.

Boston, Sept. 19. — The Gloucester schooner Clermont, abandoned, with no boats on board and her anchor chains hanging over the bow, was picked up off Scituate Tuesday and brought into port by her prize crew. There was a lively race among volunteer crews at Scituate when the schooner drifted in.

Two Lives Were Lost.

New York, Sept. 19.—The tug America of the New York Harbor Tug company was sunk, and two lives lost, off Canal street, North river, yesterday. She was run into by the Atlantic transport liner Minnehaha.

Probably a Total Loss.

North Sydney, N. S., Sept. 19.—The fishing schooner Finance went ashore at Big Glace Bay and is probably a total loss, as half a gale of wind is blowing and driving her upon rocks.

Relief Vessel Lost.

Halifax, Sept. 19.—The Lily of the North, which left Halifax last month with supplies for the Peary Arctic expedition, is lost. No particulars, except crew saved.

Will Be Buried In Native Land.

Washington, Sept. 19.—Colonel Patten, on duty at the war department, has completed arrangements for the free transportation to the United States of the remains of the soldiers and sailors and civilians who lost their lives and were buried in the island possessions of the United States and in China. The approximate number of remains to be exhumed is 1331, distributed in the following places: Honolulu, 37 men; Guam, 8 men; China, 97 men; Philippines, 1195 men.

Had Doffed His Clothing.

Attleboro, Mass., Sept. 19.—An unknown man, clad only in an undershirt, threw himself in front of an express train about a mile north of here Tuesday evening. He was killed instantly and the body badly mangled. He was about 35 years old.

British Make Further Progress

Pretoria, Sept. 19.—General Pole-Carew has occupied Kaap Mudden, about 20 miles east of Nelspruit, where he captured a number of locomotives and a considerable quantity of rolling stock.

Greek Warship Meets With Mishap.

Philadelphia, Sept. 19.—The Greek cruiser Nauarchos Miaulis, which arrived here Monday, went aground off Cooper's Point and remains there.

NEWS IN BRIEF

The population of Newton, Mass., is 33,587, as against 24,379 in 1890.

The yellow fever situation in Havana is decidedly unfavorable.

A slight mishap to her machinery has delayed the departure of the battleship Wisconsin from San Francisco for Puget Sound, where she was to prepare for her trial trip.

Indications point to a settlement of the differences between the government of intervention, the city of Havana and Michael J. Dady, the Brooklyn contractor, in the Havana sewer and paving controversy.

OFFER TO ARBITRATE

Rejected by the Twenty-Five Hundred Employes In Markles' Collieries.

A Viva Voce Vote Results In Favor of a Strike.

President Mitchell Estimates That 126,000 Men Are Idle In the Anthracite District.

Hazleton, Pa., Sept. 20.—An interesting feature of yesterday's developments in the coal miners' strike was the meeting at Jeddo of the mine workers employed in the four collieries of G. B. Markle & Co., who number 2500. These men are in a different position from the others in the region. They have an agreement with their employers to submit any grievance and wait 10 days for an adjustment. When the strike was ordered they had not presented any complaint, but the day the tie-up began, the United Mine Workers' officials had the union men in Markle's mine formulate grievances similar to those of the strikers, and demand adjustment. Since then Markles' mines have been in operation, but at yesterday's meeting, President Mitchell and some of his lieutenants obtained the adoption of a resolution for a strike at once.

The committee of the Markle employes, which presented the grievances of the men to the firm last week, called a meeting for 4 o'clock yesterday in front of the village schoolhouse at Jeddo for the purpose of hearing what Mr. Markle had to say in regard to the grievances. The United Mine Workers' officials also announced a meeting of the Markle mine workers for 2 o'clock at the same place, but it was not called to order until 4 o'clock. The chairman of the grievance committee called the people to order, after which Patrick Gallagher, a miner, was elected chairman.

The Markle employes are divided on the question of striking, and some members of the grievance committee, who tried last week to avert a strike, were accused of standing in with the company. At the meeting yesterday the committee was asked to make a report of some kind, and failing to present one a miner in the crowd moved that the men in the Markle mines strike. A viva voce vote was taken and there was a great roar of "Yes."

President Mitchell was in the crowd, and he was invited to speak. As he walked up the steps of the schoolhouse John Markle, Alvin Markle and General Superintendent Smith of the firm's mines came along and listened to the strike leader exhort his hearers.

Mr. Mitchell said he was glad that those men in the Markle mines who opposed the strike were in the minority. He said that if they all stopped work the victory would be won. At the conclusion of this address John Markle told the men that the company stood ready to arbitrate any differences with the men and proposed that the company select one arbitrator and the men choose one. If the two fail to agree these two men could invite a third man to join them in considering the matters before them. He said he would abide by the decision of the arbitrators no matter what the award might be. Mr. Markle concluded his address by calling the United Mine Workers' officials agitators and charging them with being responsible for all the turmoil in the region.

Mr. Mitchell said that the United Mine Workers would not accept arbitration on that basis. It must be the whole region and not a part of it.

Mr. Markle again addressed the men and reiterated that he would accept Archbishop Ryan as arbitrator, to which Mr. Mitchell replied that he would accept the archbishop on the basis the United Mine Workers proposed—arbitration for the whole region at one and the same time.

At this point Father Phillips was called upon and he delivered a speech favoring arbitration.

The meeting lasted two hours, breaking up at twilight. The strike leaders claim that as a result of the meeting the Markle mines will be closed, while the firm claim that the meeting was a packed one, and that their mines will operate as usual.

The third day of the strike passed off as quietly as the two preceding days. Beyond the occasional stoning of a mine worker going to or from his work, there has been no disorder. It was estimated last night that about 70 percent of the mine workers of this region were idle, which is quite an increase over Tuesday's figures. President Mitchell said that from reports he had received he figured on more than 126,000 being idle in the anthracite district. He added that most gratifying reports were received from this and the Schuylkill district. No negotiations for a settlement of the strike are yet in sight, and the situation in that respect is precisely the same as it was Tuesday.

The mine operators, after generally maintaining a silence for several days, are showing a disposition to talk for publication, and as a result several statements from their side are printed. All breathe the same spirit. No recognition of the United Mine Workers, and a fight to a finish with President Mitchell and his followers.

COMMERCE IS RESUMED.

Galveston Has Already Made Good Progress Toward Getting "on Her Feet."

Galveston, Tex., Sept. 20.—Yesterday marked the resumption of the commerce of the port of Galveston with the outside world. Elevator A has been temporarily repaired, and the first ship to take grain since the storm was ordered to go under the spouts. The British steamship Benedict, grounded north of the channel by the storm, was expected to be floated. Her cargo of grain is reported as uninjured, and if a board of survey pronounces her seaworthy she will at once proceed to sea.

Several human bodies were found yesterday. No attempt was made to identify them and they were immediately cremated. The report that Miss Clara Barton is ill and that she has been compelled to leave is an error. She is indisposed, though not seriously so, and she is directing the work of her assistants. A system has now been inaugurated and the work is progressing smoothly in conjunction with the local relief committee.

Major George H. Lee, inspector of hospitals and dispensaries, made a favorable report upon the sanitary condition of the city. At a meeting of the general relief committee no one was found who would undertake the job of removing the city's debris on contract, as all state it would be impossible to make a definite estimate. The nearest estimate expert wreckers will make is that it will take 2000 men nearly 90 days to clear away the debris and get all of the bodies out, and that this will cost $500,000.

The board adopted a resolution stating that it was its opinion that the best way to solve the problem of clearing away the debris was to let a contract to some one to do this work. They recommended to the general committee that this be done.

London Bankers Help.

London, Sept. 20.—In the morning papers appears a letter signed by the Barings, Rothschilds, Speyers, and Brown, Shipley & Co., in which these houses offer to receive subscriptions in aid of the Galveston sufferers. The above houses have contributed $7350.

Taft Commission's Report.

Washington, Sept. 20.—In response to the president's request, the Philippine commission cabled from Manila a month ago a comprehensive statement of the conditions and the prospects in the islands. The report was made public yesterday. The report states that Filipinos long for peace, and it attributes the continuance in arms of small insurgent bands to hopes excited by hope of a change in the policy of the United States as a result of the presidential eelction. The good will of the people is reported as improving. The islands are nowhere safe for travellers. Customs collections are the largest in history. Public schools are called for. The creation of a central legislative body like that of Porto Rico is suggested as feasible in 18 months.

Acceptable to New York Central.

New York, Sept. 20.—The New York Central directors have unanimously agreed to accept the terms upon which the lease of the Boston and Albany railroad was alone made possible, and, after the stockholders of both roads shall have formally ratified the actions of their respective directorates, the lease will promptly go into effect.

His Own Executioner.

Pawtucket, R. I., Sept. 20.—George L. Wright, 47 years old, was found dead in one of his father's hayfields. The body rested close to a tree, from which was suspended a piece of rope. About the neck of Wright was another piece of rope. He had been missing since Sept. 9.

May Have Committed Suicide.

Exeter, N. H., Sept. 20.—The police of this town, assisted by a large party of men, have been searching for Nathan H. Wright, 78 years old, who has disappeared from his home here. He was last seen sitting on his wife's grave in the cemetery. It is believed that he has committed suicide.

Death of General McClernand.

Springfield, Ills., Sept. 20.—General John A. McClernand died here this morning. He was born in 1812. He rendered distinguished service on the Union side under General Logan and General Grant, notably at Fort Donelson, Shiloh and Vicksburg. He had been in feeble health for some time.

Firebrand on the Warpath.

Spitskop, Sept. 20.—General Viljoen, who succeeded Louis Botha in the supreme command of the Transvaal forces, is reported to be moving northward in the direction of Hector spruit, with 3000 men and 30 guns. He is known as "the firebrand," and will endeavor to protract the war.

Actress Archer Dead.

Warren, Pa., Sept. 20.—Belle Archer, the actress, died here last night from a clot of blood on the brain. Miss Archer made her histrionic debut in "Pinafore," and shortly after her entry upon the stage she was married to Herbert Archer, an actor, who is now in England.

FRANCE JOINS RUSSIA

In Her Plans to Proceed Toward Opening of Peace Negotiations.

Likely to Be Opposed by Both Great Britain and Germany.

United States Must Soon Take Sides or Proceed to Act Entirely Independently.

Washington, Sept. 20.—The first definite determination to begin peace negotiations with China seems to have been reached by the French and Russian governments, which have made known their purpose to proceed with negotiations with Li Hung Chang and Prince Ching as soon as feasible. This doubtless will have an important influence on the present negotiations which are hinging to a considerable extent on the opening of peace negotiations.

As France is acting with Russia, this determination appears to remove any prospect of a modification of the Russo-Franco determination to withdraw from Pekin. It also disposes of all questions as to the credentials of Li Hung Chang and places France in a position of being ready to proceed on the credentials he has brought forward. If it is the purpose of France and Russia to begin peace negotiations it would follow that at least some of the great powers will not concur in the German note requiring the surrender of the chief Chinese ringleaders as an indispensable prerequisite to the opening of negotiations.

With the German proposition to postpone peace negotiations with China until the persons responsible for the Pekin outrages are punished, and the French and Russian notification of the purpose of those governments to begin such negotiations awaiting him, the president found much matter of importance to dispose of upon his arrival in Washington from Canton yesterday.

He lost no time in notifying the officials whom he desired to consult of his return, and the day was largely given up to private discussions. Although it was stated that no answer was ready to the German note, it appeared that the president, after talking over the situation with his advisers, had arrived at the conclusion as to the nature of the response, but all information as to its contents was refused at the state department. It was said that the note was going to be gone over carefully at a further meeting between the president and such of his advisers as are in the city.

The German government, apparently, is anxious for a speedy answer, as Baron Sternberg paid two visits to the state department after the German note was delivered. The Chinese minister was also twice at the state department, seeking to influence the government not to agree to the joint action suggested in the German note.

The conclusion reached from the day's developments is that the powers are dividing as to China, and that, at present, Germany and Great Britain stand aligned against France and Russia, while both sides are ardently seeking the adherence of the United States government. The issue appears to be made up in such shape as to dismiss further hope of attaining that harmony of action respecting China that the president has been seeking so far, and the point apparently has been reached where the United States must take sides or at once proceed to act entirely independently of other powers in reaching a settlement. The Chinese government is urging the latter course upon the state department, but thus far there has been a restraining force in the desire to avoid making the United States the first of the powers to break the solid front that has been maintained up to the present.

Anti-Foreign Agitation at Canton.

Hong Kong, Sept. 20.—Since the suppression of newspapers in Canton still more damaging leaflets have been circulated, announcing Chinese victories and that the allies are seeking peace. It is supposed that those were written with a view of fomenting the anti-foreign feeling. The viceroy is powerless to suppress this form of agitation.

Diplomats to Be Shifted.

London, Sept. 20.—The only news of importance from China this morning is contained in a dispatch to The Times from Shanghai, dated yesterday, asserting that Sir Claude MacDonald will become British minister at Tokio, and will be succeeded at Pekin by Sir Ernest Satow, the present British minister at the Japanese capital.

Chinese Not Wanted In Africa.

London, Sept. 20.—Cecil Rhodes, according to the Cape Town correspondent of The Daily Mail, denies that he is in favor of importing Chinese labor into Rhodesia. On the contrary, he declares that he is opposed to any such step, and considers that every other means should first be exhausted.

Curtailment by Southern Mills.

Charlotte, N. C., Sept. 20.—The recommendation of the Southern Cotton Spinners' association that its members curtail their production of yarns as much as possible for 60 days, has been complied with by enough mills to bring about a reduction in the southern output of about 40 percent. Two large mills at Malden, N. C., have suspended operations altogether.

To Resume Work on Employers' Terms.

Lebanon, Pa., Sept. 20.—At a meeting yesterday of about 900 of the 1200 iron workers employed by the American Iron and Steel company, who struck on Aug. 1 against a reduction of wages from $4 to $3 per ton for puddlers, it was agreed to go back to work at the rate of $3 a ton.

Good Afternoon.

Don't be surprised if Quincy's population goes considerably over 25,000. This would be a gain of over fifty per cent. in ten years.

Universal sorrow is felt that Miss Clara Barton should be taken critically ill while superintending the relief work at Galveston. She is always to be found where help is most needed, and really is almost indispensable. Her good work is world-wide.

Some cities are anxious about their census returns that they may grant as many liquor licenses as possible, but Quincy has nothing to fear in that line. Some in Lowell are weeping because one license was lost by 31 of rounding 95,000. Temperance people are not sorry.

Dress Took Fire.

Jane Phillips, a domestic in the employ of Mrs. A. A. Harlow of South street, was severely burned about the arms and body Wednesday afternoon while singeing a pigeon, with a piece of paper. Her dress took fire, and in an instant she was enveloped in flames. She ran into the yard screaming and Walter Pratt, Timothy B. Collins and Michael Donahue who were passing, ran to her and succeeded in putting out the fire but not before she had been frightfully burned. Mr. Collins was burned about the hands and Mr. Pratt had his clothing ruined. A physician was summoned. It is thought that Miss Phillips did not inhale any flame, and that she will recover.

Tenth Congressional.

The Herald says editorially: "In the appeal to the voters of the 10th congressional district at the caucuses to be held in this city on Monday next it is well to bear in mind that the effort is being made by Mr. Harrison H. Atwood to reinstate himself in the Republican party by becoming again its candidate for Congress. An important point to be decided is as to whether the Republican party is prepared to give him this endorsement. There are four Republican candidates for the position, namely, Dr. George B. Fierce, Mr. Atwood, W. W. Towle and John Shaw, but it is well understood that the contest is between Dr. Pierce and Mr. Atwood, the most that either of the others can hope for being to be taken as an alternative nominee. It is difficult to see how the voters can hesitate in making a choice here. Without undertaking to revive the particulars of an old controversy in the district, it is to be remembered that its Republicans found cause to retire Mr. Atwood from being their representative in Congress, and also that the reasons which induced them to do this are still in force. On the other hand, they have in Dr. Pierce a gentleman of liberal education and of the purest character, an undoubted Republican alike by tradition and by conviction and one against whom as a candidate for the place, neither politically nor personally, not a word can be said. It is much to be desired that he shall receive the party nomination."

—No less than 825 different varieties of postage stamps have been issued this year and the stamp collectors are wondering where they are going to and if this thing continues every year.

SEVERAL CONTESTS.

Opposition to Shaw for Congress and Sprague for Senator.

Three Lists of Congressional Delegates in Ward One.

Wards Five and Six the Only Ones Without Contests of Any Kind.

The opening of the nomination papers for delegates to be voted upon at the Republican caucuses of Sept. 25, opens the campaign in earnest. Seven o'clock Wednesday evening was the last hour for filing papers, and they were promptly opened by the Ward Secretaries.

As was expected, there will be contests in most wards, but the West Quincy ward is the only one which has rival lists for all conventions. Two complete lists were filed.

On the other hand but one list was filed in the Wollaston ward and only one in the Atlantic ward.

Ward One is the only ward which has three lists for any convention. These are for the Congressional delegates. The first is labelled as "favorable to H. H. Atwood." While the others are unknown, they are said to be for Towle and Shaw respectively. It is reported that Harry J. Matthews has already withdrawn from Shaw list, and that others may resign from the Towle list.

This ward also has contests for Senatorial and Representative delegates. The first Senatorial list, filed by the committee, is unpledged, but is said to be 3 to 1 for Woodsum. Frank F. Prescott of the State Committee has been given the credit of instigating the second list, which is solid for Eugene F. Sprague for Senator, but Mr. Prescott denies the rumor, saying he was in nowise responsible for the list being started or filed, but simply agreed to stand as a candidate on the delegation. He is, however, a hearty supporter of the Wollaston man and will be temporary chairman of the convention.

The biggest fight in Ward One will be over the election of delegates to the Representative Convention. Representative Eben W. Sheppard, a candidate for reelection, is a resident of this ward, and against him is John McKnight. Unless a man carries his own ward, he is usually considered out of the contest, as he has no delegates to trade with the other wards. The Ward Committee are with Mr. McKnight, but Representative Sheppard counts upon the support of the solid men if they attend the caucus.

Ex-Councilman Shaw has opposition in his home ward, Quincy Point, to his candidacy for Congress, and there will also be a contest between Sprague and Woodsum for the Senatorial delegates. The other lists will have a walkover.

The novelty in the South Quincy ward is a list pledged to Maxwell for Councillor. It is the only ward in the city in which there is a pledged Councillor list, but there may have been some quiet work in some of the other wards. In this ward there is a rival list for the Councillor delegates. There are also contests for Congress and Senator. The Congressional lists are marked for Atwood and Shaw respectively. The Senatorial lists are both unknown.

The Wollaston and Atlantic lists are said to be for Shaw and Sprague, and the Ward Six list for Frank E. Badger for Representative.

The complete lists as filed are:

Crane Family Interested in Purchase.

Beauty of Library and Neighborhood Will Be Enhanced.

An important real estate deal was consumated Wednesday when the deeds were passed conveying the Joseph T. French estate on Washington street to Albert Crane of New York, a son of Thomas Crane, the donor of the Thomas Crane Public Library, which property it adjoins.

The estate which contains about 5000 feet of land, has a frontage of fifty feet on Washington street, and is situated in the heart of the city.

There is a house and small stable upon the estate, which were occupied for many years by the late Joseph T. French, whose heirs have made the present sale.

The deal which has been under consideration for several months was made through George W. Morton and Herbert T. Whitman.

Mr. Crane is at present in Europe. It is understood that upon his return in November, it is his intention to convey the property to the city to become a part of the Public Library estate.

The purchase price is private but is understood to have been in the vicinity of $6000.

This is a part of the land that was suggested for the proposed government building, but it is thought that the transfer will help rather than retard the movement. That if the government selects this site, satisfactory arrangements can be made.

CAVALRY REUNION.

John R. Graham Entertains His Former Comrades.

The Tenth annual reunion of the 4th Mass. Cavalry Association was held Wednesday with its President, John R. Graham, at Quincy. It was one of the largest attended reunions the regiment has ever held, and it was also one of the most enjoyable.

The veterans, to the number of nearly sixty arrived in Quincy at 11 o'clock, where a special car was found in waiting to take them for a trolley trip about the city. Supt. Weeks was in charge of the party, and the first places of interest visited were birthplaces of the Presidents at South Quincy. Then the party went to East Weymouth where several more members of the regiment were taken aboard.

The ride was a pleasant one, although a little cool, and several of the ladies in the party said they were glad they had brought their wraps. The cool air, however, served to sharpen the appetites, and when Squantum Inn was reached shortly before 1 o'clock, they were all as hungry as bears, and ready to make one of their old time foraging expeditions upon the larder of Landlord Lee.

Dinner was not quite ready, however, and a brief business meeting was called. First came the roll of the regiment. A deathlike stillness prevailed during this duty, and while those present answered present to their names, at others some one would answer "dead," and another name would be added to the roll of those who had gone before.

Then came the dinner; such as only Mr. Lee knows how to serve, and it is hardly necessary to say everybody enjoyed it.

This pleasant business over, the annual election of officers was held.

President Graham wanted the honor of presiding officer given to someone else, but the Vets said no, and he was reelected amid loud applause. Other officers elected were: Vice President, A. R. Stover, W. W. Convers and N. F. Vining; Secretary and treasurer, Henry F. Ball of Ashland.

Following this there were a few offhand remarks by several of the veterans, after which the meeting closed.

For half an hour following the meeting Pat. Ryan, who in civil life wears a policeman's uniform of blue in the city of Worcester, entertained the party with songs, dances and funny stories, which kept them in convulsions, and left no doubt that his vocation was not wielding the policeman's club, but rather upon the vaudeville stage.

Three rousing cheers for President Graham resounded through the air as the special car was taken for home.

At Atlantic a number of the out of town members left the party to take the train, and their leave-taking called for more cheers for Mr. Graham. The car went to Neponset and then back to Quincy, where the last of the Vets. were left, and the tenth annual was at an end.

The members of the association present were:

Greenleaf C. Day, Waldo Smith, Franklin Derby, Alden B. Hathaway, William H. Maxey, A. O. Taber, John Reagan, O. L. Bailey, Thomas Drew, James Mullavery, William L. Osgood, George W. Packard, William F. Fullerton, D. J. Lantz, William F. Leavitt, Thomas C. Silk, H. E. Wilkinson, Otis B. Pierce, George M. Davis, J. H. Ferguson, John R. Graham, Charles H. Hildreth, Charles H. Pratt, N. Frank Vining, Peter Aubickout, Thomas Rafferty, Thomas Smith, H. M. Smith, Allen T. Williams, T. C Cooledge, William Gagan, Henry Pratt, William B. Arnold, Thomas Burston, William W. Converse, John Crawford, Piam Damon, T. J. Evans, Charles L. Leavitt, Brainard Magee, James Mullaly, George W. Plympton, P. F. Ryan, Edward S. Handy, Bradford Hawes, C. D. Bacon, William Harney, Emory W. Foss, George H. Hill, Patrick Slane, Amos R. Storer, John Mahoney, C. L. Stevens, Henry F. Ball.

Farmers' Fruit Offering.

The great fruit harvest of 1896 was fitly commemorated by the Farmers' Fruit Offering of that autumn in which by the generous gift of farmers, railroads, teamsters, the cooperation of the press, and indeed everybody, 5,500 bushels of apples were eaten by people who, in many instances, had not eaten an apple for years.

The Lend a Hand Society understand that there is even a greater harvest this year than then. It asks the cooperation of clubs and their friends and would say that if they have apples or other fruit or vegetables which they like to give to those in need, that they can promptly distribute any offering of such luxuries.

The railroads centering in Boston have kindly consented to receive and transport all such freight free of charge. Apples may be sent in bags, barrels and boxes, or if neighbors combine they may be sent loose in car or half carloads by consultation with the freight agent. All goods should be marked: "Farmers' Fruit Offering, No. 1 Beacon street, Boston."

Almost time for the weekly whist gatherings which were so popular last winter.

TAKING THE REINS.

George R. Peck, 3, 2:20¼, pacing, is a new one for Joe Patchen, 2:01¼.

It is now reported that Alcidalia, 2:10¼, will be started in a race or two late in the fall.

John A. McKerron, 3, 2:12¼, has been a sixth mile in 2:13¾, last half in 1:04¼, at Cleveland in his work.

The pacing gelding Kingfisher, 2:19¼, by Eaglehurst, worked in 2:09½, last half in 1:03, at Lexington recently.

Arion, 2:07¾, recently worked a mile over the Readville (Mass.) track in 2:10, the first half in the remarkably fast time of 1:01¾.

Ten and one-half ounce shoes and three ounce toe weights converted Monopole from a 2:08½ pacer to a 2:23¼ trotter.

The New York state pacer Timepiece, formerly a hobbler, is racing without the straps this season and has cut his record to 2:10¼.

Guiado, 2:20¼, promises to be a 2:15 trotter for his dam, famous old Primrose. He was a close second to Alkalone in 2:14½ the other day.

The quarter time of Prince Alert's mile in 2:03 at Poughkeepsie was :31, 1:02½, 1:32¾, 2:02. The last half was in 1:00½ and last quarter in 29½ seconds.

Frenchy, 2:24½, by Baron Wilkes, owned by Elmer E. Lay of Plainfield, Pa., foaled a chestnut colt last May by Pure Gold, son of Mambrino King, that is a natural pacer.

Nelly Gay, by Pamlico, 2:10, stepped into the 2:20 list at Newburg, N. Y., recently. She beat 14 others and trotted three heats over the half mile track in 2:19¾, 2:18¾, 2:19¼.

It is noted that Dreamer, 2:15¼, by Oakland Baron, 2:09¾, and Mobel, 2:16¾, by Moko, the two fastest 3-year-old trotters of the year, are both by sons of Baron Wilkes, 2:18.

Connor, 2:06¼, lacks but two winning heats as a pacer of the century mark, and he'll not be long getting those. He has also 21 as a trotter, making his present total at both gaits 119.—Horse Review.

POULTRY POINTERS.

Color in fowls is largely a matter of taste.

Almost any way is better than overcrowding.

The first thing now is to get the hens through molting.

Hens that are late in molting will rarely lay until spring.

Ground rawbone not only contains lime, but animal matter of value to the hens.

When guineas are shut up, they rarely sit, but when given a good range they will hatch broods and rear them very readily.

One advantage of buying the breeding fowls in good season now is that breeders usually have a full supply and will sell cheaper.

Turkeys must have considerable range, and they must also be allowed full liberty with their young or they will not keep in good health.

One advantage in giving fowls a free range is that there will be less trouble from soft shell eggs. The exercise and lime they will pick up will lessen this trouble.

During the summer a supply of dry road dust should be gathered up and stored away for use during the coming winter to sprinkle over the floor of the poultry house.—St. Louis Republic.

BEE BUZZES.

A free circulation of air should pass between the ground and the hive in order always to keep it dry on all sides.

Bees in box hives can be fed up for wintering just as well as in any hive, but they may not be just as easy to handle.

Bees are not known to secrete wax and build comb at any time other than when they are gathering honey or are being fed.

A well formed brood nest is one that occupies the center of four or five frames and is entirely surrounded (except the bottom) with sealed honey.

Each hive should have a good bottom board, which should be planed smooth and painted. It should also be cleated at each end to prevent cupping.

There is nothing that will advance the progress in the apiary equal to a supply of empty combs. A large supply of them may be readily obtained by using foundation.

Four parts of coffee and sugar and one part water simmered until it becomes quite hard on being cooled makes a good candy for fall and winter feeding.—St. Louis Republic.

BITS OF SCIENCE.

A German surgeon recently cut off a patient's second toe and sewed it to the stump of a missing forefinger. It proved a very good substitute and can be moved by the owner, as an artificial finger could not be.

Recent discoveries tend to increase the belief that the sun's corona, the mysterious lacelike, pearl colored halo that is seen surrounding the sun in a total eclipse, is an electrical phenomenon similar to the aurora.

The larynx of a man in Sydney, Australia, became useless through disease, and he lost his voice. Professor Stuart of the University of Sydney is said to have made an artificial one, and it can be so registered as to make the voice soprano, tenor, contralto or bass at will.

THE MOVING WORLD.

An electric plow, operated by movable trolley wires, has been invented in Halle, Prussia.

The use of machinery has reduced the time necessary for the making of 100 watches from 1,749 hours to 355.

By a new opera glass attachment the focusing of the glass is made easier, the spindle being rotated by a rack bar, which is pivoted on the frame and has a serrated knob projecting over the top to open or close the glass.

POLITICAL QUIPS.

The surest way for a man to find how unpopular he is in his own party is to bolt to another.—Denver Republican.

The Anti-Horse Thief association meets at Wichita, Kan., soon. Are we to have still another presidential ticket?—Louisville Courier-Journal.

There is a misstatement in the assertion that the campaign liar is taking more rope than usual. He does not use rope, but yarn.—Philadelphia Press.

FRENCH STYLES WHICH GOWNMAKERS STRIVE TO ESTABLISH.

Decorative Points of the Empire Gown—The Directoire Style—Advance Guard of Shirt Waists—L'Aiglon Back, Gold Buttons, Etc.

After some years of artistic striving the empire gown has won its way into fashion's affections. Directly opposed to the flowing lines and more generous amplitude of the Louis gowns comes the classical simplicity of the empire, for the expressing of which all the softest, most clinging fabrics are employed, together with lace. Rich and rare embroideries in many instances enhance the hem and the top of the decolletage, while jeweled clasps catch the sleeve draperies across the top of the arm. After temporizing long with many variations of this style couturieres have returned to the refined elegance of the original fancy and are of consequence presenting gowns of lace and soft satin, arranged to half reveal and half conceal the contour of the form, with handsome embroideries at the hem of the skirt, a decorative note that is repeated either in the form of a band round the top of the figure or in that short yoke bodice so characteristic of the period. The charming gown illustrated displays the last named detail fashioned of lace, above which comes a slightly full transparent chemisette of sprigged net. In perfect harmony are the long, close fitting sleeves, with the small empire puff of transparency at the shoulder.

Among the most striking styles of the Paris gown builders are the directoire toilets, of which the second cut gives an example. Here the coat is of powder blue cloth and the skirt in ivory cloth with a full belt of glace silk.

Shirt waists will be more various, more elaborate, than ever before. Early newcomers in French flannels for golfing, yachting and general outdoor wear show the "l'aiglon" back with overlaying half sleeve or a modified dress style. Flannel waists have sprinkled buttons, embroidered disks and tendrils, with signs tending toward a profuse use of gold in buttons and inworked designs.

Hemstitchings, very fine tucks and cords, triple tucks and clusters characterize the advance guards of silk waists.

Brilliantines with shiny satinlike dots or stripes promise to be as popular as they are useful for the early autumn.

There is no doubt later on there will be a great demand for plaid fabrics of all kinds, for Parisians are wildly plunging into every kind of check material, delightful for shirts and morning wear. Wide plaid ribbon belts and big bows are now worn with seaside serges.

In spite of emancipation and common sense the long skirt is still in evidence.

The one point upon which it appears probable that the gownmakers will lavish their greatest skill and invention is the elaboration of the fanciful sleeve which is now an established fact in fashion.

There is a new cloth of fine texture and has beautiful satin sheen which it is predicted, will prove popular for waists.

Issues of the Hour.

Estimates as to the electoral vote give President McKinley 284, Bryan 142, while the following are placed in the doubtful column: Kentucky, 13; Maryland, 8; Colorado, 4; Nebraska, 8. Total, 33. Should Mr. Bryan carry all of these states, his vote in the electoral college would still be less than it was in 1896.

Mr. Bryan is no stronger than he was in July. His anti-imperialism has won him a few votes in eastern states, which even his friends do not hope to carry. Silver is weaker in the west than it was four years ago, and it is impossible to see where Mr. Bryan is making any effective progress with either of his great issues. Let all work for Republican success with diligence and intelligence and determination to secure popular favor for Republican tickets from top to bottom. But let panic be avoided, for it does more to unnerve voters and encourage opponents than its money returns or machine triumphs are worth.—New York Tribune.

"Before Dewey's victory the United States was regarded everywhere in Asia by the common people and by the governing classes as a secondary power. Our commerce and our influence were hampered and checkmated. The glorious achievement of May 1, 1898, and the subsequent occupation of the Philippine islands made America a country respected and treated as a first-class power for the first time in the history of our relations with Asiatic nations. We would have been laggards instead of leaders in rescuing the ministers and missionaries at Pekin, and we would have been the last, instead of the first, power to have led in the protection of life, property and rights in China, if we had not held by moral, as well as material, right, our new possessions in the Philippines. If 8,000,000 Filipinos do not yet understand us, 800,000,000 of other Asiatics have been taught to respect our flag and country."—Hon. John Barrett, ex-minister to Siam.

Gentlemen:—Our family realize so much from the use of GRAIN-O that I feel I must say a word to induce others to use it. If people are interested in their health and the welfare of their children they will use no other beverage. I have used them all, but GRAIN-O I have found superior to any, for the reason that it is solid grain.

Yours for health, C. F. MYERS.

NINE DORIES MISSING.

Contained Eighteen Men From the Fishing Schooner Maggie Sullivan.

Considered Probable That All Have Been Drowned.

Forty-Two Vessels Ashore Off Newfoundland, Many of Which Are a Total Loss.

Boston, Sept. 20.—Nine dories from the fishing schooner Maggie Sullivan were lost in the fog, about 18 miles off Chatham, from Cape Cod, Monday night, and have since been at the mercy of the seas. They contained 18 men, two in each dory, and all are probably drowned.

The Maggie Sullivan is a schooner-rigged fishing vessel of 120 tons, and left this port the latter part of last week on a fishing trip, carrying the regular crew. She cast anchor off Cape Cod and dispatched the crew in the accustomed manner in small dories for fishing purposes.

On Monday these dories were between a mile and a half and three miles off the schooner, when a sudden darkness and thick fog put them completely out of sight of the main vessel and of land as well.

About 11 o'clock yesterday forenoon the Maggie Sullivan was sighted by a similarly rigged vessel, the Lizzie Griffin, off Chatham, in a helpless condition, only five men being aboard and these entirely powerless, so far as manning the vessel was concerned. Every possible aid was offered the distressed fishing schooner and five men were put aboard to bring her safely to port.

As is the custom on all of the fishing smacks which leave this harbor, the Maggie Sullivan distributed the men in pairs, in its dories, to different sections of the fishing grounds. They generally leave the main craft in the early morning and return soon after nightfall. When 8 o'clock arrived on Monday night, and the men had not arrived, with no apparent signs of their doing so, the worst was feared, and all night long a diligent search was made to locate them.

Tuesday's effort to find any of the missing dories was without success.

The schooner Lizzie Burns was returning from a successful fishing trip yesterday about 11 o'clock in the forenoon, when it sighted the Maggie Sullivan with a signal of distress at the masthead. She immediately ran alongside.

Captain Sullivan of the unfortunate vessel refused positively to say anything last evening and all the information that could be gained was gleaned from the men who boarded her from the Lizzie Griffin.

All agreed that the 18 men in the dories were probably lost.

Total Loss of Thirty Vessels.

St. John's, Sept. 20.—Forty-two fishing vessels are ashore in the straits of Belle Isle, and as many as 30 will be totally lost. This is in addition to the disasters previously reported. Shipwrecked crews, aggregating 79 persons, have been brought south by the mail steamer, and a special steamer will go for the others. Immense stocks of codfish have been lost with the shipping.

Treasure Steamer Went Ashore.

Seattle, Sept. 20.—The treasure steamer C. H. Hamilton, from Dawson to St. Michaels, with 150 passengers and $1,300,000 in gold dust, was driven on the beach on the Yukon flats, Sept. 6, during a severe storm. One report was to the effect that the steamer was wrecked, but another says that she made St. Michaels safely.

Has Probably Gone to Pieces.

Boston, Sept. 20.—Wreckage from the steamer John Endicott, which sank off Harding's ledge, while being towed to this city from Cohasset, is strewn along the beach at Nantasket, and it is believed that the old boat has gone to pieces. Her funnel, which was visible after she foundered, can no longer be seen.

Bold Robbery of a Bank.

Winnemucca, Nev., Sept. 20.—The First National bank was robbed of about $13,000 at noon yesterday by three men. The robbers threatened the five people in the bank with instant death if they made a show of resistance. One robber made the cashier take from the safe three sacks of gold coin. They threw this in an ore sack, together with all the gold coin in the office drawer. The robbers then marched the five men out through a back door to an alley, covering them with guns until they mounted their horses and escaped.

Reardon's Alleged Assailant Captured.

Boston, Sept. 20.—Chief Inspector Watts has received a telegram from Inspector Kelley of Rochester stating that the man under arrest there, who gave the name of George Ferguson, has been identified as the man who stabbed John Reardon in this city. Ferguson denies that he stabbed Reardon. There is reason to believe that Reardon will recover.

Boston Banker Succumbs to Lockjaw.

Boston, Sept. 20.—Elisha D. Bangs, president of the Boston stock exchange, died yesterday at his home in Winchester from lockjaw, which resulted from a fall from his carriage. The acident occurred Sept. 8. Mr. Bangs was 58 years old, and was at the head of the firm of E. D. Bangs & Co., bankers.

St. Louis Feels the Pinch.

St. Louis, Sept. 20.—The effect of the strike of miners throughout the anthracite fields is being felt in St. Louis. Bituminous coal from the Illinois field, which is being substituted for it, is also going up. Anthracite is now quoted here at $8.25 a ton.

Charged With Smuggling.

Sydney, C. B., Sept. 20.—The schooner Howard, from St. Pierre, was seized last night by customs officials, charged with smuggling. The vessel is registered in Shelburne.

AMERICANS FARED BADLY.

Twelve Killed and Many Wounded and Missing In Engagement With Filipinos.

Manila, Sept. 20.—During the last seven days there has been a distinct increase of insurgent aggression, particularly near Manila, along the railroad, and in the provinces of Laguna, Morong, Bulucan, Nueva Ecija and Pampanga, culminating Monday in an engagement near Siniloan, at the east end of Laguna De Bay, in which detachments of the Fifteenth and Thirty-seventh United States infantry regiments, 99 men all told, met 1000 insurgents, armed with rifles and entrenched.

The American loss was 12 killed, including Captain David B. Mitchell, and Second Lieutenant George A. Cooper, both of the Fifteenth infantry; 20 wounded and 5 missing, who are probably dead. The enemy had been pursued for several days.

There are rumors of attacks on the railroad and of trouble in Manila. Refugees are arriving here from Laguna, Morong and Pampanga provinces. The natives of Manila are restless and many are leaving the city. The hostile demonstrations are particularly marked along the railroad and on the shores of Laguna de Bay. The insurgents have attacked garrisons and outposts. In some cases they have charged towns, fleeing when pursued.

The Manila mail escort of 30 men was attacked at Cabugao lake, a two hours' fight ensuing. Cabugao was also attacked, the telegraph office there being destroyed. The insurgents have burned the village of Rosario. They have been cutting the telegraph wires and railroads at certain points.

Armed insurgents have developed in the districts of San Jose, San Mateo and Mariquina. In the province of Nueva Ecija ration wagons, with an escort of 12, were attacked, and the wagons burned. Five members of the escort are still missing.

Advices from Cebu describe several attacks upon American garrisons near the capital.

The American casualties, outside the Siniloan engagement, are difficult to ascertain, but they are at least 15.

On the Diamond.

Brooklyn, Sept. 20.—The game between the Brooklyns and St. Louis clubs ended in a row in the third inning.

With Farrell at third, Jones sent a grounder to Wallace, who threw badly to the plate. Farrell slid under Robinson's hands, and was declared safe. "Robby" jumped up and, after throwing the ball at Gaffney, rushed up and struck him on the chest with his fist. The umpire swung his mask at the player, just grazing his nose. He ordered the catcher out of the game, but he refused to go. After waiting the customary time Gaffney declared the game forfeited and McGraw withdrew his men from the field.

Refutation May Be Looked For.

Chicago, Sept. 20.—A special to The Times-Herald from San Francisco says: A special dispatch from Vancouver quotes Naval Constructor Hobson, who went out to Manila to save what he could of the wrecks of the former Spanish fleet, and who is now on his way home, as saying that Dewey sunk none of the Spanish vessels; that all were scuttled by the Spanish crews. The American gunners have heretofore been given credit for sending the foe's ships to the bottom of Manila bay by the terrible accuracy of their cannon fire, and the statement of Lieutenant Hobson creates surprise among naval men here.

Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 20.—The first evidence for the defense in the Howard case was taken yesterday, the defendant himself being the first witness. He told in a straightforward way of his arrival in Frankfort, and movements here Jan. 30, and his testimony was to prove an alibi. Howard was subjected to a most rigid examination. He retained his composure and answered all questions deliberately.

HIS TOUR COMPLETED.

Bryan Talks to Missourians and Leaves For His Home In Nebraska.

St. Joseph, Mo., Sept. 20.—An immense crowd greeted Mr. Bryan here yesterday. Mr. Bryan referred to the possibilities of the aproaching election, charged the Republicans with breaking their promises made in 1896 and arraigned the financial policy of the administration. In speaking of the trusts, Mr. Bryan said: "Even the newspaper editors are compelled to write their editorials defending the trusts on paper the price of which has been raised by the trust. It is a pitiful thing to see an editor writing such an editorial, and at the same time being plundered by the trust."

Mr. Bryan declared that the Republicans were disposed to make a great deal over a rise in farm products, and to give very little attention to the increase of prices in what the farmer has to buy. "But," he said, "while every man has been compelled to pay a tax on his telegrams and his bank checks, the Republican party has reduced the tax on national bank circulation one half. This has been done while the taxes of the masses have increased instead of decreased."

He asserted that the Bible did not justify our taking the Filipinos. Concluding, Mr. Bryan made an appeal for a large popular majority, saying that a majority in the electoral college alone would not make the administration strong with the people.

Mr. Bryan concluded his present tour with his speech here, departing for his home in Lincoln, from which he has been absent since Aug. 29. Before leaving he was tendered a public dinner.

Roosevelt Discusses Imperialism.

Pocatello, Idaho, Sept. 20.—The Roosevelt train arrived here last evening. During the day stops were made at Rexburg, St. Althony, Idaho Falls, and Blackfoot. Short speeches were made by Governor Roosevelt and others. Senators Shoup and Carter accompanied the party through the day. At Rexburg Governor Roosevelt was introduced by Benjamin E. Rich, a Mormon. Governor Roosevelt devoted his speech to imperialism. At St. Anthony, Idaho Falls and Blackfoot Governor Roosevelt made short speeches. He addressed two meetings here last evening. Both were largely attended. Senator Carter also spoke at both places.

Prohibition Train Moves.

Chicago, Sept. 20.—The Prohibition rear-platform campaign began yesterday. John G. Woolley, candidate for president; Henry H. Metcalfe, candidate for vice president; Samuel Dickie, editor of The New Voice; Volney B. Cushing of Bangor, Me.; and Oliver W. Stewart of Chicago, chairman of the national executive committee, were aboard the special train, which left at 8:30 a. m. for a run through Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin and other central and western states.

Hauney For Governor.

San Antonio, Tex., Sept. 20.—The Hawley wing of the Texas Republican convention nominated the following state ticket: R. B. Hauney, for governor, and for lieutenant governor, John B. Schmitz. Resolutions eulogistic of the administration of President McKinley were incorporated in the platform. Proposals from the Middle-of-the-Road Populists for fusion were rejected.

Imperialism and Trusts Considered.

Uxbridge, Mass., Sept. 20.—The Democrats of Massachusetts opened their campaign here last night with a great rally. The presiding officer was Judge Arthur A. Putnam, a life-long Republican, who said that he could not vote for President McKinley and avowed his allegiance to Bryan. The speakers devoted their entire attention to imperialism and trusts.

Parade, Reception and Ball.

Portsmouth, N. H., Sept. 20.—New Hampshire's Kearsarge-Alabama celebration practically closed yesterday in this city, with a grand naval and military pageant, a reception to the governors of Alabama and New Hampshire on board the warships New York and Kearsarge, and a grand state ball last evening at the Hotel Wentworth. The day was most delightful, and the southern guests enjoyed themselves hugely.

Alabama Ready For Business.

Washington, Sept. 20.—The navy department has received the official report on the recent speed trial of the battleship Alabama. A review of the findings of the trial board develops that, with the exception of a few minor details of imperfection, the Alabama's trial trip proved her in all respects complete and ready for instant sea service.

American Capital In British Railroad.

London, Sept. 20.—The Times this morning confirms the report that Charles T. Yerkes has purchased the franchise of the Charing Cross-Euston and Hampstead underground railroad. The enterprise will be in the main in the hands of American capitalists. It is expected that the line will be completed in two years.

Likely to Be Still Higher.

New York, Sept. 20.—The Brooklyn coal exchange has decided to advance the retail price of coal to $7 a ton. One of the heaviest of Brooklyn dealers is quoted as saying that he had a talk with some of the Pennsylvania railroad people and they told him the raise in price had only just begun.

Chicago, Sept. 20.—The Record says: Chicago is billed to witness a great automobile rase next week, when Willie K. Vanderbilt's "white ghost" meets Alexander Winston' fast gasoline auto for a $50,000 purse.

Why It Is Called Dutch Gap.

When Ben Butler was endeavoring to get the Union gunboats up the James, he found the water in the bend at Dutch Gap too shallow to let them pass, to say nothing of the fact that the Confederates had erected two or three batteries along the bend in order to give him a warm reception. So he went ahead and cut a canal across the neck and suddenly, instead of being 13 miles from Richmond, he was only six. Ever since that time the canal has been used, and the government now considers it the channel of the river and keeps it in shape. The plantations along the land were thus suddenly drained of their very lifeblood and have naturally fallen into decay.

The place is called Dutch Gap because at this spot, in early colonial days, a Dutchman worked a very smooth game upon the unsuspecting Indian. The Dutchman wagered the Indian that he could beat him paddling a canoe around the bend. The Indian took him up on the instant and gave him a mile the start. They started just above the bend, the Indian a mile behind, and when the Dutchman reached the neck he jumped on shore, grabbed his canoe out of the water, ran across to the other side with it, dropped it into the water again and calmly awaited the arrival of the astonished Indian, who had paddled frantically around the bend in the endeavor to catch up with him. What the wager was is not recorded, but the Dutchman doubtless got possession of 200,000 or 300,000 acres of land as a result of the trick.—Cor. Chicago Record.

Made Fat by Water.

There is a six foot laundryman in Norristown who weighs 300 pounds. It is his own fault too.

"When I was 18," he will explain sadly, "I was like a lead pencil. A thinner fellow you never saw. I heard then that if I wished to get fat I need only to drink, morning and evening, as much water as I could hold. I wanted very badly to get fat, so I began this water treatment. A pint or so was at first my limit, and even that would sicken me, but as time passed my capacity became greater. Soon I could drink two or three quarts, and in time I could as easily drink a gallon. Well, the result was excellent. I took on flesh at a great rate. I got, too, so that I enjoyed my long night and morning drinks. I would look forward to my gallon draft all through the day. When, after seven years, I had reached the nice weight of 170 pounds, I decided to stop the treatment. But, alas, I couldn't. The long habit had grown too strong. It had made me a slave. And ever since I have been drinking, night and morning, a gallon of water—I do enjoy it so—and every year I taken on from 15 to 20 pounds. Finally, I guess, I'll bust."—Philadelphia Record.

Kicked on the Story.

Probably most writers of serial stories are familiar with the sensation of receiving letters of commendation or disapproval from interested readers who are following up the stories as they appear in their regular weekly or monthly installments. Occasionally some curious person asks for private information as to what the outcome is to be, while others offer suggestions as to the disposition to be made of the villain or express a fear that the author is to marry the hero to the wrong woman.

The writer of a serial story in one of the popular magazines a few years ago received the following letter from an indignant reader. The names are changed for obvious reasons:

Dear Sir—I take the liberty of telling you that I regard your "Simeon Stacy," now running through The Blank Magazine, as a little the thinnest novel I have read. Furthermore, the principal character in the story, to whom you give the title role, so to speak, is so thoroughly detestable a man that I have taken the most effective means in my power to show my contempt for him by changing my name—which happened to be the same as his—to something as unlike it as possible. Yours truly, ANDREW JACOBSON, Formerly Simeon Stacy.

His Plain Story Won.

An ungroomed man slouched up to Smith in Farnum street the other day and accosted him as follows:

"Say, mister, if I was to tell you that I wanted a quarter to get a square meal you'd think I wanted it to buy whisky, wouldn't you?"

"That's exactly what I would think," replied Smith.

"And if I said I wanted a quarter to buy whisky you'd say you didn't propose to encourage the drink habit, wouldn't you?"

"That's what I'd say."

"And if I said I wanted a quarter to buy food for a starving wife and 11 children you'd think I was a liar, wouldn't you?"

"I would."

"Well, say, mister, I want a quarter to pay for having me mother-in-law's trunk hauled to the depot. Do I get it?"

Smith effected a compromise by parting with a dime.—Omaha World-Herald.

An Indo-Chinese Venice.

The royal palaces of Bangkok form a city in themselves. They consist of several hundred individual palaces, surrounded by magnificent gardens and pagodas. Bangkok is really a city of waters. It is an Indo-Chinese Venice. More people live in floating homes on the Menam, "the Nile of Siam," and in many canals than in permanent buildings.

A Changed Man.

"It's funny how marrying changes a man," said Spriggs' caller.

"Yes," replied Spriggs dreamily. "It used to be that I was devoted to baseball and football and basket ball, and now I give all my spare time to baby's bawl," and he arose hurriedly and went into the adjoining room.—Detroit Free Press.

A Ray of Light

For woman's guidance is found in the fact that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures female weakness and the diseases of the delicate womanly organs which darken the lives of so many women with suffering and sorrow. That ray of light has penetrated many darkened chambers where women moaned in misery, and has guided them out to health and happiness. "Favorite Prescription" is not a tonic, not a palliative, but a positive cure for the diseases which are peculiar to women. It gives vigor and vitality. It banishes nervousness, headache, and all the aches which come from a diseased condition of the womanly organs. A temperance medicine, it contains neither alcohol nor narcotics.

"I was troubled for three years with ulceration and female weakness and my doctor gave me but little relief," writes Mrs. Lulu Hunter, of Allenton, St. Louis Co., Mo. "I saw an advertisement in the paper of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I began the use of it about a year ago. I took five bottles of it, and one bottle of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and my health is better now than it was for years. I have also recommended these medicines to some of my friends, who suffered from female weakness, and good results have followed."

CLASH NOT UNLIKELY.

Uneasy Feeling Among the Inhabitants of the Anthracite Region.

Sheriffs Keeping a Watchful Eye on the Situation.

No Indications of Overtures For Settlement Being Advanced by Either Side.

Hazleton, Pa., Sept. 21.—Somewhat vague reports are coming in of preparations on the part of the sheriffs and coal companies for a possible clash with the reckless element among the strikers. Nearly everybody believes that the trouble must come, yet there has been no sign of an outbreak, and the men appear to be well handled by their leaders.

There is no denying the fact that the inhabitants of this region fear trouble. There are very few persons who do not believe that there will be an outbreak somewhere in the region. Most, if not all, of the coal mines, are being protected by extra watchmen. Rumors are afloat that the sheriffs of Luzerne and Schuylkill and Carbon counties, which counties join one another at a point two miles south of here, are swearing in deputies by the score. None of these rumors can be confirmed. When the sheriffs are approached on the subject they say there is no trouble, and that they are not looking for any. Certain it is, however, that those officers are keeping a watchful eye on the situation, and they can be quickly found if their presence is needed anywhere.

Number 40 shaft of the Lehigh Valley Coal company, east of this city, was the centre of numerous petty acts of violence during yesterday. Before 6 o'clock in the morning, a few Hungarian women wanted to whip three coal and iron policemen for persuading breaker boys to go to work. The police, however, managed to get out of their difficulty without a fight. Shortly after that a mine worker says he was shot at by an unknown person, but not hit, while on his way to the shaft. Later in the day an Italian was badly clubbed. Last night two of the mine workers, on their way home from the shaft, were also attacked and badly beaten. Aside from these incidents, quiet prevailed throughout the region. The striking mine workers say they are doing their best to prevent disturbances.

No overtures have been advanced by either side, and there is at present no indication that any will be put forth soon. The strike officials are still at work getting the men out, and say they will not cease their activity in that respect until every corporation in the anthracite region is tied up. The operators, though badly crippled, are as confident of success as they have heretofore been.

The production of coal in the Hazleton region is growing smaller with each succeeding day. One of the best proofs of this is the report of the superintendent of the Hazleton division of the Lehigh Valley railroad, which handles the coal from all but six collieries in this region. This report shows that the shipments have fallen off to less than two-thirds of the normal quantity during the past four days.

Strikers Won't Make Concessions.

Lowell, Mass., Sept. 21.—Practically the entire police force of the city was called out last evening to protect the Greeks who have taken the places of the striking print workers at the Merrimack mills. Only the presence of the large force of police prevented serious trouble. The strikers voted last night not to make any concessions, but to continue the strike.

Negotiations at a Critical Stage.

Cincinnati, Sept. 21.—After a protracted joint session of the conference committee of the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers and of the conference committee of the manufacturers, an adjournment was taken last night until today. If no result is reached by Saturday night it is feared that a strike of 60,000 employes will follow.

Puddlers Threaten to Strike.

Lancaster, Pa., Sept. 21.—A notice has been posted at the four mills of the Susquehanna Iron and Steel company at Columbia that on Sept. 24 a reduction of wages of puddlers will go into effect, cutting them from $4 to $3 per ton. The puddlers declare they will not accept the reduction and threaten to strike, which will affect 1800 men.

A Rest For the Animals.

Shamokin, Pa., Sept. 21.—Over 400 mules have been hoisted from various collieries in this neighborhood, and will be shipped to the Schuylkill county corral. On Monday the mules will be hoisted from the Cameron mine. Everything is quiet and orderly here.

Lower Wages After Oct. 1.

Reading, Pa., Sept. 21.—The Reading Iron company, employing 2500 men, last night announced a reduction of wages ranging from 6 to 25 percent, to become effective Oct. 1. Puddlers are to receive $3 instead of $4 per ton.

WORKING SIDE BY SIDE.

Whites and Blacks, Merchants and Laborers, Are Cleaning Galveston's Streets.

Galveston, Sept. 21.—A list of dead at other places than Galveston totals 254. The list gives the following figures: Arcadia, 1; Alvin, 13; Alta Loma, 2; Arcola, 9; Angleton, 6; near Brazoria (convicts), 15; Brookshire, 2; Columbia, 13; Dickinson, 9; Fairbanks, 4; Hitchcock, 37; League City, 1; Lamarque, 2; Lititia, 1; Liverpool, 1; Morgan's Point, 2; Patton, 32; Richmond, 18; Rosenberg, 10; Sandy Point, 8; Seabrook, 16; Virginia Point, 13 (with 14 missing); Velasco, 7.

Mayor Jones has proclaimed that martial law will cease at noon today and the civil authorities will assume direction of municipal affairs. This, however, does not mean the immediate withdrawal of the militia. They are to cooperate with the city officials in the enforcement of order and will continue on duty as a part of the government.

There is not an idle man in the city. The merchants and their clerks are working side by side along with the man who has known nothing but hard work since the time of childhood. It is a cosmopolitan force now working on the city avenues; white men and black working in such gangs under one head is a daily scene. Orders were issued to impress every able-bodied man for street cleaning service. Over 500 men were secured under this order, and there are fully 2000 men engaged in the work. Still this force is not sufficient.

The work of removing the dead from the debris still continues. Funeral pyres are blazing throughout the city, and in this way Galveston is ridding herself of her dead.

The churches of Galveston suffered greatly by the hurricane. Sacred Heart, St. Patrick's Catholic, the First Baptist and the Methodist Episcopal churches are total wrecks, while Trinity church, the First Presbyterian, Swedish and the Synagogue are partially destroyed.

S. E. Barton, a nephew of Clara Barton of the Red Cross society, has arrived here from New York. In an interview he suggested the raising of a fund of from $5,000,000 to $15,000,000 to aid the people in rebuilding their homes. An appeal of this nature will be made to the people of the United States. Mr. Barton also advocated the building of a sea-wall around Galveston which, he said, would protect the city and inspire confidence.

Says Spaniards Sink Their Own Ships.

New York, Sept. 21.—Lieutenant Commander Hall of the Brooklyn navy yard, speaking of Lieutenant Hobson's interview apropos of Dewey's achievement at Manila affecting the Spanish fleet, said: "When the hulls of the Sanish ships sunk at Manila were raised they were found to be all right. They were simply water-soaked, aside from the burned tops of the decks. It seems to me as if the Spaniards sent some of their ships to the bottom. Of course some of the Spanish ships were sunk immediately." Hall says he personally examined the vessels in question. He had a commission with Dewey at Manila.

Nabbed by Revenue Officers.

San Francisco, Sept. 21.—Revenue officers have seized 154 cases of rare Oriental goods, which had been borught into this country on the hospital ship Solace. The duty is nearly 60 percent. On this account, most of the stuff, which includes loot from Tientsin, probably will be abandoned to the government. The cases of silks and curios are addressed to persons all over the United States.

Another Flurry In Cotton.

New York, Sept. 21.—The cotton market was excited pretty much all through yesterday's session, with prices tumbling around at much the same sensational rate as during the great bull movement of two weeks ago. The close was barely steady at a net decline of 25 to 29 points. The day's transactions were conservatively estimated at 850,000 bales.

Missionaries Will Not Be Recalled.

New York, Sept. 21.—A conference was held yesterday at the headquarters of the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions regarding the present situation in China. It was unanimously agreed that there was no ground for discouragement over the missionary outlook in China, and that there should be no general recall of missionaries.

Smallpox In New Hampshire Town.

Strafford, N. H., Sept. 21.—Local physicians have discovered three cases of smallpox in a French-Canadian family here. It is thought the origin will be traced to Pittsfield, where there are at present 10 convalescents in the pest house.

WORK OF MASKED MEN.

Young Woman Bound, Gagged and Outraged In Her Own Home.

Palsied Father Was Unable to Render Assistance.

Burglars Got Away With Cash and Jewelry. Three Suspects Are Arrested.

Gardner, Mass., Sept. 21.—Two masked men broke into the house of E. B. B. Baker at Ashburnham early Thursday morning and bound and outraged his daughter, Miss Eva J. Baker, and then robbed the place. Mr. Baker lay in an adjoining apartment, incapacitated by palsy from doing anything to save his daughter and his valuables.

Mr. Baker and Miss Baker were the only occupants of the house. The burglars remained there for two hours, searching for money and articles of value. A third man stood outside to guard the place and to give the alarm if such a thing were needed.

The entrance to the Baker house was affected by breaking one of the windows in the rear. The hour was 2 o'clock in the morning, and this fact, together with the circumstance that the homestead is 2½ miles outside of Ashburnham, insured for the desperadoes the probability that they would not be interrupted in their work.

The first knowledge Miss Baker had of the presence of the men was when she awakened to find them standing beside her bed. Both wore masks, and one of them carried a revolver. They had lighted a lamp which stood on a bureau. The woman uttered a cry of alarm, but was not allowed to make any further demonstration. She was immediately seized by the ruffians, who placed a gag in her mouth and then bound her hands and feet. Next they visited the bedroom of Mr. Baker, but he was so ill and helpless that they paid no further attention to him.

A careful examination of the whole premises now ensued, and the men were rewarded to the extent of $100 in bills, $11 in gold, and a gold chain, a gold watch and a locket. It was 4 o'clock when the pair left the house, but before they did so they committed an assault upon the helpless young woman.

An hour or two later Miss Baker succeeded in freeing herself from her bonds and, with difficulty, visited the house of a neighbor to give the alarm. The police of the surrounding towns were notified of the affair and a search for the burglars was at once instituted. During the day three men passed gold in a saloon in Fitchburg, but before they could be arrested they got away in a buggy.

Shortly after 6 o'clock last night Thomas Sullivan, Nicholas King and a man named Foley were arrested here in consequence of an alleged attempt of the first named to sell a watch. Sullivan is 20 years old, and the other two about 25. The police say that the men dropped almost all of the articles stolen from the Baker house on their way to headquarters. Late last night the trio were removed to Fitchburg by Deputy Sheriff Richardson of Ashburnham, and they will be arraigned in that city. Miss Baker, it is understood, is very ill.

Americans Were Greatly Outnumbered.

Manila, Sept. 21.—A corrected list of the casualties sustained by the American soldiers Monday last in the engagement at Siniloan between a force of 1000 Filipinos and detachments of the Fifteenth and Thirty-seventh United States Infantry regiments shows that 24 Americans are dead and missing, and that 19 are wounded. The total number of Americans engaged is announced as 134. The enemy's casualties have not been reported.

Price of Cotton Is Too High.

Fall River, Mass., Sept. 21.—The announcement by the Stevens Manufacturing company, a corporation making goods requiring the best staple cotton, that it will curtail production for two weeks, is an indication that this mill is short of cotton, and does not care to buy at the prevailing rates. About 275 hands are affected by the curtailment order.

Wanted on Manslaughter Charge.

Ansonia, Conn., Sept. 21.—Arthur Moison, wanted in Holyoke, Mass., for manslaughter, was arrested in Oxford and taken to Holyoke to stand trial. It is alleged that in a quarrel with a companion, Moison, in self-defense, struck the other on the head with an iron-pointed staff, killing him instantly. He then fled.

Big Harvest Promised In India.

London, Sept. 21.—The Times publishes the following from Simla: The monsoon continues. The cotton is generally excellent and the prospects of a bumper harvest in food grains is certain in most parts of the country. There is a great reduction in the number on the relief list.

Shortage In Postoffice Funds.

Newton, Mass., Sept. 21.—Chief Clerk Edward Billings of the Newton Upper Falls postoffice has not been seen here since Wednesday night. The postoffice under his care did not open as usual Thursday morning, and postoffice inspectors found a shortage of about $1000.

Bullet Missed the Passengers.

Lewiston, Me., Sept. 21.—A shot was fired into an electric car coming up from Lisbon yesterday, but no one was injured. Officers arrested an intoxicated man with a gun, who gave his name as Charles E. Estes. He denied the shooting, but said he had been put off a car.

Good Afternoon.

In 1894 Quincy Republicans established the precedent of electing a Representative to the General Court for a third term, by reelecting Charles L. Hammond who had already served two years. Again in 1897 they reelected Thaddeus H. Newcomb and James Thompson for a third term with good results. Since then Eugene H. Sprague and Eben W. Sheppard have represented the Quincy double district for two years. Had both decided to seek a reelection probably they would have met with no opposition, but Representative Sprague yielded to wishes of his friends and entered the field for Senator in the first Norfolk district. This made a break, and a clamor for both positions has resulted. There is no good reason why Representative Sheppard should not be returned, as have been his predecessors; certainly Ward One candidates are entitled to the same treatment that has been accorded to those from Wards Two, Three and Four.

Quincy has been fortunate in the past in electing to the Legislature representative business men. Among these stand Eben W. Sheppard, whose reputation is A No. 1. At the request of the business men and taxpayers he is again a candidate for nomination, and we feel that he will have their hearty support.

It is pleasing to know that the family of Thomas Crane continues to take such a great interest in the Thomas Crane public library in this city. The late Mr. Crane left money to build the artistic building which was presented to the city, and since then on several occasions his relatives have contributed for the walks and grounds and other improvements in connection with the library. A short time ago we pointed out that the grounds could be greatly improved if enlarged to Coddington street, and that now was the accepted time. The addition of the French estate will, we understand, be only a beginning. We hope others will cooperate and then Quincy will become a beautiful city. It already has the natural scenery necessary.

Drift of Opinion.

☞ An exchange thinks that the talk about a spontaneous demand for candidates for office is "rather childish." "If any man," it continues, "is within reach of the congressional nomination he has a right to try for it." True enough, he has; but it is also true that if there is any man whom his friends would like to have the office, they have a right to try too. It is getting so that people are forgetting that they have a right to nominate men who do not announce themselves as aspirants for office, and such covert sneers at the idea that a man may really be sought for an office as we have quoted tend to still further make men reluctant to go into any such enterprise. But offices do not belong alone to men who seek them; they belong to all the people, who have the right to choose candidates for themselves if they are so pleased. We do not for one moment intimate that the ambition to hold office and the effort to attain it may not be commendable; but no American citizen should ever forget that he has the right to decide on the fitness of candidates and in that right is involved the further right to select candidates of his own. There is nothing "childish" in the assertion of this aspect of American citizenship.—New Bedford Standard.

EX-MAYOR KEITH

Again in the Field for Nomination.

Writes Relative to the City Receipts.

Quotes the Law Governing the Board of Assessors.

To the Editor of the Ledger:—

In reference to the amount of "estimated receipts of the city for 1900, now under consideration by the City Council, allow me to quote from your editorial of late issue.

"From the statement of Principal Assessor Thompson to the City Council, it is very evident now that the tax rate of 1899, was much larger than necessary. That it would have been materially reduced if Mayor Keith and the Board of Assessors had made a closer study of the city receipts, which are really a very important factor in determining the amount that shall be raised by taxation. In August, when the tax rate is determined, it should be possible to ascertain with considerable accuracy the amount of the receipts for the year. Yet they were estimated by the Assessors of 1899 at only $46,270, while the facts are they were rising $100,000."

I know the high plane on which you intend to conduct your paper so far as the city affairs are concerned, and I am sure that it was not your purpose to do an injustice either to myself or the Assessors of 1899. It is true that in August the amount of receipts for the year might be ascertained with reasonable accuracy, but you must remember that the Assessors had nothing whatever to do with the receipts of that year, but could consider only those of 1898. The law governing their action is as follows:—"The assessors may deduct from the amount required to be assessed the amount of all the estimated receipts of their respective cities or towns (except from loans or taxes) which are lawfully applicable to the payment of the expenditures of the year, but such deduction shall not exceed the amount of such receipts during the preceding year."

Therefore when you say that the receipts "were estimated by the assessors at only $46,270, while the facts are they were rising $100,000," you blame them wrongly, because the receipts of their own year were entirely out of the question.

The difference between the $46,270 of 1899 and the $67,395 of this year is largely accounted for by the fact that the Assessors of 1899 called the receipts from the water department $4,000 while this year the estimate is $18,000. This sum should have been ascertained by subtracting from the total receipts for water rates in 1899 the sums paid in that year for maintenance and for interest on the water debt. Inasmuch as the total receipts were considerably increased in 1899, while the cost of maintenance was a great deal less, the Assessors of this year probably thought themselves justified in deducting $18,000 for that item. The expense of maintenance in 1898 was $15,379, but in 1899 it was only $8,896.

While upon this topic, if the receipts of 1899 were "rising $100,000," it would be interesting to know how it happens that I find in your report of the proceedings of the city council on May 14 last, that the school appropriation was cut down on the ground that the Mayor estimated the receipts at $40,000, and deducting that from the total of the appropriation bill would leave an amount in excess of the sum allowed by law. It would seem as if the school committee might devote a little time next year to the question of the city receipts. A sum estimated by the Mayor on May 14 at $40,000, by the Assessors in August at $67,395, and at the same time, as the Principal Assessor says, by the Mayor and Treasurer at "rising $100,000," evidently needs "closer study."

The tone of your editorial indicates that you and some others think that the Assessors of any year are concerned with the receipts of that year; that is an error which is exposed by a perusal of the law.

Please understand that I do not criticise the officials of this year in this connection. On the contrary, as I shall be a candidate for nomination for the office of Mayor, I am only too glad that the receipts of my administration were so large that by means of them the Assessors of this year were able to reduce the tax rate.

Yours respectfully,

Harrison A. Keith.

MILTON.

Another accident occurred Wednesday evening at the Granite avenue crossing of the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R., which came near being fatal for a fruit peddler named Burns. As it was, he was badly shaken up and bruised. Burns was driving toward Boston and was either asleep on his wagon, or failed to see the gateman's lantern, for he drove onto the crossing directly in front of the outward train due at East Milton at 7.40. The engine struck his team smashing it into kindling wood. Burns was thrown some distance and was quite badly cut and bruised, and the horse which became cleared from the team ran toward Boston. Burns was cared for, and later taken to his home in South Boston.

The ladies of East Milton are making a collection of clothing, etc., for Galveston sufferers. Articles for this purpose left with Mrs. A. A. Brackett will be forwarded.

George Clements, driver of Hose 2, is on the sick list. C. H. Hallevey is substituting for him.

Arthur Sprague returned Wednesday from a trip to Hong Kong, China. He come by the way of Manila and San Francisco.

The Milton A. A. foot ball teams are getting in practice for their fifth season.

Object to Park Assessments.

The cities of Cambridge and Newton and the town of Brookline have each filed a motion in the supreme court to have recommitted to the commissioners the report or award of Messrs. Charles Francis Adams, John C. Hammond and T. M. Stetson, fixing the apportionment of cost of the metropolitan parks among the 39 municipalities comprised in the system.

The motions for the recommitment of the report ask that the cost commissioners be instructed to report the basis or method upon which their apportionment was made, and, also, whether it was based on the valuation of the cities and towns or their populations, or on special benefits conferred upon them, or otherwise.

A Good Show.

"Hogan's Alley" at Music hall Thursday night, drew a large and appeciative audience. It was a good clean show, the music catchy and the songs and dances up to date. The extreme jealousy of Brogan took the house by storm; and the witty sayings, and facial expressions of Hogan kept the audience in laughter, especially in his mixup with the twins. Madge Wood as Liz, the pet of the alley, took her part to perfection. If the new management continue to put as good shows as this one was on the boards, we bespeak for it the hearty support of the people of Quincy.

Hackmen Win.

Depot carriage drivers of Quincy have been interested in the case at Lawrence, and are pleased at the result. On Thursday Judge Bell rendered a decision in the case of the Boston & Maine railroad against Michael Sullivan and others of Lawrence, refusing to grant the injunction petitioned for, restraining the defendants from trespassing upon the property of the plaintiff in this city, namely, the three railroad stations here, Judge Braley had previously denied a preliminary injunction in the case, pending the hearing on its merits.

The defendants are hack drivers who have been accustomed for years to solicit passengers at the railroad stations. A year ago the railroad company leased the privilege to C. I. Williams, and the hack drivers not employed by Williams were notified to keep away.

The city government took a hand in the controversy by refusing to grant a license to the Williams company, and the independent drivers then began to solicit patronage at the stations again. To prevent this, proceedings in equity were brought by the railroad in an effort to secure an injunction. Two moves to that end have failed. The case will now go to the supreme court.

Meanwhile it is possible that the hack drivers will be arrested for trespass, and this action may be followed by the prosecution of Mr. Williams for alleged violation of the city ordinances by maintaining a hacking business without the necessary license.

The contest is being watched with great interest here. The railroad officials claim that they were forced to lease the hacking privilege to some one whom they could hold responsible for good service, in consequence of complaint made by many citizens of poor service and exorbitant rates.

Fireman's House on Fire.

The alarm from Box 61 at 3.50 Thursday afternoon was for a fire among a lot of rubbish in the cellar of a house on Glover avenue, occupied by Faxon Billings, driver of Combination No 2. It was extinguished with but little damage.

Silver Wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. David Roberts of this city were happily surprised Thursday evening on the twenty-fifth anniversary of their marriage. About all their Welsh friends and neighbors assembled, enjoying themselves as is their custom on such occasions, with singing their native songs and hymns, etc. After partaking of a very bounteous supper, which was previously prepared by Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Owens and others. Mr. John Evans, in behalf of the friends, presented the happy couple with an elegant silver tea set. In presenting them he reminded his hearers, many of them old settlers of Quincy, of the flight of time in many ways, especially by alluding to the population and change in our beloved city and country. One thing that may be singular is, that during the twenty-five years of married life up to this summer, neither Mr. or Mrs. Roberts have been away from home for one night.

20th Century Exposition.

Boston, pre-eminently the best city in this country for a first class Exposition, is preparing to present the people this fall the grandest and most complete display of products ever gotten together in one hall. Mechanics' Building has long been famous for the elaborate displays made therein, but never has it been completely filled as it will be at the Merchants' and Manufacturers' 20th Century Exposition which opens its doors to the public Monday, Oct. 1, and continues for four weeks. Every corner and niche in the great building, including the basement will contain something of interest to the people. Special and novel features —strikingly original—will create a furor of public interest.

Here will be displays of furniture, house furnishings, house decorations, art, photography and lithography, dry goods, clothing, millinery, boots and shoes, hats and caps, underwear, haberdashery, jewlery, vehicles, stable paraphernalia, plumbing, pharmacy, surgical appliances, illuminating fixtures, cereal foods, fish and fisheries, produce and agriculture, mineral and mining, motive power, etc, etc.

The working exhibits, with machinery of all kinds in operation, manufacturing goods used in every day life of the people, will furnish an object lesson at once interesting and instructive to the great general public. The halls have been laid out artistically and the floor space re-arranged, new diagrams having been drawn expressly for this Exposition. There will be nothing of the old time stereotyped pattern to this Exposition. The decorations in Grand Hall are of the most expensive and elaborate description.

If you discard every other attraction, the music alone will compel an attendance phenomenal even in Boston's annals. Since the great Peace Jubilee nothing like it has ever been presented in a like space of time. The 71st Regiment band, of New York, under leadership of Fanciulli, of New York, the eminent composer, will give 12 concerts, afternoons and nights, Oct. 1st to 6th, inclusive. This musical organization was the official band at the inauguration of Greater New York; the band selected by the Reception Committee to officially welcome Admiral Dewey upon his return from Manila, and the band selected by the Park Board to play the popular concerts at Central Park the past two seasons. It has never been heard in Boston, and music lovers have a rare treat in store.

Sousa and his band will play here his first engagement on his return from a triumphal European trip, giving 12 concerts, afternoons and nights, Oct. 8th to 13th, inclusive. The European critics agree that no finer body of men have ever been seen than those composing Sousa's band and their dignified bearing in concert and on the street, as well as their rich and quiet uniforms have alike been praised.

The Pittsburg orchestra, Victor Herbert conductor,—will give 12 concerts, afternoons and nights, Oct. 15th to 20th, inclusive. Victor Herbert is one of the most eminent composers in the United States, and will be greeted with large audiences at this exposition. All these bands appear in full numbers with more men than at any previous Exposition in Boston. The musical programme for the closing week will equal in excellence those numerated above.

Elegant souvenirs excelling in artistic excellence any before given away at Expositions will be presented to each of the first two thousand ladies purchasing an admission ticket before noon every day of the show. There will also be "giveaways" all day and evening. Excursions from all parts of New England. This big Exposition is already the talk of New England, and it is confidently expected that it will be visited by half a million of people.

SUPT. WEEKS IS GOING.

His Resignation from the Quincy & Boston Street Railway Has Taken Effect.

Benjamin J. Weeks, who for nearly ten years has held the position as superintendent of the Quincy & Boston street railway, severed his connection with the company on Wednesday. Mr. Week's retirement from the management of the Quincy & Boston division of the Brockton road removes the last link in the chain that bound the old Quincy & Boston to the new company.

Supt. Weeks came to Quincy a stranger, Jan. 26, 1891, at a time when the Quincy & Boston street railway was little more than a toy, which earned no dividends for those who had invested their money in the enterprise. The road at that time had but seven miles of track and a few old horse cars, which had been made over to run by electricity. There was practically no regular schedule for running cars, in fact they ran whenever the conductors thought it was time. Power was obtained from the Electric Light Co., which was often of not sufficient voltage. Cars once an hour were considered good service, and at the first sign of snow every car was hauled off for fear the snow might injure the varnish, and in fact the days the cars were wanted the most they were not running. At the time he arrived there had been no cars for several days.

With several years' experience gained at Framingham, Mass., and Newport, R. I., Supt. Weeks took off his coat, and it was soon apparent that the right man had been secured, and street railway business in Quincy began to assume a new aspect.

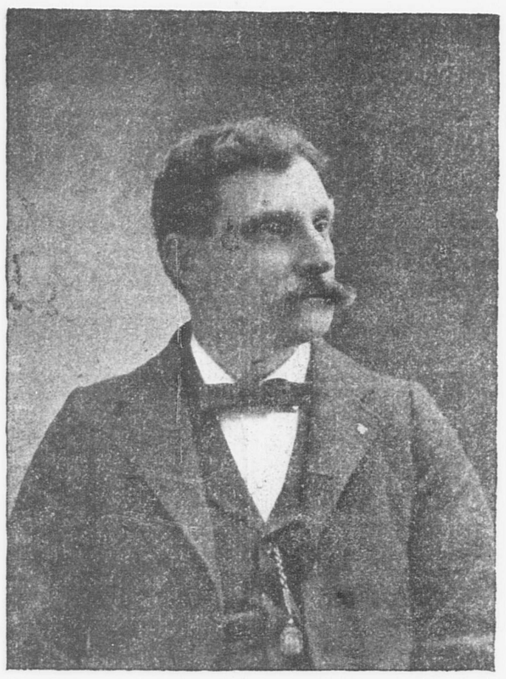

Possessed of a genial disposition he knew the secret of approaching men, and once they were approached they became his friends, and he soon became known throughout the city as a good fellow and one who knew the street railway business from A to Z. He also knew how to treat the men under him and there never was an employe of the road who did not swear by him and who was not ready at all time to go through fire if necessary at his bidding.

It was not long before it became apparent to the stockholders that a revolution was taking place. Further extensions of track were found necessary, and from time to time built until today the tracks of the road have increased from seven miles to fifty with important connections at Neponset, Weymouth, Braintree, Holbrook and Milton, thus furnishing the city with street railway connections to Boston and all the towns and cities along the South Shore of Massachusetts, until today it is one of the best paying roads in the State.

More frequent cars were demanded and granted, and while hourly trips over a ramshackle rail to Neponset was thought to be good service when he came to Quincy, today cars are run every ten minutes over a road bed of the best. The cars used are also of the newer pattern, many of them being equipped with all the latest appliances for speed, safety and comfort. This all came about under the Q. & B. management.

Then came the purchase of the road by the Massachusetts Electric Co. and later the consolidation with the Brockton street railway. With these important moves came changes in the management, and although he was appointed superintendent of the Quincy division by the new management he felt that his field of labor was elsewhere, and last week he tendered his resignation. Wednesday he stepped down and out.

Mr. Weeks' plans for the future are not definitely made, but he contemplates going to Cuba, where there is need of such energetic men as he. It is with regret that citizens hear of his leave-taking, for not only does the railroad lose an efficient official, but the city a good citizen and the citizens a man who is looked upon by all as a friend. Wherever he goes he is sure that he takes with him the best wishes for success from all those who have come in contact with him in a business way, as well as from the citizens of Quincy in general.

Dorchester for Pierce.

Enthusiastic meetings of representative citizens are being held nightly in different parts of Dorchester by friends of Dr. Pierce of Milton, who is gaining ground every day in the contest for the Republican nomination. At Bloomfield hall Thursday evening, George T. Hartford presided and the speakers were Messrs. Edward P. Jackson, John K. Berry, William N. Swain and Dr. Pierce.

Mr. Jackson said in part: "There is one candidate who wants the office, or his friends want it for him, for his vindication, a salve of his wounded reputation. If this man has been so terribly persecuted, there are other means to secure redress beside sending him to Congress."

"We want a man as our candidate who doesn't need to be vindicated, who wants the office, and whom the office wants; who is willing to work with all his might and main for his constituents after he gets to Washington; a man who has so far no political record, and if we may judge by some who have political records, this fact is decidedly to his advantage."

Mr. Bassett said: "It is a great satisfaction to be enlisted in behalf of a candidate for whom we need make no apologies, who is not a commercial Republican. It has been suggested that we have a fighting chance. We have more than a fighting chance; we have a sure success in the 10th district if the Republicans will only come together. Dr. Pierce has a record which those who know him best are willing to repose confidence in. There is one candidate who has made no enemies. That is our candidate."

Enteroptosis.

More than 50 per cent of all civilized women in all classes of life have developed the condition known as enteroptosis, which means that the stomach, intestines, very often the kidneys and sometimes the liver, are dragged downward and remain permanently out of their proper position. Such, however, is the case, and this condition more than any other cause is responsible for the constipation, backache, debility, biliousness, early loss of complexion, headache and that long list of ailments of which so many women in all civilized countries are victims.—Personal Hygiene.

A CHANGED ART.

The Lightened Duties of the Hostess and Guests of Today.

In these days of house parties, where perhaps a dozen friends are gathered under the same roof, the duties of hostess and guests are somewhat different from what they were some 20 years ago, when considerable responsibility was felt for the entertainment of the friends in the home.

Today they are left quite to their own amusement, with the understanding that they are sufficient in themselves, contributing their share to the pleasure of the hostess, who has placed her home and all its luxuries at their disposal during the time they are with her.

There is an up to date etiquette in the mutual obligations of hostess and guests in the social circles which has an influence upon all classes of society, and it is wise for a summer visitor who is not initiated to understand something of the pronounced independence of this life, that, forewarned, she may not feel herself neglected.

It is frequently the case that both host and hostess accept invitations for social evenings among their friends, leaving guests to entertain themselves with book or games, as they may prefer.

It is no longer the custom for a host to pay for guests at outside functions. This has made the custom of entertaining less of a burden financially, consequently one can afford to be more hospitable, as the dues for guests are a serious expense for one who keeps open house.

There is much good common sense under these new innovations, concludes The Household, for there is little pleasure or encouragement for those who entertain to place themselves in a position which demands a large expenditure of time, strength and money, and for most young people starting out in life it would be an impossibility.

with steel buttons. The skirt is of gray silk, polka dotted with red. The unique little jacket has touches of the silk as a trimming. Hat of soft gray felt, trimmed with a scarf of the polka dotted silk and a white feather pompon.

No More Chaperons.

The well bred summer girl has rebelled against the chaperon, as she does not consider her presence a necessity or a compliment to herself and her friends.

One of the reasons given by the summer girl for dispensing with the time honored custom is that she no longer indulges in the same dangerous pastimes as did her sisters of years gone by. For instance, she does not accept invitations to sail in the moonlight unless she is one of a party comprising married and unmarried people in abundance. Nor does she wander along the beach after a dance in the ballroom, because the dampness is liable to ruin her gown and give her a severe cold.

She no longer deprives her mother or her mother's friends of her society and is as frequently seen in their company as with the masculine element. She never attends a hop at a neighboring hotel alone, because if her family are cottage holders they are sure to receive invitations for the ball, and so it is quite natural that the entire party should go together. If by chance the summer girl is at a hotel, she seldom shows her preference for other hotels by accepting invitations for dances at them.

This year's summer girl is not one bit affected. She does not seek to collect engagement rings. Her natural pride revolts against the idea of allowing complications to arise by engaging herself to a man whom she has not known for years or of giving him a right to assume a familiar attitude toward her and to call her by her first name. Such is the New York Herald's estimate of the 1900 summer girl.

Succotash.

In making succotash cook the corn and the lima beans separately because of the longer time required by the latter in cooking. Use equal quantities of the corn and beans and mix them when both are tender. Add a little milk and let the succotash remain on the stove until the milk is absorbed. Just before serving season with pepper, salt and butter and serve very hot.

THE BEST THEY KNOW.

YOU remember the old lady who rode for the first time on a railway train. There was a frightful collision, but when the rescuers reached her she was quite calm. She said she supposed they always stopped that way. The story well illustrates why so many women are satisfied to live without Ivory Soap. They have never tried it! Naturally enough, they think that annoying odors, sharp chemicals, and wasteful greasiness are common to all soaps.

WHY THE HAIR FALLS.

Scientific Explanation of the Reason Why Men Are Bald.

"The popular explanation of the reason why men are bald, why their hair falls out more than women's, is because women do not wear closely fitting hats, as men do, and consequently the air circulates more freely in the hair and cools the scalp, thereby tending to keep the hair in a healthy condition," said a prominent Washington skin specialist to The Star.

"This theory is a deep rooted one, but is only partially true. I will tell you the fundamental reason. It is not generally known that the skin of a woman fits differently over the cranium from that of a man. Beneath the cuticle on a woman's cranium is a thin layer of adipose tissue, or 'fat,' about a sixteenth of an inch in thickness. This layer of fat is not present on the cranium of a man. His cuticle fits and draws tightly over the skull.

"The result is that the cuticle on a man's cranium atrophies, or dries and withers, quicker than that on a woman's. His hair does not receive the nourishment that is imparted to the hair of a woman by reason of the layer of adipose tissue, and the result is that his hair becomes more readily dry and diseased, falls out, and baldness ultimately ensues. A bald woman is a rarity. If the cuticle of a woman's head fitted as tightly as that of a man's, a baldheaded woman would be a common sight. Wouldn't she be a funny object? Ough!

"There is not one woman in a million that knows nature was kind to her in the manner I have mentioned. In fact, it is not known outside of the medical profession, and in that profession not sufficient importance is attached to it in treating diseases of the scalp. It also furnishes an explanation as to 'why women can go around in the winter time with a postage stamp for a hat and not take cold.' It is not altogether because their hair is thick and long, but because the extra layer of fat imparts to the head of a woman a warmth that is not furnished to the cranium of a man. This is a scientific explanation which I do not recall reading in the public prints."

IN GENERAL PROGRAM.

Russia Proposed Punishment of Chinese Offenders Prior to German Note.

Number of Notes Awaiting Answer of United States.

Administration Will Make General Clearance of the Subject by Tomorrow.

Washington, Sept. 21.—It now appears that Russia had put forth the proposition for the punishment of the leaders of the Chinese uprising. This was in a paper offering a general program for conducting the peace negotiations. The first item of the program was the punishment of the Chinese offenders.

The proposal came some time prior to the German note and seems to have been concurred in by France and some of the other powers, although it did not receive such general concurrence as to amount to an agreement. The German note now takes up this first item of the Russian program and makes it an indispensable prerequisite to any negotiations. It materially differs from the Russian proposal, in that the latter made punishment a part of the negotiations, while the German proposition now pending is to make the punishment precede the negotiations.

The status of the Chinese situation at the close of Thursday, according to a high authority, was as follows:

There are now before the department of state a number of notes awaiting answer. These include the German note concerning the surrender of Chinese ringleaders; the original Russian proposition for the withdrawal of troops from Pekin, which has not yet been acted upon as a finality; a memorandum from the Russian government asking as to the purposes of this government; and a request by Prince Ching that instructions be sent to Minister Conger to proceed with peace negotiations at once. In addition there is a verbal inquiry from the French government as to the program of the United States.

These various communications have accumulated slowly and an understanding has now been reached by the administration that there shall be a general clearance of the subject. This may be expected either late today or early tomorrow. It will clearly enunciate the program of the United States on the various questions presented.

There will be separate notes, according to the character of the communications addressed to this government; that is, the recent German note will be answered by a note and the memorandum of inquiry from Russia will be answered by a memorandum, while the French verbal inquiry will receive a verbal response.

As to the contents of these several communications the authorities are not willing to give any positive intimations, though as far as the German note is concerned the belief is almost general here that the response of our government will amount to a declination to make the surrender of the offending Chinese a condition precedent to negotiations of any kind. Concerning the Russian proposition for withdrawal, it is stated officially that it stands the same as first presented, there having been no modifications whatever on the part of Russia up to the present time.

Five Thousand Slain in Cold Blood.

London, Sept. 21.—Authentic accounts have been received here, says the Moscow correspondent of The Standard, of a horrible massacre at Blagovestchensk, which was undoubtedly carried out under the direct orders from the Russian authorities, and which then let loose the tide of slaughter through Amur. The entire Chinese population of 5000 souls were escorted out of town to a spot five miles up the Amur and then, being led in batches of a few hundred to the river bank, was ordered to cross over to the Chinese side. No boats were provided, and the river is a mile wide. The Chinese were flung alive into the stream and were stabbed or shot at the least resistance, while Russian volunteers, who lined the bank, clubbed or shot any who attempted to land. Not one escaped alive. The river bank for miles was strewn with corpses.

Russians Reinforced at Pekin.

London, Sept. 21.—The Pekin correspondent of The Daily Express asserts that the Russian troops are not leaving. British headquarters, he adds, had been informed that the Russians had left, but the statement was untrue, the fact being that the Russians have been reinforced and made a claim for more extended quarters in Pekin.

Allies Said to Have Lost Heavily.

Berlin, Sept. 21.—A dispatch received from Taku says the Pei-Tang forts have been captured by the allies. The bombarding was brisk and the report states that the allies suffered heavy losses, the Chinese fire being heavy and well directed.

Chamberlain's Plea For Votes.

London, Sept. 21.—The manifesto of Joseph Chamberlain was issued to his constituents last night. He says: "The war was forced on us by a sudden invasion, while the negotiations, conducted with the greatest moderation on our part, were proceeding." He declares that to return the Unionists to power would mean to conserve the fruits of victory, which otherwise would be thrown away.

Weather Conditions and Forecast.

Sun rises—5:31; sets, 5:41.
Moon rises—4:25 a. m.
High water—10:15 a. m.; 10:45 p. m.

Temperatures have risen east of the Mississippi. There will be rain in New England, and the temperature changes will not be marked. On the coast the winds will be fresh southerly.

ACCEPTS THE NOMINATION.

Candidate of Prohibitionists of Massachusetts Speaks of Full Dinner Pail—of Beer.

Boston, Sept. 21.—John M. Fisher, Prohibition candidate for governor, has sent his letter of acceptance to Secretary Clark of the Prohibition state committee. He declares that dissatisfaction in the ranks of both the old parties make the prospects bright for the Prohibitionists. "The platform adopted by the convention," he says, "is one which I can stand, although it practically has but one plank in it; for the realization of this one issue in law, with a party pledged to its enforcement, will bring results far more valuable to every man, woman and child, than any other issue of any other party. I am persuaded that we shall never realize complete prohibition in a single city or town in our state, and not even in our state itself, until we carry a national election, and elect a president and vice president on this issue and all officers under them."

"Every business man, especially every manufacturer, knows that his men are often away in saloons when they are most needed at their work, thus preventing him from filling his dinner pail, as he otherwise could, and when the factory and the saloon are both located in the same town the working man too often uses his dinner pail to convey beer from the saloon to himself, and the working man or Christian who votes for one of these full dinner pails votes for both, and gets both.

"The Prohibition party, if elected to power, will give every working man a full dinner pail, but not of beer. We will give every working man's home a full dinner table, where thousands now go hungry on account of the full dinner pail of beer. Again we will give 100,000 men in this country a full dinner pail, who now have not even the pail. In a word, we will save the country $1,200,000,000 in just one year, which could be turned into channels of industry and trade, giving employment the year round to all that would work, which in turn would find its way into all the homes of our state and country; and this, together with a sober manhood, well-fed and well-clothed wives and children, would make what God intended the homes should be, the bulwarks of the state."

Expansion Defended by Roosevelt.

Ogden, Utah, Sept. 21.—Governor Roosevelt limited the number of his speeches yesterday to five, including the night meeting at this place. At Logan the first stop of the day was made, and here the meting was held in the Mormon tabernacle. At Brigham City Governor Roosevelt spoke in the open air. The meeting at Ogden was held in the Opera House. Governor Roosevelt spoke on the issue of expansion, and said there never has been a movement for expansion in this country but a large number of excellent people had held up their hands in horror and predicted the death of the country. He traced the history of the expansion in the country up to the present time, and pointed out to the prosperity that had followed where failure was predicted.

Democrats' Predictions Contradicted.

Clinton, Ia., Sept. 21.—The Republican state and national campaign in Iowa was opened last night by Senator Allison, who spoke at length on the financial question and defended the administration on the Philippine question. Senator Allison compared the theories of the Democrats as outlined in 1896 and the result of Republican policy during the last four years. He pointed in general to the prosperity as a consequence of the success of the Republican party. The tariff policy and the strengthening of the currency system had, he said, contributed largely to the result which gave flat contradiction to the direful predictions of the Democratic campaigners four years ago.

Rally of German-Americans.

Chicago, Sept. 21.—An immense German-American Republican mass meeting was held at Central Music hall last evening. Frederick W. Holls spoke in German, and Judge Yates, Republican candidate for congress, made a speech largely confined to state interests. At the conclusion of Judge Yates' address, Senator Hanna spoke in arraignment of the Democratic platform. His speech, which was an argument for the conserving of the public credit by the sustaining of the Republican administration, was well received.

Schurman Speaks For Republicans.

Richmond, Ind., Sept. 21.—Jacob G. Schurman, president of Cornell university and a member of the Philippine commission, spoke here last night for the Republicans. President Schurman said the issue of the campaign is the maintenance of the prosperity of the people, and the honor and good name of the nation. He spoke of the splendid Woolley and Metcalf at Omaha.

Omaha, Sept. 21.—John J. Woolley and Henry B. Metcalf, candidates on the Prohibition ticket for president and vice president, held a rousing rally at Omaha last night. Speeches were made earlier in the day at Charlton, Red Oak, Villisca, Creston and Clarinda, Ia.

To Try Endless Chain Plan.

Boston, Sept. 21.—To raise funds for their work, the Bryan club of Massachusetts has issued an appeal for money under the "endless chain" plan, somewhat like the idea being worked out by the Democratic party in this state for the same end.

Williams Goes to South Dakota.

Boston, Sept. 21.—George Fred Williams left for South Dakota today to take part in the campaign. He will aid Senator Pettigrew, the Silver Republican from that state, in his contest for reelection.

Golden Rule Jones Declines.

Toledo, Sept. 21.—Mayor Samuel M. Jones has refused the unanimous nomination of the Democratic congressional convention, and N. D. Cochran, editor of The Bee, was nominated.

But Short Detention.

Boston, Sept. 21.—Steamship Peruvian has arrived here from Glasgow, bringing 72 second cabin, 71 steerage passengers. Chief interest in her arrival was the fact that when she left Glasgow the bubonic plague was prevalent. An examination showed no traces of the disease, and the vessel was detained only four hours.

HAD TRYING EXPERIENCE.

Eighteen Men of the Maggie Sullivan Picked Up and Brought to Port.

Boston, Sept. 21.—The 18 men of the Boston fishing schooner Maggie Sullivan, who were supposed to have been lost on the fishing grounds, were brought here on the fishing schooner Julia Costa, and rejoined their vessel.

The men had a trying experience before they were taken aboard the Costa. After the dense fog, which shut them in on Monday, they rowed about aimlessly for several hours, and when it cleared their vessel was nowhere to be seen. Early the next morning the Costa was sighted, and the nine dories headed in her direction. The men were at the oars for several hours before they got alongside, and were nearly exhausted when taken aboard.

Dog Bar's Twenty-Seventh Wreck.

Gloucester, Mass., Sept. 21.—In a thick mist in a rough sea, the three-masted schooner Ellenora Van Dusen of Sommers Point, N. J., went ashore at 9 o'clock last night on the jagged rocks in the outer edge of Dog Bar breakwater. For an hour and a half the crew blew the horn and burned a light. At the expiration of that time the vessel being gradually sinking. Captain Godfrey and his crew of six men put off in a small boat. After much difficulty, the party landed on Pavilion beach. They had saved nothing but what they had on. The Van Dusen, which was valued at $6000, had a cargo of paving stones and rock granite, valued at $4000. This makes the 27th schooner to strike on the Dog Bar breakwater since the work was commenced there, 2½ years ago.

Four Fishermen Drowned.

Boston, Sept. 21.—Fishing schooner Mary A. Whalen of this port reached here with her flag at half-mast, four of her men having perished in the furious gale which battered shipping off Cape Cod Tuesday last. The men lost were: Michael Ponder, John Burns, Charles Johnsonand Michael Foley, all of Boston.

Forty Perished In Steamer Wreck.

London, Sept. 21.—A dispatch from Athens, giving further details of the disaster to the Egyptian mail steamer Charkieh, now ashore on the island of Andros, says that 40 of the passengers and crew were drowned.

The Case of Seth Abbott.

Chicago, Sept. 21.—Seth Abbott, father of the late Emma Abbott, the singer, is at the detention hospital. He was arrested at Lowell, Mass., several days ago because of his queer condition. His son, who lives in this city, went to Lowell and brought Mr. Abbott back. When the old gentleman reached Chicago he was violent, and it was found necessary to take him to the detention hospital pending inquiry into his mental condition.

Captain Shared His Stores.

Gloucester, Mass., Sept. 21.—Schooner Georgia Campbell, from a fresh halibut trip, reports going to St. Lawrence, N. F., to secure bait, and found the natives in a destitute condition. Food was scarce and many families were suffering. Captain Colsen supplied several destitute families with provisions, coal and wood.

Anti-American Sentiment Prevails.

Havana, Sept. 21.—High officials of the intervening government, while expressing themselves as satisfied with the orderly character of the recent election of delegates to the constitutional convention, are disappointed to find that a majority of the delegates represent the anti-American and revolutionary element.

Corbin at Head of Army Affairs.

Washington, Sept. 21.—Major General Corbin, adjutant general of the army, is acting as secretary of war for the first time in his long and varied military experience. This comes about by reason of the temporary absence of Secretary Root, Assistant Secretary Melklejohn and Lieutenant General Miles.

What German Socialists Want.

Mainz, Sept. 21.—The German Socialist congress adopted by an overwhelming majority a resolution advocating the abolition of the protective tariff, the adoption of free trade and the imperialization of railways and protecting against "spheres of influence," especially in China.

Welsh Rarebit Beats Elkes' Protege.

New Haven, Sept. 21.—Jimmy Michael made his initial appearance in New Haven last night in a 15-mile motor-paced race against Arthur Ross of Newark, N. J., riding partner of Harry Elkes. Michael won by one mile and one lap and broke the track record.

His Sight Destroyed.

Pearl, Vt., Sept. 21.—Phillip Fracassa, foreman of a gang of Italians employed on the Rutland railway extension, was seriously injured by the premature explosion of a charge of dynamite. If he survives he probably will be blind. His home is in Boston.

A Defeat For Vardon.

New York, Sept. 21.—In the 36-hole match against the best ball of Tom Hutchinson and George Low, at Morristown, N. J., Harry Vardon met with a very decisive defeat, the best ball winning by 10 up and 9 to play.

Bargain Hunting Already Begun.

London, Sept. 21.—The Standard this morning says it understands that the British government has already received offers for underground mining rights in the Transvaal, which will go a long way toward meeting the cost of the war.

Held For German Officials.

New York, Sept. 21.—At the request of the German consul general in this city, Johann Bauer was arrested by a United States officer. The charge against Bauer is murder committed in November, 1896, in Bavaria.

Two Painters.

During a holiday ramble Sir Frederick Leighton came across a little roadside inn, the signboard of which was being somewhat coarsely painted by a local artist. For some little time Sir Frederick watched the progress of the painting, till the rural artist, glancing down, remarked, "It be a foine day, masther?"

Leighton assented, adding that a figure on the signboard was out of proportion.

"Wheer be it out?" asked the aggrieved artist. "I'm thinkin yer've summer wrong in yer soight."

"If you get off that ladder, I'll put it right for you," replied the R. A. good humoredly.

"Eh, boot can ye paint?" queried the other doubtfully. "Ye ken I dinna want my work spiled."

"It's all right; I've done a little painting in my time," answered Leighton, as the other clambered down the ladder. Then, taking the palette, he climbed up and commenced to paint and did not desist until he had completed the signboard.

"Er, boot tha's nae so bad," was the rural artist's comment. "Art is nae so paying now; still if ye like to do mair work for me, I'll gie ye mair siller than I do as a rule."

"Thanks," replied Sir Frederick dryly. "My name is Leighton."

"Verra pleased to ken ye, Mr. Leighton," replied the man, ignorant of what the name meant. "My name is Tam."—St. James Gazette.

One of Webster's Drinks.

"Daniel Webster," said a Boston man, "as all the world knows, had a penchant for looking on wine when it glowed rosy red. At one time he was driving to Cambridge from Boston. He was billed to make a speech at the home of Harvard, and his companion in the old fashioned gig was a member of the reception committee and a resident of the town.

"On the way to Cambridge Mr. Webster turned to his fellow traveler with an inquiry whether there was not some place in the neighborhood where they could obtain a drink. 'If you will drive a short distance out of your way to my house,' was the courteous response, 'I think I can promise you as good a drink of Jamaica rum as you ever tasted.'

"To the house the twain accordingly journeyed, and once there the host, true to his promise, set before the statesman a decanter of extremely fine rum. The great Massachusetts senator poured out a brimming beaker and quaffed it off without wincing. His host tentatively pushed toward him the water jug, but Senator Webster after eying it a moment said: 'Thank you, no. I wanted a drink, but I am not thirsty.' He then went on to Cambridge and delivered one of his masterly efforts."

Won by His Retort.

At one of their joint discussions which took place in Kentucky some years ago Tom Stuart, then editor of the Winchester Democrat, gave his opponent, I. N. Boone, a descendant of the great Daniel, a blow that fairly knocked him out of the race for the legislature.

Boone was making his regular speech, and at the proper place in it he referred to the matter of his relation to the toiling masses. "My friends," said he, holding up a pair of hands that looked as if they had not been washed in a week, "to let you see for yourself that I am a horny handed son of toil, I ask you to look at these hands, and," turning to Stuart, "I would ask my pale faced young friend from the city what he thinks of them?"

Stuart was on his feet in a minute. "I do not desire to embarrass my distinguished opponent, ladies and gentlemen," he said, with a bow, "but I would say that I think that they need soap and water."

It was such an apparent case that the crowd took hold at once with a shout, and Boone was completely floored, and later Stuart was elected.—Argonaut.

A Mean Interruption.

"Don't trifle with me, Miss McCurdy!" pleaded the young man desperately. "Wait till I have finished. Do I need to tell you, after all these weeks, how completely and absolutely your image fills my heart? Have you not seen? Do you not know? Have I not betrayed myself by my looks, by the tones of my voice, by the eager joy that lights up my features whenever you appear? Must I put in words the feelings I can no more disguise than I can"—

"Mr. Whitgood," interrupted the young woman, "are you in earnest?"

"Glycerine McCurdy," he said, drawing himself up with injured dignity, "do you think I'm doing this on a bet?"—Chicago Tribune.

Water.

Boiled water or distilled water should not be used either by grown people or children unless there is danger from contamination from the water in ordinary use. Pure cold water is preferable. A child may be given a glass of cool (never ice) water the first thing in the morning—say half an hour before breakfast, and may also take a glass on retiring.

Guessed Wrongly.

"What do you expect to do with all your money?" asked the multimillionaire's spiritual adviser. "You can't take it with you where you are going."

"Yes, but I can," answered the multimillionaire. "I am going to Europe."—Chicago Tribune.

—It is well for business men and others who advertise in directories to read the following item copied from Randolph Register: "Several directories have been gotten up by different parties for Randolph, Holbrook and Avon, with liberal display of advertising at $4 and upwards, which proved to be absolutely useless and incorrect. They are usually looked over once and then laid upon the shelf, there to remain for the dust to collect upon them. If the same liberalty and generosity should be extended towards the home paper, which is thoroughly read every week, there would be encouragement to give a paper that no country town could equal."

Political Potpourri.

The next date for registration will be Wednesday, Sept. 26.

It is in Ward Two and Three that Eugene H. Sprague will havo his contest for delegates to the Senatorial convention, as in these wards there are two lists and the second in each case is known to be for the Braintree map. It is hoped that for the good of the city that the Republicans of these two wards will unite in favor of Mr. Sprague and thus give him 21 votes in the convention. He only needs 29 votes for a nomination, and is sure of more than 8 in other towns. There is need of more unity of action in Quincy, politically and otherwise, if we are to be successful. No town in the district has a better claim on the Senatorship. Our population and number of voters should entitle the city to a Senator once in six years, yet we have had only one in over 20 years, and he served but two years. Two years ago Quincy had a candidale, but he was sacrificed that the services of B. H. Woodsum on the State Committee might be recognized. It was the Quincy votes which nominated Mr. Woodsum and as he has had the customary two years he should withdraw in favor of the Quincy man. Whether he does or not, loyalty to Quincy and a demand for proper recognition should be the rally cry in favor of Mr. Sprague.

Ex-Councilman E. E. Jameson, the chairman of the Ward Five Republican Committee, swung a campaign flag to the breeze over a week ago.

The Republican City Committee met Friday night. One of their actions was to elect George T. Westland as janitor of headquarters. The meeting was private, none but the members of the committee being present.

The Democrats will open their nomination papers of delegates to the several conventions tonight at headquarters. No contests are expected.

The Ward One Republican caucus will probably be the largest ever held, and there have been some large ones. A canvass by friends of Representative Eben W. Sheppard shows that he will have nearly 300 votes. If he receives 250 he is sure to win out in the ward, and it looks now as if he would.

Congregational Council.

A mutual council of Congregational churches was held at the First Church on Tuesday afternoon to consider the resignation of Rev. A. A. Ellsworth and the action of the church and parish concerning the same, and to advise in the premises. Five churches responded out of seven called: the Congregational churches at Quincy, Milton, South Braintree, Holbrook and Weymouth; also, by invitation, Rev. Edward Anderson and Rev. DeWitt S. Clark of Boston and Salem respectively.

Rev. H. S. Huntington of Milton was chosen moderator and Rev. Mr. Snyder of Weymouth scribe. The retiring pastor's letter of resignation, the records of the church meeting and those of the parish meeting were read by Dr. William Gallagher. Rev. Mr. Ellsworth spoke briefly and opportunity was given for any member of church or parish who might so desire to make any additional statement. No one caring to add anything, the council voted to be by itself. Being by itself it was voted unanimously to advise the dissolution of the pastoral relations, and a committee was appointed to draw up suitable resolutions.

After announcing the result to the members of church and parish who were present, the council adjourned.

Surprise Party.

An enjoyable surprise party was held at the home of George Williams, son of Chief Engineer P. J. Williams, last night. Games were being played when two pretty girls, Effie O'Hara and Lillian Masson, came into the room and made presentations to George. Eatables were served and then games were resumed. Those present were: Mildred Rogers, Effie O'Hara, Lillian Masson, Mabel Chubbuck, May Belle Phelan, Eleanor Pinel, Lillian Jacobson, James C. Williams, Thomas A. Ferguson, John Capifere, John Sutherland, Hawthorne Roache, Richard Welch, Willie Morrison, Albert Masson, John Heany, Charles Hagerty, Willie Pinel, Nelson Barnicoat, Lawrence Pratt, Master Hunter, Gertrude Barnicoat, Lavena Dean, and George Williams.

Boston Fire.

There was a serious fire this afternoon in the Fort Hill Storage Warehouse in Boston. It was confined mostly to the Atlantic end, but the loss may be heavy.

AN OPEN LETTER.

A Plea for Honest Politics and Fair Play.

Editors of the Daily Ledger:

It is not surprising that the Ward One Republican Committee are against the renomination of Representative Eben W. Sheppard. They apparently have no use for any one who conscientiously performs public duties for the best interests of all. Said committee are against Hon. John Shaw of this city, whom the people of Quincy would like to send to Congress. They are against Representative Sprague, who will be the Republican candidate for the Senate in this district. They are against Frank F. Prescott, the chairman of the Senatorial Committee, who will be temporary chairman of the convention, having declined to place him in nomination as a delegate, although he guarantees the rent for the hall. They were against Mayor Sears for a reelection, and it is said that they will be against Mayor Hall for a reelection. Some of the members have even gone so far as to say they would not vote for McKinley. Surely the Republicanism of some of the members is open to considerable doubt.

Representative Sheppard is a successful business man, and has made a faithful, able and honest legislator. He is entitled to the customary three years. His record is unimpeached and no reasons are given why he should not be re-elected. It is the business men and tax-payers whom we want in the Legislature, not lawyers and poll taxpayers. It is a common saying that there are too many lawyers in the halls of legislation.

It is time that the representative business men of Ward One take an interest in political affairs, and down the present Republican Committee at the caucus next Tuesday, and then in October elect an entirely new committee which believes in fair play.

At the Ward One caucus on Tuesday evening next, the first list for each convention is the list filed by the Ward Committee. Some gentlemen, unknowingly, have consented to be candidates to further the ends of the committee. The voters will make no mistake, however, if they down the first list in each case where there is a contest.

It is an unusual state of affairs when Quincy men cannot have the support of Quincy delegates for Congress, for Senator, or other positions. Quincy gentlemen should be found in Congress, in State offices, in County offices and other positions of prominence. They would be if there was unity of action and honest politics.

Fair Play.

Quincy, Sept. 21, 1900.

Representative Contest.

Editors of the Daily Ledger:

Sirs:—It seems of late that Mr. Sheppard claims the support of all the business and solid men of Quincy, thus insinuating that Mr. McKnight is being backed by a less influential portion of the voters. On the other hand Mr. McKnight's friends say that they have the assurance of many of Quincy's solid business men and that their support has been offered him without solicitation.

As a Quincy business man, doing business in the Square, I have taken considerable interest in the contest and have talked with many business men in the centre and elsewhere, and so far as I can learn the sentiment is decidedly in Mr. McKnight's favor. A glance at Mr. McKnight's list of delegates discloses five Quincy business men, three of whom have served in the City Council; while on Mr. Sheppard's list I find but two Quincy business men, and none who have held public office. Surely this speaks for itself.

I see no reason why Mr. McKnight should not have the support of the business element, as well as all other classes, as he is a man of sound judgment and good executive ability, and one who, if elected, would be heard from on the floor of the house which would reflect credit on his constituents.

Mr. McKnight is a prominent member of the Norfolk Bar, and his friends know him to be capable to fulfil all the requirements of a Representative to the Great and General Court.

BIRTHDAYS.

Another birthday. Like a nun that tells
Her beads within the convent's narrow cells
My soul takes heed. Not those dull beads she loves,
Although she cons them with such eager eyes;
It is because they bear her soul above
And aid the yearning spirit to arise.

And so I feel the years that come and go
Lift me to larger life and nobler deed,
And that is why I count my birthdays so
And do not sorrow as the fleet years speed;
Each one a blessing like the meek nun's prayers
Told on the sacred rosary she wears.

—Edith Willis Linn.

"MARRIED EYES, HOW SWEET THEY BE."

"Now's your chance, Deronda!" cried the agent's hearty voice.

When he had carried the mail bags up from the depot, he had waited until their contents were distributed. That was not a long time. It never was in Excelsior. And tonight the sacks had not been of sufficient weight to tax his strong shoulders. But out of their lankness had come a surprise for him and an opportunity for Deronda.

"I can guess. It's a letter from Uncle Donald. A check?"

Once in awhile, at Christmas always, a letter inclosing a check arrived from Donald Bertram of New York. And his brother, who found his petty salary as station master of the insignificant Nebraska town quite incommensurate with the needs of a large and increasing family, hailed the advent of each inclosure with gratitude and elation.

"N-o. It's a letter from Donald, but there's no check." He looked across at his best loved and eldest child with a smile brighter than even the welcome check had ever summoned. "Guess again."

She looked at him from her opposite end of the table where she presided, her mother, in true western fashion, still being busied at the kitchen stove until the remainder of her family had eaten. Between Deronda and her father a noisy and voracious young brood intervened, eight or ten of them. Deronda was kept busy attending to their needs. She and her mother "did" for the rest. They ate as their portion whatever was left and never dreamed of complaining. Labor and service were their ethics of domesticity. But now Deronda paused in her task of pouring out the numerous cups of milk.

"Father! It's good news! Keep still, Flora! What is it?"

The tidings came out in a rush. "If you will go to New York for a visit, the check will follow your letter of acceptance. There!"

Deronda was the healthiest girl in town, but for the moment she felt positively weak. She set down the pitcher. The children clamored unheeded.

"Oh!" she gasped. "I must tell mother!"

Then she was gone, and the overworked man with the kindly face waited on the children himself.

Those that followed were exciting days. The little, straggling, low rooms over the depot were the scene of many confabulations, much scheming, many glorious hopes, innumerable pleasant prophecies. 'Ronda, as the children called her, was going away—away into some vast and mystic fairyland, which their vivid imaginations merged in the triple ecstasy of Yuletide, heaven and the Fourth of July. But one day order was born of confusion, sobriety of hysterical anticipation. That was the day Deronda's trunk stood labeled and corded on the platform, the day Deronda's self, freshly and becomingly garbed, stood beside it, the day that Agent Bertram and Mrs. Bertram and all the numerous young Bertrams listened for the whistle of the train at the depot eight miles west, hung around her with growing excitement as the black column of smoke came down like the guide of those fleeing from Pharaoh and clung around her in an adoring farewell, which was detrimental to her finery if flattering to her sensibility.

Then the iron beast was upon them. A few passengers alighted. Some express packages were handed off. These the agent mechanically received. Then Deronda's foot was on the first step of the Pullman. The engineer was looking back to see that the agent's pretty daughter got on safely before he pulled the throttle. The brakeman stood irresolute. The conductor loitered along, deferring the signal to start, because the departure of Deronda for the east was public property all along the line, and the men who had known her since she wore short dresses and waved them a welcome when their train went by were interested in this young bird flight of hers from the overflowing family nest.

A tentative whistle quivered on the air.

"Goodby, Deronda! Have a good time!" Deronda's father gave her a hard squeeze of the hand. There was the peck of a kiss between these two who loved each other so dearly.

And the train was speeding eastward.

Ah, that was a marvelous world into which Deronda went, a world where one wore dainty clothes from dawn until dawn, a world where the chief function of the women was to charm, that of the men to serve with most exquisite courtesy. And the meed of admiration she received when her western dresses had been discarded for beautiful gowns was new to her. Very sweet it was too. To be sure, she had known what it was to have young men besiege her for dances and hang upon her words. But in one case those who had given her tribute were clumsy and rough handed country boys. The men to whom her later environment introduced her possessed that indefinable air of breeding, of culture, of distinction which can be neither bought nor acquired. And she found the melody of trained voices at the opera sweeter than the triple note of the meadow lark, the scent of hothouse roses more delicious than the perfume of wild clover.

And so, too, she discovered entrancement in the homage of Eldred Wier. Not that in his case there was the possibility of comparison. She had never been touched by the attentions of her former acquaintances. There had not been one who attracted her. When she came east, she was quite heart whole and fancy free. But missiles, the gentlest of missiles, well directed, did their deadly and delicious work. Perhaps these would not have been so promptly effective, even if hurled by Dan Cupid's unerring hand, had Deronda realized that she was the bright particular star of the season. Had any one told her that her piquant, golden brown beauty, her unconscious air of aloofness, her repose begotten of prairie life and placid daily duty, had won for her a higher meed of approbation than was usually accorded a newcomer in an exclusive coterie she would have opened her serene gray eyes wide in smiling incredulity. All the girls had admirers. Almost all the girls had lovers. But not one of them had such a lover as Eldred Wier.

One month passed, two, three. And always there were the same tributes, always there was the same direct and personal deference. Theaters, dinners, dances, flowers, bonbons, gloves, afternoon visits, rides and drives. Always the same low, intimate tones, the allurement of impassioned eyes. Then, suddenly it seemed, it was time to go home. Time to go back to the dull, little town, to the rooms over the depot, to the horde of clamorous children.

Eldred Wier was the last to leave the Pullman. His worshiping eyes devoured the beauty of the shy, expectant face. His hand held hers in a close and tender clasp. He bent his head. He spoke in a tone that thrilled her.

"You know, you must know, I love you. You know, could I have my way, I would never let you go."

Then the train began to move. He was gone.

* * * * * * *

Five years later there was a tremendous rush of travel westward. The Nebraska town of Wymore was one of those caught in the vortex of impetuous pleasure seekers, although there were many health seekers, too, bound for the solacing serenity of Colorado or the golden glory of California. A splendid summer day was waning when a snorting train disgorged its myriads on the depot platform. A young man, nervous and haggard of aspect, helped an elderly woman to alight. With scant show of patience he hurried her into the waiting room.

"I tell you I've got to leave you awhile," he declared testily. "I've a letter to present to one of the eastern officials of the road. His private car is due here now. I'll be back as soon as I can."

Heedless of her whimpered objections he hurried off. A tall, beautiful young woman, most charmingly gowned, attracted the observation of the throng as she came down the waiting room. She noticed the woman sitting alone and evidently in distress.

"Can I be of service?" she inquired, pausing.

The traveler, in apparel too elaborate and youthful for her years, looked up into the gentle face of the speaker. Her wrinkled cheeks were chalky under their rouge, and her false curls and bonnet were awry.

"No!" she shrilled, heedless of bearers. "No one can help me. I brought it on myself. Me, worth half a million, to go and marry that young whippersnapper, that leaves me here like a bale of goods! Not even a drink of water"—

The young woman brought her a glass of water, set straight the disordered hair and bonnet and fanned the agitated old face, talking pleasantly the while.

"I am here," she said, "to meet my husband. He is one of the directors of the road. There, his special has just come in. He is coming this way." She rose eagerly. "There is some one with him." She took a step forward. "Welcome, Will," as the stately man who had hastened to her side bent and kissed her.

"If it wasn't for this young lady, Eldred"—

The resentful wail was cut short by a sharp exclamation. White as death Eldred Wier stared at Deronda Leighton. She looked from him to the shriveled old creature on the seat. So this was why he had never written, had never come. This was why she had fancied her heart was broken until "a better man drew nigh."

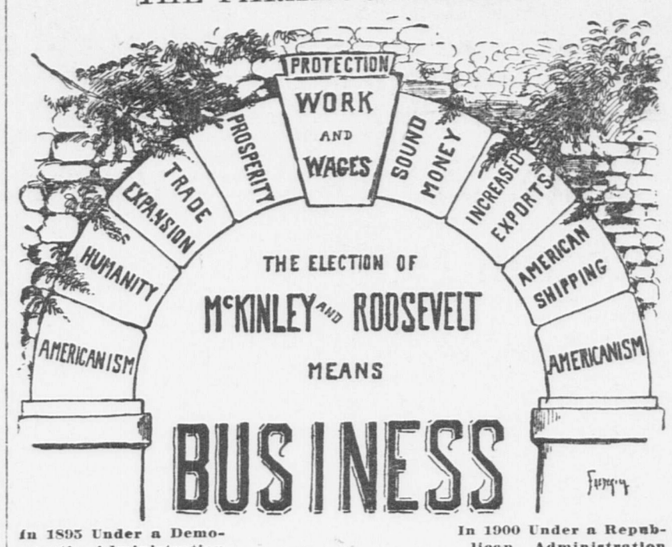

"Mr. Wier!" The glimmering smile in her radiant eyes maddened him. "I have been making the acquaintance of your wife. Mr. Wier," she explained, "is an old acquaintance of mine. But it is meet and part. Goodby." She swept the travelers a gracious bow.

"We really must go now, Will, dear. The carriage is waiting."—Chicago Tribune.

A New Terror of Courtship.

An Indiana brunette for some days had been suffering from a supposed attack of pleurisy, but when Dr. S. F. Bordman was called in he found that one of the young lady's ribs was fractured. After much questioning the girl blushingly admitted that her best beau had inflicted the injury while giving her his usual tender embrace before parting on his last visit. The occurrence of the accident was marked by a sharp pain in the side, "a catch in her breath" and a sudden relaxation of her hold.—Chicago Medical Recorder.

AND AMERICANS ARE LENDING MONEY TO ENGLAND.

If Bryan Wins.

H. W. Peabody, a well-known banker of Boston, says "The currency is the leading issue of this campaign" in a recent article. He thus sums up the situation in case that Bryan should win:

"A lapse from the gold basis would occur immediately after Mr. Bryan's election was a known fact. All greenbacks and treasury notes and gold certificates would be presented for payment in gold, so long as the treasury had gold to pay with, when the treasurer would be obliged to stop and the banks would also stop payment of gold.

"This national bankruptcy would destroy confidence of all holders of American securities, which would be thrown upon our market for forced sale, and enormous demands for gold would quickly place it at a premium over our paper currency, as during the Civil war.

"The withdrawal from circulation of United States notes and gold in circulation and in bank reserves, would cause contraction, stringency and panic. We might not be squarely upon a silver basis until free coinage was established by law, and this chance would prevent the utter depreciation of our currency, according to the silver strength of congress. We should be upon a paper basis, with silver certificates, United States notes and bank notes redeemable only in silver, as we should have no other coin. Prices of the necessaries of life would advance according as the gold value of our currency depreciated, and along with the depreciation the deposits in banks and savings institutions, income salaries and wages would shrink as the money they are payable in deteriorated. The election of Mr. Bryan would reverse our prosperity into calamity."

The New York Journal's List.

From the Lewiston (Me.) Journal.

On Monday, Aug. 27, the New York Journal, an ardent and industrious (not to say imaginative) advocate of the free silver school of Bryan, published a list of "distinguished Republicans in several states who declare their reasons for forsaking the Republican party, as now controlled." Among the names mentioned is a list from Maine, as follows:

Ex-Justice Clarence Willis, Silas Look, Daniel T. Salt, Abraham Piper, Charles Bond, Lewis Fay.

The New York Journal goes widely into this state purely as a sensational newspaper. Its reputation as a political prophet is now and always has been bad, and this but makes it worse. A whole army of names, in black type like the above, adorns the same page as this unique list from Maine. Not one of them from this state ever existed. Every one of them was born in the imagination of the astute political novelist in Mr. Hearst's office, who had to have a list of recalcitrant Maine Republicans because Maine's vote is earliest of all the states.

"There is another reason why the people have gone into the city and left the farm. It is because your legislation has been causing the foreclosure of mortgages upon the farms. * * * I cannot understand how a man living upon a farm can be deluded with the idea that the gold standard has anything but misery and suffering for him."—Bryan's speech at Monmouth, Ills.

The gold standard has remained in operation since this assertion, yet the condition of the farmers has been, in the four years since that time, vastly improved, as shown by the value of farm products already quoted; while the speed with which the mortgages complained of have been paid off is illustrated by the figures for Mr. Bryan's own state, which show an increase of 50 percent for the state of Nebraska alone, in the value of mortgages released in 1898 as compared with 1896.

"It is a question, whether we are to have prosperity or adversity. It is a question whether William McKinley is going to be President of the United States or Mr. Bryan. It is a question whether the Republican party is to continue to rule as it has ruled the country for 40 years, practically, I mean as to legislation. It is a question whether the Republican party, which is used to legislation, knows how, is progressive, has courage, has intelligence, or the Democratic party shall control the affairs of this republic, the latter party without experience except in one single Dolly Varden piece of legislation, the Wilson bill.—Senator Frye.

Campaign Echoes.

"Let us strive to make the conditions of life such that as nearly as possible each man shall receive the share to which he is honestly entitled and no more, and let us remember at the same time that our efforts must be to build up rather than to strike down, and that we can best help ourselves, not at the expense of others, but by heartily working with them for the common good of each and all."—Governor Roosevelt.

"I love liberty, I love equality, and I love justice, and when the party to which I belong is too cowardly to make a stand for the right, I leave it for good. Given the choice between McKinley and Roosevelt, upon the one hand, and Bryan and Stevenson and the unpatriotic Kansas City and Chicago platforms, upon the other, I shall without hesitation record my vote on election day for William McKinley and for Theodore Roosevelt, whose name and fame are dear to every soldier of the Spanish-American war and every citizen of the United States who venerates courageous, incorruptible American manhood."—Captain William E. English of Indiana.

"I want a government that gives every poor man the hope of becoming rich some day," says Bryan. That is the kind of a government he has always lived under, and personally he illustrates American opportunities. As for getting rich by cutting the value of the dollar, that is a joke.—Milford Journal.

Following is the schedule of wages per hour in Lyons, France, at the present time, as furnished by United States Consul Covert: Carpenters, 13½ cents; masons, 12 cents; locksmiths, 11 cents; plasterers and painters, 12 cents; plumbers, 11 to 12 cents; stone cutters, 11 to 12 cents; chimney builders, 11 to 12 cents; layers of mosaic paving, 12 cents; laborers, 9 cents.

"When the peace congress met it concluded in the treaty to buy the Philippines and take chances with them. Many senators among the Republicans were not in favor of ratifying this treaty. Colonel Bryan was the instrument that succeeded in making the Philippines part of our territory. He came to Washington, and by personal and persistent appeals rallied enough Democratic senators to the support of the treaty to insure its passage, and it is this same William J. Bryan that is now bringing forth this cry of imperialism for a new hobby on which to ride into power."—Senator Hale of Maine.

Judge John J. Hunt, who was the leader of the Silver Democrats of Georgia in 1896, has written a letter in strong opposition to Bryan and his "paramount issue" of imperialism. "For my part," he says, "I do not intend to agree, in the face of all evidence to the contrary, that the American people, or even any respectable political party in America, is capable of making vassals and slaves of the Filipinos, or that the American people or any respectable political party in my country is an aider and abettor in any scheme of conquest." He adds: "Any Democrat has a right to protest against this senseless issue being thrust on a great historic party as a paramount issue, merely because Mr. Bryan, at the expense of the greatest and most glaring personal inconsistency, wishes it done."

While the Democratic party is talking about "paramount" issues Mr. McKinley has met their cry with a better one in his letter of acceptance. He says in reference to the silver question:

"If another issue is paramount, this is immediate. It will admit no delay and will suffer no postponement."

The stability of our national currency is therefore secure, so long as those who adhere to this platform are kept in control of the government. In the first battle, that of 1896, the friends of the gold standard and of sound currency were triumphant, and the country is enjoying the fruits of that victory. Our antagonists, however, are not satisfied. They compel us to a second battle upon the same lines upon which the first was fought and won.—McKinley's letter of acceptance.

It is becoming evident that Mr. Bryan does not want much said about free silver before the election. The American people, however, are not so much concerned in what may be said before election as in what will be done after the election.—Barre Telegram.

AGED COUPLE KILLED.

Throats Were Cut With a Hatchet Wielded by Their Insane Son.

Crime Evidently Committed While They Were Asleep.

Perpetrator Then Deliberately Planned to Make Way With Himself, and Succeeded.

Foxboro, Mass., Sept. 22.—David L. Shepard and his wife, an aged and respected couple who have lived in this town for many years, were found murdered in their beds Friday morning, their throats having been cut with some sharp instrument, evidently a hatchet. Their son, William F. Shepard, 42 years of age, who has shown evidences of insanity for some time, undoubtedly committed the double crime while in a fit of mental derangement. Mr. Shepard and his wife were 81 and 78 years old, respectively.

Lewis P. Shepard, another and younger son of the couple, was the person to discover the terrible effect of his brother's insanity. He is a milkman by occupation. He called as usual Friday morning at the homestead for the purpose of delivering milk. Shepard knocked vigorously on the door, and, as no one responded to his summons, he tried the door and found that it was not locked. Suspecting something wrong, he entered the house and passed immediately to his father's bedroom. Mr. Shepard was lying dead on the bed in such a position that the son could easily see the nature of the wound which had caused his death. It was rough and bloody, and extended almost from one ear to the other.

Horrified and made weak by the dreadful discovery, Mr. Shepard could at first do nothing but gaze in terror at the scene, but finally he rushed from the place to procure assistance. Constable Cady and Medical Examiner Bragg returned with him, and together they searched the house.

If the first sight the son saw when he reached the house was horrible, the scene in the bedroom up stairs was all the more so. His mother, too, was dead, murdered in the same manner as her husband.

A hunt was made for William F. Shepard, the son, 45 years old, who made his home with the aged couple, but he could not be located. His absence attached suspicion to him. A general alarm was sounded, and the fire department was called out. At last, the body of the suspected man was found in Factory pond.

It was evident that his suicide was of the most deliberate kind. He hung his hat and coat on a tree, walked into the water and then lay down on the muddy bottom. The garments he wore were spotted with blood.

It is believed that Shepard killed his parents while they slept. His father, however, must have struggled a little before death came, for one of his fingers was cut off. Mrs. Shepard evidently died instantly.

Mr. Shepard, the deceased, was a descendant of one of the original settlers of the town, and had attended Harvard university. At the breaking out of the Civil war he was one of the first to enlist, and he was promoted during the service to captain of a company of Massachusetts volunteers. He always took an active part in the public affairs of the town.

For the past few days William Shepard had been brooding over a fancied poverty, and it is supposed that this feeling led him to the conviction that he ought to kill his parents and then himself, in order to escape the suffering from poverty. The weapon with which the murders were committed has not yet been found.

Natives Were For Annexation.

Melbourne, Sept. 22.—The Kurutu and Tabuai islands were formally annexed to France by the governor of Tahiti Aug. 21, at the request of the natives.

Wellington, N. Z., Sept. 22.—Premier Seddon of New Zealand announced yesterday the annexation of Cook islands, southwest of the Society islands, with the consent of the Baratonga chiefs. This step is a counter move to meet the French annexation of the Tubuay and Rurutu islands.

Brought Thousands of Tons of Coal.

Boston, Sept. 22.—A large fleet of coasting vessels came into port yesterday, 27 schooners and 17 barges, having coal as cargoes. This fleet was tied up nearly a week in Vineyard sound, owing to the easterly weather. The aggregate amount of coal brought was nearly 40,000 tons.

Barge Sunk by Steamer.

WILL HAVE NO PRESIDENTIAL TICKET.

Caffery's Declination Forces the National Party to Adopt New Plans.

Boston, Sept. 22.—At a conference held here yesterday by the National party leaders the idea of keeping a presidential ticket in the field was abandoned, and Archibald M. Howe, who was nominated for vice president, followed Senator Caffery, the presidential nominee, in formally withdrawing his candidacy.

This was virtually made necessary by Senator Caffery's declination, and the failure to find anyone willing to stand in his stead, and by the impracticability of perfecting an organization at this late period in the campaign. Many, however will endeavor to save it from complete collapse by nominating one presidential elector in states where the election laws will permit this to be done, and where it is believed that a sentiment in favor of such a plan exists in sufficient degree to make it worth the while.

The meeting was unanimous in the expression of a conviction that some means should be adopted for furnishing the voters who cannot bring themselves to support the candidates of either of the great parties an opportunity to make a protest to this effect at the polls. The plan of nominating one candidate for presidential elector was adopted as the only feasible solution of the problem, but two voices in opposition being heard when the question was put to a vote.

Resolutions were adopted embodying the ideas of those present on the futility of nominating a new ticket.

Judge Bronson For Governor.

Hartford, Sept. 22.—In less than two hours the Democratic state convention yesterday nominated a full state ticket; chose the six state electors; elected a new state central committee and adopted a platform. Every nomination was made unanimously and by acclamation, and with great rapidity. The state ticket is as follows: Governor, Samuel L. Bronson, New Haven; lieutenant governor, C. G. Beckwith, New London; secretary of state, J. P. Woodruff, Litchfield; treasurer, E. C. Pinney, Stafford; comptroller, W. L. Huntting, East Hartford. The platform condemns the representation in the general assembly, together with the method of electing state officers by majority vote. The nomination of Bryan and Stevenson is indorsed and the platform adopted at the Democratic national convention in Kansas City ratified, recognizing the declaration of that convention that imperialism is the paramount issue of the national campaign. The resolutions also condemn the Republican party for "its pernicious system of legislation whereby trusts have been fostered, monopolies created and the rights of the people subverted."

FIRED ON THE MOB.

Guns Used by Sheriff's Posse on a Crowd That Threatened Workmen.

Two Persons Were Instantly Killed and Ten Injured.

Troops Called Out to Preserve Peace In District Where Disturbance Occurred.

Philadelphia, Sept. 22.—Two dead, a Hungarian miner and a little girl, and 16 people wounded by bullets or injured with stones thrown by the mob is the record of the first clash between a sheriff's posse and the striking miners at Shenandoah last evening.

A posse hurriedly gathered together by Sheriff Toole of Schuylkill county to meet an emergency was forced to fire on a mob that was threatening workmen on their way home under escort. Sheriff Toole lost no time in calling on the commander of the national guard of Pennsylvania to send troops to aid him in keeping the peace. After consultation the state authorities at Harrisburg decided at midnight to send troops to the turbulent region.

Shenandoah's trouble was precipitated by the closing of six collieries there yesterday morning through the efforts of the strike leaders. More will close today as a voluntary act, it is said, on the part of the Reading company. This is done at the request of Sheriff Toole, who hopes in this manner to avoid further trouble. The outlook, however, is dubious, as the foreigners affected by yesterday's happenings are in an ugly mood.

Three regiments of infantry, a battery and a troop of cavalry were ordered out at midnight by Governor Stone to assist Sheriff Toole in maintaining order in the Schuylkill mining region. This action was taken after a conference between the governor, Adjutant General Stewart and General Gobin on the urgent solicitation of the sheriff, borough council of Shenandoah and many prominent residents of that locality. General Gobin has been placed in command of the provisional brigade and started from here with a staff on a special train for Shenandoah. He will establish headquarters there with 2500 troops.

The organizations which have been selected for this service are the Fourth, Eighth and Twelfth regiments, battery C of Phoenixville; governor's troop of Harrisburg and the Third brigade headquarters. Major General Miller, commander of the division, has been summoned to Harrisburg and is now on his way from Franklin. Attorney General Elkin has also been called here from Indiana to advise with the governor. Battery C is equipped with Gatling guns.

General Gobin is the senior brigadier of the division and commanded the provisional brigade which was ordered to Hazleton region after the Lattimer shooting in 1897.

Governor Stone received a telegram early from Sheriff Toole advising him that three persons had been killed and 15 injured at Shenandoah by the strikers firing upon a posse of citizens who were protecting a party of non-union miners on their return home from work. The sheriff said he was unable to cope with the mob, and that the presence of troops was necessary to the protection of life and property in the community.

Elsewhere in the strike region everything is quiet, although preparations are making for an outbreak in the Hazleton district and armed sheriffs' deputies are much in evidence there.

The Reading company has about discontinued the sale of coal for future delivery, and rioting almost certainly means the shutting off of coal production everywhere in the anthracite field, temporarily, at least.

As to the strike situation itself, there is no noticeable change. Both the operators and the strike leaders claim to have made decided gains.

REGULAR TRAFFIC RESUMED.

First Train Since Sept. 8 Entered Galveston Yesterday—Generous Act of Mexico.

Galveston, Tex., Sept. 22.—At 6:15 a. m. yesterday the first train since the storm of Sept. 8 arrived in the city over the temporary bridge. Trains are now running regularly. The building of the temporary ybridge, 2 1-8 miles long, was a remarkable achievement of engineering.

With the resumption of railroad service business along the wharves began in earnest. Several ships are taking on cargoes.

Senor Lorento, Mexican consul, has received official advice that the congress of his government has appropriated $30,000 for the relief of Galveston. This act of the sister republic, of which Texas was formerly a part, has made a deep impression on the people of Galveston.

The usual work of sanitation, caring for the sick and the disposal of dead bodies continues. Large amounts of garbage are being hauled from the city and burned and disinfectants are distributed. The situation of the city continues to improve, and Dr. Wilkinson, city health officer, says that all danger from an outbreak of any disease is now past.

Adjutant General Scurry of the Texas volunteer guard has placed his regiment of militia at the service of the city and they will remain here for guard and patrol work. No saloons will be permitted to keep open. There will be no impressment of men to work, and there is plenty of work both for mechanics and laborers.

A. J. Youens, inspector of the Galveston board of underwriters, is footing up the losses. He has finished the district east of Twenty-fifth street and finds that in the territory of total destruction east of that street 1649 houses were destroyed.

The Galveston bay bridge was completed at 3 o'clock Friday morning and the first train to arrive since Sept. 8 pulled into the Union depot at 6:25 o'clock. Full passenger train service has been resumed by all the lines entering the city via Virginia Point.

AGED COUPLE KILLED.

Throats Were Cut With a Hatchet Wielded by Their Insane Son.

Crime Evidently Committed While They Were Asleep.

Perpetrator Then Deliberately Planned to Make Way With Himself, and Succeeded.

Foxboro, Mass., Sept. 22.—David L. Shepard and his wife, an aged and respected couple who have lived in this town for many years, were found murdered in their beds Friday morning, their throats having been cut with some sharp instrument, evidently a hatchet. Their son, William F. Shepard, 42 years of age, who has shown evidences of insanity for some time, undoubtedly committed the double crime while in a fit of mental derangement. Mr. Shepard and his wife were 81 and 78 years old, respectively.

Lewis P. Shepard, another and younger son of the couple, was the person to discover the terrible effect of his brother's insanity. He is a milkman by occupation. He called as usual Friday morning at the homestead for the purpose of delivering milk. Shepard knocked vigorously on the door, and, as no one responded to his summons, he tried the door and found that it was not locked. Suspecting something wrong, he entered the house and passed immediately to his father's bedroom. Mr. Shepard was lying dead on the bed in such a position that the son could easily see the nature of the wound which had caused his death. It was rough and bloody, and extended almost from one ear to the other.

Horrified and made weak by the dreadful discovery, Mr. Shepard could at first do nothing but gaze in terror at the scene, but finally he rushed from the place to procure assistance. Constable Cady and Medical Examiner Bragg returned with him, and together they searched the house.

If the first sight the son saw when he reached the house was horrible, the scene in the bedroom up stairs was all the more so. His mother, too, was dead, murdered in the same manner as her husband.

A hunt was made for William F. Shepard, the son, 45 years old, who made his home with the aged couple, but he could not be located. His absence attached suspicion to him. A general alarm was sounded, and the fire department was called out. At last, the body of the suspected man was found in Factory pond.

It was evident that his suicide was of the most deliberate kind. He hung his hat and coat on a tree, walked into the water and then lay down on the muddy bottom. The garments he wore were spotted with blood.

It is believed that Shepard killed his parents while they slept. His father, however, must have struggled a little before death came, for one of his fingers was cut off. Mrs. Shepard evidently died instantly.

Mr. Shepard, the deceased, was a descendant of one of the original settlers of the town, and had attended Harvard university. At the breaking out of the Civil war he was one of the first to enlist, and he was promoted during the service to captain of a company of Massachusetts volunteers. He always took an active part in the public affairs of the town.

For the past few days William Shepard had been brooding over a fancied poverty, and it is supposed that this feeling led him to the conviction that he ought to kill his parents and then himself, in order to escape the suffering from poverty. The weapon with which the murders were committed has not yet been found.

REGULAR TRAFFIC RESUMED.

First Train Since Sept. 8 Entered Galveston Yesterday—Generous Act of Mexico.

Galveston, Tex., Sept. 22.—At 6:15 a. m. yesterday the first train since the storm of Sept. 8 arrived in the city over the temporary bridge. Trains are now running regularly. The building of the temporary ybridge, 2 1-8 miles long, was a remarkable achievement of engineering.

With the resumption of railroad service business along the wharves began in earnest. Several ships are taking on cargoes.

Senor Lorento, Mexican consul, has received official advice that the congress of his government has appropriated $30,000 for the relief of Galveston. This act of the sister republic, of which Texas was formerly a part, has made a deep impression on the people of Galveston.

The usual work of sanitation, caring for the sick and the disposal of dead bodies continues. Large amounts of garbage are being hauled from the city and burned and disinfectants are distributed. The situation of the city continues to improve, and Dr. Wilkinson, city health officer, says that all danger from an outbreak of any disease is now past.

Adjutant General Scurry of the Texas volunteer guard has placed his regiment of militia at the service of the city and they will remain here for guard and patrol work. No saloons will be permitted to keep open. There will be no impressment of men to work, and there is plenty of work both for mechanics and laborers.

A. J. Youens, inspector of the Galveston board of underwriters, is footing up the losses. He has finished the district east of Twenty-fifth street and finds that in the territory of total destruction east of that street 1649 houses were destroyed.

The Galveston bay bridge was completed at 3 o'clock Friday morning and the first train to arrive since Sept. 8 pulled into the Union depot at 6:25 o'clock. Full passenger train service has been resumed by all the lines entering the city via Virginia Point.

Good Afternoon.

It was a good piece of Work of Officers Larkin and Lyons, in capturing the gang of pig lead thieves with the plunder, and convicting them in court this morning. Anderson, one of the parties whom the court thought of holding for the grand jury, said he had rather be sentenced. The court accommodated him and imposed a sentence of two months.

The interest item for the Metropolitan parks is already excessive, and there should be no further delays on the part of the cities and towns in the district making the first payments. The expenses are also large enough without further litigation. The kick of the rich localities like Brookline, Newton and Cambridge against the apportionment, comes with poor grace, when they of all the cities are abundantly able to pay all and more than has been assessed. The motion for a recommitmet should be given leave to withdraw.

Park and Downs Church.

The Park and Downs church has engaged Mr. Justin L. Hill to take charge of the music. He will play at both of the Sunday services and will conduct the singing. Mr. Hill has had ten years' experience in this work and is a thorough musician. Fifty new Ivy Excelsis hymn books have been purchased, and it is expected that under Mr. Hill's leadership the music of the church will be improved. An informal social service of singing is called for Saturday evening of this week at 7.30. Everyone, whether a singer or not, is invited to come.

Reception to Late Pastor.

A farewell reception was given by the members of the First church and the community, to their pastor and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Ellsworth, at the church vestry, last Thursday evening, from 8 to 10.

The vestry was well filled during the reception hours, as a large number of people in Braintree wished to meet Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth.

During the evening solos were rendered by Miss Edna Goullaud, accompanied by G. Herbert Wilde, formerly organist at the church.

Refreshments of coffee and crackers were served.

The committee in charge of the reception were: William Gallagher, Geo. O. Wales, A. A. Thorndike, T. H. Doaring, C. F. H. Crathern, H. S. Thayer, Asa French, C. S. Bates, Will W. Mayhew, N. E. Hollis, A. C. Drinkwater, W. C. Harding.

Mr. Ellsworth preached his farewell sermon last Sunday, and this reception closes his connection with the church.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth now reside in Quincy.

QUINCY'S CLAIM FOR SENATOR AND HER CANDIDATE.

From the Braintree Observer and Reporter.

Braintree has for two years been the home of the Senator from the First Norfolk district, and it is only a few years ago that Hon. James Stevens of Braintree served two years. On the other hand the city of Quincy, with five times the population, has only had one Republican candidate in 20 years, and the Hon. John F. Merrill only served two years. Therefore it is not surprising that Quincy is determined this year that the candidate shall hail from that city.

It is said that the "Granite City" is practically solid for Eugene H. Sprague, who has for two years made an excellent Representative in the General Court. Representative Sprague is well known in this town, especially among the grocers and marketmen, as he is in the wholesale provision business and enjoys their trade. Courteous treatment, and reliable goods have caused Sprague Bros. & Co., at 99 and 101 Blackstone street, Boston, to become one of the leading wholesale provision houses of New England.

It was only 17 years ago that Mr. Sprague, then a young man of 19, entered the grocery and provision store of Thomas Gurney at Atlantic, and he could not have selected a better employer. "Gene" was popular on the route, and always obliging, and Atlantic people were sorry when he left, but it was for a larger field. Starting in a very small way, Sprague Bros. & Co. are today leaders in their line, and have a large and profitable business.

While Mr. Sprague has been in public life for five or six years, no one would call him a politician. Although regular in attendance in the Legislature, he has not neglected his private business, but has made his visits to the stores of Quincy, Braintree and Weymouth early in the morning before many people were astir. As a legislator he has sometimes been too outspoken to be politic, but on the whole people like that kind of a Representative. One is never in doubt how he stands on public questions. He is straightforward, and has the courage of his convictions, and is willing to give a reason for the faith that is in him.

Like many of the residents of Braintree, Mr. Sprague is a Pine Tree man. He was born in Islesboro, Maine, 36 years ago. He married a daughter of the late Jacob F. Eaton of Adams street, Quincy, and they have five interesting children. About seven years ago they built a comforatble home at Wollaston.

The city of Quincy early called for his services, and elected him a Councilman-at-large for three successive years by flattering votes, which increased each year. He was prominent in debate and one of the leading members.

Mr. Sprague is always identified with movements for the benefit of his city. He is one of the parish committee of the Unitarian church at Wollaston, a member of the Merrymount club, and several societies, and also of the Massachusetts Republican club. It was because his many friends urged him to enter the Senatorial contest that he declined to be a candidate for another year in the House.

QUINCY MUST WAIT.

Census of Population Not Expected for Several Weeks.

It is now reported that the census bureau having announced the population of all cities of 25,000, will now take up State by State alphabetically and complete all towns. As Massachusetts is well down in the list Quincy may have to wait several weeks.

It is possible that Quincy has not a population of 25,000, but it is probable that the census bureau has jumped at conclusions, and may have better news when the returns are summarized.

The census of Massachusetts cities already reported will be of interest.

—Ex-Postmaster General Wilson of Cleveland's cabinet finds little to criticise and much to commend in President McKinley's Chinese policy. He is an anti-imperialist, but not a hypocrite like his confrere, Mr. Olney. The latter's sincerity may be measured by his earnest declaration that voting is a duty of American citizenship and a man is derelict in his duty to his country who neglects it, when the real fact is that Olney himself has not voted once since 1892.—Portsmouth Journal.

GOOD SOFA PILLOWS.

Unusually Handsome Pillows Within the Skill of Any One.

The two sofa pillows here shown are selected on account of their simple and practical nature from illustrations of a series of designs for good sofa pillows, submitted in prize competition to The Ladies' Home Journal, which thus describes them:

"Sofa pillow made of pink and black No. 7 satin ribbon interwoven. The ruffle is of black taffeta lined with pink. The back of the pillow is of pink taffeta. This pillow is an unusually handsome one.

"Sofa pillow made of butcher's linen with a square design of drawn work in the center. The ruffle, which is rather scant, is made of red and white taffeta ribbon in alternate rows. The back of the pillow is of the linen."

Two other attractive descriptions from the same source are:

"Sofa pillow made of crimson denim with dark blue fleur-de-lis embroidered upon it in dark red silk. The edge is finished with a crimson cord. The back is dark blue denim. This may be called a Pennsylvania pillow.

"Inexpensive sofa pillow made from huck toweling embroidered with wash silks in white, pink, light green, light and dark yellow and black. The ruffle is of bright red silk. The back of the pillow is of the toweling."

Making Pickles.

In making pickles only the best cider vinegar should be used. If a green color is wanted in sour cucumber pickles, it can be obtained by putting them into cold vinegar in a porcelain lined kettle and letting them heat slowly over a slow fire until they are green.

Only granite or porcelain lined kettles should be employed in making pickles. Mold can be avoided by putting nasturtiums or pieces of horse radish root into the pickle jars, which should always stand in a dry and dark place.

Tennis and Its Gowns.

Fashionable resorts have this season witnessed a great revival of the interesting game of lawn tennis, a sport which is not too severe for either health or pleasure. Some of the costumes are not only very charming in themselves, but give a good idea of out of door gowns in general for late summer wear. The one illustrated is a double breasted vest and skirt, just off the ground, in white voile over white silk and trimmed with rolled down collar, revers, cuff straps and scalloped hem in pale blue voile embroidered with white spots. Blue bands stitched in white are carried slantwise round the bodice. Sets of silver buttons, a blue velvet belt and high collar in white lace furnish the garniture. The Louis XVI hat in lisse guipure is bound with black velvet and covered with a huge yellow rose with radiating petals.

Fashion's Echoes.

Newest taffeta silk petticoats have double Spanish flounces, separately ruffled, and a very dainty combination of rose ruffling with accordion plaits.

In shirt waist colorings sangazur, amarynth, porphyry, carnelian, sealing wax and opaline are the new variations on blue, green, purple, red and tan respectively.

Transparent lace and net yokes and sleeves are in the height of fashion.

Not every woman can handle a lace shawl gracefully, but it is now the approved foreign fad to try it.

Narrow black velvet jeweled bows or the simple little velvet bow so much used in quantities, rows or stripes of them and black velvet strappings with buckle slides, the velvets of graduated length, are among the minor embellishments of dress.

UNIQUE ELECTRIC ROAD.

An Innovation In Trolley Practice Attempted In Switzerland.

All of the electric motors on trolley cars in America are of the direct current type, says the New York Tribune. In a few shops, however, alternating current motors have recently been employed to drive machinery, and this innovation has led to a good deal of talk about applying the same system to traction work. If alternating current motors would show themselves suited to the operation of trolley cars, it would be felt that an important gain had been effected. Where the power for a road is generated at a considerable distance from the line, as is the case in Buffalo, whose supply is drawn from Niagara, it is customary to employ an alternating current for transmission purposes and then at the scene of action convert the current into a direct one. That conversion, however, involves a slight loss of energy and calls for the use of an additional appliance. There would be a double economy therefore if the alternating current could be led right into the car motor.

Without going into the technicalities of the matter, it may be remarked that until Tesla invented what is known as the "polyphase" motor it was hard to utilize an alternating current for power purposes, however satisfactory it might be for illumination. But ever since the polyphase motor showed that it would work well in shops electricians have waited impatiently to see it tried on railway cars. Such a venture has just been made in Switzerland, and if it is not the very first one of the kind it is certainly a pioneer enterprise.

Pyrenean Dwarfs.

Professor Miguel Marazta has reported a curious anthropological discovery in the valley of Rebas, at the end of the eastern Pyrenees. He says:

"There exists in this district a somewhat numerous group of people who are called Nanas (dwarfs) by the other inhabitants and as a matter of fact are not more than four feet in height. Their bodies are fairly well built, hands and feet small, shoulders and hips broad, making them appear more robust than they really are.

"Their features are so peculiar that there is no mistaking them among others. All have red hair. The face is as broad as long, with high cheek bones, strongly developed jaws and flat noses. The eyes are not horizontal, but somewhat oblique, like those of Tartars and Chinese. A few straggling, weak hairs are found in place of beard. The skin is pale and flabby. Men and women are so much alike that the sex can only be told from the clothing.

"Though the mouth is large, the lips do not quite cover the large, projecting incisors. The Nanas, who are the butt of the other inhabitants, live entirely by themselves in Rebas. They intermarry among themselves, so that their peculiarities continue to be reproduced.

"Entirely without education and without any chance of improving their condition, they lead the life of pariahs. They know their own names, but rarely remember those of their parents, can hardly tell where they live and have no idea of numbers."

Cure by Silence.

What do you think of the idea that invalids may gain strength in silence? I believe in it emphatically, says a writer in Health. If I were a physician, I would prescribe frequent doses of silence, especially to those who are excitable or nervously exhausted. To sit or lie in a perfectly easy position, with the muscles all relaxed, the eyes closed and the mind fixed on the most silent and remote place that can be imagined—say the top of a lofty mountain overlooking miles of pine forest, where the cry of a bird would be startling—or to picture in fancy the boundless plains or to think of the cool quiet of mountain caves to fix the mind for a season upon anything that suggests infinite power and unbroken stillness is to absorb something of nature's strength and calm and make a genuine and permanent gain in the effort to recover health.

There is hardly an invalid who would not realize benefit from the practice of going into silence at regular periods each day. But the thoughts must not be allowed to drift and meander helplessly about. That is a most exhausting process. The secret is to keep the mind steadily, if only for a short time, upon the one subject—that of infinite stillness and repose. You think that is easy enough. I hope you will persevere in the practice until it becomes so. I guarantee that it will be time profitably spent.

Headache From Eye Strain.

Casey A. Wood says that the site of the ocular headache in the order of frequency is, first, the supra orbital; second, the deep orbital; third, the fronto occipital, and, fourth, the temporal. The character of the pain is more likely to be dull and heavy than very acute. The exciting causes are tasks which require the use of the accommodation and convergence, reading, writing, drawing, painting, typewriting, sewing, music, card playing, billiards, shopping, riding in trains and street cars, etc. Long sighted people suffer more from headache than the short sighted. Insomnia, dyspepsia and pelvic disease predispose to ocular headache. The author is opposed to internal drug treatment, but advises very hot or very cold fomentations.—Medical News.

Incombustible Houses In Russia.

Complex methods have been followed in Russia, but a simple invention there is becoming popular—namely, to wash the wood with solution of ammonium sulphate, followed by potash solution, thus forming sulphate of potash and precipitating insoluble alumina in the pores of the wood.—Popular Science.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

ABSOLUTELY PURE.

Royal Baking Powder is the greatest of helps to the housekeeper or cook in preparing the best and finest food.

With least labor and trouble it makes hot breads, biscuit and cake of finest flavor, light, sweet, appetizing, digestible and wholesome.

Do not permit the grocer or peddler to substitute any other brand in place of the Royal.

Some baking powders are claimed to be cheaper. They can be cheaper only if made from cheaper materials. "Cheaper" means inferior. To cheapen the cost of an article of food at the expense of its healthfulness, as is done in alum baking powders, is a crime.

Farmers' Fruit Offering.

The great fruit harvest of 1896 was fitly commemorated by the Farmers' Fruit Offering of that autumn in which by the generous gift of farmers, railroads, teamsters, the cooperation of the press, and indeed everybody, 5,500 bushels of apples were eaten by people who, in many instances, had not eaten an apple for years.

The Lend a Hand Society understand that there is even a greater harvest this year than then. It asks the cooperation of clubs and their friends and would say that if they have apples or other fruit or vegetables which they like to give to those in need, that they can promptly distribute any offering of such luxuries.

The railroads centering in Boston have kindly consented to receive and transport all such freight free of charge. Apples may be sent in bags, barrels and boxes, or if neighbors combine they may be sent loose in car or half carloads by consultation with the freight agent. All goods should be marked: "Farmers' Fruit Offering, No. 1 Beacon street, Boston."

NO NEW PROPOSITION.

Definite Decision Reached Relative to the Chinese Situation.

Nature of Answers to the Powers Kept Secret.

It Is Learned, However, That Germany's Latest Proposal Has Failed of Approval.

Washington, Sept. 22.—At the close of the cabinet meeting yesterday announcement was made that the course of this government in reference to the Chinese situation had beeen determined upon. The official statement given out was as follows:

"The government has reached a determination relative to the Chinese situation. It will be made public as soon as it can be communicated to the powers interested."

Minister Wu called by appointment upon Acting Secretary Hill and was handed a memorandum embodying the response of the United States government to the request of Prince Ching that some person be immediately empowered to begin negotiations with the Chinese authorities for a final settlement. The minister came away with a dissatisfied expression upon his face.

Next came M. Thiebaut, the French charge. A few minutes' conversation sufficed to impart to him orally an answer to his own verbal inquiry.

Then Baron Sternberg, the German charge, who had been notified of the readiness of the state department to make answer to the German note, called and was given that answer. He hastened away to cable it to his government.

The department then sent an answer to the Russian inquiry forwarded by messenger and wired cablegrams containing the substance of the answers to its diplomatic representatives abroad. Thus closed one of the most interesting and important phases of the Chinese entanglement.

The state department absolutely refused to make any statement as to the nature of the answers, taking the ground that to do so would be a violation of the diplomatic proprieties. The ministers and charges who received the messages here adopted the same secretive attitude. The president himself, it seems, had given instructions that every effort should be made to maintain secrecy in this matter until the official disclosure.

With all this it is known that the German proposal that negotiations with China be deferred until the Chinese responsible for the Pekin outrages have been surrendered to the allies has failed of approval by our government. The declination has been conveyed in a manner that cannot give offense, but it is believed that the United States government cannot recognize the principle that a country may be called upon to surrender its own citizens to a foreign power or powers for punishment. The government does not relinquish the idea of the ultimate punishment of the offenders when they are properly identified, but it does not believe the pursuit of this object should put a stop to all negotiations.

The idea of a commission to adjust the difficulties with China is again brought forward, and it is suggested that such a commission on the part of the United States may either form part of the joint international commission, which, it is hoped, will be appointed for this purpose, or, in the event of the failure of the effort to secure joint action, then the members can go on and deal directly with China for a settlement.

One fact concerning the United States answers that was learned officially is that they contain no new proposition; they simply clean away the debris of unanswered inquiries.

MASSACRES IN MANCHURIA.

Russian Troops Have Orders to Spare No Chinese—Suspicions as to Earl Li.

London, Sept. 22.—The Moscow correspondent of The Standard, reverting to the subject of the Amur massacres this morning, says:

"From a recent visitor to the Amur region I learn that massacres are the order of the day with the troops that are overrunning Manchuria. The orders are issued by General Grodokoff. But it is quite certain that Emperor Nicholas must be ignorant of their nature. My informant has seen a series of telegrams from one Manchurian commander, every one of which beseeches that he be allowed to spare peaceable citizens; but the Russian indifference to the lives of the common herd is still of a truly Oriental type."

The same correspondent asserts that troops by the wholesale continue to pour into Manchuria.

The manner of Earl Li's reception seems to confirm the suspicions existing in Shanghai regarding his close understanding with Russia. About 4000 Russian troops and all the principal Russian officers met him at Chung Liang Chen, half way to Tientsin. A long conference was held, at which no representative of any power was present. This remarkable friendship exists at a time when two continents are ringing with the story of massacres by the Russians in Amur.

General Wilson Takes Pei-Ta-Chu.

[Copyright, 1900, the Associated Press.]

Pekin, Sept. 17, via Taku, Sept. 22.—General Wilson the American commander, took Pei Ta Chu this morning. No details of the affair have been learned. It is expected that General Wilson will move on San Hai Tien and destroy the Chinese arsenal at that place. The Germans moved westward today, and it is doubtful if they co-operated in the taking of Pei Ta Chu.

Li Is Not Over-Popular.

Tientsin, Sept. 22.—Li Hung Chang has arrived here and is domiciled in his own yamen, under a Cossack guard. His reception here was a repetition of his reception at Tong Ku, only the Russian and Japanese officers calling on him, those of the other nations not taking part in it.

GENERAL TRADE IRREGULAR.

Miners' Strike Causes Weakness In Some Lines, While Prices of Staples Are Higher.

New York, Sept. 22.—Bradstreet's says: The unfavorable turn given the general industrial situation by the strike of anthracite coal miners, and the possibility of wage disputes in the iron trade, with rather less activity in the latter industry, and some increase of weakness in the prices of cruder forms, have given an appearance of irregularity to the general trade and business situation. On the other hand, the course of staple prices has been very generally upward this week, and the fall distribution of dry goods, clothing, hats and millinery has been of large volume at nearly all markets. There is a decidedly better tone noted in the boot and shoe and kindred trades, and the strength of cotton goods, though apparently in excess of that shown by the raw material, has been regarded as indicative of confidence on the part of manufacturers. Bank clearings reflect the expansion of fall trade in a further gain in volume, but the stagnant condition of speculation, particularly in stocks, precludes any important gain over recent years.

Iron and steel are rather quieter as a whole, and some weakness is noted in southern pig and steel billlets at Pittsburg.

The Doscher sugar refinery closes down on account of the scarcity of raw sugar, but the Loraine Steel company, idle three months, is starting its furnaces, with others to follow.

Sales of wool at the three chief markets were only 2,817,000 pounds, against 13,443,800 a year ago.

Business failures for the week number 183, as against 167 last week.

Texas' Latest Visitation.

Dallas, Sept. 22.—The storm Wednesday night over northern and northwestern Texas was one of the most disastrous experienced in years. The damage is heavy, but is confined largely to cotton and railroad interests. The river at Dallas has risen nearly 30 feet, and overflowed its banks. Wire communication is badly interrupted. The rain was accompanied by wind which unroofed houses and bent trees to the ground. At Fort Worth considerable loss was sustained. The river left its banks, and the valley was a vast sheet of water.

Daring Theft of Silverware.

Milford, Mass., Sept. 22.—Avery Woodbury's store is in the business section of Milford and has big plate glass show windows. A burglar pried open a window in the rear with a jimmy and stripped a show case in the front window of $150 worth of silverware. William Masterson, 19 years old, was arrested and the property recovered.

From Drought to Deluge.

Calcutta, Sept. 22.—The extraordinary rainfall in northern India has not ceased for four days. Half the city of Calcutta is submerged, and even in the northern part the streets are flooded to a depth of three feet. Many houses have collapsed. Thus far there has been but little loss of life.

Apple Blossoms In September.

Henniker, N. H., Sept. 22.—Apple trees which border those portions of a street on which occurred a big fire are in full blossom. The heat did not scorch, but set the sap flowing anew, eight months ahead of time, and now the air is fragrant with apple blossoms.

Sent to Prison For Perjury.

Boston, Sept. 22.—Richard K. Glasheen, charged with giving straw bail, was sentenced to state prison for a term of not less than three years and not more than five. It was also said that he raised by mortgage $5200 on property worth $1200.

Roberts Reports Progress.

London, Sept. 22.—The following dispatch is from Lord Roberts, dated Watervalboven, Sept. 20: "Pole-Carew reached Koopmuidan yesterday. He captured 38 cars of flour, one car of coffee and 19 damaged engines at Watervalonder."

Fatal Elevator Accident.

Boston, Sept. 22.—At the plant of the White-Smith Music Publishing company Charles J. Delugo, an errand boy, 16 years old, was caught in some unknown way between the elevator and one of the floors, and was killed instantly.

Victim of Electric Current.

Lewiston, Me., Sept. 22.—William Reed was instantly killed here while fixing an electric light, disabled by crossed wires. Reed was 27 years old.

PALACE SECRET UNFOLDED.

Circumstantial Account of the Turning Down of China's Emperor.

Included in the news of the Peking fighting brought by the steamship Victoria, which reached Victoria, B. C., from the orient the other day, were the details of the gallant sortie made by Captain Meyer of the U. S. S. Baltimore and a little band of American marines. The American legation was surrounded by thousands of Chinese, when, under cover of darkness, Captain Meyer and his little force charged out and drove back the mob which was firing from the adjacent walls. The Chinese were held at bay until barricades surrounding the legation were built. These were held until the relief arrived. The North China Daily News says that the Chinese ministers Hsu, Yung Yi and Yuen Chang and two others, who at the risk of their lives warned the American minister of the impending siege, also warned the German minister not to go to the tsung-li-yamen, as he proposed. He persisted and was murdered by the Kansu troops.

Refugees say that as the empress was about to give her consent in writing to the decree calling upon her generals to proceed to the attack of the legations and to war with the foreigners the emperor prostrated himself before her and besought her to pause before plunging the empire into war and putting matters beyond recall. The refugees in an article translated for The North China Daily News describe the interview as follows:

"If I alone," cried the emperor, "were to suffer and die as a consequence of what you have done and intend to do, gladly would I die in atonement for the catastrophe you would bring on China, but I beseech your imperial majesty to pause before you destroy my poor, unoffending subjects throughout the country. What have they, I ask your majesty, done to merit the calamity that will be in store for them by the false step your counselors intend to take? A myriad times do I pray you to reconsider your decision before launching on a policy which will end in destroying the very foundations of the empire which my forefathers handed down to me to nourish and to protect from harm. I would rather die ten thousand deaths than see all the sufferings that are in store for my unfortunate subjects."

The empress dowager merely cast a look of contempt on the emperor, drew back her hood and looked away, utterly ignoring the protests of the emperor, who when saying his last word had moved forward and clutched his aunt's robe. Prince Tuan, who stood near the throne with his Mantchoos, said with a contemptuous shrug of the shoulder:

"What does his majesty the emperor know about such things anyway?"

The emperor arose and left the council chamber.

A NEW CENTURY REVIVAL.

Plans In England and America For a Concentrated Movement.

All of the free churches of England are joined in an effort to open the new century with a great evangelical revival, says The Church Economist. Eight days are to be given to the task apart from the months of preparation which have already begun. In this task of preparation the Christian Endeavor and other lay help is brought into use. The meetings will begin on Saturday night, January being the month selected, cover the two following Sundays and terminate on Monday evening. The London meetings are to be held in advance of those in the provinces, this for local effect. There are to be six London centers—principal centers—each of which will have many subordinate centers.

In other cities of England the number of principal centers, each with subordinate ones, will number from one to six, according to size, and work is already begun to see that no city, however small, is omitted from the plan. The date will be about a fortnight after the close of the London meetings. Evangelists from one to ten in number will be sent to each city, according to size, and pastors will help out.

There will be special services for milk men, for car drivers, for fallen women, newspaper boys, etc. Some of these will be held at early hours in the morning, one of them at 3 a. m. They will be held at any hour those for whom they are held can best attend. The aim is, first, to reach people of all grades and to provide meetings anywhere and at any time; second, to converge these meetings upon central mass meetings.

There is also a movement on foot in this country to make this a year of prayer and preparation for the incoming new century. A call to this end is addressed to the people of the United States and is signed by many representative men, including such names as those of the Rev. Drs. J. H. Barrows, Josiah Strong, Washington Gladden, Theodore L. Cuyler, C. I. Scofield and Bishops Gilbert of Minnesota, Leonard of Ohio, Doane of Albany, Andrews of New York, etc. The appeal is to Christians to make the year one of prayer, work and preparation and education by Bible study and study of missionary and other progressive Christian work in order that a great revival of religion may be prepared for in the opening year of the new century.

Quick Action Rifle.

A new magazine rifle has just been tested near Manchester. It is the only magazine weapon which without mechanism of any kind feeds cartridges into the breech and chamber by gravitation only, says the Cincinnati Enquirer. The total cost of the new rifle is 35 per cent less than that of the Lee-Metford. It is also one and a quarter pounds lighter, and can fire 30 shots a minute.

FORESTS OF CANADA.

APPARENTLY INEXHAUSTIBLE SUPPLY OF SPRUCE FOR PULP.

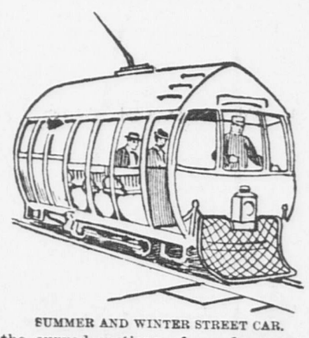

The award of the grand prize to Canada for her forestry exhibit at the Paris exposition was not unexpected, says an Ottawa correspondent of the New York Sun. The exhibit is a collective one from the whole Dominion, and it occupies little more than 1,000 square feet of space. It is made up of a very complete representation of the Canadian woods, with the principal articles exported from Canada in a semimanufactured form. Of the 121 species of trees indigenous to Canada 26 are included in the exhibit, the remainder being of small economic value or of rare occurrence. No other country is so rich in forests, and it is not surprising that the Canadian authorities bent all their energies in making this exhibit complete in order to demonstrate to the world this principal source of Canada's wealth.

Much attention was given in the endeavor to impress the European paper manufacturer with the importance of the pulp forests and pulp industries of the Dominion. This line of enterprise is so new as not only to be of special interest to such visitors at the French capital, but its vast possibilities for this country are as yet just beginning to be appreciated by Canadians. Carefully prepared statistics and information upon this subject have been collated and printed by the government for distribution from the Canadian section at the exposition.

The Dominion census of 1881 first mentions pulp mills, but it was merely the beginning of the Canadian pulp and fiber industry. There are now 35 important pulp and fiber mills, some of the latest established being on a gigantic scale, the largest having a capacity of 250 tons of pulp a day. The total output of these mills is now about 1,100 tons per day, and the capital invested in the industry is between $15,000,000 and $20,000,000, a considerable proportion of which is from the United States. This development has been due to a specially favorable combination of circumstances. Not only is Canadian pulp spruce of exceptionally good quality for paper manufacture, but the forests are the largest in the world, comparatively easy of access and possess abundant water power. The supply in Canada is virtually unlimited, and the area of growth may be regarded as almost conterminus with the geographical boundaries of the Dominion. From the Labrador peninsula on the east and along the northern shores of the St. Lawrence the spruce grows abundantly and extends over that great triangle between Hudson bay and the Atlantic. Ontario has an abundance of pulp spruce, and it stretches northward almost to where the Mackenzie river flows into the Arctic ocean. On the Pacific coast, along the mountainous bays of British Columbia, the spruce is found more abundantly as exploration is pushed forward. The Douglas fir, although partaking more of the nature of balsam than spruce, is a good pulp wood, and the trees, towering 250 feet in the air and measuring from 30 to 50 feet in circumference at the ground, have made the timber of the coast famous.

Adjustable to Any Weather.

The immense cost to street car companies of providing separate cars for summer and winter use has led a couple of Indiana men to design an adjustable car, says the Pittsburg Dispatch. The car is egg shape, and the ribs at the sides and ends are slotted on either side to provide runways for the curved sections of wood or metal which close the car. The roof of the car is of double thickness, with pockets in line with the ribs forming extensions of the curved sides. In the center of the roof is arranged a series of pulleys with cables attached to the upper edges of the sliding sections, the opposite ends of the ropes being wound on a shaft, thus enabling the conductor to open and close the car by turning a crank on the shaft. When the cables are unwound, the sides will slide downward of their own accord until connection is made with the floor, the curvature of the sides allowing the passengers to sit close to the ends of the seats without interfering with the work of altering the car.

Gases of Distilled Water.

It has been generally supposed that the evil taste of distilled water is due to the absence of dissolved gases. We are told now that the reverse is the case and that the reason is the presence of gases generated in the still. Filtration through animal charcoal destroys these.—Popular Science.

Education Without Books.

A novel plan of education has been adopted at Copenhagen, Denmark. No books are used, but the boys are instructed orally, when at the same time they perform some light manual work, a plan that may do for very young boys.

ALL FARM PRODUCTS.

A SPLENDID EXHIBIT TO BE MADE AT BUFFALO'S GREAT EXPOSITION.

Opportunities Will Be Offered For the Study of Object Lessons In Many Important Arts and Sciences.

Thousands of men, representing every degree of skill, are fast bringing into existence the great Pan-American Exposition, which shall next year turn the footsteps of half the nation toward Buffalo. Never was an Exposition projected amid such promising and favorable surroundings and conditions. With the best known natural wonder of the world—the stupendous and majestic falls of Niagara—within half an hour's ride of the Exposition grounds and the greatest electric power plants in the world using the power of these famous cataracts, truly magnets of irresistible force, to help draw the crowds from all directions, Buffalo looks to an unparalleled success in next year's enterprise.

In six important particulars the Pan-American Exposition will outrival all former undertakings of this description. These are in the electrical effects, in the hydraulic and fountain effects, in horticultural and floral decorations, in the variety and splendor of its statuary, in color decorations and in the court settings. The highest skill has been employed in developing these features, and no pains will be spared to bring them to a degree of perfection never before achieved.

A large number of the most noted sculptors of America are engaged upon the models for the magnificent decorative display of original sculpture. About 125 groups of statuary will be employed in the ornamentation of buildings and grounds, aside from numberless small sculptures, such as heads, floral pieces, medallions, arabesques and work in relief upon all buildings and architectural works.

Among the 20 or more great buildings which will shelter the multitude of exhibits to be brought together for the entertainment and education of the public next year the Agriculture building ranks among the largest. This is situated on the north side of the Mall, opposite the Manufactures building and east of the huge Electric Tower, which is to be the centerpiece of electric illumination.

The Agriculture building is 500 feet long by 150 wide. It is very ornamental in its exterior aspect, having broad, high entrances richly adorned with appropriate plastic work. The southern facade is characterized by an open loggia which forms an attractive resting place or promenade from which the crowds upon the Mall may be observed. The roof of red tile, with broad overhanging eaves, will harmonize with the softer tints of the exterior walls. The broad cornice is to be particularly rich in its decorative detail.

The exhibit in the Agriculture building will embrace every possible phase of agricultural work, showing the advantages of different processes and methods of work and the products of the garden and field in their great variety, produced under all sorts of conditions.

The superintendent of this division is Mr. Frank A. Converse of Woodville, N. Y., a stock grower and farmer of thorough experience in Exposition work, who has been prominent in farmers' institute work on behalf of the New York state department of agriculture. Mr. Converse is receiving the cooperation of many prominent associations and individuals, and his correspondence at this early date indicates a most comprehensive exhibit of scientific farming in all its branches.

Under the classification of agricultural systems will be shown methods of fertilization, including the use of cover crops, commercial fertilizers, crop rotation, systems of soiling, with bulletins, statistics, addresses and exhibitions of crops raised by the use of particular fertilizers.

Under the classification of farm management and processes the different systems will be illustrated with the view of assisting farmers to determine whether it is best to keep a variety of stock or a particular breed and, if but one kind, which shall be favored.

The question of farm help and the different specialties in the way of fruit, grain and truck farming will be treated exhaustively. The experience of a large number of farmers under many conditions of the soil, climate, etc., will be brought together for the information of all who wish to learn.

Under the classification of agricultural statistics will be presented reports from different states and provinces issued by the departments of agriculture, experimental stations, various horticultural, live stock and dairying associations, showing the aggregate of crops and products of all kinds.

Under the head of cereals will be exhibits from different states and localities, wheat, rye, oats, barley, corn, buckwheat and rice. The exhibits will be arranged to prove which crop is best fitted for each state or locality. These exhibits will show the many varieties of cereals in their highest stage of development.

In tubers and root crops will be displays of beets, turnips, carrots, peanuts, potatoes, sugar beets, parsnips, onions, etc. In October a special potato display will be made showing the products of many states in comparison with one another. Farmers who are interested in the production of sugar beets will have an invaluable opportunity to learn about the wonderful development of this particular vegetable. A special display will be made of sugar beets, showing all varieties and making clear to every one the conditions under which they thrive best, including both soil and atmosphere. The necessity of abundant sunshine in the maturing of sugar beets and the absence of it at the proper season have been the causes of serious loss and discouragement to growers.

The value of various byproducts for food for live stock will be shown in exhibits of gluten meal, linseed meal, cottonseed meal, hominy meal and other prepared foods.

The display of grasses and forage will include all varieties, the purpose being to show the ones best adapted for farm uses with reference to particular soils and conditions. The proper mixture of seed for permanent pastures, meadows, lawns, etc., will be explained.

The display of vegetable fibers will include flax, jute, hemp, cotton and their different products. The fibers of animal origin will include hides, hair, wool, silk and the processes of preparing them for market.

Among the nonedible products of animal origin to be exhibited are glue, gelatin, stearin, wax, candles, bone and horn products, fertilizers, etc.

The question of fertilizers is always an important one to those who seek to obtain the best results from the soil. In the treatment of this subject the Division of Agriculture will endeavor to show the relative value of the natural fertilizers, both crude and compounded. It will bring to the information of all the sources and value of nitrogen compounds, guano, offal, phosphatic rocks, potash, nitrates, etc.

As a sort of catch all for many things impossible to classify satisfactorily the superintendent has set apart a separate class. MARK BENNITT.

GREAT FOOD EXHIBIT.

A Comprehensive Display From Pan-American Countries at Buffalo.

In the division of Foods and their accessories an exhibit will be made at the Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo of a most comprehensive character and covering one-quarter of the large area of the Manufactures and Liberal Arts building.

The division will bring to the attention of the consumers and tradesmen the food resources of Pan-America, showing them that the countries of the western hemisphere produce, and are capable of producing in quantities sufficient for all demands, a great variety of foods that are now imported from the islands and countries of the far East.

It is hoped thus greatly to stimulate Pan-American trade. The division will present a collection of food products and their accessories in such a way as to challenge the interest of every inquiring visitor, and he will be offered valuable instruction upon the nature origin and use of the various foods.

One group will relate to literature and statistics of food, live plants, vines and trees from all parts of the western world and miscellaneous specimens of trunks, limbs, leaves, seeds, grasses and grains.

Under another will be exhibited such products as coffees, teas, cocoas, chocolates, kola and their substitutes, spices, aromatics, mustards, olives, vinegars and other condiments, herbs, hops, essential oils and flavoring extracts. An interesting collection of confectionery and sweets, including the sugar cane, beet, sorghum, maple, grape, palm, etc., honey and glucose, will be exhibited. Preserves and kindred products will be shown under another group and nuts and dried fruits and vegetables, etc., under another. Prepared cereals, breads and crackers, Indian corn as food for the table, macaroni and preparations of paste and leavening preparations will constitute still another interesting group. Mineral waters and beverages, both alcoholic and nonalcoholic, preserved and packed meats and sea food, gelatin preparations and even machinery used in food preparation processes will be displayed. The food exhibit is under the supervision of Mr. G. Edward Fuller an expert of worldwide reputation in this line of work, who has traveled around the world and into many of its remote corners in search of information upon the subject of foods.

Preparing the Kansas Exhibit.

Kansas is preparing a grand display of fruits and other products for the Pan-American Exposition. Kansas is popularly looked upon only as a great corn state, but her possibilities in all round farming, stock raising and fruit and vegetable growing are to be shown by means of splendid object lessons in her exhibits at Buffalo next year.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning Sept. 23—Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle.

TOPIC.—Tares in your field.—Math. xiii, 24-30, 36-43.

THE PARABLE.

In the parable of the tares Christ likened the kingdom of heaven to a man who planted good seed in his field, but while he slept his enemy came and sowed tares among the wheat. The tares, or darnel seed, resembled the wheat and was closely intertwined with it in growing. It was only when the ripened grain appeared that they could be easily distinguished the one from the other. The fruit of the tares was injurious, producing vomiting, convulsions and even death. It was not an uncommon thing for one in the east to show his malice and hatred by sowing tares in his enemy's field. When the wheat sprang up, the tares appeared also. The servants, with an unwise zeal, wanted to uproot them, but the owner, with greater wisdom, advised them to wait until the harvest, lest they should uproot the wheat also. Separation was easier and accomplished with less risk at the harvest.

THE INTERPRETATION.

Christ interprets this parable Himself. The sower is the Son of Man; the field, the world; the adversary is satan; the harvest is the end of the world. Two questions have been much discussed in connection with this parable: (1) What does the world as the field represent? and (2) Does Christ mean to teach that there is to be no discipline exercised in His church on earth? The world must mean the visible church in the world, and Christ cannot mean that the visible church is to exercise no discipline. He simply lays down here the principle of caution in the exercise of discipline. He presents the fact that both good and evil will be found even in His church and the serious danger of unwise zeal in attempting to purify the church and further emphasizes the fact that at the end of the world God will make the just and final separation between the two classes. The history of the Christian church proves the importance of Christ's caution. Excessive zeal in the matter of discipline has repeatedly done more harm than good.

THE APPLICATION.

This parable may be pressed home to the heart of every Christian Endeavorer with great practical force. It teaches us several great and important truths; but, passing these, may we not apply it more personally? We are in the church. Are we wheat or tares? Are we serving the Son of God or are we fulfilling the purposes of satan, the adversary? To be with the wheat does not necessarily mean that we are wheat. We may resemble the wheat, we may be intimately associated with the wheat, but if we are not wheat the day of separation will surely come. Man may never separate us, but God surely will. In the last day the wheat will be gathered into His garners, but the tares will be cast away. Cast away from God! What an awful thought! It need never be. Christ can turn tares into wheat. He can cause good fruit to grow where now there is only evil. Let us accept Him and consecrate our lives to Him, and in the day of judgment we shall be gathered with the wheat into His heavenly garners.

THE PRAYER MEETING.

Let the leader explain the parable and then have voluntary participation on the topic.

BIBLE READINGS.

Ps. cxix, 9-16; Jer. viii, 18-22; Joel iii, 11-16; Matt. iii. 11, 12; xxiv, 14-31; xxv, 31-46; II Pet. ii, 1-3; I John iii, 8; Rev. xiv, 15-20; xxi, 27.

Christ's Second Coming.

Many years ago, in the state of Connecticut, there came what has there been known ever since as "the dark day." Suddenly a thick darkness came on, owing, no doubt, to some abnormal atmospheric condition. The colonial legislature was sitting at the time, and, being more superstitious than we are in our day, some of the members concluded that the day of judgment was come. In the legislature in those days in Connecticut the people all belonged to the Puritan church. The cry went forth: "It is the day of judgment! Let us go home and get ready!"

Then an old deacon of the Congregational church who was in the legislature rose and said: "Brethren, it may be the day of judgment. I do not know. The Lord may come, but when He comes I want to be at my post doing my duty up to the last moment. Mr. Speaker, I move that the candles be brought in and that we go on with the business of the colony."—Wesleyan Herald.

Oblivious of the Weather.

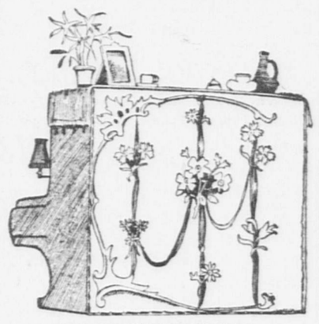

The minister who prepares his sermon for the people may fret because the storm is certain to keep the very persons from whom he hoped to extort praise away, but he who prepares his sermon for the Lord knows that the Lord can send the precise kind of weather which is best, and the very persons who should hear the Lord's message can come even through the storm. Perfect restfulness in the will of God is one of the characteristics of perfect love.—Wesleyan Methodist.

DECORATIVE ART.

HANDSOME THOUGH SIMPLE EMBROIDERIES FOR THE PIANO.

A Bold Design of Ribbon Streamers and Flowers For a Piano Back—A Charming Keyboard Sachet or Protector—A Good Couvrette.

Beautiful embroideries used for the decoration of the pianoforte and its accessories are distinctly in accord with the fitness of things, a linking together of the gentle arts which can never be out of place. There is a variety of ways in which the skill of the embroideress can be made to do honor to the art of the musician. Ever since it has been wisely recognized that the right position for a cottage piano is not to be pushed back against the wall, but to stand well out into the room, the question of how to turn its somewhat uncompromising expanse of back to decorative account has been one for careful consideration. Sometimes the solution is productive of extremely pleasing results, sometimes very much the reverse.

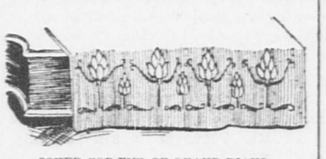

EMBROIDERED PIANO BACK.

When it serves the purpose of a screen, breaking up the formal arrangement of the chairs and sofas and creating a pleasant little alcove or fireside corner, no method is more satisfactory than to cover it, screenwise, with an effective panel of embroidery. Such a scheme is suggested in the sketch, the idea of the designer being that the needlework should harmonize in character with the pretty flowered and beribboned chintzes which now lend their charm to many a drawing room or boudoir.

For the background is advised a Roman satin, moire velours or poplin, ivory white or warm cream in tone. The ribbon streamers and festoons could be literally rendered and quickly worked in the soft tinted French galons used for broad ribbon embroidery, laid down with an outline of fine Japanese gold thread. A charming effect would be given by twining together two ribbons of different colors—say rose and pink or pale green and white. Embroider the flowers in their natural coloring in filo floss silk, with touches of chenille in the stems, foliage and centers. In working the scroll border take care that it is well subordinated in color to the main design. It may be a soft yellow, almost buff, accentuated with gold thread, a soft gray green or a quiet brown, also blended with gold. When finished, the panel might be mounted on velvet or cloth of a rather dark color, repeating some shade used in the work and harmonizing with the prevailing tones of the surroundings. Linen worked with flax thread or fine tapestry wool might be substituted with excellent effect for the materials above described.

When a piano is constantly left open, it is a capital plan to protect the keys by covering them with a narrow strip of silk. This gives an opportunity for charming needlework decoration. Suppose the keyboard cover to be of white or pale tinted satin, the design—for instance, branches of almond blossom—should be in fine ribbon work and a scroll with its motto, "Music, When Soft Voices Die, Vibrates In the Memory," outlined in gold or silver thread. There should be a lining of thinly quilted silk, pink or green, which could be delicately perfumed with violet, lemon verbena or any other favorite sachet powder.

Nowhere is good needlework seen to better advantage than adapted as a rug or couvrette to throw over the end of a grand piano. A refined and simple but at the same time exceedingly effective design is that which completes my suggestions in the second sketch. The coloring must, of course, be suited to the room for which it is intended, but an agreeable scheme would be to work the cones in white flax thread, in satin stitch with black outline and stems, on a ground of cucumber green linen, crushed strawberry or some other artistic shade. If a strong color effect be aimed at, the rug might be of flame colored silk, the design being worked in rope silk. The points of the large cones could be embroidered in a light blue green, shading to green at the base, those of the smaller ones in lemon yellow, shading to chestnut brown. Here a black outline would materially help the effect. Other articles which are happy subjects for effective work in bold conventional designs are covers for the piano stool and for the music portfolio.

Rain or Shine,

The station agent is on duty. On his exact communication of train orders depends thousands of lives, and millions of dollars in property, each day. In his haste he runs out in the rain or the snow hatless and unprotected. Then comes the sequel—bronchitis, or some other disease of the respiratory organs. The most effective remedy for bronchial or pulmonary disease is Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Almost all remedies prescribed for such diseases contain opium or some narcotic which soothes by stupefaction. "Golden Medical Discovery" contains neither narcotics nor alcohol. It stops coughs by curing their cause. It heals weak lungs, builds up wasted tissues, and promotes the health of every organ of the body.

"I am a railroad agent," writes I. B. Staples, Esq., of Barclay, Osage County, Kans., "and four years ago my work keeping me in a warm room and stepping out frequently into the cold air gave me bronchitis, which became chronic and deep-seated. Doctors failed to reach my case and advised me to try a higher air, but, fortunately for me, a friend advised me to try Dr. Pierce's medicines. I commenced taking your 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and by the time I had taken the first bottle I was better, and after taking four bottles my cough was entirely gone. I have found no necessity for seeking another climate."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate the stomach, liver and bowels.

MILTON.

The Democratic caucuses will be held Sept. 26.

A regular business meeting of the Thursday Evening club was held this week.

Politics are warming up and considerable work is being done for Milton's favorite son for Congress. They have great hopes of landing Dr. Pierce.

Rev. Theodore I. Reese is expected home from Austria with the body of his brother next week.

Braintree Golf Club.

At the course of the Braintree Golf club on West street, a club tournament was held, and was the occasion of a large attendance of players and visitors.

The match was mixed foursomes, no handicap, played by holes, and was won by Miss Alice Morrison and Mr. Small, four holes up.

During the summer there have not been as many playing on the links, but with the return of the cool weather, and with the members back from summer vacations, the interest in the game has taken a new start, and almost every morning and afternoon the players can be seen going over the course.

Golf is a recent game for Braintree, but in the short time of the club's existence, the sport has gained a surprising hold, and already there are many golfing enthusasts who play a good strong game; and among those who have shown their ability to master the game, none have shown greater improvement in good form and lowered scores than the women players. They not only have shown great interest in the game, but also in the management of the club affairs and in the improvement of the course.

This Saturday there will be a tournament, and also next Saturday, Sept. 29, and the committee wishes the attendance of all members tournament days, in order to determine the proper handicap for the championship series, which are soon to be held.

Civil Trial List.

224—Jones vs. Towns.

235—Ashman vs. Gallant.

—On Sept. 25, the first day of the annual fair of the Hingham Agricultural Society of Hingham, Mass., a firemen's muster will be the attraction, an invitation having been extended to several veteran firemen's organizations to participate. The society is most generous in the matter of prizes, and will distribute $900 among the winning tubs. The first prize is $500, an amount well calculated to induce companies to enter the competition. This muster will be the first held in Hingham in a number of years, and the Hingham Veteran Firemen's Association is disposed to exert every reasonable effort to make the affair a success.

The Ladies' Aid of the Universalist society held a pleasant meeting at the home of Mrs. F. A Smith last Wednesday afternoon. All seemed to be of the same opinion that it was best to continue to meet every two weeks as in the past. A committee of five was appointed to arrange a reception, that friends might have an opportunity to meet Mr. Pennoyer again socially. Adjourned to meet next time with Mrs. Eben Prescott.

The committee chosen to make arrangements for the dedication of the Penniman school building, met with Eben Prescott Thursday evening. It was decided to have the exercises rain or shine, Friday, Oct. 5, at 4 P. M. The children will have an interesting program consisting of flag raising, etc., which will be very interesting. In the evening at eight o'clock, there will be dedicatory exercises, and Cuff's orchestra will furnish music.

Augustus Fitts of Braintree plead guilty to the crime of polygamy at the Superior Court in Lawrence on Monday, and was sentenced to two years in the house of Correction. He has a wife in Braintree and married the second in Beverly.

The Board of Water Commissioners held a meeting last Wednesday evening in which were discussed various plans, principally the best way to connect Great Pond with the Braintree system. It was decided to ask for bids, but to leave all action for a subsequent meeting.

Mr. Henry Doane's new house, which he moved into last week, is one of the prettiest houses in Rosedale. Its situation on the corner of West and Granite streets gives it an exceptional view, in fact, one of the prominent residents of Braintree proper says that he considers it the best location in town. Rosedale is rapidly becoming one of the most desirable residential sections of the town.

Miss Ethel L. Brooks has been appointed to assist Miss Fielden in the first grade at the Pond school. In justice to Mrs. Brooks, who is a member of the committee, it should be said that she had nothing whatever to do with this appointment of her daughter, the appointment having been made from a large number of applicants by an entirely independent and impartial judgment.

A tennis tournament will begin on the court on Mount Vernon avenue at 2.30 o'clock next Thursday afternoon, and will continue each afternoon until completed. Some good playing is being done by the high school pupils and an interesting contest may be expected. The winner of the tournament will afterward receive several challenges. The public is invited to be present.

The Universalists have voted to discontinue services in Pythian hall, indefinitely, that Universalists and Unitarians may unite in one service and one Sunday School at Cochato hall.

Last Sunday, George H. Arnold and Miss S. A. Drake were elected as delegates of the Braintree parish, to the Massachusetts Universalist convention which meets in St. Paul's Universalist church of Springfield, from Sept. 25 to 27.

A successful social was given by the Ladies' Social Circle of the Baptist church, Wednesday evening, consisting of a supper of baked beans, cold meats and all the various good things which accompany them, at 6.30. An enterment followed consisting of singing by Misses Amy and Elsie Tonner, Miss Virgie Litchfield, accompanist; recitations by Carl Winters, Bertha Sanford and Ida Moir; and reading by Mrs. Dana; followed by the sale of cake and cream.

Boston Theatre.

The above is a good portrait of James O'Neill as Edmond Dantes in the grand Liebler & Co. production of Monte Cristo, at the Boston Theatre. He plays to crowded houses and the play bids fair to be the sensation of the season.

Castle Square Theatre.

A particularly interesting attraction is announced at the Castle Square Theatre the coming week, the management having selected Madeline Lucette Ryley's charming play "An American Citizen" for production. The great favor with which this play was received throughout the country, when orignially produced a few seasons ago, will be pleasantly recalled and its coming performances at the Castle Square Theatre give promise of equal popularity. The dramatic construction of the several scenes shows the masterly skill of the author at all times, the characters introduced are strongly drawn, and the incidents and situations are so skilfully planned that a constant interest is maintained in the development of the play's story. The cast announced is as follows: Besford Cruger, John Craig; Peter Barbury, Charles Mackay; Egerton Brown, J. L. Seeley; Sir Humphrey Bunn, Lindsay Morison; Willie Bunn, Stanley Kent; Otto Tony Cummings; Beatrice Carew, Lillian Lawrence; Carola Chapin, Leonora Bradley; Georgia Chapin, Hope Ross; Lady Bunn, Leonora Gnito. The Monday matinee distribution of choice chocolate bon bons will be continued until further notice.

—No less than 825 different varieties of postage stamps have been issued this year and the stamp collectors are wondering where they are going to end if this thing continues every year.

New Hampshire's Mountains.

In the rough and wild yet picturesque country of northern New Hampshire known as the White Mountain Region, which might have been the pleasure and recreation ground of the gods of Mythological times, one finds a wonderful array of scenic splendor, the like of which tourists say cannot be equalled elsewhere.

In this far famed region which is made up of several distinct mountain ranges is the noted Franconia Notch and mountains. The principal feature is the profile of the "Old Man of the Mountains." Close by are Profile and Echo Lakes, Cannon Mountain, The Basin, Pool and Flume, each of which one finds to be highly interesting places. Bethlehem and Maplewood are delightfully located, and to them thousands go in search of a relief for Hay Fever, which is, most always instantly alleviated, for the air is pure, dry and healthful.

Fabyan, Mt. Pleasant, Crawford, Jefferson, Lisbon, Sugar Hill, Colebrook, Lancaster, Ossipee, Bartlett, North Conway, Intervale, North Woodstock and other well known resorts are the abiding places for thousands of tourists, at each of which places one finds an endless variety of mountain wonders.

Every tourist should visit Old Mt. Washington, for from that point one gets a complete view and idea of the mountain regions. The trip up the mountain is decidedly interesting. The summit is 6,293 feet above the sea level and in some places on the railroad the grade is 14 inches in every 3 feet. From the summit the view is magnificent, in some directions extending more than a hundred miles.

Short trips can be made from the summit. The one to the "Lake of the Clouds," giving one a taste of mountain climbing, while the excursion to Tuckerman's Ravine often times proves to be hazardous and dangerous. The sunrise from Mt. Washington is a most beautiful sight and well worth the journey up the mountain to see.

Beginning September 15 the Boston & Maine R. R. places on sale at many of its stations reduced rate tickets to the mountains, good going not after Oct. 6 (except from stations on Connecticut & Passumpsic and Fitchburg divisions, sale being discontinued on Sept. 29). The rate is exceptionally low and if you want to go into the mountain regions under most favorable circumstances, ask your nearest ticket agent about them, or send to the General Passenger Department, Boston & Maine R. R., Boston, for circular of White Mountain Trips.

Bishop Lawrence will visit Christ church, Quincy, on the morning of Nov. 25, and St. Chrysostom's church at Wollaston in the evening.

STRIKERS WAVERING.

English Speaking Workmen Are Not Averse to Resuming Work In Mines.

Will Be Protected From Assault by Adequate Guard.

Persistence of Mine Owners' Refusal to Treat With Union Is Having Its Effect.

Philadelphia, Sept. 24.—Today opens the second week of the anthracite coal miners' strike, and developments having an important bearing on the outcome of the struggle are looked for. There are not wanting signs of a desire on the part of some of the strikers to return to their work. This sentiment is generally confined, so far as reported, to the English-speaking element among the mine workers. Experience has shown that these men are the most conservative, the foreigners being impulsive and hot tempered in strike times.

An effort will be made to start work in collieries located in Schuylkill county, with the protection of three regiments of the state national guard, in all numbering about 2000 men. Some of these mines were voluntarily closed Saturday by the operators at the request of the county sheriff, with the object to checking disorder in and about Shenandoah, where the riot occurred Friday, which resulted in the killing of one of the rioters by the sheriff's posse.

The operators and mine owners claim that a sufficient number of hands to run many of the collieries are desirous of returning to work, if they can be protected from assaults from the disorderly element. The sheriff found himself unable to control this element, and hence his request for troops was complied with by the governor.

There is a feeling that efforts will be made in many districts to start up mines that are now idle. The persistence of corporations and individual mine owners in asserting that they will consider the grievances of their employes individually, but will never, under any circumstances, treat with the union workers, has undoubtedly had its effect, and it would not be surprising if many mines that have been tied up since the strike began will resume operations, at least partially, some time this week.

No estimates of the number of mine workers likely to return to work today have been made by either side.

Quietness prevailed Sunday throughout the entire region. Some mass meetings were held, which were addressed by the strike leaders, but all the meetings were conducted in an orderly manner.

Railroaders May Take a Hand.

Scranton, Pa., Sept. 24.—It now begins to look as if the strike would extend to the railroaders, at least in this section. The switchmen had another conference yesterday with their national officers to discuss the request of the striking miners that they refuse to handle non-union coal. Nothing could be learned of what was done further than that a committee would go to New York today, and that on their return something definite would be done.

Cuba's Ex-Ruler Dead.

Madrid, Sept. 24.—Marshal Arsenio Martinez de Campos died yesterday at Zarauz. Arsenio Martinez Campos was born in 1834. He had a varied military career, and was once confined in a fortress as a conspirator. In 1895 he successfully met the Cuban rebels in several engagements. He was in favor of meeting the rebels half way in their demands, but was not supported in this program, and was recalled in January, 1896. Afterwards he was governor of Madrid, and during the threatened dynastic troubles was chief counsellor of the queen regent.

Modest Request Will Be Refused.

Havana, Sept. 24.—Porto Rico's demand on Cuba for the repayment of more than $2,500,000 advanced to Spain to conduct military operations against Cuba has been the source of considerable amusement. Cubans are asking why they should repay funds lent to the enemy for the expressed purpose of subduing them. General Wood points out that he is unable to take any action in the matter.

Cotton Shortage Continues.

Fall River, Mass., Sept. 24.—Although but two mills will curtail production this week, the Stafford and Stevens, a larger number will announce further curtailment, beginning Oct. 1, as a result of a shortage in the local supply of cotton.

Yellow Fever Is Spreading.

Havana, Sept. 24.—Thirty-one new cases of yellow fever have been officially reported since Friday, making nearly 100 now under treatment.

The Waters Falling.

Calcutta, Sept. 24.—The floods that followed the recent tremendous rains, inundating the country for miles, are now slowly subsiding.

Americans Not Conspiring.

Mexico City, Sept. 24.—An article in a Los Angeles paper, advocating the annexation of Mexico to the United States, causes the Mexican Herald to deny that Americans in this country are conspiring against the political integrity of Mexico.

THE SOUTH AFRICAN WAR

The Foremost Topic of British Statesmen In Their Manifestoes to Electors.

London, Sept. 24.—Joseph Chamberlain delivered an address to a great open air meeting at Birmingham. His speech was an impassioned arraignment of the opponents of the war in South Africa, in the course of which he said: "I was going to call them traitors, but I will instead say misguided individuals."

Mr. Chamberlan charged the Boers with having broken every pledge and every promise made to the British, and declared that they had long been planning to kick the English out of South Africa.

Lord Salisbury's manifesto to the electors of the United Kingdom, in anticipation of the parliamentary general elections, emphasizes the necessity that the queen's government should be supported by a strong parliamentary majority.

After remarking that "all the recent troubles in South Africa have been due to a shift of parliamentary opinion at a critical moment," the prime minister goes on to say:

"It will depend upon the disposition and conduct of the Boers how long an interval is to lapse before their full position as a British colony is attained. The brilliant success of Lord Roberts' army must not blind us to the imperfections disclosed in our own defensive armor, imperfections which, but for the war, might have been unnoticed. It will be the urgent duty of parliament and the government to remove these defects, a duty which certainly could not be discharged by a ministry depending upon a broken party."

In conclusion, Lord Salisbury refers to China as "a difficulty, among others, confronting the government, and requiring that the government should be armed with a strong majority in the house of commons. He urges that, in view of all these considerations, there should be no abstentions at the polls."

The Earl of Roseberry, issuing a manifesto, in the form of a letter to a Liberal candidate, says: "In the present situation of the world I would vote for almost any strong administration, but the present government is strong only in votes. In other respects it is the weakest government I can recollect."

After enumerating the government's "failures at home and abroad," Lord Roseberry criticizes the conduct of the South African war, declaring that it has "exposed England to humiliations unparalleled in our history since the American war."

Insurgents Not Yet Pacified.

Manila, Sept. 24.—The insurgent demonstrations prove to have been more extended than was first reported. From Cagayan and Isabella provinces and the northwestern districts of Luzon come accounts of insurgent operations and American precautionary measures. The American casualties in killed, wounded or missing during the last ten days approach 100, including those at Siniloan. An insurgent proclamation, signed last month by Aguinaldo, directing that American prisoners be set at liberty, that good treatment be accorded to captives, and that $40 be paid to each American surrendering, has reached Manila.

Murderously Assaulted His Daughter.

New York, Sept. 24.—Frederick Schmidt, 56 years old, became a cripple about three years ago, and since that time has grown so peevish and fretful that no one of the family could manage him but his daughter Kate, aged 14. She looked after his every want, and lived in the same room with him. Yesterday the man suddenly seized an axe and attacked the defenseless girl. He hacked and bruised her fearfully. When taken before a magistrate he said he had no recollection of his assaulting his daughter. He was held without bail.

Never Accepted the Nomination.

Boston, Sept. 24.—In an interview with a Globe representative, Roger Wolcott, Jr., who recently left his father at Lucerne, stated that his father would not accept the post of ambassador to Rome, and that he had never said that he would do so. It was not until Sept. 5 that he heard officially of the appointment. Governor Wolcott decided that his personal and private interests would prevent his accepting it. The Wolcotts travelled extensively, so that cablegrams from Washington followed them over a greater part of Europe.

Socialists Failed to Agree.

Paris, Sept. 24.—The international Socialist congress opened yesterday in this city. The proceedings were from far harmonious, owing to a bitter disagreement between the Socialist supporters of the French government, headed by M. Jauros, and other French factions. As the Jauros party were in the majority at the outset, they elected M. Jauros president, but on the arrival of a strong contingent of their adversaries, the election was annulled and the session closed without having accomplished anything.

His Mind Out of Order.

New York, Spt. 24.—Charles R. Johnson, 33 years old, of Bangor, Me., was removed to Bellevue hospital yesterday from a hotel on Seventh avenue, suffering from dementia. Johnson went to the hotel on Sept. 9. He did not leave his room once since that date, and acted so queerly that the proprietor of the hotel had him sent to the hospital.

American Outrides the Swede.

Cambridge, Mass., Sept. 24.—Harry Elkes won the second of his series of three races with John Nelson at Charles River park, breaking all records from 40 to 50 miles. Elkes rode 36 miles, 826 yards in one hour, and finished 8½ laps in the lead. He covered 50 miles in 1:22:22 2-5.

Badly Beaten by Four Men.

Hartford, Sept. 24.—Thomas A. Brophy, a bartender, 22 years old, is at the point of death, as a result of the terrible beating at the hands of four men. Brophy absolutely refuses to give the names of his assailants or the circumstances which led up to the assault.

PROPOSAL IS REJECTED.

America Will Not Insist Upon Immediate Punishment of Boxers' Leaders.

Credentials of Li and Ching Recognized as Sufficient.

Real Negotiations For "Complete Settlement" by the Powers Are Deferred.

Washington, Sept. 24—By order of the president the state department has made public the Chinese correspondence between this government and the governments of Germany and Russia and Prince Ching of China.

The forecasts of these notes made in the press appear to have been accurate, for, although nowhere in the text is reference made to the withdrawal of the United States troops from China the official statement, issued by the navy department in advance of the publication of the notes, bears out the prediction that the government finally has decided upon such a material reduction of its military forces as will amount to a withdrawal of the army as an offensive instrument. This statement from the navy department, moreover, is full of significance of a purpose on the part of the government to see to it that, if there is any subsequent attempt at territorial aggression on the part of the powers, who already have declared themselves as willing to abide by the expressed determination of the United States to refrain from seizing upon Chinese territory, then the United States is to lose no right or privilege which it now enjoys by such action.

The notes themselves are brief, considering the importance of the topics treated. The Russian and Chinese answers, being in the form of diplomatic memoranda, are short to a degree rarely seen in diplomatic exchange. But in both cases, being completely responsive and favorable to the inquirer, they will escape criticism on that score.

The answer to the German note is carefully phrased so as to soften the unqualified refusal of the United States government to make the punishment of the Chinese ringleaders a condition precedent to negotiations. Also it is noted that, in the expression of a purpose to insist upon the ultimate and proper punishment of these offenders, the state department goes far beyond the German declaration on the subject. The announcement that the department intends immediately to begin, through Mr. Conger, conferences with Ching and Li Hung Chang, although distinctly marking the fact that these are only preliminary to final negotiations, will have the effect to force the other powers to an immediate determination of their policies in this matter.

Russia is informed that our minister is to remain for the present at Pekin.

All the powers are informed that the United States recognizes the sufficiency of the credentials of Li Hung Chang and Prince Ching, and that it is the purpose of this government to open "preliminary negotiations" with the Chinese envoys.

This word "preliminary" and the phraseology of the remainder of the notes concerning the negotiations, make it plain that the United States has not withdrawn from the concert of the powers, and has not as yet proposed to go ahead and negotiate on its own account.

Instead, the United States is careful to so announce its intention of opening such negotiations in the future as to extend an invitation to other powers to join therein.

For the present, it should be noted, all negotiations are of a "preliminary" nature, "looking toward the return of the imperial Chinese government, and to the resumption of its authority at Pekin, and toward the negotiation of a complete settlement by the duly-appointed plenipotentiaries of the powers and of China."

Mr. Conger is authorized to "enter into relations" with Earl Li and Prince Ching, but the real negotiations for a "complete settlement" by the powers are deferred to give the other nations an opportunity to follow the example of the United States and appoint envoys.

If the powers accept this practical proposal of the United States, it is believed Seth Low of New York will be one of the United States commissioners to act with Mr. Conger.

Crazy Negro Pounded to Death.

New Orleans, Sept. 24.—Edward Gurley, an insane negro giant, was killed yesterday in Algeria. He woke up his black room-mate and cut his throat, saying he was going to die and wanted to take Montgomery along. The negro was pursued, but when an attempt to capture him was made he took the officers' clubs away from them and made a furious onslaught. With the aid of citizens, the policemen finally pounded him to death. His negro victim will recover.

Pulled Off Without Damage.

Santiago, Cuba, Sept. 24.—The United States transport Rawlins, while entering Santiago harbor, ran her bow on a sand bank, close to the scene of the wreck of the Reina Mercedes, where she remained three hours. She was ultimately pulled off without suffering injury.

The number of electoral votes necessary for a choice is 224. The National Republican committee claim 251 for McKinley without the following 84 which are classed as doubtful: Missouri 17, Colorado 4, Idaho 3, Montana 3, Utah 3, South Dakota 4, Nebraska 8, Delaware 3, Maryland 8, Nevada 3, Kentucky 13, Indiana 15.

The editor has been given the credit of writing a certain communication which appeared in the Daily Ledger of Saturday, but he would say that it is not necessary for him to put his comment into a letter to himself; neither is he afraid to express himself when occasion requires in the editorial column. The report is on a par with other stories which are sent out almost daily from the same source.

Some credit has been given to H. H. Atwood for the improvement of Town river, but as much belongs to John Shaw, who was the first to bring it to the attention of the congressman. Mr. Shaw also made it possible for the granite workers to secure shorter hours and higher wages, by his successful efforts to increase the tariff on imported granite. A few years ago imported granite threatened the leading industry of Quincy, and work was quiet, wages low and hours long. Now we hear very little of imported granite, the cutters and quarrymen are working one hour less per day, and receiving good wages. What is better they all have work and a "full dinner pail" because of protective tariff.

☞ The civil service commissioners of the commonwealth are to give several examinations in the near future. As usual, this department has no money to advertise in the newspapers to tell the public of these important matters. Every other department of the state properly advertises those matters pertaining to its functions that the public should know about, but the civil service office is always pleading poverty and asking that the newspapers give something for nothing. The papers are always glad to do this, because they want to keep the young people of their towns and cities posted in such matters. The civil service people do a good deal of job printing. Wonder if they expect that, too, for nothing? The next legislature should give the civil service department an advertising appropriation, so that the dignity of the old commonwealth won't have to be humiliated.—Malden Evening News.

A WITHDRAWAL.

Open Letter from Congressional Delegates.

Would Have Anti-Atwood Unite on Ticket.

And Vote for Messrs. Burgin, Hoehn, Stetson and Appleton.

Important action was taken Saturday evening by three of the candidates nominated on one list for Congressional delegates for the Republican caucus in Ward One, which simplifies the situation, and makes it a man to man contest between the Anti-Atwood and Atwood forces.

In this ward three complete lists of four names were filed. The first "favorable to H. H. Atwood," and two unpledged which were said to be for W. W. Towle and John Shaw respectively.

It was very plain to the voters that with two anti-Atwood lists in the field that Mr. Atwood's chances of securing the Ward One delegation were much improved. Several opponents of Mr. Atwood presented these facts to the delegates on the unpledged lists and they were quick to realize the truth. They did not think it was possible for Atwood to carry the ward by a majority vote, but with the opposition divided they saw that it was possible for less than forty per cent. of the caucus vote to elect Atwood delegates.

The second, or Towle list, realized that Mr. Shaw had the first claim to nominate a list of delegates in his own city, and that they would if elected vote for Towle or Pierce in preference to Atwood. They therefore did a very gracious thing in uniting in favor of the third set for Congressional delegates, namely Clarence Burgin, William F. Hoehn, Arthur W. Stetson and Frederick T. Appleton.

The letter of Messrs. Southworth, Anderson and Spear reads as follows:

VOTERS OF WARD ONE.

Quincy, Mass., Sept. 24, 1900.

We, the undersigned, placed in nomination as candidates for delegates to the Republican Congressional convention, believing it for the best interest of all concerned that only one list of unpledged delegates should be voted for, hereby ask our friends to cast their ballots for Messrs.

Clarence Burgin,
William F. Hoehn,
Arthur W. Stetson.
Frederick T. Appleton.

(Signed),
Edward Southworth,
L. S. Anderson,
Horace F. Spear.

KEPT SECRET.

Democrat Committee Hold Back Nominations.

Nominations of delegates to be voted for at the Democratic caucuses this week were opened Saturday night, the City Committee, however, object to giving out the full list until after the ballots are printed. The committee gives no particular reason for their action. Democrats of the city have a right to know who is nominated before the ballots are printed, and to withhold the names looks suspicious. It is said the following were filed for Congressional delegates:

AT LARGE.

James F. Burke.

WARD ONE.

(Pledged to H. F. Naphen.) Philip D. Cook, Frank Garbarino.

Second list, (pledged to H. F. Naphen.) George H. Norris, Thomas J. McGrath.

Second list, Dennis J. Ford, William F. Kane.

The buildings and houses on Hancock street are being renumbered. The Ledger office is now 1424. The old number was 115.

The case against James Ward of Wollaston, for assault on an officer, which was brought up at the Dedham court Friday, was continued to the December term.

Miss Abbie L. Baker, formerly of the training class at the Coddington school, was the guest of Miss Olmsted over Sunday. She is now a successful teacher at Harwichport.

The Government post office officials will be in Wollaston Tuesday or Wednesday to decide on a new location for the Wollaston post office, the building the post office now occupies being leased to A. G. Olney & Co.

The Wollaston golfers took good places in the open handicap tournament of the Myopia Hunt club on Saturday: G. E. Atherton, Jr., having the best score and C. L. Bremer third. In the finals N. S. Simpkins won the cup, and R. R. Freeman of Wollaston the consolation cup.

An auction sale took place Saturday morning on Walker street at the residence formerly belonging to J. E. Drew, now owned by Mr. Gale. The sale was largely attended and everything was sold from various buggies to kitchen chairs and miscellaneous furniture.

Political Potpourri.

The letter in Saturday's Ledger, signed "Fair Play," created quite a sensation, not only in Ward One, but in other parts of the city. Of course it was bitterly denounced by some of the members of the Ward One Republican Committee, who have ascribed the authorship to several gentlemen. The letter probably served the purpose of the writer for it awoke the voters of Ward One to the political situation which has been somewhat cloudy. Perhaps it would have been just as well if some of it had been unsaid, but many say it hit the nail on the head.

Now that the issue is well defined in Ward One between Eben W. Sheppard and Lawyer McKnight, the claims of the former to the nomination are recognized. Not that the Republicans have any objections to Mr. McKnight, but they see no good reason for turning down Representative Sheppard, who is as much entitled to three years as Messrs. Hammond, Thompson and Newcomb, who preceded him. Then again when a new candidate is to be nominated Ward One feels that it should go to Ward Six and Ward Four. Representative Sheppard's record also entitles him to a renomination.

While Quincy has the same representation in the Republican convention of the First Norfolk district as last year, four of the towns will have less, so that the total number of delegates is 57 instead of 63. Hyde Park lost 3, Weymouth 1, Canton 1, and Randolph 1.

Ward Two also has a list of Councillor delegates pledged to A. A. Maxwell.

The Milton Republican caucus will be held this evening.

Republican caucuses in all wards of Quincy tomorrow evening.

But nine of the 40 Senatorial districts will have larger Republican conventions than the First Norfolk, which shows that this district gives the Republican candidate for Governor a handsome vote.

The vacancy on the list of Congressional delegates in Ward One for the Republican caucus caused by the resignation of Harry S. Matthews has been filled by the substitution of Frank T. Appleton.

The Lalapalosa club are said to be for McKnight and Wilson for Representatives.

NEW ST. MARY'S.

Corner Stone Laid With Impressive Ceremonies.

Notable Gathering of Clergymen.

Over 2000 People seek Entrance to the Church.

Sunday in the presence of fully 2,000 people, the corner stone of the new St. Mary's church on Crescent street, West Quincy, was laid with impressive ceremonies by the venerable Archbishop Williams of Boston. It was an event seldom witnessed in this vicinity, and certainly marks an important epoch in the history of the Catholic churches in Quincy, especially West Quincy, and the new church will ever stand as a monument to Rev. Fr. Roach, through whose push and perservance it has been made possible for the Catholics of this section to have a church home that will better meet the needs of a rapidly growing parish.

Aside from the many townspeople present their were many visiting priests including: Archbishop Williams; Very Rev. Dennis O'Callahan of South Boston; Rev. Michael J. Doody, chancellor of the Boston Diocese; Rev. W. H. Fitzpatrick of Dorchester; Rev. W. H. McDonough of Cohasset; Rev. Peter Roonan of Meeting House Hill; Rev. T. J. Murphy of Neponset; Rev.'s M. E. Begley, and Maurice Lynch of East Weymouth; Rev. Francis Hart of Dorchester; Rev. James McCarthy of Roxbury; Rev. Daniel Gleason of Randolph; Rev. John P. Garrity of East Boston; Rev. H. J. Mulligan of Hingham; Rev. Francis Walsh of Salem; Rev. Edward Fagan of Natick; Rev. George Lyons of Hyde Park; Rev. Daniel Reardon of Middleboro; Rev. David Herlihy of Holbrook; Rev. Francis Wilson of Roxbury; Rev. D. F. Sullivan of West Lynn; Rev. Thomas McCormick of the Boston Cathedral (who officiated as Master of Ceremonies); Rev. A. F. Roche and Rev. W. J. Foley of St. Mary's parish.

In connection with the visiting priests it is interesting to note that Rev.'s Garrity, Hart, Fagan and Walsh are Quincy boys.

The exercises commenced at 3 o'clock, at which time nearly 1500 gathered in the basement of the new church, which is all that will be completed at present. Many others, who were unable to gain entrance, remained outside.

The exercises were brief, consisting of an eloquent sermon on christianity by Rev. M. J. Doody.

This concluded the exercises in the edifice. The clergymen then assembled in front of the church beneath an awning, where Archbishop Williams laid the corner stone, using a solid silver trowel. Music during the service was by the Boston Cadet Orchestra and a quartette composed of Mrs. Julia Dorgan Herrick, soprano; Miss Nellie A. Moore, contralto; Mr. J. J. Herrick, tenor; and Mr. Eward Machugh, Jr., baritone.

The corner stone is a massive block of Quincy granite polished on the front face and the two ends. Its dimensions are about 5x2x2. On the front face there is inscribed: "Mother of Our Redeemer—Pray for us." On the west end the date: "September 23—1900," and on the east end a large cross.

The copper box in the corner stone, in addition to copies of the local and Boston papers, contained the names of Archbishop Williams and the clergymen present at the laying of the corner stone, and the names of all those who contributed $25 or more to the building fund of the church.

The architect was Charles J. Bateman, and when the church is completed it will be a very handsome edifice. The basement is a solid structure and is of Quincy granite. It has a seating capacity of 1,100. Large windows furnish ample light and they will all be memorial windows. The basement is all that will be completed at present. It has been roofed over and it is expected that it will be ready for occupancy about Christmas.

The trowel used by Archbishop Williams had an ivory handle and was inscribed as follows: "With this trowel the Most Rev. John J. Williams, Archbishop of Boston, laid the corner stone of St. Mary's church, Sunday, Sept. 23, 1900. Rev. Ambrose F. Roche, pastor.

Miss Belle Smith, clerk at the City Treasurer's office, returned today from Providence, R. I.

The Jewish New Year is being celebrated by the local Hebrews by a general suspension of business.

DWELLING GUTTED.

Suspicious Fire in a Neighborhood of Fires.

The alarm from Box 151 at 3.50 this morning was for a lively fire in a house off Beach street, Norfolk Downs, owned and occupied by Andrew G. Youngquist. According to Mr. Youngquist the fire started from a defective chimney. He says he slept in the dining room, and was awakened by the smell of smoke. The fire had then gained such headway that the family had no time to dress themselves, and they escaped in their night garments.

Box 151 is but a short distance away and an alarm was run in promptly. The department made a quick run, but when they arrived the house was a roaring furnace. It looked as though nothing could save it from total destruction.

Several powerful streams were soon being thrown onto the building. At first they seemed to have but little effect. Gradually, however, it was seen that water was getting the best of the fire, and after over an hour's hard work the fire was out.

The interior of the building was a wreck. The fire had gotten in behind the walls where it was hard to reach, so that the complete gutting of the building took place, but little more than the walls being left. In the front part of the house was a small store, and through there three or four pieces of furniture was removed. The balance was ruined. Chief Williams estimates the loss on building and contents as $1,500. Insured.

AT THE SHIP YARD.

Visitors Are Now Shut Out as They Interfere.

The new plant of the Fore River Engine Co., at Quincy Neck continues to be a place of interest. The number of visitors to the plant has diminished a great deal, for the reason that the company has posted signs all over the plant forbidding tresspassing. This was made necessary, as the large numbers of visitors greatly interfered with the work of the employes.

Things are moving along rapidly. The blacksmith shop is well along toward completion, and the anvil of the massive trip hammer is in place.

In the power house the engine has been set up, and the connections are being made. This engine will drive a generator which will supply the electric current which will be the power used in operating the plant.

At the machine shop and steel building, much of the massive and powerful machinery has arrived and is being set up.

At the wharf vessels are constantly arriving with lumber and machinery, which is loaded onto cars which land it just where needed, tracks having been laid into all the buildings.

The keel of the new cruiser which was laid some weeks ago remains about the same, but little having been done. Work on this cruiser will not progress much until the new plant is in operation. Just when this will be is not known, but the chances are that before winter is far advanced the whole plant will be in operation, and this section of Quincy will present a scene of activity such as it has never known before.

Socialist Rally.

Bellamy grove was the scene of a political gathering Sunday of the Social Democrats in the interest of Debs and Harriman, their candidates for National honors. The weather conditions were not of the best, but nearly 1500 were present.

William T. Richards opened the rally, and in his address outlined the motives of the meeting.

Squire E. Putney of Somerville was then introduced as presiding officer.

Mr. Putney made a brief address and introduced as the first speaker F. E. R Gordon of New Hampshire, who outlined the principles of the party and paid his respects to both the Republicans and Democrats. Both, he claimed, were made up of capitalists. Mr. Bryan will tell you he will break up the trusts, if elected, but he knows that it will be impossible.

Mayor John C. Chase of Haverhill spoke upon the same lines as Mr. Gordon.

A. H. Dennett of Middleboro, Mr. Putney and Mr. Richards also made addresses dealing with the movement for the laboring classes, as started by the Social Democrats.

During the rally Mrs. Dodge gave a recitation entitled, "Only a Working Girl," and H. B. Johnson a recitation entitled, "The Antiquity of Freedom." There was also music by the Social Democrat band. Refreshments were served during the afternoon.

Al Kyris Disqualified.

A decision was reached Saturday relative to the protests of the Hanley and Al Kyris, filed with the regatta committee of the Quincy Yacht club on the race of Sept. 1, which is as follows:

"The testimony which was heard having shown that the question to be decided was one of fact—whether or no the Hanley's sails were filled and she was on the starboard tack when struck by the Al Kyris—the committee reaffirmed the ruling of the members of the board of judges, whose duty it was to watch the starting line, viz: That the Hanley had filled away on the starboard tack, and was entitled to her rights on a new course (chap. 3, sec. 19, par. 10) when struck by the Al Kyris.

"In pursuance of the above ruling, which is fully substantiated by other members of the Quincy Yacht club who witnessed the foul, the committee hereby declares the Al Kyris to be disqualified from the race of Sept. 1.

The protest which the Al Kyris filed against the Hanley is not allowed."

The committee further voted "That the committee declines to take further action in regard to the controversy which took place on the float Sept. 1.

TRY TO BREAK JAIL.

Two Young Boys Who Are on the Wrong Road.

About 2 o'clock Friday morning Officer Nichol picked up two young boys in the vicinity of the Quincy Adams depot, and as it was rather early for boys to be about he brought them to the police station. Here they gave their names as Charles Hearn, aged 15 years, of Portland, Me., and Roscoe Maview, aged 17 years, of Bangor, Me.

The story told by the boys was that they were singing for Doc. Woods, a patent medicine peddler who was doing the country fairs. They had just come from Taunton, where the doctor had come to grief, and were on their way to Weymouth, but had got off the track.

Chief Ripley decided to detain the boys until he found out something about them, and they were locked up in cell number one.

Although young in years they are old heads, and as soon as they were left alone began to devise means of getting out. They secured the knives and forks given them with their meals and with these started in to loosen the bricks about the cell door. They worked industriously and would have succeeded in their efforts had it not been for Officers Lyons, who was on duty Sunday. He heard a peculiar noise which ceased when he entered the lockup. He "rubber-necked" around the corner, and soon became convinced that all was not right in the cell where the boys were. Making an investigation he discovered what they had been doing. They had removed two of the bricks and had dug the cement from the others so that the lock could be moved back and fourth and two more bricks would have been enough for them to have slipped it out when the proper time came. They laughed when caught, as though it was a good joke. Their impliments were taken away from them and they were put in seperate cells. They were released this morning and told to skip which they lost no time in doing.

Sugar In the Human System.

Sugar is a substance that dissolves easily and in considerable quantity in water, says The Catholic World. When in solution, it easily passes through an animal membrance by osmosis, and so the question of its absorption seemed simple enough. The disease diabetes showed, however, that sugar might exist very plentifully in the blood, and yet the nutrition of an individual suffer very much for the lack of it. Something else besides its mere presence in the system was necessary to secure its consumption by the tissues. Bernard thought that the liver was active in the consumption of sugar and that disease of this organ caused diabetes. He therefore secured some of the blood going to the liver of a living animal and some of the blood that was just leaving it. To his surprise, the blood leaving the liver contained more sugar than that entering it. After assuring himself that his observations were correct he tried his experiments in different ways. He found that even in the blood leaving the liver of an animal that had been fed only on substances containing no sugar sugar could be demonstrated. Even in a fasting animal the liver itself and the blood leaving it showed the presence of a form of sugar. The only possible conclusion from this was that the liver was capable of manufacturing this form of sugar out of nonsugar containing material or even from the blood of a fasting animal.

France and English Coal.

A special correspondent of the London Daily Mail has made further inquiries in the north of France into the exportation from England of huge shipments of coal.

There is no doubt, he says, that the chief explanation for the enormous shipments is the recognition by the French authorities that it is eminently desirable in case of emergency to have on hand a large reserve of "navigation" coal, of which the collieries of France are absolutely unproductive.

It looks very much as though the Kent coalfields are going to pass into the hands of the French speculators, who are probably in touch with the French government.

The colliery owners in the north of France have been turning their attention to this new coalfield in the borders of the English channel and in order to ascertain the truth of its prospects sent over to England recently M. Fumat, one of the best known and most reliable of French colliery experts. It is upon his promising report that the colliery owners of the north of France have been buying at a low price all the shares they can lay their hands upon and are still negotiating for further blocks of shares.

THROUGH A GLASS.

IVORY SOAP is a skin soap. On one square inch of your hand there are 2,800 pores. On the whole body you have 2,381,284 of these little cavities to look after. Every one of these openings must be kept clear, or the impurities of the body can not pass out. Now, to cleanse the pores, you need a fine, pure soap. Scientists who speak not from opinion, but from scientific analyses, urge the use of Ivory Soap. 99 44/100 per cent. pure.

GENERAL PROMOTIONS.

Leaders of the Uprising Being Rewarded by Imperial Authorities.

Cannot Distinguish the Good From the Bad Boxers.

Belated Reports of the Allies' Attack Upon the Garrison at Pei-Tang.

London, Sept. 25.—Further indications that Prince Tuan has resumed his former ascendency are found in the Shanghai reports of his promotion and in the statement from the same quarter that General Tung Fuh Stang has been appointed generalissimo of the northern Chinese armies, and Prince Chaung, deputy commander-in-chief of the boxers, has been made a grand councillor. It is also reported that Liuh, former governor of Kian Su province, a Manchu and bitterly anti-foreign, has been appointed to succeed Li Hung Chang at Canton.

PRINCE TUAN.

According to various accounts of the Pei-Tang affair, the Chinese had anticipated that the allies would attack in force. The Britishers and others who left Tientsin with the intention of cutting off the retreat of the Pei-Tang garrison arrived too late. They were only half way to their destination when the forts were captured.

The Tientsin correspondent of The Standard explains that the Russians refused to provide trains for this force, but gave the Germans and Austrians ample notice and railway accommodations. Advices to The Standard from Shanghai place the losses of the allies before Pei-Tang as 300, principally due to the explosion of mines, one of which, 200 yards long, exploded like an earthquake, killing and wounding large numbers, and literally blowing two mounted officers to pieces.

According to the Pekin correspondent of The Daily News, wiring Sept. 16, the Chinese declare most positively that the empress dowager and the emperor will in no case return to the imperial palace in Pekin, as they hold that it has been desecrated by the intrusion of barbarians.

This irreconcilible attitude reecives confirmation in many reports emanating from Shanghai. One of these is that, as a reply to the denunciation of Prince Tuan and others by the viceroys, an imperial edict, dated Sept. 17, deals most leniently with the boxer movement, and reminds the people that both the boxers and Chinese Christians are Chinamen, who shall receive imperial protection if they quietly disperse to their homes. The edict points out that it is impossible for the imperial government to distinguish between good and bad boxers. It says, however, that if the rebel boxers still continue to assemble they will be dealt with summarily until an adequate inquiry has been made.

The Standard publishes a belated telegram from Tientsin giving an illustration of the international difficulties. It appears that the British at Feng-Tai guaranteed safety to the natives if the railway property were restored. Accordingly, the men returned, but, a few days later, the Russians arrived and killed them all just outside the British lines.

Favors Withdrawal of American Troops.

[Copyright, 1900, The Associated Press.]

Pekin, Sept. 18.—Mr. Rockhill, special commissioner of the United States, has already conferred with Mr. Conger, but he has not yet met Prince Ching. It is understood that he will advise Washington to withdraw the American troops as speedily as would be safe.

A Rival For Oil Trust.

Dubois, Pa., Sept. 24.—A gas well gusher was struck at Lances Mills, six miles from this city, yesterday, at a depth of 3000 feet. It is estimated by experts that the well is good for 3,000,000 feet every 24 hours. The well is in entirely new territory, and will come into direct competition with the Standard Oil company, whose wells supply this city and neighboring towns, and are located 25 miles from here.

Washington, Sept. 24.—The population of Gloucester, Mass., is 26,121, being an increase in population of 1470, or 5.98 percent, from 1890 to 1900.

The population of Woonsocket, R. I., is 28,204, being an increase in population of 7374, or 35.40 percent, from 1890 to 1900.

Committed Crime in the Philippines.

Hartford, Sept. 24.—John Sedlack, formerly a seaman on the battleship Brooklyn, was brought to the Connecticut state prison at Wethersfield to serve a sentence of three years for robbery and assault, committed in the Philippines early last spring.

SAYS HE WAS MISQUOTED.

Hanna Corrects Remarks Attributed to Him on the Subject of Trusts.

Cleveland, Sept. 24.—Senator Hanna left for New York last evening. He will remain at the Republican headquarters there for two or three weeks, and will then return to Chicago. In an interview he said:

"The speech I made at Chicago on the so-called trust issue was misquoted and garbled. What I said was that there were no trusts in the meaning of the law. When I said that I did not say that there are no combinations of capital, nor did I say that there are no combinations that work injustice to the people. This so-called trust issue is nothing more than a bugaboo of Bryan's to catch votes. What anti-trust laws have been enacted, have been enacted by the Republicans. On the so-called trust issue Bryan is on the defensive. He should tell why the Democratic party has never supported nor proposed any legislation to regulate the commercial combinations of the country. Bryan cannot defend the Democratic party on that issue, and it, with the issue of imperialism, will soon be relegated to the rear. The money question will soon be the paramount issue. Bryan will have to meet that issue too.

Senator Hanna said he had not decided to go on the stump in the east, but would do so if he thought best. He declared, furthermore, that he had issued no challenge to Mr. Bryan for a joint debate, nor had he challenged anybody to debate. However, he said, he was not afraid to meet any issues of the campaign.

Restful Day For Roosevelt.

Rawlins, Wyo., Sept. 24.—After a week of great exertion in speaking and traveling, Governor Roosevelt resolved to spend a quiet Sunday of rest. At the conclusion of the meeting at Rock Springs Saturday night, the special train pulled out on what is called "O'Neill's spur," where it remained during the night and Sunday, remote from town or city. The train rested near Daly's ranch and the party were entertained at the ranch with a game dinner.

Spent Sunday In Minnesota.

Worthington, Minn., Sept. 24.—The special train of Messrs. Woolley and Metcalf, the Prohibition candidates for president and vice president, laid here all day Sunday, and large congregations of people listened to mmbers of the accompanying party. Mr. Woolley will talk politically today from the platform of the train.

Congressional Candidate Withdraws.

Worcester, Mass., Sept. 24.—T. C. Bates, prominent for many years in this congressional district, has telephoned from Chicago to have his name withdrawn as a congressional candidate from the caucuses of the district, which will be held this week.

Shot Through the Heart.

Binghamton, N. Y., Sept. 24.—Leonard Roberts, 19 years old, was shot through the heart yesterday by George S. Charter. Charter conducts a roadhouse near this city, and yesterday drove to a similar resort near his place. Roberts, with two companions, coaxed two dogs, one belonging to Charter, away with him. An employe of the resort and Charter followed, and in the fight which ensued Charter knocked down one of Roberts' companions with the butt of his revolver. He then turned and shot Roberts, although he had taken no part in the quarrel.

Corbett Is Wrathy.

London, Sept. 24.—James J. Corbett, who is a passenger on the steamer Campania, Liverpool for New York, is traveling under an assumed name. The Sportsman publishes an interview had with Corbett, in which he said: "My principal object in returning to New York in haste is to bring actions against the newspapers that have published misstatements about me, and to vindicate my name."

Gale's Harvest of Death.

St. John's, Sept. 24.—An unknown American fishing vessel foundered on the Grand Banks during the recent gale, and all of her crew, about 20 in number, perished. The French "banker" Thornley foundered and 14 of her crew were drowned. The schooner Eddie lost three men. Schooner Dolphin last three men. Many fishermen who were away in boats when the gale arose were drowned.

Rain, Lightning and Fire.

Halifax, Sept. 24.—For five hours Saturday night the maritime provinces were the scene of a fierce electrical storm. Rain fell in torrents. Fires, started by lightning, caused extensive damage. Several towns were left in darkness through electric light generators and transformers burning out.

Preparing to Let Contracts.

Boston, Sept. 24.—The postoffice department has advertised for proposals for carrying the mail on star routes in the New England states, to include free box delivery, from July 1, 1901, to June 30, 1905. Copies of the advertisement and full information can be obtained from postmasters.

Big Consignment of Cotton.

St. Louis, Sept. 24.—The largest train load of cotton ever shipped from St. Louis left the city last night over the Chicago and Alton railroad for Boston. The train consists of 30 cars of cotton for export. The cotton is from Texas and Oklahoma, and is the first large shipment of the season.

Accidently Killed His Stepbrother.

Richmond, Me., Sept. 24.—While handling a shotgun in the kitchen of their home in Dresden, Harry Berry, 15 years old, accidentally shot and instantly killed his step-brother, Carroll Terrill, 13 years old. The gun was not thought to be loaded.

BIG PLANTS TO REOPEN.

Sixty Thousand Steel and Iron Workers Benefit by Signing of Wage Scale.

Cincinnati, Sept. 24.—At 12:30 Sunday morning both sides of the great wage conference between the Amalgamated Workers and the steel works gave out that they had reached an agreement.

It is known as the yearly scale, which takes effect usually in July. Owing to the unusual fluctuations of the market, the new scale had not been signed when the mills shut down June 30, and the conditions have been unfavorable ever since June, so that the mills have been idle for almost three months. As soon as the scale was signed messages were sent in every direction. Some mills will start today, and all others as soon as possible.

This decision means employment today to over 60,000 workingmen, who have been idle since June.

In endeavoring to arrive at this agreement, the wage conference committee of the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers has had five different conferences with the manufacturers, meeting at New York, Detroit, Indianapolis and Youngstown, as well as here. They have been in conference here since Wednesday and determined Saturday night to sit until they got together, or agreed to disagree. While neither side got what it wanted, yet both sides felt relieved when the scale was signed, after an all-night session.

The reasons for the delay in adjusting the wage scale, as well as for the frequent prolonged conferences, are found in the slump in the market and the fluctuations during the past year from the highest to the lowest prices. The workers wanted $5 per ton, based on a 1.4 card rate. The manufacturers offered $4.50 per ton on a 1 cent card rate for boiling, and the differences were in about the same proportion in other lines.

Elders Got a Coat of Varnish.

Mansfield, O., Sept. 24.—A mob formed here yesterday, and the Dowie elders, Ephraim Bassinger and Silas Moot, were its victims. The two elders were recognized by a crowd at the depot, and were taken to the Richland Buggy works, where Bassinger disrobed, but the crowd tore Moot's clothing from his body, as he refused to disrobe himself. A paint bucket and a brush were then secured and smokestack varnish was daubed over them from head to foot. It was matted in their hair and no part of their bodies escaped but their faces. Later they were marched to the city prison. By applications of lard and benzine the black varnish was cut, and, after new outfits of clothing were furnished, they were deported on a train.

Eventful Career Ended.

Worcester, Mass., Sept. 24.—George D'Vys, the last surviving member of the government relief expedition which rescued Dr. Kane, the American explorer, in 1855, died here of pneumonia. Mr. D'Vys had a life of adventure through his love of the sea. He was born in Baltimore in 1832, of Huguenot descent. He was clever with the pencil and brush, and painted a number of Arctic scenes. Later he became a contributing artist to Frank Leslie's. On the outbreak of the Civil war, Mr. D'Vys enlisted as a quartermaster, and saw exciting work.

'Twas a Victory Anyway.

Montreal, Sept. 24.—Lieutenant Hobson arrived in this city last evening. Regarding the statement made in his Vancouver interview, he said that, in the course of a conversation with a reporter, he had stated that the Spanish ships had been sunk because the plugs were drawn by the Spanish. He explained that it was impossible to sink a ship by hitting it above the waterline. Admiral Dewey had, however, compelled the Spaniards to sink their ships and that was just as effective as sinking them.

Caught In Virginia.

Chicago, Sept. 24.—W. B. Dunton, whose disappearence is said to have caused the suicide of George S. Forbes, a teller of the First National bank, who, out of friendship for Dunton, is said to have assisted the latter in misappropriating $20,000 from the funds of the Union National bank, was captured at Old Point Comfort, Va.

Another Deluge In Lone Star State.

San Antonio, Tex., Sept. 24.—A cloudburst in the valley of the Nouces river has done much damage to property and also has resulted in loss of life on the ranches in that vicinity. The number of casualties is unknown.

The Situation at Galveston.

Galveston, Tex., Sept. 24.—Sunday was quietly spent in Galveston. Many people attended church services, and the day passed without disorder or excitement. About 40 bodies were taken from the ruins yesterday.

NEWS IN BRIEF

A fire of unknown origin resulted in the total destruction of a large boarding stable at Hartford, and 40 horses perished. The loss is $10,000.

The unusual occurrence of the laying of two cornerstones for one congregation took place at Greenwich, Conn., one being the cornerstone for the $40,000 church of St. Mary's parish, which is to replace a church burned in the spring, and the other being the cornerstone of a $20,000 parochial school for the same parish. Bishop Tierney officiated at the ceremonies.

John H. Kaelher, aged 22, was fatally injured by falling from a trestle being built at Hartford.

August Lindquist, 37, died at New Britain, Conn., from the effects of a dose of poison, taken with suicidal intent.

At Willimantic, Conn., Duyfrote Duchanno, aged 60, was accidentally drowned

John Holtham, the oldest fisherman in the region of Lake Memphramagog, was drowned near Newport, Vt.. He led a secluded life in a hut.

Chancellor of the Exchequer Hicks-Beach, and the president of the board of trade, Mr. Ritchie, as well as other prominent men, have issued manifestos, but these contain no noteworthy features.

The cornerstone of the new St. Mary's Catholic church of West Quincy, Mass., was laid by Archbishop Williams of Boston, with appropriate ceremonies.

The strike of the journeymen tailors which was inaugurated at Cleveland has practically ended in favor of the strikers.

The Congressional Field.

The importance of electing a Republican congress next November is little less than that of the re-election of President McKinley. Those who believe in the principles of the Republican party should exercise the same care in casting their ballots for representatives in congress and for members of the state legislature that elect United States senators, as they will for the election of presidential electors.

The national house may be very close. If the Demoocrats make good only a part of their claims, the Republicans cannot afford to elect any Democrats in Republican districts. At the present time there are three Democratic congressmen from New England. The New York Tribune thinks that two of those districts will be redeemed this year.

Those Democratic congressmen all come from Massachusetts. They are Congressman Thayer of Worcester, who represents the Third district, Congressman Fitzgerald of Boston and Concord Junction, who represents the Ninth district, and Congressman Naphen of Boston, who represents the Tenth district.

It is possible with proper care and an intelligent appreciation of the importance of this matter by Republican voters to redeem the Third and Tenth districts, and it is the earnest desire of the party managers, both state and national, that Massachusetts should regain these two districts. The whole organization of the house of representatives may hinge upon the voters of these two districts. With the duty so plain as it is here there ought not to be any question that the Republican voters will get together, and present a united front for success in November.

"The evidence that Mr. Bryan's unpatriotic associates have sacrificed the lives of our soldiers and the money of our people to an enormous extent is abundant. General Lawton, the most brilliant and successful soldier of the war, lost his life through the machinations of the Anti-Imperial league. Before his death he discovered conclusive evidence that the enemy he was fighting in the Philippines was the Anti-Imperial league of the United States, and that if his life was sacrificed the league would be responsible."—Senator Stewart of Nevada, in the announcement of his purpose to support McKinley this year.

The Democrats are trying to abstract some comfort from the Vermont election returns, but the fact that the 31,000 Republican majority was greater than any of the election prophets had dared to predict and the largest majority, but one, cast in that state for a dozen years puts a face on the Democratic claims that is unanswerable.

In the matter of rallies, "It is the early bird that catches the worm." The Republican state committee are now filling dates for the campaign rapidly, and it is important that early application be made for assignment of speeches.

No; President McKinley will not avail himself of the privilege of talking his opinions into a graphophone. He will leave that circus performance to Candidate Bryan, who ought to make a success of it, in view of his long practice in talking through his hat.

By the way, what a funny metallic sound those graphophone speeches of Candidate Bryan will have after the idea of November are past.

Here is what Mr. McKinley says in his letter of acceptance in regard to the trusts:

"Combinations of capital controlling the market in commodities necessary to the general use of the people, by suppressing natural and ordinary competition, thus enhancing prices to the general consumer, are obnoxious to the common law and the public welfare. They are dangerous conspiracies against public good, and should be made subjects of prohibitory and penal legislation."

"We have passed from a bond issuing to a bond paying nation; from a nation of borrowers to a nation of lenders; from a deficiency in revenue to a surplus; from fear to confidence; from enforced idleness to profitable employment."—William McKinley.

Edmunds on Trusts.

Ex-Senator Edmunds is in favor of McKinley for re-election and states his reasons in his usual able and convincing manner.

"In regard to trusts," he says, "the country will be as well off under one party as another. Combinations of men cannot be broken. We may harass them and in a measure control them, but men will continue to combine for mutual interests, and you cannot stop them. The tendency is toward combinations. Men are engaged in bigger enterprises than ever before, and many of these can be effected only by combination. Everything is bigger. Even our locomotives are larger and more powerful," said Mr. Edmunds, as one of them went puffing past the hotel.

"This is not a party question. When business interests are involved all men are of one mind. They may belong to different political parties, have widely varying religious beliefs and disagree on many subjects, but when it comes to business, to the earning of a livelihood, they invariably agree. I think you will find as many Democrats in the trusts as you will find Republicans, and I know that some of the biggest capitalists contribute equally to both parties, and they naturally expect that no matter who is elected, their interests will be protected.

"I would venture to say that, taking all the persons in the large cities worth $100,000 or $500,000, you will find as many Democrats as Republicans.

"No, combination of men for business purposes is not a party question. They will all stay together, just as labor unions vote one way when the interests of their members are involved.

"On the other hand, take, for instance, that dispatch in the morning paper naming Altgeld for the supreme court. I suppose it is a fake, but at the same time it sets one thinking of what is likely to happen. Altgeld may be honest; Bryan may be honest; I believe, for that matter, that the majority of anarchists are honest, but it is the ideas they have and which they may try to carry out that makes them unsafe. They are too visionary."—Ex-Senator Edmunds.

3 O'CLOCK.

NO CLASH OCCURRED.

What Was Expected to Be an Eventful Day Passed Without Disturbance.

Nothing to Indicate a Settlement of Miners' Strike.

Both Sides Claim to Have Made Gains, but the Change Is Very Slight.

Hazleton, Pa., Sept. 25.—Instead of the expected clash between the troops and striking miners in the Schuylkill region yesterday, a peaceful calm pervaded the region, and there was not the slightest disorder for the soldiers to be called upon to quell. In fact in all the districts of the anthracite coal fields the day was extremely quiet, there being no demonstrations whatever on the part of the strikers.

While the operators claim that a number of their employes returned to work at the mines in the Schuylkill region, it was early in the day evident that operations did not assume the activity which the mine owners had anticipated, and indications are that tonight will find more idle collieries than at any time since the strike began.

The soldiers moved over the roads leading to the collieries in Schuylkill county from early morning, and thus afforded protection to those desirous of returning to work. No opposition was encountered, however, and not a very great many availed themselves of the protection offered.

Last night both sides claimed that they had made good gains. It seems, however, from the most reliable reports received here from the entire region, that the strikers made a net gain in point of numbers.

There were many stories afloat in regard to the situation at the Lattimer mines. The strike leaders asserted that the colliery at that place was completely tied up, but when a representative of the Calvin-Pardee company, which owns the mine, was asked about the situation there, he said the colliery was running along as usual, and that only about 50 out of 1100 employes had failed to go into the slopes yesterday. The United Mine Workers have been working hard to get the Lattimer men to quit.

The most of the other collieries in the Hazleton district, which have not yet been shut down entirely, reported that their working force had been more or less increased. This the labor people declare to be untrue.

There is not the slightest change in the situation in regard to a settlement of the labor war. Neither side has approached the other, and there is nothing in view which would indicate that anything will soon be done in that direction. The United Mine Workers are still devoting most of their attention to getting out the men, while the operators are doing the best they can with their crippled forces.

Considerable interest is attached to the answer the firm of G. B. Markle & Co. will make to the grievances presented by its employes. The firm has intimated that it will make some sort of a concession to the men, but refuses to say what it will be until the 10 days, in which the firm was allowed to make an answer, will expire. The firm will issue a long statement, in which it will give its answer. The action of the Markle firm will be closely watched by other individual operators, and it is believed by some who are in touch with the situation that if the firm reaches a satisfactory settlement with its men, it might lead other operators to open negotiations with their employes.

The Markle firm has an agreement with its men that if a satisfactory answer is not made the whole matter is to be left to two men, one to be selected by each side, to arbitrate the difference. If they fail to agree the two arbitrators are to select a third person.

The United Mine Workers are opposed to arbitration on this plan. President Mitchell says the United Mine Workers are willing to arbitrate if all the negotiations are carried out simultaneously.

The entire Hazleton region was extremely quiet throughout Monday and not a single case of violence was reported from any town. A better feeling prevails and the fear of trouble seems to be disappearing.

The battalion of the Eighth regiment which arrived at McAdoo, five miles from here, and which made a demonstration in that town and surrounding country, returned to Shenandoah.

Gompers Predicts a Labor Victory.

Cincinnati, Sept. 25.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, last night delivered an address on labor at the Music hall. He was pronounced in his opinion that the anthracite strikers will win. "Behind them," he said, "is unutterable want. They have been hungry so long that they will suffer nothing uncommon from protracted idleness. The American Federation of Labor will give them all possible financial aid. They will have the sympathy for the general public. The laborers in this conflict have everything on their side but the opinion of the operators."

Has No Authority to Interfere.

Harrisburg, Sept. 25.—Governor Stone has received telegrams from numerous large cities urging him to use his good offices in the interest of adjusting the differences between the mine operators and their employes in the anthracite region. There is no provision of the state constitution authorizing the executive to exercise any such power, and Governor Stone is without a remedy to bring about the results desired by the senders of the telegrams.

FIFTEEN HUNDRED SURRENDERED.

Boers Gave Up Their Arms to Portuguese and Were Then Imprisoned by Authorities.

London, Sept. 25.—Telegrams from Lorenzo Marquez assert that 1500 Boers, including Commandant Peinner and 13 leading officers, who had crossed the border, surrendered, with their arms and ammunition, to the Portuguese. All of them were placed in jail.

Komatipoort has been occupied by the British, who found, to their surprise, that the bridge which was reported to have been destroyed is intact. Lord Roberts has issued a proclamation from Pretoria, promising the Boers who surrender that they will not be sent to exile.

Except in a few districts where the Boers are still under arms, the task of restoring law and order in the Orange and Vaal River colonies is, according to advices from South Africa, proceeding steadily and satisfactorily under the administration of the British army and military police authorities. In the Orange River colony especially is this the case.

While the pacification of the new colonies is proceeding, steps are being taken by Cecil Rhodes and the chartered company thoroughly to settle Rhodesia with colonists of a mettle that will make them extremely formidable neighbors for irreconcilable Boers who may in the future attempt to foment rebellion in the adjoining territory.

On the Diamond.

Boston, Sept. 25.—The game was called at the end of the seventh inning on account of darkness. Heavy batting and poor fielding marked the work of both teams.

Modification of Order Prevents Strike.

Victor, Col., Sept. 25.—The threatened strike of the miners employed in six of the leading gold mines of this district, because of orders requiring each man to strip naked and pass before the superintendent for inspection, to prevent their purloining valuable ore, has been prevented by an agreement entered into last night. The order has been modified so as to only make it necessary for the men to have their outer clothing removed. It required seevral meetings between the representatives of both sides to attain this result.

Walcott Too Much For Smith.

Hartford, Setp. 25.—Joe Walcott and "Mysterious" Billy Smith, the Syracuse boxer, fought here last night, the fight being scheduled for 20 rounds. At every stage of the fight Walcott proved himself to be Smith's superior. Smith, realizing that he was no match for Walcott, deliberately fouled in the 10th round, whereupon he was disqualified, and Walcott was declared the winner.

Oil Company's Lucky Strike.

Pittsburg, Sept. 25.—The South Penn Oil company has made a tremendous strike in a new oil well in Lewis county, W. Va. The well is flowing at the rate of 4800 barrels a day. The tanks provided are too small to hold the great flow, and the oil is being allowed to run into a creek and dammed up, with a view of pumping it out later.

No Conviction In Eyre Case.

Philadelphia, Sept. 25.—"Pinney" Pierce, who was charged with the murder of George B. Eyre, was acquitted yesterday. Eyre disappeared from his home Dec. 3 last, and his body was found a month later in a creek. James Pierce, a brother of "Pinney," who was charged with complicity in the murder, committed suicide in prison.

Towns Threatened by Flames.

Santa Rosa, Cal., Sept. 25.—A forest and grass fire in the vicinity of Occidental has assumed vast proportions. The fire has covered a space of about 100 square miles, and is estimated to have done over $250,000 damage. The towns of Freestone, Rodega and Sebastipol are in danger. Nearly 1000 people are fighting the fire.

Moran Made Good Time.

Brockton, Mass., Sept. 25.—In a 25-mile motor-paced race between J. F. Moran and A. W. Ross, Moran, aided by an accident to his opponent's pace, which gave opportunity for a gain of several laps, won with three laps to the good. Moran's time, 39:37, is within eight seconds of the world's record.

No Compromise In Sight.

Lowell, Mass., Sept. 25.—There is no sign of a compromise in the print workers' strike. The report that the mill firemen would go out from the Merrimack mills in sympathy with the strikers is denied.

A North Pole Partnership.

London, Sept. 25.—Dr. Nansen and the Duke of Abruzzi, according to a dispatch to The Daily Express from Christiana, have agreed to undertake a joint expedition into the north Polar regions.

Charged With Passing Bad Check.

St. Albans, Vt., Sept. 25.—George E. Hyde, aged 35, formerly a geological survey clerk, is under arrest here on the charge of passing a fraudulent check for $150. Hyde was appointed to a clerkship by the late Senator Morrill, from the latter's home in Strafford, where the arrested man's wife, son and father live.

Good Afternoon.

Many have not forgotten the excellent work of Representative Sheppard during his first year in the Legislature, which secured for Quincy a Metropolitan parkway. For he made it almost a hobby, starting in at the beginning of the session to secure votes. We all know now of his success, as the takings have actually been made at Atlantic, Norfolk Downs, and up the Furnace brook valley through West Quincy to the Blue Hills reservation, and it is only a question of a few weeks when work on construction will begin.

Some were fearful that such a boulevard through our city would increase our annual assessment for Metropolitan parks, but by the new apportionment Quincy's assessment is less than was proposed in 1895. It was a wise move on the part of Quincy to push its claim for a parkway, but it is very evident that it would not have been successful but for the work of Representative Sheppard. it was not work alone, but $200 to $300 which Mr. Sheppard contributed to bring about success. This year the State has shut down on park appropriations, so that had Quincy been unsuccessful in 1899 it might never have secured a State appropriation. Now Quincy real estate and Quincy labor will both benefit, and it is a beginning which the city may find it profitable to continue.

Will the voters of Quincy, and of Ward One in particular, in the light of what Representative Sheppard has done, refuse to give him the customary three years, as were given Charles L. Hammond, James Thompson and Thaddeus H. Newcomb? We don't believe they will. Ward One is now thoroughly aroused in his interests and a good majority seems assured.

If Eugene H. Sprague does not go into the Senatorial Convention with a majority of the delegates there can be no question but he will be the leading candidate, and that he will ultimately pull out the nomination. It rests with the Republicans of Quincy tonight to give him a majority on the first ballot. We believe they will, and that th confidence of the Quincy people wi not be misplaced.

An excellent half tone of Hon. John Shaw appears on the first page, and a modest letter from the gentleman himself, which urges the Republicans to redeem the Tenth district. It can be done, and with Hon. John Shaw as the candidate we believe it would be done.

Caucus Before Church.

Rev Edward Sampson Tead, pastor of the Prospect Hill Congregational church, Somerville, Sunday morning called the attention of his congregation to the coming caucuses of this week, and advised the voters of his church to attend. He said that if they were ever obliged to make a choice between going to a church meeting or a caucus, he would advise them to attend the caucus. He believes it to be the duty of every citizen to take part in his party caucus for the purpose of aiding in the nomination of the best men. Church members can attend prayer meetings every week in the year, he says, but they have only two opportunities to go to caucuses.

Officer Lyons of Quincy Discovers Whereabouts of Missing Girl.

Because he kept his eyes open, Officer Lyons is richer today by $25 than he otherwise would have been. It all came about by his locating a young girl who had been missing for three weeks. The girl is of a good Boston family but becomes slightly demented at times and wanders away from home. This she did about three weeks ago, and word was sent out to all police stations in the State offering $25 for her safe return. Last week Officer Lyons located the girl among those employed by the Tubular Rivet & Stud Co., who boarded on Washington street. Her right name is Pearl Guesse, but she assumed the name of Nellie and Minnie Rogers. When the officer had located her, word was sent to her friends, and Sunday her brother came to Quincy and accompanied the officer to the boarding house where the girl was found, and readily accompanied her brother home.

He wanted the officer to return with him and get the reward, but as he was on duty he could not leave. Monday, however, he went in as per instructions, and was readily paid the $25.

Mysterious Fire.

The fire department was again called to Wollaston Park this morning by an alarm from Box 151, which sounded at 1.55 o'clock. The fire was in a house owned by Mrs. Levi Nichols and situated on one of the short streets near the Massachusetts Fields school. It started from some unknown cause in the pantry and worked through the walls into the dining room and ceiling. Prompt work of the department stopped the fire from spreading befor it reached the second story.

Mrs. Nichols who owns the house began Monday to move out, so that at time of fire the house was practically unoccupied. The fire was discovered by Alsaman Maxwell, a neighbor, who was up with his daughter who was suffering from the toothache.

The Wollaston and Atlantic apparatus made remarkably quick runs to the fire and had two streams on inside of seven minutes from the time the alarm sounded.

The loss will not exceed $500.

An Explanation.

Editors of the Quincy Daily Ledger.

It would appear from certain articles and items, which have recently appeared in your paper, that I had stepped in and interferred with Mr. Sheppard before he was through with his term of office. Now I want it clearly understood that I am doing nothing of the kind. The facts are that last year I was one of Mr. Sheppard's delegates, and at the Convention placed him in nomination. At the time I signed the nomination paper he distinctly said he would not again be a candidate for this office. Mr. Sheppard has admitted this to be the fact during this campaign. With the above understanding my friends started my candidacy, and it was not until July of this year that I learned Mr. Sheppard would again be a candidate for the nomination. I was not then in a position to withdraw, if I had so desired, without placing my friends in an awkward position.

I wish to make the foregoing statement in order that the voters of this may understand the facts.

(Signed) JOHN McKNIGHT.

Political Potpourri.

One of the recent stories in circulation against Mr. Sheppard for Representative and Mr. Sprague for Senator was that they voted for the Fish law which prohibits fishing on the Lord's day. The fact is that the matter never came before the Legislature last year. The law prohibiting fishing on Sundays is one of the old blue laws, having been enacted in 1865. It will be found in the Public Statue, Sec. 11, of Chapter 98. Such stories as these will have no weight with the intelligent voter.

The Record thinks the National party are dead slow and "respectfully suggests as a ballot for the Sorehead party:"

For President,
Mr. Nobody of Nowhere.
For Vice President,
Another of the Same Family.
Elector at Large,
If we don't change our mind again,
Dr. William Everett
Regretfully, of the U. S.
Further Nominees Would be Superfluous.
If You Would Bank the Fires of Perdition,
Scratch Everyone ! !

Not much progress is being made as yet in forming a campaign battalion. It is a little early, however, and next month there will be more enthusiasm.

FOUND NOT GUILTY.

Jack the Hugger Discharged at the Superior Court.

Gustave Allen, who was called Quincy's Jack the hugger, was discharged this morning by the Superior court at Dedham. Allen was arraigned upon two complaints for assault and one for assault with attempt to commit rape. He was supposed to be the man who would suddenly appear before unprotected females on Granite street near Swithin Bros.' sheds and put his arm about them. In the lower court several girls positively identified him as the party, but the Superior court found him not guilty. He was defended by John W. McAnarney, Esq.

New Captain.

Co. K, Fifth Regiment, elected these officers Monday night: Captain, Maurice A. Colbert; First Lieutenant, John R. McGrath; Second Lieutenant, William Leslie.

Capt. Colbert has been identified with Co. K for a number of years. Enlisting as a private, he has risen step by step. When the company was mustered into the United States service he went out as first sergeant. While in the United States service he was appointed to a lieutenancy and assigned to another company of the regiment. Upon the regiment being mustered out of service he reenlisted in Co. K and was elected second lieutenant. When Lieut. Spear became Captain, Mr. Colbert was made first lieutenant. When Captain Spear resigned, it was a foregone conclusion that he would be raised again, for he has ever been popular with the boys. He has a beautiful sword, presented to him by friends while in the United States service.

Wollaston P. O.

The government post office officials have decided to locate the Wollaston Post office in the store in the Emery block now occupied by Thompson L. Connell, who will vacate at once. This store is in the building formerly occupied by V. J. Emery. It is on Beale street just east of the railroad bridge, a better location could not be found. It is close to the Wollaston station and equally handy to people of Wollaston and the people of the Park and Downs. The Post Office being located on the east side of the N. Y., N. H. & H. Railroad tracks is a decided improvement over its former location as it will lessen the danger to the children from the Park and Downs who were wont to cross the tracks to shorten the distance rather than walk over the bridge which is a round about way. The people of the Park and Downs are pleased that the officials should decide on such a good location. The Post office will move into its new quarters this week.

Eight Persons Were Killed.

Faribault, Minn., Sept. 25.—Meagre details have reached here of a terrible catastrophe which visited Morristown last evening. The village was struck by a cyclone, and a barn was raised in the air and dropped directly on top of a saloon, where 16 people had taken refuge from a storm. The saloon collapsed, and all the occupants were buried in the debris. It is said that eight dead bodies and three injured persons were taken from the ruins.

Fifteen Hundred Men Out.

Columbia, Pa., Sept. 25.—The Susquehanna Iron and Steel company last week announced that a 25 percent reduction in wages would go into effect Monday, and the men notified the management that they would not accept the cut. The company remained firm, and not a single man reported for work yesterday at any of the four big mills, and they are closed. About 1500 workmen are affected.

Two Years on Each Count.

Lawrence, Mass., Sept. 25.—In the Boston and Maine mileage book fraud cases, William Close pleaded guilty to three counts charging him with uttering forged mileage books, and he was sentenced to serve two years in the house of correction on each count.

MEN OF MARK.

Congressman Norton of Ohio abandoned medicine 20 years ago for politics.

Hiram Maxim is at work in London upon an extraordinary device that he has conceived for the evolution of pressure hitherto unknown to science.

Professor Rudolf Virchow, the great physiologist, who is now 79 years of age, has just celebrated his golden wedding. He has three sons and three daughters.

Mr. Faithful Begg, the chief advocate of woman suffrage in the British house of commons, has announced that he will not be a candidate for the next parliament.

Lord Salisbury recently characterized Hiram Maxim, the gunmaker, as "the man who has prevented more men from dying of old age than any other person that ever lived."

Booker T. Washington has accepted the position offered him by the directors of the South Carolina Interstate and West Indian exposition as chief of the negro department.

President Loubet of France is a musician, a fact scarcely known even in his own country, and not only plays the piano and violin with remarkable skill, but composes, so it is said, some music worthy of men who have given their life to that art.

Robert Burns-Begg, who recently died at Kinross, Scotland, was a grandnephew of Robert Burns, being a grandson of Isobel Burns, sister of the Scottish national poet. He belonged to the legal profession and was for more than 20 years sheriff clerk of the county of Kinross.

It would appear that Thomas B. Reed as a practicing lawyer is doing better financially than as speaker of the house of representatives. Announcement is made that he is about to purchase a large tract of land at Oyster Bay, on Long Island, adjoining the property of Governor Roosevelt.

Senator John C. Spooner denies he will make his home in the east at the expiration of his term of office. The senator says he has never entertained a thought of leaving Wisconsin. He has had many offers to go to New York during the past 15 years, but he has refused all of them and will continue to do so.

Adna A. Treat of Denver says that he is the oldest Mason in the United States. He was born in Hartford, on April 8, 1797, and became a Mason at Troy, N. Y., in 1823. He was one of a committee of Masons appointed to receive General Lafayette when he visited Troy in 1824. Mr. Treat is remarkably well preserved.

Cyrus Field Adams, the negro editor, linguist and orator, who has been appointed a member of the advisory committee of the Republican national committee, is a native of Louisville, but now resides in Chicago. He has been since 1885 editor of The Appeal, which has a large circulation. He delivers political speeches in the Scandinavian, German, French, Italian and Bohemian languages.

THE DOMINIE.

The Rev. Dr. Henry G. Weston, president of Crozer Theological seminary, is 80 years old.

The Rev. Artemus J. Haynes, who succeeded the Rev. Dr. Gunsaulus as pastor of Plymouth Congregational church of Chicago, has resigned because of ill health.

Prince Maximilian of Saxony has accepted the professorship of canonical law at the University of Freyburg, Switzerland. He was born in 1870 and in 1896 was ordained a priest. At present he is pastor of a church in Nuremberg.

An esthetic English vicar at Wombley will not allow the word "died" to be put on the tombstones of the people buried in the cemetery. He insists on phrases like "departed this life" or "passed away" or "entered into rest" and says that "died" is a denial of the Christian teaching of immortality.

The archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Temple, is reported as saying to a lady visitor at Lambeth: "When I was a curate, I used to devote all my spare time to reading Homer, Virgil and the noble ancient classics. When I was a vicar, I used to devote all my spare time to talking about these noble classics. Now I om an archbishop I am a privileged person, and I devote some of my precious time to reading Rudyard Kipling."

NATURAL HISTORY.

Horses in their wild state live to the age of 36 normally, being still fairly fresh and hearty at that age in the desert.

It has been proved by instantaneous photography that a horse at full trot sometimes has its four feet off the ground at once.

The arctic whale never migrates to the southward, as most species of whales do, because of its inability to live in the heated waters of the southern seas.

Like the bonito, the kingfisher's colors dull after death. No one who has seen only the stuffed bird can form any idea of the brilliance of its plumage when alive.

Rats are fine swimmers. They are nearly as much at home in a swollen stream as they are in the placid cellar of a well stocked mansion. In fact, the whole rodent family, including mice, squirrels and other species, learn to make themselves at home in the water when necessity requires it.

RAILWAY RUMBLES.

Open street cars in Hartford have eave troughs to conduct rainwater to either end of the car.

The largest tunnel is almost completed. It is on the Great Northern railroad, through the Cascade mountains, in Montana, and cost $4,000,000.

In the western part of British Columbia is a novel railway two miles in length. The rails are made of trees from which the bark has been stripped, and these are bolted together. Upon them runs a car with grooved wheels 10 inches wide.

THE NEW SPAIN.

Spain is managing to keep out of international discussion with all the persistent discretion of a government that has had trouble enough.—Washington Star.

Spain, having no longer any outside distractions, is engaged in engineering various reforms, and among other things has ordered 24 hour dials on all the clocks in the country. She evidently regards herself as being at the dawn of a new day in a very literal sense—a 24 hour day.—Indianapolis Journal.

THE DEFENDERS WON

In an Interesting Sham Battle Between Naval Vessels Off Newport.

But One Vessel of Attacking Force Was Left Afloat.

Maneuvering In Which Searchlights and Rockets Took the Place of Shells.

Newport, R. I., Sept. 25.—From out of the darkness a hostile squadron, made up of the battleships Kearsarge and Indiana, and the gunboats Eagle and Scorpion, together with the fleet of six torpedo boats, attacked an opposing squadron, made up of the Massachusetts, the New York, the Vixen and the Leyden, supported by the land batteries, and the defending squadron was triumphant. Captain Folger of the Kearsarge commanded the attacking craft, and Admiral Farquhar directed the defenders.

The maneuvers last night, which commenced at 9:45, and lasted nearly three hours, was in reality a night battle to test the effectiveness of an attacking squadron, aided by torpedo boats, against a naval force, aided by shore batteries, in which the searchlights for the time being were used in place of shells, a well-directed ray for a certain time putting the craft out of action. If a torpedo boat could not hold within range of her searchlight one of the hostile ships by firing a red rocket, the craft on the defensive was out of action, the fact that the torpedo boat had the opportunity to blow her up constituting victory. If, on the other hand, a battleship got an opposing craft within range of her light and was able to keep that vessel under its rays for the required time, the battleship's victory was shown by a blue rocket.

The preparations for the mock sea fight were carried out in detail to the extreme, with as much attention almost as if a real fight were impending. Every man was at his post, the guns ashore and afloat were manned and there was great anxiety on the part of the defenders, as the first faint trace of the foe was discerned coming out of the darkness.

It was 9:45 when the roar of an attacking gun awoke the echoes which rolled back from the Jamestown shore, and in quick succession came the heavy bark of a large calibre gun, and then the short metallic ring of light ordnance, the flashes and thunder telling the hundreds of civilian spectators on shore that the attack had begun and that the port defenders were ready to repel the enemy. The incoming squadron attempted to pass Fort Adams and Fort Wetherell, which defended the east channel, and Fort Preble on the west. The torpedo boats Gwynne and Rodgers did succeed in passing Fort Preble in safety under cover of darkness.

The Gwynne got her searchlight on the Massachusetts, and had signalled that she was out of action, when the Vicksburg in turn put out of action the smaller craft. Then the Rodgers figuratively blew the Vicksburg out of the water. Thus for over two hours the battle raged, and, owing to the vigilance of the defending force, only the torpedo boat Rodgers remained in action.

The decision as to the victor will come from a board of arbitration, appointed to judge the battle by the points scored by each individual ship. To this end an umpire was aboard each craft, who made note and credited to his ship each winning point, and from these reports the general decision will come. The defending squadron is generally believed to be successful, for the reason that the shore batteries and assisting squadron repelled the attack, and left only one of the hostile boats afloat.

Court Asked to Show Leniency.

Boston, Sept. 25.—Francesco Lo Conte pleaded guilty to an indictment charging him with manslaughter in causing the death of Tomasso Scapparotta. Counsel for the accused urged the court to show leniency to the prisoner, and the matter of sentence is under consideration. The trouble arose during the progress of a game of cards in a liquor store on the morning of July 17. It is claimed that the victim appropriated $10 belonging to Lo Conte, and declined to return it when asked.

Mrs. Miller Wanted to Die.

New York, Sept. 25.—Mrs. Madeline Miller, the young woman who about a year ago brought suit against a sanitarium for $50,000, claiming she had been imprisoned in the place, and had escaped by jumping from a second-story window, tried to kill herself last night at her home, by drinking carbolic acid. She will probably recover. She said her husband had refused to live with her.

Bad Spill on a Race Track.

Chicago, Sept. 25.—At the Hawthorne race track yesterday, Dad Steel, ridden by Gilmore, fell, and Lady Meddlesome, ridden by Buchanan, and Catastrophe, with Kiley up, fell over him. Kiley's collarbone was broken, and Buchanan's leg severely bruised. Gilmore was unhurt, and the horses escaped with trifling injuries.

Alleged Murderer In Custody.

Sydney, C. B., Sept. 25.—Charles Alberto, Italian laborer, has been arrested here, charged with killing his wife at Holyoke, Mass. He was locked up, and will be held for extradition to Holyoke. Alberto may consent to return without extradition proceedings.

Horses Perished In Flames.

Boston, Sept. 25.—In a midnight fire at West Roxbury, 11 horses were burned to death, and a property loss of $5000 was incurred. The fire was in the stable of the West Roxbury Ice company, and the cause is unknown.

Contract Doesn't Suit Them.

Knoxville, Sept. 25.—Four hundred miners of the Coal Creek company's mines at Coal Creek struck yesterday after holding a mass meeting and voting against the contract for the year offered by the manager.

NEW TORPEDO BOAT LAUNCHED.

Named After Sturdy Revolutionary Hero Who Captured British Sloop of War.

New York, Sept. 25.—The first United States naval vessel to bear an Irish name, the torpedo boat O'Brien, was launched at the Nixon shipyard in Elizabeth, N. J. Miss Myra L. O'Brien of Philadelphia, a direct descendant of the Revolutionary hero, for whom the boat was named, christened the new vessel. The launching of the O'Brien marks another step in the consummation of the government plan of perpetuating the names of the more prominent figures in the American revolution.

There were five O'Brien brothers. Off Machias, Me., shortly after the battle of Lexington, they captured the British sloop of war Margaretta, after a stubborn engagement. The townspeople had erected a liberty pole in commemoration of the victory at Lexington, and the British authorities sent the sloop to shell the town unless the pole was levelled. The citizens decided to keep the pole intact, and a lumber barge having been manned, about 50 men, armed with pitchforks and muskets, with Joseph O'Brien as leader, sailed down the bay toward the British sloop of war on Sunday, May 11, 1775. Lieutenant Moore, the British commander, was at church, but saw the lumber barge moving toward his vessel, and put off in a rowboat for his ship. He arrived just as the patriots boarded the ship. In a hand-to-hand fight Moore and 10 of his men were killed, while five of the patriots met with like fate, but the sloop was captured.

Miss O'Brien is the great-great-granddaughter of Joseph O'Brien, to whom the British commander's sword was presented after the battle. A feature of the launching was the exhibition of this sword, which is in possession of Miss O'Brien's father.

The new torpedo boat is 175 feet long, 17 feet beam, and is of 105 tons displacement. She will carry a crew of 60 officers and men.

Spent Half a Century In Poorhouse.

Athol, Mass., Sept. 25.—Miss Betsey Hoyt, the oldest woman in the town of Dana, is dead, at the age of 95. About 50 years ago she became insane. Two years later insane asylum authorities informed her brother that she was incurable, and he turned over all her property to the town of Dana, and they were to care for her during life. Accordingly she was an inmate at the Dana poor farm for nearly 50 years.

Fisherman's Testimony Doubted.

Boston, Sept. 25.—Elmer W. Morang, a fisherman in South Lubec, Me., was brought here and turned over to the federal authorities, who want him for alleged perjury. The fishing schooner Good Templar was seized for carrying smuggled fish. Morang said at the hearing that he had sold a quantity of the fish to the owners of the schooner, and the prosecution believes that he perjured himself.

Death List of About Five Thousand.

Galveston, Tex., Sept. 25.—The Galveston News' list of dead from the storm of Sept. 8 represents a total of 3859 names. The indications are that not more than 4000 people will be actually accounted for. It is reasonable to assume that 800 or 1000 people were lost whose names are not obtainable, which would make the total death list on Galveston island about 5000.

Children Were Not Spared.

Boston, Sept. 25.—Before the Congregational club last night, Rev. James L. Barton, D. D., foreign secretary of the American Board, gave what may be regarded as an official summary of the presumably massacred missionaries of the board in north China. The actual figures are 13 adults and 5 children.

Concord to Boston by Trolley.

Concord, N. H., Sept. 25.—The Boston and Maine railroad has filed a petition with the state supreme court, asking for authority to build an electric railroad from Concord to Nashua. The building of this road would complete electric railroad connection between this city and Boston.

Berlin Police Are Hustlers.

Berlin, Sept. 25.—Burglars entered the residence of Dr. Wrede, in this city, and secured 20,000 marks in cash and securities to the value of 3000 marks. Within a day the police recovered all the stolen property except 15,000 marks' worth.

Many Vessels Are Missing.

St. John's, Sept. 25.—More than 50 French vessels from St. Pierre are still missing, as the result of the recent gale, and much alarm is felt for their safety. Many doubtless are disabled, but it is almost certain that others have foundered.

Virginia Coal For British Warships.

Halifax, Sept. 25.—Owing to the scarcity of Nova Scotia coal in Halifax, an order for 2000 tons of steam coal has been placed in Virginia for immediate delivery, for the use of the British warships making their headquarters in Halifax.

Vessel Is Probably Lost.

Mobile, Ala., Sept. 25.—Schooner Lizzie H. Wells, James J. Twooms, master, that sailed from Mobile, Aug. 21, for Punta Gorda, Fla., with a $4000 cargo of general merchandise, is missing, and is believed to be lost.

Suicide of a Nun.

Digby, N. S., Sept. 25.—Sister Millicent of the convent of the Sacred Heart at Meteghan committed suicide by drowning. She was 35 years old and was a native of Meteghan.

The chief consul of the L. A. W. of Rhode Island for 1901 will be Percy A. Harden. There will be no opposition. Frank T. Sibley is named for vice president.

The new hall of the Warren lodge of Masons was dedicated at Amesbury, Mass., with appropriate exercises.

Franklin J. Pratt, aged 71, died at Greenfield, Mass., after an illness of five years. For many years he had been an active Democrat in western Massachusetts. He was collector of internal revenue during President Cleveland's first administration.

AS A TURNING POINT.

How America's Attitude Toward China Is Regarded by Powers.

Administration Is Quietly Waiting For the Result.

Strengthening of Our Asiatic Fleet Indicates That Real Crisis Is Yet to Come.

Washington, Sept. 25.—The position of the United States on China is receiving earnest consideration by the other powers and their representatives here. It is looked upon as a sort of turning point in the negotiations, on which the alignment of the several countries will be determined and their programs framed. There has been no statement from any foreign government of its view of the American position, and some days will probably elapse before any new move is made. The Chinese minister has not heard from Li Hung Chang or Prince Ching since the purposes of this government regarding their recognition were made known to them.

The position of this government having been defined in the notes in reply to communications from Germany, Russia and China, and these notes having been received at the foreign offices of the powers interested in China, the attitude of the American government is ostensibly one of quiet waiting for the result.

There are strong indications, however, that the administration is keenly alive to the fact that the real crisis in China is yet to come and that it is already near at hand. One indication is the virtually independent action the government has taken regarding the recognition of two peace envoys named by China, and the setting on foot of peace negotiations. Another is the ordering of a squadron of six men-of-war from other stations to the Asiatic fleet. This squadron is headed by the first-class battleship Kentucky, a ship not intended to fight the natives of the Philippines or Boxers, but to enforce respect for the flag and the interests it covers in any company.

While the dispatch of naval re-enforcements is in no sense to be regarded as a threat, it indicates a purpose to maintain the United States' position as a power whose interests in the Orient are to be respected by the world, and is specially significant in connection with the unfavorable reception our declaration of policy is meeting in London and Berlin.

France has, apparently, returned an answer similar to the American reply, so far as the specific German proposition regarding the delivery of guilty Chinese before negotiations are begun is concerned. Paris, however, regrets what it considers the American tendency to break away from the concert of the powers by beginning independent peace negotiations.

The Russian attitude is likely to be similar, and it does not require any very violent effort of the imagination to see the possibility that the powers in China may shortly be resolved into two coalitions—France and Russia, and England and the triple alliance—with the United States independent of both.

How European Cabinets Would Have It.

London, Sept. 25.—A semi-official announcement has been issued in St. Petersburg that the European cabinets are engaged in an endeavor to induce Germany to abandon her demand for the surrender of the instigators of the anti-foreign outrages as a preliminary to peace negotiations. It is asserted that, although Russia appears to consent to Germany's proposal, it practically disapproves by asking whether it would not be best to open peace negotiations first, and then to make the punishment of the instigators of the outrages the first subject of discussion.

A Shot at the United States.

Berlin, Sept. 25.—A semi-official communication to the Cologne Gazette, disavowing any desire on the part of Germany to execute the instigators of the outrages on the strength of the testimony of foreign ministers, says: "The international court of justice would decide upon the question of guilt, and would pronounce sentence. To look on complacently while a mockery of justice, such as the United States demand, was being enacted, would mean a renewal of the massacres."

A Hint to Growlers.

London, Sept. 25.—Commenting upon the reproaches which the Cologne Gazette and other German papers have levelled against the United States, the Berlin correspondent of The Times says: Whatever may be thought of the attitude of the United States, it hardly seems wise from a diplomatic point of view to hurl those taunts at a nation which, as experience has shown, is by no means in the habit of pocketing or forgetting such attentions.

Christian Women Butchered.

Hong Kong, Sept. 25.—Advices from Canton say that a boatload of native Christian women at Kum-Chuk was fired upon, and that the women were then taken ashore and butchered in cold blood. Native Christians are flocking from the surrounding country. Canton itself is quiet.

An Unexpected Resignation.

Youngstown, O., Sept. 25.—It has developed that President Shaffer of the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers has tendered his resignation during the joint wage conference at Cincinnati. President Shaffer was criticised by members of the association on account of the agreement made with the Illinois Steel company for the operation of the Milwaukee mill, but his resignation was entirely unexpected.

Collision With Fatal Result.

New York, Sept. 25.—Through a collision between two trolley cars and a brewery wagon last night, Morris Sternfels, a retired grocer, was instantly killed, and four other persons were seriously cut and bruised.

COUNTRY IS WARMING UP.

Hanna Says the Political Fight Will Be North of Mason and Dixon's Line.

New York, Sept. 25.—Chairman Hanna arrived in this city from Cleveland yesterday, and was immediately driven to the headquarters of the national committee. After Senator Hanna had talked with his colleagues he answered several questions put to him in regard to the campaign, his share in it and his view of the way things were going. When asked about his return to local headquarters he said: "There is no significance in the visit. I am here for a week as a part of my work. I expect to divide my time between Chicago and this city. Will I do any speaking here? Well, I may make a few remarks at noonday meetings, but I have no speaking engagements."

"How about the situation in the west?" was one of the questions put to the senator. He said: "Wherever meetings are held the enthusiasm is marked. The Republicans had been dormant. Everyone had been busier than in 1896, too busy to give much time to active political work, but the country is warming up."

"The chief battle ground will be all the states north of the Mason and Dixon line," was the senator's reply to a question.

Senator Hanna pronounces Governor Roosevelt's tour a political success. "He has stirred up the people everywhere he has gone," was the judgment of the national chairman.

Not the least interesting of the senator's remarks during the interview was made in answer to a question regarding the "full dinner pail" issue. The senator said: "The fact of the full dinner pail is meeting with the approbation of the men who are carrying it."

Bryan Makes a Denial.

Chicago, Sept. 25.—Mr. Bryan came to Chicago yesterday from his home, held a conference with various members of the Democratic national committee and returned to Lincoln last night. At the conclusion of his conference with the members of the committee, he said: "I have not given anyone, either verbally or in writing, a promise of a cabinet position, and I shall not, during the campaign, make any such promise. I have not authorized and shall not authorize anyone, verbally or in writing, to promise any cabinet position or any other position to anyone. If I am elected I shall be absolutely free to discharge all the duties of the office according to my platform, as far as the platform goes, and according to my own judgment in all matters not covered by the platform.

Voters Turned Out In Force.

Boston, Sept. 25.—Much interest was taken in the Republican caucuses held last night in many places in this state, and with spirited contests the outpouring of voters was in many cases very large. The balance of the cities and towns will hold their caucuses tonight. The congressional districts being all heavily Republican, a nomination means practically an election, so that in nearly every case there have been three and four aspirants working hard during the past few weeks. As only one-half the towns voted last night, the results in a number of cases will not be known until the balance of the towns hold their caucuses.

Will Try to Carry Empire State.

Chicago, Sept. 25.—It has been decided by the Democratic national committee that Mr. Bryan will make a determined effort to capture the vote of New York state. The matter was settled yesterday at a conference at Democratic headquarters. It was decided that Mr. Bryan should be in New York from Oct. 16 to 20, inclusive, and return there on Oct. 27. Whether he is to wind up the campaign in that state was not finally settled.

Regarding Teachers In the Philippines.

Washington, Sept. 25.—The war department has been in receipt of numerous applications for appointment of teachers in the Philippines, and many inquiries have been made on that subject. The department cabled to President Taft of the Philippine commission regarding this matter and he replied that the commission will consider applications with proper testimonials sent direct to it at Manila.

The Shepards' Funeral.

Foxboro, Mass., Sept. 25.—The funeral of Mr. and Mrs. David L. Shepard, who were killed by their son, William F. Shepard, who was temporarily insane, and the funeral also of that son, who committed suicide after committing his crime, were held yesterday. The service was conducted by Mrs. Kate Stiles, a spiritualist. Three hearses conveyed the Bodies to Rockhill cemetery.

Heavy Losses From Floods.

Dallas, Sept. 25.—The Trinity river is higher than it has been since 1890, when it broke all records, and is still rising. No lives have been lost in the immediate vicinity of Dallas, but cotton and live stock have suffered heavily. The item of damage to roads and bridges alone in the dozen or more counties affected in northern Texas will be about $250,000.

The President's Vacation.

Canton, O., Sept. 25.—President McKinley received a number of callers yesterday, among them being Mr. Loomis, minister to Venezuela, and the consul to Marseilles, Robert P. Skinner. Both called upon the president to pay their respects. In the evening the president received a few friends who called in an informal way.

Gentlemen:—Our family realize so much from the use of GRAIN-O that I feel I must say a word to induce others to use it. If people are interested in their health and the welfare of their children they will use no other beverage. I have used them all, but GRAIN-O I have found superior to any, for the reason that it is solid grain.

Sheriff and Deputies Dispersed Midnight March of Striking Miners.

Calls Upon the Governor For Troops to Preserve Order.

Many of Markle Employes Do Not Consider Answer to Their Demands Satisfactory.

Hazleton, Pa., Sept. 26.—Governor Stone has been asked to send more troops into the strike region. A formal request has been made by Sheriff Harvey of Luzerne county. The night marches of the strikers is given as the reason for asking for more troops. Sheriff Harvey says he fears he cannot cope with them.

It was learned that the sheriff's request was backed up by several telegrams from private citizens of Hazleton, who, it is said, are mine operators. It is believed that the sheriff is of the opinion that the presence of troops will prevent any further marching, thus lessening the possibility of serious trouble.

The strikers met after midnight at Cranberry, and when they reached Tomhicken they were stopped by Sheriff Harvey and 30 armed deputies. It was yet dark and the sheriff read the riot act to them by the light of a lantern. The strikers then scattered in different directions and began missionary work in preventing mine workers from going to the Potts mines.

Four of the marchers were arrested, charged with breach of the peace, and in the afternoon were taken to South Wilkesbarre, and committed without bail.

There was no conflict between the deputies and the strikers. Rhone Trescott, a coal and iron policeman, says he saw President Mitchell and "Mother" Jones on a hill at Derringer directing the movements of the men. President Mitchell denies this.

The most important development here yesterday, outside of the request for soldiers, was the answer of G. B. Markle & Co. to the demands presented by the firm's employes 10 days ago. The answer is not considered satisfactory by many of the Markle employes, and what action they will take at their meeting today is not certain. There is much talk among them in favor of a strike.

The company gives specific answers to various demands made by the men. Regarding the request for semi-monthly payments of wages the company says that in 1893 the announcement was made that all who desired wages semi-monthly could have them upon giving notice, but, the company adds, the men did not take advantage of the notice, and monthly payment was resumed. Up until 1897, the company says, no request for semi-monthly payments have been made. This grievance is then disposed of by the company stating that if after mature deliberation the men want to return to the semi-monthly plan it will be resumed.

In denying the request that the drivers be paid for every hour that they work, the company says the wages are based upon service from 7 a. m. to 6 p. m., but that in most cases the men are through by 5 p. m., and are always paid for a full day.

On one of the principal grievances, the price of powder, the company asks for arbitration. The price now charged is $2.70 a keg. The men want it made as low as possible.

Another principal grievance, that employes getting $1.50 per day be advanced 5 percent and under that figure 10 percent, the company declines to accede to. "The sliding scale," the reply states, "which is embodied in our agreement, has governed wages since its adoption, and, notwithstanding the increased cost in the production and preparation of coal, has remained the same. Since December, 1899, there has been an advance of 6 percent on the basis and since February, 1900, the rates of wages paid our men have been higher than at any time since Jan. 1, 1895. We cannot grant the request."

The company declines to pay engineers by the hour, preferring to continue paying them a monthly rate. It is agreed to provide a powder car, if for black powder and not dynamite. A tool car, to bring tools to and from the mine, will also be provided when the men fix upon a feasible plan that will end complaints as to losing tools. It is also agreed to erect a powder house.

In conclusion, the company asks for an early reply to the result of the men's deliberations on the answer, in order that there will be no delay in arbitration and a final decision.

The labor leaders would make no comment on the Markle answer, but it is known they are much pleased. If the firm had conceded the wage demand, which is only about half of what the United Mine Workers are asking throughout the region, it was feared there would be a big break among the men who struck at the Markle mines.

CANDIDATES FOR CONGRESS.

Two Districts In Massachusetts May Have to Settle the Matter In Convention.

Boston, Sept. 26.—Republican caucuses were held last night in all the Boston wards, and several cities and towns throughout the state, and two or more doubtful congressional nominations were decided. Charles G. Washburn wins in the Third district, comprising Worcester and adjacent towns, while in the Eleventh Samuel L. Powers of Newton has a majority of the delegates. The results of the Fourth and the Tenth are not definitely known yet.

With these two districts practically settled, considerable of the interest turns to the Fourth and Tenth. The former district comprises no less than 49 towns and three cities, and of those making returns, 24 towns elected delegates pledged to Tirrell, while 10 towns and two cities elected delegates pledged to Clarke. The close fight surprised the Clarke managers, who confidently expected that the former secretary of the Home Market club would sweep the district.

The following Republican candidates for congress will be nominated at the various conventions: G. P. Lawrence, North Adams; F. H. Gillett, Springfield; W. S. Knox, Lawrence; W. H. Moody, Haverhill; E. W. Roberts, Chelsea; S. W. McCall, Winchester; W. C. Lovering, Taunton; W. S. Greene, Fall River.

The following Republican candidates for state senator will be nominated at the several conventions: William Tolman, Pittsfield; E. G. Holt, Taunton; R. A. Soule, New Bedford; W. O. Luscomb, Falmouth; H. C. Atwill, Lynn; J. F. Porter, Danvers; A. P. Gardner, Hamilton; W. A. Butler, Georgetown; C. S. Sargent, Lawrence; A. B. Champlin, Holyoke; J. E. Parry, Cambridge; F. P. Huntress, Somerville; G. R. Jones, Melrose; C. H. Hanson, Lowell; F. A. Fales, Norwood; A. A. Lawrence, Cohasset; L. E. Chamberlain, Brockton; F. A. Harrington, Worcester.

Hanna Makes an Address.

New York, Sept. 26—Cooper Union was entirely filled last night when the Republican club meeting began. The great crowd was drawn by the announcement that Senator Hanna was to speak. He said that he was now satisfied that the feeling of apathy is dying and that the people of the country realize the importance of a Republican victory. He spoke generally of the effect of the election of Mr. Bryan upon the commercial conditions of the country.

Money Question Comes First.

New York, Sept. 26.—Senators Hanna, Elkins and Scott had an executive meeting yesterday, and afterward a statement was given out, to the effect that the leaders were still of the opinion that "free silver" is the issue of the campaign. It was also decided to issue as a campaign document the forthcoming annual report of the Massachusetts bureau of labor.

Altgeld Coming to New England.

Chicago, Sept. 26.—Ex-Governor John P. Altgeld will make four speeches in Ohio. Next week, following his Ohio tour, he will deliver a number of speeches in the New England states.

Decidedly Encouraging.

Galveston, Tex., Sept. 26.—There are 17 foreign steamers now here ready for cargoes. The official receipts of cotton yesterday were 13,201 bales. More than 2000 contracts have been let for repairs and rebuilding, and general business has been partially resumed. The clearing of the immense mass of wreckage created by the storm is progressing as fast as the limited labor supply permits.

Opinion That Boer War is Ended.

London, Sept. 26.—The war is completely ended, says the Lourenzo Marquez correspondent of The Daily Telegraph. Many guns have been destroyed and hundreds of wagons and thousands of tons of stores have been burned. Burning wreckage lies in every direction in the Hector Spruit district. Any good police force of 20,000 men can effect the complete pacification of the country.

Evidence of Numerous Wrecks.

St. John's, Sept. 26.—British barque Imogene, 32 days from Cadiz for this port, has arrived here badly damaged. The Imogene reports having passed through great quantities of wreckage. Her officers believe that the fishing fleet on the Grand Banks has suffered seriously.

Train Broke Apart.

Auburn, Me., Sept. 26.—A freight wreck occurred on the Maine Central railroad at this place, eight cars being smashed with their contents. The wreck was caused by the breaking of the train while crossing an overhead bridge. The damage is very heavy.

The Texas Flood Situation.

Houston, Tex., Sept. 26.—The flood presents no alarming feature. The rise in the Colorado has done no great damage save to crops and bridges. The reports sent out of the washing away of two towns prove to be without foundation.

Root Not Confined to His Bed.

New York, Sept. 26.—Advices from Southampton, L. I., are to the effect that Secretary of War Root is able to be out of doors, and his condition is not at all alarming.

Coal Will Be Scarce.

Reading, Pa., Sept. 26.—The prospects are that by tonight coal shipments over the Philadelphia and Reading railroad will drop to 400 carloads daily, one-fourth the usual amount.

New Records by Speedy Horses.

Terre Haute, Ind., Sept. 26.—Two world's records were broken yesterday on the famous four-cornered track. The Abbott clipped another half second from the world's trotting record of 2:03 3-4, already held by him. Coney, 2:02 3-4, went against time to beat the amateur world's pacing record to wagon, finishing a mile in 2:03 3-4, which clipped half a second from Free Bond's record.

TO REDUCE FORCES.

Chaffee Will Send Thirty-Five Hundred Soldiers From Pekin to Manila.

Fourteen Hundred Will Protect American Legation.

England Takes the Same Attitude as America Regarding Germany's Proposition.

Washington, Sept. 26.—Orders were put upon the cable yesterday directing General Chaffee to retain under his personal command at Pekin a legation guard of one regiment of infantry, a squadron of cavalry and a light battery, and forthwith to dispatch all other officers, troops, stores and war material to Manila.

Nearly a month ago the Russian government was told that if the Russian forces and ministry were withdrawn from Pekin "we shall give instructions to the commander of the American forces in China to withdraw our forces from Pekin, after due conference with other commanders as to time and manner of withdrawal."

That time has come, and yesterday's action marks the beginning of the disappearance of the American army from China, for, although some military force is to remain, it will not be of the character of an army, but, under the condition laid down in the order to General Chaffee, and especially under its official designation as a "legation guard," will be rather of the nature of a civil guard This small force will not be included in any military operations which may be conducted by the allied armies, and so will not fall subject to the directions of Field Marshal Waldersee, the commander-in-chief.

Much thought has been given to the proper number of troops to be allotted for this purpose, and it is believed that the 1400 men selected will be quite sufficient to protect the American legation against any force that could be brought against it. It is noteworthy, too, that the most complete arrangements have been ordered for the maintenance of the men, while care has been taken that there shall not be a shortage of ammunition as there was in the British legation during the siege. It is estimated that about a week will be required to bring the 3500 soldiers away from Pekin, after the start is made. General Chaffee is authorized to take from the ships now at Taku such stores as will be necessary to last him through the winter.

Lord Salisbury has dispatched to Berlin a reply to the German note, which, the dispatch asserts, is "identical in terms" with the American reply. Lord Salisbury's adoption of the substance of the American reply to Germany is unexpected, in view of the attitude of the British public prints, while if he has also adopted the wording of the Washington reply it will be regarded in diplomatic circles, jealous of even the smallest points, as of tremendous significance.

Chaffee's marching orders mean that the United States, having rescued its minister, and such of its citizens as remain alive in China, purpose a military evacuation of the posts it was necessary to occupy, and does not intend to share any further in military operations in China. England's decision to join the United States in what is believed on this side of the water to be the common-sense view of the German suggestion leaves Germany in an embarrassing position.

The reports that Prince Tuan has been signally honored by the Chinese government have not yet been officially confirmed, although the authorities have received word of Chinese rumors that some such action had been taken. The state department is not disposed to attach serious importance to the reports, but if it should prove true that Prince Tuan has been advanced to high station, it doubtless will be taken cognizance of by the state department, and may lead to serious consequences. This government has laid down the principle that no one in any way connected with the outrages shall have anything to do with the forthcoming negotiations, and this applies to Prince Tuan or any others notably connected with the disturbance.

Consul General Goodnow has advised the state department that the taotai at Shanghai has been degraded, and that this is believed to be due to the favorable attitude of that official towards foreigners.

To Await Further Developments.

Philadelphia, Sept. 26.—The governor has concluded that the situation at present in Luzerne county does not justify the sending of state troops there, and he will not call out more troops until, in his judgment, there is sufficient cause therefor. He will confer further with Sheriff Harvey on the subpject.

Mayor Crowley Takes a Hand.

Lowell, Mass., Sept. 26.—Mayor Crowley has extended an invitation to several local business men to meet in conference with him tomorrow evening with a view of settling the print workers' strike by arbitration.

A Death-Dealing Storm.

Omaha, Sept. 26.—There was a severe storm in Tama county, Ia., last night. The town of Ferguson is said to have been partially destroyed. Four persons are reported killed.

Settled at Last.

Uncle Sam has finally decided and the Wollaston post office goes to Emery's block.

Ample space and very low rent were important factors in the minds of the Inspectors.

Of course there are many disappointed ones especially those who have leased stores in the belief that things would remain as they are and those whose entire business depends upon visitors at the post office.

There are those also who believe that the landlord of the present location has made a mistake in allowing so good a tenant not only to leave him but to abandon the vicinity.

It will however make very little difference to the citizens at large. "At the bridge," is a little more convenient for all the citizens except those living on what is termed the Plains.

From a census point of view there are twenty-three hundred people on the west side of the railroad and all are within three-quarters of a mile from the new location. The east side has a population of fifteen hundred and they are much more widely separated as their territory measures about two miles square.

The business centre of Wollaston has for years been on Newport avenue between Beale and Brook street and the loadstone has been the post office. The land has been assessed at fifty cents per foot but could not be bought at one dollar per foot. What will the future be? Now comes the important question where are we to vote? The lease of the Emery building removes from the list of eligible places the one last occupied as a polling place.

It has always been considered important to be right at the station but there does not seem to be anything left now unless an occupied store is used for this purpose. The old Knights of Honor hall which is less than five hundred feet from Newport avenue has been suggested but it is urged as an objection that the above hall is up one flight. We do not call to mind any precinct in Quincy, with possibly one or two exceptions, where the voting is done on the street floor.

Since the Hose House has been abandoned as a polling place the following buildings or stores have been used for this purpose; Hewiston's block, otherwise known as the Taylor building annex; Perry's block, up stairs; Brasee's block, under the Wollaston hotel; Polson block; Emery building.

It is claimed that this matter should at least be presented if not decided at the next meeting of the City Council.

SHAW AND ATWOOD DIVIDE.

Former Has 14 Congressional Delegates and Latter 7.

The City Solid for Eugene H. Sprague for Senator with 21 Votes.

Representative Sheppard Wins in Ward One and Will Be Renominated.

The most decisive result of the Republican caucuses of the city Tuesday evening, was the triumphant success of Eugene H. Sprague, who secured all of Quincy's 21 votes which almost assures his nomination for the Senate in the First Norfolk district.

In the Congressional contest Hon. John Shaw of Quincy, was defeated in his home ward and also in Ward One, but he carried all the other wards of the city. Ward One and Two went for Atwood.

The nominees for Representatives will probably be Eben W. Sheppard and ex-Councilman Frank E. Badger of Atlantic. It is said Wards One, Five and Six are for these gentlemen and they have a majority of the delegates. Other delegates are also favorable to these gentlemen.

WARD ONE.

The Quincy ward was the great fighting ground of the city, not only for delegates, but against "the machine." The delegates chosen are for Atwood for Congress, Sprague for Senator and Sheppard for Representative. Although the Atwood ticket won, the fact that it only polled 197 votes out of the total of 447 cast, shows that it falls far short of the majority strength. The victory of the Representative Sheppard was a crushing defeat to the committee, and the success of the second ticket for Senatorial delegates only added to their discomfiture.

Although the second Congressional list withdrew in favor of the third list, the committee ruled that their names must be printed on the ballot, and naturally they drew a few votes. Had the anti-Atwood votes been added together and divided by four, four delegates would have received 204 votes each, which was from 7 to 15 more than the Atwood men received:

Albert G Dolliver,	147
Robert T. Johnson,	197
John W. Hersey,	191
Charles C. Hearn,	189
Clarence Burgin,	165
William F. Hochn,	154
Arthur W. Stetson,	168
Frederick T. Appleton,	150
Edward Southworth,	45
Luther S. Anderson,	44
Horace F. Spear,	52
Wilson Marsh,	40

Both Senatorial lists claimed to be for Sprague for Senator, the first having the support of the committee. Only one from first list won, Mr. Macleod, while Messrs. Burgin, Prescott and Linscott of the second ticket were elected on a very close vote, as will be seen:

Archibald F. Macleod,	184
George T. Westland,	168
Edward L. Goodridge,	172
Isaac M. Holt,	163
Charles M. Jenness,	181
Clarence Burgin,	197
Frank F. Prescott,	190
Alfred A. Linscott,	187

The Sheppard delegation for the Representative convention defeated the McKnight delegation by upwards of 32 votes as follows:

John Q. A. Cudworth	233
Henry W. French	235

Frank C. Packard	181

The delegates elected are:

COUNTY,—Dexter E. Wadsworth, Andrew Stewart, George D. Langley, John Lennon.

SENATORIAL, — Archibald F. Macleod, Clarence Burgin, Frank F. Prescott, A. A. Linscott.

REPRESENTATIVE,—"Favorable to Sheppard," John Q. Cudworth, Henry W. French, Thomas M. Butler, William T. Isaac, Wilson Marsh, George H. Brown, Carl F. Carlson, Nils Loddengard.

WARD TWO.

The Quincy Point ward held a largely atended caucus—one of the largest in the history of the city. Rumor had it that the caucus was to be packed with Democrats, and according to some views many Democrats did vote. W. J. Sampson, Jr., and M. T. Sullivan were present, taking note of those who voted, and rumor has it that there are not enough Democrats left in the ward to hold a caucus.

Three delegates were elected without a contest, the State, Councillor and County, The great contest was on Congressional delegates, and the Atwood ticket won by 19 to 24 votes as follows:

"Favorable to Atwood."

Benjamin Johnson, Jr.,	153
Aubrey R. Keith,	150
Benjamin J. Weeks,	148

"Favorable to John Shaw."

Frank E. Burrell,	129
Rollin H. Newcomb,	125
Joseph L. Whiton,	124

The only other contest was for Senatorial delegates and the first which is for Eugene H. Sprague on every ballot won handily. The vote was:

Edwin W. Newcomb,	137
Eugene C. Hultman,	131
George A. Sidelinger,	136
Frank E. Burrell,	113
Maurice I. Gatcomb,	95
Edgar F. Hayden,	98

The representative delegates elected are said to be favorable to John McKnight.

The full list elected is:

STATE,—Thaddeus H. Newcomb, John R. Graham, Arthur W. Newcomb.

CONGRESSIONAL,—"Favorable to H. H. Atwood," Benjamin Johnson, Jr., Aubrey R. Keith, Benjamin J. Weeks.

REPRESENTATIVE,—John S. Gay, Edwin W. Newcomb, James Dunn, Jr., Albion F. Hall, Aubrey R. Keith.

COUNTY,—George A. Adams, Arthur W. Harris, George Crane.

COUNCILLOR,—George Weston, Channing T. Furnald, Leonard C. Hewson.

SENATORIAL, — Edwin W. Newcomb, Eugene C. Hultman, George A. Sidelinger.

T. H. Newcomb was chairman, and John S. Gay secretary. The tellers were Joseph L. Whiton, Edwin W. Newcomb, George E. Adams and George W. Taylor.

WARD THREE.

The South Quincy Ward held a large caucus, but as the counters commenced their work early the result was known soon after the polls closed.

John P. Bigelow was chairman and James W. Young, secretary. The other officers of the caucus were:

Walter E. Piper, William T. Spargo, Murdock Campbell, John Roberts, John McGowan and Daniel McLennon. Double lists were filed for the Congressional, Councillor and Senatorial conventions.

On the Congressional contest Shaw won out by 28 votes, the figures being:

Favorable to Shaw.

John P. Bigelow,	134
Daniel McLennan,	135
Thomas W. Smith,	132
John Kennedy,	130

Pledged to Atwood.

Amos L. Litchfield,	102
John G. Roberts,	98
William F. McCalder,	95
James W. Pierce,	100

The ward gave the candidacy of Eugene H. Sprague for the Senate a handsome endorsement, the lowest man on his delegation receiving 31 more votes than the leading man for Woodsum. The vote was as follows, the first four being elected:

Peter W. Dakers,	141
Lester M. Pratt,	143
John G. Roberts,	132
James W. Pierce,	136
David T. Drummond,	96
Abel Nutting,	101
William Michael,	86
John Robinson,	88

The vote on the Councillor delegates was close, the Maxwell list winning by from 4 to 8 votes over the leader of the other ticket.

The delegates elected to the Representative convention are for ex-Councilman John P. Bigelow.

The delegates elected are:

STATE,—James Thompson, Lester M. Pratt, James W. Young, Horace E. Spear.

CONGRESSIONAL,—"Favorable to Hon. John Shaw,"—John P. Bigelow, Daniel McLennan, Thomas W. Smith, John Kennedy.

COUNCILLOR,—"Pledged to A. A. Maxwell,"—William F. McCalder, William Pratt Amos L. Litchfield, Frank W. Flowers.

COUNTY,—George H. Field, William H. Mitchell, Alexander Clark, Andrew Milne.

SENATORIAL,—Peter W. Dakers, Lester M. Pratt, John G. Roberts, James W. Pierce.

REPRESENTATIVE,—William T. Spargo, Thomas Johnston, George Main, William J. Williams, William F. McCalder, Frank W. Flowers, Daniel McLennan, Frank L. Carlton.

WARD FOUR.

A very largely attended caucus was that held in the West Quincy ward. Two lists of delegates were filed for each of the several conventions. All lists were unpledged and report has it that the contest was not so much who should receive the nomination for the several offices but the old fight of last December between the Ripley followers and the Burke followers. Last December Ripley came out on top but at Tuesday night's caucus the Burke crowd won out. The highest vote any of the Ripley delegates received was 127 which was given William E. Badger while the lowest vote any of the Burke delegates received was 123, which was given Alexander Shirley. Mr. Ripley himself received 125 votes as representative to the state convention, and Thomas F. Burke 157 for the Congressional and Tobias H. Burke 184 for county convention.

The congressional delegates are said to be for Shaw, the Senatorial for Sprague, and the Representative probably for Eben W. Sheppard and Frank E. Badger.

William E. Badger called the meeting to order and Thomas F. Burke was elected chairman with James Allen clerk, thus dividing these two officers between the factions. the other officers were John Heuss, John Williams, Eugene McCormick and J. J. Johanson.

WARD FIVE.

There was not a very large attendance at the Wollaston caucus the reason being that there was no contest. The highest vote any delegate received was 43 and the lowest 36.

Edward E. Jameson, was chairman, and Eugene F. DeNormandie secretary. The tellers were A. L. Baker and Charles Finch, Jr.

The delegates elected are understood to be for Hon. John Shaw for Congress, Eugene H. Sprague for Senator, and probably for Frank E. Badger and Eben W. Sheppard for Representatives.

The list is:

WARD FIVE.

STATE,—Eugene H. Sprague, Walter S. Pinkham, Walter F. Nichols, Horace M. Willard.

THE TENTH FOR DR. PIERCE.

Is Leading Candidate With Only a Few Short of a Majority.

Dr. George B. Pierce, the Milton gentleman, is the leading candidate in the Tenth Congressional as will be seen by the following summary. He defeated Atwood in Ward 20 and 24 of Boston, and being the leading Anti-Atwood candidate it is probable that all will unite on him before the convention. It would not be surprising if he was nominated on the first ballot at Republican convention next week. The caucuses resulted as follows:

SPRAGUE LEADS IN DISTRICT.

He May Be Nominated for Senator on the First Ballot.

Allowing Mr. Woodsum of Braintree all the delegates that he claims in the First Norfolk district—Braintree, Holbrook, Randolph and Weymouth—he still lacks considerable of a majority, and the field is against him. Eugene H. Sprague has the solid Quincy delegation of 21 votes with him, and his friends believe he will secure the other eight votes upon the first or second ballot. He is the leading candidate today in the district without any doubt as the summary shows:

	Delegates.	Sprague.	Grover.	Woodsum.	Powers.	Campbell.

ANNIVERSARY WEEK
WILL BE CELEBRATED BY THE
Star Tea and Coffee Store,
OPPOSITE THE FOUNTAIN, QUINCY,
IN THE MOST GENEROUS MANNER FROM

MONDAY, Oct. 1st, to SATURDAY, Oct. 6th,

During which time everyone who purchases at one time $1.00 worth or more of goods (except flour and sugar) will be PRESENTED WITH A VALUABLE PACKAGE with the first dollar's worth or more purchased. This large package will contain a fancy box filled with our famous fresh ground Mocha and Java Coffee, a fancy box of Choice Tea a, fancy box of Candy, a beautiful Japanese Souvenir Box and a variety of samples. With every pound of Tea or two pounds of Coffee in the purchase, we will give in addition to the package above mentioned, a Cup and Saucer or Plate, or some other useful article. In addition to all these generous gifts, we will give a Discount of 10 per Cent. on all goods purchased amounting to $1.00 or more (except flour and sugar) at one time all through the week. No such marvellous opportunity as this was ever before given you to purchase a good supply of the

at prices far below anything you ever heard of in Quincy for the same quality, and we propose to keep it up for a week, regardless of cost to us. The gifts are worth about 40c. to every customer, and if you buy $5.00 worth you would save 50 cents in discounts besides the presents.

Four years ago our store was first opened, and we received the comforting assurance that we would not last more than two or three months, but thanks to the generous friendship extended to us by the good people of Quincy and the surrounding towns, we are not only "alive and kicking," but have grown to more than four times our original size with prospects good for still greater expansion. We are to have several DEMONSTRATIONS OF GREAT INTEREST on ANNIVERSARY WEEK that will be certain to draw crowds.

If you cannot visit the store during the GREAT WEEK, telephone us—137-5— and we will call, but it will pay you to keep this notice and visit our store just to see the new things we have and get a present.

CUT THIS OUT.

October 2, 3, 4 and 5—Brockton Fair.

This well known leader of all Fall Festivals will open its gates to the impatiently waiting public on Tuesday this year, instead of Wednesday, as in seasons past. It is needless to say that as usual this Fair will be alive with genuine novelties, and the Horse Show now more than promises to eclipse any similar show ever held in New England. Seats in the grand stand, seating 8,000 people, can be obtained by addressing E. M. Thompson, Treas., Brockton, Mass.

Political Potpourri.

The Scandinavian Republican club held a very largely attended meeting Monday evening at Wilson's hall. E. J. Sandberg presided, and nearly the whole evening was spent in discussing who the club should support in the caucuses Tuesday night. Before the discussion was finished, the club had decided which delegates to support for the several conventions. It was also decided that their conclusion should not be made public, but that Tuesday all would stand by the decision reached. The matter of forming a McKinley battalion was also considered but no definite action was taken.

Pleasant Gathering.

The temperance workers are active in Weymouth, for on September 19, a very pleasant gathering of the W. C. T. U., was held with Mrs. Myra Raymond, president of East Weymouth Union. All the Unions of the town were represented by officers and members, and President of Cottage City was present to report the good condition of the temperance work in that vicinity. Recitation, reading, and music furnished by members, showed their interest in the good work.

Gentlemen:—I must say in regard to GRAIN-O that there is nothing better or healthier. We have used it for years. My brother was a great coffee drinker. He was taken sick and the doctor said coffee was the cause of it, and told us to use GRAIN-O. We got a package but did not like it at first, but now would not be without it. My brother has been well ever since we started to use it.

A Big Minstrel Show.

Gus Sun's minstrels are indeed a big show. Few of the companies that play in small cities like Quincy have more than fifteen people, but this company has thirty-five. They travel in a Pullman car of their own, and not only give a minstrel show full of wit, singing and dancing, but a number of clever specialties as well. John Lynch, professionally known as "The Great Lynch," does some really remarkable feats on the wire, and Gus Sun with his juggling and balancing is not a whit behind him in skill. These, with the two big bands, with Yorkey, the comedian, Marion and Pearl the dancers, Lambert & Anderson the operatic vocalists, Ungent Bros., make up an eveningof unusual attractiveness. At noon Monday, October 1, the grand street parade will be held. Tickets for the performance in the evening, 25-35-50 cents—are now on sale at the Music Pall Pharmacy.

A MISTAKEN POLICY.

How Germany Regards the Attitude of the United States Toward China.

Situation Said to Be More Dangerous Than Ever.

Appointment of Prince Tuan as Grand Secretary Causes General Indignation.

Berlin, Sept. 26.—The German press continues to comment upon America's answer to the German note, taking the ground that the situation has been made more dangerous, and saddling the blame for this upon President McKinley. Several semi-official papers severely condemn the attitude of the United States. Others "explain" it by a reference to the difficulties in the Philippines.

Alarming news from China has reached the German government, but it will not be published now, as Germany intends to use it during the conference in Pekin. Field Marshal Von Waldersee has cabled to Emperor William direct that he has found the general situation much more dangerous than he had expected, as it has grown worse during the last fortnight, and the consuls in central and southern China are expecting a general uprising.

Admiral Von Bendemann has repeatedly cabled that the situation along the Yang-Tse-Kiang is very critical, and also expressing fears concerning the safety of Kiao-Chou.

The German foreign office has received official information of the appointment of Prince Tuan as grand secretary. In reply to an inquiry as to whether this indicated a serious turn in affairs, a high official of the foreign office said: "Undoubtedly it does for the powers that want to begin peace negotiations. The appointment means that Tuan is now at the helm and shows to what lengths the Chinese government will go in defying the powers."

The Cologne Gazette publishes a statement, evidently inspired, to the effect that, with the exception of Great Britain, all the powers have replied to the German note, and that all, with the exception of the United States, agree to Germany's proposal in essentials.

"The appointment of Prince Tuan as the head of the Chinese government may be regarded," says the Cologne Gazette, "as the first fruits of America's policy." The American note has evidently revived the courage of the Chinese and their cherished speculations regarding discord among the powers.

"The act of the empress dowager, in appointing Prince Tuan, is a slap in the face for the whole world, but China will deceive herself in this matter, as she has done in others. Even assuming that active work against China should be left to only a part of the powers, that part will be strong enough to impose its will in China, and any state standing aside would never think of opposing the work of justice undertaken by the others.

"There is no denying that Prince Tuan's appointment has brought about a change in the situation. Many powers will ask themselves whether it is possible to enter upon diplomatic negotiations with a state headed by a man strongly suspected of being guilty of the gravest breaches of international law."

The official added that Germany feels absolutely no bitterness over the answer of the United States, although she regards it as embodying a mistaken policy toward China. There has been no further exchange of views on the subject between Berlin and Washington since the reception of the American reply.

Germany's Possible Intentions.

London, Sept. 26.—The latest news from China indicates that events are rapidly drifting in the direction of war between China and Germany. There is the best reason for believing, says the Shanghai correspondent of The Morning Post, that Count Von Waldersee, on arriving at Taku, will present an ultimatum, demanding the surrender of five leaders of the anti-foreign rising. After a few hours' grace he will formally declare war, and, taking advantage of Germany's position as a belligerent, he will proceed to seize everything available with the German forces and fleet.

How Austria Feels About It.

Vienna, Sept. 25.—The Austrian press bitterly condemns the attitude of the United States toward China, attributing to the course of the Washington government the "arrogant defiance with which China is treating the allies." The opinion is that the upshot will be a war with China. The Fremdenblatt does not think that the defection of the United States will cause a lasting disturbance among the powers.

Thinks Germany's Proposal Is Just.

London, Sept. 26.—The Times, in an editorial says: The country would be both astonished and shocked if our government did not warmly support the German proposal. It is simply inconceivable that the British, of all governments, should refuse to accede to a proposal at once so reasonable and just.

Russians Take Another City.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 26.—The war office announces that General Sacharoff, the chief of the Russian general staff, captured Chu-Lan-Chen, near the Sungari river, Sept. 12, putting to flight 5000 Chinamen. It is added that the Russians sustained no casualties.

War at Whatever Cost.

London, Sept. 26.—The Shanghai correspondent of The Standard says: Chinese officials report that Prince Tuan has issued a secret edict to the effect that the imperial court has decided to continue the war against the powers at whatever cost.

Music For German Soldiers.

Berlin, Sept. 26.—The firm of Hohner & Co. has sent 6000 French harps to the German troops in China. The instruments bear Prince Bismarck's motto: "We Germans fear God and nothing else in the world."

VICTORY FOR TORPEDO FLEET.

Apparently Covered Itself With Glory In Second Night of Naval Maneuvers.

Newport, R. I., Sept. 26.—The second night of the naval maneuvers resulted, apparently, in an overwhelming victory for the torpedo fleet, which claims to have torpedoed every ship which it encountered.

The blockading fleet included the Kearsarge, Indiana, Texas, Scorpion and Eagle. It proceeded several miles out to sea, and drew up the line of blockade with long distances between the boats. The plan of the maneuvers for the night was an attack of the torpedo boats upon the blockading squadron, and an attempt by the inside fleet to run out. The Leyden was the only boat to make the attempt to run the blockade, and was held up by the Scorpion and put out of action. The blockaders evidently tried to avoid the attack, fearing the submarine boat Holland. They burned no lights, except as a torpedo boat was supposed to be approaching within attacking distance, when a searchlight was flashed out and then immediately turned off again. The torpedo boats had to look for their prey, and spent hours in the search. The Texas was far down to the westward, and the torpedo boats gave little attention to her, concentrating their attack on the other boats.

The Scorpion, which had fought the Leyden in the latter's attempt to run the blockade, was herself the first to be torpedoed by the little Gwynn, and was technically sunk after being chased for about 40 minutes. The Gwynn also successfully torpedoed the Eagle. Then she joined the Morris and Rodgers in an attack on the Kearsarge. The Rodgers was caught in the big battleship's searchlight and put out of action, but the Morris and Gwynn were up within torpedoing distance, and claimed a point against the Kearsarge. The Morris made an especially good mark. The Dahlgren had to go far out to sea in search of the Indiana, but found her finally, and claims to have got a torpedo into that vessel.

The torpedo fleet apparently covered itself with glory. Commander Masoh, commanding the torpedo station and the fleet of torpedo boats, claims that the torpedo boats gained a decided advantage, and were successful in torpedoing all the ships they met.

For Ambassadorship to Italy.

Boston, Sept. 26.—From Washington comes a rumor to the effect that Secretary Long has recommended to the president the appointment of President Eliot of Harvard university as ambassador to Italy, in place of ex-Governor Wolcott of Massachusetts, who has declined the offer of the position for personal and business reasons.

PRESIDENT ELIOT OF HARVARD

Investigating Millionaire's Death.

New York, Sept. 26—Coroner Hart is investigating the death of William Rice, a millionaire, who died Sunday night at an apartment house. Mr. Rice retired from active mercantile life 20 years ago. The inquiry of the authorities into the death of Mr. Rice was begun because early on Monday four checks calling for nearly $250,000 were presented at banking houses for payment. Two of the checks, one drawn for $135,000 and the other for $25,000, were certified without question, but payment on others were refused because of suspicious circumstances.

Jump Likely to Prove Fatal.

Lynn, Mass., Sept. 26.—Mrs. George E. Taylor jumped from a moving car and received injuries which will probably cause her death. A construction car was coming down a hill ahead of an electric car, and, fearing a collision, four women jumped from the car. None except Mrs. Taylor was injured. The construction car was stopped before it reached the other car.

Is on a Shooting Trip.

Halifax, Sept. 26.—Dr. Warren, the Newton, Mass., dentist, was located in this vicinity yesterday. He came here about 10 days ago, and registered at a hotel. Two days ago he left on a shooting trip. The manager of the hotel says the doctor during his stay at the hotel was perfectly rational. Dr. Warren is expected back from his shooting trip on Thursday.

To Answer Murder Charge.

Sydney, C. B., Sept. 26.—Chief of Police Herbert of Holyoke, Mass., accompanied by C. E. Bates of Clinton, Mass., has arrived here to identify an Italian arrested on suspicion of being a man wanted in Holyoke for murder. They saw the prisoner and are satisfied he is the fugitive. He will be taken back to Holyoke.

Three Motormen Hurt.

Milford, Mass., Sept. 26.—An electric car containing 11 passengers collided with a repair car about half way between this town and Holliston. The motormen of the cars and another motorman, who was on one of the cars, were badly injured. The passengers were badly shaken up.

No Smallpox at Port Nome.

Washington, Sept. 26.—Assistant Surgeon Earle, at Port Nome, Alaska, announces that the epidemic of smallpox there has been stamped out, the last patient having been discharged from the detention hospital. There were 24 cases and one death during the epidemic.

He Fell Sixty Feet.

Lawrence, Mass., Sept. 26.—Herman paper on the roof of a mill when he fell 60 feet to another roof, and was instantly Rother, a carpenter, was replacing tar killed.

The Truth

about women's ills can be frankly told by one woman to another.

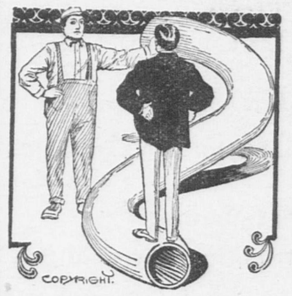

Remember that Mrs. Pinkham is a woman. Remember that her advice and medicine have cured a million women of weaknesses peculiar to their sex.

Remember that no man ever sees a letter written to Mrs. Pinkham for advice, that the letter is opened, read and answered by women, and no testimonial ever published without special permission.

Remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the recognized safeguard of woman's health.

Remember these things when some other remedy is suggested, and remember them when you want advice. Mrs. Pinkham's address is Lynn, Mass.

LAID FOR ROOSEVELT.

Mob at Victor, Col., Made Determined Assault Upon the Candidate.

Guard of Rough Riders Prevented Serious Injury.

Governor Was Struck With a Stick and a Big Crowd Engaged In General Fight.

Cripple Creek, Col., Sept. 27.—At Victor, a few miles from here, yesterday, Governor Rooseevlt had a narrow escape from serious personal violence. The incident was the only one of the kind that has occurred during the progress of the trip, and it is said that the trouble was occasioned by a small body of roughs, who had been organized and paid for the purpose of breaking up the meeting.

Governor Roosevelt had hardly begun speaking when he was interrupted by noisy demonstrations. He said: "In my state the men who were put on the committee on platform to draw up an anti-trust platform at the Kansas City convention had at that time their pockets stuffed with ice trust stock. The Democratic leader in New York, Richard Croker, upon whom you base your only hope—and it is a mighty slim hope, too—was another great stockholder, and if, in fact, you were to read through the List of stockholders in that trust, it would sound like reading the roll of the members of Tammany Hall."

A voice cried: "What about the rotten beef?"

The governor replied: "I ate it, and you will never get near enough to be hit with a bullet, or within five miles of it."

Governor Roosevelt succeeded in finishing his remarks, though there was an evident intention among those present that he should not do so.

When the governor left the hall with his party to go toward the train, he was surrounded by a company of rough riders, commanded by Sherman Bell, one of his own soldiers in the Spanish war. He was also accompanied by Curtis Guild, Jr., of Boston, Senator Wolcott and several others.

Governor Roosevelt and his party were on foot. A crowd of boys began throwing stones and shouting for Bryan. The rough riders, mounted and unmounted, closed in around the governor to protect him from assault by the mob. One man made a personal attack upon Governor Roosevelt, and succeeded in striking him a blow on the breast with a stick. The assailant was immediately knocked down by Daniel M. Sullivan, postmaster of Cripple Creek.

A rush was then made to drag the mounted men in khahki uniforms from their horses. The men on foot, also in khahki, closed around the governor, making a wedge which pushed through the crowd, and they finally succeeded in gaining the train, which was surrounded by the mob.

By this time there were probably 1500 excited people in the vicinity and fisticuffs were exchanged on all sides.

Many of the mob were armed with sticks and clubs, some with rotten potatoes, stale eggs and lemons. The entire party regained the train, however, without serious injury, and it pulled out of the place with the rough riders on the rear platform.

Governor Roosevelt, while regretting the incident, was not disturbed by the incident, and was ready to proceed with his speeches at Cripple Creek.

Governor Roosevelt spoke at three meetings in this city last night, all of which were indoor meetings and large, orderly and appreciative. In addition to Governor Roosevelt, Senators Wolcott and Lodge and others spoke.

Bryan Hears of It.

Nebraska City, Neb., Sept. 27.—Being shown a telegram to the effect that Theodore Roosevelt was assaulted at Victor, Col., by a mob of hired ruffians, Mr. Bryan wrote the following statement: "From what I know of the people of Colorado, I am not willing to believe without further evidence that they denied to Mr. Roosevelt or to any one else a fair hearing. If it proves true that he was mobbed, or in any way interfered with, I am sure that it was not the work of any political organization. There can be no justification for a resort to violence in this country, and those who resort to it injure the cause which they represent."

Bryan Talks on Starch Trust.

Nebraska City, Neb., Sept. 27.—W. J. Bryan spoke to a large crowd here last night. The speech had been looked forward to with much interest, because Mr. Bryan had announced that he would deal with the trust question, as affected by the suit instituted by Attorney General Smyth to annul the sale of the Argo Starch works of this city to the National Starch company, popularly known as the starch trust. There were not many unfriendly interruptions, but evidently some had been expected, for previous to the meeting the mayor of the city issued an order saying that there had been rumors of trouble, and warning against it. Mr. Bryan went into the local trust question at the very beginning of his speech, and spoke along the lines of previous arguments.

Gubernatorial Candidate Withdraws.

Grand Forks, N. D., Sept. 27.—At a meeting of the Republican state committee yesterday, a letter was read from Governor Fancher, who was renominated, in which he withdrew from the ticket by reason of bad health. The committee advanced Frank White, the candidate for lieutenant governor, to the first place, and put David Bartlett on in his stead.

Bold Work of Thugs.

Merced, Cal., Sept. 27.—County Treasurer Bambauer was held up late Tuesday night while on his way home, and forced, at the point of a pistol, to go to his office and open the vault containing the county funds. After securing $1500 or more and some papers, the thieves forced Bambauer into the vault and sprung the combination. The imprisoned man was discovered yesterday in an almost unconscious condition.

For Federation of Catholic Clubs.

New York, Sept. 27.—The Catholic Young men's National union, in convention here, decided to form a federation for the avowed purpose of influencing legislation and furthering the claims of people who embrace the Catholic faith. The idea of a federation of every Catholic club and society in the United States, to be formed by the appointment of delegates to attend a monster mass meeting in New York city on Nov. 29, was unanimously adopted by the convention.

A Lack of Enthusiasm.

London, Sept. 27.—The oratory of the parliamentary general election campaign continues on both sides with unabated energy. Owing, however, to the fact that the government leaders have decided to fight the election solely on the "khaki" issue, the speeches have degenerated into wearisome repetitions. Canvassers, both Conservative and Liberal, report that it is impossible to arouse the voters to any enthusiasm.

Big Tunnel Comparatively Completed.

St. Paul, Sept. 27.—President Hill of the Great Northern railroad has received word that the east and west crews in the immense bore under the Cascade mountains have met, and the tremendous task of boring out over two miles of granite has been accomplished. The average progress was from 18 to 20 feet per day.

Augusta, Me., Sept. 27.—The jury in the case of Thomas Nagle of Bath, charged with assault with attempt to murder Mate Seavey of the steamer Sagadahoc, reported that they were unable to agree, and were discharged. It is understood that they were evenly divided.

Paris, Sept. 27.—Le Journal says that an American lady, Miss Addie Selves, was robbed of a handbag containing jewels and a letter of credit for $5000, while in a hotel. The thief returned the letter of credit through the postoffice, explaining that he was unable to use it.

Miss Hanson Becomes Mrs. Woodford.

New York, Sept. 27.—General Stewart L. Woodford, former minister to Spain, was married to Miss Isabel Hanson yesterday. The wedding ceremony took place in the chapel of the First Presbyterian church. About 60 persons witnessed the ceremony.

Died Two Hours Apart.

Jacksonville, Fla., Sept. 27.—George F. Drew, the first Democratic governor of Florida after the war, died yesterday, aged 73 years. Two hours before his demise his wife passed away from the ernor Drew was born in Alton, N. H., in 1827.

GUILTY OF KILLING GOEBEL.

Jury Finally Agrees In Howard Case and Death Sentence is Pronounced.

Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 27.—James B. Howard, charged with being a principal in the assassination of William Goebel, was found guilty yesterday, the jury fixing his punishment at death. Howard did not lose his composure when the verdict calling for the extreme penalty of the law was read. After the jury had been discharged Howard was taken back to the jail, and here he called for a pen and paper, and wrote a long letter to his wife, during which tears coursed down his cheeks.

James Howard's case was taken up after the conviction of Powers, and he was charged with being in the executive building at the time Goebel was shot. Witnesses testified at the trial that they met the prisoner at the entrance of the building with a revolver in his hand, and others asserted that he had made threats and told of plots against Governor Goebel, while, on the other hand, witnesses for the defense showed a pretty strong alibi for Howard, and there was other evidence to show that Howard was not the man seen near the executive building. The jury had failed to agree on a verdict, but Judge Cantrill refused to discharge the body, and the verdict as mentioned in the foregoing is the result.

Boston, Sept. 27.—J. C. Risteen of this city, who is wanted here on a warrant charging him with the larceny of $500 from his employer, has been committed to an insane asylum in Brunswick, N. J. Risteen started for the bank one morning with the $500 belonging to his employer, and disappeared.

Drift of Opinion.

☞ It is one thing to go upon the platform to talk upon trusts and to denounce them in lurid language as evils and to pity the young man of today who has no opportunities, as Mr. Crooker does, but it is quite another thing to formulate law that will eradicate what evil there may be, leaving the good behind and at the same time protect the great manufacturing interests of the nation, without which the nation cannot be prosperous.—Brooklyn Times.

☞ The Cubans have again won credit by holding elections without fraud or violence, this time choosing delegates to the coming constitutional convention. It is perfectly natural that the majority of the delegates chosen should be in favor of the Cuban independence which was declared to be the island's when the United States made war with Spain. Whenever a people get imbued with the idea of independence, they are apt to nurse it until their country has been drenched with blood in the unsuccessful endeavor to obtain it.—Springfield Republican.

☞ One sign of the continued prosperity of the country may be seen just now in the great number of applications for tuition at the different colleges and techical schools of New England. From some points come reports that probably all previous records are to be broken in the size of the freshman classes which will begin or have begun work this month. The average American desires to give to his children the best education that his purse will permit. Hence, when there is a sudden rush of students to American colleges, it may fairly be taken as a sign that things are prospering in this country, and that the average family is richer than before. This does not fit very well with Mr. Bryan's theory that all the money in the country is in the hands of a very few; but politicians do not make facts. Occasionally they ignore them, but they cannot change them.—Boston Advertiser.

Hurdy Gurdy Party.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Metcalf of Wollaston Park held a hurdy gurdy party at the summer residence of Mr. and Mrs. George Winslow, East Elm avenue on Monday evening, to which a number of friends from Boston, City Point and Wollaston were present. The party was a kind of wind up of the season, as Mr. Winslow and family return to their winter home today. A hurdy gurdy furnished the music throughout the evening. Dancing and singing were enjoyed. Among those present were: Mr. A. Amsden, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Cass, Mr. and Mrs. Godfrey, Mrs. M. G. Spiller, Mr. G. Robbins, Mr. E. Robbins, Mr. W. Richie, Mrs. M. E. Higgins, Mr. and Mrs. William Chase and Mr. C. F. Cleaves. Refreshments were served and the happy party broke up at an early hour, wishing all many happy returns.

Five new cases of diphtheria were reported to the Board of Health from West Quincy Tuesday. Four of the cases were in one family on West street.

UNITED ON PIERCE.

No Doubt Now of His Nomination in Tenth.

Has Remarkable Lead Over All Others.

Will Probably Have Majority on First Ballot.

The remarkable showing of Dr. Pierce as a Congressional candidate in the Tenth district, and the meagre support of Mr. Atwood are surprises of the Republican caucuses in the district. Dr. Pierce secured 47 pledged delegates in the caucuses and needs but 8 more to obtain the nomination, which is now almost a certainty. On the other hand the Atwood strength is but 23, he receiving but 16 delegates outside of Quincy. Mr. Shaw of Quincy and ex-Alderman Paige of Boston are each credited with 14 votes, and Senator Towle with 10.

With the district so well united on Dr. Pierce, where there were so many candidates in the field, the Republicans have a grand opportunity to get together and not only nominate him as their candidate but by hearty work elect him a member of the next Congress. The nomination of Dr. Pierce should be made by acclamation.

The Post has a very fair summary of the situation. It says today: "The contest for the Tenth Congressional Republican nomination is not settled by any means as a result of the caucuses, and the candidates will be obliged to go into the convention to settle the matter.

"Dr. Pierce lacks eight votes to nominate, and it is likely he will receive them from the Shaw forces, who control fourteen votes, which would make the doctor a certainty for the nomination.

"Yesterday Dr. Pierce's managers took a trip to Quincy and had an interview with John Shaw, but no definite result was reached. It is likely, however, that when the convention is held the fourteen delegates will on the first ballot vote for Shaw, after which they will go for Doctor Pierce. The reason for this is due to the fact that Atwood put opposing delegations in Quincy in opposition to Shaw, while the Pierce managers refused to do this and kept their agreement.

"In the Atwood column there is likely to be a break, as there are fourteen delegates in South Boston that are favorable to Milton C. Paige, who is one of the numerous dark horses in the race.

"There is also some talk of the Atwood forces going over to Towle, but so long as Atwood has a possible chance he will remain in the contest, which he considers is not yet settled.

"There will be a meeting of the district committee today at 4 o'clock to decide upon the time and place of holding the convention, and the Atwood men claim that before it is held they will have the nomination bottled up. Pierce's managers claimed last night that they were sure of the nomination, while Towle and Paige are expecting the lightning to strike them. The way the situation stands is seen from the following summary:

Of Interest to All

The Brockton Fair is an amusement enterprise that has an interest for every one, from the city bred man to his country cousin. All the old time "cattle show" features are retained, from the fat, yellow pumpkin, and sleek, gentle-eyed cow to the poultry that cackle and crow behind the old barn at home. The mammoth exhibition hall is filled with articles of handiwork, from the crazy quilt of song and story to dainty china, and includes an art department of rare excellence. The merry "Midway" with its funny sights, its wild men, $10,000 Beauties, games and jolly fakirs is an attraction in itself. Then the Horse Show with its equines, races of all kinds, stage shows, music by three bands, and many other novelties. "Something going on all the time," is the keynote of the success of this big show. The addition of new attractions does not mean the curtailment of some others. The management are always on the lookout for something new and novel, and they always get it, with the result that each year's show is bigger and better than the preceding one. The dates of the fair this year are October 2, 3, 4 and 5, commencing Tuesday instead of Wednesday, as in former years.

Subway Not Abandoned.

The Post says: Officials of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad ridicule the published report that the South station subway has practically been abandoned because it has been found inexpedient to introduce the third rail system.

When asked about the matter yesterday, General Manager Chamberlain said that while it has not been determined just what system of propulsion will be used in the subway, or what time it will be put to use, there is no probability whatever that it will be abandoned.

There are a good many things to be done, he said, before the subway can be put into operation. In any event, he says, there is no urgent immediate need of the subway being operated.

It is believed in some well-informed quarters that some modification of the overhead trolley system will finally be adopted by the company in connection with this part of the terminal system.

Well Known Odd Fellow.

Frank W. Folsom, a long and well known resident of West Quincy, died this morning, after a lingering illness of consumption, at the age of 49 years. Mr. Folsom was a stone cutter by trade but poor health has prevented his working at his trade for some time. He was prominently identified with the Odd Fellow fraternity. He was a charter member of Mt. Wollaston lodge, had passed through the chairs and was a member of the Grand lodge, and had served one term as Deputy Grand Master. He was also a Past Chief Patriarch of Manet Encampment, and also a past deputy and a member of George L. Gill Rebekah lodge. The funeral will be held on Friday.

Milton Democrats.

The Democratic caucus at Milton Wednesday evening elected these delegates:

State, Francis E. Cabot, Stephen A. Meagher, John R. Lawrence.

County, Edward J. Duffy, George E. Nelson, James H. Barry.

Councillor, John Kerwin, Daniel F. Coakley, James Leary.

Congressional, Maurice A. Duffy, Eugene Gallagher, John Pierce.

Senatorial, Merrill H. Brown, John C. Casey, Charles G. Gallagher.

Representative, Joseph A. Shea, Charles A. Donavan, William N. Eaton, Matthew A. Welch, John Pierce, Hugh Feenan.

Town Committee, Maurice A. Duffy, Eugene Gallagher, Joseph A. Shea, Charles A. Donavan, John R. Lawrence, Hugh Feenan, George E. Nelson, John C. Casey, Edw. Diskin, Peter O'Neill.

Mr. Shaw Hopeful.

The Boston Journal reports the following interview with Hon. John Shaw of Quincy, when asked as to what disposition he would make of his 14 delegates: "My delegates will stand by me. As Mr. Atwood made war on me in Quincy and carried away two wards, he will likewise have to make peace with me. A visit from him on this errand would be greatfully accepted. We could come to a friendly settlement. Mr. Atwood does not want to see Dr. Pierce nominated, and vice versa. Mr. Towle, of course, does not want either of them selected, so they can fix up in a friendly matter with me, as I hold the balance of power and will be nominated."

Not in the Fight.

Walter H. Ripley takes exceptions to the statement in the report of the Ward Four Republican caucus, that it was a fight between the Burke and Ripley factions. Mr. Ripley says that such was not the case, and that he had nothing whatever to do in the making up of the lists and took no part in the caucus other than to vote. He further says that both lists of delegates were unpledged and would work for any Republican who should receive the nomination

The cottages not already closed at Houghs Neck will probably be closed this week as the change of time on the street cars does not accommodate those who might care to stay longer. SENATOR SPRAGUE.

The Quincy Man Practically Sure of Nomination.

Senator Woodsum has apparently over-rated his strength in the district, and instead of 19 as claimed he will have considerable less. Twenty-nine votes will be necessary for the nomination, and Eugene H. Sprague of Quincy has 21 without going out of the city. He is sure of outside votes, and if he gets 27 he can block the nomination of any other candidate, as the winner

EUGENE H. SPRAGUE,
Candidate for Senator.

must have 29, and 29 from 57 the total number leaves but 26 for all others. It is unlikely that any of the other candidates will go to Woodsum, who has already had two terms, because it will only delay their turn. As it looks today Eugene H. Sprague has 21 delegates, Woodsum of Braintree 11, Grover of Canton 9, Powers of Hyde Park 8, and Nevins of Weymouth 8. If either of these candidates unite with the Quincy man he will be nominated.

The Senatorial delegates elected by the Randolph Democrats have no preference for candidate.

The Board of Registrars of Voters added 124 names to the voting lists Wednesday evening. of this number 71 were new names and 53 were restored.

Ex-Mayor Sears was among the speakers in the interest of his former partner, Hon. Samuel L. Powers, who is a candidate for Congress from the eleventh district, Monday evening at Roxbury and Brighton.

Sample ballots of tonight's Democratic caucuses were issued this morning.

In Quincy, Too.

The Herald says editorially: The caucus in ward 24 of this city on Tuesday evening was an enormous one. There were cast at it no less than 2339 ballots. At the largest Republican caucus ever held there previously but 1496 votes were cast. It is said by those familiar with the faces of the ward voters that probably 500 of those participating in this caucus were Democrats. The charge is freely made that these were brought in in the interest of Candidate Atwood. Those who know Candidate Pierce are entirely confident that he would not engage in such work.

With all this effort Mr. Atwood was defeated, and the ward sends a full Pierce delegation by a majority of over 200. This introduction of Democratic voters in Republican caucuses is evidence of demorialization of both parties—demoralzation on the part of Democrats who go there and of Republicans who carry them and allow their voting. In the latter instance the Republicans claimed that the Democrats so swarmed that it was impossible to deal with them. In the Brighton ward on the same evening it is claimed that nearly, if not quite, the entire Democratic party was in the Republican caucus.

Lalapaloosa Club.

Editors of the Ledger:

Such a long time since we have heard anything about the Lalapaloosa club. But I have recently talked with one, and he informs me that the word is Greek and has three different meanings "Lala," meaning "boys," "Pa," "old men," and "Loosa," "let loose."

Now, I think the combination a good one and fitly applied. He also tells me they are banded together and number strong, and they intend electing a Mayor and Council at the coming election who will favor the widening of all streets where the Brockton Street railway pass through to give them room to put in more turnouts. What is forty or fifty thousand dollars compared to having our names go down in posterity as a generous people even in our tax bill. Of course this information may not be reliable, but all good citizens of Quincy will be glad to know of such a worthy movement on the part of this illustrious combination club, and no doubt will do all in their power to help them. Citizen.

Hingham Fair.

Twenty-five hand engines competed Tuesday for the prices offered by the Hingham Agricultural society for the best squirts. Weymouth had three engines entered and Braintree two, Weymouth was not fortunate enough to secure one of the coverted prizes, but the Union of Braintree secured third prize, with 180 feet, 4 3-4 inches to her credit.

Quite a high wind prevailed during the early part of the day and poor plays were made. Later in the afternoon, however, the wind died down and those who were fortunate enough to be on the list had the best chance.

The playout commenced at 11.30 and each tub was allowed ten minutes to make ready, play and get out.

The City of Somerville secured the first prize. Other winners in their order were:

Mechanics of Warren, R. I., Union of East Braintree, Protector of Brockton and Gardner of Gardner.

Play Ball.

The West Quincy base ball club will wind up the season on Saturday by playing a game with a combination team, composed of players from the Holbrook, Quincy, Randolph and Weymouth teams. The game will be a benefit one for the West Quincy players, who have made a very credible record this season, having won 18, lost 4, and tied 1, out of 23 games played; the last 10 were straight victories.

The team was handicapped at the start by being unable to secure a suitable pitcher, but at last they succeeded in getting a first-class man and defeated all competitors; among them being such teams as the Olympias, City Points, Waverlys, Randolphs, Elliotts, Quincy A. A., Cambridge A. A., and Institutes of Roxbury; the latter being defeated 15 to 0.

Two of the contests lasted for 12 innings; the one with Holbrook resulting in a tie and the one with City Point a victory; but the clubs greatest feat was on July 4 at the Clan-Na-Gail picnic when they defeated the Nationalists. Div. 10, A. O. H., of Everett and the Waverlys winning the $75 prize.

The game Saturday will be called at 3:30 sharp and an exciting contest is promised.

Runaway.

There was a lively runaway Tuesday afternoon and several narrow escapes from injury by ladies who happened to be on the street. The horse which was attached to a two wheel gig and owned by Henry Lavelle, started from the Cranch school on Whitwell street. He came down Granite street and turning into Hancock street started for Neponset. E. J. Sandberg started after the runaway, but was unable to overtake him until near the High school. Here two teachers who had just alighted from a car were directly in the path of the runaway, and it seemed as though they would be run over. Mr. Sandberg got along side of the team and forced the runaway onto the sidewalk just clearing the two teachers. The team struck a pole and was demolished and the horse continued down Hancock street until stopped near Merrymount park.

Golf at Newton.

F. F. H. Smith and W. U. Swan of the Wollaston club were defeated in the second round for the Braeburn golf cup, and E. A. Mulliken fell a victim in the third round, leaving no Wollaston players. In the consolation division W. K. Farrington was defeated by Gordon A. Noyes, but R. R. Freeman won from W. Wadsworth, and in the second round from A. C. Hill. For the blasted hopes cup both Farrington and Smith won in the first round.

MAY BE BENT ON WAR.

Attitude of Germany Is Considered Ominous by Officials at Washington.

Conger Has Not Yet Received His Peace Instructions.

Administration Has Important Matters to Consider Before Reaching Conclusions.

Washington, Sept. 27.—In administration circles the ominous character of the German policy toward China is the chief topic. It looks as if Germany would not accept a money indemnity, but would, using the death of her ambassador as a pretext, so shape events as to bring about a war with China, as a result of which a slice of territory would be her only adequate compensation.

The kaiser feels that his grievance against China is much more serious than any of the other powers, and apparently does not care to settle it by diplomacy. It is thought that Germany will stand alone in her policy, with all the other powers preferring a more pacific program. How far the United States ought to go in resisting the apparent purpose of Germany is something that is now being carefully consndered. This has become the diplomatic aspect of the Chinese difficulty, and it is a most trying one.

It is apparent that our government is again in a waiting attitude, after having made the important move toward a reduction of the American troops in China.

General Chaffee had not received the department's instructions when he sent his message made public yesterday, but without doubt now has it in hand. His offer to escort Li Hung Chang was in conformity with the expressed purpose of the state department to facilitate in every proper manner the journey of the Chinese viceroy to Pekin. Still, it is now regarded as just as well that the offer was declined and the responsibility for Li's safety left with the Russians.

The instructions to Minister Conger to establish relations with Li and Prince Ching is still held up here. It is beginning to appear that the purpose of the delay is to ascertain more clearly the plans of the powers in whose interest, as well as in our own, Mr. Conger was to endeavor to bring about negotiations for a settlement. If it shall appear that there is a disposition on the part of any considerable portion of them to reject in advance the well-meant efforts of the United States government to bring about a conference and negotiations in which they could participate on equal terms with our own government with the purpose of terminating the Chinese difficulties, then Mr. Conger's instructions may require recasting. It might be regarded as useless for him to arrange for a meeting of the powers with China, which the former do not care to attend, owning to entirely different purposes from those animating the United States, and there probably is no disposition to subject our minister to humiliation by a flat failure which might be anticipated.

It also is possible that the news relative to the advancement of Prince Tuan to a position where he might influence the negotiations is regarded as worthy of attention, and that our government may delay proceedings as long as he stands in the way. The state department has not been officially informed of Prince Tuan's promotion.

Worried Over England's Attitude.

Berlin, Sept. 27.—The correspondent of the Associated Press in Berlin showed the German foreign office a private dispatch from London asserting that Lord Salisbury had stated that the reply of the British government to the German note would agree with that of the United States. The foreign office thereupon reiterated the statement that this assertion was positively false. This repeated emphasizing publicly of the non-receipt of a formal answer has deepened the impression that the German foreign office still clings to the hope of winning England over. The papers, takng their cue from the foreign office, flatly deny that Great Britain is arrayed with the United States against the German proposal.

As the Thunderer Views It.

London, Sept. 27.—The Times, dealing editorially with the attitude of Washington, says: This is not calculated to smooth the path of the powers. If the United States government withdraws its troops, it will virtually leave the American legation under the protection of the powers with whom the United States declines to co-operate. America must be aware that no legation, with only a guard to defend it, would long be safe under a Chinese government including Prince Tuan and the other Boxer leaders.

Honored For Hatred of Foreigners.

London, Sept. 27.—From Shanghai comes the announcement that an imperial edict confers posthumous honors on the anti-foreign high commissioner, Li Ping Heng, who committed suicide after the evacuation of Tung-Chow, and Duke Chung Yi, the late emperor's father-in-law, who killed himself after the emperor and empress regent left Pekin.

Policy of Wholesale Destruction.

London, Sept. 27.—The Times prints correspondence from Niu-Chwang declaring that the Russians have killed indiscriminately between 1500 and 2000 Boxers and Chinese civilians, men, women and children, both inside and outside of the walls. The correspondent adds that from all sides come reports of the violation of women.

Anti-Foreign Demonstrations.

London, Sept. 27.—Describing the disorders in the vicinity of Canton, the Hong Kong correspondent of The Times says: The American church in the suburbs of Canton has been destroyed, and the Catholic church at To-Kam-Hang and the foreign cemetery there have been desecrated.

CITY BREVITIES.

A Local Budget with the News in a Nut Shell.

A sidewalk curbing is being put in on Phipps street.

A pension of $6 was this week granted to John V. Mead of Quincy.

Quincy horsemen have been very much in evidence at Readville this week.

The collection last Sunday at the corner stone laying at St Mary's church amounted about $1,300.

It looks now as though the new Atlantic depot would be occupied fully as soon as that at Quincy.

The L'Union France Americaine are arranging for their fourth annual dance which will be held next month.

The Foundation of the new Pinel block on the corner of Franklin and Water streets is about completed.

There was a large crowd about City Hall Wednesday evening, and the Registrars of Voters were kept busy all the evening.

The Epworth League of the West Quincy Methodist church attended the meeting of the Pilgrim Union at Dorchester on Monday night.

Nearly all of the trees on the north side, of that part of Copeland street which is to be widened have been removed, and many of the fences have been set back to the new line.

Firemen's muster again today at the Weymouth fair. It looked this morning as though they would have water enough outside of that thrown by the engines.

The new management of the Quincy Department store propose to live up to what they advertise, and already report good results from the advertising which commenced yesterday.

It would appear from the advertisement of the Star Tea and Coffee store that Messrs. Haywards are to give away everything next week. Certainly they offer a great inducement for trade, and we are confident they will do as they say.

Put Over to Next Spring.

Edgartown, Mass., Sept. 26.—A grand jury has returned an indictment against Samuel P. Huxford for forging endorsements to two notes of $500 and $200, respectively, and for uttering and passing a forged note. The case was continued until next spring, as counsel was not fully prepared. Huxford was taken to jail in default of $1000 bail.

Shooting Scrape In Connecticut.

Canaan, Conn., Sept. 26.—Merritt Harris was shot and, probably, seriously wounded by William Canfield, a lime manufacturer at East Canaan, by whom Harris was employed, because of alleged clandestine meetings between Mrs. Canfield and Harris.

Welsh Rarebit Wins at Hartford.

Hartford, Sept. 26.—The 20-mile paced race here between Jimmy Michael and Burns Pierce was won by Michael by just one mile, in 35:29. Michael had the race easily his own way.

Four Indictments Against Champion.

Alfred, Me., Sept. 26.—The York county grand jury has reported four indictments, charging murder, against George H. Champion. All the murders were committed June 11 at West Newfield, Vt., when George W. Goodwin, Scott C. Goodwin, Fred Bertsch and Mrs. Elsie N. Horne were killed, and then burned with the farmhouse.

Trusts Are Blamed For It.

Berlin, Sept. 26.—A statement is published showing that since April last 30 leading stocks have fallen on the bourse between 30 and 65 percent, while prices for the necessaries of life, including sugar, milk, coal, cocoa, soap and paper, have risen considerably, owing, in part, it is contended, to the formation of trusts.

Jurors Hung Up In Howard Case.

Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 26—The jury in the case of Jim Howard, on trial for the murder of Governor Goebel, reported that it had been unable to reach a verdict. Judge Cantrill did not discharge the jury, and it will report again. It is generally believed that the jury is hopelessly hung up.

Dead Man Put Away.

New York, Sept. 26.—Richard Deltzel, the burglar against whom a dozen charges of robbery are on file, and who pleaded guilty to having shot a policeman of South Orange, N. J., was sentenced by Judge Skinner at Newark to 10 years imprisonment at hard labor.

Bombay Spinners Badly Off.

London, Sept. 26.—The cotton crisis, according to the Bombay correspondent of The Daily Express, is paralyzing the Bombay spinners, who had hoped to purchase cheaply on a full crop. Prices are rising, 35 mills have closed, and others are restricting their output.

NO PROGRESS IS MADE

In Various Propositions of Settlement of Miners' Strike by Arbitration.

Employes of Markles Dissatisfied With the Wage Scale.

Vote to Work, Pending Negotiations, but Many May Decide to Remain Out.

Hazleton, Pa., Yesterday was the 10th day of the miners' strike, and as yet there is no indication of surrender or concession on either side. In fact, no overtures looking to a settlement of the differences have been made by either the strike leaders or the mine operators. Various propositions of a settlement by arbitration have been put forward by persons not directly connected with the mining business, but thus far practically no progress has been made in this direction.

A most noteworthy feature of the strike is the remarkably good behavior of the strikers up to this time, especially when it is considered that the claim is made that upwards of 100,000 mine workers are idle in the anthracite region.

Affairs were quiet yesterday throughout the region. A shooting affray occurred near Scranton, in which three men were wounded, but the participants, who were Italians, were all strikers, and the affray had no direct connection with the present strike.

The crisis at the mines of G. B. Markle & Co. has been reached. There are many expressions among the men of dissatisfaction against some of the firm's answers to their demands. The principal grievance of the men is the wage scale. They ask for only about half of what the United Mine Workers are demanding. Operations at the Markle collieries were suspended yesterday, so that the employes could hold a meeting to discuss the firm's answer. The meeting was held in the forenoon, and in the afternoon the committee, composed of employes of the several Markle mines, with the exception of Ebervale, which is completely tied up, made known to the firm the decision of the employes. They accepted the firm's proposition in regard to the hoisting of men from the slope, acquiesced in the refusal to pay the engineers by the hour, and want to arbitrate all the other grievances, excepting those relating to semi-monthly pay and the location of the powder houses, which have been adjusted by the answer of Markle & Co.

The men also decided to remain at work pending the arbitration negotiations, and agreed to ask the firm to "deduct from the pay of each family that returns to work their quota for the payment of the arbitrator selected by the men."

Judging only by the talk of the men, it looks as if a considerable number of men will not go to work. The force of men at each of the Markle slopes is now very short-handed. The firm, for the time being, refuses to discuss anything in connection with its future actions.

With regard to the general strike situation in the Lehigh valley, it cannot be said that many great gains were made on either side yesterday. Some who quit work Tuesday at the Coxe, Tomhicken, Derringer and Gowen mines, returned yesterday. The Lehigh Valley Coal company reports more men working yesterday than at any time since the strike began.

The labor leaders claim accessions to their ranks from both the mines at Eckley and Lattimer.

The daily production of coal in the district is steadily decreasing.

Forced to Lay Off.

New York, Sept. 27.—As a direct consequence of the strike among the coal miners of Pennsylvania many men are idle in Weehawken, N. J. Superintendent Smith of the Delaware and Hudson Coal Supply company laid off the last of his employes yesterday. In all 265 men, who were earning $2.25 a day, are laying idle. Superintendent Raphillia of the Erie coal dock last night told the men left on his force of workmen that there was at present no more work for them to do. There were about 125 men employed in these yards.

Strikers Have Ample Funds.

Philadelphia, Sept. 27.—Secretary R. T. Mitchell of the Allied Building Trades' council of this city has received a letter from President Mitchell of the United Mine Workers, declining for the present a proffer of financial aid for the striking mine workers. President Mitchell in his reply stated that no financial aid was likely to be needed for some time.

Verdict In Strikers' Death.

Shenandoah, Pa., Sept. 27.—The inquest in the case of John Konitskie, the Polander killed last Friday during the attack by striking miners on the sheriff and deputies, was finished last night. The jury rendered a verdict that Konitskie's death was caused by a stray bullet from a pistol in the hands of one of the sheriff's posse.

Conference of Coal Road Presidents.

New York, Sept. 27.—Presidents of the coal roads were present at a conference held in the office of J. P. Morgan & Co. Nothing could be learned, except the bare announcement that no settlement has been reached in the existing difference between the coal operators and their miners.

Objections to Non-Union Men.

Tampa, Sept. 27.—A general strike has been ordered in the cigar factory of Sanchez & Hoya, and Arguelles, Lopez & Bro. About 1000 persons were thrown out of employment. The strike grew out of the employment of three non-union men.

A Suicide Identified.

Fall River, Mass., Sept. 27.—A man found dead in a room at the McKinley House, from asphyxiation, has been identified as Guiseppe Diviala, the missing witness in the Barrington, R. I., murder case, now being delayed while the officers were searching for Diviala.

THE NAVAL MANEUVERS.

Board Renders Decisions as to the Claims Made by the Participating Vessels.

Newport, R. I., Sept. 27.—The decisions of the naval board on the maneuvers of Monday night and Tuesday night, and the different claims of the torpedo boats were made public last night, and the feature is the allowing of that of the Stellitto having torpedoed the Massachusetts. The board decided that the little torpedo boat had had time to successfully launch a torpedo, having been under fire only a minute. The claim of the Leyden's ramming the Kearsarge is disallowed on the ground that the Leyden was beyond the field of action. Both of these movements took place Monday night.

The claim that the Dahlgren torpedoed the Indiana during the maneuvers Tuesday night is also disallowed. It was shown that the Dahlgren had already torpedoed the Kearsarge, and in so doing had been sunk. Owing to a mistake of her umpire, however, she was allowed to continue on and during that time met the Indiana. The Leyden, during the action Tuesday night, was sent out to draw the fire of the blockading fleet, during which time she was captured by the Scorpion and Eagle, but these two boats were almost immediately torpedoed by the smallest boat of the fleet, the Gwyn. The Scorpion and Eagle were sunk, while the Gwyn escaped.

The Holland's claim of having sunk the Kearsarge is also disallowed. The board decided that the battleship had already been sunk when the Holland met her coming in, only five miles south of the lightship. The commander-in-chief, however, warmly commended the bravery of the officers and crew of the Holland, and the boat was in constsant danger of being sunk by the other boats.

Boers Realize That End Has Come.

Lourenzo Marquez, Sept. 27.—Evidences of utter rout marked the retirement of the Boers along the line of the railroad toward Portuguese territory. Their whole line of retreat was strewn with broken guns, damaged ammunition and the debris of loot, which they destroyed rather than allow it to fall into the hands of the British. Ruined bridges and burned farmhouses showed the temper of the burghers. Hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth of property was destroyed in the last few days of the Boer retreat. This wholesale destruction, especially as regards artillery, shows beyond doubt that the burghers have given up all hope even of prolonging the struggle.

A Walkover For Thayer.

Worcester, Mass., Sept. 27.—John R. Thayer of this city, the Democratic candidate for renomination as congressman from the Third district, not only succeeded in obtaining that honor last night, but he administered to his opponent, James H. Mellen, also of Worcester, a political drubbing such as was never equalled before in this section. Of the 81 delegates to the convention, which were chosen last night, Thayer has 74 to his credit, while Mellen must be content with only 7. Thayer has 21 more votes than are necessary to nominate him in the convention.

Death of Noted Jurist.

Rochester, Sept. 27.—James C. Smith, for many years one of the best-known justices of the supreme court of this state, died at his home in Canandaigua, aged 84 years. He was born in Phelps, this state, in 1817. He was a member of the famous peace commission which met in Washington a short time before hostilities broke out between the north and the south, and in 1862 was appointed to the supreme bench. He served in this capacity until 1887, when his term expired by age limit.

Inspected Gotham Tube Service.

New York, Sept. 27.—The commission recently appointed to report on the proposed extension of the pneumatic tube service for the mails arrived here from Boston Tuesday night, and spent yesterday in looking into the workings of the system in this city. Later most of the members left for Washington, where their official report will be made.

Crew Nearly All Saved.

Coronel, Chili, Sept. 27.—The French bark General De Charette, from Swansea for San Francisco, struck on a rock in the strait of Le Maire, at the southern extremity of South America, on Sept. 3, and foundered. Her crew with the exception of two members, landed safely at Band Point.

Bryan's Courtesy to Roosevelt.

Lincoln, Neb., Sept. 27.—Before leaving for Nebraska City last evening, Mr. Bryan, in a note to the press, requested that his political friends remove his picture from the windows on Oct. 2, as a matter of courtesy to Colonel Roosevelt, who visits the city on that day.

A Victim of Yellow Fever.

Havana, Sept. 27.—Dr. Lazear, one of the three medical experts who came to Havana to study yellow fever, died yesterday of that disease. Of the other two, Dr. Carroll contracted the fever, but has recovered, and Dr. Reed has returned to the United States.

Explosion Unaccounted For.

North Lawrence, Me., Sept. 27.—A 45-horse-power boiler in the sawmill of Albert Fisher exploded and, although there were several men close by, only one was hurt, and he escaped with slight injury. The cause of the explosion is unknown.

Died While at Work.

Lexington, Mass., Sept. 27.—Byron F. Howard, employed as a farmhand by Warren Davis, was found dead in a field. It is believed that Howard, who was engaged only a week ago, lived in Winchester, N. H., and owned some property there.

Pleasure Resort In Ruins.

New Haven, Sept. 27.—The Schuetzen park property, consisting of a hotel, dwelling house, pavillion and several other buildings, were burned, causing a loss of $15,000. The property was owned by a brewery company.

Two Hundred Years Old.

New Haven, Sept. 27.—Yale university opened for its 200th year today, and last night the annual historic rush between the sophomores and the freshman classes was held, and won by the sophomore class.

ACTIVITY OF INSURGENTS

Keeping the American Troops Engaged In Skirmishes In the Philippines.

Manila, Sept. 27.—On Monday night a vigorous insurgent attack was made upon the United States outposts 12 miles south of Manila, the scene of the fighting last October. It is estimated that the rebels numbered 400, and they were armed with rifles. The inhabitants took refuge in the churches. The Americans have since energetically dispersed the enemy, killing and wounding 50.

A party of scouts belonging to the Twenty-fifth infantry landed on the Island of Samar, the inhabitants and insurgents fleeing to the mountains. They met with but slight resistance, and burned a town.

Tuesday night there was outpost firing at Paeto, Pagsanjan, and Santa Cruz, in Laguna province.

It is reported that an American scouting party developed a body of insurgents in the province of Nueva Ecija, two skirmishes ensuing, in which 12 of the natives were killed. Similar brushes have taken place near Indang and Silang, in Cavite province, and near Iba and Subig, in Zambales province, the Americans having two killed and three wounded.

Advices from the island of Leyte say that General Mejica's bands have been scattered and demoralized by Major Henry Tallen of the Forty-third infantry, who has vigorously pursued the insurgents into the mountains, capturing many and taking a quantity of money, rifles, ammunition and stores.

On the Diamond.

Boston, Sept. 27.—Boston made it three straight from New York. Thinking the game was clinched, Captain Davis substituted Matthewson for Seymour in the fifth inning. He was driven from the box in the eighth inning, and Mercer replaced him.

Officer Killed by Drunken Man.

Santiago, Sept. 27.—Shortly before midnight, Colonel Pavon of the Cuban army was killed in the Cafe Commercio by Octavio Mena. Mena and one of his companions were intoxicated. It was proposed that they should practice revolver shooting at a quarter of a dollar tossed into the air. Coolnel Pavon intervened, and a sharp controversy ensued. This quickly developed into a furious quarrel, and Mena shot Colonel Pavon. In civil life Pavon was a tobacco merchant at Holguin. Mena is in jail.

The Scamp Meets Defeat.

Greenwich, Conn., Sept. 27.—The race for the championship of the United States for race-about yachts, between Jolly Rogers, owned by B. D. Crowninshield of Boston, and Scamp, owned by Johnson De Forrest of New York, was sailed yesterday in the sound off Greenwich, and was won by the Jolly Rogers. The prize was to go to the winner of two out of three races, and the Jolly Rogers took two races in succession. The race was sailed over a 10-mile course.

Christening of the Decatur.

Richmond, Sept. 27.—The torpedo boat destroyed Decatur, one of the largest vessels of its class in the navy, was launched at the William R. Trigg company's shipyards here. Miss Mayo of Norfolk, a direct descendant of Commodore Decatur, after whom the vessel is named, smashed the customary bottle of champagne across the bow of the vessel.

Genesee Pure Food Co., Le Roy, N. Y.:

Dear Sirs:—Some days since a package of your GRAIN-O preparation was left at my office. I took it home and gave it a trial, and I have to say I was very much pleased with it, as a substitute for coffee. We have always used the best Java and Mocha in our family, but I am free to say I like the GRAIN-O as well as the best coffee I ever drank.

SETTLEMENT IN SIGHT.

Operators Said to Be Willing to Grant an Increase In Miners' Wages,

But Won't Arbitrate Differences Through Mitchell.

Refusal of Recognition of Union Will Not Be Difficult Obstacle to Overcome.

Philadelphia, Sept. 28.—A railroad officer ofthis city, whose word can be taken as authoritative, but who would not consent to have his name used in connection with the statement, says that the coal miners' strike has been virtually settled. The terms, he added, would be made known, in all likelihood, within the next 24 hours.

"The miners may be said to have won their demands," he said, "with the exception of that which refers to the recognition of their union. This point the operators will not concede, but the strike leaders will agree to a compromise along the lines I have indicated."

While the identity of the person or persons who are said to be at work endeavoring to bring about the imemdiate and peaceful adjustment of the differences between the employers and employes has not been disclosed, it is openly admitted in authoratitive sources that such endeavor is in progress.

President Truesdale of the Lackawanna company is quoted as making such admission, but in what manner or by whom they were being conducted he declined to state.

President Mitchell, the head of the striking miners' organization, expresses the belief that the operators have decided to offer the miners an increase of wages, but he, too, declines to admit whether he possesses any further information on the subject.

From Scranton comes the statement that at a conference of coal operators of that section the opinion is prevalent that the influences at work are of a strong political nature, and that the operators will be obliged to offer the men at least the concession of an increase in wages.

The information upon which the operators base their conclusion that the working influences were political could not be learned.

Coupled with nearly all the reports of a probable settlement of the trouble, comes the announcement that the men will be offered an increase of pay, but that the mine owners will positively decline to arbitrate the differences through President Mitchell, or to, in any manner, give recognition to the United Mine Workers' organization.

This refusal of recognition, however, will not prove a difficult obstacle to overcome, President Mitchell having expressed his willingness to accept a settlement through seperate conferences of committees of the employes and their direct employers. If the railroad presidents and others who control the mines accept this proposition, he said, he would waive all claim to the recognition of the union. One condition he exacted, however, and that was that these various conferences should be held the same day and in the same city.

Matters were quiet throughout the strike region yesterday, and the strikers forces were increased by the closing of a few mines.

Many Deputies on Duty.

Shamokin, Pa., Sept. 28.—Another carload of deputies from the Schuylkill valley arrived in Trevorton last night to reinforce a large number of deputies who have guarded the works since last week. It is feared trouble may ensue between the strikers from this place and the deputies should an attempt be made to tie up the North Franklin colliery, which is now the only one in operation in this section of the coal fields. It employes 600 men and boys. Since the strike was instituted a number of men ceased work, but all excepting 30 have returned to the mine.

Dreyfus Agitation May Be Resumed.

Paris, Sept. 28.—The Presse publishes the text of an alleged letter from Alfred Dreyfus to M. Trardieux, former minister of justice, in which the writer says: "The moral effects of the iniquity still exist and the mental torture is as great as ever. Since justice has not been done me, the aim I pursue remains the same until attained, viz: The legal revision of my trial."

Craven Meets With Another Mishap.

Newport, R. I., Sept. 28.—Torpedo boat Craven has added another accident to the long list of mishaps with which she has met since she went into commission. While passing Wood's Hole yesterday four blades of her blower were broken. The Craven had been to Bath, Me., to have repairs made, and will now return there again to secure a new blower.

Columbian Revolution Still On.

Kingston, Jam., Sept. 28.—Advices from Colon, Colombia, say the rebel forces again advanced to within 14 miles of Panama, and were checked there by the government troops. The latest news was that fighting was proceeding between the opposing armies.

Carried Contraband Liquors.

Halifax, Sept. 28.—Inspector Jones of the customs department has seized the schooner Gold Hunter at Amherst Harbor. She is charged with smuggling a quantity of spirits.

WORLD'S FASTEST STALLION.

Cresceus Wins the $20,000 Race at Readville In a Field of Fast Ones.

Readville, Mass., Sept. 28.—The $20,000 stallion race at the trotting park yesterday was won by Cresceus (2:04 3-4) in five heats, from a field of seven starters Charlie Herr took the first two heats in 2:07 1-4 each, and Cresceus the last three in 2:07 1-4, 2:07 1-2 and 2:08 3-4 respectively. This puts Charlie Herr in second place, Gratton Boy in third, Lord Vincent fourth and Arion fifth. Jupe was distanced in the second heat, and Benton M in the third.

It looked for two heats as though the great stake would be wrested from the king by that wonderful little trotter, Charley Herr, the winner of the Massachusetts stake race last year. But gamey as was Charley Herr, his strength was not equal to the task, and his star set in the third heat, when Cresceus beat him at the wire. Once after that, in the fourth heat, the Lexington horse made a wonderful bid for the race, leading to the three-quarters, and then being beaten out on the stretch by Cresceus, who seemed to have marvellous speed just when it meant so much to him.

The day was perfect for the race, and the track, while looking a trifle soft, was evidently prime footing. No mishaps occurred, and at no time was there any disposition of the drivers to do other than to attend strictly to the task ahead of them. The crowd at the track must have gone well over the 25,000 mark.

The horses announced to start were: Cresceus, owned by George H. Ketcham of Toledo; Charley Herr, David Cahill, Lexington, Ky.; Jupe, T. W. Lawson, Boston; Arion, Malcomb Forbes, Boston; Grattan Boy, R. H. Plant, Macon, Ga.; Benton M, E. W. Marble, Wilkinsonville, and Lord Vincent, George F Todd, Youngstown, O.

Motors Went Wrong.

Baltimore, Sept. 28.—Archie McEachern won a 25-mile motor-paced race from Harry Elkes last night by 3 miles 1100 yards. Both men had trouble with their motors, Elkes being compelled to ride several miles unpaced, while his machine was being patched up. McEachern's time was 42 minutes 56 seconds.

Walthour Easily Beaten by Michael.

Springfield, Sept. 28.—Twenty-five hundred people saw Jimmy Michael defeat Bobby Walthour in an uninteresting motor-paced race here last night. At the finish Michael was over four laps ahead of Walthour, and was never pushed.

The Situation at Galveston.

Galveston, Tex., Sept. 28.—The Galveston auxiliary of the National Red Cross society has been organized. All the public relief work will hereafter be conducted through the auxiliary, and it is intended to make it a permanent organization. The railroads are still having trouble in getting men to work both in Galveston and up in the state. There is an immense amount of work to be done on all lines.

To Fight Printers' Strikes.

Kansas City, Sept. 28.—The most important action taken by the national convention of the United Typothetae of America so far is the establishment of an emergency fund of $100,000. The purpose of this fund, it is said, is to provide money to fight strikes and boycotts in which the interests of the Typothetae are involved. This fund will be raised by assessment of the members.

Answers Received From Powers Show That America Is Not "Isolated."

Conger Is to Immediately Consult With Chinese Envoys.

Promotion of Prince Tuan May Possibly Obstruct the Peace Negotiations.

Washington, Sept. 28.—The state department has not yet been acquainted with the character of the reply to be made by Great Britain to the German note, but confidence is felt that it will be like this government's reply, except as to the leading feature of that proposition, namely, the demand for the surrender of the perpetrators of the Pekin outrages as a preliminary to the negotiations. In view of the answers already received from other powers in the same line, the officials are at a loss to account for the statements in some of the European papers that the United States stands "isolated" in respect to this German note.

Minister Conger has been advised by the state department of the substance of the replies made by this government last Friday to the governments of Germany, Russia and China, respecting China, which clearly indicate to him the general nature of the instructions he is to receive. Moreover, by this time he is informed of the orders issued to General Chaffee to reduce his force to a legation guard.

The note to China specifically pointed out the lines on which this government will issue its instructions to its minister. The document itself is in course of final approval, acting Secretary Hill having completed the draft some days ago, and forwarded it to the president.

It is the belief of the state department that the actual transmission of the instructions will be carried out very soon, probably in the next 12 hours. It is said that the text of the instructions will not be made public at present, for diplomatic reasons, but there is no concealment of the general scope of the document, which is on the lines laid down in the three notes. In this connection, it is said at the state department that Mr. Conger will put these negotiations in motion, without any purpose of acting for any government other than the United States, although the government steadily keeps in mind that the United States is but one of several nations mutually interested in obtaining a common end, and it is hoped that the effect of Mr. Conger's making a beginning toward negotiations may be to induce other powers to follow. At the same time the government has never assumed to lay down any mandate as to the course to be followed by all or any of the other powers.

It is believed that the state department already has taken steps through Minister Wu to impress upon the Chinese government the undesirability of the appointment of Prince Tuan as grand secretary and the painful impression this appointment has created throughout this country. The effect of his appointment, if persisted in, it is said, might be to retard seriously the final negotiations, or, in fact, any negotiations at all.

The government feels that it is much reinforced in its present position by the note from Li Hung Chang, in which he gave positive assurances to the United States that he had sufficient authority to protect all American interests, and would see that this authority was exercised. The government now looks upon this assurance as a guarantee which must be faithfully performed as a condition precedent to even the establishment of relations with Li Hung Chang and Prince Ching. If the appointment of Tuan promises in any manner to obstruct the performance of this pledge, then it would be clearly violative of the guarantee laid down, and would warrant the immediate withdrawal of Mr. Conger from further relations with the Chinese envoys. So it appears that much more depends upon what Tuan does than upon what he has done.

Emperor's Return Suggested.

[Copyright, 1900, The Associated Press.]

Pekin, Sept. 21, via Taku, Sept. 25.—All the foreign ministers have addressed notes to Prince Ching, suggesting the return to Pekin of the emperor and the court. The notes were informal, and not written in a diplomatic capacity. The writers do not consider them binding upon their respective governments. The diplomats acted jointly in the matter, but the letters were sent individually. These did not contain any assurances, but merely suggested the return of the emperor. Prince Ching undertook to deliver the notes. The outcome is a matter of speculation, the doubtful element being the influence of Prince Tuan and General Tung Fuh Siang, who may restrain the court.

Intentions of Russia.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 28.—The Russian naval staff announces that it is proposed to blockade all Chinese naval ports in consequence of the hostile attitude of the Chinese fleet at Shanghai, and to send fast cruisers from the allied squadrons to protect transports. The general staff announces that Russian troops are massing around Kirin, in Manchuria, where there are 5000 Chinese.

Ching Was "Coerced."

[Copyright, 1900, The Associated Press.]

Pekin, Sept. 22, via Taku, Sept. 25.—The American legation has in its possession a subscription list of the Boxers, which shows the name of Prince Ching as having made three subscriptions. The list was discovered by Missionary Wherry. Friends of Prince Ching declare that he was coerced into giving.

Drift of Opinion.

☞ Now that the political campaign in England is under way the Boer collapse is said to be complete, but Thanksgiving reports from South Africa may prove less exhilerating reading by the Briton's fireside.—Lynn Item.

☞ "By the way, have you heard this horrible rumor that the President's face is going to be on a postage stamp?" "No. Is it meant for a manifesto of Imperialism?" "Not exactly. I think it's intendend to give Bryant his only chance to lick McKinley."—Boston Home Journal.

☞ It must strike a great many persons as rather odd when a Baptist clergyman advances the theory that wealth has too much influence in the Church. But possibly this minister meant to convey the idea that while the Church is willing to receive the contributions of the wealthy it must draw the line at influence. But can it so long as it depends upon the rich man's money? And if it did not take the money, what would become of the Church?

☞ It was reported lately that Edison had discovered how to generate electricity direct from coal without the use of boilers, engines or dynamos. This is something that a good many have been looking for, and there are millions in it for the one who discovers it. Unfortunately, in this case, Mr. Edison is obliged to pronounce the story a lie. There are many who have performed, for that will revolutionize manufacturing, but it has not come yet.—Gardiner, (Me.) Reporter-Journal.

☞ One does not have to seek far to find the cause of this lack of growth in Topeka and in other Kansas and Nebraska cities. These states have allowed themselves to become the stronghold of Populism. The first article in the Populist creed is emnity to capital. It is the ambition of the Populist stateman to do all he can to injure capital and to discourage superior ability in any form. The states in which these theories of government have flourished most luxuriously are the ones that are now wondering why the census gives them such a poor showing. They passed statutes that drove capitalists and investors out of their commonwealths, and sent men to congress who tried to shape national legislation on the same unjust and unwise lines. These states have their reward. Capital has shunned cities like Topeka because it could feel no security there. Capital is the life blood of industries. The largest growth of population in the last decade has been confined to places where manufacturing and railroad interests have flourished.—Chicago Tribune.

Salvation Army.

The Salvation Army held a harvest festival in the First Presbyterian church Thursday night. There was a large attendance and the meeting was presided over by the Rev. Dr. Todd. There were present from Boston, Major Winchell and Mrs. Winchell, Ensign and Mrs. Crosby, who have charge of the social work in the city.

Major Winchell gave an address on the social work of the army and told how one thousand destitute people are helped by the army in Boston every day, many of whom become Christian men and women who are restored to manhood and womanhood. A liberal collection was given on behalf of the work.

DEMOCRATS FOR NAPHEN.

All But One of the Delegates Pledged to Him.

Nomination of George H. Wilson for Representative Assured.

A Sample Ballot Counted in Ward Three to Break a Tie.

The Quincy Democratic caucuses Thursday evening were decisive for Hon. Henry F. Naphen of South Boston for Congress, and George H. Wilson as one of the candidates for Representatives. If the delegates have a preference for Senator they are unknown. It is thought that John Curtis, 2d, will be the other candidate for representative. The caucuses are fully reported below.

WARD ONE.

The Quincy ward had a double list of delegates for every convention, and the first list won out handsomely in each instance. Walter B. Wilson was chairman and John W. Fitzgerald secretary. No tellers were appointed. A total of 41 votes were cast and the following were elected:

STATE,—William A. Hodges, George H. Wilson.
COUNCILLOR,—Paul R. Blackmur, William G. A. Pattee.
CONGRESSIONAL,—Pledged to Henry F. Naphen,—Philip D. Cook, Frank Garbarino.
SENATORIAL,—James E. Dunn, John W. Fitzgerald.
COUNTY,—Paul R. Blackmur, William G. A. Pattee.
REPRESENTATIVE,—John F. Walsh, John J. Smith, Lawrence P. Garrity.

WARD TWO.

The Quincy Point ward had an unusually large caucus, although it was hinted after the Republican caucus that there were not enough Democrats left to hold a caucus. There were cast 95 votes. The officers of the caucus were: James F. Cleverly, chairman; Henry P. Moynihan, secretary; and these tellers: James H. Slade, Thomas P. Fiehly, M. H. King, John C. McGuane.

The delegates to the Congressional Convention declared themselves for Hon. H. F. Naphen.

The caucus also voted unanimously to endorse George H. Wilson for Representative nomination.

The delegates elected:

STATE,—Timothy J. Carey, Daniel J. Ford, 2d.
COUNTY—James M. Cleverly, Timothy J. Collins.
COUNCILLOR,—William H. Flynn, James M. Cleverly.
SENATORIAL,—William H. Sullivan, Timothy J. Carey.
CONGRESSIONAL,—Dennis J. Ford, Joseph G. Kennedy, William F. Cain (tie vote).
REPRESENTATIVE,—M. J. O'Hara, M. F. King, D. J. Ford.

WARD THREE.

The South Quincy caucus was largely attended, 130 ballots being cast. Double lists were filed for all conventions, but the greatest contest perhaps was in the Congressional delegates. For this three lists were filed. They were known as the Cahill, Sullivan and Ford lists. The former, pledged to Naphen, won out by 11 votes.

On the list for Councillor convention there was a tie between Peter Josephine and Thomas Higgins. This was finally counted for Higgins and in a rather questionable way according to all reports. Someone by mistake voted on a sample ballot. This was at first thrown out, but when the tie was discovered it was brought forward and counted, as far as Councillor delegates were concerned.

On the Representative list the vote was divided, two being elected from the first list and three from the second. The Representative delegates were instructed to support George H. Wilson.

The vote was as follows, those with an asterick being declared elected:

STATE.

William A. Kelley,	81
Thomas Higgins,	71
Edward J. Parker,	94
Patrick W. Driscoll,	49
Cornelius Moynihan,	41

WARD FOUR.

The West Quincy caucus was very slimly attended, the reason doubtless being that but one set of delegates were placed in nomination for any of the conventions. Had there been a contest the attendance would have been considerable larger. Forty-nine votes was the largest any delegate received.

Peter F. Hughes, officiated as chairman, and Edward Cole as secretary. The tellers were John J. Dugan and John Dillon. The delegates elected were as follows:

STATE,—William T. Shea, Stephen B. Little, Peter T. Fallon, William P. Hughes.
COUNCILLOR,—John J. Dugan, John H. Ash, John Kilmartin, John D. McGrath.
CONGRESSIONAL,—"Pledged to Henry F. Naphen," Thomas F. Hogan, William H. Callahan, James E. McDonald, John J. Barry.
SENATORIAL,—Henry M. Hughes, John W. Burke, James A. White, Richard H. Walsh.
COUNTY,—Michael Arnold, Lawrence P. Tracey, John J. Reardon, Ludwig Shatzel.
REPRESENTATIVE,—Thomas F. Cain, Dennis F. Cowley, Philip Garrity, William J. Dell, Thomas H. O'Neil, Edward Farrell, Lewis J. White.

WARD FIVE.

The Wollaston Democrats elected these delegates:

STATE,—David Roche, William J. Collagan.
COUNCILLOR,—Francis R. McCormick, David J. Roche.
CONGRESSIONAL,—"Pledged to Henry F. Naphen," David J. Roche, William J. Collagan.
COUNTY,—Francis R. McCormick, David J. Roche.
SENATORIAL,—Edward Twitchell, Jeremiah Dinneen.
REPRESENTATIVE,—Edward Collegan, John McCormick.

WARD SIX.

A very full caucus was held in Music Hall, Atlantic. But one list of delegates were on the ballot for the several conventions, and there were therefore no contests. Jeremiah F. Mahoney was chairman and James P. Clark secretary. The tellers were Timothy Sullivan and John H. Canty.

STATE,—John A. Duggan, Elijah G. Hall.
COUNCILLOR,—John J. Collins, John F. Sullivan.
CONGRESSIONAL,—"Pledged to Henry F. Naphen," Stephen H. Edwards, Martin W. Cunniff.
SENATORIAL,—Fred C. Pope, Levi H. Turner.
COUNTY,—Fred C. Pope, Levi H. Turner.
REPRESENTATIVE,—Cornelius M. Duggan, Bernard Cullen, Lawrence Curtin,

ATWOOD'S SCHEME.

Gets Paige and Towle in Line Against Dr. Pierce.

The Republican State Committee Say "No," However.

Doubt If the Candidates Could Deliver "the Goods."

It is extremely doubtful if any grand combination scheme on the part of Harry Atwood can save himself or nominate a candidate of his selection. The report that Towle is now willing to unite forces with Atwood in favor of somebody else, shows that the third ticket in Ward One, Quincy, was an Atwood scheme.

The latest move of the Atwood men is outlined in today's Globe, but it fell flat. Mr. Atwood is against Dr. Pierce and also Mr. Shaw, and urges that as it is largely a Boston district, the candidate should be from Boston. The Globe says:

The Republican State Committee, whose special duty is popularly supposed to be to elect candidates to congress, rather than to take a hand in the nominating conventions, has had a proposition involving the latter presented to it.

Yesterday Col. Goetting, the chairman of the state committee, had a call from candidates Harrison H. Atwood, W. W. Towle and Milton H. Paige, or their representatives, and theoretically the delegates to the 10th district convention controlled by each of these gentlemen were laid at the feet of the chairman.

He was told substantially that Atwood, Towle, and Paige delegates would be delivered to any man in the district he might select, provided—and this was the most important part of the proposition—that man was not Dr. George B. Pierce of Milton.

On the face of the returns Dr. Pierce has 47 delegates pledged to his support and needs but eight more to have enough to nominate him. These eight he expects to receive from among the 14 in Quincy, who are presumably pledged to John Shaw.

The three Boston candidates, it is said, based their claim for interference from the state committee on the ground that the nomination properly belonged to Boston and that the little town of Milton should not be permitted to name the congressional nominee.

This is the ostensible reason given for asking the state committee to interfere.

As a matter of fact "Harry" Atwood's friends would like to see Dr. Pierce defeated in the convention, because he was supported by the anti-Atwood element in Dorchester, the ex-congressman's home.

Ex-Senator Towle and Mr. Paige do not presumably regard the Milton candidate in quite the same spirit. But it would be only reasonable to assume that if the state committee did agree to act as the arbitrator, on the plea that none but a Suffolk County man could hope to defeat Congressman Naphen for a reelection, it would be likely to advise the selection of one of the two men who have been prominent in the preliminary canvass.

Apparently all the fight has oozed out of Mr. Atwood so far as his own candidacy is concerned. His chief ambition now is to prevent the nomination of the man who defeated him in his own ward, 24.

The three Suffolk county candidates got very little satisfaction out of the visit to the state committee. Col. Goetting refused to mix in the 10th congressional fight at this stage, and told his visitors in so many words that the state committee would endeavor to to elect whomsoever the convention nominated, but that it would not attempt to dictate the nomination.

Dr. Pierce said last night that not one of the 47 delegates he claimed could be induced to break for either of the other candidates.

Late in the evening one of his supporters made the statement that ex-Senator Towle could not control all of his delegates after the first ballot, and that also some of the Paige delegates after the first ballot would decline to follow the lead of the South Boston man.

He reiterated the statement that a majority of the Shaw delegates in Quincy would eventually vote for Pierce.

While the Atwood management is encouraging Shaw and Towle, the organizers of the campaign are endeavoring at the same time to get delegates out from under both men. They expect that on the first ballot Shaw will get his 14 votes and Towle 10, but it is the aim of the Atwood men to place several men in both delegations so that neither Shaw nor Towle can deliver the whole delegation to any one after the first ballot.

For instance, the Atwood management yesterday felt positive that three of the 14 Shaw delegates will vote for Atwood anyway after the first ballot, and that three more can be got. This, they say, makes six votes that Shaw cannot handle for any one but himself and it leaves him only eight for trading purposes. These eight, however, would be enough to nominate Dr. Pierce if he held his 47 votes.

It is said that while Mr. Towle is counting on having 10 votes to trade, he really has but seven, as three men are under obligations to several men prominent in the Atwood camp, and will not follow Towle to any one else. These three the Atwood men are sure of, and they also say it is possible to get other votes in the ward 12 delegation when they are needed.

The district committee met at the rooms of the state committee yesterday and decided to hold the 10th congressional convention on Tuesday next. The place and hour was not fixed.

Special of the City Council.

A special meeting of the City Council has been called for tonight. The business stated in the call is to hear the report of the Committee in regard to plans for the Furnace Brook parkway and to act on the acceptance of the same.

Some time ago the Metropolitan Park Commission asked the Council to approve of the takings between the Blue Hills Reservation and Adams street.

It was thought that next Monday evening would be time enough to act upon the matter. It seems, however, that under the Acts notice of takings must be filed at Dedham within sixty days. The sixty days expires on Saturday, Sept. 29; therefore it is imperative that a meeting should be held tonight, and it is therefore equally as important that a quorum should be present.

Tennis Match.

On Saturday at 1 P. M., tennis matches in singles, and doubles, will be played on the Whitney Road grounds between players from the Norfolk club of South Weymouth and a home team. Some very interesting tennis is expected, as the visiting team includes Messrs. Fuller, Howe, Field and Bates. The honor or Quincy will be defended by Messrs. Hall, Harlow, Burke and Packard.

—Eighteen states and one territory now have valued policy laws, that is laws requiring fire insurance companies to pay face of policy, no matter what is real value of property destroyed.

A RECTOR CALLED.

Christ's Church Elects Rev. G. A. Strong of Brockton.

A meeting of Christ church parish was held Thursday evening at which it was voted unanimously to extend a call to Rev. George Alex. Strong of St. Paul's church, Brockton. The parish has every reason to believe Rev. Mr. Strong will accept, and commence his labors Oct. 30, which is the date upon which the resignation of Rev. Walter Russell Breed, who goes to Lancaster, Pa., takes place.

Rev. Mr. Strong was graduated from the Cambridge Episcopal Theological school about fifteen years ago. He was first settled as assistant rector of St. Paul's church, Boston. He remained there several years and then went to Malden, where he remained a short time. About seven years ago he accepted a call to St. Paul's church, Brockton, where he has since been located.

Brockton's Big Fair.

All amusement lovers in this section are always on the lookout for the dates of the greatest of outdoor shows, The Brockton Fair. This year the dates are October 2, 3, 4 and 5, commencing Tuesday instead of Wednesday, as in the past. This big fair includes so many novelties it is next to the impossible to enumerate them all. The Horse Show will be far ahead of all shows of former years, and the entries are nearly double those of last year. This feature alone is a magnet that draws thousands of lovers of blooded horse flesh from all over New England. Among the countless attractions this year are included diving horses and elks, guideless pacers, balloon ascensions, racing dogs and a stage show unequalled in excellence. Music by Reeves' American Band of Providence, Martland's Fifth Regt. Band and the Brockton City Band, in fact, music everywhere, and the best of music, too. The trotting will as usual be the best, and bicycle races will also have a prominent place in the track events. Reserved seats in the big grand stand are now on sale and can be obtained by addressing E. M. Thompson, Treas., Brockton.

REPUBLIC OR EMPIRE?

Stevenson Declares That Imperialism Is the Overshadowing Issue.

Paramount Question Is Sound Money, Says Depew.

Roosevelt Runs Against Another Boisterous Clown in a Colorado Town.

Lincoln, Neb., Sept. 28.—Adlai E. Stevenson has accepted the nomination for the vice presidency tendered him by the Populists this month.

In his letter, Mr. Stevenson, dating his letter from Bloomington, Ills., Sept. 25, acknowledges the receipt of the notification, and his sense of appreciation, as well as admiration for the action of Mr. Towne in his endeavor to serve the harmonious co-operation of all the supporters of Mr. Bryan in the pending presidential election. Mr. Stevenson goes on to say that "on the important questions of finance, of domestic administration and of reform in our methods of taxation, the platform of the People's party gives no uncertain sound. It is no less emphatic in its demand for a return to the policy of honest and economical expenditures of the public money. The further demand for wise and efficient legislation looking to the suppression of trusts cannot fail to challenge the attention of all thoughtful men."

All these, however, he says, are questions of the hour beside the overshadowing issue of imperialism. "Involved in the settlement of this great question are consequences of deep import to the American people. The supreme gravity of the issue cannot be measured by words."

Mr. Stevenson then reviews at length the happenings since the beginning of the war with Spain, which, he says, was only justified by the declaration that the United States disclaimed any intention to exercise sovereignty over Cuba. The pretense now that this disclaimer upon our part applied only to Cuba and not to other Spanish dependencies is "to palter with words in a double sense."

He denounces the war in the Philippines, its expense and the cost of lives, and delcares that the voters ask for the justification of this war at the polls in November. The policy adopted by the administration, he says, "implies the exercise of power unknown to the constitution. It is in very truth government outside of the constitution. It means the adoption by the American people of the colonial methods of European monarchies. It means the right to hold alien peoples as subjects. It enthrones force as the controlling agency in government. In a word, it foreshadows the empire."

Mr. Stevenson points to the danger of a large standing army and of militarism. In conclusion, he says: "Imperialism—the republic or the empire"— is indeed the overshadowing issue with which we are confronted in the pending struggle for political supremacy: Its determination is to be by the American people through the peaceful instrumentality of the ballot. Meanwhile, its discussion will continue at the fireside and on the hustings with an earnestness rarely equalled in our history."

DEPEW ON THE STUMP.

Declares That Emperor of the United States Is Its Fifteen Millions of Voters.

New York, Sept. 28.—Brooklyn Republicans opened the presidential campaign last night by a mass meeting in the Academy of Music. Senator Depew was the chief attraction and principal speaker.

Mr. Depew said that the paramount question today is, shall the couple—sound money and prosperity, whose nuptials were celebrated four years ago—be divorced?

In speaking of the strike, he said: "We all lament the strikes. We wish they could be averted or settled. There is this difference between the strikes which were on in '93, '94 and '95, and the strikes now. The strikes then were a constant protest against constant reductions in wages and discharges of employes. The strikes then were often a blessing to the employers, because they relieved them from the manufacture of goods for which they had no market. The strikes now are on the other side. They are to secure for labor a larger share in the prosperity and productiveness of the country. The settlement of a strike in the hard times of '93 and '96 meant nothing to the workers; the settlement of a strike now means his immediate re-employment."

On the subject of trusts, Senator Depew said: "A trust which controls the necessities of life and prevents all competition and can dictate the price to the raw material man, to his laborer, to the carrier and to the consumer, is a menace, is unlawful now and can be reached by honest prosecuting officers, and the laws to reach any such trusts should be made as drastic, as searching and as effective as human language will permit."

Senator Depew, in commenting on the charge of Mr. Bryan and his associates that the policy of the Republicans is one of imperialism, said:

"It is American imperialism. The absurd reaches the climax of grotesqueness in the effort to make an emperor of President McKinley. The emperor of the United States is its 15,000,000 of voters. The people of the United States, by their imperial voice at the ballot box, govern themselves."

Roosevelt Again Interrupted.

Pueblo, Col., Sept. 28.—The special train bearing the Roosevelt party arrived here last evening. Three evening meetings were arranged for, and all of them were attended by large audiences. During the day at the various stopping places the crowds were remarkably large. Governor Roosevelt defended the occupation of the Philippines and spoke mainly on the condition of prosperity now existing, as against the danger of a change in the administration of the country's affairs under Mr. Bryan and the policy of the Kansas City platform. At Canon City Governor Roosevelt spoke on the issues of imperialism and militarism. Another organized attempt was made by a small minority to interrupt the proceedings. This mob was composed mostly of boys, with a few men, who shouted for Bryan, and cheered so as to interrupt the speakers. One of the youngsters, being asked why he was acting so, stated that he was hired to do so. They wore uniform caps and acted in concert.

Were but Few Contests.

Boston, Sept. 28.—Democratic caucuses were held last night in those cities and towns outside of Boston that were not held on Wednesday night. Few contests stirred the voters, and, as a rule, the meetings were without incident. Perpaps the most interesting development was the declaration on the part of the Democrats of Brookline that they would support Moorfield Storey for congress if he consented to become a candidate. Quincy gave her solid delegation to Congressman Naphen. In ward 6, Haverhill, there was a lively wrangle between the old-line Democrats and the Social Democrats, but the latter carried the caucuses.

Bryan Helping Congressional Candidate.

Dakota City, Neb., Sept. 28—Mr. Bryan arrived here last night and addressed a meeting in the court house yard. He made three speeches during the day, traveling almost 40 miles by carriage and 150 miles by rail. The entire day was devoted to the Third congressional district, and it was largely a canvass in behalf of Edgar Howard's candidacy for congress. Mr. Bryan paid especial attention to trusts. He declared that in the Paris treaty with Spain the United States had not secured any title to the Philippines, but had secured only a license to hunt there.

Thayer's Great Victory.

Worcester, Mass., Sept. 28.—Democratic caucuses in the remaining towns of the Third congressional district returned 19 delegates to John R. Thayer, which, in addition to the 73 he got at the first night's caucuses, give him 92 out of 106 delegates. James H. Mellen has seven.

More Than Fifty Thousand In Parade.

Minneapolis, Sept. 28.—The meeting in honor of Senator Beveridge here last night was the most imposing political demonstration ever held in Minneapolis since the Republican national convention, eight years ago. More than 50,000 were in the parade, which the senator reviewed.

Extraordinary Streak of Good Fortune.

Boston, Sept. 28.—A special to The Advertiser from Lynn says: A streak of good fortune is said to have come to Mrs. Ora Horsman, wife of a grocery clerk, in the shape of property probably amounting to $1,000,000, from Mrs. William Porter, 85 years of age, residing in Boston. The gift, according to Mrs. Horsman, came through her acquaintance in the capacity of nurse with Mrs. Porter, all of whose relatives are dead. Mrs. Horsman is 21 years of age, and her husband is 20. The transfer of the property was made on Sept. 9.

Yankee Ingenuity Triumphant.

Paris, Sept. 28.—The jury of final appeal in the exposition awards has finished its work. America received a higher total of rewards than any other nation save France, and she also received more rewards in each classification, except grand prizes, in which Germany secured a greater number.

Courted For Thirteen Years.

Hartford, Sept. 28.—After a courtship of 13 years, carried on chiefly by mail, Arthur S. Clapp of this city and Miss Nettie Studather of East Bend, Ind., were married yesterday by Rev. H. H. Kelsey. The bride is only three feet six inches in height. Her husband is less than five feet tall.

The New York Partially Disabled.

Southampton, Sept. 28.—Steamer New York, from New York, arrived here last evening about 17½ hours late. The steamer broke her starboard thrust shaft on Tuesday at 2:30 a. m. The accident will not interfere with her return voyage.

Boy Killed by Electric Car.

Boston, Sept. 28.—An electric car ran over and caused the death of Merle E. Nay, 8 years old, while the boy was at play in Winthrop avenue, Chelsea. The boy's leg was severed, and death resulted two hours after the accident.

Italian Laborer Killed.

Boston, Sept. 28.—In falling, a derrick used in the sewer department at Jamaica Plain struck and fatally wounded an Italian laborer, known as "No. 7," who was engaged on the work. He died on the way to the hospital.

Liquor Dealers Fatten Treasury.

Portland, Me., Sept. 28.—In the superior court yesterday liquor fines were paid to the amount of about $6000, and bail was defaulted in a number of such cases.

Russia Gives Way to Germany.

London, Sept. 28.—The Russians, according to the Shanghai correspondent of The Morning Post, have virtually abandoned the province of Chi-Li to Germany.

NEWS IN BRIEF.

Rev. Samuel Russell was ordained to the ministry at the Ruggles Street Baptist church, Boston. Mr. Russell has received a call from the People's Baptist church, Manchester, N. H., to which charge he will soon go.

Captain Frederick Dent Sharp, U. S. A., retired, cousin of General U. S. Grant, died at Kansas City, Kan., from an overdose of bromide, taken for the purpose of relieving nervousness and pain.

Thomas H. Lane, an artist, died at Elizabeth, N. J., at the age of 86. He was born in Philadelphia, and was a poet as well as a painter. He was an intimate friend of Edgar Allen Poe, and painted a number of pictures for the Capitol at Washington.

Schooner Shehegan, a packet plying between Providence and Block Island, struck her starboard bow on a ledge off Wickford, R. I. She is being unloaded, and is in a sinking condition.

The cornerstone of the new public library and Masonic building at Guildhall, Vt., the gift of Everett C. Benton of Boston, was laid with impressive Masonic ceremonies.

EUROPEAN INDUSTRIAL CONDITIONS.

Boom of the Past Few Years Liable to Collapse at Any Time Without Warning.

Washington, Sept. 28.—The wave of industrial prosperity in Europe, which has steadily risen since 1895, says Acting Consul General Hanauer, at Frankfort, in a report to the state department, has taken a turn, and has begun to recede. "All the signs," he says, "point toward a crisis in industrial and financial lines which may occur before two years have passed. Any political disturbance of note may bring on the crisis suddenly and without warning. Coal mining is still booming, as the supply is not equal to the demand. The iron and steel works, including the manufacture of many lines of machinery and steel plates for warships, have orders which will take some months to fill, but factories making small ironware nails, needles, bicycles, sewing machines, etc., are curtailing production and reducing working forces and wage scales.

"There are doubts if the immensely capitalized electrical works of Germany and other countries can keep fully employed after the present contracts are filled. This line of industry, which in Germany alone represents an investment of nearly $300,000,000, has been largely instrumental in creating the present boom.

"Failures have begun already in the building trade, which in the large cities has been of a speculative nature, and rested mainly on borrowed capital. Rents for business houses and dwellings have advanced, but will topple upon the first beginning of a business crisis.

"The German papers speak in alarming tones of the sad position of the textile industries, where stoppages of factories are the order of the day. Late statistics of the Gera district show 6022 looms idle, out of a total of 11,829. The weavers still employed there earn but 8 to 10 marks ($1.94 to $2.38) per week. Fuel and provisions have greatly advanced in price and the poor operatives must pay government tax and school rate beside. Shares of industrial companies have already commenced to decline."

Bottom Lands in Danger.

Houston, Tex., Sept. 28.—The Brazos river is still rising at Waco, and an overflow now seems certain. The water is 10 feet below the high-water mark of 1899, but does not have to reach that point to overflow thousands of acres of bottom farms.

Burial of General Palmer.

Springfield, Ills., Sept. 28.—That last bugle call, "taps," sounded over a soldier's grave at Carlinsville yesterday, when the body of General Palmer was laid away. Full Masonic and military services were held.

The Print Cloth Market.

Fall River, Mass., Sept. 28.—The first sales of regulars on the new basis of 3 1-8 cents were reported yesterday, a large number of pieces having been disposed of at that figure. Traders in outside centers realize that they must pay the advance figure with cotton at its present price, and there is every indication of active trading in the cloth market.

Drowned Under Suspicious Circumstances.

Lewiston, Me., Sept. 28.—A body found floating in the Androscoggin river has been identified as that of Miss Lizzie Cobb of Sabattus. There are some suspicious circumstances connected with the case which have not yet been made public. The authorities are investigating the matter.

Two Shocked by Lightning.

Newport, Vt., Sept. 28.—Lightning struck W. B. Cushman's residence, and in its path it wrecked the end of the roof and coming down through the partition shocked two of the sleeping inmates in one of the chambers, although neither received permanent injury.

Militiamen In Shooting Contest.

Boston, Sept. 28.—The state shooting match for the Massachusetts militia was held at Walnut Hill, and the First Heavy artillery again won the state trophy, while troop F of Chelmsford took the cavalry prize.

Her Clothing Caught Fire.

Fall River, Mass., Sept. 28.—The clothing of 5-year-old Theresa Ziroli caught fire from a pile of paper to which she had applied a match, and she was so badly burned that she died from her injuries.

ANNIVERSARY WEEK

WILL BE CELEBRATED BY THE

Star Tea and Coffee Store,

OPPOSITE THE FOUNTAIN, QUINCY,

IN THE MOST GENEROUS MANNER FROM

MONDAY, Oct. 1st, to SATURDAY, Oct. 6th,

During which time everyone who purchases at one time $1.00 worth or more of goods (except flour and sugar) will be PRESENTED WITH A VALUABLE PACKAGE with the first dollar's worth or more purchased. This large package will contain a fancy box filled with our famous fresh ground Mocha and Java Coffee, a fancy box of Choice Tea a, fancy box of Candy, a beautiful Japanese Souvenir Box and a variety of samples. With every pound of Tea or two pounds of Coffee in the purchase, we will give in addition to the package above mentioned, a Cup and Saucer or Plate, or some other useful article. In addition to all these generous gifts, we will give a Discount of 10 per Cent. on all goods purchased amounting to $1.00 or more (except flour and sugar) at one time all through the week. No such marvellous opportunity as this was ever before given you to purchase a good supply of the

at prices far below anything you ever heard of in Quincy for the same quality, and we propose to keep it up for a week, regardless of cost to us. The gifts are worth about 40c. to every customer, and if you buy $5.00 worth you would save 50 cents in discounts besides the presents.

Four years ago our store was first opened, and we received the comforting assurance that we would not last more than two or three months, but thanks to the generous friendship extended to us by the good people of Quincy and the surrounding towns, we are not only "alive and kicking," but have grown to more than four times our original size with prospects good for still greater expansion. We are to have several DEMONSTRATIONS OF GREAT INTEREST on ANNIVERSARY WEEK that will be certain to draw crowds.

If you cannot visit the store during the GREAT WEEK, telephone us—137-5—and we will call, but it will pay you to keep this notice and visit our store just to see the new things we have and get a present.

October 1st to October 6th.

The Social Realm.

So fares it since the years began,
Till they be gathered up;
The truth that flies the flowing can,
Will haunt the vacant cup;
And others' follies teach us not,
Nor much their wisdom teaches,
And most of sterling worth is what
Our own experience teaches.

A very pretty party of young people were present at Colonial hall Friday afternoon at a German given by Miss Cornelia Weeden, in celebration of her twelfth birthday anniversary. Miss Corlew, the popular teacher of dancing, had charge of the dancing, and Mrs. Brynner the music. The favors were bon bons and Japanese toys. Ices were served in the parlor of the old Quincy club by Hendrie, and the decorations of the hall by Paterson were elaborate. The young misses were gowned in light summer costumes, the masters in the conventional black, and the hours between 3 and 6 were brim full of enjoyment. Many of the guests of Miss Cornelia brought birthday remembrances, so that she as well as her guests will long remember the afternoon.

Hicks-McLoud.

One of the prettiest home weddings of the season took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Jackson, West Elm avenue, Wollaston Park, Wednesday evening, when Miss Nettie Blanche McLoud, niece of Mrs. Jackson, and daughter of Mr. J. H. McLoud, became the bride of Mr. Niel H. Hicks of Dorchester.

At eight o'clock the wedding march was played on the piano by Mrs. J. B. McCrillus, the bride entering on the arm of her father. The marriage ceremony was performed in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends by the Rev. J. B. Wilson of Neponset Baptist church. Mr. Robert Wilson was best man, and Miss Ethel Staples bridesmaid.

After the ceremony a reception was held. The room was beautifully decorated with flowers, and festoons of green here and there. The bride was becomingly gowned in white organdie, and wore a veil.

A collation was served. The beautiful gifts which the young couple received filled one spacious room, and consisted of silver, bric-a-brac, pictures, clocks, jardinieres, cut glass, etc.

Amid showers of rice and good wishes Mr. and Mrs. Hicks left at a late hour to spend the night at Dorchester. They start today on their wedding tour to New York. On their return they will live at 20 Josephine street, Dorchester. They will be at home Wednesday, Oct. 10.

SONG.

We are so jolly, contented and gay,
Enid and I and the baby;
What do we care for the Appian way,
Enid and I and the baby?
Politics, wars and the tariff may go;
Little we reck how the fickle winds blow;
We're a triumvirate, mighty and low,
Enid and I and the baby.

Climb up, my little son, here to my knee—
Enid and I and the baby;
Isn't he sturdy and brave as could be?
Enid and I and the baby.
Take him, my dear, he is weary with play;
See how he blinks in that Sleepytown way;
Here is a kiss all around, and hurra—
Enid and I and the baby.

UNDER SIXTY FEET OF ICE.

BY M. QUAD.

COPYRIGHT, 1900, BY C. B. LEWIS.

Cherry island lies 1,400 miles directly north of Sweden and is the dividing line between the Greenland and the Barents' seas. A line drawn from east to west would strike Nova Zembla on the one end and Hudson's Land on the other. There are about 60 days in the year when the island enjoys the heat and the verdure of summer, but during the remainder there are such cold and bleakness and loneliness as man can find nowhere else outside of the north pole itself. In the deep, dark ravines the earth has never thawed since frozen tens of thousands of years ago, and on the north side are blocks of ice which were cast up there when the Creator was seeking to bring order out of chaos.

In the year 1860 an English scientific society fitted out what was known as the Cherry island expedition. It was purely in the interest of natural history. Certain fish and birds which had become extinct in the south were still to be found up there, according to the reports of whalers, and that was the object in fitting out the brig Albatross for a voyage from London. Aside from a strong handed crew, three professors and four or five students accompanied the expedition, and after a voyage almost without event we reached Cherry island soon after the beginning of its brief summer. The last 200 miles of our run was made through field ice, with giant icebergs to be seen on every hand, and we found a great length of shore piled high with blocks of ice from 5 to 25 feet thick. It was a three days' job to warp the brig into a safe anchorage on the south side of the island, and when we had her secure most of the people went ashore to live for a time in tents. Notwithstanding the sunshine and verdure, there was a loneliness about the place to make one afraid. We had expected to find polar bears and rabbits in plenty, but there was not a bit of animal life, excepting a few stray seals, to be encountered. Birds there were in plenty, however, and of the species desired, while fish of all sorts were to be had for the casting of a hook. Each professor had his work cut out for him, and I was attached to Professor John Saunders of the Royal museum as a helper. He was after birds and their eggs, and when we had been on the island a week I helped him to capture a specimen of the great auk, which species was supposed to have been extinct for a quarter of a century past. But three of these birds were seen during our stay of 40 days, and we took one away with us into a captivity which lasted for ten years. It was said that the capture of this bird alone was worth more to natural history than the cost of the expedition.

The island, which is of volcanic origin, is a mere jumble of rocks. It is 11 miles long by 5 in breadth and at the time of our visit had no tree higher than ten feet. These grew between bowlders and on the slopes, with patches of coarse grass all about, but there was not a level spot half an acre in extent on the whole island. It was intersected in every direction by ravines, some shallow and some of awful depth, and during a storm, when the surf was bringing in great blocks of ice and heaving them upon the rocks, there were rumblings and echoes in those dark ravines to make a man pale with fear. We had been on the island about 30 days and had pretty thoroughly explored it when Professor Saunders and my humble self met with an accident one day which led to a most strange discovery. We had set off together on a hunt after birds' eggs, and in walking along a slope we struck a spot overgrown with a short green weed. As we walked over this bed we suddenly found ourselves slipping. There was water under it, and the whole mass gave way and sent us sliding into a ravine. We went slipping, sliding, clutching and bumping a full 50 feet before we brought up, but neither of us was hurt beyond a few bruises. Owing to the wet grass we could not clamber out at that spot and so continued on down the ravine. Having presently come upon a few bones, which the professor pronounced as belonging to a polar bear, we decided to follow the ravine to its mouth. It led almost north and south. It was dry now, but there were times when it must have been filled with water from bank to bank.

It was a toilsome journey we made, but it ended at last at a wall of ice within half a mile of the surf. At that point the depth of the ravine was about 100 feet, and, though the sun was shining above, it was like evening down there. A few yards before we were brought to a standstill we found the body of a man lying against the wall of rock on the right hand side and ten feet above our heads. It was caught and held fast on a point of rock. We were both a good deal startled by the grewsome sight, and had it been a sailor with me I know I should have taken to my heels.

"We have a mystery here and must solve it," said the professor as he recovered from his surprise. "Let us get the body down and make an investigation."

It was neither a body nor a skeleton. The cold had preserved the flesh to a certain extent, but the action of the water running down the ravine had also worn it away. The face was well preserved, and the hair was as firm as in life. It was the remains of a man who had weighed perhaps 160 pounds, but I had no difficulty in detaching it from the rock and lowering it down. What remained of the clothing proved that the man had either been a fisherman or a sailor, but his nationality could only be guessed at.

"At some time or other," said the professor as he looked about, "this ravine has been a creek of considerable size flowing down to the sea. This man came up the creek from the beach, but we now find a wall of ice blocking it up. The ice has formed since he came. There should be a boat frozen up in the wall between us and the sea."

We had nothing to make a torch of, and, retracing our steps to a point where we could climb out of the ravine, we left the mystery to be solved another day. There was much discussion around the campfires that evening, and early next morning we set out to see if the ravine had once upon a time opened to the sea. We soon found that it had. Its mouth had been in a small bay, but a storm had filled it with bowlders and dammed back the waters flowing down. Between the sea and the spot where we found the body the ice was from 50 to 70 feet thick. If the sun melted it for a few feet in the summer, the rains and snows of winter speedily replaced what had been lost. We found this ice as clear as glass and as hard as iron, but powder was brought from the brig, and holes were drilled, and in a couple of days we had blasted out a great rift to half its depth.

Everybody had a suspicion of what was frozen in down there, but yet the discovery gave us a shock. When but 30 feet of ice lay between us and the bottom of the ravine we could see through it well enough to make out the hull of a ship standing on an even keel. It was the hull of a brig, with masts gone, but otherwise intact. We could even make out the ropes which had been frozen stiff as iron while they streamed along her decks, but there were no bodies of dead men in sight. To blast out the remaining depths of ice and clear the ravine was a task requiring more aid than we could spare and more powder than we had aboard. We had to be content with what we could see.

Years before—perhaps half a century—a merchant vessel had made that little bay in distress. Wave and tide had carried her up to the creek, and wave and tide had blocked her exit. Then she began to freeze in. No man can say how long it took for the ice to bury her until it was a solid mass 60 feet above her decks, but decades must have passed. If one of her crew got away up to the ravine why not all of them? And yet no other body or remains were to be found on the island. This man, who may have been the captain, probably started out by himself to see if there was a chance of escape, but in making his way up the ravine he perished of cold and hunger. There was scarce a hope for the others. If they left the hulk they were forced to return to it for shelter and food. There came a day when food and fuel were exhausted, when avalanches of snow covered the decks and the cold of winter froze the marrow of their bones, and they hid away in forecastle and cabin and died with open eyes staring into the darkness. Upon our return to London the case was reported and made much of in the papers, but no government or individual has ever gone farther than we did. A hulk lies there full of dead men—a hulk which sailed the waters of the frozen seas half a century ago, and there it will lie until time is no more and chaos reigns again. It might be blasted out, but of what use? The solving of one mystery of the sea more or less would count for but little.

The Proper Way to Eat.

At a recent meeting of medical men Dr. F. A. Burrall spoke of the amount of mischief done by the very common habit of eating the meals rapidly, according to the farmer's motto of "Quick to eat and quick to work." Thorough mastication was of the utmost importance, and of course this presupposed a proper condition of the teeth. Gastric digestion was often weakened and much distress was caused by the ingestion of too much fluid with the food, particularly at the beginning of a meal. Another factor in causing dyspepsia was the habit of eating food in silence or without that mirth and good fellowship so necessary to insure a nervous condition to the normal action of the digestive organs. These little details might seem trite and unimportant, but it was the duty of the careful physician to instruct his patients in regard to them. The long continued and free use of digestive agents served to make the digestive organs lazy and inactive. —Medical Record.

Flies.

No wonder we have flies! The common house fly lays 20 eggs every 14 days; there are thus about a dozen generations during the fly season. The bluebottle or blowfly, however, exceeds this and in one season is estimated to have 500,000,000 descendants. Therefore every fly killed early in the season, when they emerge from their winter's hiding place, means a big reduction in the fly crop of the coming summer. We couldn't get on without flies, however, for they do a most important work as scavengers.

CHEATED THE FILIPINOS

Carl Schurz Says the President Wantonly Involved Us In War.

Was Intended For Conquest From the Beginning.

Bryan and Roosevelt Both Put In a Heavy Day of Campaigning.

New York, Sept. 29.—The crowd at Cooper Union last night was a noisy one, and before the meeting of the Anti-Imperialist league of New York it cheered for McKinley and Bryan, for the "full dinner pail" and for Debs.

Carl Schurz was received with a tumult of cheers. He said in part:

"Let me say at the start that I consider the manner in which the imperialist policy is being commended by some persosns to popular approval the hugest confidence game ever practiced upon a free people. In my whole, long life I have never known of such systematic use of distortion of history, hypocritical cant, garbling of documents and false pretence.

"The partisans of the administration object to the word 'imperialism,' calling it a mere bugbear, having no real existence. They pretend that in the extending of our sway over Porto Rico and the Philippines we merely continue that sort of territorial expansion which has been practiced by this republic from its beginning. This is a mere juggle with words amounting to a downright falsification of history.

" 'Expansion,' then, in the historical and truly American sense, means the extension of our constitutional system together with the extension of our territorial area. In this sense we are all expansionists, provided the expansion be honorably effected.

"And when such countries are annexed and such populations are subjected by force of arms—by what President McKinley has very properly called 'criminal aggression'—it is imperialism in its worst form. Whoever calls this imperialism a mere bugbear is either grossly deceived or a gross deceiver.

"No, from whatever side we may look at it, this Filipino war was from the beginning, and is, a barefaced, cynical war of conquest in the word's truest sense.

"Are you Americans proud of your country? Here stands the poor Filipino before you able to say to you: 'You have cheated me.' And you must cast down your proud eyes, for you cannot answer, Nay! This is one of the things the president's imperialistic policy has done with us.

"The question of the first shot is not the main one. The main question is who was responsible for the condition of things which made that bloody conflict inevitable. And I maintain that President McKinley was responsible.

"This is the character of the Filipino war, in which the president wantonly involved us—I say "wantonly,' for there is no candid man living who will not admit that had the president instructed our peace commissioners to embody in the peace treaty the same provisions with regard to the Philippines as to Cuba, and had he treated the Filipinos accordingly, not a gun would have been fired and not a drop of blood would have been shed, as no blood has been shed in Cuba since her liberation."

Seventeen Speeches In a Day.

Hutchinson, Kan., Sept. 29.—The first day in Kansas of the Roosevelt campaign has been successful as far as audiences and interest are concerned. The meetings have been larger and the interest greater than at any other time during the trip west of the Mississippi river. Mr. Roosevelt made 17 speeches, including a night speech, and a day journey of 400 miles. When the train reached Junction City, drawn up in line on their horses were "Buffalo Bill's" soldiers and Indians in costume, and a large crowd of people. When the train stopped Colonel Cody, in the picturesque dress of a pioneer frontiersman, was warmly greeted by the governor. After Governor Roosevelt had concluded his remarks he introduced Colonel Cody, who addressed the crowd and asked for votes for McKinley and Roosevelt.

South Dakota Tour Completed.

Aberdeen, S. D., Sept. 29.—Mr. Bryan completed his tour of South Dakota at this place last night, being met by one of the largest crowds that have greeted him during the campaign. During the day Mr. Bryan traveled 260 miles, and made almost a dozen speeches. He presented his well-known views upon the attitude of the Republican party toward the gold standard, and the national banks. He also discussed the Philippine question at some length, but for the most part along old lines.

Lawyers Organize Sound Money Club.

New York, Sept. 29.—The "Lawyers' Sound Money club" was formed here yesterday. John G. Carlisle was elected president. Resolutions were adopted declaring against the convention which nominated Bryan and Stevenson upon a platform advocating the free and unlimited coinage of silver and gold at the ratio of 16 to 1, and saying that the defeat of Bryan and Stevenson is essential to the permanent and efficient maintenance of the gold standard of value in the country.

Corpses Still Being Unearthed.

Galveston, Tex., Sept. 29.—The receipts of cotton yesterday were 6000 bales, but grain receipts are still moderate. Seventeen hundred men are at work along the wharves, and 1400 are clearing away the debris. Corpses are being found daily and buried. The average number discovered daily is 25.

Poison In Canned Salmon.

Chicago, Sept. 29.—Twelve out of 24 members of the Delta Sigma fraternity were poisoned by food eaten at a banquet last night. Canned salmon is thought to be the cause of the ptomaine poisoning. It is not thought any of the cases will prove fatal.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning Sept. 30—Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle.

TOPIC.—Our foolish excuses.—Luke xiv, 15-24.

THE PARABLE.

The parable of the great supper was spoken by Christ at a feast in the house of a Pharisee on the Sabbath day. Christ had been speaking to the host on the subject of the character of guests who should be invited to a feast. This led one who was present to exclaim, "Blessed is he that shall eat bread in the kingdom of God." Then Christ spoke this parable of the supper as much as to condemn a man's enthusiasm over this feast, when at the same time he had not accepted the invitation to attend it and was probably making an excuse for not doing so. A man made a great supper and invited many. When the time came, he sent forth his servant, which was usual in the east, to tell the invited ones to come. But all, with one accord, in one spirit of worldliness, began to make excuses. One had bought a field, and it needed his attention. Another had purchased a yoke of oxen and had to go to prove them. A third had married a wife and could not come. The Mosaic law exempted a newly married man from military duty for a year. Then the master in anger sent his servants into the highways and hedges to compel others to come in and declared that those first invited, being unworthy, should not enter.

THE INTERPRETATION.

The Master who made the feast is God. The feast represents the blessings of the gospel, specially blessings of the saved in heaven. Those first invited were the Jews, and those urged later to attend the gentiles. The servants who first gave the invitation were the Old Testament prophets. The last servant was Christ Himself.

THE APPLICATION.

This parable teaches us most forcibly that our excuses are foolish and will not stand. The excuses offered by the invited guests in this parable are the strongest that man can offer. They were not light and trivial worldly affairs, but the press of business, the obligations of home ties, the most sacred human obligations. Yet Christ here declares that these excuses will not justify us in refusing to accept God's offer of salvation in Him, and if these excuses much more trivial in character what can be said in favor of our many excuses much now trivial in character than these? The parable teaches that no excuse will justify failure to accept Christ and to consecrate our lives to Him. Human claims are not superior to divine claims. No amount of faithfulness to human obligations will excuse neglect of duty to God. If we refuse to accept God's invitations through Christ, in the day of judgment we shall stand without excuse; others will occupy the places that could have been ours, and we will be cast out. Will it pay us for anything in this world to meet such a fate? Christ Himself has declared that it will not, though we should win the whole world, for He says, "What is a man profited if he shall gain the whole world and lose his own soul?" If it will not pay us to sacrifice the soul's eternal life for the whole world, how much less will it do so for the infinitely small part of the world which any of us may gain?

THE PRAYER MEETING.

Make a special study of Biblical excuses and Biblical answers to them. Assign an excuse to each one of ten members and let them give the answer and apply it.

BIBLE READINGS.

Gen. iii, 9-13; Ex. iii, 7-14; xxxii, 19-24; I Kings xx, 35-43; Matt. viii, 21, 22; xi, 28-30; xxii, 2-14; Rom. i, 18-20; ii, 14-16; Rev. xxii, 17.

The Work of Investigation.

We cannot stop the work of investigation. It will go on whether we like it or not, and the conclusions of research can only be answered by a deeper and more faithful research. But nothing which is of God can go. We worship no Baal god, who is off on a journey, or, peradventure, sleepeth. Our God and all that He has given us are safe and will abide. It is our business to make Him known, to declare a religion which builds on the eternal verities, which begins and ends in something spiritual and permanent. Those who believe in God, and that He has spoken in a Son, and who are setting forth an overcoming spiritual religion are winning wherever they appear. That is the wing of the Lord's army to which we belong, and it is there we stand. We are not discouraged, we are not afraid, we are not weak in faith, and we believe that in quiet and confidence we shall possess not only our own souls, but that we shall help others solve the problems of the age.—American Friend.

The Word.

O Word of God incarnate,
O Wisdom from on high,
O Truth unchanged, unchanging,
O Light of our dark sky!
We praise Thee for the radiance
That from the hallowed page,
A lantern to our footsteps,
Shines on from age to age.

The church from her dear Master
Received the gift divine,
And still that light she lifteth
O'er all the earth to shine.
It is the golden casket
Where gems of truth are stored;
It is the heaven drawn picture
Of Christ, the living Word.

It floateth like a banner
Before God's host unfurled;
It shineth like a beacon
Above the darkling world;
It is the chart and compass
That o'er life's surging sea,
Mid mists and rocks and quicksands,
Still guides, O Christ, to Thee.

O make Thy church, dear Saviour,
A lamp of burnished gold
To bear before the nations
Thy true light as of old!
O teach Thy wandering pilgrims
By this their path to trace
Till, clouds and darkness ended,
They see Thee face to face!

AMERICA AS MEDIATOR.

Earl Li Hopes We Will Use Influence to Hasten Settlement of Trouble.

Germany's Proposal Is Said to Have Been Modified.

Southern Viceroys Expect Great Britain and Germany to Declare War on China.

London, Sept. 29.—A copyrighted Associated Press dispatch from Tientsin, dated Sept. 25, says:

Li Hung Chang told General Chaffee today that his chief desire was to effect a cessation of hostilities, and he promised that the Chinese would not again take the initiative in fighting. He expressed confidence in the fairness of the United States, and said he hoped the American government would act as a mediator, using its influence to hasten the assembling of the proper body to settle the whole question.

He is in constant cable communication with Wu Ting Fang, the Chinese minister at Washington, and it is understood that he has received assurances that a majority of the powers will recognize his credentials. At the suggestion of General Chaffee he is hastening his preparations to leave for Pekin.

An agreement on the Chinese program has been arranged between France, Germany and Russia. It will be submitted to the other powers within a few days. The action recommended will be milder than Germany's original proposal, and it is expected that all the other powers will accept the program."

The Cologne Gazette, in another semi-official statement, apparently intended for consumption in the United States and England, points out the serious position resulting from Prince Tuan's ascendancy, "the continued massacre of missionaries and converts and other indications that the anti-foreign movement is directed from an influential centre." It thinks that the situation thus created "must appear intolerable even to those powers favoring a policy of indulgence and forbearance."

The Tientsin correspondent of The Standard says: "I learn that Li Hung Chang has declared that Vice Admiral Alexieff has gone to Port Arthur to avoid meeting Count Von Waldersee, who was told to hold a conference with him and Vice Admiral Seymour and Sir Afred Gaselee.'

According to private advices received here from Nankin, the southern viceroys expect Great Britain and Germany to declare war on China, as there is no likelihood of China surrendering the authors of the anti-foreign uprising for punishment.' Should such an attack be made, the Yang-Tse viceroys must make a show against the country's enemies, though well aware that the situation is hopeless and though not anxious to sacrifice life unnecessarily. Meanwhile forces and provisions are being sent to Tai-Yuan-Fu, capital of the province of Shan-Si. The position of the viceroys is grave.

No Important Developments.

Washington, Sept. 29.—The state department has not been advised officially of any of the events of more or less importance, which are said to have occurred in China, according to various European reports, within the past 24 hours. If Tuan has been degraded, and if Russia contemplates a blockade of the Chinese naval ports, the department does not know the facts. Respecting the statement that Ching has been discovered to be a contributor to the Boxer cause, it is said that all the information that the department has been able to secure touching Ching's personality went to show his unvarying friendliness for the foreigners, and upon that record he was accepted as a competent envoy.

Supplanted by Friendly Chinaman.

Shanghai, Sept. 29.—From reliable Chinese sources of information comes the statement that the empress dowager has replaced Prince Tuan by Wang Wen Chao, who is an intelligent and strong man, from whom the foreigners may expect much, and that Kang Yi, the notorious Boxer leader, has committed suicide in Pekin. If these reports be true, they show that the Boxer power is breaking with the Chinese government.

Thanks From Chinese Emperor.

Shanghai, Sept. 29.—Emperor Kwang Su has issued an edict thanking Emperor Nicholas for his decision to withdraw the Russian troops from Pekin, and also announcing his own willingness to perform a memoral ceremony over the grave of Baron Von Ketteler, the murdered German minister to China.

Heavy Immigration of Irish.

New York, Sept. 29.—A report on the Irish immigration to the port of New York during the past 12 months shows that during that time 23,000 Irishmen and women have entered the United States through this port, an increase of 2000 over the previous year.

Prominent Man Kills Himself.

Philadelphia, Sept. 29.—Josiah R. Adams, 52 years old, a prominent clubman and lawyer, committed suicide in a fashionable hotel here. His wife knows of no reason for her husband to have taken his life. Mr. Adams was the nominee of the Republican party for judge of the superior court of Pennsylvania.

TWO RECENT WILLS FOUND.

New York, Sept. 29.—Important developments in the matter of the death of the eccentric millionaire, William Marsh Rice, followed upon the arrival from Texas of the recluse's brother, and his Texan lawyer. While the body of the old cotton king was being taken to the crematory, keen-witted men were at work upon the tangle of the Rice estate. It developed that the wealth of Mr. Rice far exceeded the previous estimates. The authorities learned that the estate would amount to $15,000,000. To the astonishment of those at the conference, Lawyer Patrick produced two wills, one bearing a recent date.

WILLIAM MARSH RICE.

No definite information can be gathered concerning the contents of the two wills. The more recent one was drawn shortly before Mr. Rice's death by Mr. Patrick, and he, Captain Baker and three other persons are named as executors. Professor Witthaus, who has part of the body of Mr. Rice, says he will make a preliminary report in about 10 days.

Buncoed, Assaulted and Robbed.

Detroit, Sept. 29.—William E. Nivison, a wealthy farmer living 4½ miles from Coldwater, says a well-dressed stranger, giving his name as Gosmer, a banker, came to his farm yesterday and offered to buy it providing he could get an adjoining farm with it. Nivison drove to Coldwater with the man, drew $5000 from the savings bank and started back to buy the adjoining farm. The couple were met on the road by a third man, who, aided by the alleged banker, knocked Nivison senseless and robbed him of the $5000.

Handed Over Check For $100,000.

London, Sept. 29.—Charles T. Yerkes of Chicago and New York was yesterday elected chairman of the new board of directors of the Charing Cross, Euston and Hampstead Underground railway. The formalities were completed in London in a few minutes. Mr. Yerkes handed a check for £100,000 to the old company, which is the amount the old company had deposited with the authorities as a guarantee for carrying out the work.

Possibly Fatal Shooting Affray.

Norwalk, Conn., Sept. 29.—A shooting affray, apparently the outcome of jealousy, took place here last night, with the result that Stephen Gregory, 35, is in the city hospital seriously wounded, though it is thought not fatally, while his assailant, Philip L. Wheeler, 32, is under arrest. It is alleged that Wheeler's infatuation for a Miss Englehart, and his consequent jealousy, led up to the shooting.

Charged With Violating Law.

New York, Sept. 29.—Executive Chairman McGuire of the Democratic state committee has been served in this city with the papers in a suit brought by a taxpayer of Syracuse against him as mayor of that city in which he is charged with violating the law in the tax budget of that city, by exceeding the tax limit by $400,000. The complaint also charges extravagance of appropriations.

Fire Started by Nitric Acid.

Fall River, Mass., Sept. 29.—By the explosion of a carboy of nitric acid in a chemical plant at Tiverton, a blaze was started which caused a loss of $1000. The flames communicated to the Seaside home, and burned it. The home was a charitable institution for sick children, and the loss was about $2000.

Pistol Wound Caused Death.

Atlanta, Sept. 29.—Charles A. Collier, former mayor of Atlanta, and commissioner to the Paris exposition, died yesterday from the effects of an accidental pistol wound. Mr. Collier was not conscious at any time after receiving the wound, and the facts attending it are not known.

The Parliamentary Campaign.

London, Sept. 29.—The parliamentary general election campaign presents no new feature of a remarkable character. Mr. Chamberlain has written a letter in the course of which he says that, as the Dutch republics have been annexed, he does not expect any formal declaration of of peace.

Poison For Son and Herself.

New York, Sept. 29.—Mrs. Jennie Schaeffer of Brooklyn poured carbolic acid down the throat of her 5-year-old boy, and then killed herself by swallowing a quantity of the poison. The boy may recover. Despondency over the loss of a daughter had driven her insane.

WERE DISAPPOINTED.

Mine Workers' Officers Waited In Vain For Information From New York.

Ten Percent Increase Would Be Far From Satisfactory,

But Would Be a Great Victory For Organized Labor Under Adverse Circumstances.

Hazleton, Pa., Sept. 29.—The coal strike remains unsettled. Reports of conferences of mine operators and of leading officials of the coal carrying railroads are plentiful. Beyond the general statement that the principal point under discussion is the advisability or practicability of granting the mine workers a 10 percent advance in wages, very little of the details of the meeting can be gleaned.

Friday was probably the most inactive day that President Mitchell and his official staff have spent since the strike began. The day gave promise of developing important events at the United Mine Workers' headquarters, but all those interested were doomed to disappointment. That President Mitchell was waiting for information from New York cannot be denied, as he intimated several times that something might develop before night. In the forenoon he had two lengthy conversations over the long-distance telephone, and in the afternoon he was at the wire for more than half an hour. To whom he talked he declined to say.

In discussing the reported 10-percent advance offered the men by the operators, Mr. Mitchell said: "Under the sliding scale such an increase practically amounts to nothing; what the men would gain in one day they might lose the next."

By the sliding scale is meant that the wages are fixed according to the market price of coal. If there is any advance in the price the miners share in it, and should there be a decrease the miners correspondingly share such a decrease.

Speaking on the general strike situation, Mr. Mitchell said: "This has been the greatest industrial contest between labor and capital in the history of America. The manner in which the men have voluntarily responded for the strike demonstrates that the conditions under which they labored so long were so unbearable that to continue working meant to surrender absolutely all hope of maintaining themselves and families as the American citizens believe they should.

"If the 10-percent increase mentioned in the newspapers is correct, while far from satisfactory, it is the greatest victory ever achieved by organized labor and won under the most adverse circumstances. I, of course, have nothing to say as to what action will be taken as to the acceptance or rejection of any proposition. This must be determined by the whole body of anthracite miners themselves. Our organization will not make the mistake which has wrecked many other organizations of assuming the power to determine through its officers the happiness or misery, the weal or woe of the 500,000 men and women and children dependent upon the anthracite coal industry for a livelihood.

"We take the position in this contest as we have in all others, that capital is entitled to fair compensation on honest investment, but that no institution has a legitimate right to exist which does not afford labor a sufficient rate of wages to enable those depending upon it to earn a fair living."

Quiet continues to prevail throughout the whole Lehigh valley region. The J. S. Wentz & Co. colliery at Hazlebrook shut down yesterday. There were few changes in the working forces of the collieries which have not been shut down.

Against Recognition of Union.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Sept. 29.—An important meeting of the coal operators of the Wyoming and Lackawanna valleys was held here yesterday. After the conference was over several of the operators were askd for information, but they were very reticent. Superintendent Lathrop said: "We discussed a scheme of advancing the wages of the men throughout the region at least 10 percent. The powder question was also discussed, but we are not prepared to give out any information regarding our deliberations on the subject." From what can be learned, the operators were not opposed to granting a reduction in the price of powder, but there was a strong feeling expressed against an out and out recognition of the miners' union.

End Will Come Next Week

New York, Sept. 29.—The Herald says: One of the men who has participated in the plans for the settlement of the anthracite coal miners' strike and is familiar with all the facts and attendant circumstances, said in an interview last night: "My belief is that the strike will come to an end some time early next week. It will not be ended by a blare of trumpets or by sweeping general orders, but by the men quietly going to work in colliery after colliery day after day at the 10-percent advance. There is no inclination to recognize Mitchell in any way."

No Strike at Trevorton.

Shamokin, Pa., Sept. 29.—When the North Franklin colliery at Trevorton closed down last evening a number of men, who are not on strike, decided that they will continue to work next week, and that, meantime, they would hold themselves aloof from strike agitators. The latter are putting forth their best efforts to induce the men to tie up the colliery. Everything is quiet in this region.

SUICIDE BEFORE A MIRROR.

Wakefield Man Cut His Throat After Having Attempted Double Murder.

Wakefield, Mass., Sept. 29.—After attempting to murder his wife and another woman, Seymour Campbell, an employe of the Wakefield Street railway, committed suicide by cutting his throat. Neither of the women was injured. Campbell, who had not been on friendly terms with his wife for about two weeks, procured a revolver and fired a shot at her in the tenement where he lived. The bullet grazed her right arm, but the woman was not injured, although the revolver was held at such close quarters that the powder burned a hole in her sleeve.

The report of the weapon caused a great commotion in the neighborhood and several persons hastened to the Campbell apartment. The first to reach the place was Mrs. Timothy Murphy, an occupant of an adjoining tenement. When Campbell saw Mrs. Murphy enter the door, he again raised his revolver and fired, but he was apparently too greatly excited to take a steady aim, and the shot went wide. The woman lost no time in getting out of reach of the infuriated man.

The latter went to his bedroom, and standing before a mirror, drew a razor across his throat. With a torrent of blood flowing from the wound, Campbell walked from his room and into the parlor of the house, where he fell to the floor and expired. Quite a number of persons had reached the house just as Campbell cut himself, but they were too late to save his life.

Campbell was 30 years old. He had been married about four years. His temper had been such that he and his wife had frequently quarrelled, and about a fortnight ago they separated for a time. It is thought his domestic troubles weighed upon his mind to such an extent that he determined to kill his wife and himself. Campbell was employed on the tower wagon of the electric street railroad.

Judge Denounces Jury's Verdict.

Nashua, N. H., Sept. 29.—Judge Peaslee sprung a sensation in the supreme court by denouncing a verdict rendered by the jury in the case of the state vs. Charles Walker. The jury had been out all night, and rendered a verdict of not guilty. Judge Peaslee said: "As this is a criminal case I have not the right to set aside the verdict, but I can prevent the repetition of such a verdict, which is a violation of your oaths, and I discharge you from further attendance upon this court." The jury was therefore paid off and sent home, instead of being allowed to do duty during the next few weeks.

Alleged Conspiracy to Defraud.

Montreal, Sept. 29.—Alex McCulloch, vice president of the Croil & McCulloch Dairy company, and D. J. McGillis, secretary of the Montreal Cold Storage and Freezing company, were arrested on a charge of conspiracy to defraud the Merchants' bank of Halifax out of $200,000 by means of warehouse receipts for goods alleged to be stored in the storage company's premises, but which were not there.

They Had Burglars' Tools.

South Royalton, Vt., Sept. 29.—Sheriffs Jones, Spofford and Rogers have captured the men supposed to have burglarized the postoffice at Sharon. They gave their names as Thomas McCoy, James Bartosy and Felix Pacio. Burglars' tools were found with them. The men were committed to jail to await the next session of the grand jury.

It Was Another Man.

Boston, Sept. 29.—Investigations made by the members of the family of Dr. George E. Warren of Newton, prompted by dispatches from Halifax, that Dr. Warren had been there, and had gone into the woods hunting, proved that the man was not the missing Newton dentist.

Dam Gave Way.

Parsons, Kan., Sept. 29.—Heavy rain resulted in the breaking of the dam across Labette creek, above the city. About 25 blocks in the lower part of the city were flooded. Many small houses were washed from their foundations. Much grain in the shock is a total loss.

Price of Milk Goes Up.

Boston, Sept. 29.—At a meeting of the Milk Dealers' association of Boston and vicinity it was voted to advance the the retail price of milk to 8 cents a quart after Oct. 1. This advance is stated to be due to the drought and the consequent scarcity of hay and grain.

Washington, D. C.

Gentlemen:—Our family realize so much from the use of GRAIN-O that I feel I must say a word to induce others to use it. If people are interested in their health and the welfare of their children they will use no other beverage. I have used them all, but GRAIN-O I have found superior to any, for the reason that it is solid grain.

Foot ball is the only thing you can interest the average boy in now. How proud they are when clad in their white padded suits, especially when the suits are well stained with grass and mud. A little blood stain makes the garment of priceless value. Merrymount Park is daily the scene of many conflicts.

The contest in the Republican caucuses was largely Atwood and anti-Atwood. By a trick in Ward One, the Atwood men won in that ward, and also in Ward Two, a total of seven delegates. All the other fourteen delegates of the city were elected largely as anti-Atwoodites in plain words, the Democrats was not a factor, and the Republicans of the city want neither Mr. Atwood or an Atwood candidate. Dr. Pierce has nearly enough delegates for a nomination. He was the choice of the Republicans in every ward he entered in the district, and other wards now regret that they did not have an opportunity to vote for Pierce delegates. He was the first choice of many Quincy Republicans, and now that the Quincy gentlemen has no chance a very large number desire that he be the Republican candidate. He is of good reputation, and of an honorable family. A young man, who is a thorough Republican, a worker for years in the party for good government, and is every way worthy of the votes in the Tenth district. He can be elected if nominated, and there is considerable enthusiasm in his favor.

Penniman School, Braintree.

The committee for the dedication of the Penniman school house have completed their program for afternoon and evening exercises. Oct. 5 is the date fixed, the program to be carried out, rain or shine.

At three o'clock, instead of four as first planned, the afternoon exercises by the children will be very interesting the teachers of that building having arranged an excellent program. This program will occupy an hour or more of the time and will give the children ample time to get home before dark.

In the evening the building will be illuminated by electric lights, through the kindness of Mr. A. O. Clark, Mr. W. P. Mercer and Mr. A. L. Hobart. At eight o'clock the program will begin by selections rendered by the well known Cuff's orchestra.

To both afternoon and evening exercises the citizens are cordially invited to be present without further invitations, as there are no guilt edge invitations being sent out.

PARK TAKINGS.

Approved by the City Council Last Night.

Will Be Filed in Dedham Registry Today.

All the Objectionable Features Eliminated.

Just twelve members were present at the special meeting of the City Council Friday evening. Councilman Packard called the meeting to order at 7.35, but as only eleven were present a recess was taken. Ten minutes later another member showed up, and the roll call found the absent members to be Councilmen Alden, Bryant, Callahan, Cleverly, Freeman, Hill, Johnson, Nichols, Nicol and Poland.

Councilman Packard was elected President and he read the call.

The Committee on Streets reported ought to pass on the orders approving the takings of the Metropolitan Park Commission from Adams street near Eaton's pond to Reardon street, from Reardon street to the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R., and from the latter point to the Blue Hills Reservation.

In reply to questions Chairman Whiting of the Park Commission told what the location was. It passed back of the Ward Four playground, and through the Willard school yard. It could not ruin the playground for it passes near the backstop, and the Metropolitan Commission will give us a transfer back of the ball field. It appears to be the most satisfactory location.

Mayor Hall was called upon and he stated that he and the Park Commissioners and Commissioner of Public Works had gone over the plans carefully, and there seemed but one course to pursue, as all objectionable features had been eliminated. As far as Willard school lot was concerned it would be an improvement and ample room would be left. Under the act, takings must be accepted by the City Council, and recorded within sixty days from the first of August. He had only learned Thursday that it was absolutely necessary to take action Friday night.

Councilman DeNormandie asked how many were present at the Committee meeting to which Councilman Newcomb replied that a majority were present.

Upon motion the three orders were adopted, the roll call being used.

Adjourned at 8.08.

Probate Court.

Administration papers were granted at the Norfolk county probate court on Wednesday on estate of Sally Sumner late of Hyde Park to Frank F. Crane of Quincy; on estate of Mary Leake of Quincy to James Humphrey. An account for $21,940.90 was allowed on the estate of John Federhen late of Quincy, and also the second account for $23,495.61.

Hose House.

The new Wollaston hose house appears to have made rapid progress during the past week.

If this building could so far approach completion that it could be used as a polling place it would be appreciated by the voters.

It ought to be closed in before election day, and could at least be made comfortable for this purpose.

A dance will be held in Hancock hall tonight under the management of the Social Five. The ever popular Cuff's orchestra of South Braintree will furnish music.

The Wollaston Assembly of Good Fellows is in a very prosperous condition. Their meetings are held on the second and fourth Fridays in the old K. of H. hall.

Now is the time to visit the top of the Third hill, Wollaston, and see what is being done by the Metropolitan Water Commission. The distant view is most magnificent.

Only one heat was run in 2.24 class at the Weymouth fair yesterday. William L., entered by Charles Hall, was fourth. The 2.32 purse was won by Maney Gillis, and the 2.50 purse by Dent F.

The annual rally day of the Wollaston Baptist Sunday school comes tomorrow, and there will be a special sermon by the pastor, Mr. Gurney, in the morning as well as special exercises at the Sunday school.

The Universalist Y. P. C. U., held a business meeting at the home of the president, Herbert R. Holmes last Monday evening and a vigorous movement was begun with several pledges in behalf of the missionary work of the national Y. P. C. U.

The large yellow dog familiarly known as "Murphy's dog," was seriously injured by an express train this week at Wollaston. Arthur Murphy soon put an end to his sufferings. A little white powder on the dog's tongue did the business.

Elmer W. Baker will open a select dancing school, commencing next week at Malnati's hall, at South Quincy. Having taking many lessons of popular teachers, he is well prepared to teach all the new dances. For full particulars see notice in another column.

Having passed the Century mark John Adams Council, Royal Arcanum, expects to add more than a score of new members to its roll this season. Ex-Mayors Porter, Fairbanks, and Sears, and His Honor Mayor Hall, as well as City Clerk Cleaves and President Bryant are all members of this popular fraternal order.

The new location for the Wollaston post office continues to be a sore spot in the minds of the business community in the vicinity of the depot. All seem to agree that it could have been prevented and many believe that a serious mistake has been made. The change will be made Sunday so that Monday morning the new location must be sought by correspondents.

Serious Accident.

Conductor Hervey W. Varney of the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. and a resident of Braintree on Sampson avenue met with an accident at Green Harbor station last Sunday morning which nearly cost him his life.

His train for South Duxbury and way stations left Boston at 8.58 A. M., and nearing the Green Harbor station, Mr. Varney went out on the car platform and down to the bottom step. The train had almost stopped when he, thinking there was one more step, stepped down and fell under the train.

He was rolled over and over and if the train had gone two feet further a car wheel would have run over his neck as his head hung over the rail.

Mr. Varney was tenderly removed to Boston to the hospital where it was found that three ribs were broken beside other injuries.

We are told that he is recovering rapidly, but must remain on his back until his broken ribs knit, then injuries to his back can be attended to.

Mr. Varney is cheerful and sends word to his companions that if any desire to attend the Brockton fair, he will take their run.

Pretty Home Wedding.

A very pretty home wedding took place Thursday evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. James Skinner on Whitwell street when they gave in marriage their daughter, Alice Jane to Mr. Thomas H. Parsons. The ceremony was performed at eight o'clock by Rev. E. N. Hardy pastor of Bethany Congregational church. The bride wore a beautiful dress of white organdie and tulle and carried a bouquet of bride roses.

The bridesmaid was her sister, Miss Catherine Skinner. The groom was attended by his brother, Mr. Archie Parsons as best man. The rooms were prettily decorated for the occasion with greens and flowers.

After the ceremony a wedding supper was served, which was partaken of by all present. The couple left on the 10.08 train for a brief wedding trip with the best wishes of friends and usual amount of white ribbon, old shoes, rice, etc

Among the guests present were: Mr. and Mrs. James B. Giles, Miss Catherine Skinner, Miss Margaret MacLennan, Mr. Archie Parsons, Rev. E. N. Hardy, Miss Wilhelmena Skinner, Mr. and Mrs. William F. Skinner, Miss Grace Skinner, Mr. and Mrs. William Moir, Mrs. Hubert, Miss Eva Hubert, Mrs. A. McLeod, Miss Robertson, Miss Marion Giles, Mr. and Mrs. Richard T. Clark, Mr. William Parsons, Mr. Malcolm MacLeod, Mr. and Mrs. William Hoehn, Mr. William Milne, Mr. James Giles, Mr. J. H. Davey, Mr. Charles Davey and Mr. Charles Parsons.

Braintree Golf Club.

Workmen have been busy on the grounds of the club for a week putting in the new greens and lengthening the course.

The adjoining land of Mr. William Daly has been secured and elevated tee built.

The entire course is now about 250 yards longer and with the new locations of the tees a clean drive of at least 50 yards is necessary to clear the hazards. The difficult hazards have been given some suggestive names by the players as "The Gulch" a rocky ravine which ends in a swale and the "Lobster Pot" which manages to catch a good many Lobsters.

In the tournament last Saturday the winners in the ladies' foursome were Mrs. Frank Dearing and Miss Bertha Arnold by one hole. Tournament thit Saturday will commence at 3.30 P. M.

—The Boston & Maine railroad employs 22,396 persons. It requires more men to look after the stations than it does to run the trains.

A Lucky Woman.

The Boston Advertiser, yesterday, had a very interesting story about Elizabeth Wakem, who says she used to live in Quincy, and that was how she met her husband, Mr. Horsman, a graduate of the Braintree High school.

Mrs. Ora Horsman is the wife of a grocery clerk, now living in a boarding house at the corner of Essex street and Highland avenue, Lynn. She has apparently become the heiress of a very large fortune if the tale she tells is true. She says:

"A few years ago I thought I'd like to take up nursing, and a doctor said he would give me a chance to see what I could do, taking care of Mrs. William Porter of Boston.

"She was sick for the first time in her life—never had had a sick day before.

"Well, she took a liking to me from the first, and soon she asked me to change my name to hers, so I did, and now I write my name Effie Elizabeth P. W. Horsman.

"Her name is Effie, you see. All her relatives are dead. A son-in-law, the last of her kin, died some time ago.

"I took care of her till I wasn't able to do nursing any more, but I looked after her just the same.

"She told me if I would look after her for the rest of her life she would make me her heir; so I promised.

"I have seen the will. It was witnessed by three lawyers.

Mrs. Horsman has papers showing that in a safe deposit box in the vaults of the Old Colony Trust Co., Boston, there are deposited bonds to the value of $45,000 in her name, and cash on deposit in a Boston National Bank to the amount of $35,000.

This property she says was a present to her from Mrs. William Porter on Sept. 5th, and Sept. 9 she made a will, making her the sole heir. She says:

"I shall build in the spring, somewhere out Savin Hill way, perhaps. I think it is very beautiful there. I lived there awhile.

"I have two sisters, one nine, the other 14, and two brothers, the elder 29, and they, with my mother and father, will live with us."

The Brockton Fair.

From early morning till sunset there is something going on to entertain the thousands who annually attend the Brockton Fair. Not a patron has an opportunity to wonder what he will do next, but can only wonder at what he will see next. The races, the horse show, two big stage shows, music everywhere, smartly dressed people, thousands of them, together make a picture that lingers a pleasant memory for many weeks. The big grand-stand filled to overflowing is a show in itself. Every one from the rosy-cheeked child with the red balloon to its benign-looking grandfather show their appreciation of the show on their happy countenances. Perfect order is always maintained on the grounds and careful attention is paid to every detail that will tend to increase the comfort of the Fair's patrons. An information bureau, with telephone and telegraphic service, a free nursery where little ones can be left in the care of competent nurses, and an emergency hospital with a trained Red Cross corps all show that the Fair management are always looking to the comfort of their patrons. The dates of this big show are October 2, 3, 4 and 5, commencing on Tuesday instead of Wednesday as in the past seasons.

Rev. Charles M. Sheldon.

The Rev. Charles M. Sheldon of Topeka, Kansas, author of the book "In His Steps," and who upon invitation conducted a daily newspaper in his city "as Jesus would," of which so much has been said, will visit Quincy on Friday, October 19, as the guest of the Quincy Young Men's Christian association. A large mass meeting is being arranged for the afternoon of that day, at 3.30 o'clock at Bethany Congregational church, at which time he will speak. Churches of Quincy and the surrounding district will be invited and tickets will be issued, which may be had free of charge. They may be procured of General Secretary W. F. Hoehn, or of Rev. E. N. Hardy on Foster street. Application by mail should enclose the necessary return postage. There will probably be other speakers at the afternoon meeting, and Mrs. Jennie Hocking Hunt will arrange for the music. In the evening Mr. Sheldon will be one of the speakers at the Contributors' banquet of the Association which will be held in Colonial hall.

Cora Jones.

Word reached us today that Cora Jones, who lived for a number of years at Wollaston, and was a member of the Congregational church, was one of the fortunate women who was not injured or killed in the recent big storm at Galveston. It will certainly be gratifying to her many Wollaston friends to know that she is safe, when so many thousands lost their lives.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Makes the lightest most delicious and tasty hot biscuit

ROYAL Baking Powder is indispensable to the preparation of the finest cake, hot-breads, rolls and muffins.

Housekeepers are sometimes importuned to buy other powders because they are "cheap."

Housekeepers should stop and think. If such powders are lower priced, are they not inferior?

Is it economy to spoil your digestion to save a few pennies?

Alum is used in some baking powders because it is cheap. It costs but a few cents a pound whereas the chief ingredient in a pure powder costs thirty. But alum is a corrosive poison which, taken in food, acts injuriously upon the stomach, liver and kidneys.

WORK OF EARL LI'S RIVAL

Remarkable Book Written by Prince Chang Chih-Tung.

ENTITLED "CHINA'S ONLY HOPE."

The Viceroy Thinks His Country Should Study the New Order of Things—Has No Sympathy For Boxers—Book to Be Published In the United States.

Prince Chang Chih-Tung of China, Li Hung Chang's greatest rival and by many considered the autocrat of interior China, has written a remarkable book, which is to appear from the press of an American publisher, with the indorsement of his imperial majesty Kwang-Su himself.

Prince Chang has sent his manuscript to the United States with the request that it be printed, says the New York Journal. It was printed in China and has been distributed by royal decree. The volume is entitled "China's Only Hope." This, in the viceroy's opinion, is that his country should study the new order of things. The book will be the first of its kind ever to have emanated from a prince of the Chinese empire and indorsed with the seal of his imperial majesty. The ideas the viceroy expresses are remarkable.

The translation of the book into English has just been completed. A few extracts will show its general character. The viceroy's opinion of international law in the abstract shows what may be expected of him in negotiating with foreign countries. He says:

"There are many who place the most implicit confidence in international law, but these are as stupid as the individuals who depend on the Disarmament society for peace. If countries are equally matched, then international law is enforced; otherwise, the law is inoperative. For what has international law to do with fighting issues when one country is strong and another weak? We have never heard of international law controlling the issues of war between unequal states. Disarmament is an international joke and international law a deception."

On the other hand, Prince Chang does not express much sympathy with such uprisings as that of the Boxers He says pithily that "the Chinese who create disturbances are lunatics." Yet the prince believes that the history of his country, as a whole, is such as to justify admiration. He exclaims:

"Many of our Chinese no doubt extol foreign learning to the skies and even go so far as to assert that our government and customs do not possess one redeeming feature. Such scoffers we cannot count as human beings. * * * The holy emperors have for more than 250 years preserved intact the laws which relate to the family and the heart and have handed them down to us. The ministers and people daily bask in the smiles of imperial favor and to the present day receive their never failing supplies from our sovereign's bounty. Examine the history of China for 2,000 years back and then compare it with the western history of 50 years! Does the government of these foreign countries present such a record of generosity, benevolence, loyalty and honesty as ours?"

In Prince Chang's opinion, China's salvation lies in adherence to the principles of Confucius. He says:

"The foundations of our state are deep and durable. Protected by heaven, the superstructure will certainly stand secure! But supposing this absurd gossip about the partition of China by Europeans were true and the country were cut up, be it ever so exalted and excellent—would foreigners respect the holy doctrines of Confucius? Far from it. The classics of the four philosophers would be thrown out as refuse, and the Confucian cap and gown would never more cherish the hope of an official career. Our clever scholars would figure as pastors, compradores and clerks, while the common people would be required to pay a poll tax and be used as soldiers, artisans, underlings and servants. Our holy religion would meet the same fate that Brahmanism in India did. Its adherents would be found skulking away or crouching among the cavernous hills, but clinging fast the while to some tattered remnants of the truth!

"Buddhism is on its last legs, and Taoism is discouraged because its devils have become irresponsive and inefficacious. If there be a renaissance of Confucianism, China will be brought to order, and Buddhism and Taoism will receive secure protection from the sect of the learned."

The viceroy expresses the bitterness China feels over the treatment of her subjects in the United States as follows: "When America was first opened up, much dependence was placed on Chinese labor. Now, when that country has become rich and prosperous, Chinese labor is restricted, while that of other foreigners is allowed."

Among other striking passages in this strange volume are the following:

"The customs returns for the past few years give the value of our imports at 80,000,000 taels and the exports at 50,000,000 taels. The balance of 30,000,000 taels represents what has been consumed in smoking the pernicious opium pipe. Assuredly it is not foreign intercourse that is ruining China, but this dreadful poison.

"If the emperor and officials of our country, who read the newspapers and are exercised thereby, should fear the consequences of inaction and reform, would not this make for China's welfare? Readers of foreign newspapers perceive at once that the Chinese are unmercifully abused. We are compared with drunkards and rotten stuff. Among the Chinese, then, there is now no incentive to thought or action, no intercourse among the people, and the condition of things has become stagnant and effete. Effeteness has begotten stupidity, and stupidity lethargy. Lethargy has produced idleness, and idleness waste.

"If we do not change soon, what will become of us? European knowledge will increase more and more, and Chinese stupidity will become more dense. We shall be marked as the sure prey of the west. Foreigners will still trade with us as before, but China will play a losing game and get only chaff while her competitors garner the wheat, and we shall really, if not openly, become the slaves of westerners. Not only this, the foreigners will suck our blood and, worse than this, pare the flesh from our bones. To end the tragedy they will swallow us down, body and soul, at one great mouthful and gloat over the deal!"

HARVARD MEN HYPNOTIZED.

Young Mack's Weird Powers More Than a Match For Footballers.

Harvard has met something harder to tackle than Yale—nothing less than the person of young William H. Mack. The other day he stood on Soldiers' field, at Cambridge, and successfully defied any one to lift him off his feet.

The entire football squad and some 100 students who had come out to see the practice responded with alacrity. Little attention would have been paid to the young man had not Jack McMasters, the football trainer, brought him out to the field as his protege.

"See how easy it is to lift him!" cried Jack, and a dozen fine examples of Harvard's brawn and sinew strained hard, but not one of them could budge young Mack, says the New York World. Struggle as they might, he coolly kept his feet under onslaughts that would have sent the entire Yale eleven to the infirmary had they remained as passive as the young man did.

Finally Captain Daly resolved to set a good example and make a superhuman effort himself. He wound his arms around Mack's waist and settled himself to heave or else go down through the earth. Mack laid the middle finger of his right hand lightly against Daly's neck just back of the left ear and with his other pressed Daly's pulse.

Daly heaved and lifted. Every vein dilated, his face grew crimson, and his great muscles stood out like whipcords. But like a ton of lead stood Mack, immovable. Suddenly he lifted his hands off the young athlete. He shot up in the air as if from a catapult. But it was because he was willing, after showing his powers. Coach Dibblee tried the game, too, and failed utterly.

Then young Mack took a pole and placed it vertically. Five young men were invited to push it to the ground; but, struggle as they might, they seemed powerless against the young man. This exhausted Mack, and McMasters made him desist because it was wearing out his nervous force.

"Well," he observed, "we've got a clew to keep the eleven on its feet this year and stop its going up in the air, anyway."

SALE OF GOODS ABROAD.

Some Practical Advice to American Manufacturers.

Vice Consul General Hanauer at Frankfort writes to the state department at Washington in answer to inquiries made by American manufacturers as to how to gain sale for their products in foreign markets. The consul wishes to impress upon the minds of the manufacturers the necessity of personally studying the wants of foreign markets; of meeting the usual terms of credit, time and place of delivery; standard of weight and measure; of knowing the language of customers, of combinations in foreign trade, etc.

Another mode which promises splendid returns for those who employ it, and which will stimulate our export trade, is the establishing of American department stores in the large European cities. In Germany and other continental countries there are large retail warehouses and stores which sell different lines of dry goods and clothing for female apparel. Such establishments as our department stores, which sell everything for human needs, are hardly known there. In the European cities there are any number of retail stores carrying small stock and charging high prices.

"I think," says the consul, "department stores would find conditions more favorable here than at home, in amount of sales and return on the capital invested, but the importance of the plan consists in the immense impetus they would give to the sale of American specialties, household articles of all kinds, clothing, kitchen and iron ware, small machines, tools and instruments, toys, carriages and vehicles, office and dwelling furniture, fruits and meal, etc. I am confident that such a concern established in Frankfort could within a few years sell American specialties alone to an amount of $3,000,000 to $4,000,000 annually, and distribute further quantities by giving agencies to leading dealers of interior towns and cities. In shoes alone it could transact a large trade. Our manufacturers need then but offer their products to the home purchasing office in order to do a foreign trade."

Advance of the Japanese.

The Japanese are making rapid strides in their march toward western culture. The latest innovation is the formation of commercial schools for the training of female clerks, and one of the largest railway companies in Nippon, according to the Philadelphia Public Ledger, has intimated that after a certain date women only will be employed in the clerical department.

THE BUSINESS SITUATION.

Satisfactory Activity In Distributive Trade, With a Conservative Undertone.

New York, Sept. 29.—Bradstreet's says: The month of September closed with a rather better outlook in the industrial world than was apparent a week or 10 days ago. The reports as to probability of a settlement of the anthracite coal strike seem to have a basis of fact, and there is more than a likelihood that the most disturbing feature in the industrial situation for some time is in process of elimination. The settlement of the amalgamated wage scale in the west has already resulted in the starting of some important mills. An encouraging feature in the iron and steel situation is the number and character of foreign inquiries.

But little of significance is to be extracted from the movement of prices. On the whole, the trend in the price movement is to steadiness with a drift rather toward an increase than a decline.

The week has been without special features other than the sharp decline in certain specialties. The bond market is firm, with restricted transactions and a demand for prime securities at any concessions. Foreign exchange has broken under diminished inquiry.

A satisfactory activity in distributive trade, checked to some extent in certain localities by unseasonable weather and in others by a tendency to curtail operations, pending the outcome of the electoral contest, is disclosed. At the large centers, particularly in the east, the undertone appears to be conservative.

Business failures for the week number 169, as against 183 last week, and 129 in this week a year ago.

Divorce Granted and Annulled.

Rockville, Conn., Sept. 29.—After hearing several witnesses for the petitioner in the divorce case of E. B. Porter vs. Mary G. Porter, and it being understood that there would be no contest, a divorce was granted, and the court adjourned. Three minutes later a telegram to Judge Wheeler from Mrs. Porter announced that she wished to be heard before the divorce was granted. Court was immediately reopened, the decision just rendered set aside, and the case assigned for a rehearing Oct. 22.

A New Anthracite Coal Field.

Valley City, N. D., Sept. 29.—Judge J. M. Dennett has just returned from the Cascade mountain district of Washington, bringing samples and news of the location of vast fields of pure anthracite coal. He estimates the quantity of coal in sight at 25,000,000 tons. Judge Dennett first discovered the coal on a prospecting trip in the 60's, but lost track of the location until his recent trip.

Speedy Settlement Probable.

Lowell, Mass., Sept. 29.—The strike of the print workers of the Merrimack and Hamilton Print works, which has been on for the past two weeks, is now in a fair way of settlement. The state board of arbitration submitted a proposition to both parties to the controversy at the Hamilton mills yesterday and the men voted to accept it. The nature of the proposition was not divulged.

For Dutch Government to Consider.

London, Sept. 29.—Great Britain has sent a note to the Dutch government, according to a dispatch from Amsterdam to The Daily Mail, which contains a warning that if Mr. Kruger is allowed to carry bullion or state archives on board the Dutch warship which is to bring him to Europe it will be regarded as a breach of neutrality on the part of The Netherlands.

Execution Didn't Work Smoothly.

Raleigh, Sept. 29.—Archie Kinsauls was hanged at Clinton yesterday for the murder of John Herring. He died from strangulation after being first dropped from the gallows. The noose slipped to his chin when he first fell, tearing open a wound made when he attempted to take his own life with a knife on Sept. 14.

Letter Arrived Without Money.

Ansonia, Conn., Sept. 29.—Postmaster Gaylord has been notified that $1450, which was mailed in Birmingham, Eng., to parties in this city, was lost in transit, although the envelope in which the money was placed was delivered to the person to whom it was addressed.

A 750-Foot Steamer.

Berlin, Sept. 29.—The Hamburg-American Steamship company have awarded a contract for the construction of a new steamer at Belfast, to be 750 feet long.

Trinity River Back In Place.

Dallas, Sept. 29.—Trinity river is within its banks here again, and there is no further fear of a flood. At Waco the Brazos river made a 15-inch rise.

WOMAN'S WORLD.

A CHICAGO WOMAN'S TRIUMPH IN A NEW FIELD OF ART.

Women With Youthful Husbands. When Summer Is Over—The Dress Suit Case—Custis and Evelyn Byrd. She Preferred Breaking Rocks.

Women as a sex are often accused of "dabbling in little things" rather than attacking any of the larger problems of life and labor. Especially in the realm of art are they said to busy themselves with details to the exclusion of larger features very often. That the average woman artist is deeply enamored of small and "pretty" pictures is a statement which, truthful or otherwise, has been very often made. However this may be, it is not often that a woman artist attempts a piece of work so large and planned upon such generous outlines as that which a certain Chicago woman—and artist—has just completed.

"Margaret West-Kinney" is the name with which this woman signs her pictures, and she, in company with her husband, Troy S. Kinney, and Ernest St. John, both local artists, painted the curtain and looked after the decorations for the rehabilitated Grand Opera House of Chicago. The curtain represents a sylvan scene, with plenty of fresh and delicate "green things growing" on every hand and with a waterfall in the foreground to give character. The picture is framed in gold and cream upon a rose pink background, and a mythological scene, representing the nine muses, runs across the top, with allegorical figures on each side. The conception, in which all three artists shared, is both fine and pleasing. Not a single trace of the mere "prettiness" so often considered inevitable in the artistic work of womanly brain and fingers is noticeable either in basic idea or subsequent handling. The coloring is uniformly good.

Mrs. Kinney, who is the first woman, so far as known, to attempt work of this order, is better known for her portraits and landscapes than for the larger work toward which she has been quietly working for some time. Originally a Peoria girl, she has been a resident of Chicago for five or six years and prior to her residence in this city had done noticeable work in connection with the Art Students' league of New York and during her four years' residence in Paris. In the latter city she studied under Le Favre, Fleury and Meissonnier. She is enthusiastic over every branch of her chosen life work, as befits an artist born and bred, and particularly so in regard to work of the character indicated by the curtain.—Chicago Times-Herald.

Women With Youthful Husbands.

Lady Randolph Churchill, or, as she now prefers to call herself, Mrs. George Cornwallis-West, is by no means the first lady of prominence to marry a man less than half her own age, says London Tit-Bits.

As is well known, this clever handsome and enterprising American woman is the mother of a son who is several months older than her present youthful spouse. It is 26 years since she became the wife of the late Lord Randolph Churchill, who died in 1895. Nobody who witnessed her wedding could have imagined that she would take unto herself as a second husband a young man at that time unborn. At the present time Lady Randolph is well into the forties, while her husband has not gone far into his twenties.

The lady so long famous as Mrs. Langtry, but whose correct designation has for some little time been Mrs. Hugo de Bathe, is another who has married as a second husband a man young enough to be her son. Having been born so far back as the year 1852, the Jersey Lily has been charming the world for fully a quarter of a century.

It was in her twenty-second year that she was married to her first husband, Major Langtry, who died two or three years ago. Her present husband, Mr. Hugo de Bathe, son and heir of Sir Henry de Bathe, is now in his twenty-ninth year. For some time past he has been absent in South Africa fighting with his regiment.

When Mme. Patti was married to the Swedish Baron Cedarstrom, she not only secured a third husband, but one a great many years younger than herself. The world famed songstress has so well preserved her youth and beauty that people are apt to forget that she is now in her fifty-eighth year.

She was born in Madrid in February, 1843. At the age of 25 she became the wife of the Marquis de Caux, and 18 years later she found a second husband in Signor Nicolini, who died about two and a half years ago. Several months afterward her engagement to Baron Cedarstrom was announced, and before many weeks had elapsed the marriage took place. The baron is a handsome young Swede of engaging manners. As counting by years he is little more than half the age of his gifted and ever youthful wife.

Mrs. Frances Hodgson Burnett, the famous authoress of "Little Lord Fauntleroy" and many other notable works, is a recent addition to the list of elderly ladies who have young husbands. She was born in Manchester in 1849 and is consequently now in her fifty-first year. When only 16, she migrated with her parents to the United States, marrying eight years later Dr. Burnett of Washington.

From him she obtained a divorce a couple of years ago. Last February she was married to a gentleman who had for some time acted as her private secretary, Stephen Townsend, F. R. A. S., a handsome young Englishman of some 30 summers.

Of ladies who, as spinsters, married men much younger than themselves there are one or two notable examples. Perhaps the most remarkable is that of the "angel of goodness," Baroness Burdett-Coutts. Her ladyship was born in the year 1814 and is consequently now of the age of 86. She did not marry until she had reached her sixty-seventh year, when she accepted the hand and heart of William Ashmead-Bartlett, now M. P. for Westminster.

This gentleman was at that time only 30 years of age, and instead of giving his wife his name, as nearly every man does when he marries, he assumed that of his wife. The baroness is one of the few women in England who are peeresses in their own right. This rare honor was bestowed on her in 1871 and never did it have a more worthy recipient.

When Summer Is Over.

These are the days when "nut brown maydes" are met wherever one goes. The rank and file of humanity have had their vacation and returned to prosaic city life, leaving behind them the broad fields and forests and singing birds. One thing, however, the erstwhile fair vacationist has brought with her and that is a complexion like a Pawnee Indian. How she strove to get it! She endured the sun's fierce rays without even a sailor hat for protection, boating, bathing, walking, golfing with bare head and ungloved hands. And now is she not sorry? It will require weeks of lemon juice and buttermilk and creams of every description to bring back the softness and whiteness necessary for the winter campaign.

Other things, too, she will be obliged to discard. The young man who served "well enough" as a cavalier in the summer hotel may chance to be "impossible" in town. He has romped in the water with the summer girl and carried her basket when they went picnicking and quoted poetry to her in the moonlight, and he thinks he can do the same, with necessary allowance for city customs, when they come back to town. So he calls promptly, prepared to greet and be greeted with the gay informality of the mountain or seashore, and then his enlightenment begins. The first time Miss Summer is "not at home." If the fatuous youth should call again, woe to him! She goes down with a freezing dignity that makes him feel that winter is far in advance of schedule time, gives him the tips of lifeless fingers and says, "Ah, how do you do, Mr. Junetime?" in a voice devoid of feeling, and adds: "How exceedingly good of you to look me up! One never expects to meet one's summer acquaintances again, you know," in a tone that makes him wish that he had drowned in the kindly summer sea rather than live to be the miserable exception.

Miss Summer obviously and ostentatiously makes no effort to be entertaining. The silences are frequent and prolonged to agony, until poor young Junetime, after five minutes that seem like an hour, rises to go. "Charmed to have seen you," she repeats as she might have said, "It may rain next week." He bows himself out with murder in his heart, and she goes to her room with a relieved "Thank goodness, he is settled. The idea of his ever coming!"—New York Tribune.

The Dress Suit Case.

A critic, a man, who admits at the outset that he has no substitute to offer for the convenience against which he inveighs, pronounces strongly against the practice common among young women of carrying dress suit cases. "Wherever I go," he says, "I am confronted by a procession of young women struggling with these heavy, awkward burdens. They spoil the carriage of the most graceful of women, and I have an idea, more or less borne out by observation, that their weight is producing a race of one sided women. The practice is a comparatively recent one, and I am wondering if it is as necessary as its popularity would seem to indicate."

The one count in this indictment that really deserves attention is that of the weight of these convenient traveling cases. Even the strong young arms of our athletic girls find them often a dragging burden. Their wide use has undoubtedly been brought about by the emergencies of college girls. It is easy to pick up a dress suit case and get off quickly on a trip to town that would be seriously handicapped if a trunk filled with the necessary belongings had to be four times transferred for perhaps a two days' stay. On the whole, the dress suit case is doubtless used because it is the most convenient bag to carry, and until critics can offer something better it is to be feared that the objectionable article will continue to be used. The caution to keep its weight down, however, is a needed and valuable one.—New York Evening Post.

Custis and Evelyn Byrd.

"Westover is perhaps the most beautiful of all the celebrated colonial homes of Virginia," writes Mrs. Thadeus Horton in The Ladies' Home Journal. "It was built by William Byrd, a Virginian of Virginians. The greatest of his many claims to distinction was his beautiful and beloved daughter Evelyn, perhaps the most celebrated belle of that day. She was educated in England, whither she accompanied her father on almost all of his trips as colonial agent, and was presented at the court of George I. She had many lovers and naturally many offers of marriage from men of distinction in the Old Dominion, for she was not only a beauty, but an heiress. Her heart, however, was given, so it is said, to her cousin, Colonel John Custis, with whom she had had a childish love affair, but whom she had not seen for some years, and she refused positively to marry any other man. Finally, quite in despair, her devoted father sought to arrange a marriage between her and the gallant Colonel Custis. For some reason that gentleman was quite indifferent to the match and refused it altogether. It came to light later that during the years of their separation his fancy had become estranged from his erstwhile favorite Cousin Evelyn, and he was at the time of the overture from her father deeply in love with one Martha Dandridge, who soon afterward became his wife and subsequently the wife of the illustrious George Washington. The beautiful Evelyn, on learning of Colonel Custis' indifference, pined and faded and, in spite of all the love lavished upon her by friends and family, died of a broken heart, and her body now rests in the old burying ground at Westover."

Preferred Breaking Rocks.

To sit on a rock pile and hammer away at elusive bowlders is not always a matter of choice. Many a hobo can tell of the discomforts of such a job, but it remains for "Aunt" Hattie Robinson, a coal black negress, to declare that it is a great deal easier than many another task which falls to the lot of her race.

"Aunty" Robinson is on the rock pile because she wants to be. She is not a criminal. To the contrary, she breaks rock on the street in plain sight of every one who chances to pass the corner of Seventh and Biddle streets. It is a matter of choice with her. When her husband obtained the contract to break the rock for a contracting company which is repairing North Seventh street, she promptly joined in and made herself one of the active parties to the contract.

"Aunty" refused at first to talk about herself and her unusual occupation, but when it was suggested that she worked as if she had experience she grew talkative.

"No, suh," she said, "you needn't insinuate that I have been in the workhouse. No, suh, I ain't been in no jail for nobody. No policeman eber had to talk to me 'bout anything, an they ain't goin to. I've been 58 years in this world, an I ain't no fool. I knows I'ze doin something funny, but it's a heap easier than washin, an if I wants to do it it ain't nobody's business."

With that "aunty" turned on her heel and waddled down the street.—St. Louis Republic.

Rich Autumn Millinery.

Autumn millinery will be rich in the extreme. Beautiful velvets, heavy with gold thread or incrustations of lace, are built into oddly shaped turbans and large picture hats. Brims roll up to reveal bunches of ostrich tips or choux against the hair. Brilliant blues, emerald greens, violets, yellows and pinks are used in place of the pastel shades that were so popular last season. But, above all, there is an excessive use of massive gold embroidery. Picturesque effects will dominate, and the line of the brim rather than the trimming will be the important feature of winter millinery. Sweeping feathers will be a favorite decoration.

Influence of Women.

The well known sportsman, W. H. H. Murray, said lately at a dinner of the Megantic Fish and Game club: "In the sports and pastimes of the outdoor life woman has found her noblest companionship with man. * * * Her cheerfulness has enlivened the camp in days of clouded skies and cloudier luck, and her patience and courage have shortened the longest trail and the hardest portage. Her presence has refined our sports and ourselves, and, while they have made her more healthy and more lovely, she has made us more manly and worthy to be loved."

Mrs. Field, widow of the late Stephen J. Field, has presented his costly collection of lawbooks to Mrs. Jane Stanford, and they will be placed in the Stanford university library next year. The collection comprises 2,000 volumes and is especially valuable as regards decisions of the federal courts.

Linen, although delightfully cool, has one serious drawback in the eyes of women who like to always present a "smart" appearance. This drawback is that it does not retain its pristine freshness for any appreciable length of time, but sags and becomes stringy very soon after it is first worn.

Miss Robinson of Muscogee, I. T., has just received the appointment of supervisor of the Indian schools for the Creek nation. As it is one of the most important offices, it is a great honor, never having been held before by a woman.

A butler's trick for polishing fine glass is, according to an exchange, to dust it over with a bag in which is a little powdered indigo or other blue. Afterward the glass is rubbed hard with a piece of chamois.

Mrs. Thomas C. Platt, the wife of the New York senator, gives a great deal of her time to study. Two years ago she took up French and is now proficient in that language.

FOOTBALL IN THE WEST.

Stagg Says Standard of the Game Will Be Higher.

Football in the west this year promises to be the best in the history of the great college game. Better football will be played by the big western colleges than they have ever played before. Director Stagg of the University of Chicago said recently to a reporter of the Chicago Times-Herald that from the present outlook the standard of the game for the western season, which was opened the other day, will be higher than ever.

"Of course, it is impossible to have an accurate knowledge as yet of the different teams," said Professor Stagg, "but from the reports of the preparations and the beginnings of work I have an impression. In all of the western universities football will be better than it was last year. For the west it is safe to say that the standard of the game will be higher than it has ever been.

"There are several reasons why this should be so. In the first place, all of the big colleges have first class coaches, men of experience, who have achieved success. Michigan has always been fortunate in having a wealth of material. In Lea the Ann Arbor people have a coach who not only has ability to develop the men, but a reputation for his work as head coach at Princeton. Smith of Illinois is a man of experience. He coached that team two years ago, when it was one of the best Illinois has ever had, and last year he was in the east.

"Dr. Williams, the new coach whom Minnesota has been fortunate in securing, has coached a championship team. I can't remember when the Penn Charter team lost the championship for its class in Pennsylvania while he was coaching there. He is a veteran in football. Northwestern has better prospects than in past years. You remember Northwestern finished the season strong last fall, and now the Northwestern people have confidence in Dr. Hollister. The players at Northwestern have shown their confidence by writing to him, every one of them. Last year he did not receive a single letter from an old player before the season opened.

"One reason why western football should be better than in the past is that there is more material, judging from all reports. In the 'prep' schools the standard of the eastern 'prep' teams has not been reached, but it has been raised a great deal, and the number of available men from the high schools and academies is increased. While high school football is far from the varsity game, the experience in rudiments and of actual play there helps to raise the standard of the varsity game. For our own team we have more material than ever before in Chicago. The squad is a big one for us. In quantity it is all right, but we need more men. The quality is not satisfactory. Taking into consideration the old men who are not out and the new ones who are, there are not enough of the caliber for a crack varsity team. Of course some of them may develop, but I want more good men."

An innovation in the practice will be a pairing of the forwards for some instruction on specific parts of the play in the line.

CLUB OF CAST OFFS.

"Concatenated Order of Has Beens and Will Bes" In Cleveland.

Steps have been taken to form a club in Cleveland, the membership of which is to be limited to men who have been divorced or who have divorce suits pending. It is called the "Concatenated Order of Has Beens and Will Bes." The first meeting, held in Dr. H. B. Wideman's office, was attended by several prominent west siders.

Dr. Wideman said the other day to a reporter of the New York World that the officers will not be elected until the charter list is closed. The initiation fee probably will be $2 and the dues $1 a month. This money, after the expense of fitting up a clubroom has been met, will go into a fund to be used in paying the attorneys' fees and court costs of those who desire divorces.

It is proposed to offer a prize to the judge who makes a record with the largest number of divorces granted in a single year. One feature of the clubroom will be a scrapbook in which reports of divorce trials will be kept, and once a month there will be a lecture by a well known attorney versed in divorce proceedings.

The club has already attracted attention, and it is expected that its membership will grow rapidly.

Essays on the Pan-American Fair.

A movement to interest the public school teachers in the Pan-American exposition to be held at Buffalo next summer has been started. It originated in some of the public schools of Pennsylvania and is being taken up elsewhere as the wisdom of the plan becomes appreciated. This idea is to have the teachers in the public schools write essays for various occasions of an educational character on the objects and aims of the exposition and the bearing that such a display will have on the commerce of the world. A similar plan regarding the Paris exposition was found quite successful and resulted in the attendance of a large corps of teachers at that fair this summer. It is believed that in this way much information could be spread regarding the benefits to be derived from cultivating closer relations between the different countries of this hemisphere and that it would result in greater intelligence among the public school teachers and pupils on this subject as well as a larger attendance among this class of the population at the exposition.

Dolls Reception at Braintree.

A delightful reception was given by Dr. and Mrs. Holmes on Wednesday evening, the unique feature of which was an exhibition of dolls.

Three dozen of these dolls have been prepared by the ladies of the Methodist church and are soon to start on a Missionary journey to Singapore.

There were also many ancient dolls in their costumes of long ago, which were an interesting study. One little "Jap" who formerly lived in the home of an ex-minister to Japan made his bow. Two dolls from the Pacific coast were introduced. Several of the ancient dames, although having done service for two and three generations, were able to be present and smile upon the guests. "Julia," because of her advanced age, fifty-one years, occupied a seat of honor in a chair two hundred and fifty years old.

A delightful musical program was rendered by Mr. Albert Fisher and Mr. and Mrs. Frazer, after which refreshments were served.

The ladies of the W. T. M. S. wish to extend their hearty thanks to the doctor and his wife, to the musicians, to the committee and all who helped to make the reception a success.

BOSTON AMUSEMENTS.

Keith's Theatre.

The programme for the week commencing Oct. 1, at Keith's Boston theatre, promises to be one of the best of the season. The headliners are Milton and Dolly Nobles, two of the most popular ex-legitimate players in vaudeville, who will present one of the best of the actor-author's short plays, entitled, "A Blue Grass Widow." Other new-comers will be: Nick Long and Idalene Cotton, in character impersonations and mimicry of famous actors; the Hawaiian trio, in a charming operetta; Sankey brothers, acrobats; the Holbrooks, in refined musical specialties; Herbert and Willing, blackface singers and dancers; and Arvello, an equilibrist. The holdovers are Papinta, the attractive serpentine dancer, and Charles E. Grapewin and Anna Chance in a new farce called "A Mismated Pair." The usual change of pictures will be made in the biograph.

Castle Square Theatre.

At the Castle Square Theatre the coming week the attraction announced is the romantic drama "The Countess Valeska," played three seasons ago by Julia Marlowe and her company at the Hollis Street Theatre. This drama was adapted from the German of Rudolph Stratz and deals with scenes and incidents in Poland just before the battle of Friedland in 1807. The plot is full of interest and its development shows masterly skill in planning dramatic effect. It made the success of Miss Marlow's season three years ago and was immensely popular with Boston audiences. The cast announced for the Castle Square production is as follows:

Achin Von Lohde, John Craig; Muechem berg, Charles Mackay; General Lamarrois, Lindsay Morison; Lieut. Colet, Tony Cummings: Count Rjelinski, Stanley Kent: Countess Valeska, Lillian Lawrence; Elizebeth, Hope Ross; Frau Ersula, Leonora Bradley. At the Monday matinee there will be the usual distribution of choice chocolate bon bons.

Boston Theatre.

James O'Neil has now entered upon the second week of his engagement at the Boston Theatre, in the gigantic Liebler & Co., production of Monte Cristo. It is many years since so much interest has been bestowed upon a theatrical enterprise as is being devoted to this performance. Liebler & Co. made great promises and every word printed in advance about the production is applicable to it now after the public has passed its verdict. The large lobby of the Boston Theatre is crowded every day, presenting the appearance of the entrance to some big circus tent, with this difference,—that while the streams of ticket-buyers are only seen around a circus the day it is in town, this unusual scene of activity prevails in the Boston Theatre lobby every day. Monte Cristo Theatre parties are being formed all over New England, and during the whole history of the play there has never seen any such desire to witness it as now burning in the breast of every theatregoer, be he man or woman. The mammoth mounting of Monte Cristo is simply the talk of the town, and it is a hard choice for the spectator to decide which one of the five acts is the most elaborate, the beautiful golden effect in the Hotel de Morcerf in the fourth act is brilliantly contrasted with the silvery aspect of the snow scene in the fifth act.

Boston Music Hall.

The attractions at Boston Music Hall this week are simply an indication of the quality of the entertainments given at that popular vaudeville house week after week. The list includes such talented and amusing artists as Etta Butler, Maggie Cline, Montgomery and Stone, Joe Welch, Montrell, and a host of other high salaried and high class entertainers. Large audiences this past week have laughed at and applauded the efforts of these artists, and the reputation of Boston Music Hall is spreading rapidly throughout city, state and New England. Visitors from out of town saunter in to see how the old hall looks, and depart with words of praise on their lips. It is certainly a beautiful amusement hall and an ideal place for vaudeville of the most refined character. The prices are low and there are elevators, complete orchestra, programmes, and the Musee, where the children delight to spend hour after hour looking at the wonderful exhibit of figures in wax, impressively realistic. It is small wonder that Music Hall has leaped to the head of its class.

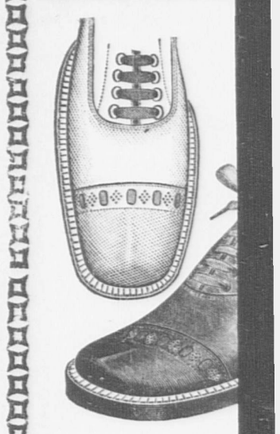

Goshen, Ill.

Genesee Pure Food Co., Le Roy, N. Y.:

Dear Sirs:—Some days since a package of your GRAIN-O preparation was left at my office. I took it home and gave it a trial, and I have to say I was very much pleased with it, as a substitute for coffee. We have always used the best Java and Mocha in our family, but I am free to say I like the GRAIN-O as well as the best coffee I ever drank.

Respectfully yours, A. C. JACKSON, M. D.
